Seeks State Office

MARSHALL FORMBY Present Judge of Dickens County

Senate Post Sought By Marshal Formby

Judge Marshall Formby of Dickens County has formally announced his candidacy for state senator of the 30th senatorial district.

Judge Formby was a host visitor Tuesday meeting with his friends here, and laying groundwork for his campaign.

In making his formal announcement, Judge Formby said he believed that it would be beneficial to the farmers of West Texas for the truck limit law to be released to a sensible limit and that he favored the immediate solution of the old age assistance and other social security problems.

"These problems should have been solved by the last Texas legislature," he said. "The people have been disappointed and these problems should be immediately solved."

Judge Formby is serving his fourth year as county judge of Dickens county. He is president of the 40,000 alumni and ex-students of Texas Technological college and sponsored a co-op house for boys to attend Tech and obtain room and board at actual cost.

The Dickens Judge is also president of the West Texas Judges and Commissioners Association, an organization composed of 124 West Texas counties. Since he assumed office last September, he has taken the lead in obtaining larger WPA quotas for West Texas and was instrumental in obtaining large grants for the Farm Security Administration in West Texas.

Recently he made a trip to Washington to work out a method whereby WPA claims could be certified to the relief rolls.

During Judge Formby's administration, Dickens county has gone on a cash basis for the first time in 15 years and its citizens are enjoying the lowest county tax rate in 22 years. Also during this time the county's debt has been reduced about 25 per cent, or almost $100,000. At the same time, adequate relief programs have been sponsored in the county to take care of the persons who were needy.

The Dickens Judge said he would issue his formal platform at a later date, but that he did state now that he intended to champion the cause of the average farmer, laborer and business man. Judge Formby stated that the average farmer's problems were among the most important problems to be solved in Hopkins county, he moved his family to McAadoo in Dickens county when he was five years of age. Following his graduation from Texas Tech, he engaged in newspaper work and at one time published the Aspermont Star before being elected county judge of Dickens County.

Twenty-four counties comprise the 30th senatorial district, including Lynn and Dawson counties.

HURT'S HABERDASHERY ANNOUNCES BIG SALE PRIOR TO STORE MOVE

A clearance sale of highgrade ready-to-wear was announced this week by Hurt's Haberdashery of Lamesa. The firm's advertisement appears on another page of this newspaper.

The sale, which has brought about low prices, was broken about five years to the move which is to be made soon from the store's present location into that formerly occupied by Pierce's Toggery.

FRANK EUBANKS SUFFERS BROKEN LEG IN FREAKISH ACCIDENT

Frank Eubanks, 50, was the principal victim in a freakish accident Monday when his left leg was broken twice below the knee as he was standing on the sidewalk in front of Blocker's Grocery.

Driven by a lady, a car, which had been parked at the curb, shot forward over the high walk, striking Eubanks, and was stopped from entering the grocery by an iron porch pole. Eubanks was treated by a local physician and is reported recuperating nicely.

Bowlers Vie In Effort To Gain Loop Lead

Finding more competition than they could handle, the Whitsett Drug bowlers failed in their effort to gain a tie in the league standing Tuesday night when they dropped the last match of a three-game series to the Higinbotham team.

A clean sweep was necessary for the Whitsett team to tie the Corner Drug pintoppers.

After waging a vigorous fight through the first two matches when both teams shot over the 800 mark, the Whitsett team ran into rough going and fell into the 700 bracket while the Higinbotham rolled merrily on at an 800 clip. No high scoring was made by either team so far as averages were concerned. Oscar Hall was high man for the evening with an 185 round.

The shot bowling of Charley Wells, coupled with a steady roll by Carey Shook, kept the Higinbotham team in the running. "Bust-em" Fred Buchanan, who generally occupies high honors, failed to dump the spectators, although just prior to the matches, he shot a "hat" game for 243 against Hall's 225.

JOHN EARLES ILL

John Earles, who has been ill for several days from a severe case of the flu, is reported mending as well as could be expected, according to friends of the family.

HOMER PARKER MARRIED

Friends of Homer Parker were interested to learn of his marriage Wednesday evening in Brownfield to a Brownfield miss whose name we did not learn.

Homer had worked in Brownfield for several months for the Applewhite Implement Co., before moving to O'Donnell to work for the same firm. They will make their home in O'Donnell.

The groom is the son of Sheriff B. L. Parker, and was practically reared in Tahoka and O'Donnell.

ROLLIN MCCORD of Tahoka

McCord Enters Race For 106th Dist. Attorney

Interest in the race for attorney of the 106th Judicial district was heightened this week when Rollin McCord, present county attorney of Lynn announced his candidacy for that office.

