Former Judge Has Busy, Involved Schedule

(Editor's Note: It is always a good feeling to be able to write about a busy, very versatile person, whether it be male or female. This week's 'In Profile' spotlights a well-known local man, and his achievements. Let's meet 'Judge' -- minister -- writer -- student -- husband -- father and grandfather, Glen Williams.)

It's late in the afternoon, and in the southern part of Muleshoe, and you see a man and his wife strolling along. This would be Judge Glen Williams and his wife, Gladys, out for their afternoon stroll.

Regardless how busy he finds himself with his many and varied activities, Glen Williams still takes time for a walk in the afternoon, unless adverse weather conditions force him to stay inside.

Glen Williams moved with his family from Potawatomie County, Oklahoma on February 1, 1929 to the West Camp Community, where he entered school there. After three years at West Camp, his family moved to the southwest part of the county,

ENMU Workshop Set For Students

The notion of living on the moon will be explored in a workshop offered at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales this summer. The workshop is designed for children, grades 4-6, from Portales and the surrounding communities of Clovis, Dora, Floyd, Farwell, Melrose, Texico and Muleshoe.

The concept is of a lunar base being established, a new space culture developing out of it and what it would be like to be a lunar settler. Faculty from the various disciplines will be used in topics such as "Lunar Lifestyles" (home economics); "New Lunar Words" (English, communications); "Government" (political science); "Lunar Dune Buggies" (technology) and "Lunar Dollars" (business economics).

Students will be assigned projects such as making a lunar colony, a model of the lunar surface, writing a new language, designing lunar dollars and coins and developing educational curriculum for lunar settlers.

The workshop will be July 18-22. There is a maximum of 35 students per session and the workshop is limited to students who have scored in the 95th percentile or above on a standardized test, whose IQ has been determined as 125 or above on IQ tests, or have a teacher recommendation.

There is a $49 fee for the session and the Friends of Eastern Foundation has made five scholarships available for each session based on student need as identified by teachers. For more information, contact the office of University Outreach at Eastern New Mexico University.

Local Youth At Levelland 4-H Conference

Seven Bailey County 4-H'ers have recently returned from 4-H Leadership Camp at Levelland.

South Plains 4-H Leadership Camp was held from June 14-16 and was both a learning and fun experience for those participating.

Each 4-H'er was given a choice of two project groups to participate in and were then assigned as nearly as possible to their chosen group.

Some of the projects they had to choose from were: Leathercraft, Entomology (study of insects), Clothing (decorated sweatshirts), Decision-making, Housing, Archery, Recreation and Photography.

While there, these young people also participated in volleyball tournaments, horse-shoes, ping pong, washers, kick ball and table pool. Because of inclement weather, they did not get to go swimming this time.

Attending the camp from Bailey County were: Fara Black, Christy Holt, Courtney Tanksley, Marianne Toombs, Gage Angeley, Shane Schuster and Holly Huckaby, who served as a staff member.

Spencer Tanksley was also an active participant at the camp and all reported having had a good time.

At 8 a.m., the race gets underway.

Activity then moves to the civic center, where Alpha Zeta Pi Sorority will sponsor kids events beginning at 8:30 a.m.

There are several divisions, and new events have been added for this year.

Registration for the annual World Championship Mule Shoe Pitching contest also starts at 8:30 a.m. It will be held between Ben Franklin's and the Mule Putt Miniature Golf Course.

At 10 a.m., line-up for the Freedom Parade will be at the Boy Scout Grounds on South Main Street.

Not only is there a change in the time for the parade, which is expected to draw hundreds more to watch, since it will be in the cooler morning hours, the parade route has been changed.

On leaving the Boy Scout grounds, the parade will move down Avenue I to First street, and travel in front of the Muleshoe Nursing Home and West Plains Medical Center.

The parade will then turn west on Avenue D to 19th Street, and cross to the Civic Center, where awards will be presented.

Cattle Grubs Cause Economic Losses

Cattle grubs are internal parasites and their damage is largely unseen, yet they cause greater economic losses to the U.S. beef cattle industry than any other insect pest.

While grubs are usually found on the backs of infested animals during the winter months, that's not the time for control measures since the pests have already done their damage. Feed efficiency and animal vigor are reduced in infested animals.

