drove into the path of the north bound heavily loaded gravel truck driven by Dickey. The truck crash ed into a truck, Tom's peanuts and a butane tank parked at Shumake station. The driver was inside the station. Shumake's car was slightly hit by the bounding truck

PARTY

Beverly and Buit Purvis celebrated their 6 year old and 3 and half year old birthdays respectively with a party Thursday afternoon from 5 to 7 on the lawn of their parents home. The following children enjoyed games and cake and ice cream: Jan Lott,
Jan Clayton, Terry and Harriet
Hochman, Francis and Betty Lynn Schuessler, Roy, Coy and Becky Mahurin, Douglas Mirs,
Carolyn and Gregg Reed, Larry
Crumley, Charles Gardenhire,

28th Year; No. 50

O'DONNELL, LYNN COUNTY, TEXAS, Thursday, Aug. 16, 1951

$1.50 PER YEAR

Football Workout Set Aug. 27

Schedule Is Given

Coach Ed Robertson and his 1951 Eagles will start work out
Monday August 27th at 8 a. m.
The Eagles have 20 letters from last year's team that won five and lost five games. Robertson thinks he will have a much improved team over last year but the Eagles will be playing a much tougher schedule than in 1950.
The Eagles have a 10 game schedule again this year with 7 of these games played at home.
O'Donnell is now in a new district, 5.A, with Denver City, Sun-
down, Seagraves, Whiteface, Stanton, etc. Denver City came out of the district with Wink, Monahans, Kermit, etc. They only lost four boys from last year and were defeated by Kermit by only 9 points. Stanton, the other new addition went to the regional last year and lost by only 20 to 19.
They played Meadow for bi-district beating them 34 to 6. Another game to be played this year in O'Donnell will be with Coahoma,
a Class B powerhouse from near Big Spring. By-the-way, this is where Robertson coached before coming here. Coahoma will be a big, rugged team that should give the Eagles plenty of fight.
Robertson plans to build this years team around Bennie Clark, smooth operating player on T formations and he will probably do only quarterbacking chores this year while Billy Mahurin will take care of the defense work. This year's backfield should receive good support from such linemen as Joe Jackson, James Thompson, and Gerald Moore

Resolutions of Respect in Memory Of Harley Jolly

The Death Angel has visited our Chapter and our Community and has taken from our number our beloved Worthy Matron's husband
and our friend.
And He said unto them "Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in Me."
And we will bow in humble submission to His Holy Will, believing that all things work together for good to those who love God and are called according to His purpose.
This one whom we respected and who once shared our joys and sorrows, has crossed to that great beyond. We shall all join him when we, too, have completed life's labyrinth.
Whereas, The Heavenly Father
has called our respected and beloved friend home and he, having been true and faithful in all things;
therefore be it
Resolved That O'Donnell Chapter No. 725 Order of the Eastern Star, tender to the family of our deceased friend our sincere condolence in their sorrow and becomment, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent the family. Also a copy to the O'Donnell Index.
Our Heavenly Father, teach us
to leave in Thy hands the griefs
we cannot understand and the ills
we cannot remedy, teach us to do the task at hand in the knowledge that some day all will be made plain in Jesus name.
Respectfully submitted,

Mother Of Local Lady Passes Away

Funeral services were held Thursday Aug. 9th at the Smith
Yarbro Chapel for Mrs. Ellen Jane Jackson who passed away at her home in Lovington at 6:30 a. m. on August 8th. Mrs. Jackson is the wife of J. W. Jackson who survives.
She had been in ill health for some time. Her daughter, Dollie Absher was here from Los Angeles and had been nursing her mother for several days prior to her death.
Another daughter Mrs. C. J.
"Doc" Beach and her family arrived in Lovington on Tuesday and were at her mother's bedside. Mrs.
Harry Rogers, another daughter, lives in Hobbs. Her only son, Steve Jackson and family live in Anson and arrived Wednesday around noon.
The Jacksons pioneered in Lea County and lived on a ranch in the Prairieview community until they retired 3 years ago and moved to Lovington where they own rental property. Garnie Atkinson and J. C.
Quarles were in charge of services
which were at 2 p. m. and burial followed in Lovington cemetery.

