Hawks meet Vernon Friday for crown

Iowa Park and Vernon will square off at 7:30 tomorrow evening in Rider High School gymnasium in Wichita Falls to determine the Dist. 3-AAAA basketball championship.

Vernon won a three-way toss yesterday with Hirschi and Mineral Wells to decide which of the three teams would represent the second half against Iowa Park, first half winner.

The Hawks went undefeated through the first half of round robin play, 5-0, but faltered in the second half, finishing next to last with a 1-4 record. Vernon, Hirschi and Mineral Wells wound up tied and had to flip to decide the representative.

Admission to the playoff is $2 for all attending, regardless of being a student or adult, according to Bob Dawson, principal.

Iowa Park has not won a district basketball championship in more than 25 years, Dawson said. Closest the Hawks have come to one was the 1977-78 season, when they won the north half of the divided Dist. 4-AAA, but lost to Mineral Wells in a playoff.

On the season, Coach Ernie Reusch's club now stands 16-9. The Hawks played three home games and two on the road in the first half of district play, winning them all. But three of their second half games were on the road. They lost them, plus one of their two home games.

Their last road game was Friday, and Vernon outscored the Hawks 23-17 in the final quarter to win, 63-57.

Tuesday was their last home game, and they lost to Mineral Wells by a scant two-point margin, 61-59.

The first time the Hawks and Lions met was here, and the Hawks came out 48-46 victor in a single overtime. Meeting the Rams for the first time, at Mineral Wells, the Hawks won 59-56, but in a triple overtime.

So, when the Hawks and Lions meet tomorrow night, they are a dead-even matchup, each one having beaten the other on their home courts. The team with the ability to play on a neutral court and under pressure should win.

VERNON GAME

In play Friday, the Hawks and Lions went into the final quarter tied, 40-40. But the hosts hit a hot spell early in the last period, outscoring the Hawks 15-2, and held on to win. Iowa Park pulled to within four with 50 seconds remaining on the clock, but had to foul to get possession of the ball. And the Lions took advantage of the situation, scoring their last points at the charity line.

Steve Smith had the hot hand against the Lions, racking up 26 points on nine field goals and hitting eight of 11 free shots. Ken Thomason has 11 and Mark Kirkham 10.

The junior varsity beat Vernon 45-40.

MINERAL WELLS GAME

The Rams jumped out ahead early Tuesday, and the Hawks had to play catch-up throughout the contest. The visitors led 16-8 after the first quarter, 35-37 at halftime, and 46-37 after three periods.

But with Smith and Steve Page ripping the nets for a combined 16 points in the final quarter, the Hawks drew to within one point late in the game.

Mineral Wells' coach chose 1:41 remaining on the clock to start an argument with a referee, after one of his players fouled out.

Trailing 53-57, the Hawks pulled to within two points, 55-57, before the free shooting was over.

Mineral Wells went into a four-corner stall, and drew a foul, making both shots for a 59-55 cushion, with 35 seconds remaining.

Smith missed a shot, got his own rebound and put it in, to pull within 59-57 with 29 seconds.

But another foul to stop the clock sent the Ram center to the free shot line again, and he made them both, with 13 seconds left.

Page sank his final two points just before the buzzer, uncontested by Ram defenders.

Plans for remodeling city hall are revealed

Preliminary drawings for the proposed renovation of Iowa Park city hall were revealed Monday to the city council and directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Prepared by Harper Perkins Architects of Wichita Falls, the building, once completed, would more than double city hall space, take on an entirely new look, and feature a drive-in window for receiving utility payments.

In discussing the need of the remodeling, Mayor Johnny Crawford said the additional space was necessary, not only for appearance to the public but because he estimated 40 to 50 percent of work efficiency is lost because of crowded conditions in the office now.

The drive-in window would be a major convenience to the public, he explained, because half of those paying their utility bill drive to the city hall, park, and walk in to pay their bill. The drive-in would make it easier for them and also ease a parking problem at city hall.

Renovation could be done in three phases or one, Crawford explained, and could be financed through certificates of obligation.

Crawford said the lowest cost might possibly be to do all the work at one time, because bids from contractors might be lower than any time in the future due to a major cutback in construction and contractors wanting to keep crews busy.

