Female Cabbie Asks For Right to Drive

ELIZABETH, N. J.—A female cabbie who likes to work the midnight to 8 a. m. shift is fighting in court here to preserve her right to drive a cab at night. She is the city's only full time female cab driver. Opposition to her work shift is based upon fear that at late hours, she is more likely to be molested.

Nine companies without female drivers are attempting to have legislation passed to prevent Mrs. Shirley Da Costa from driving a cab after 6 p. m. and Mrs. Da Costa is waging a one woman war against the proposal.

The 25-year-old mother of three children plans to go before the board of works to defend her rights. She has engaged a lawyer to assist her. She is determined to maintain her nocturnal schedule because that is the best earning period. Her shift is from midnight to 8 a. m.

Driving eight years, Mrs. Da Costa claims she never has had an accident. And, she adds, she is expert at changing flat tires.

No Speeches But Candidate Wins

RIPLEY, Miss.—The new mayor of this small town, Mrs. Ruth Street, 54, was elected without asking for a single vote. During the campaign, she was ill in a hospital and made no campaign speeches.

She had been appointed to the post to fill out the unexpired term of her husband, Mayor John B. Street, who died in office. Then her friends urged her to run when the term was over for the office in her own right.

After she attended a few aldermen's meetings, she said that the board of aldermen in session is just like a missionary society—they just talk and do little.

But she hastened to add that the aldermen cooperate fine. She would like it if they served refreshments during sessions.

Mrs. Street is Mississippi's only woman mayor.

Broiler Chickens Give Farmers New Product

GEORGETOWN, Ohio—A boom in the broiler chicken business the last five years has given farmers near this Ohio town a new farm product that can be produced profitably—eggs for hatchery purposes.

A good example of a farmer who has gone into this business in a big way is Wayne Bach, R. F. D. 2.

Since most of his eggs go for the broiler trade, Mr. Bach raises New Hampshire Reds, a fast maturing, meat type bird; preferred by many broiler raisers and the market.

His breeding flock consists of 1,000 hens and one rooster for each 10 or 12 birds. His egg production runs about 50 to 55 per cent now and is increasing.

As many farmers have done, Mr. Bach converted a barn into a laying house. The former dairy barn measures 36 by 60 feet and 550 birds are housed on the mow floor and another 450 on a floor constructed above the mow floor.

A chain conveyor system carries feed from a hopper on the first floor to feeding troughs on the upper floors. It's a great labor saving device, but Mr. Bach still has to carry feed sacks about 12 feet from his truck bed to near the hopper.

A motor on the conveyor system automatically starts every hour and a half and runs for 15 minutes. That's the length of time it takes to carry adequate feed to the laying flock.

Pastor Tempers Justice With Mercy

LIBERTY, Ky.—In a big city when a theft is committed, the crime is reported to the police and the cold, indifferent process of the law works to catch the thief and punish him.

In a small town, the law against theft is sometimes tempered by the community heart, or spirit of neighborliness.

Someone stole two lengths of garden hose and a sprinkler from the lawn of the First Christian Church. The pastor, who believes that justice is always to be tempered with mercy, placed an ad in the Casey County News, the home town newspaper, that directed the thief as follows:

"NOTICE to the person who was so destitute as to be forced to take two lengths of garden hose and a sprinkler from the lawn of the First Christian Church. If you will call at the pastor's study, he will give you the five-year guarantee for the hose, give you your dinner and any religion that might rub off on you."

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks are more truck for the money!

4 powerful reasons why you get more of what you want ...

- more engine power — Advanced Loadmaster engine—standard on 5000, 6000 Series and forward-control models, optional on 4000 Series heavy-duty trucks.
- more staying power — Heavier, stronger, more durable frames increase rigidity, add to ruggedness and stamina of 1953 Chevrolet trucks.
- more braking power — Trucks up to 4000 Series heavy-duty models have "Torque-Action" brakes. Series 4000 and above use "Torque-Action" brakes in front, "Twin-Action" in rear.
- more economy — New stamina plus extra gasoline economy in heavy-duty models with Loadmaster engine, reduces hauling costs per ton-mile.

Polio Vaccine Reported

Reports of a vaccine capable of preventing polio and the use of gamma globulin for minimizing the effects of the disease are heralded as major achievements in the research against this greatcrippler and killer of children. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns that both are still in the experimental stage. While they hold great promise much study will yet have to be done before being available to the general public.

In the meantime, Dr. Cox advises that everyone observe the known rules of sanitation. These practices have proven their value not only in the prevention of polio, but of other diseases such as typhoid fever, dysentery and malaria. Even when a definite preventive of polio is available to the public they should not discontinue their efforts toward maintaining sanitary surroundings.

Sanitation efforts should be carried out every month and every day in the year. Householders, business houses and industry are responsible for keeping their property in a sanitary condition. Cities must furnish an uncontaminated water supply, maintain an efficient sewage disposal system and proper garbage collection and disposal.

Dr. Cox placed the responsibility on the individual when he said, "In sanitary places do not make the person but the person makes the places." If you have been lax in maintaining cleanliness of your surroundings during the past few months, now is a good time to start an intensive clean up. Texans can help prevent disease and assure themselves of better health by maintaining a high standard of sanitation.

Galena Opens Homes To Public for a Day

GALENA, Ill.—This little town, once the El Dorado of the west, recently opened its pre-Civil War homes to the public for a day. Galena is one of the most picturesque towns in the U. S.—artists flock here and are seen almost any day on Main street daubing away.

The town boasts of eight of the finest examples of pre-Civil War homes. Two of the homes were once residences of U.S. Grant, and the town is full of Grant lore. The state-owned mansion that the people of Galena presented to Grant after the Civil War is always open to the public.

