Bride-Elect Feted With Shower At McGowen Home

Of outstanding interest on this week's social calendar was a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday night, August 22, to compliment Miss Bonnie Belle James, bride-to-be of A. L. Osborn, given on the lawn of the J. H. McGowen home by Mrs. W. O. Wylie, Jr., Miss Dorothy Mae Scott and Miss Katie Lou Moore.

Just after they entered the lawn under a gay-colored arch sixty-five guests signed in the Bride's Book presided over by Miss Scott.

The lawn made an attractive setting with wedding bells, gay-colored balloons, and a clever lighted effect for the appropriate program given during the early part of the evening.

Miss James, seated in the center of a semicircle formed around the improvised stage was entertained with the following program: A duet—"Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by Lois Bell and Ellen Louise Nunnally; A reading by Mary Lillian Harville; Melody of songs by Olaf Hollingshead accompanied by Dorothy Boydston; A pageant of the life of Bonnie Belle James read by Miss Scott, music by Mrs. Wylie, enacted by Martha Works, Wyoma King, Bobby Griggs, Shelby Jones, Jewell Grimes, Ruth Ray, Christine Settle, Judson Atchison and Maxine Williams; and an appropriate song by Mrs. H. H. Shaw.

The guest's gifts which were attractively presented to the honoree at the conclusion of the program were found by her in an old well, which had been cleverly improvised.

After the gifts had been passed around for each one to see, a delicious punch cup and cakes were served to the guests on the porch.

Shot Is Fatal To Oran Briggs

Oran Briggs, 32, former sheriff of Shackelford county, and son of the late Marshall Briggs, one of the most colorful peace officers West Texas has produced, was found dead at an oil company plant near Kilgore early Wednesday morning, death having resulted from a self-inflicted wound shortly after the deceased had left a hospital where he had been a patient.

The body was carried back to Albany, the home of young Briggs' mother, where burial will be made by the side of his father who died ten years ago. Three years after his father's death Oran Briggs, then only 22 years old was elected to succeed his father. He was the youngest Texas sheriff at that time.

Mr. Briggs was a special ranger and investigator for the Houston Oil company stationed at Gladewater. He was formerly jailor at Longview.

Saturday, Aug. 26th. Is Election Day

The election will be held in the basement at the Court House.

Mr. W. E. Melton has been appointed as presiding officer. He will be assisted by Messrs. A. R. Kelton, John Asbury, Clyde White and C. C. Andrews as judges and a corps of clerks.

Mr. Melton informs us that for the convenience of any elderly person invalids or cripples who would find difficulty in going down the steps to the basement; if they will drive their car upon the drive way just north of the court house, a judge and a clerk will go out and take their ballot, which they find upon investigation is perfectly legal under the circumstances.

The voters participating in this election, will be presented with three tickets and all are easy to vote, if given a little thought.

The large ticket, which is about six inches wide and about twenty inches long, carries the issue of the repeal of the 18th amendment, only.

The next largest ticket has to do with the state election as to the four amendments.

The third ticket is small and deals with the county local option election only.

Remember—The long ticket represents the United States, and you vote on a Federal proposition; the second has to do with the amendments to the state constitution and the third has to do with the county election only.

LOCAL N R A ORGANIZATION TO RUSH PROGRAM IN BAIRD

Crop Production Loans Must Be Paid From Cotton Plow-Up Check

West Texas farmers and producers who are indebted for crop production loans or who are otherwise obligated to the government must first pay those sums before they can receive cash for the cotton they plowed up under the acreage reduction plan, according to orders received by H. L. Johnston, crop production loan field supervisor for this district.

Mr. Johnston conferred with Owen W. Sherrill, who is in charge of the loan work in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, at Stanford Sunday. Sherrill has just returned from Washington where he received the order he passed on.

Checks for those owing crop production loans are being made out to the producer and the Farm Credit Administration. This means the check must be endorsed by the field supervisor—Ross B. Jenkins in this district—before they are cashed.

In several instances farmer's failed to put on their cotton acreage contracts the fact they owed the government for crop production loans, thus putting themselves liable to serious charges. If this was overlooked farmers who owe the government may still change their contracts by conferring with Mr. Jenkins, county agent. A close check is being made of all cotton contracts to find those who failed to list the government loan.

If cotton has been put up as collateral an 1932 loan or those prior to that, the cotton must be sold at once, or the amount of the loan will be deducted from the cotton acreage check.