NEW S. S. LAW IS EXPLAINED

Many employed wage earners over 75 years of age have applied for Old Age and Survivors insurance benefit payments, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office. While Mr. Hutton is greatly surprised at the comparatively large number of insured persons in this age group, his office has no way of knowing the total number. The reason for this lack of information is that many insured workers who have passed their 75th birthday have not applied for benefit payments. "They do not yet realize that they and their dependents can now have these monthly payments," he says.
Before the new Social Security law went into effect last September, payments could not be made to any insured worker over 65
who continued in a job covered by Social Security and earned over $14.99 in a month. Under the amended law, a worker over 75 may engage in any kind of employment or self employment and have benefit payments regardless of the amount of his earnings. Between the ages of 65 and 75 the insured person may now have $50 a month in work covered by Social Security.
Hutton says it has been found that most people are reluctant to stop working at any age if they are still in good health. He further points out that this new provision for insured people over age 75 will be an incentive to continue in gainful work.
He urges all insured workers aged 75 or older and who have not yet applied for benefit payments to do so without delay.
Back payments can be made for as many as six months but failure to make application at the Lubbock office promptly may result in the loss of one or more months
benefit payments to the worker
and his dependents

The couple are now aboard a steamer enroute to the Belgium town to visit the grave of their only son, Lt. L. E. Robinson, Jr.
who was killed in service in Belgium during World War II.

A group of local friends got together and decided to send flowers to the O'Donnell's boy's grave. Working thru a floral firm and the burghmaster, or mayor, of Leige they plan to have the floral arrangement placed on the grave just before Mr. and Mrs.

It takes money from a lot of PIGGY BANKS to build a power plant!

Yes, money from piggy banks, and commercial banks too... money from the savings of a lot of people. Thousands of people supplied the money for Texas Electric Service Company to build power plants, power lines and the other facilities that provide your dependable electric service. They invested their savings in the securities of our company, or they have a stake in this company as owner of an insurance policy or shares of a trust fund in the large groups of insurance companies and trust funds that have investments in our securities.

The part of Texas we serve is growing rapidly and the need for electric service is growing even faster. Texas Electric Service Company has spent more than $60,000,000 since 1946 to build new power plants, power lines and other facilities so Reddy Kilowatt can provide plenty of dependable electric power for the areas he serves. Yes, this construction program is still under way and is costing a lot of money. Most of it is "borrowed" through the sale of securities to folks who have faith in our future, and in the area we serve. The money you pay for electric service is used for the most part to pay our day to day expenses, such as wages, fuel and other costs of doing normal business, including the wages of capital. The additional new capital which is constantly being needed must come from the sale of securities.

Quick Agreement in Korea Unlikely; Control Fight Confused Main Street

A LONG WAY FROM PEACE—As much as the people in the home towns of the nation desire peace, the majority approved the United Nation's flat refusal to talk about withdrawal of allied troops from Korea. The UN pointed out, and rightly so, that the question was purely political and could not be discussed at the preliminary talks.

Most observers are inclined to believe the Reds will withdraw their demand that the issue be put on the agenda. If they don't withdraw, it is almost a certainty that truce talks will collapse.

Red General
General Nam Il, head of Communist delegation to peace talks in Kaesong, issued demand of withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

Even if the troop-withdrawal issue is solved, however, home towners should realize it will not necessarily mean a cease-fire in Korea. It will be merely an agreement on what subjects to discuss in seeking a cease-fire.

The issue of withdrawing all foreign troops from Korea will come up again in the main talks. As a result, there is only one logical conclusion the home towners can draw; the world is a long way from peace.

SHADOWS OF 1952—The long shadows of 1952—the presidential election year—again fell across the national scene with a speech by Sen. Robert A. Taft.

In an address described as the jump-off for his bid for the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, Taft described the Korean conflict as "a useless and expensive war brought about by the Truman administration."

Despite the fact he approved intervention in Korea, Taft charged that the United States is involved in a "useless and expensive war."

Besides attacking the administration's foreign policy, Taft promised that the GOP would restore "honesty and integrity to government" after the 1952 election and end "the low moral tone, the dishonesty and the inefficiency" of the Democratic administration.

