

State cutting funds to school

Local taxpayers must come up with additional $25,922 this year

As if Iowa Park school officials didn't have enough problems trying to stretch their money far enough to educate their students, another shock came out of Austin this week.

They will have less money from the state than had been estimated for the budget -- $25,922 less.

Supt. Glen Mitchell said Wednesday morning he had still not received official word from the Texas Education Agency, but had learned from a story in the Wichita Falls paper, which has a news bureau in the state capital.

Iowa Park's district, according to the article, will have its state funding cut for the 1989-90 year from $1,584 to $1,570 per student, as figured on the average daily attendance (ADA).

Mitchell said the topic was also discussed at a meeting of school administrators he had attended Tuesday.

The cut in funding from state is reportedly a recommendation of a committee of the State Board of Education.

Committee chairman Will Davis of Austin laid the blame for the shortfall on the legislature, saying "...the legislature forced the board to go with the most conservative enrollment estimates for this school year and next."

Cuts, though not yet available, will be even greater for the 1990-91 school year, the article stated.

The shortfall will cut the fund balance, budgeted to be $825,000 at the end of the year, Mitchell said. The carryover of funds is necessary to pay the costs of operating the school in the fall until state and local tax money is received.

Without the carryover, schools must borrow money on which to operate, which happened one year to Iowa Park in the early 1970s.

The cuts per ADA appear to be based on each district's tax rate and ability to increase funds locally.

Iowa Park trustees did not raise the tax rate this year, and the district remained the lowest in this area.