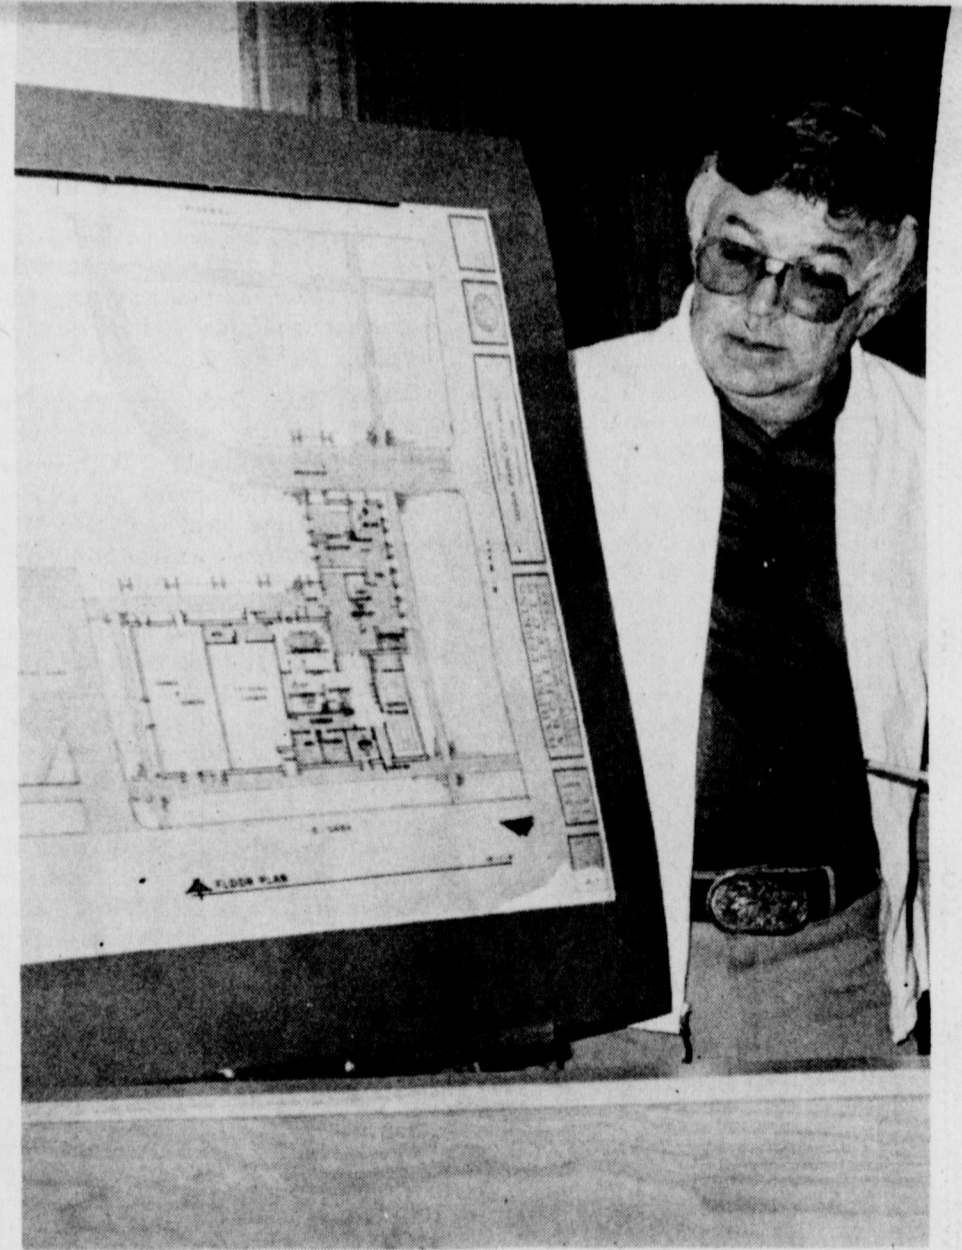

If the project is done in phases, over a two or three year period, Crawford said the first phase would be to renovate the old fire station for office space. The second phase would be renovation of the existing offices. And the last part would be to remodel the outside, re-designing the overall appearance by covering the structure with stucco, and building the drive-in facility on the south side. Also, addition of off-street parking space is a major part of the project.

If the overall plan is approved by the council, the main entrance to the Housing addition plat approved by city council

The city council Monday night approved final plat of a housing addition which will be located across the street from Bradford Elementary.