The journey back to business activity and peace of mind is under way. Nothing is more vital to all of us than its successful completion.

An active campaign to insure full cooperation with President Roosevelt's N R A program in Baird, was begun at a meeting held in the Commissioner's Court room Wednesday afternoon when business and professional representatives of the city met and organized for this work.

Judge B. L. Russell presided at the meeting. Mayor H. Schwartz, M. J. Holmes, and others addressed the meeting.

The following committee was appointed to conduct this campaign:

Ace Hickman, chairman,
J. Rupert Jackson
S. E. Settle
Mrs. W. L. Ray
Mrs. Haynie Gilliland.

Yesterday afternoon at the invitation of the local committee, Judge T. N. Carswell, of Abilene, addressed a large crowd of our citizens in the district court room, where practically every business in Baird was represented.

The purpose of this campaign is to promote cooperation of our people with the N R A program.

An intensive campaign to make a success of the recovery act in Baird will begin when, and if it becomes necessary, Voluntary and unsolicited cooperation by local business men and the consumers may make such a campaign unnecessary in Baird; for our people are heartily behind this program and are trying in every way to do their part.

U. S. To Begin Buying Texas Hogs Monday

The United States Government will begin buying Texas hogs Monday, continuing the government emergency hog program, begun Wednesday in the northern markets. The purpose of this program is buy $4,000,000 hogs, employing meat packers to process them and distribute the meat to the needy this winter.

The plan should increase prices of swine, possibly 25 to 20 per cent, he asserted and at the same time provide relief to farmers heavily stocked with swine but with short feed supplies due to drought.

To Buy Pigs

The program calls for purchase of 4,000,000 pigs weighing 25 to 100 pounds at from 6 to 9 1-2 cents a pound, and 1,000,000 sows soon to farrow, weighing a minimum of 275 pounds, at market prices on the day marketed plus a bonus of $4. The purchases are to be complete by about October 1.

Wallace estimated the cost of the program at up to $55,000,000 to be met by a processing tax on hogs which will go into effect after September 30. The tax rate and effective date will be fixed later, he said, estimating that the levy, paid by those who turn the swine into marketable pork, will be "considerably less than a cent a pound."

Wallace said the plan originated with hog farmers and their representatives to meet the emergency facing producers as a result of this year's short feed crop.

N A R Program

We hear some unfavorable criticism, usually of an involved nature, of the fact that the consumer must pay the bill for the degree of re-employment that will produce industrial recovery. Occasionally a critic, who perhaps has not become adjusted to very materially changed conditions in our country, will leave the impression that this obvious fact constitutes some sort of unjust discrimination against a particular class of citizens.

Let us consider a moment: Just as many industrialists have come to a realization during the past few weeks that the workers they laid off cannot continue as their customers and that they in fact had been their customers; so also the man from whom we buy food-stuffs, furniture, automobiles, radios, clothing, and anything else of the innumerable products we sorely need to buy, is also a consumer. He likewise must buy his supplies from others. The manufacture is not only a consumer of raw materials in his plant, but he is a consumer of all that all of us consume away from his plant.

So a little deduction brings us to the realization that when we say the consumer must pay the bill we actually mean that every American citizen and resident of American territory must carry his share of the increased costs incident to reemployment and business and industrial recovery.

Certainly no class is discriminated against. All are in the same boat.

Texas Senators Indorse Relief Bond Issue

The undersigned Senators of Texas have made a careful survey of the conditions existing in our State and have reached the conclusion that it is advisable to adopt the resolution amending the constitution so as to authorize the issuance of bonds to provide funds with which to relieve unemployment, destitution, poverty and want throughout Texas. This conclusion seems necessary for the following reasons:

1. Community chests are wholly inadequate to meet the increasing demands for relief—
2. Cities, counties and municipalities find it impossible to provide adequate employment and relief funds.
3. The State under the existing constitution is powerless to appropriate money to care for the needs of the destitute.
4. The Federal Government through its authorized agencies has stated with emphasis that further relief funds will be withheld from Texas after September unless Texas makes a substantial contribution to partially match Federal funds.

The constitution belongs to the people and only the people themselves can amend it.

