M.L. Brockett, State Commissioner of Education announced that Texas Public Schools Week was born out of a great need. Twenty-eight years ago a group of public spirited citizens began to look at the relationship between their schools and communities. They were disturbed by the general apathy now considered typical of the 1950 period. And they decided to do something about it. The result was Texas Public Schools Week.

"The Muleshoe administrators, teachers and students urge you to visit your schools during this special week," Dillman concludes.

Annual Read-A-Thon Underway This Week

Why have another 'Why Johnny Can't Read' story? It is in proper order. Because, given the right motivation, there is a good chance that Johnny, the much talked-about symbol of ineptitude and illiteracy, could be on the verge of a turnaround, at least here in Muleshoe.

The big reason, as may be the case, could be the continuation of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades in a program, the Multiple Sclerosis Read - A - Thon, that seeks to motivate Johnny and his classmates to become involved in an effort that is not only immediately beneficial to themselves, but also helps many thousands of persons who suffer from the crippling disease known as Multiple Sclerosis.

The Muleshoe MS Read - A - Thon, school children who are called Mystery Sleuths volunteer to read books, March 5 through April 5. They seek sponsors who pledge ten cents, a quarter, half - dollar or more, for each book read during the period. The money is turned over to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society in support of vital MS research and patient care programs.

Because of its strong relationship to quality education, it is particularly apt that this spring, the MS Read - A - Thon will be held in conjunction with Texas Public School Week and a Book Fair being

"If we should receive even 100 percent of parity this year, we cannot let AAM or WIFE die," firmly stated June Saylor in a meeting Thursday night. "We are looking at two more years of this administration. We cannot stop. We would just sit right back here on our farms and be in a bigger mess than we are now in."

Mrs. Saylor was one of several speakers at the AAM (American Agriculture Movement) meeting at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum.

Each of the speakers told

Three Way Girls Fall To Nazareth

Friday night, the Three Way girls' basketball team fell in the girls' Class B regional basketball tournament by a score of 63-31 to the Nazareth girls.

Belinda Richardson led the Three Way girls with 12 points, but the team failed to contain Lori Gerber of Nazareth, who slammed 26 points through the basket.

Saturday, action continued in the tournament at Levelland, with Nazareth scheduled to play Follett at 11 a.m. for the right to meet the winner of the Greenwood - Motley County game for the championship.

Weather Watch Posted; Shower Recorded Here

Muleshoe received only a brief, heavy shower which deposited a trace of moisture Friday around noon. Severe weather storm watches had been posted from 2-8 p.m. in a wide area of Texas, but severe weather failed to materialize in most of the posted area.

The weather watch did not include the immediate Muleshoe area, but did cover a major portion of Texas, with Lubbock being included in the watch area. Six tornadoes were reported during the afternoon, with only one producing any damage. A barn and a mobile home received heavy damage approximately 10 miles west of Odessa.

Blowing dust and light rain were recorded throughout the afternoon. A slight warming trend was predicted through Wednesday, with temperatures expected to rise slowly to the higher 50s and low 60s.

of different aspects of the recent tractorcade trip to Washington, D.C., and each spoke of the vastly different attitude in Washington this year over the trips there during the previous year.

Mrs. Saylor also spoke about the pending national water policy and termed it a pending disaster, saying, "It is not good for the farmer, for the city, for the small town, or for anybody."

She also urged all farmers to become active in politics, and take an active role in deciding the future of the family farms.

She cited figures that in 1964 the Farmers Home Administration had loaned money to 80 farmers in the amount of $1,000,000 and by 1978, 358 farmers had borrowed more than $15,000,000 for operating costs.

"FHA will not loan money if it is available from anywhere else," she said, "the farmer is subsidizing the nation with their land, and what is going to happen when the farmer can no longer do that."

Both Mrs. Saylor and Joyce McGehee spoke of their trip to Washington to testify before various committees, and both firmly stated they felt the impact of the farmer and his family was noticeable in Washington this year.

They, along with Morris Killough, Doug Bales, Ralph Roming and J.W. Gammon, all decisively stated that Washington was more receptive to the group this year, and they left Washington still with the 'awesome' feel of the power of government, but with more satisfaction that perhaps the Congressmen and Senators are listening to the farmers with open minds this year.