Grubs are the larvae or worm stage of heel flies, and adult heel flies are active over most of the state from March through May, said Spencer Tanksley county agent with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

The time to control grubs is from now through August when grubs are small and before infested animals suffer stress, weight loss and decreased feed efficiency, Tanksley said. Considerable hide damage will occur if infested animals are slaughtered. Hide value has increased rapidly during the past year.

Heel flies cannot sting, have no functional mouth parts and cause no pain to cattle. Yet, they frighten animals, making them difficult to manage.

Heel flies lay their eggs on an animal's hairs in the lower leg region, glued in position. Tiny larvae hatch in a few days, crawl down to the base of the hair and burrow into the animal's skin, said Tanksley.

Then they begin a migratory course through the animal's body, congregating in the throat after a few months, and after eight to nine months, appear in the mature grub state on the animal's back.

If a producer has a history of grubs in his cattle herd, it's best to treat each animal over three months of age with one application of an approved systemic insecticide or injectable treatment during the May through August period.

Systemic insecticides are absorbed directly through the animal's skin, circulate throughout the body, and kill grubs while they are small, said Tanksley. Injectable treatments are circulated in the animal's body fluids to kill the invading pests.

These insecticides come in various forms--dips, sprays, pour-ons, injections and spot-on treatments. A listing of approved insecticides and methods for controlling cattle grubs is available at the county Extension office. Ask for Extension publication B-1306, which contains information on livestock pests.

Baylor Medical Group Studying AIDS Virus

Baylor College of Medicine will take part in a nationwide study to determine the effectiveness of AZT in individuals infected with the virus that causes AIDS, but who have no symptoms of the disease.

Retrovir, more commonly known as AZT, has been proven effective in treating patients with acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) and AIDS related complex (ARC).

"We know that Retrovir is effective in decreasing the number of opportunistic infection in AIDS patients and extending their lives," said Dr. Stephen Greenberg, director of the three-year study funded by the Burroughs Wellcome drug company, who is in the manufacturer of AZT. "We hope that the drug will also help prevent the disease from progressing as rapidly in people who have contracted the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), but do not have any symptoms of AIDS."

In addition to receiving drug therapy, the 100 patients in the Baylor study will undergo testing to monitor any changes in mental ability. Recent studies indicate that HIV-infected individuals may have changes in their verbal, memory, thinking and reasoning abilities before any other symptoms of infection appear.

"We want to monitor these subtle changes and see if Retrovir helps restore any of the lost thinking processes," said Greenberg, professor of medicine, and microbiology and immunology at Baylor.

Patients in the study will receive AZT or a placebo four times a day. However, the AZT dosage will be lower than that given to AIDS patients.

"This study will help us determine whether a lower dosage of Retrovir has a similar action against the virus to that seen in AIDS patients," said Greenberg. "Since we are giving these individuals a lower dosage of Retrovir, the side effects may also be less severe."

Side effects of AZT include a suppression of the bone marrow causing the white and red blood cell counts to go down, nausea, inability to sleep and tremors.

A separate safety and monitoring board will regularly evaluate the medical and psychological results from all the centers and halt the study if and when significant benefit or harm is identified, Greenberg said.

If the results of the study are positive, AZT would then have to go through U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval for use in this test group of people. AZT is now approved only for patients with AIDS and ARC.

The initial phase of the nationwide study will involve six centers and late be expanded to 10 or 12.

Researchers plan to enroll 600 patients throughout the country. Participants in the study must be infected with HIV, have no symptoms of AIDS and be willing to take part without knowing whether they are receiving AZT or a placebo.

Those interested in finding out more about the study can call Baylor College of Medicine at 799-4720 from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

COGNAC FRENCH CAKES

This recipe yields two cakes, each looking like a huge cookie. The recipe comes from the Cognac region of France, where the cakes, thinly sliced into long strips, are served with fruit and Cognac after dinner. They also make a delightful between-meal snack with a cup of tea.

10 Tbsp. (1 stick plus 2 Tbsp.) butter, softened (use real butter, if possible), ¼ cup sugar, 3 eggs (reserve 1 yolk for glaze), 3 Tbsp. brandy, 2 tsp. grated orange rind, 3 cups flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1/8 tsp. salt, ½ cup raisins, halved.