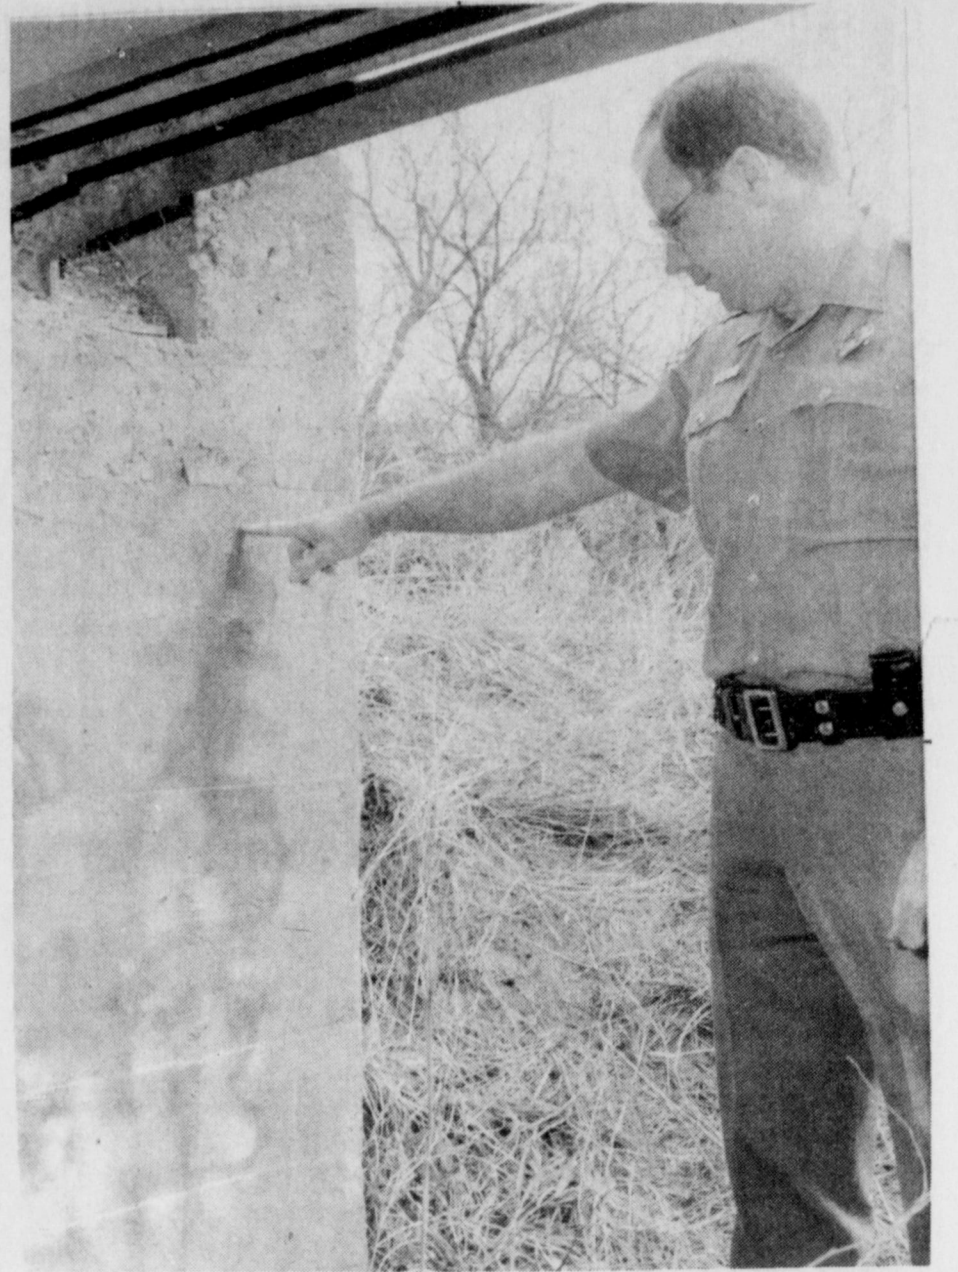

However, prior to their voting to approve a $2.75-million bond issue last fall, taxpayers were told that the rate would be increased by at least 11-cents per $100 evaluation just to pay for that expenditure.

When the state board's enrollment estimates were set, which was to include increased number of students, the estimates reportedly fell short by 12,000 students statewide this year, and an estimated 22,000 more next year.

"We are told every year that the money allotted (from the state) could be reduced," Mitchell said, "but this is the first time (it has happened)."

While the superintendent retains the hope that the legislature, which is to meet soon in a called session, will find the funds to make up for the shortfall, he said, "I feel we're going to lose that money. I feel it."

3 appointed to P&Z board

Appointments were made to fill three of four vacant positions on the city's planning and zoning commission during Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Terms expire for two members, Bob Goodnight and Billy McNeely, and two other poses are being vacated by the resignations of Keith Aulds and Vern Horsky.

Aldermen confirmed the appointments submitted by Mayor Tim Hunter of Ray Zimmerer, 110 W. Washington, Jackie Kimbler, 1511 Johnson Road, and James Crowley, 902 Dosa.

Zimmerer was appointed for a full, three-year term; Kimbler to serve two years of an unexpired term, and Crowley to complete a one-year term.

The council gave Administrator James Barrington directions to work out a non-annexation agreement with Entex Fabrication, in response to a request by Mike Avey for water and sewer service to the plant's site, which is located outside the city.

The agreement would be similar to one between Cryovac and the city. Once completed, council approval will be required.

The council also agreed to a request submitted by Denny McCarthy to provide the materials for building a new fence on the west side of Lake Buffalo, along Burnett Road.

McCarthy, who leases the property for cattle grazing, said he would do the work of erecting the fence.

Cost to the city was estimated at approximately $1,800, while McCarthy said his "in-kind" contribution would be more than $2,300 worth of labor.

The old fence, McCarthy said, is in need of replacing, especially where it has been covered by water when the lake's level backs up over the road.

McCarthy also proposed to build three gates in addition to the existing cattle guard, explaining some fishermen cut the fence for entry when the roads are in bad condition due to rain, so they can get to the lake.

Following a public appearance by Harold Smith, local TU Electric manager who explained details of his company's 10.2-percent rate increase request now before the state's Public Utilities Commission, the council took action to grant a rate schedule and service regulations whenever it is approved by the Commission.

A resolution was read, calling for an ordinance setting May 5 as the date for the next city election. The ordinance is expected to be acted on at the next council meeting.

Besides Hunter's position as mayor, two alderman seats, Bud Mercer and Bud Burch, will be decided.

Burch said after the meeting that he would not seek re-election, but Mercer confirmed he would file for another term. Hunter, while expected to run again, has not made a statement.