First section of the addition will face Diamond Ave. from the north. All the homes are to be duplexes which will be sold as individual units. Five will be built and sold initially.

In the overall plat, 10 more duplexes are planned to be built north of the original five units, all facing one street which will open onto Texowa. Final approval was delayed until an alley was designated on the plat which would serve all of the houses once they are completed.

In other business, aldermen approved an appointment to the planning and zoning commission, passed an ordinance for location of new traffic signs, approved completion of ground water storage construction facilities and appointment of the city's first woman as a police officer.

Kenny Jones was appointed to serve a two-year term on the planning and zoning commission after having served a year as replacement of Tom Nolen.

An ordinance providing for stop signs on the east and west corners of intersections at Pecan and Colorado and Diamond and Colorado was approved.

Upon the recommendation of the city's engineer, council members voted to accept as a completed project the construction of a ground water storage tank in the east part of the city. It has been functioning some two months without problems, aldermen were told.

Patricia Hannah, 34, was hired as a policeman upon recommendation of Chief Charles Whittingstall and Steve Morath, city administrator.

The mother of two, she was graduated in 1975 after 248 hours instruction at Nortex Regional Police Academy.

Though this will be her first job as a patrolman, she was on the security staff of Hess, Inc. in Wichita Falls 1973-74, and was a deputy dispatcher 1974-75 for the Archer County Sheriff's Department.

She will be required to patrol with another officer until her certification papers are received from Austin, aldermen were told.

Bud Adams told other members of the council that work is underway to adapt a garage being leased from Deryl James which will serve as a temporary sub station for the fire department. Work is expected to be completed this week and a fire truck located there.

Schools open doors to visiting parents

Next week will be Public Schools Week, and parents are being encouraged to visit the high school and junior high.

Supt. Harold Cowley said the elementary schools held open house for parents to visit during the fall, but the junior and senior highs will have open house all next week.

Because, in the past, very few parents attended open house at the junior and senior high during the evenings, Cowley said visitations will be entirely during regular school hours, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Trustees meet today in called session

School trustees will consider a three-item agenda when they meet in a called session this afternoon at 4 p.m. in the administration building.

They will open bids for pre-cast concrete for the Bradford physical education building; consider inclusion of a welding course in the vocational curriculum; and adoption of the 1981-82 school calendar.

JRB store sold

Ownership of JRB Food Store here and in Electra was transferred after inventory was completed Saturday night to George Roy and Johnny Shanks.

The store's name in Iowa Park is now Superfine Foods.

Roy and Shanks have a third store, one they've been operating for some time at 2700 Old Iowa Park Road in Wichita Falls.

Roy, an Iowa Park resident, was formerly manager of A&P Food Store here, and is a past president of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

Criminal mischief cases are reported

Two cases of criminal mischief were reported to police during the past week.

Grover Johnson told police someone slashed a tire on his pickup parked Sunday night at 1312 Mary Drive. Loss was estimated at $100.

A large area of paint was reportedly chipped sometime early last week from an automobile parked at 702 E. Pasadena, reported by Mrs. Kathy Hutto. Damage was estimated at $150.

City ballot needs candidates; school board race develops

With a deadline of next Wednesday, the city is short of at least two candidates for its Apr. 4 election, but the school has a contest developing.

Three aldermen are to be elected this spring, as terms for George Hammonds, Bill Gilmore and Bud Adams expire.

Hammonds is the only candidate who had filed by noon yesterday. Prospective candidates have until 5 p.m. Wednesday to file for a place on the city's ballot.

A drawing for city candidates for placings on the ballot will be held at 5 p.m. next Thursday.

Incumbent Jerald Brown has filed for re-election on the school board. Also filing are newcomers Rex Wells and Bob Goodknight.

Terms of Brown and Delbert Catlin expire in April.

Candidates for the school board have until 4 p.m. Wednesday to file. A drawing for places on the ballot will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Absentee voting will begin Mar. 16 in both elections, and end Mar. 31.

unit made up of young people from surrounding states.

The organization will travel and perform in 17 states, as well as Quebec and Montreal, Canada. Major competition will be July 11 at Allentown, Penn. and Aug. 8 at Whitewater, Wis.

A tour of Texas is on the Sky Ryders' agenda in late June, including an appearance June 27 in Dallas.

Lunney is to return to Hutchinson Mar. 20, when the organization will present its first show of the season, the national junior college basketball tournament.