All the people who traveled in the tractorcade spoke of the tractorcade as the "greatest experience of my life." They told of the massive encouragement along the way, even to

DPS Recruiting Gets Underway

The Texas Department of Public Safety announced today that it is accepting applications for the position of State Trooper to fill existing vacancies. Applications may be picked up at any DPS office. Entrance exams will begin February 15, 1979 at the Lubbock, Wichita Falls and Amarillo DPS offices. Testing will be performed each Tuesday and Thursday at 9 a.m. and last most of the day. The recruit school will begin June 12, 1979, and last for 18 weeks. The students selected will attend their Basic Police Training at the Homer Garrison Junior Memorial Academy in Austin. The curriculum will cover some 850 hours of Law Enforcement classes on a wide variety of such subjects as criminal and traffic law, human and community relations, investigative techniques, marksmanship, pursuit driving and physical training. During the training period the recruit will be paid $876 a month.

Major C.W. Bell, Commander of Region 5, said, "To meet the general qualifications, both male and female applicants must be 20 through 35 years of age; of good moral character; in excellent physical condition; weigh not less than two pounds nor more than three and one half pounds per inch of height; possess visual acuity no worse than 20/40 correctable to 20/20; and be a citizen of the United States. Educational qualifications are a minimum of 60 semester hours of college. The Department, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has been successful in recruiting women and persons from minority groups."

Upon graduation, a Commissioned Trooper receives $1,000 per month, and at the end of six months of active duty, the officer gets a salary increase to $1,068.00. State Troopers receive longevity pay for each year of service up to 25 years. Other benefits include 5.85% paid Social Security. Uniforms, weapons, ammunition and vehicles are furnished by the State of Texas. Life insurance and hospitalization are paid for the employee. Paid vacations, state holidays and sick leave are provided to all employees.

There are four uniformed services that the trooper is qualified to enter: License and Weight, Drivers License, Motor Vehicles Inspection and Highway Patrol. Experiences uniform troopers may apply for positions in the Narcotics, Intelligence, Texas Rangers and Motor Vehicle Theft Services when openings occur.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek offers some ideas on enforcing the 55 mile per hour speed limit law.

Dear editor: According to figures which seem accurate to anybody who gets out on a highway in his car, more than half the U.S. population exceeds the 55 mile per hour speed limit and in some states more than 70 percent do.

I offer two solutions to the problem.

1. Find a Federal judge who is trained in interpreting the Constitution the way he thinks it ought to be regardless of what it says, and get him to rule that the 55 mile per hour law sets up only an average speed. If you slow down to 20 or 30 miles an hour in town you have accumulated a surplus and can use it up by going lickity-split at 70 out on the open highway. Just divide the miles traveled by the hours it took and if it comes out 55 or under, you are a law-abiding citizen.

If it turns out not enough people are good at long division, here is the other solution:

2. As everybody knows, the best deterrent to speeding is the sight of a highway cop just ahead. To get enough cops to keep one in view of every driver on the highways would bankrupt the nation, if Congress hasn't already done it.

There is a cheaper way. Scientists have perfected a camera so powerful it can, while orbiting the earth 150 miles up, photograph clearly the license number of a car moving along a highway in Russia.

may be too sophisticated for some of them, sticking chewing gum over the electric-eye beam? Yours faithfully, J.A.

Drought Disaster Continued By SBA

The U.S. Small Business Administration today issued suggestions to aid Texas farmers and ranchers who plan to apply for SBA's Physical Disaster Loan Program.

"Agricultural producers who had losses on 1978 crops because of the extreme drought conditions which have plagued much of the state may be eligible for a low-interest loan," said Alicia Chacon, SBA Regional Director. "Loan applications must be completed and returned to SBA before the March 6 deadline."

Copies of tax records and legal documents such as deeds, leases and mortgages must be included in the application. A cash flow projection for the 1979 crop year is also necessary.

If the applicant is a partnership, each partner must submit a personal financial statement and tax return in addition to the partnership financial statement and return. In the case of a corporation, a personal financial statement must be submitted for each officer or director and for anyone owning twenty percent or more of the voting stock.

SBA disaster loans cover only the amount of the actual loss in yield as certified by ASCS. A producer may not borrow more than the amount of his losses, and SBA loans cannot duplicate other disaster or deficiency payments.

