The change didn't take place overnight; the rancher didn't announce a "new" steer every year or so. His process of improvement has been continuous, and it's still going on.

The same policy has guided the Humble Company in manufacturing motor fuels and motor oils for the Texas motorist. When it has an entirely new product, Humble announces it as such; otherwise, the search and research for improved quality never ceases—it is continuous from day to day.

This policy has resulted in a steady flow of improved Humble products, definitely second to none in quality, to Texas motorists; and it has made it unnecessary for the Humble Company to use exaggerated claims in its advertising.

We say, try Humble products; performance will convince you. The Texas motorist has said, "You're