Band trumpet player to tour nation with group

An Iowa Park High School student's ability to play the trumpet is going to take him a lot of miles this year.

Mike Lunney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lunney, has been selected to perform with the 1981 International Sky Ryders Drum and Bugle Corps, based in Hutchinson, Kan.

A six-year band student here, he has played solo trumpet at various band activities and recently earned first chair trumpet in the All-Region Band concert at Vernon.

He will be playing soprano bugle with the Sky Ryders, a 120-member

Mrs. Tanner describes recent tour of China

China was the focal point of international interest in the program, room decorations and exhibits, refreshments and dress of the hostesses during the Thursday afternoon meeting of the 23 Study Club held in Texas Electric Reddy Room.

The program featured "China in Review", a travelog presented through lecture and slides by Mrs. R.A. Tanner, who visited southeastern China and the capital city of Peking as a member of a tour group sponsored by Trav Coa in late summer of 1980, and a talk and display of Chinese porcelain art by Mrs. C.L. Metz, an artist with the brush both on canvas and porcelain. "There is a marked contrast between the Chinese Communists and those in Russia and Communist Block countries that I have visited," Mrs. Tanner said. To describe them, she used a quote, "They are characterized by exquisite beauty and civility" and very friendly and warm.

In describing the status of women in the Asian country at the present time, she said that they were very vocal over men in the communes being allowed to work extra for extra pay while the women went home from work, did the household chores and took care of the children without pay. She said that they were also concerned during the present stringent birth control movement, where couples are given certain privileges if they have only one child, not more than two children, about the future of the older people if they do not have a son. They are voicing a loud opinion that the older daughter have the same privileges as an older son.

Mrs. Tanner noted that the minority groups which comprise six percent of the population of China do not have linguistic or cultural restrictions because it is to the country's advantage that the groups have harmonious relationships.

The tour group entered China at Guangzhou, an agricultural and fish area. Mrs. Tanner said that even though there is no modern farm machinery there, cotton grows waist high and many kinds of vegetables are grown. Their greens are planted, grown and marketed within 14 days; edible fungi are grown in the commune; and crawfish is a delicacy. The Chinese Export Community Fair is held in the city twice each year and attracts visitors from all over the world.

Shanghai, the industrial giant on the Hwang Pu River, known as Asia's Paris, was the next important city visited by the U.S. tourists. According to Mrs. Tanner, the city has taken the lead in China's drive to catch up with the developed world. It has 8,000 factories and last year produced thirty nine billion dollars worth of goods.

One of the most outstanding things in the city, according to Mrs. Tanner's touchstone, is the industrial exhibit in a huge hangar which is a commercial showplace of Shanghai-made products ranging from acupuncture needles to heavy machinery.

Other places of interest in the city the group toured were the Children's Palace, which has been converted from an old mansion into a teaching clinic for talented children and serves 1000 of them per day; the famous temple which has a huge apple green jade Buddha; and the No. 1 Department Store which has 2,200 salespeople to sell 36,000 different items in the store to the 100,000 daily customers.

Mrs. Tanner's favorite city was Hangchow, noted for its silk industry, especially brocades, the Hangchow University, jade, ivory and rug factories. One of its greatest assets is the Second Traditional Pharmaceutical Works set up in 1972, a plant whose parent was a drug store which came into being in 1874. It produces 70 kinds of medicine in 12 different forms.

The last city that Mrs. Tanner had time to spotlight in her films and narration was the capital city of Peking, a cultural, educational and political center with many historic places. In the last category, she chose for emphasis The Forbidden City, the former Imperial Palace, which houses the museum with its white jade Buddha, intricate pieces of jade, ivory and coral.

Other places of interest included the Summer Palace with its marble pavillon, rebuilt by Empress Dowager Tzu Hsi with money appropriated for the Chinese Navy, and the Great Wall. Mrs. Tanner said that her group visited Ba Da Ling, one of the three passes of the wall which have been restored. Originally built to protect China from the invaders, it was built as early as the first century and sections of the 3,500 mile long wall which took 300,000 men 10 years to build, were linked in 221 B.C.

The tour party dined once at the world famous Peking Duck Restaurant where they were served a seven-course meal and the china was changed for every course.

Mrs. Tanner concluded her program by presenting members with fans from China. Some of the mementos of her trip on display were covered tea mugs, a cocoon, silk material and blouses, apple green jade and porcelain necklaces.