CONTROL FIGHT CONFUSING—To most home towners the battle over the price control bill, which should by this time be the law of the land, has been a fight of confusion. The house and senate versions of the bill differed in many details. And even one representative, when asked how his amendment to the bill would work, replied he didn't know.

For the average American, it has been much the same. He has been unable to understand the many details of the bill and the conflicting viewpoints of the proponents and opponents of price legislation. Only one thing he understood: the administration wanted a stiffer price control law, but seemed doomed to defeat.

The administration contended that old controls should be extended and strengthened. That the old law was inadequate, particularly in controls of food prices, rents and credit. A stronger law was needed in the face of government defense spending during the coming months.

These arguments, however, did not impress congress. Opponents of the administration argued that the President just urged stronger controls as a "power grab." Skillful lobbyists for business interests also battled to weaken controls.

Just before the final version was due out of the house-senate committee, observers believed the administration would be thankful for any kind of bill and that it would be signed immediately upon receipt by the White House.

TRAINING PROGRAM OVER—Thousands of World War II veterans in the small towns and big towns of the nation received educational benefits under the GI bill that expired last week.

And despite the abuses of the program, educators, congress and the veterans administration agree that it has produced benefits the nation will feel for a long time to come. Thousands of veterans reaped educational benefits that they could not have otherwise afforded.

Approximately 7,600,000 veterans received training for an average of 15 months each. They drew $8,700 billion in subsistence. The rest of the $12,400 billion cost went for tuition, fees, equipment, books and counseling.

Veteran college enrollment hit its peak in December, 1947, when 1,188,000 discharges crowded back to the campus. To date, a total of 2,200,000 veterans have studied in institutions of higher learning. But even more—3,300,000—have taken courses below college level in nearly 38,000 grade schools, high schools, vocational, trade, business and correspondence schools.

SPECIAL FLOOD APPEAL—For the first time since 1938, the American Red Cross launched a general disaster fund appeal in an effort to raise $5,000,000 to help 45,880 families affected by the midwest floods.

Flood waters of the Missouri river caused millions of dollars of damage in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois. It was possibly the most costly flood in the history of the nation.

In the four-state area, the Red Cross was reported housing 17,500 flood victims in 80 shelters and feeding 42,600.

King Is Assassinated

Prince Naif (left), was appointed regent of Jordan after the assassination of his father, King Aboullah (right). The king was shot as he entered a mosque in his capital of Amman. In center is King Faisal of Iraq.

PRICE WARS END—According to a senate report the price wars that started in New York after the Supreme Court's "fair trade" decision have all but died out.

The report said cutting of fair-trade merchandise occurred in 43 of 123 leading trade centers throughout the country. In the 43 cities, only 825 of 77,241 stores set prices on one or more items or merchandise below the resale price recommended or set by the manufacturers.

The report showed Denver leading the list with price cuts in 300 stores, Detroit second with 175, and New York third with 100.

JAPANESE TREATY NEAR—The possibility of a quick Japanese peace treaty became evident last week when the United States invited 50 nations, including Russia, to join in signing the agreement at a conference opening September 4 in San Francisco.

Missing from the invitation list were the Communist and Nationalist governments of China, South Korea, and Italy.

Although the Russians were invited, they are expected to refuse to sign the treaty, which the Soviet has denounced. In all likelihood, however, the Russians will send delegates to the conference to attack the treaty.

APPROPRIATION

Senate Group Approves Farm Work Fund

A bill calling for $751,000,000 in new cash and authorizing $262,000,000 in loans for various farm programs was approved by the Senate appropriations committee. The group, however, ordered a department of agriculture payroll reduction of 10 per cent below President Truman's budget.

Besides the cash and loan money, the bill authorizes the spending of some $172,177,264 automatically set aside by law for use by the department farm programs.

The $751,000,000 in cash is some $34,400,000 more than the amount voted by the house, but is $69,000,000 below the amount the President requested.

The boost in cash came chiefly in a $24,000,000 increase in funds for soil conservation.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS

Human Relations Center Founded At University of Pennsylvania

A human relations center, the first of its kind ever organized in this country to provide a complete service to communities faced with racial and religious conflicts, has been established at the University of Pennsylvania.