If the bond issue fails, no money for relief purposes can be appropriated out of the state treasury and the legislature will be powerless to again submit this question to the people before 1935. If the people see fit to adopt the amendment, we as members of the Senators of Texas solemnly pledge

1. To do all in our power to pass legislation to properly safeguard the expenditure of relief funds by competent and trustworthy agencies of government.
2. To restrict the expenditure of funds so far as possible to the payment for labor exerted and well planned projects that will be of lasting benefit to the State.
3. To the utmost limit of our skill and ability we pledge that no legislation will be enacted that will encourage a dole system in Texas.
4. Able bodies Texas citizens will be provided with useful employment. The rural sections of Texas need lateral roads; the cities and towns need street improvements; many other enterprises can assimilate a large amount of labor for beneficial purposes. Many state institutions are badly in need of repair and renovation, for which Texas labor will be employed if funds are provided.
5. These funds will by law be equiitably distributed over the State, and we pledge that every county in so far as in our power to provide will receive its just portion.

6. No single industry, or special group will be called upon to provide the funds necessary to retire the bonds, and no one form of taxation will be resorted to, but the taxes will be distributed evenly over the state, it being distinctly understood that no direct or ad valorem tax will or can be resorted to.

We would not attempt to tell any individual how he should vote on this important matter, but we make this statement solely for the purpose of giving the public the benefit of our interpretation of the issue and our conception of our duty in event the constitutional amendment is adopted.

A Trophy To A Good Man

For some days I have been on a quandary just what to do, I have had an impression to write an article for The Star, but just what to write has been the question. At this time there is a strong inclination to say a word about prohibition and rather strongly is that tug for I certainly am opposed to the repeal measure before us.

I have thought about writing on the 'Signs of the Times' and I think that a good subject for surely there is a moving among the Mulberry Trees' but rather than do either I have chosen rather to lay a worthy bouquet at the feet of a man whom I have tried and have found to be truly worthy of all I am saying about him. Nor is he the only man in BaIRD and my congregation that I have found worthy of praise they are many but I select this one brother, because some how I have been rather peculiarly impressed to do so.

I saw him yesterday as he was leaving and I know that he was off on some trip for the betterment of his own and his friends and community. I am speaking of Judge E. L. Russell. I have tried him for these nearly eight years and it is easy for me to say that he has been as faithful and dependable as any man I have ever worked with, all the time he has been one of the board of deacons; most of the time a teacher in the Sunday School, a good deal of the time superintendent of the Sunday School and all the time a faithful, sympathetic helper in the work.

Outside of the church work Judge Russell is just as truly helpful for there is no worthy public enterprise but that he is right at the far front fighting for it. I dare say: He has given more free legal advice and helped more people out of legal difficulties without a cents pay than almost any other man in the whole country wide.

As far as I have been able to discern, and that is pretty far, he has always been on the right side of every question, has stood for the right men and measures; has always befriended every one who came to him if worthy or unworthy; has made many friends and some enemies all along, but has made the lasting impression upon every one that his was a worthy ideal and that he was striving to live up to it; and that is true, for he is a sincere christian gentleman; a real statesman and not a scheming politician.

I am sure the Judge will be somewhat surprised when he reads this, for no immediate thing he has done has provoked me to write these lines, but the appreciation I have for his faithful consistent life, May his kind be multiplied among us is what I crave.

JOE R. MAYES.

"Tree Army" Boy Writes Home

August 15, 1933,
Company B, 856 CCC,
Amarillo, Texas.

Miss Eliza Gilliland:
Dear Editor of The BaIRD Star,
Will send in a few facts about my camp life in the CCC. We are located 12 miles south of Amarillo in the Paladura Canyon, better known as the Paladura Park.

I am the only boy from Callahan in this company. It was awful lonesome at first, being thrown in among strangers; but I soon got over that, for I have met some awful nice boys and we have grand times together. I will give you an idea of how our camp is equipped.

We have a mess hall large enough to take care of 200 men, all being able to sit down at the table just like at home.

We have floors in our tents and each tent has a clothes closet. We have electric lights, a laundry, tailor shop and barber shop. We have a large bath house with hot and cold showers. We have a recreation hall where we can go in and listen to the radio, read, write or play dominoes.

We have all kinds of athletic equipment such as base ball, basket ball, volley ball, boxing gloves, and foot ball. We are getting up a foot ball team. Sure ought to have a good one, we have lots of ex-foot ball players in our company.