The council accepted the lowest of two bids submitted for the construction of drying beds to be built at the water treatment plant. It was offered by Glen Taylor Concrete, for $10,609.75.

Only one bid was received for a three-year grounds maintenance contract, submitted by BECO, the firm that currently has the contract.

Barrington pointed out the rate for mowing has been lowered from $38.12 per acre to $37, and aldermen approved the bid.

Also approved were two resolutions. One would request a grant from the state to fund the salary of a

Sales tax picture improves

Despite the fact that this month's sales tax rebate check from Austin is lower than January's, the year's figures are somewhat improved.

Iowa Park received a check in the amount of $20,386.03, which is 3.59-percent less than the check the city received in February 1989.

And eventhough Iowa Park is the only city in the county showing a minus for the two-month total, 6.85-percent, that is an improvement over the -12.07 reported in January.

Iowa Park has, in the two months of 1990, received $32,003.35 in sales taxes, as compared with $34,358.32 this time last year.

Electra, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls are all in the plus column for the year, according to a report from the state comptroller's office, with gains over last year of 16.82, 10.44 and 2.85 percent, respectively.

For some unexplainable reason, Holliday is reporting a significant drop in sales taxes, -60.23, for the year. In two months, Holliday has received only $9,100.40, as compared to $22,879.99 in 1989.

February's checks reflect taxes collected on December sales and reported in January by businesses filing monthly tax returns. Also included in this month's payments are sales tax collections reported by quarterly and yearly filers.

Three thefts are reported

Iowa Park police have received three reports of thefts during the past week, one of them a cellular phone.

Someone broke out a right-door window of a van parked in the 400 block of W. Magnolia sometime Monday night and took a Uniden made phone valued at $700. Damage to the vehicle during the theft was set at $500.

A Yamaha dirt bike was reportedly taken from a home in the 500 block of W. Magnolia last week. The report was filed Friday morning.

That same day, someone reportedly took a hood and trunk ornament from a 1987 Cadillac parked at the high school. A similar case was reported during the past two weeks from another Cadillac that was parked in a residential area.

Three persons were arrested during the past week.

Reginald Walters, 35, was taken

RUTH GARD -

Keeping busy no problem for retiree

By MYRNA SMITH

Most women who have worked for the public more than four decades have one thought in mind when they retire. They want to start with a thorough house cleaning, getting rid of things that have accumulated through the years, and doing thing they haven't had the time for while working. Ruth Dorris Gard is no different.

But unlike many people who retire, she doesn't plan to do a lot of traveling. She has been fortunate enough to have already made several nice trips, so that is not a priority with her.

Ruth retired Jan. 1 after working the last 30 years as a secretary for Wichita County Farm Bureau, although the past 10 years has been on a part time basis.

To paraphrase Will Rogers' "I never met a man I didn't like," Ruth can truthfully say "I never had a boss I didn't like." She said, "They all were a pleasure to work for and I'm proud that I can say I never had a bad experience with any of them." She added, "It was a difficult decision for me to make up my mind to go into full time retirement when I enjoyed my work with Farm Bureau so much."

Mrs. Gard began working for Wichita County Farm Bureau in 1959 as secretary, office manager, "And I might add janitor," she laughed. The late Loys Barbour was District 3 director and Terry Brogdon was president at that time. The office was located just south of the old Metz Cafe which was at the corner of Cash and Wall Streets.

"We had two desks and a typewriter when I started working for Farm Bureau," she recalled, "if we needed copies of course we made carbon copies. Sending letters and other information to 16 directors took quite a bit of time." In a few years the office bought a copying machine and now it has a computer.

In 1968 a building was purchased at 520 W. Highway across from Thompson Tool Co., and in 1986 the present building was constructed across the street from the Post Office.

Now, in addition to Greg Bagley, agency manager, there are two agents, two secretaries and two adjusters who office in the building.

Wichita County Farm Bureau was organized in 1935 with the late Walter Scott as the first president. Mrs. Scott and Ruth (Mrs. Swan) Reaves are the only surviving charter members of the organization.