No formal statement was issued this week to the voters by McCord but he informed the Press of his intention to make good a statement earlier relating his qualifications, experience and his interpretation of a prosecutor's duties insofar as to bring the guilt to the bar of justice, yet sit down to the last detail all evidence in order no innocent may suffer the indignity of false accusation.

McCord is now serving his second term as county attorney of Lynn county. He attended the Southwestern University of Law in California for three years, but was admitted to the bar in his home state of Texas. He is 35 years old, married and has one child. From a prosecution standpoint, McCord has had extensive experience in the handling of criminal and juvenile cases, but it is the latter type he has attracted attention due to his expressed intention to make good on a statement earlier relating his qualifications, experience and his interpretation of a prosecutor's duties insofar as to bring the guilt to the bar of justice, yet sit down to the last detail all evidence in order no innocent may suffer the indignity of false accusation.

Much of McCord's work as a county attorney, so his friends and co-workers say, has evolved around the prevention of crime—instead of waiting for it to hit the court dockets and then try the case thereby piling up needless expense for taxpayers and the sending of another person to the pen when prompt action might have solved the question fairer to all.

McCord expects to place his candidacy before each voter in the six counties personally during the coming months, but, in the meantime, is asking that his candidacy for the office be given careful consideration by those same voters.

Mr. and Mrs. Stansell Jones visited relatives in Quanah Sunday.

School Buses Traverse Roads Throughout Lynn

Rural school pupils in Lynn county are rapidly coming into their own so far as advantages enjoyed by their town students, so records reveal in the office of Lenore M. Tunnell, superintendent of public instruction.

School buses have made a "head of difference." Twenty-five buses are being operated with a total of 1216 children being transported. Of this number 378 are high school pupils and 838 are elementary school pupils.

The minimum expense of transporting these pupils amounts to $270 per driver per year and $360 per truck per year, the truck owning including the cost of gasoline, oil and repairs. To this must be added also the cost of insurance and one-fifth of the original cost of each bus.

The total minimum cost for the scholastic year in the county has been accurately figured at $24,954.54, a sum which would have seemed prohibitive a few years ago.

The local school districts pay these costs as they accrue and depend on the state to reimburse them for a part of the cost. Mrs. Tunnell says that Lynn county is asking the state to reimburse the districts of this county for this expense to the amount of $18,503.60. Of course the amount paid is to be determined by the state authorities and Lynn county may get a far smaller reimbursement than the amount asked for.

Advancements Made In Scout Court Of Honor

Various advancements in the ranks of scouting were made here Wednesday night when a Court of Honor was held. Ben Moore served as chairman of the court, while W. E. (Happy) Smith of Tahoka acted as principal speaker.

Presentations of second class were made by Mayor B. M. Hawmes to Scouts; R. T. Raines and Donald Corral; first class by Scoutmaster Namon Everett to Roy Allen Gibson and Stanley Cathley; life by Bill Riddle of Tahoka to Eldon Carroll. The Flaming Arrow patrol won first award for having the most mothers present.

In a special demonstration Wednesday, as a part of the Boy Scout Week, 22 scouts were assembled within 30 minutes, just as they would be assembled in the event some disaster struck O'Donnell and the help of the scouts was needed.

Candidate Meeting Is Announced

A number of the candidates for public office have asked Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell to act as chairman in calling a meeting of all candidates in this county to arrange a speaking schedule to meet in the county court room at 4 P. M. Saturday, February 17, according to Rollin McCord.

All candidates are urgently requested to attend.

Used Cars Play Important Part In Motorists Life

By E. A. Nimnich
Assistant General Sales Manager
Chevrolet Motor Division

The part played by the used car in American transportation is vastly more important than the average motorist realizes. Some idea of its true place in the picture can be gained, however, from the assertion that every car on the street is a used car, regardless of its "date of birth."

The point is brought out even more strongly through figures released by the various automobile associations, showing that three of every four cars sold in recent years have been used cars. In other words, 75 percent of the automobile sales volume.

in units, is in the used car branch of the business.

Consequently, not only the retail automobile dealers, but factories as well, are coming to place increased emphasis on used cars in their business calculations. One of the outstanding used car merchandising jobs, it is generally agreed, is done by the industry's largest volume producer, Chevrolet, which in the past six years has produced and sold 6,000,000 new cars and trucks for an average of a million a Chevrolet has made what is perhaps the used car business ever conducted.

Chevrolet has developed an unusually efficient used car reconditioning program.

As a matter of fact, Chevrolet's service department operates a "research laboratory" of a sort itself. It consists of a typical dealer's service department, where the average mechanic is the "scientist" and repair tools are the "instruments," and practical results are his "reports."