All the boys that didn't get to join the 'tree army' miss a good thing for it is great to be a 'tree soldier'. We don't have to work hard and they sure do feed us. We have a swimming pool right close to camp. Lots of people come out from town to go swimming. We have church every Sunday morning, a minister comes out from Amarillo.

We have two trucks to carry us to town five nights a week. We can go to any theatre in town for fifteen cents.

The Athletic club gives us a free dance every Thursday night. All of the people of Amarillo treat us real nice.

We had general inspection a few days back and our camp took first place in being the most complete and convenient camp in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona and New Mexico. The mayor gave us a smoker in appreciation.

We have a major, captain, lieutenant and two sergeants over us in camp and are under state men during the day. We just work six hours a day, five days a week. Our job here is building a state park. We are building roads and clearing up the trees and treating them.

I am working with the dynamite gang; we sure have blown things up in the past few weeks. Have been lucky so far; there has not been a man hurt in anyway. I like it here fine until a sand storm hits then I try to find a hiding place. We have had a few strong winds, blowed some of our tents down; but outside of that things have been running pretty smoothly.

It is undecided right now whether they will make this a winter quarters or send us south. It doesn't make any difference with me, just so they don't send me back to Fort Sill. They kept me there 54 days and I don't care to go back.

I wish to express my appreciations to Judge J. H. Carpenter and others that selected me for one of the CCC Workers.

I will close hoping this finds every one prospering in dear old Callahan.

Federal Government Relief Work

In many counties in Texas the Federal government is now spending more money every month for relief work than those counties would have to pay back in a year in paying off the relief bonds, according to William Strauss, chairman of the committee campaigning for adoption of the proposed relief bond amendment.

"It is primarily a matter of bread and meat for the hungry, said Mr. Strauss. 'It is unthinkable that Texas will let its women and children go hungry. But some people may want to know what Texas will get for authorizing a bond issue that may go up to $20,000,000 if the legislature finds that much is needed.

"In the first place, there is hardly a county in Texas that can care for its own destitute through local taxation. If they could the burden of taxes would fall on homes and farms and be tremendously heavy. By issuing state bonds the burden is taken off homes and farms, for the taxes to fund these bonds cannot be raised on real or personal property. If all the bonds are issued the tax per capita will not average over 41 cents a year for 10 years. Actually it probably will be some special tax that will fall heavier on city people and be lighter than that on rural citizens.

"In Callahan County the Federal government in the past ten months has spent for relief work $26,209. The county has asked for $4,500 to carry on the work during August for the benefit of 3724 persons on its relief rolls."

In Memory Of Lurline Hawk

There are so many things we can not understand and among them is the death angle came and took our darling girl Home. Our hearts or so sad; our home so lonely.

But she has gone on before to await our coming and oh how sweet 't will be to meet her in that home where sorrow never comes.

It is so hard to give up our loved ones, yet they are not ours, but God's. He only gave us them to love and we should remember that God is good; No matter how we are made to suffer I feel like sorrow is sent on us to try our faith and I know her life was not taken in vain, but oh how we miss her dear sweet smiling face. She was only spared a short time after they moved back from the Plains, but oh how sweet those visits were; but I know you are with that dear sister and other loved ones gone on before, and Mama is so sad and lonely with out you.

May God's richest blessings rest on the husband and the dear little motherless children.

Broken Hearted Mother.

Farm, Livestock And Poultry Hints

By Ross B. Jenkins, County Agent

Last week we gave some of the reasons why we can not expect to raise both turkeys and chickens on the same ground. To continue the turkey discussion at this time is still in line as evidence by the questions still being raised with us by the various turkey raisers.

For the past several years the turkey area has been steadily advancing west because of the worm and diseases that cause that needed change of grounds.

So many people want a positive remedy for Blackhead that its importance is great. There has been many laboratory tests made of this trouble, none has been found that will work on repeat trials. The infection seems to live for long periods on the range and in the poultry yards and may break out at any time the condition become right. The cecum or pin worm is the opener for the diseases, and these are always present in chickens. They attack the walls of the cecum and in this injured tissue the organism causing so-called blackhead does its deadly work. Sooner or later the man who runs turkeys with chickens will be forced out by this little worm. When turkeys are kept separate from chickens and free from cecum worms, there is little danger from the disease. It is the raising of turkeys with chickens year by year that drives the turkeys furthes west each year. But the Pacific has about been reach so new measures must be adopted rather soon.