But, Mrs. Gard explains, the Bureau was still in its organizational days when she went to work. Reflecting on that period, she said members would bring them vegetables and cakes and other "goodies" when they came to town.

The women would stay and visit while their husbands transacted other business. Or the men would come in and stay while their wives shopped or went to the beauty shop. "It gave you the feeling of being in a big, happy family."

One of her most treasured items of those days is a beautiful Texas cookbook which was given to her by Ruth Foster.

"I can not remember ever missing a board meeting in the 20 years I worked full time," Mrs. Gard says, "and I never asked for a raise in salary." She also has praise for members of the board during the years. "Every year at the meeting before my birthday, the members would 'pass the hat' which of course was a money gift, and that certainly meant a lot. They were so good to me," she said.

She continued, "But many things have changed through the years and people now just don't have the time to devote to some of the things they did in the first 20 years of my tenure with Farm Bureau. We used to have breakfasts and the directors and volunteer workers from the membership would go in pairs to solicit new members. I've always felt really close to the membership and have made some lasting friendships that I cherish."

Until about 10 years ago an annual queen contest was held. Mrs.

Gard was in charge of that. She also wrote articles concerning Wichita County Farm Bureau activities for the newspapers and compiled a scrapbook each year to enter in state competition. They never failed to win awards, many of them first places. She was largely responsible for numerous awards in membership and safety as well as public relations. "We knew the thrill of winning and enjoyed every minute of it," she said.

Prior to working for Farm Bureau, Mrs. Gard's first job was part time at City Hall. Then she worked six years for the Carroll Duke Insurance Agency and later for the Earle L. Denny Insurance Agency. She worked for Thompson Tool Co., and was secretary for Ted Overbey when he was manager of the old Texas-Oklahoma Fair. She has only praise for those employers.

A widow with a son, eight, and twin daughters, four, when she went to work for Thompson Tool in 1951, Mrs. Gard drew a salary of $140 a month and received a survivors insurance check for about $150 a month for the children. She didn't have a car and a neighbor took her to work every day.

Her boss, the late Laverne Thompson, would loan her a company car to drive on weekends. Before long he asked Ruth if she would

S.P.A.A.C.E. is program topic

Candace McKee, teacher at Iowa Park High School, was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Iowa Park Optimist Club.

Mrs. McKee brought three of her students with her to inform the club of the S.P.A.A.C.E. (Students Provided Advanced Academic and Classical Education) program at the high school.

Mrs. McKee explained that, on a curve, three percent of the population are geniuses and three percent are mentally handicapped. She classified the students in the S.P.A.A.C.E. program as being geniuses.

She and the students then thanked the club for the $200 donated for teaching aids for the program.

Julie (Mrs. Al) Denton moved to Iowa Park in 1984 to work as a drafter at Cryovac.

She is a native of Lima, Ohio, where she graduated from high school and attended college.

She is married to Al Denton, who recently opened A.J.'s Short Stop on West Highway. The couple has a daughter, Emily, five and a half months old.

When time permits, Julie enjoys cross-stitch, reading and bike riding. But, right now, she is kept busy with her work, caring for her baby, housekeeping, and occasionally help-ing out at the store.

Julie said she had never heard of Chicken Fried Steak until she moved to Texas. When Al asked her what they do with round steak in Ohio, she replied, "they make Beef Stroganoff."

So, a recipe for "Beef Stroganoff" is among those submitted by Julie for our readers this week.

Garden Club celebrates 30th year

Bob Dawson, former principal of Iowa Park High School, was guest speaker Friday evening at a Valentine Social and 30th Anniversary Celebration of the Iowa Garden Club.

The Iowa Park MuleSkinners catered the steak dinner, held at the MuleBarn.

Dawson gave a humorous talk entitled "Growing Up with Today's Kids," giving many examples of the funny things kids do and say based on his 28 years experience in the Iowa Park educational system.

Dawson challenged the audience to raise their children and grandchildren by following the example which Christ gave in Mark 4:1-25 of the Bible, using the parable of the soil as a guide.

Mrs. B.J. Gilmore gave the invocation, and each member answered roll call by introducing her guest and telling where they first met them.

