Electric Company Operates In National Defense

The Texas Electric Service operating with the federal government in plans for national defense is shown by charts appearing in an advertisement by the company in the back page of this issue. Persons interested in the national defense needs should study the charts and learn the part that the electric companies are playing in this country safe from progressive nations or persons who hinder the government from raising prices.

MARRIAGE OF CLODELL DOVELL and LEON COOK ANNOUNCED SATURDAY

Miss Clodell Dovell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Dovell, and Leon Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cook, were married in Big Spring on January 3, so it has been announced.

Both are popular members of the younger set here and in school activities.

Accompanying them to Big Spring were friends Wanda Childress, Dorothy Miles, Everett Cook and Clifton Buchanan.

MR. CATHEY VERY ILL

The condition of "uncle" Ras Cathey was unchanged today.

He has been ill for several weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Waldo McLaurin.

Ralph Beach is in Mineral Wells where he is employed at the new Army Camp.

Mrs. Harvie Jordan is ill at her home with an attack of "flu".

Many New Cases Of "Flu" Are Reported Here

While flu is the principal cause of most sickness now in this section, the dreaded pneumonia has also made its appearance in many cases.

Fully 80 per cent of the population here has been ill in the past month, so an unofficial check reveals, and the peak has not been passed.

Schools here continue to witness a huge drop in attendance.

Baptists Will Meet In Tahoka

TAHOKA, Texas, Jan. 9. (Spl.)—An association-wide meeting of more than ordinary importance is to be held here by Baptists of the Brownfield Association next Thursday, according to announcement made by Rev. Geo. A. Dale and other Baptist workers.

As a part of a state-wide movement in which 30,000 Baptists are expected to attend the 110 association meetings which have been planned, Rev. L. L. Trotter and four other state workers will appear on the program here.

This team of workers is one of twenty-two such teams covering the 110 Associations in the state January 13-17 inclusive. It is composed of Rev. Mr. Trotter of Rotan, the team leader, Rev. J. M. Sibley of Sweetwater, Miss Clara May of Wilton, Mrs. Archie Hinnant of Abilene, and Miss Fannie G. Hurt of Seminary Hill, Fort Worth.

The meeting, opening at 10 A. M., will embrace the usual program of the Workers Conference including the Quarterly Board meetings of the Brotherhood and the W. M. U., inspirational addresses, and reports. The Tahoka Church will be host for the noon meal.

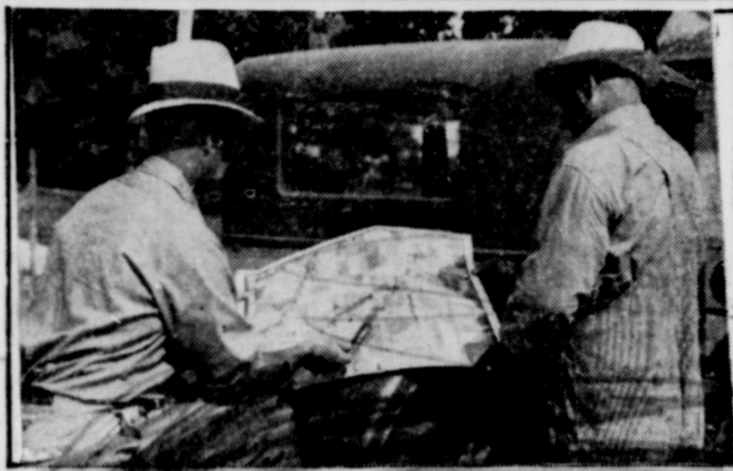

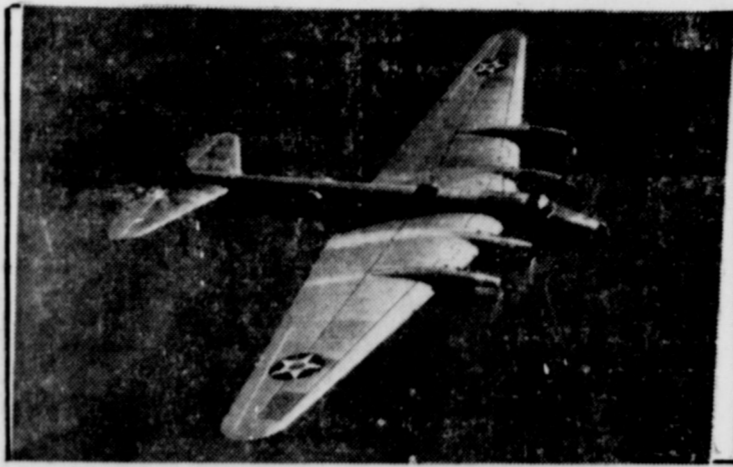

The afternoon session beginning at two o'clock and the night session beginning at seven o'clock will each be devoted to Training Union emphasis directed by these five workers.