Most sick turkeys look about the same, and the symptoms of blackhead are not very characteristic nor pronounced until the disease has killed off enough to get the profit. BLACKHEAD is a poor name for the heads many times do not turn black. The droppings become foamy and yellowish brown in color. Young birds usually die quickly but older ones may linger long and in some instances get

Only by cutting open one of the birds that has died can a sure diagnosis be made. Blackhead causes ulcer-like spots on the inside walls of the cecum and well defined circular spots, usually greenish in color, on the liver. Livers of the young birds may not show this very plainly but the cecum will show the wounds. The cecum of course is that little blind gut or rather there are two of them. No medicine will cure it. Good feed and quick isolation of affected birds may help keep down the spreading.

During this hot dry weather most all green stuff is gone from the range and the turkeys are still hunting food so they take to any dead rabbit or any other putrid food in reach and that is the cause of limberneck. Keep any dead flesh from the range. Give a tablespoon of castor oil to each affected bird and most will be saved.

Crooked breast will always be a debatable subject it seems but the reason is rather simple. It is caused by faulty feeding. Good strong stock free from worms and fed a ration of at least 5 pounds of bone meal and 3 to 4 pounds of oyster shell per 100 pounds of growing mash will prevent crooked breast. Sitting on the ground does not have any thing to do with it. It is the strength of bone that counts. If a bone bent so much as to cause the breast to stay bent the turkey would be aware of the fact and change positions all during the night just as they do any way. Most turkeys and chickens are neglected when it comes to providing sufficient bone building materials. Bone meal or lime and green feeds will prevent it and milk can not be improved upon for bone building materials.

Texas Industrial Activities

Gray County Creamery shipped a carload of butter to New York.

Mount Pleasant milk plant receipts again passed the million-pound mark in July.

A new industry in the Edwards Plateau country is tanning sheepskins for rugs and goatskins for gloves.

Kurth Lumber Co., Keltys, will locate a mill to employ 200 men in Red River County, at either Bagkell or Clarksville.

The Waco twine mill, after a long shut-down, has been leased by the Brazos Valley Cotton Mill at West and put in operation, the twine being sent to the West mill.

Cotton bags are now used as containers for more than 500 commodities with hundreds of millions required annually. One of the largest outlets is for sugar bags, while 12,000,000 bags were used for potatoes.

Texas now has 14,400 acres of bearing and 66,000 acres of non-bearing grapefruit trees. Floriad with 93,602 acres bearing and 9,821 non-bearing shipped 69.9 per cent of the 1931-1932 crop and Texas 23.7 per cent.

The Denison plant of the Kraft-producer of bulk cheese in the entire Kraft organization. May and June milk receipts of nearly 4,000,000 pounds set a new high record for the plant.

Economic Highlights

Profits! Industry has been going along for three and one-half years practically without them. This month there has been a turn. Companies which have been running constantly in the red are furnishing a market for black ink. Investors who have become used to going without dividends are looking forward to the reappearance of quarterly or semi-annual checks.

Here is how improved business is reflected in the balance sheets of some specific large companies.

Chrysler Corporation—In the June quarter, net equaled $1.80 a share, totaling $2,310,000. This is within 23 per cent of the company's record achieved in the boomink third quarter of 1928.

U. S. Steel—Twelve months ago it reported an operating loss of more than $3,000,000. In the last three months it had a profit of $4,880,000.

General Motors—Last year it had second-quarter profits of 7c a share; this year it reported a net of 90c per share.

U. S. Industrial Alcohol—Profits in first half of 1932 came to $32,000; same period in 1933, $229,000.

If your elephant wants to ride on top IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH A CHEVROLET

We didn't actually plan on elephants when we chose the bodies for the new Chevrolet. But we did choose bodies rigid enough, and strong enough, to support six tons of elephant or anything else you can name. Fisher bodies . . . steel bodies plus a hardwood frame . . . exactly the same type of bodies used on all 12 and 16-cylinder cars. Steel alone is not enough to make you as safe and secure as we want you to be in a Chevrolet. A steel body, welded into a solid wall of protection plus resilient hardwood reinforcing to take up stress, absorb shocks and prevent the steel from following its natural tendency to buckle under pressure makes the sturdiest body of all—the kind used on the Chevrolet, and on no other low-priced car. Remember that when you buy a car. Be sure to get all you pay for . . . the super-safety of a steel-plus-wood Fisher body. CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICH.