In discussing Chinese porcelain, Mrs. Metz said that its earliest date was in the 14th or 15th century and while other countries had their pottery and ceramics, China had its beautiful, translucent porcelain which was the envy of the world. It was also somewhat of a mystery and other people tried to solve and copy it.

Marco Polo thought that the porcelain was a certain kind of clay collected from a mine, piled high where it lay undisturbed exposed to the wind, sun and rain for 30-40 years until it became refined. Francis Bacon's idea was that it was a kind of plaster buried in the earth until it congealed and glazed into fine porcelain. Others claimed that it was composed of egg, lobster and periwinkle shells.

Mrs. Metz said that China began exporting her beautiful wares during the 16th century. For a period of time European wealth was judged by how much Chinese porcelain a family owned; royal families had entire rooms filled with fabulous Chinese art; and the finest gourmet food was considered nothing unless served on Chinese porcelain. In 1784, America established trade with China and started exchanging varnish, turpentine, tobacco, snuff and furs for tea and porcelain.

Mrs. Metz showed some of the beautiful pieces of Chinese porcelain art that she and several friends had done. These spoke for themselves for the place symbolism has in the embroidery, rugs, art and architectural designs. Some of the favorite symbols being the Geisha girls, clouds, flowers, silkworm, lotus, fans, deer and birds.

Mrs. D.O. James was program leader. Mrs. Homer Blalock gave the devotion, using "How to Live Life and Love It" for a theme.

Hostesses wearing typical Chinese costumes were Mmes. China B. Smith, C.E. Birk, Keith Aulds, Sam Hill and Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

Refreshments of egg rolls, fruit and meat sticks, fortune cookies and tea were served from a lace-covered table appointed with a brocade runner, floral centerpiece, statue, fan and tea set representing China.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Bob,
 Today it has been hard to tear oneself away from the television set. The events of the past week have been wonderful and seems to have all come together today. I think it's been many years since the American people have shown such a spirit of patriotism as has been shown today for the safe return of the American hostages from Iran. Perhaps not since World War II has such patriotism been visible in this country. One can only wonder, after the years in which we've witnessed so little of this great commodity, have those who have objected to so much involving our America would feel today if their lives should need to be put on the line. Has this situation really reunited our country? Are we really willing to give our all?
 In the beginning of this ordeal I thought "yes, we are reunited." Then the president ask for a registration of our youth in case there should be a need to reinstate the draft and as quickly as we had rallied, we began to back down. We still had reservations it seemed! I'm not sure why so many Americans feel that our country is not worth fighting for any longer. I often wonder if they would still have this doubt should they have to spend a year or so in some of the countries that are less free than ours!
 How would we fare today should we have to defend our country? How many of those who had such strong feelings that the events in Iran should have been dealt with differently, would have indeed put themselves on the line? It's so easy for us to set back all snug in our homes and criticize our leaders. So often during the past fourteen months I have thought of the old Indian saying "...until you've walked a mile in their moccasins."

 We can only pray that the experiences of these 53 plus Americans will renew the "spirit" of our young men and women, and help them to realize once more the feeling of these men as well as the others who have, over the past two hundred years, been forced to spend precious days, months, and years as prisoners of foreign governments.
 I hope that as we go about during weeks to come, as we hear of the celebrations, see the yellow ribbons and remember the red, white & blue ones we've worn the past months, that we will remember that "many have put their country first during the past 200 years. Not all have returned. Many mothers, wives and children have sacrificed a precious life of son, husband or father. It must not be in vain. As much as there is wrong with these United States, it's still many times better than any other country in the world." We must continue to "Let Freedom Ring!"
 Bob, thanks for letting me sound off to you.
 Sincerely,
 Betty Merriman

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Well, it looks like, after years of neglect and being outgrown, the city hall is soon to get a facelifting and enlargement which will turn it into an attractive facility which will reflect a growing and proud community.
 It's been a long, uphill battle for Johnny Crawford, who seems to have made the project a major accomplishment before he steps down from the office of mayor.
 Crawford has taken a lot of lumps and setbacks in his efforts. But he knows what he wants, and believes strongly that the majority of Iowa Parkans want the same thing. So he has stayed with it.
 As the project now stands, council members have given him the green light to have working plans and specifications drawn by an architect. Aldermen have reserved the right to accept or reject the project once they've seen the details and put it out for bids.