Constantly, Chevrolet's service men are seeking new methods, new processes, new tools and equipment to renovate used cars, restoring a large part of the mechanical efficiency, as well as the appearance value, that was originally built in at the factory. Through Chevrolet's service department flows a stream of inventors, creators, salesmen, each with some product or some tool that he feels can aid in saving the older car.

Polishes, perhaps, lead the list of the materials submitted. Each one is given a fair and accurate trial in actual practice, on the grimy surface of an old car. If it does the job efficiently and it is seen to be a superior product to the one in use, Chevrolet experts recommend its adoption. Once selected, such a product may then be recommended by the service specialists to the mechanics in the nearly 9,000 Chevrolet dealerships in the country.

Moon is Discovered Grand Canyon of the AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Current studies by University of Texas astronomy students from the Physics Building observatory on the campus have picked out a "Grand Canyon" on the moon.

Using the small nine-inch telescope, which draws the 240,000 miles distant satellite to a visual distance of about 1,000 miles, some 50 visitors through the campus observatory each Tuesday night to peer at the "on, stars and planets."

Recent studies of the lunar canyon using the telescope, according to Austin Corbin, in charge of the observatory, reveals a chasm on the moon similar to our own Grand Canyon.

COTTON BAGGING

College Station, Feb. 6.—Cotton bagging came to the front in Texas during 1939 as 235,975 bales were covered with this material. F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has announced. Less than 17,500 bales were put up in cotton bagging in 1938.

Advocates of cotton bagging have pointed out that a normal crop of cotton in the United States would require use of about 135,000 bales of cotton annually. Spinners generally favor cotton as bagging material, as the jute now widely used mixes with the cotton fiber and makes an extra cleaning process necessary. Improvements are necessary which will make cotton bagging more satisfactory than the present type, Lichte said.

ROAD FUNDS AND CAR-OWNERS TAXES

Texas Good Roads Association contends that the Federal Government should allot to each State for highway-construction approximately the amount taken from its motorists in excise taxes. For a precedent, the Association could cite the allotment of "tax" money collected from sportsmen—in taxes on guns and ammunition, fishing-tackle and other sports goods—for buying and maintaining game-sanctuaries. Were the identical principle applied to motor vehicles and roads, the Federal-aid allowance would be increased by 150 million dollars a year, or almost doubled. The Government is taking an estimated 350 million dollars a year from motorists. Besides the one cent a gallon on gasoline it levies an excise "nuisance" tax on new cars, tires and accessories, lubricating oil and practically everything else which the automobile requires to keep it going. The upshot is that the motor vehicle carries the heaviest tax-load of any commodity or service. The motorists would not object if Federal, State and local authorities did not "gang up" on them. For example in certain jurisdictions gasoline is taxed four times—by Federal, State, city and county governments. Besides, three kinds of ad valorem taxes and a usually exorbitant registration fee are imposed. Some States also take a driver's license fee, and perhaps a dollar a year for the "safety-lamp." Even so, automobile-owners would not object were all that tax-money spent on the roads.—San Antonio Evening News.

TWO VETERAN WESTEX POSTMASTERS RETIRE

Big Spring, Feb. 3—(Sp)—Two men with 75 years service between them have retired as postmasters at Luther, in northern Howard county, and at Gail.

Luther F. Lawrence, for whom the Luther postoffice was named, has spent 40 years in the postal service, having started as postmaster at Honey Grove, Ky., in 1890 under John Wanamaker as postmaster general.

When he moved to Texas and Howard county in 1907 he immediately began seeking a postoffice for the Gay Hill area, and succeeding, was made postmaster of the office which was assigned his given name. He held office continuously until Feb. 1 when he took advantage of the retirement annuities made effective on that date for 1,800 veteran U. S. postmasters.

At Gail, William S. Cathey is more reluctant to leave the service which he entered in 1896 as postmaster at that point. Then Gail was a thriving frontier town with a gin, two hotels, a dry goods store, blacksmith shop, saloons and meat market. During his tenure, Cathey has seen many of the buildings moved or decay and the population shrink to a mere 75.

Lawrence's son-in-law, Lester Caughey, succeeds him at Luther and Mrs. Abe Wilson will become acting postmaster at Gail.

T-BAR 4-H CLUB STUDIES PLAY SUITS

"Attractiveness is important in the selection of a play suit," stated Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the T-Bar 4-H club Friday, February 9.

To be attractive the design and material must be suited to the person and to the use of the garment. Since slacks, collouts and shorts are for play, the material and design must be chosen with this in mind. The design should express simplicity and youth. For example, small dainty figures in print materials are more pleasing than the more sophisticated, large patterns.