"Shack" Blocker, local grocery man has been confined to his home several days with an infection on his jaw.

Two Varieties of Air Defense

America relies on airplanes for national defense and soil defense. Heavily armed planes such as the giant four-motored "flying fortress" at top help provide national defense. Planes armed only with cameras help provide soil defense. The two farmers in lower picture are inspecting a typical aerial photo map, taken from an elevation of nearly three miles and used in administering the AAA Farm Program's conservation work. Similar aerial pictures are available showing more than two million square miles of U. S. land area.

Mother Charged In Death of Own Baby Monday

Murder charges alleging that she had killed her own three months old child were filed against Mrs. Joe Porter of the New Home community Monday before Justice Jim Dye, prec. 1.

Preliminary hearing was waived and the case was bound over to await action of the Grand Jury which convenes February 3, so officers say. Bail was set at $3,000.

No statements were made for publication by officers regarding their findings except that Mrs. Porter is alleged to have said that she had not hurt the baby in any way.

Mrs. Porter, so the same sources declared, ran from her home Saturday morning to where her husband was working in a field and told him that the baby was ill. He, in turn, rushed it to a hospital in Lubbock, and attending physicians said that the baby had been poisoned with Lysol. Authorities were later notified and charges filed.

Burial was made under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home, Tahoka.

Publisher Ill, O'Donnell Index Not Printed

Mrs. Pauline Campbell, publisher of the Index, is ill at her home and was unable to print her newspaper this week, so relatives say. She suffered from flu last week, and came to work Monday, but had a relapse Tuesday night.

Mrs. Campbell expects to be ready for publication next week, however.

Due to lateness of her of her illness toward press day, and the fact that the Press has no equipment in town, either, we were unable to be of any help in order that Mrs. Campbell might not miss publication. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

A young man was asked whether he wanted to try for a commission in the army.

"I don't shoot very well," he answered. "I think I had better go in on a straight salary basis."

She was trying to work her way through college selling subscriptions to the Saturday Evening Post, but all of the fellows wanted to take the Liberties.

Married Men's Status In Draft Is Explained

"Numerous inquiries from Local Boards throughout Texas have reached this office," Capt. Fred Upchurch, Judge Advocate General's Department, Legal Division, Texas Selective Service System, Austin, states, "concerning the classification of married men and especially bridegrooms whose undying love did not lead them to the matrimonial altar until about the time they began receiving questionnaires, and, in many instances, after they received formal notice that they had been placed in Class 1-A. Some young men even waited until they had been classified and received notice to appear for induction before that peculiar feeling fully manifested itself.

"Some Board members, from their inquiries, seem to have the impression that all married men should automatically be placed in Class III-A. This is neither the letter nor the spirit of the Selective Service Law and the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

"On September 16, 1940, at 3:08 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, which was the moment the Selective Service Law was approved, and most certainly on October 16, 1940 (Registration Day) every male person between the ages of 21 and 35 who was subject to registration, had actual notice of his obligation to render military service to his country. The purpose of the Selective Service Law was not to suspend the institution of marriage among registrants, but most certainly the Local Boards, clothed with such broad direction and wide latitude in such matters, have the right to scrutinize marriages since those dates, and especially those hastily effected about the time the registrants began receiving their questionnaires and notice of classification, to determine whether the marriage relation was entered into with the primary view of evading military service.

"Of course, in deciding whether a married man, and especially one of these '11th hour' bridegrooms, should be placed in Class I-A, or be deferred because of his marital status, you should keep in mind all of the Selective Service Regulations heretofore furnished you and with which I am sure you are familiar, but bear in mind that after all is said and done, you—the various Board members—are the ones, and only ones, who can say whether a certain individual registrant should serve his country now or be deferred. Naturally no classification is permanent or perpetual. When a change in status of a registrant is brought to the attention of the Local Board, whether it be by a marriage, birth, death, accident or what not, his classification should be reviewed but it does not necessarily follow that it should be changed. It is needless to reiterate that no harsh rules should be adopted, but that every case should stand upon its own bottom and be decided fairly and squarely so that the Government as well as the registrant shall receive a fair deal. When the Local Boards have thus acted, the Selective Service Law would indeed be shorn of all its vigor and efficacy were it to be assumed that the appellate boards and courts would undertake to upset the classification made by such Boards in cases where it did not appear that they had grossly abused the broad powers conferred upon them.

"It is true that in the beginning of the enforcement of this Act, the induction stations refused to accept married men, and that fact is perhaps largely responsible for the impression gained by so many Board members. It may not be amiss to reiterate just here that all induction stations have now been instructed to accept for induction, providing they are physically fit, all inductees, married or single, sent to them by Local Boards without raising any question as to their marital or dependency status as determined by the Local Boards, because after all with but few exceptions, they are both the 'judge and jury' as to whether a registrant should be answerable to the call of his country."