The SBA accepts ASCS figures on established normal yield for program crops. On other crops, SBA will accept the county average from the Statistical Reporting Service or another agricultural unit. Harvested yield is subtracted from the established normal yield to determine the actual loss, which then is certified by ASCS.

"It is important to prepare these disaster loan applications carefully and completely," said Chacon.

"If a farmer has questions or needs assistance in completing the forms, he may want to contact his accountant or someone else, familiar with the business. Or he may call or visit the nearest SBA Disaster Office."

Chacon emphasized that returned an incomplete loan application may mean a delay in processing and loan disbursement.

Your chances of dying from a heart attack or stroke are 50-50.

Quality Fabric Helps Professional Looks

Selecting quality fabric is the first step in creating a professional-looking garment, a clothing specialist, Becky Culp, says.

With proper care, quality fabric will remain attractive and useable for the desired life of the garment.

Even the simplest and fastest techniques are not worthwhile for damaged or inferior fabric, the specialist points out.

A&M University System.
To help obtain a quality fabric, perform the following in-store tests before buying fabric, she suggests.

WRINKLE RESISTANCE
Crush a corner of the fabric and hold tightly for several seconds, then release. Look for wrinkles. If the fabric wrinkles now, it will also wrinkle during wear and require extra care.

STRETCH RECOVERY
Measure a small amount of fabric against a ruler. Stretch firmly, then release. Compare to original measurement.

Test both lengthwise and crosswise. Stretch recovery is important in keeping garment shape and preventing unpopular performance such as "baggie knees."

EVENNESS OF DYES
Unroll the needed amount from the bolt. Examine fabric from both sides for evenness of color and design.

EVENNESS OR FLAWS
To check for evenness or flaws in weave or knit, unroll needed amount from bolt.

Hold fabric up to light and examine. Avoid buying fabrics with holes, light areas or heavy slubs not intended as part of design.

COLORFAST TO CROCKING
To check for crocking (rubbing off), rub fabric against skin or light colored fabric.

Look for and avoid buying those which sizing ing fabrics that color rubs off.

PILLING OR BALLING UP
Rub fabric together briskly. Avoid buying if small balls or pills form on right side of fabric.

BONDING OR LAMINATING DURABILITY
Examine cut edge and avoid those which separate easily.

QUALITY QUILTING
Examine for durable and strong quilting threads and a durable backing fabric.

Fried Chicken From Oven

Oven Fry coating for chicken is being introduced by General Foods. It is a special coating which makes it possible to fry chicken with a small amount of oil -- in the oven. This new product eliminates splatter, messy cleanup of skillet - fried chicken and assures fried chicken will be crisp and crunchy outside yet moist and tender inside.

Oven Fry coating for chicken comes in two varieties and two package sizes: Home Style Flour Recipe--comes in regular size, 3.5 oz., and the triple pack size, 10.5 oz. The Crispy Crumb Recipe comes in regular size, 4.2

oz., and the triple pack size, 12.6 oz. Regular size package contains one envelope with enough coating to prepare two and a half pounds of chicken pieces. Triple pack has three envelopes of coating.

To prepare Home Style Flour Recipe, coat the chicken, spread 2 T. oil in a 10x15x1 inch baking pan, fry in the oven about 1 hour at 425 degrees, turning only once. For Crispy Crumb Recipe, moisten chicken in an egg and water mixture before coating, spread 4 T. oil in a baking pan, fry chicken about 50 minutes at 400 degrees, turning only once.

There is never any scarcity of excuses for doing what you want to do.

A measles epidemic may hit Texas and other states in 1979 -- because many children immunized when vaccine was first available are not completely safe from measles (rubeola or 10 day measles).

Measles outbreaks are occurring in Texas and elsewhere -- with East Texas counties also reporting cases among students in grades 7-12.

VACCINATE THESE CHILDREN

Health authorities urge parents to have the following children immunized: Children you think are immune because "they already had measles" but who saw no physician during the illness -- and never received a doctor's diagnosis. Only if a doctor diagnosed measles can parents be sure children are safe.

Children who were immunized with a killed measles virus vaccine. Children who were immunized with a live virus vaccine before 1968.

Children who had the measles immunization before their first birthday.

Parents who are not sure of their child's immunization record -- or safety from measles -- should contact their physician or local health department for advice.

WHAT TO ASK FOR According to health authorities, to be safe from measles, children need the "live, further - attenuated measles vaccine" which is in current use.