In a bowl, cream the butter with the sugar. Beat in the eggs, then the brandy and orange rind. In another bowl, stir together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat into the creamed mixture and then stir in the raisins. Divide dough in half and, using lightly floured hands, pat each into an eight inch circle on a greased baking sheet. Mix the reserved egg yolk with 1 teaspoon water. Brush on the cakes, using the tines of a fork, make a criss-cross pattern all across the top of each cake.

Bake the cakes in a 375 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes, or until a rich golden brown. Let cool thoroughly and then wrap in plastic. NOTE: These are best if left to age overnight before eating. Keep wrapped in plastic, they stay fresh at room temperature for about one week. They also freeze well. Yield: 2 cakes, each serving 6 to 8.

TIPS ON TRIPS

Mini-Vacations Find Maxi-Fans

If yours is an average family you took 4.3 holiday trips last year and only one lasted more than four days. In fact, a recent survey revealed that 73 percent of all pleasure trips were three days or less.

Still, even a quick getaway trip requires some planning. With that in mind, the travel experts at American Express Travelers Cheques offer some helpful tips for those short trips:

- Keep a get-away bag packed with basic items (like toiletries and sleepwear) you always take on a trip, regardless of the season or final destination.
- Keep the itinerary in check. Go to a destination you know offers appealing options according to your personal taste. Although you don't want to plan too many activities, you also don't want to waste precious time sitting in a hotel room wondering what to do.
- When organizing your travel money, carry 20 percent of your money in cash and the balance in travelers cheques, like American Express. By dividing your money this way, your funds will be protected.
- When flying, you'll save time

Many people are discovering a mini-vacation can be easy to organize and offers quick relief from the stress of work.

by carrying your bags on the airplane. Pack light, however, because the federal government now requires airlines to be very strict about carry-on bags.

• A medical emergency can happen just as easily on a short trip as a long one, so take along your medical insurance card.

By following these tips you're more likely to have a maxi-good time on your mini-vacation.

MICROWAVE TIPS

For single layer cakes which are to be frosted and served from the dish, glass dishes need not be lined.

For two layer cakes, however, line dishes with wax paper for easy removal. A dab of grease under the paper will keep it from moving when the batter is poured.

Plain and fluted bundt cake dishes need to be well greased and coated with a layer of graham cracker crumbs. Always check the suitability of your dishes for microwaving.

Remember that shortening, butter and margarine are not always interchangeable in cake recipes.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Caice Hendrix, McCutchen

MR. AND MRS. JOHN McCUTCHEM
(nee Caice Diane Hendrix)

Miss Caice Diane Hendrix became the bride of John Phillip McCutchen in a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 25 in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Barry Bradley read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Alton and Elaine Parker of Muleshoe and James and Betty McCutchen of Carthage, TX.

Vows were exchanged before a fan candelabra flanked on either side by spiral candelabras with votive cups and pink candles, decorated with greenery. The unity candle sat on a brass stand decorated with flowers of the bride's chosen colors, rose and teal. Pews were marked with teal pew bows.

Jonessa Jennings of Lazbuddie, soloist, sang the Wedding Song and "There Is Love", "I Never Thought That I Could Love", and "Honestly".

Given in marriage by her father, Alton Parker, the bride chose a white gown of bridal satin with a cathedral length train. The bodice of the gown, as well as the train was accented with lace and pearls. Her bridal gown featured a "V" waistline accented with small white flowers with pearl centers, made by her mother.

The bride wore a white hat with a floor length lace veil accented with pearls. Her bridal bouquet of teal, rose, light pink and white silk flowers with white and rose ribbon had a knee length train covered with the same flowers. Her hat veil and flowers were made by Leavell Parker, aunt of the bride.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore pennies minted in the year of the bride and groom's birth, in her shoe for something old. Something new was her wedding dress. Something borrowed was diamond and pearl tear shaped necklace and ear studs borrowed from Brenda Stephens, cousin of the bride, and something blue was the traditional blue garter.