Census Figures For Major Cities

Final population for all cities in the United States having 100,000 inhabitants or more were released by the Bureau of the Census a few days ago. There are 92 such cities in the United States.

Of these 92, only four are situated in Texas, these being Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, and Fort Worth. Fifteen others are situated in the South, and three, Baltimore, St. Louis, and Louisville, are situated on the borderland between the North and the South.

There are still just five cities in the United States with over one million population, the same five that had more than a million in 1930. These are: New York with a population of 7,454,995 in 1940 against 6,930,446 in 1930; Chicago, 3,396,808 in 1940, 3,376,438 in 1930; Philadelphia, 1,931,334 in 1940 against 1,950,961 in 1930; Detroit, 1,623,452 in 1940 against 1,568,662 in 1930; Los Angeles, 1,504,277 in 1940 against 1,238,048 in 1930.

It will be seen from the above figures that Philadelphia actually lost more than 19,000 in population in the decade while Chicago gained only a measly 20,000. New York made a gain of more than a half million or more than 7 1-2 per cent. Los Angeles made the largest percentage gain, 21 1-2 per cent. Detroit's gain was only 3 1-2 per cent.

Cities in the South having more than 100,000 population in 1940 together with the figures for 1930 are given below. We include Baltimore, St. Louis, and Louisville, though, strictly speaking, they are not Southern cities.

County Health Unit Reports Successful Year of Work

Health Unit wishes to take opportunity to express its appreciation for the cooperation of the people of Lynn county in the past year. We are here to make progress and come in contact with many different people as many different people as last year. As you all know the progress of health is purely an individual one and if we can give a knowledge of how to live a healthy life and how to prevent contagious diseases, then like we have done our bit.

The importance of immunizations have been stressed to everyone and it is possible for those unable to pay a private physician to be immunized in our office. There have been ninety-five immunized for Smallpox, seven hundred fifty-four for Typhoid fever and sixty for Diphtheria.

Veneral Disease Control
There have been two admissions to the medical service, one visit in the home and six treatments have been given these cases. Lectures, talks, and films have been given throughout the county.

Tuberculosis Control
There have been four admissions to service and four home visits were made.

Maternity Control
There have been one hundred fifty-six admissions to service, and three hundred and seventy eight home visits were made. It has been pointed out to the mother the importance of medical supervision for herself and child. Instructions were given in hygiene and infant care. Public lectures and talks have been made.

Infant And Preschool Service
There have been one hundred ninety-two admissions to service, and four hundred eighty-four home visits have been made. In the infants program diet, medical supervision, and training have been stressed. In the preschool child immunizations and correction of any defects were urged. The importance of correction before starting school was stressed.

One hundred thirteen were examined by Dr. Brumage and the nurse.

School Hygiene
Two hundred ninety eight children have been examined by physician and nurse. Eighteen admitted to nursing service and thirty home visits have been made. 2,940 dental inspections were made by the local dentists. Many have had corrections made since then.

Lectures, talks, films and a dental show have been presented to the schools. 1865 children attended this show.

The primary aim is to secure the maximum health for every school child through his own intelligent cooperation and that of all others who control his environment. All activities of the school health program are educational in character and the responsibility rests in the teacher to carry out an effective program. Literature has been distributed among the teachers in order that they might learn and recognize the early symptoms of the communicable diseases and thereby prevent the spread in school. Physical inspections were made of pupils to discover physical defects and to acquaint the parent of this defect.

The hot lunch program has been urged in all the rural schools. A number of small schools have been serving hot lunches for some time now and so far has worked very satisfactorily. Parents are very enthused over this program. This program is being made possible through a WPA project and the surplus commodity act, and every school is eligible.

The importance of hand washing equipment in the school has been stressed.

Cripple Children Service
There have been seven admitted to service and fourteen home visits have been made. Stressed placed on early correction and treatment and several have already received state aid.

Morbidity Service
Admissions to service six, with fifteen home visits. The morbidity services include all cases that cannot be classed as communicable.

General Sanitation
Lectures and talks were made on sanitation. Educational work in sanitation has consisted of the following:

1. Showing the need for safe water supply, both public and private.
2. Teaching proper handling of milk.

3. Instruction in danger of disease transmission by flies.
4. Showing need for proper disposal of human waste. (A) Sanitary inspection of all school buildings by the sanitarian, also a complete sanitary inspection of all tourist camps and eating establishments have been made by him. Inspection has been made of all dairies in the county in an effort to improve the quality of raw milk sold to the customers. (B) Sanitary Engineering Service. The Sanitary engineer has consulted with the city officials in Tahoka and O'Donnell relative to improvements in water and sewage facilities in the county.

