Agriculture Department Considers New Program for the Small Farmer

NEW FARM PLAN -- As a result of a recent survey into the problems of the small American farmer, the Truman administration may come up with a new farm program in the near future more controversial than the Brannan plan and which could become one of the major issues in the 1952 presidential campaign.

The survey was conducted with the idea of learning what the department could do to help the small farmer who is having difficulties because of inadequate land, machinery, livestock and know how. Thousands of meetings have been held in the home towns across the nation discussing crop control, price support, farm loans and other small farm problems.

As a result, a major question has developed: should the government buy up land, redivide it into "economic" or "efficient" units, and resell it to low-income farmers? Also, should present crop controls be extended?

Brannan believes that if productivity of substandard farms can be increased many agriculture problems would tend to disappear. On the other hand, many farm leaders have remained aloof and have not taken part in the meetings, criticizing Brannan's methods more than his

Two possible legislative proposals may come from the survey: (1) A technical assistance program for the less efficient farms and farmers, and (2) a farm-loan program designed to help such farmers acquire land, machinery, equipment, livestock and the know how to operate efficient

Whatever the final form, any new farm plan, whether it incorporates the government buying and redivision of land or not, is bound to become a major campaign issue. Much of the opposition will come from the farm bureaus who have long resented Brannan as trying to usurp the roles of the private farm organizations and regimenting agriculture.

BOYLE RESIGNS—The big question in political circles since William M. Boyle, Jr., close friend of President Truman resigned as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is whether or not Guy Gabrielson, GOP national chairman, will be the next to go?

Boyle and Gabrielson have been under fire as having used their positions to influence the Reconstruction Finance Corporation into granting loans to companies they represented or were connected with. And although Gabrielson insists he will stay on, political observers believe his number is up, too.

In his letter of resignation Boyle gave health as his reason, insisting he had at all times conducted himself with "honor and propriety." He did admit in testimony during the congressional hearing that he accepted eight law cases involving government agencies, at fees totaling approximately $158,000, while serving as chairman of the national committee.

LESS CIVILIAN GOODS-Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson nced a cut in civilian goods production, effective January 1, that will be felt in the home towns across the nation.

The cutback in civilian production, 10 per cent for washing machines and stoves and even more in the automobile industry, will provide steel for the armament program which will hit full stride during the first three months of 1952

The home town that has a school or hospital under construction w get enough materials to finish the project, but there will not be materials available to start new ones. As for farm machinery, so vital to agriculture and home town economy, there will be enough to support production 'at a healthy and adequate level."

MIDDLE EAST BLOWUP-There is shaping up in the Middle East an explosion that could be felt in the smallest American community. The situation has developed as Egypt has increased pressure in recent weeks to remove the British from the Sudan and strategic Suez.

As a compromise, the United States, Britain, France and Turkey have asked Egypt to become the center of an alliance in the area against communism, but the proposal was received cooly by King Farouk's

This dispute is important to home town Americans because of the nation's interest in Suez, which if placed under Egyptian protection, would be a prize the Russians could take with little difficulty. The British, under present treaties with Egypt, have the legal right to maintain troops in the canal zone which is her economic life-line. She will not back down in her determination to remain in the zone. Thus, if the Egyptian government attempts to remove them by force the British will resist. If the Russians should decide to step in at this point, the world would become involved in World War III. There is a chance that Egypt may accept the west's proposal of joint defense of the area, but only because she is not in a position to defend herself.

NEW DECLARATION-In a major speech last week President Truman again declared American foreign policy is "based upon the hope that it will be possible to live, without a war, in the same world as the Soviet Union—if the free nations have adequate defenses." And he again offered to "sit down with the Soviet Union" and other nations to work out agreements to relieve mankind of "the horror of another world war" and provide the basis for "a durable peace."

The President pointed out the central theme of America's present foreign policy and defense program: "So long as one country has the power and the force to overwhelm others and so long as that country has aggressive intentions real peace is unattainable. The stronger we become, the more possible it will be to work out solid and lasting arrangements that will prevent war. Our strength will make for peace."