Becky Nichols, cousin of the bride, of Hereford served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kim Ely of Loop and Caryn Durben and Adena Johnson, both of Muleshoe.

They wore pink dresses, knee length in front and floor length with a train in the back. The bodice was accented with lace, Mrs. Parker, mother of the bride made the dresses. Their bouquets were of rose, teal and white with rose, teal and white ribbon. They each carried a pink parasol. The flowers were made by Leavell Parker, aunt of the bride.

AUSTIN—In what Texas Republicans called a "gift from heaven," Supreme Court Justice Jim Wallace will give then another vacancy to fill by appointment when he resigns at summer's end.

Wallace, a Democrat, said he was quitting for financial reasons, explaining that he, like many other Texans, had real estate and other investments which need his attention.

Although his term runs through 1982, by resigning creates a vacancy that will be filled in general election on Nov. 8.

Gov. Bill Clements can now appoint his third judge to the high court, someone presumably to be on the November ballot with the slight edge of one month's incumbency.

In all voters will be choosing six justices this fall due to resignations of Chief Justice John Hill and Robert Campbell and now Wallace, all Democrats. The normal rotation is to elect three of the nine justices.

Bullock Leading Poll
Meanwhile, Comptroller Bob Bullock received his own "gift from Shipley." A recent poll by George Shipley, owner of an Austin public opinion and research firm, shows Bullock with a sizeable lead against any potential opponent in the race for lieutenant governor.

In a match-up with two state senators talking about running, the poll shows Bullock beating Hugh Farmer of Fort Worth by 55 percent to 11 percent and Chet Edwards of Duncanville by 57 percent to 13 percent.

Even Republican primary voters favored Bullock over former State Republican Party Chairman George Strake, the GOP nominee for lieutenant governor in 1982; Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, who has talked about the post; and Rob Mosbacher Jr., a Houston oilman, who is considering a run.

With long and varied experience in state government, Bullock believes the time is right for him to help solve some of the state's problems. "I think Texas is at a crossroads," facing problems in education, prisons, tax structure and economic development.

Bullock is a former state representative, assistant attorney general, executive assistant to Gov. Preston Smith, secretary of state. He was elected comptroller in 1974.

Mauro Hires Top Lawyer
State Land Commissioner Garry Mauro last week hired a nationally known defense attorney after the FBI subpoenaed agency records as part of an investigation of dealings between Mauro's office and land developers.

Noted San Antonio attorney Gerald Goldstein said Mauro has "nothing to hide" and he is convinced political enemies are using federal investigators to smear him.

Goldstein criticized the FBI for not asking for the records of contributions to Mauro's campaigns sooner. Agents have said the investigation began several months ago. "Surely they would have compared those before now," Goldstein said.

Prisons, Jails Full
With state and county jails at capacity, the state parole board voted to allow bail for parolees charged with simple burglary.

The action led some anti-crime groups to charge that criminal justice in Texas is now determined solely by available space in jails.

State officials said some 5,000 convicts await transfer to state prison from county jails.

Agridollars in Place
With predicted higher prices at the supermarket, officials announced last week the state is ready to secure loans on a $5 million program to boost agricultural diversification.

The loans, up to $250,000, will be made at two points below the market rate for T-bills, according to the sponsors, Sen. Bill Sims and Rep. Dudley Harrison.

Some predict the loans will encourage $36 million in new revenues and 4,800 new jobs over the next five years.

Other Highlights

The latest colorful quote from Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower comes as a comic insult of Vice President George Bush: "If ignorance ever goes to $40 a barrel, I want the drilling rights to that man's head."

A recent poll of Texas accountants show nearly two-thirds do not want a state income tax, according to the head of the Society of Certified Accountants. Almost three-fourths said they did not expect lawmakers to approve an individual state income tax.

Former Gov. Mark White last week mailed personal letters with a press release announcing his partnership in the new Houston office of Keck, Mahin & Kate, a Chicago firm. Joining the firm with White is Grant Cook, a highly regarded Houston trial lawyer.

A Hollow Shell

What a profound symbol of emptiness, a hollow shell from which the life kernel has been removed.

Its purpose for existence is gone; it is fit only to be cast on the rubbish heap.