Harold E. Stassen, (above), president of the University of Pennsylvania, together with Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews announced recently the establishment of the Albert M. Greenfield Center for Human Relations at the university.

The new development in meeting "the outstanding problem in democratic life" is known as the Albert M. Greenfield Center for Human Relations, it was announced by Harold E. Stassen, president of the university and Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

It will start its work in September. Its program was made possible, through the combined financing of the Philadelphia area office of the National Conference, the University of Pennsylvania, and Albert M. Greenfield, a Philadelphia realtor and civic leader.

The governing body of the center is an executive committee consisting of two representatives each from the university, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and the community. Dr. Martin W. Chworowsky, of Columbia University, has been named director.

"The urgent need to improve the quality of human relations in our country has been stressed as the outstanding, problem in our democratic life," declared the members of the executive committee in a statement outlining objectives. "A university dedicated to the advancement of knowledge and to the education of people to render more effective service as citizens and as members of their respective professions has a special responsibility to bring its resources to bear in solving human relations problems."

"Because of an increasingly widespread recognition of the underlying need and of the role which institutions of higher learning can assume," the statement added, "the resources of the university and the community are brought together in a center for human relations where many of the problems in intergroup relations can be attacked."

GRASSROOTS

There Is Hope '52 Election Will Oust Wastrels

By Wright A. Patterson

DESPITE all the needs for economy, consistently urged by the President, the executive department at Washington does not practice any of the President's admonitions that he insists are necessary on the part of every American.

In government the waste goes merrily on, with Gen. George Marshall's department of defense leading the way. As an example: Recently the army wanted several million pounds of margarine for the troops in Korea. The purchasing agent of the army purchased the several million pounds at a price of 25 cents a pound. Within a few minutes walk of the Pentagon building, Secretary Brannan, secretary of agriculture, sold at approximately the same time, just about the same number of pounds of grade A-1 creamery butter to Italy at 15 cents a pound. That butter had been purchased by the department to keep the price of butter up to the American consumer.

Had it been provided for our armed forces, the result on the home market would have been the same as selling it to Italy. Such transactions represent unnecessary waste.

Hundreds of such items have been dug out of the records by members of congress, and are aired on the floors of both the senate and house. It is this airing of such items that causes the careful scrutiny of appropriation bills.

Last year the navy purchased paint enough to paint all naval ships several times over. The surplus, and more, was sold to a German concern. When it was found that too much had been sold, at a price of less than one third the original purchase price, navy purchasing agents bought that same paint back from the German concern at better than three times the price at which it had been sold. Waste! Waste! Waste! through all the administrative departments of government, and no one called on the carpet because of it.

The total runs into many millions and possibly billions, for all of which the tax payers must pay.

Senator George (D) of Georgia says the administrative departments can easily cut six billions from their budget demands, and that there will be no additional taxes voted until that six billion cut has been made. That demanded six billion cut does not include any defense rearmament expenditures, which could cover another six billion.

Despite the evidence of waste the President continues to call for more and larger appropriations, more taxes, that the nation may be saved from the dangers of inflation. He does not recognize that government purchasing of commodities creates a shortage, quite as much as individual demands, only the excess demands of government, is far greater than is the hoarding purchases of the individual. From what school of economists does he select his advisers?

THE FICTION CORNER

BRIGHT IDEA

By Richard H. Wilkinson

MR. and Mrs. Roscoe Hardy found themselves in a sad predicament. For years they had solved the problem of summer vacations by visiting friends and relatives. They had made a career of it. They were professional guests. But now the end had come. The Hardy's were no longer welcome where once they had enjoyed economical weeks of rest.

The future looked black. The Hardy's bank account was never lower. Then Roscoe had an idea. He remembered that once upon a time he had an Uncle Ralph. Rumors drifted in, unfounded, that Uncle Ralph had gone to Alberta, Canada, established himself in the wheat business and prospered.

Now then, thought Roscoe, why not restore Uncle Ralph to the good graces of the family circle? Why not cook up a story about Uncle Ralph suddenly dying and making Roscoe and Mrs. Roscoe sole heirs to his millions? Why not mention this in a letter to Cousin Beatrice and Chauncey Hardy, who lived in Philadelphia and who had practically evicted them two years ago? And if it worked on Beatrice and Chauncey, why not try it on other relatives?