"Just A Cold" May Be Prelude To The Whooping Cough

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 9.—Careful isolation of a child ill with whooping cough is a measure that pays health dividends, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

There is no other communicable disease so dangerous as whooping cough to the very young, and there is no other infection to which there is a more universal susceptibility in infancy and childhood. Over 90 percent of all deaths from whooping cough occur in children under five years of age. Whooping cough is dangerous, moreover, because there is no natural immunity against it during the first six months of life as there is measles.

Whooping cough is usually transmitted by direct contact with the secretion of the mouth or with articles freshly soiled with the secretion. Only a short exposure is required to contract the infection. The communicable stage extends from seven days to three weeks after exposure until development of the characteristic whoop.

Among precautionary measures to be considered by parents as protection of their children against whooping cough are the following:

1. A child with what appears to be an ordinary cold should be kept away from others and a physician consulted to determine the true nature of illness.
2. Whooping cough vaccine of the approved type is of value in preventing or lessening the severity of the disease. The vaccine is usually administered during the first year of infancy.
3. If whooping cough develops in a community, young children should be kept at home to escape exposure. Isolation plays a hardship on a child in that it keeps him from seeing relatives and playmates. On the other hand, isolation exerts a two-way, salutary influence on public and individual health. First, isolation of the patient helps to prevent the spread of whooping cough to others who are susceptible. Second, and this is of immediate importance to parents, isolation protects the sick child against possible exposure to severe infection which may be carried by otherwise healthy persons.

Lyntegar Is Now Servicing Oil Field

TAHOKA, Texas, Jan. 9. (Spl.)—Garland Pennington, manager of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, says that the demand for light connections in the new oil town of Sundown about fifteen miles southwest of Levelland in Hockley county is so great that the Cooperative finds it very difficult to make the connections as rapidly as they are being called for. Already it has about 150 connections in the town. This week the Cooperative was given permission to build a three-phase service into the town in order to properly serve the patrons.

The town of Sundown is building rapidly and substantially. It already has an estimated population of 1,200, and there are said to be 600 pupils enrolled in the schools there.

The territory has many producers and other wells are being started almost every day, it is said.

Boss: Now, what do you want? I thought I fired you two weeks ago.
Ex-Office Boy: Oh, I just came back to see if you were still in business.

Golden Gloves Entries Received

TAHOKA, Texas, Jan. 9. (Spl.)—Eager response has been given to the announcement of the annual Golden Gloves Tournament, to be held January 23 and 24 at Tahoka. Among the first to enter was Tech McLaurin, 1940 State T. A. A. F. champion; also Jimmy Thomas, who made notable progress in football last season, from Post.

Boys from Wilson, Post, O'Donnell, Draw, and T-Bar indicated they expect to enter.

Approximately 15 Tahoka High School boys are working out for the coming tournament. Pete Jolly, welterweight, and Raymond Knight, heavy weight, both of Tahoka, appear to have promising possibilities.

Next Friday night, January 17, boys from Tahoka and O'Donnell will contest the Littlefield C. C. Camp. At least 15 bouts have been arranged for this dual meet.

MORBUS SABBATICUS

Morbus Sabbaticus, or Sunday sickness is a disease peculiar to men who are husbands of women who are good church members. The symptoms vary but these are characteristic.

1. It never interferes with the appetite.
 2. It never lasts more than twenty-four hours.
 3. No physician is ever called.
 4. It always proves fatal in the end—to the soul.
 5. It is fearfully prevalent and is destroying thousands every year.
- It comes on every Sunday, no symptoms are felt Saturday night; the patient sleeps well and wakes feeling well; eats a hearty breakfast, but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over for the morning.

In the afternoon he feels much better, is able to take a walk and read the Sunday papers; he eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack and wakes up Monday and able to go to work, but not have any symptoms until the following Friday.

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY IS READY TO DO ITS PART IN THE NATION'S DEFENSE

Look at the maps below. Until 1908 electric power transmission lines, as we know them today, practically didn't exist. Even when we entered the World War, they were few and far between. But see how they grew, through 1928 on up to 1940. Today the nation is criss-crossed with service facilities, reaching from great cities into towns, villages, even to ranches and farms... everywhere except on tops of mountains and in the great American desert. Today we are prepared... fortified with a combination of electric service systems, unmatched in all the world. This "Preparedness" program has been building for 40 years. Electric Power's defense is "Ready."

In 100 West Texas communities, in the big oil fields of West Texas, Texas Electric Service Company is the servant of the local community... an important part of national defense. Oil wells and pipe lines are powered; cities are lighted; industry's machines are driven. Power is constant, unfailing. The power transmission line system of Texas Electric Service Company and other inter-connected power transmission line systems in Texas exceed in number of miles the entire British "Power Grid." Texas' systems, combined with others of the nation, form a national "Network" no emergency could break down.