IRAN'S OIL-Mohammed Mossadegh, premier of Iran, who has taken the British-Iranian oil dispute to the United Nations Security Council, told UN diplomats to keep their hands off the dispute and warned "we will not be coerced."

In presenting the Iranian point of view he said there are only two questions open to negotiations: (1) Compensation for British investments in the now nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil company, and (2) possible sale

He then made his strongest point: "We will not take action and will not engage in negotiations affecting our internal affairs under pressure. To do so would not only constitute an admission that we are not a sovereign and equal nation, but would eventually be fatal to our inde-

The question remains who will operate the huge Anglo-Iranian Oil company refineries. The Iranians do not have the technical know-how and the British experts have already been sent home. How can Iran sell oil when it can't produce it?

Sheaffer products include special fountain pens, me chanical pencils and ballpoints which bear a gold band containing the signature of the owner. It's Jim's job to reproduce the signatures, engraving them on the gold

His kind of forgery is more difficult than the illegal varieties that land their makers in jail after discovery by hawk-eyed bank tellers or merchants. The illegal forger does his signature imitations on flat paper with pen and ink. Legal forger Jordan has to cut his on rounded surface of hard 14-K gold.

If you would have a hard-to-duplicate signature, Jim recommends neat, compact handwriting. It's harder to duplicate than a signature in long, flowing strokes. Most difficult for him to copy are John Hancocks with many loops and criss-cross lines. Cutting the loops and crossovers into the gold is a tough job.

JORDAN ALSO does other kinds of free-hand engraving on special gold-banded pens. It was he who gave the "peace pens" used at the San Francisco signing of the Japanese peace treaty their identification by engraving "Japanese Peace Pact, 1951" on their bands. Those pens have become collectors' items.

Forging signatures on writing instruments is Jim's first engraving ob. He was born and raised in this prolific forger who engraved more than 40,000 different signatures in his lifetime. When Zeigler died last year, Jim succeeded him.

Jordan naturally prefers the title 'engraver." His spouse balks at being known as "the Forger's wife.

One signature Jim finds just as hard to duplicate as any is his own. His imitations have satisfied more than 5,000 "forgees" including politicians, actors, sports figures and business leaders. But when he attended a bazaar at the State Penitentiary and offered to pay for his purchases by check, he was asked to give cash. Why? His signature on the check differed too much from that on his driver's license.

Jovially, he made a crack about Dan's ears, which protruded from the Chester head horizontally, instead of perpendicularly, as is the case in normal man. The blush which mounted to Dan's checks provoked guffaws of amusement from the delighted Barney.

And he got it. During the two months of initiation, Barney suffered all the humiliations, indignations and unrestrained paddlings of a college freshman.

Dan picked himself up and nodded. "O.K., Brother Craig, suppose you and I go outside.

"All in fun, Brother Craig. Come around again some time when you feel in a playful mood."

The fight lasted 25 minutes. Both participants were pretty groggy. They were swinging wild and without much zip. It began to look like a draw, when suddenly it occurred to Barney that for the first time Dan wasn't beating him. The thought gave him a feeling of elation and a burst of energy. He poked a neat one at Dan's chin and it connected. Barney, thrown off balance, too weak to steady himself, fell across his opponent's pro-

People Rank Herbert Hoover Greatest Statesman

By Wright A. Patterson

THREE OR FOUR DAYS before Herbert Hoover moved from the White House back to his home in Palo Alte, Calif., I wrote him a note in which I said: "Regardless of the result of the last election, the historians will classify you as one of the great Presidents of America, and the people of the nation will accept the historians' verdict."

The people did not wait for the verdict of the historians. Of their own volition they have accepted Herbert Hoover as the greatest of present day American statesmen. In every way they can show it they approve his policies. They accept him as an American leader far more than at any time in the past.

They have written their own verdict. While I was visiting with Representative Joe Martin in his office in the capitol building at Washington, a few days before the convening of the Republican national convention at Philadelphia, he asked, "Who is your choice as a Republi-can for President?"

"My first choice is Herbert Hoo-ver, my second is Joseph Martin,"

"I believe we could elect Hoover, but I doubt if we could nominate him. As for your second choice, I do not want to be President, now, I do want to be speaker of the house of representatives first."