Mrs. Roscoe Hardy had always been rather grudging about handing out compliments to her husband. But she had to admit that this plan was deserving of a lot of credit. She even agreed to write the letter to Beatrice herself.

"—and as you probably know" Mrs. Roscoe wrote, "dear Uncle Ralph, who has been living in Alberta these past 20 years, passed away a month ago and has made us sole heirs to his millions. Naturally we are upset at the news of his death, and would like to come to Philadelphia for a week or two to rest up and visit you."

Roscoe gulped. "It's—it's that relative that's visiting them."

Less than three days elapsed before Mrs. Roscoe had a reply. "Darling Grace," Beatrice wrote, "news of dear Uncle Ralph's death has upset us terribly. Of course you need a rest. And both Chauncey and I will be delighted to have you as our guests for as long as you want to stay, despite the fact that at present we have other relatives visiting us. Chauncey and I can sleep in the day bed in the living room."

"Humph!" Mrs. Roscoe folded the letter with a look of triumph.

IT WAS a long drive to Philadelphia, and Roscoe had been able to borrow barely enough to get them there. But the future now loomed bright of relaxation, free from worry about the cost of meals, and always there was the possibility of being able to touch Chauncey for a hundred or two. And after that, more relatives, more pleasant times, and more touches. Roscoe figured they could work their present scheme for at least a year in safety, while the "estate" was being settled.

The Roscoe Hardys arrived in Philadelphia late one rainy night and drove up to Cousin Chauncey's with glad expectancy. The place was brightly lit.

Roscoe honked his horn shrilly and had the satisfaction of seeing Cousin Chauncey jump to his feet and rush to the door.

"I'll go up and get Chauncey to come out for our luggage," Roscoe told his wife.

Roscoe climbed out of the car and ran through the pelting rain to the house. He disappeared inside, while Mrs. Roscoe waited. She waited perhaps three minutes and then became irritable. What was the idea? She asked herself. What kind of a reception was this for the heirs of millions?

The front door suddenly burst open and Roscoe came hurtling down the walk. Breathing heavily, Roscoe climbed into the car. There was a wild look in his eyes.

"For heaven's sake, what's happened?" Mrs. Roscoe demanded. "What's the matter?" Roscoe gulped. "It's—it's that relative that's visiting them." "Relative? Who—oh, I know. Beatrice spoke about in her letter. Well, what about it? Who is it, anyway?"

Roscoe gasped again, this time not entirely from lack of breath. "It's Uncle Ralph!" he blurted.

Each one of the hundreds of items of sheer waste that congress is seeing are but a drop in the inflationary rainstorm, but the total of them constitutes a flood.

It takes desire for economies on the part of executive heads from the President down. Those who do not have such a desire, those who are responsible for the waste to be found in the executive departments of government, should be severely disciplined for waste in their departments, and the rule of today in Washington is "politics as usual," regardless.

The coming national election might contain hopes for improvement, hopes for a radical reduction in the army of inefficient bureaucrats, but the Republicans are making no promises. They are not interested in a reduction in the bureaucratic army, only in effecting a change in the personnel of that vast army of more than 2,300,000. They now represent Democratic votes, when the personnel is changed they will represent Republican votes, but be equally as inefficient.

Gen. Ridgway will not be dismissed for not following Presidential directives, though doing so brings dishonor and defeat to America.

WALTER SHEARD, WNU Correspondent

Yes and No Taft

SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT of Ohio has made another of his now famous Yes and No speeches, this one a recent radio address on the subject of controls. The Ohio solon set up every known obstacle to the imposition of price controls, even going back to a statement by President Truman in 1947 in which the latter referred to wage and price controls as "police state controls."

Senator Taft listed wage and price controls as ending free collective bargaining, as ending free competition in industry, commerce and manufacturing.

"The best way to get prices lower for the consumer in the long run is to encourage unlimited production, and, of course, prices held below normal by government decree discourage such production over any long period of time. Certainly we don't want to give the federal government power to regulate every one of a billion transactions a day in the United States and every detail of commerce and wage payments unless it is absolutely essential." And then in the next breath, Mr. Taft says:

"I happen to think that today it is essential, but there are a lot of people who conscientiously do not think so."