The original structure was built in 1924, as is indicated in lettering above the front entrance. As the town grew, additions were made, to the point where it now stands.
 But the additions included mostly things which had nothing to do with city offices. Such as the fire station, firemen's meeting hall, and public restrooms with exterior doors which have long since been boarded up because of vandalism.
 A good indication of what the city hall can look like is the council meeting room, which was once the firemen's meeting room until that organization got its new building. The council chambers, which also serve as municipal court, are attractive and will look good for years.
 As the city hall was added onto, a restroom was put into the center of the structure. The one and only restroom now must accommodate men and women (we were unisex long before the federal government came up with the idea). But it is located about two feet from two desks, and doesn't lend much to privacy.
 If one wants to see the city administrator, he must pass by each and every desk in city hall. That doesn't do much for an employee's concentration on her work.

 To be sure, there are some things drawn into the renovation plans which I don't particularly care for. But the alternative appears to be that we basically stay as we are, abandon the project and build a new city hall elsewhere, or accept the proposal with a few modifications.
 A good leader, in order to get a project successfully completed, not only makes the proposal, but offers answers as to how it can be completed, all in a complete package.
 Crawford has done this. No one has come up with a better plan. So I hope the public, and certainly the members of the council, will not only go along with the plan, but actively support it to its completion.
 The old city hall was great for in the past. But we're not a community of 2,000 anymore.

Plans

 city hall would be from the east side, the west entrance would be eliminated, and a north entrance for employees would be included.
 Harper said preliminary estimate on cost for the project was $210,000.
 During a discussion of the project with Chamber officers, Crawford explained the project would include the organization's office, since it is part of the structure, and the Chamber would be asked to pay its part.
 "We wanted to explain the project to you because your office is part of the building," he said, "and we need your support."
 Some aldermen expressed concern over the proposed loss of park area, east of the building, which is slated to become a parking area. They suggested slant parking on the street.

Cook of the Week

When Mrs. Patrick Moore came to the office to be interviewed for today's Cook of the Week, she brought a number of good sounding recipes for us to select from. It was not an easy thing to do, but with the exception of the Italian Cream Cake (which is her favorite), we believe that we have chosen some that either have not been used before or call for different ingredients or methods from those used in other recipes with the same names.

Judging from her recipes, we gather that cakes, pies, salads and perhaps a touch of South of the Border foods play an important role in some of the most significant moments (those spent at the table) in her family's life.

Since we had more recipes in the pie class to select from we were reminded that pie is one of the most popular desserts in the south and southwest and always makes a perfect ending to a meal. Mrs. Moore's family and friends probably say "more please" after eating her pies.

Ann Moore was graduated from Breckenridge High School. She and her husband, retired from the U.S. Navy and now a service station manager at Sheppard Air Force Base, and their family moved to Iowa Park 11 years ago. They attend the First Assembly of God Church in Wichita Falls.

She works at Siemens-Allis assembling electrical motor control units and she is a consultant for Mary Kay cosmetics. Her hobbies are sewing and gardening.

The Moore's children are Patrick Jr. of Burnsflat, Okla., Elizabeth Gatewood of Wichita Falls, and Johnny of the home, a student at Midwestern State University. They have two grandchildren.

Plans discussed for church dinner

George Trammell, president of the Christian Workers class of First United Methodist Church, directed the business meeting following the monthly dinner held Thursday in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Plans were discussed for the church dinner Mar. 19 when a missionary from Nigeria will be the speaker.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Herman Mahler, Mrs. Maggie Perkins and Carroll Hester was appointed.

Twenty-nine members attended the dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mahler and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Logan.

NOT ALL BASKETBALL LAYUPS ARE EASY... Ken Thomason had opposition, but made the shot.

Hawks

 identical offensive records for the evening. Each had eight field goals and hit three of four free shots for 19 points.
 Ironically, it was the team's inability to hit the free shots that spelled the difference in the scoring. While the players had hot hands at the charity line through most of the season and won a lot of close games there, they hit only 10 of 18 attempts Tuesday.

Iowa Park outscored the visiting Rams 48-42 in field goals. But the Rams hit 19 of 30 free shot attempts, as Iowa Park picked up 24 personal fouls to the visitors' 16.

Missions are topic

Mrs. Bertha McDonald and Mrs. James Sewell presented the program for the United Methodist Women in their Tuesday morning meeting.