At that Philadelphia convention Hoover was scheduled to deliver an address. The Willkie managers were afraid of the result of that address.

managers, in an effort to prevent such a possibility, pulled the dirtiest political trick I have ever seen played in any of the more than 20 national conventions I have attended as a reporter.

The instant Hoover stepped to the loud speaker microphone, the system was put out of commission, and finished. Hoover's voice was not strong enough for an auditorium of that size, and no one of the dele- Russian propaganda. gates or the audience heard any part of his address.

There followed no demonstration as there had been at Cleveland four years earlier. Had Hoover not left the convention hall the instant his address was completed, he would have been the nominee. I know he did not want it at that time. He had told me so as he left the Philadelphia convention hall. It was reported to me, and I believe it, that he said: "I will never again be a candidate nor will I accept a nomination for any elective political office.'

Today, if it were left to the choice of the Republican voters, Herbert elected President of the United in creating. The people believe in the policies that-as an elder statesman -he enunciates from time to time. They would cheerfully follow his tion; would dispense with the larger Not necessarily Willkie, but his part of the vast army of bureau-nanagers, in an effort to prevent crats, for which we are paying. Today he has the confidence and

He would keep us away from any war with Russia, not by any policy of appeasement, but by a firm stand it stayed out until the address was that would be typically American, and convince Stalin that it is time to stop Russian aggression, and

But I am sure Herbert Hoover will not be the Republican nominee, or that he would accept it if such nomination was tendered. I believe he made the statement credited to him at Philadelphia, and if he did that statement was final. It meant he was out of partisan politics and would stay out. He is not the kind who changes his mind, with each change of the political wind.

A great character has passed from partisan political life, much to the regret of the American people who first elected him by a tremendous majority and then as ruthlessly defeated him, because they credited him with responsibility for condi-Hoover could be nominated and tions which in reality he had no part

Iowa Tests Show Value Of Alfalfa for Swine

Everyone knows that alfalfa pasture is good for hogs. But just how good? The Iowa experiment station thought that one way to find out would be to feed one batch of hogs on dry lot; and another on alfalfa.

They found that the biggest value in alfalfa comes from a saving in high-cost protein and mineral supplement. Hogs gained faster on

Total Feed Supply Will Be Higher Than Last Year

With the approach of the 1951-52 feeding season, livestock feeders will be interested to know that the expected total supply of feed grains and concentrates will be greater than last year, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

The available supply of feed will permit livestock to be fed at about the same rate per unit as last season. The number of animals to be fed, however, is also expected to be greater. An estimated 174 million animals will be on hand as compared with last year's 168-mil-

A large acreage and a fair carryover is expected to provide a larg-er corn supply. About 4 billion bushels is expected to be available for the 1951-52 season.

The total supply of corn, oats, grain sorghums, and barley for the coming season is estimated to be 127.1 million tons. This compares with last season's total of 125 million tons of grain.

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to

Or June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act -made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employes and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employes Accept Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employes-more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse

But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the socalled "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers. In all, there are about 270,000 operating employes. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employes are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer? They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 191/2 cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases? The White House Agreement includes an 'escalator' clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases — April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employes covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employes in yard service. The employes can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitra-tion by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with socalled "interdivisional service"-runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an inter-divisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its es-tablishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be sub-But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employes.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

The GOP Campaign

S the most critical presidential campaign in many years nears the boiling point, many people have wondered who is masterminding the GOP publicity against Democrats who get themselves into print. A good guess would be Bob Humphreys, $25,000-a-year director of blicity for the Republican conessional committee. Humphreys is a reticent, retiring former newsperman who came up with Hearst's International News Service, serving in Indianapolis and Washington, and then in an editorial cacity with Newsweek.

If it is Humphreys, he is doing a masterful job. He stays to himself, does not mix much with the newsmen around Washington, and has an office adjacent to the house office building. Since he has taken over there has quietly built up a tremendous GOP backfire which continually keeps the Demo-eratic National Committee, Democratic officialdom and the President himself in hot water.

On the Senate side, Humphrey's ounterpart is believed to be Victor hnson, secretary of the GOP sentorial committee. Johnson, however, has not exhibited the finesse which has been exemplified by Humphreys.