Galena is a hill town, situated on the Galena river. Before it became filled with sand and earth, the river was a great water highway. Many great river boats and packets tied up at the docks, bringing passengers and freight up the Mississippi from New Orleans.

The Board of Directors of the Texas Aand M College System, by resolution, recently called attention to the 50th anniversary of the beginning of farm demonstration work in Texas.

The forerunner of the present day 4-H clubs was boys' corn clubs and girls' tomato clubs. Tom Marks county agricultural agent in Jack County, organized the first boys' corn club in Texas in 1908.

FIRST AID

Mining Town Is 'Safety-Wise' All the Year

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo.—Three boys are walking down the main street. School is out and the prospect of the long summer recess makes spirits soar. Playfully, one youngster shoves another. He stumbles, falls against the large plate glass window of a department store and crashes through it.

An instant later, a red fountain spurts from his right arm where a razor-edged piece of glass has slashed through the artery. For a second he stares dumbly at the fast-flowing blood, then runs down the street, crying hysterically.

Springs Into Action
 One of his two companions springs into action. He chases his panicked friend, catches him and knocks him to the pavement. Skilled fingers probe the armpit above the wound and the flow of blood stops.

With his finger on the pressure point, the quick-witted youth orders the third boy to summon an ambulance. Had the youngster been ignorant of first aid, his friend could have bled to death in a minute and a half.

This is just one of several examples showing how knowledge of first aid has paid off in Rock Springs, a coal mining town in southwestern Wyoming.

The coal company has the nation's top mine safety record. Recognizing that first aid training is an essential part of any safety program, Union Pacific coal sponsors an annual first aid rally and contest.

This Year's Contest
 This year's contest was held in the coal company's Old Timers' association building. The competing teams worked in ten-foot squares, laid out in a circle in the middle of the auditorium floor. At a given signal, each team captain was handed a first aid problem in a sealed envelope.

Interest in the contest is keen, and the awards ceremony late in the afternoon is attended by squeals from the girls and loud cheers from the boys. Wrist watches went to the winning junior girls, matched luggage to the senior girls, portable radios to the boys and $40 to each member of the winning men's team. Lesser prizes went to all other competitors.

'School's Out' When It Should Be In

BOONVILLE, N.Y.—Community headaches of long duration sometimes arise from simple troubles—like delay in remodeling a school building which seemingly would cause only temporary inconvenience.

As 900 pupils of the Boonville central school district awaited "the first day of school," because the school building was not ready for use, the school district itself was awaiting possible loss of state aid payments, linked directly to school attendance and number of days of operation.

Remodeling work was done at the school during the summer, but B. E. Jackson, president of the Board of Education, said that about a week's work remained on the plumbing and heating systems the day school was scheduled to open. He added that because of a strike of Utica plumbers and steamfitters, there was no indication when the work could be completed.

Jackson said that the district would lose money in state aid if the school operated for fewer than 190 days. Based on 900 students, he estimated that the loss would amount to about $1,100 a day for each day lost.

He also said the district faced a possible "permanent loss in enrollment," because some pupils were transferring to other schools and it was not known whether they would return to the Boonville school.

Opportunity Knocks Right in Home Town

LINDEN, Ala.—Teen-agers who feel like leaving their home towns to seek better fields of opportunity should consider how Buddy Perry planted a few tomato seeds and harvested opportunity in his own backyard.

The tomato seeds cost him 80 cents. The hotbed cost him nothing but a little labor—he built it of materials salvaged from dumps and heated it with manure obtained for the asking.

The tomato plants that the hotbed yielded he sold as fast as he could pick them. With the proceeds from the seeds he bought calves. From a small beginning, he has built a herd of four steers, three heifers and one cow.

That's a pretty fair realization from 80 cents, and we forgot to mention the two pigs he recently bought.

Young Perry goes to school and is a star pupil. Besides, he builds scenery for the school shows and spends his shop periods turning out tables, screens and other furniture.

Atlas would have to be a lot stronger man today, to lift this world with all its taxes.

Townsmen Creates Grand New Industry

BIG HORN, Wyo.—Wyoming's famous bucking horse, symbol of a rugged state, is now doing his stuff in the parlor.
 A housewife, Mrs. Helen Read Stall of Big Horn got the idea that the bucking horse which adorns the state's automobile license plates, would look good prancing across a cushioned floor as part of a hooked rug. She was right.

The attractiveness of the motif, plus the current trend toward small rugs, caused her product to meet with quick acceptance. One of the first was purchased by Tracy S. McCracken, well-known Wyoming publisher. He presented it to the Cheyenne Chamber of Commerce where it now decorates the wall.

Tourists are expected to grab up Mrs. Stall's output as they pass through the Big Horn country. The rugs are made of wool and the borders have the brands of famous ranches.

The first county agricultural agent to work exclusively in one county was appointed in November 1906. He was W. C. Stallings in Smith County.

The first county home demonstration agent appointed in Texas was Mrs. Edna W. Trigg. The year was 1912 and the county, Milam.

DOCTOR'S ORDERS

The young matron listened attentively while her doctor prescribed a remedy for her nervous condition. "Madam," he said, "you require frequent baths, plenty of fresh air; also you should dress in warm cloths."

That evening she told her husband all about it: "The doctor said I'm in a highly distraught condition dear, and that it is important for me to go to Palm Beach, then to a dude ranch out west, and to buy myself a new ermine wrap."

Many a man has roamed the streets late at night without a reason. If he could think of one he would have gone home earlier.

The man who tries to do something and fails is better off than the man who tries to do nothing and succeeds.