Then Senator Taft, in his next paragraph, listed those who oppose price and wage controls, such as the national manufacturers association, the united mine workers, the carpenters union, the American farm bureau federation, the national grange, the United States chamber of commerce, the American retail federation and many individual businessmen. Then he points to a poll of Ohio farmers showing 71 per cent are opposed to any price and wage controls, and continues his Yes and No picture by saying:

"Nevertheless, I have come to the conclusion that we must continue wage and price controls for the present. I think the people who oppose them do not allow for what is going to happen in the next few months."

Continuing along this fence straddling, Mr. Taft declares the need for controls "arises out of the tremendous mobilization program, which we have undertaken to meet the threat of Russian aggression, the danger of which was brought forcibly to our attention by the Korean war." Then despite the fact that President Truman has again and again, starting in 1948, asked for price and wage controls and a strong defense production act, Mr. Taft blames inflation on the President, not congress, for the reason he says, that the congress finally passed the defense production act of 1950 in September of that year, and the President did not exercise his powers under the act until four months later.

Big Business Benefits

Then Senator Taft takes up the line followed by a large segment of big business when he declares that because the President asks for powers to build plants, if necessary, and to license business under the act—that is nothing but straight socialism. The fact is that the language of the bill asked for by the President follows almost word for word the same section which was in effect during the war, under which all business was licensed and under which the government built such additional facilities as aluminum plants, steel plants, rubber plants and what-not. And this was so socialist that today most of these government-built plants have been taken over by big business at bargain prices and are being operated today—not by the government, but by American business under the free enterprise system. But we needed more aluminum and synthetic rubber and more steel... and got it during the war through this method.

GOP and Dixie

Mr. Taft then deftly sidesteps any responsibility for what may happen by pointing out this congress is a Democratic congress and that the President's fight is with members of the Democratic party, not with Mr. Republican. The facts are, however, that Senator Taft and the Republican minority is playing "footsie" with the southern Democrats in a coalition move, with an eye single to 1952.

Flood Relief

The losses in the tragic floods in Missouri and Kansas prompted Senators Kem and Schoepel to plead for some remedial action. The congress quickly passed a $15,000,000 relief bill. Senator Kem could not refrain from pointing out that his Missouri taxpayers were "pouring lavish gifts of dollars down foreign ratholes" for flood control in Holland and other countries, while nothing was done for the Missouri valley.

THE READER'S DATE BOOK
Food Retailers Put Emphasis Upon Vegetables During Week

IN YOUR home town newspaper this week and in the bins of your local food stores, the spotlight is upon vegetables — leafy green and succulent foods in plentiful supply this time of year from the rich variety of which you can furnish every vitamin and mineral need of the human body.

In season, the price of vegetables makes them especially tempting to the housewife shopping within the limits of a difficult food budget. At the peak of the vegetable harvest, grocers strive to keep the wide selection they offer. Grocers employ attractive displays in their stores and announce their green wares in home town newspaper advertising.

A MAIN STREET FEATURE

The newspaper helps by printing appetizing new ways to serve vegetables and also time-tested recipes, all emphasizing the nutrient value in the various soil-grown products. To further the advantages to food consumers arising from the large supply of garden supplies upon the home town market this time of year and to minimize the economic chance dealers take in this sudden and large supply of perishable foods, an unusual health food event has been inaugurated. This is National Vegetable Week (August 2-11), now being observed in your home town and other home towns like it across the nation.

National Vegetable Week is designed to teach local grocers the most effective way to move vegetables from their bins to family tables with the health and budget of consumers as a prime consideration.

This big project was inaugurated three years ago. Although nationwide, it is a strictly local affair with a committee in your town entirely in charge of the program. The committee invites your mayor to issue a proclamation dedicating the week to vegetables. A local or state vegetable queen may be chosen to appear in your town's observance in cooperation with community organizations and services.

The National Vegetable Queen, Miss Elaine Tessman, Osseo, Minn., an attractive brunette, is appearing as the guest of honor at many related events during the summer.

Local newspaper editors and program directors are receiving many helpful ideas upon vegetable promotion, recipes, crop and production facts and local marketing from the county agent, home demonstration agent and marketing agents for vegetable growers.