This vaccine has proven to be safe and effective, they report.

WHY THE PROBLEM? Today's threat of epidemic partly stems from the not - so - effective measles vaccine given to children at the age of 12 months. Cases of measles are now being reported in these children who were thought to be fully protected.

New findings show that vaccination with a live virus at the age of 15 months or after is more effective.

MEASLES CAN BE HARMFUL It is important to protect children against measles and its complications which include encephalitis and brain damage.

Death also may occur in one of every 1,000 reported measles cases.

Do You Spend Livestock Show Prize Money?

The following article was sent in to us by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bamert as it appeared in the Houston Chronicle in their weekly feature "Follow Up," by Janet Sanders Chronicle Staff

Every year at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, youngsters not only steal the spotlight from the adults for a few days but also walk away with some of the biggest cash prizes. Teen - agers from throughout Texas pull in hundreds of thousands of dollars in the junior livestock competition with their steer, pigs, sheep and chickens. They're after the coveted title of grand champion for their animals, which are then auctioned. That's what brings in the bucks.

A grand champion steer can go for up to $50,000, while a winning pig, chicken, or lamb can bring up to $20,000 for the owner. That's a lot of money for a youth who hasn't even graduated from high school.

The money rarely, if ever, goes to finance any wild spending sprees, however. Generally, it is regarded as a return on an investment in time and effort made by an entire family for preparing the animals for the show. It is either reinvested in more livestock or stashed away for the youngster's college education.

Of course, not all winners are quite so conservative. And some of them will treat themselves to at least one luxury item. For example, Tana Yates, of the small town of Tarzan in West Texas, who at 17 walked away with $35,000 in 1976 for her grand champion steer "Ol' Joe," bought a big brown Buick with some of her money. "It was just what I've always wanted," she said. She could certainly afford it. In addition to the win three years ago, Miss Yates received $12,500 in 1975 for the reserve champion steer.

A big chunk of the money went to pay for 240 acres that her older brother now farms, she said. The winnings also now cover her tuition and living expenses at Texas Tech, where she is a sophomore.

Miss Yates said that some of the money has helped her younger sister Judith follow in her footsteps and raise her own steer. Judith, 17, is a contestant in this year's livestock show.

Miss Yates said there was never any question that she would share her winnings with her family. "We were all in it together," she recalled. "I just happened to be on the end of the halter."

Nick Bamert, now 20 and a sophomore at Texas A&M spent part of the $30,000 he won for his grand champion steer in 1973 to buy a pickup truck.

Any money that hasn't been to pay for his college education or to raise more cattle will go to set him self up in the business of raising grass seed like his father in Muleshoe, he said.

Lana Tucker was much more free with the $23,000 she won at the age of 13 for her champion pig in 1976. Today, she said, none of it is left.

Miss Tucker, 16, reported that $6,000 of the money paid for a new bass fishing boat for her father, Lanny, an avid fisherman and the high school agricultural teacher for her hometown of Hart in the Panhandle.

That was only fair, she said. He had bought the winning pig, named "Big Daddy," when it was still a baby and thus deserved a good share of the prize.

Another $3,000 of the sum paid for her older brother's wedding. Miss Tucker said. Most of the money, however, went back into feed for more pigs, which she still raises.

Miss Tucker did take $250 for herself to buy a new wardrobe. "I just love clothes," she said. George Kimbriel, a 1971 grand champion steer winner, takes the prize for thrift among those interviewed.

Now 24 and an assistant county agent in Lamesa in West Texas, Kimbriel said he still has $8,000 left of the $17,000 his steel gray steer "Bourbon" brought him in 1971.

When Houston restaurateur Bill Williams, who bought the steer, wrote Kimbriel a check for $17,000, Kimbriel, then 16, couldn't believe it.

"I'd never seen that much money before," he recalled. "And I still haven't seen that much," he added with a sigh. The check went right into a savings account, where the bulk of it has remained.

While past winners may have spent their money in different ways, they all made one common contribution. About a third of their winnings went to Uncle Sam to pay taxes.

"That was a big surprise," said Bamert, who saw $11,500 of his prize money go to the government.

But it did teach him something, Bamert may not be out of college yet but he can already talk knowledgeably about income tax and has a particularly good eye for the deductions.