Sometimes life is like that — an empty shell from which the life force has been removed. It has no meaning and no purpose; it seems to have no conceivable end but the grave. This is a picture of life without God, a shell from which the kernel of meaning has been removed.

God has made us for Himself and we are empty until filled with His presence. Only God can make human life meaningful. God's gift to lead us to this meaning is His Church. Go to Church Sunday and open your life to the One who will fill it with significance.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.

Through the church God has committed the provision and proclaiming of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relationship no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

PEST MANAGEMENT UPDATE

Farmer-Bailey Counties

MIKE D. BLANTON

Extension Agent-Entomology

GENERAL SITUATION
Precipitation and mild temperatures during the first part of the week should be advantageous for the crops in the region. Rainfall accumulations ranged from 1.5 to 4 inches.

COTTON
Cotton varies in size from 4 true leaves to 3 squares per plant. We are still finding extremely low numbers of fleahopper adults in the cotton. Treatment decisions should be based upon the number of fleahoppers found, the squaring rate, and the percent square set. During the first 3 weeks of squaring, the economic threshold is 25 to 30 fleahoppers per 100 terminals combined with less than 75 percent square set.

CORN
Some corn is beginning to tassel this week. Southwestern corn borer moth catches peaked last week. First generation corn borer larvae are now feeding in the whorls of the corn. Eggs and very small larvae are now being found. Whorl feeding can also be caused by either fall army worms or corn earworms. Corn borer larvae make smooth, somewhat round rows of holes when feeding. As their feeding progresses, distinguishable longitudinal, transparent areas will be evident, then unroll the whorl to identify SWBC larvae - creamy white with black spots. Be sure to unroll the whorl and find the larva before making a treatment decision since predators will eat some of the smaller larvae. Remember, a 10 percent infestation of first generation borers may justify treatment.

Rains helped reduce spider-mite populations; however many producers have already had a preventative miticide applied to their corn. Spidermites normally don't do well in wet weather, but rather, flourish in hot, dry conditions. High numbers of beneficials can be found in many fields. These predators include minute pirate bugs, several species of ladybugs, six-spotted thrips, and some predatory mites.

Some corn field margins are showing fairly high numbers of grasshoppers, especially those fields which are adjacent to CRP or weedy areas. Damaging infestations need to be controlled early while grasshoppers are small and still in field margins. Ten or more nymphs per square yard in crop margins warrant control measures.

CHEMIGATION
There are new EPA regulations in effect regarding chemigation. These regulations require registrants of pesticides used in agriculture to address the matter of chemigation on the labels of products shipped after April 30, 1988. The label must either 1) prohibit chemigation or 2) permit chemigation. If chemigation is permitted, the 7 statements appearing below must be on the label. In addition to this information on equipment and safety features, the label should discuss agitation requirements, tank mixing instructions, and the quantity of water to use in application.

Survivors include his wife, Cliff; and two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Spears of Waxahachie and Mrs. Polly Crowell of Odessa.

MR AND MRS ROBERT HARRISON

Bonnie Harrison Robert Harrison Services Held

Funeral services for Bonnie and Robert L. Harrison were held at 2 p.m. Friday, July 1 in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Barry Bradley pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. E.K. Shepherd, senior adult minister of the First Baptist Church of Brownfield.

Interment was in Bailey County Memorial Park under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Justice of the Peace Dardie Williamson pronounced the couple dead at the scene of a three vehicle accident at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, one half mile west Shallowater on Highway 84.

Mrs Harrison was born on April 17, 1912, and moved to Muleshoe in 1944. She and Harrison were married on Dec. 31, 1938, in Bailey County. She was a housewife and a member of the Muleshoe First Baptist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Janie Lowrie of Seminole and Brenda Sales of Hillsboro; a sister, Annie Ellard of Fort Worth; two brothers, Joe Mitchell of Littlefield and David Mitchell of Amarillo; and four grandchildren.

Born March 1, 1918, in Lamar County, Harrison was co-owner of Plains Auto Parts until his retirement in 1982. He was a member of the Muleshoe First Baptist Church and a veteran of W.W. II, serving in the U.S. Coast Guard. He married Bonnie Mitchell on Dec. 31, 1938 in Bailey County.