Boyle and Gabrielson

In past years it has generally en the custom to name the postmaster general the national chairman of the political party in power. Bob Hannagan, Frank Walker and ames A. Farley served as Demoeratic national chairmen while they also headed the postal service.

On the Republican side, Will Hays ices, and more recently, Congressnen Hugh Scott and Carroll Reece.

Then both parties decided to divorce their national chairmen from government officialdom. As a result an interesting parallel has developed. The Republicans appointed Guy Gabrielson and the Democrats William Boyle. Now both are trying to hold on to their jobs while try-ing to explain their influence ddling activities to congressional probers.

The governors of nearly every tate of the union gathered at Gatlinsburg, Tenn., recently for the 43rd annual governors convention. And although politics was not a part of the planned program, politics was everyone's mind.

The main question was who will win the election? Who will be the ominees? The most outspoken was the Eisenhower force, headed by Governor Dewey of New York, who expressed confidence that the general would be the GOP standard-

On the Democratic side of the fence, a number of governors doubted that President Truman would run again. Most Democrats, however, believed he would.

The Eisenhower boom is backed by a Dewey-Stassen-Duff combina-tion. If the general decides not to run and the boom blows up, then the Republican nomination will be a wide open affair, the Republican governors agreed in general.

The Republicans are approaching the 1952 campaign with "cautious optimism". On the other hand the Democrats are not so "optimistic."

Asked to Resign

Although both Boyle and Gabrielson have denied any wrongdoing, they have been asked to resign in the interest of restoring public conence in the integrity of national leaders and government officials.

Many leaders in both parties believe the men have stayed within a strict reading of the law, but have abused their powers for private gain. These critics also believe Boyle and Gabrielson have outlived their usefulness as far as their respective parties are concerned.

Cleaner Air Week, Farm Scrap Harvest Are August Promotions

Cleaner Air Week will be observed in the United States and Canada from October 21 to 27.

The observance was originally inaugurated to focus attention upon the need for control of air pollution from all sources, including smoke, soot, fly-ash, noxious fumes and gases, and to serve as a starting point for year-round smoke abatement and air pollution control activity by public officials, schools, industry, railroads, apartment houses, homes and civic institutions.

Governors of most states, and mayors of hundreds of cities will proclaim the week officially in their jurisdictions, as they did last year. City air pollution control officers will cooperate with their local newspapers and radio stations by outlining their activities during the year, so that the communities will MAIN know what is being done to minimize air pollution. FEATURE

Chambers of commerce and civic organizations will support the project in their communities. They will help place Cleaner Air Week posters in store windows, railroad yards, industrial plants, schools, libraries, office buildings, fire-houses, and on billboards.

Although this promotion week is of greater benefit to larger communities with numerous factories, many home towns of the nation can take advantage of it to eliminate their minor problems of air pollution. Here is a promotion week that could bring about better living in the home towns of America.

Farm Scrap Harvest Set For Aug. 15-Nov. 15

Farmers across the nation are being asked to join in the drive to col-lect scrap iron and steel recently announced by the National Production authority. The most concerted effort in this drive will be during the period, October 15-November 15.

Sponsors of the drive realize that one of the sources of scrap steel and iron is on farms and the U.S. Agriculture department has been asked to cooperate in the drive. The campaign calls for collection of only scrap machinery or equipment which can not be reconditioned for further use. Farmers are being urged to repair and conserve all machinery which they can continue to operate as this will cut down on the demand for new metal machin-

Emphasizing the need for scrap steel and iron, the Department of Agriculture points out: "Just as steel is the principal material in the production of such munitions as planes, tanks and ships, scrap is one of the principal ingredients in making steel. Steel is made from approximately one-half scrap and one-half pig iron. Scrap adds to the quality of steel, helps to keep production costs down, and shortens the refining process. For every ton of scrap used, we conserve approximately two tons of iron ore, one ton of coal, near-ly one ton of limestone and other materials."

Agriculture department officials suggest that in addition to providing a source of additional income the scrap iron and steel drive should have the cooperation of farmers because an adequate flow of iron and steel scrap to the steel industry will help to assure raw materials for the farm machinery and equipment industry necessary if they are to keep farmers supplied with vital new machinery.