* The main decision in many business offices is what to throw away now.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texans who have had to tighten their belts and their budgets because of inflation and a precarious economy, may well understand the difficulty the Legislature is having over trying to decide how the taxpayers' money should be spent.

Over just the question of how Texas will finance its schools, three answers are being considered.

As for a state-wide budget, the Legislative Budget Board has presented its proposals, departed Gov. Dolph Briscoe left behind his suggestions before leaving office and Gov. Bill Clements finally got around this week to telling legislators about his own budgetary ideas.

In his speech before a joint session of the House and Senate, Clements proposed a 17.1 percent increase in state spending. The same jump Briscoe suggested. The LBB called for a 22 percent hike.

Education, law enforcement and corrections would stand to gain most of the $2.9 billion increase in state expenditures recommended by Clements. Taxpayers would benefit too. Under Clements' plan, $1 billion would be left over for additional tax relief.

Earlier in the week, State Democratic Chairman Billy Goldberg almost upstaged Clements by accusing the governor of "grandstanding" with his trips to Mexico and Washington. Meanwhile, Goldberg pointed out, the governor had missed the deadline for submitting his budget. The law says a governor should make his budget proposals 20 days after taking office. But Goldberg's clamoring over Clements being late with his budget quickly took a back seat to the furor that broke out over what Clements finally did say.

Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a member of the Legislative Budget Board, came to the defense of the LBB spending draft, pointing out that Clements' budget would "cut both state services in real terms and provide greater potential burdens for local property taxpayers." Earlier in the week, Hobby and Jones hinted that they might be toying with the idea of a one-year state budget in light of an unpredictable economy.

School Finance

While not wrestling with the budget, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby was speaking his mind on other subjects this week saying he favored raising, if not just abolishing, the state interest rate ceiling. Speaker of the House Bill Clayton agreed. The two bosses of the separate chambers also saw eye to eye on the question of raising the speed limit from 55 to 70 mph. Both were against it.

Where Hobby said he would like to see things go faster in the Senate. He warned that if debate didn't begin soon on a school finance bill, the legislature might face the same predicament it did in 1977. School financing legislation was defeated in the final hours of the 65th session.

First up with a bill for school financing was Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, the chairman of the Senate Education Committee. Mauzy's bill would cost $1.9 billion but includes $1.3 billion for local tax relief. The state, if Mauzy's plan were to be adopted, would take on a greater financial burden in funding schools. Texas now finances 60 percent of the basic education program. Mauzy would increase the state's share to 80 percent.

Sen. W.E. "Pete" Snelson of Midland will carry the teachers' banner into the struggle over money for the state's schools. Snelson's bill would emphasize teacher pay raises, as much as 15 percent over the next two years. The increases would bring teachers' salaries closer to the national average of $15,440. Although a large chunk of Clements' budget would go for education, teachers would not be granted the 5.1 percent increase proposed by the LBB.

The Texas School Administrator's finance bill would increase teacher salaries by seven percent in each of the next two years, and, like the Snelson bill supported by the Texas State Teachers Association, would raise the amount of state funds to local districts for maintenance, transportation and operation.

Short Shorts

Attack forces appeared to be forming this week for the predicted siege on the Texas Consumer Protection Act of 1973. Some fear the law might be gutted this session. Attorney General Mark White said he was against that but did say he was in favor of removing the triple damages provision of the act.

Consumers did get some good news this week—maybe. A State Board of Insurance staff report suggested the cost of property insurance be reduced by 4.1 percent amounting to a savings of $38 million for premium payers. But don't count your savings just yet. The board hasn't decided one way or the other on the staff proposal.

Bad news for cattlemen possibly and the consumer too came this week in the form of an opinion of two top agricultural economists who said they could see price controls if there is an explosive surge in meat prices that might jar an already sensitive economy.

"A vote for Clements cost me my job," said one of the 55 employees who joined the ranks of the unemployed after the most recent firings at the Texas Department of Community Affairs. Earlier, 12 others had been let go. That made one-fourth of the agencies employees who had been terminated since Omar Harvey, the agency director, gave orders to streamline the department's workforce. Harvey was appointed by Clements. The governor vowed during his campaign to cut the number of state employees over the next four years by 25,000. From the firings at the TDCA alone, the state will save $1.3 million in salaries.