Merle Haggard Closes Fair At Lubbock

Country music superstar Merle Haggard will help close the 71st annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair here this year, Steve L. Lewis, general manager, has announced.

Haggard and his band-The Strangers will appear in a 7 p.m. show on October 1, the final day of the eight-day run. He will be making his third appearance at the exposition, having recorded stints here in 1971 and again in 1980, Lewis said.

He joins six other shows booked for Fair Park Coliseum, including Dan Seals and Kathy Mattea, 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. September 24; the Oak Ridge Boys, 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sept. 25; Highway 101 and Sweethearts of the Rodeo, 7 p.m. only September 26; Exile, 7 p.m. only Sept. 27; Michael Martin Murphy and Holly Dunn, 7 p.m. only September 29 and Ray Stevens, 7 p.m. only September 30.

One of the top country recording stars in the nation, Haggard's first recording was "Singing My Heart Out" on Talley Records. His first national hit was "Sing a Bad Song", recorded in 1963. It went to No. 19 on the Billboard singles chart that year.

"All My Friends are Gonna Be Strangers" was his breakthrough album and made the TOP 10 list during 1965. His first million-seller was "Okie From Muskogee."

Haggard has appeared in four movies and has had roles in several television shows. He has performed in the White House for President Ronald Reagan and former President Richard M. Nixon. He also has authored a book.

Haggard's country music credits are notable and lengthy. He has logged 39 No. 1 singles, including "Mama Tried", "Hungry Eyes", "The Fightin' Side of Me," "If We Make It Through December," "Big City", "Daddy Frank" and "That's the Way Love Goes."

Since 1965, Haggard has logged five dozen albums on five different labels. He has received more than six dozen albums from the Academy of Country Music, eight from Cash Box, four from Record World, five from Music City New, six from the Country Music Association, 41 from Broadcast Music, Inc. and four other miscellaneous honors.

He has teamed with Bonnie Owens and Willie Nelson on several occasions and his band has earned numerous awards as a group. Haggard's personal honors include male vocalist of the year, top male vocalist, entertainer of the year, best vocal group (with Owens), composer/performer of the year, vocal duo of the year (with Nelson) and many others.

He has been nominated 38 times for Country Music Association awards, more than any other male entertainer.

Tickets for all of the fair shows are $10 each and mail order reservations may be made by writing to Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Mail orders will be processed in the order in which received and must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Orders will be processed in early August.

SPC Announces GED Revisions

A revised GED exam will be given in two testing sessions July 8 and 9, according to Karen Turner, counselor at South Plains College.

Exam time is 8 a.m.-5 p.m. in the SPC counseling center, located on the third floor of the library. Fee is $25. A re-test is scheduled 5-8 p.m. July 14. Fee is $5 per subject.

The five-part test includes writing skills (two hours); social studies (85 minutes); science (95 minutes); interpreting literature and the arts (95 minutes); and mathematics (90 minutes). The total testing time is seven-and-a-half hours, plus 30 minutes for registration.

"The tests are 12th grade level and reflect intellectual ability, rather than specific knowledge," said Turner.

A book, "The High School Equivalency Diploma Test," is available from the SPC bookstore for about $7. Preparation books for certain parts of the GED tests are also available at a cost of $3 each.

Applicants must present a social security number and current driver's license with picture and signature of Department of Public Safety ID card. Applicants must be a Texas resident, at least 17 years of age and officially withdrawn from high school.

To make an appointment for the GED exam, contact the SPC counseling office at (806) 894-9611, ext. 365.

Ray Stevens To Headline Amarillo Fair

The 1988 Amarillo Tri State Fair, scheduled for September 19-24, will again offer quality musical entertainment each night during the event. Fair officials are happy to announce the appearance of Ray Stevens on Tuesday, September 20th at 8:00 p.m.