"Collecting scrap around the farm is a clean-up job which makes for neatness and efficient working conditions," Agriculture department of-ficials explain. "Keeping scrap picked up and out of the way of farm workers and livestock is also National Apple Week will find a a safety measure. For example, number of tempting recipes for ussmall pieces of metal, such as baling ing apples in pies and pastries.

wire, may get into hay and other forage crops and thus endanger animals that eat such food."

Because there are not enough scrap dealers in the small towns of the country to handle the great flow of scrap iron and steel that is expected from the nation's farms, many local farm equipment dealers are cooperating in the harvesting. It is not too late for dealers in home towns to organize a campaign that will mean extra money for the farmers of the area and also be a patriotic effort in the nation's defense program.

The Farm Scrap Harvest is a patriotic campaign. It offers an opportunity for people at the home town level to make an important contribution to the nation's defense

Community Chest Has Double Job This Year

President Truman opened the fall Community Chest drive with an appeal for generous contributions and a reminder that "neighbors should always help each other.'

The campaign, which will be conducted in hundreds of home towns during coming weeks, will attempt to raise approximately $250,-

The President in his broadcast from the White House said that the will be a double job because the United Defense Fund is tied in with the chest campaign.

United Defense Fund was formed in November, 1950, to raise funds for services to the armed forces through USO and other organizations; to aid defense-impacted communities through united defense services; process collected by American relief in Over-all goal of the UDF is $18,-624,854. Of this amount, $16,511,854 is being sought through chests and the remainder will be raised in New York city and other non-chest areas. Bulk of the UDF funds—$13,-658,207—will go to USO.

Community Chest is a worthwhile activity in which the people of the home towns should participate. It is the sure way for the community to provide funds for its welfare service in one concentrated campaign.

National Apple Week Promotes Fall Harvest

It doesn't take special promotion weeks and proclamations to tell the home-towners of the nation it is apple harvest time. The fact is evident on the farms and in the orchards of the nation. Baskets of apples line the sidewalk in front of hundreds of stores in the home towns across the country.

During National Apple Week the fruit is in greater supply than possibly any other time during the year. As a result, the price is lower than at any other time. Here is the opportunity for the housewife to buy her winter supply at a savings.

For the average small towner the apple probably stirs more memories than any other fruit. Remember: the apple for teacher, mother's apple pie, sugary baked apples fresh from the oven, the apples 'swiped" from a dark orchard, green ones that gave us a pain in our middle, a candied apple on a stick offered to a little girl whose pigtails we used to pull, fresh and rosy apples on the breakfast table because "an apple a day keeps the doctor away."

Meat and Hide Losses

Not less than 12 million pounds of the most valuable part of the beef carcass are trimmed out around grub holes from cattle slaughtered in the U. S., according to livestock specialists. The trimming detracts from the carcass' appearance, resulting in a lower price per pound. It has also been estimated that grubs cause $20 million damage to hides each year, enough make a million shoes.

200-240 Pound Hogs Will Bring the Best Price

According to livestock specialists, both underfinished and overfinished hogs are likely to sell at largerthan-usual discounts this fall. The 1951 pig crop of about 105 million head is the second largest on record, and there no longer is the strong world demand for fats and oils of a year ago. So there will be more fats available and possibly a weaker lard market.

As a result this will mean more price differential for type in live hogs. Hogs that are too heavy or too fat will probably have to take a larger discount than last year. Specialists believe farmers should feed out hogs now under 180 pounds. Discounts on lightweights are such that farmers can hardly afford not to feed them out. With so many hogs starting to market, packers can be rather choosey about the type of hog for which they pay top prices. Both un-derfinished and overfinished animals will sell at a disadvantage. Try to sell as many as possible be tween 200 and 240 pounds.

Filling Up

Restored pens of the Kansas City stockyards begin to fill up as cattle flow in again after the great flood. More than 20 feet of flood water covered this area. The job of rehabilitation has been hailed as an outstanding feat by livestock men throughout the midwest.

The greatest of all political boss es is prejudice.