As if there weren't enough question marks in the hopper over a presidential primary, Gov. Clements added his by saying it was certainly a possibility that he might be a favorite-son candidate. That statement set off the Richter scales in the camps of George Bush and John Connally. Both men are looking to the Texas presidential primary as a springboard for bigger and, hopefully, better things.

TSTA is on the eve of its own 100th birthday anniversary, having been established in Mexia in 1880. Gov. Bill Clements recently signed a proclamation designating March 5 through 9 as Texas Public Schools Week and urging citizens to take part in local observances.

The first school week in March is set aside each year to give Texas citizens a special invitation to visit their public schools.

Many school buildings participate with open houses, classroom displays and special exhibits of student work.

"We want parents and other school patrons to meet teachers and get a better understanding of the way their schools operate," Mrs. Stacey says.

City Council Regular Meeting

City Council will meet Tuesday, March 6, at 8:30 a.m. in the Muleshoe City Hall with the following items on the agenda:

2. Report on discussion with Commissioners Court concerning shared services.

they were originally formed to aid, along with International Money and Trade Markets, the Tri-Lateral Commission and other international groups, who AAM say are trying to break the family farmer and force farming into corporations.

Each speaker encouraged more active participation in the AAM as they stated, "If the family farm goes down, Main Street goes down."

Kiwanis Hear Of Satellite

Merlyn Neel presented the Muleshoe Kiwanis program Friday morning and his program was to explain the new satellite television system being installed for Muleshoe.

Neel said he first heard of the new system in 1970, but at that time, the price was prohibitive for the local station. He checked again in 1974, but still thought the cost was much too high.

In 1976, Muleshoe Antenna Co. filed with FCC for a license to operate the new system in Muleshoe. Now, with the installation of the new microwave antenna, Neel said he hopes to have the new system operational by April 1.

The two new optional channels will feature movies and special events. Gary Dale presented the friendship coin to Robert Montgomery, who has to sit at the bank all day paying out interest and not receiving any.

College Group Alaska Bound

Alaska! Land of Eskimos, ice, polar bears and the pipeline! "Magnificent frontier ran out and the American future took over!"

Alaska "The state most worthy of attention," according to one professor-historian. "First God made the country and then we built it," says one of her native sons.

Called the "Rising Northern Star" by National Geographic Magazine, this fascinating land is the March 22 destination of Wayland Baptist College's Spirit of America Singers. The nine-member group, their director, Dr. Robert Bicknell and his wife, Pat, will spend 10 days in Alaska doing what they do best - making music!

The Spirit of America Singers is a select group in which membership is by audition only. The performers represent a wide range of musical ability. Members of the group are percussionist Brenda Baker, sophomore from Plainview, Freshman Martin Duckett, also from Plainview, joins Rex Mauney, senior from San Jose, California, on the keyboards. Mauney also sings bass for the group. He is married to the granddaughter of Mrs. Corda Taylor who resides in Muleshoe.

Bridgett Evans, senior from Sherman, Texas, is the group's first soprano. Roswell, N.M. junior Trudy Williams sings alto.

Mark Long, also a bass singer, handles the bass guitar. Another Texan, senior Danny White from Amarillo, plays electric and acoustic guitar. White also sings tenor.

Penny Golden, senior from Sulfur Springs, Texas serves as the groups' second soprano.

Song engineer for Spirit of America is Steve Reed, freshman from Chandler, Arizona.

Started in 1974, "Spirit" as they are known locally gives between 35 and 50 programs a year for churches, civic clubs and schools, according to Dr. Bicknell. Their versatility enables them to provide both secular and religious music for their audiences. Bicknell indicated that their music is pop orientated in both secular and religious fields.

From the beginning the group has been outstanding. In 1978, the group took top honors in the "Bob Hope Search for Tops in Collegiate Talent." During the summer of 1976 they provided the musical entertainment for a Mediterranean cruise ship. On February 10 of this year they were featured at the Texas Music Education Association meeting in Fort Worth. They have just completed cutting a recording with Christian music artist, Gary Lanier. The record is due to be released by March 1.

Their upcoming trip originated as the result of an invitation from the Alaska Baptist General Convention. It came directly through Bill Canary, music secretary for the Alaska Convention, whose daughter, Cheryl, is a Wayland freshman. He issued the invitation last fall when he was in Plainview getting Cheryl enrolled in Wayland.