Mrs. McDonald discussed "Biblical Understanding of Missions" using the synoptic gospels as examples of missions in Biblical times.

In explaining the writers' conceptions of missions, she said that Matthew was interested in home missions; Mark in becoming disciples of Christ on the way to the cross; Luke in telling the good news; and John in the glory of victory and truth.

Mrs. Sewell directed a sing song of hymns, telling the story of each, and closed with a Fun Time when the group sang two-part harmony "A Camella."

Girl Scouts selling cookies

"Would you like to buy some Girl Scout cookies?"

That question will be repeated on every doorstep in Iowa Park during the next two weeks, as the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale gets underway tomorrow and will continue through Mar. 15.

Seven varieties, at $1.50 per box, include peanut butter sandwich, vanilla and chocolate cremes, old fashioned tender shortbreads, peanut butter and chocolate patties, old fashioned granolas, thin mints and Samoas.

Participating will be members of Brownie Troop 22 (first and second graders), Brownie Troop 27 (third graders) and Junior Troop 29 (fourth, fifth and sixth graders).

Money raised through the sale helps finance troop activities, according to Mrs. Bob Binion, local sale chairman. The project also serves as a learning experience for the girls, by teaching them how to handle money.

Booth-Sadberry wedding held in Wichita Falls

The University United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls was the scene of the Feb. 14 wedding performed to unite Miss Vickie Elaine Booth and Tommy Gerald Sadberry Jr. Rev. Don Shaw, pastor, was the officiant.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. Donald Booth of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sadberry Sr. of Holliday.

The altar decorations featured two large arrangements of red and white roses and candelabra holding lighted candles that illuminated the setting.

Wedding music was furnished by Julia Shrader, organist, who accompanied Mrs. Byron Myrick for her vocal renditions "Walk Hand in Hand with Me" and "Wedding Song," then played the traditional wedding marches for the entrance and exit of the bridal party.

The bride was escorted and presented in marriage by her father. She wore a formal white organza gown enriched with fine laces over taffeta. The moulded bodice was covered with reembroideder Chantilly lace and iridescent sequins. The modified V-neckline was edged with silk Venise lace, and the sheer fitted sleeves were covered with full bishop sleeves that gathered at the wrists to lace cuffs. A circlet of Venise lace flowers hugged the waistline and a satin bow was caught at the back.

The bouffant skirt was formed of Chantilly lace set off with a sheer flounce bordered in a smaller pattern of the lace which extended to a chapel length train.

A bandeau of lace and pearls held the bride's three-tiered fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of red and white roses, gypsophila and English ivy.

Mrs. David McAnulty served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore a formal red gown trimmed with white lace around the collar and sleeves and a bustline white ribbon tie. Miss Jan Farris, niece of the bride, and Miss Sherry Sadberry, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids, and Miss Jamie Rae Farris, the bride's niece, was flower girl. They were attired in long red white rose corsages with their long gowns. Mrs. Booth wore pale pink and Mrs. Sadberry wore blue.

Tommy Sadberry, father of the groom, was best man. Richie Booth and Wade Sadberry, brothers of the bride and groom, were groomsmen. Ushers and candlelighters were Scott Farris and Chris Farris, nephews of the bride. Gary Farris, another nephew, was ring bearer.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails and a white ruffled shirt. His attendants, ushers, ring bearer and father of the bride, wore white tuxedos with red shirts.

The mothers of the couple wore covered with fudge icing and decorated with footballs and playboy dolls.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held at K-Bob's Steak House in Wichita Falls.

Following the reception, the newlyweds departed on a short wedding trip to Dallas. They are now at home in Holliday. The bride is a senior at Holliday High School. The groom was graduated from Holliday High School and is employed by Finnell Oil Co.

The refreshment table was covered with white embroidered batiste accented with red silk bows. The cakes were baked by Gween Kemp of San Angelo and highlighted table decorations. The bride's four-tiered white cake was trimmed in red roses, and the groom's chocolate cake was

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks so much for the many kindnesses that were shown to our family during our daughter's illness. The flowers, gifts, money and offers of help were very much appreciated. We especially appreciate the ministry of Rev. Hal Farnsworth and Rev. Ken Cole and Mrs. Harold Hildebrand, who helped in a special way.

We knew it before but are more convinced than ever that this is a very special town with very special people. Warmest regards,

Jerry, Barbara, Doni and Brent Peeler