Who is Ray Stevens? Is he a comedian or is he a singer/songwriter to be taken seriously? He is both. His thought-provoking "Mr. Businessman" which reflects his sincere concern about the world and his Grammy Award-winning "Everything Is Beautiful" portray Ray's feelings honestly. On the comedy side, his tremendous wit, musical ability and lyrical diversity has exposed the world to such highly successful recordings as "Ahab The Arab" and "Haary The Hairy Ape". Those songs in the early sixties fixed Ray's image in people's minds as that of the class clown. Then he wrote and recorded "Unwind" and "Mr. Businessman" and people asked "Is this the same guy?" it was indeed the same Ray Stevens because in the late sixties, he suffered a relapse with the classic "Gitarzan" followed by "Along Came Jones." Then the pendulum to the other extreme and Ray's "Everything Is Beautiful" became a modern day classic and a standard in every sense of the word.

Tickets for all of the fair shows are $10 each and mail order reservations may be made by writing to Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Mail orders will be processed in the order in which received and must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Orders will be processed in early August.

The linden, in the fervors of July,
Hums with a louder concert.
—Bryant

July ushers in the second half of the calendar year. It's still the first month of the fiscal year for some and thus has special importance in the business world.

July is named for Julius Caesar, changed from its former name, Quintilis, on the order of Mark Antony. It was the month in which Caesar was born.

For Americans July is especially historic. Our independence is celebrated on the Fourth, of course, and the Battle of Gettysburg was fought during the first three days of July, 1863.

Three of our presidents were born in July: John Quincy Adams, Calvin Coolidge and Gerald Ford.

The first admiral in the U.S. Navy, David G. Farragut, was born on July 5, 1801. The Republican Party was founded July 6, 1854, at Jackson, Michigan.

A largely forgotten, though relatively recent day, is July 10. On that day in 1943 the Allies invaded Europe for the first time in World War II. General Dwight Eisenhower led an amphibious invasion of Sicily.

July, first full month of summer, is a month of vacations, holidays, swimming, boating and outdoor pleasures—and, regrettably, too many highway and holiday deaths.

Heat Stress Warnings Can Save Many Lives

Listening to the "heat stress" or "heat index" readings meteorologists often give in their summer weathercasts could help prevent situations leading to dehydration and sun stroke.

In recent years, meteorologists have begun using the terms, "heat stress" or "heat index" to describe the relationship between temperatures and humidity, according to Dr. Clift Price, Associate Commissioner for Personal Health Services at the Texas Department of Health.

"The television and radio reports are helpful in planning outside activities," he said. "Humid heat can especially be deadly for the very young, the elderly, persons with heart or respiratory problems, and those taking medications."

Dr. Price explained that the heat stress index is a numerical table by which the National Weather Service rates the degree of discomfort a person may feel at a given temperature and humidity. Although the table does not allow for the variables of wind and shade, which Dr. Price said, can greatly influence an individual's tolerance of heat and humidity, the index reading is useful in helping persons take needed precautions against dehydration and sun stroke.

A heat stress index reading of 105 is considered very dangerous, Dr. Price warned. High temperature alone is physically tolerable to most people, but in combination with humidity, it can cause an individual's cooling mechanism, perspiration, to work overtime. "If one fails to replace the fluids and salts lost through perspiration, dehydration can occur," he said.

Symptoms of dehydration are muscle cramps, nausea, dizziness, headache, and low blood pressure. If fluids are not replaced, heat stroke can ensue, causing sudden weakness, severe headache, loss of consciousness, brain damage, even death, if the victim is not quickly treated.

"To avoid danger of overheating, people should dress in light-colored, loose-fitting clothing. They should drink more than their normal intake of water, and be sure to have water available if they need it. They should seek good ventilation. And as important as anything else, they should remain aware of their own physical conditions and the weather conditions," Dr. Price explained.

He said some 200 people in the U.S. die as the result of hot weather during an average year.

"Since severe drought conditions already have developed nationwide this year, it is possible that heat waves will take a heavier-than-normal toll of lives—if people fail to be cautious," Dr. Price said.

In Fashion

As the weather becomes progressively warmer, the focus is on texture and weaves for cool comfort. Cool, crisp, cotton pique, in black and white, is fashioned into dresses suitable for day or evening wear.

A black skirt with a crisp, short-sleeved, fitted white jacket featuring the popular flared peplum is most attractive. For contrast, one might choose a charming white cotton sundress with eyelet border. It is cinched at the waist with a wide black belt. Black shoes and clutch bag completes this elegant summer outfit.