The Singers will provide special music in several churches as part of a statewide evangelistic effort by Alaska Baptists. The effort is a part of the Bold Mission Thrust program of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Specifically, Anchorage and the surrounding area will be the focus of the Wayland group while in Alaska. Located between Cook Inlet and the Chugach Mountains, the sprawling city of Anchorage has a population of over 145,000 and is the home of almost every second Alaskan.

How do the students feel about the trip? "Excited," says Trudy Williams. "It will be cold, but we are really looking forward to it."

Martin Duckett shares Trudy's feelings. "I am excited, both at the chance to be involved in this kind of ministry and just to be going to Alaska."

None of the students has ever been to Alaska, but their appetites for going have been whetted by the descriptions given them by Cheryl Canary. "It's beautiful, just beautiful," she says. "Anchorage is a city with the ocean on one side and mountains on the other. On an average day, the temperature ranges from minus 20 to 20 above."

Dr. Bicknell shares the students' excitement about the trip. "We have given a lot of church programs this year both to get ready and to raise the money for the trip. We have been pleased with the response we have received."

The Wayland group will return to Plainview on April 2 leaving Alaska, land of Eskimos, ice, polar bears and the pipeline far behind them. Through their music, they will leave a bit of Wayland Baptist College as their part in the building of what her native son says is "the country that God made."

Spirit of America Singers seems a fitting group to send to such a land.

Unions Out Of Touch

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday that a national group of public employee labor unions is out of touch with its Texas members in saying that Texas has one of the worst tax systems in the nation.

The group, the Coalition of American Public Employees, in a report issued in Washington ranked Texas as the fifth "most equitable" tax system in the nation because the state has a sales tax instead of personal and business income taxes.

"If we are 'the worst' for not having an income tax, then I'm proud of it and I'll bet the union members of Texas are proud of it, too," Bullock said.

Bullock dared the Coalition "to come to Texas and survey their own members here about income taxes."

"They will find that neither the employees nor the employers of Texas want income taxes," Bullock said.

Bullock noted that sales taxes have been approved overwhelmingly by voters in more than 900 Texas cities in the past 12 years and said that "if the truth were known, there's a lot of folks in Texas who would like to have a sales tax for their schools."

In other rankings, the Coalition found that general tax administration in Texas was sixth best in the nation, basing that on cost/effectiveness of the Comptroller's tax enforcement, cooperation with other states, and regular legislative review of tax policy.

JOBLESS RATE UP

The jobless rate edged up for the first time in five months in December, but 1978 showed strong employment gains, the Labor Department said.

The Right Doctor

He was dug out of the wreck of his automobile and carried to the nearest doctor's office.

"I can't do anything for this man," said the doctor. "I'm a veterinary surgeon."

"You're the right man, doc," said the amateur motorist. "I was a jackass to think I could run that machine."

Senator Price Plans Gasohol Act Creation

Senator Bob Price, Republican - Pampa, plans to introduce legislation before the Senate this week dealing with Gasohol.

The legislation will create the Texas Gasohol Development Act. Under the act, the Texas Energy Advisory Council will make available five matching grants of up to $4 million for the construction of grain alcohol plants or related facilities. Any city, county, corporation, partnership, or individual may apply for the matching grants.

Another bill will provide for tax exemption status for fuels containing a minimum of ten percent by volume of alcohol derived from Texas agricultural or forest products.

A bill entitled the Texas Gasohol Pilot Plan will provide for the state funding of a pilot gasohol plant. Senator Price hopes that such a pilot gasohol plant will be located in the heavy corn producing areas of the Texas Panhandle.

Finally, a fourth piece of legislation will be needed to actually legalize gasohol which is currently illegal in Texas.

Senator Price says that not only can gasohol help to relieve some of the demand on oil and gasoline, but will also provide another market for Texas farmers.

Senator Price also said that other states including Iowa and Nebraska have gasohol programs already in operation.

"In these days with talk of gas rationing, dollar a gallon gas and low prices for farm products, a gasohol program is desperately needed in the state of Texas," said Sen. Price.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

MOUNTAIN TOP

"MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCES"... It is not yet vacation time, however that time is approaching and we start remembering the wonderful feelings and experiences of our last trip to the mountains, and now we can start to plan new adventures.

That closeness, and the exciting feeling when worshipping the Lord is often referred to as a "MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCE." We invite you to come worship the Lord in his house, and receive the joys of being close to God. Attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