Racing Benedicts Tuning Cars For Big Soap Box Race Prizes

SOAP BOX DERBY racing is often a family affair in White Plains, N.Y., where many brother combinations have competed in the last 12 derbies. But, as families go, the racing Benedicts, of 8 De Kalb Avenue, have gone a lot farther than most.

There hasn't been a Soap Box Derby without at least one of the six Benedict brothers since 1940. This year there are three in the race: David, 15, Robert, 12, and Edward, 11.

Tune-up headquarters for the Benedicts' cars is Ted Skitt's service station. Skitt is an official distributor for the special Soap Box Derby lubricant that Shell Oil Company gives to all Derby entrants.

Dave Benedict, the Derby veteran of the three, knows it pays to keep his car properly lubricated. In 1949, as Class A runner-up, he won a bicycle. He won two heats last year, one in 1947. Now in his last year—he'll be too old next year—Dave is tuning his car to perfection.

Christian's Spending
Lesson for August 12, 1951

ONCE upon a time, so they say, a Scotchman opened his pocketbook in December, and a June-bug flew out. That story belongs to the class of stories that sound funny because they are impossible, like the Paul Bunyan stories, or the one about the fly that fell off a marble and broke his back. No man is so stingy that he could go from June to December without opening his pocketbook to spend a single cent. Spending is something all of us do, all the time.

Is Your Money Yours?
"IT'S my money and I can do what I please with it." That is the average man's attitude toward his money. But it's not the Christian attitude.

In the first place, Jesus' parable of the talents reminds us that all the conditions, and all the energy, and everything else that makes earning money possible, are in the long run the gifts of God. "It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves" is just as true now as it ever was.

God it is who gave us life in the first place, who has preserved us, and endowed us with whatever gifts and capacities we have. We are not our own, we are bought with a price, as Paul puts it.

However, we earn our living, whether as farmers, business or professional people, if it had not been for the blessings of God we could have earned nothing at all. One bedrock principle of the Old Testament is that the earth is the Lord's. Put that together with the New Testament principle that the Christian belongs to God, and you have arrived at the great principle of "stewardship."

Profits or Profit?
THE earliest Christians of Jerusalem pooled all their resources and dealt them out to all, in proportion to their individual needs. This experiment in sharing the wealth failed; and one main reason for the failure was that they paid all their attention to consumption and none at all to production.

No matter how smoothly you distribute the wealth, if some one is not producing, the whole pile will vanish in time.

Nevertheless, those earliest Christians did have a firm grasp of a real truth; namely, that when a Christian spends money he ought to have the needs of the community first in mind, and not his own profits. Does this sound too idealistic?

Well, even the law, slanted though it may seem toward the protection of wealth, puts limits on the ways a man can spend his money. If it can be shown that what he pays his good money for is hurtful to the community, the law will clamp down on him, in many cases. You can't keep a skunk farm on Broadway. It may be your money, and your skunks, but it's not your Broadway.

To take another angle: down in Atlanta (Georgia) a highly successful industrialist, when he died, left the stock in his company to his employees. They had helped him earn his fortune, he said; they should share in the proceeds.

Does not our community help us earn whatever we do earn? And doesn't the community deserve consideration in the spending?

The Money-God
NO temples on our main streets are labeled "To the God Mammon." Put money is often a god, all the same. On Mammon's altar how many things and men are sacrificed! What will men not do to "make a fast buck," to turn a neat profit? Honor, decency, truthfulness, health, even life itself, will be given up before consenting to cut the profits down.

Every great entrenched evil—gambling, prostitution, corrupt courts, liquor traffic—is as hard to dislodge as the silversmiths of Ephesus, and for the same reason: The people who stand to make money out of sin never care what happens to the sinners.

But let us watch ourselves. Do we smalltimers criticize the paunchy big-shots because we really hate the way they sacrifice everything to greed, or is it because we are envious?

One of many unsolicited letters from ALL-BRAN users. You, too, may expect to overcome constipation due to lack of dietary fiber. Follow this advice: Eat an ounce (about 1/4 cup) of crispy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water! If not completely satisfied after 10 days, return empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE
When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Don't suffer longer with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.
Don't neglect your kidneys! If these conditions bother you, Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 18 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!