The social committee provided decorations for the event. The tables, covered in white, were sprinkled with red, heart-shaped glitter and laid with red and white place mats and streamers. Red sacks filled with red and white curled streamers and tied with red and white helium-filled balloons centered each table.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

In pointing out the need to save structural heritage, Don James, a native of Iowa Park and now editor of the Wichita Falls Times Record News, recently had a comment about this publication that leaves a need of explanation.

Let me quote, "In the 70s, Iowa Park lost its historic W.F. George High School building, and when The Paper took regretful note of its passing, Iowa Park Leader in an editorial suggested that we mind our own business.

"Since then, interested Iowa Park folks, thanks to the generosity of descendants of Burk Burnett, his son Tom and cousin Will, have saved the showplace Tom Burnett home for a public library."

All is very correct. But there's some background a lot of people now living here might not know about.

We said the neighboring town should take care of its own, because the criticism of tearing down the old high school building was made only after months of study by the Iowa Park board of trustees.

There was not a representative of the criticizing publication at a single meeting of the board, and therefore, that newspaper's staff knew absolutely nothing about the reasons for the dismantling decision.

The building was a hazard, to the point that a restraining fence was put up to protect students on campus.

The east wall of the auditorium was cracking to the point it leaned.

And, had that been fixed, and all the wiring and plumbing replaced, the district would still have had an old wooden-floor structure, without central airconditioning, to maintain.

It cost less to tear down the old landmark than it would have cost just to repair the auditorium wall.

Having been a graduate of the school, James was naturally emotionally involved in the decision and criticism.

At the time of the decision, the district had more than enough classroom space for its students. So, after months of laboring over its final decision, the board voted to have the building razed.

Had the project's critics been on hand during the lengthy study, we likely would not have written what we did.

And now, about our beautiful Tom Burnett Memorial Library, and its having been saved as a landmark, I'll tell you something I've never felt necessary.

To my knowledge, I was the first to make the suggestion that the home eventually be turned over to the city for use as a library.

It was made to Mrs. Maggie Burnett back about 1971, through her church pastor, Rev. Ken Flowers.

The idea came from a project in Amarillo, back in the 1950s, which saved an historic home that was located between the downtown business area and Amarillo High School. It had worked very satisfactorily, and I felt it might apply here.

For years after that, I received no encouragement that it might happen.

I never mentioned it, not wanting any credit, but have been entirely supportive of our library ever since the deal was worked out among family members.

The only reason I'm telling this story now, is to let you, and James, know that I, too, am interested in maintaining historical structures. When it is feasible.

Worth Quoting

We're convinced that more money is not the answer to solve the problems of public education in Texas.

After listening to the candidates debate the issue and hearing Dr. Bill Kirby, commissioner of education, more tax money over the next five years may equalize parity between rich and poor school districts, but it won't give us quality education.

More money may well get the courts off the back of public education in Texas but historically, it will do little to improve the product of our public schools.

And campaign oratory aside, there are no easy answers to correcting the situation.

Every school day, 500 students from grades 7 through 12, drop out of school. At the end of this school year, 80,000 students will have elected to drop out of school -- permanently.

Kirby told Texas Press delegates in Dallas the other day that sometime during their 12 years of public education, 60 percent of all students will be coming to school from single parent homes.

He told of touring the Japanese school system last year and studying that country's public education. General Douglas MacArthur installed public education in Japan following their defeat after World War II. The system was modeled after this country's system and was set up by educators from the U.S.

He could find no measurable difference between their system and ours. The physical facilities were about the same, the teacher-pupil ratio the same as was the curriculum.

The two major difference between their system and ours were simple: parents and moral values.

The teaching of moral values is part of the curriculum in Japan. The teaching of right and wrong, of not lying, cheating, stealing, of integrity, of self-discipline is not necessarily a conflict with separation of church and state.

Moral values were taught in public schools in this country until the generations of the sixties and seventies hit the streets to thumb their noses at all public institutions including schools.

But Dr. Kirby and the Texas legislature can throw additional billions at our public schools but until we can involve and educate the parents of those students, we're not going to have quality education.

After the luncheon we suggested to the commissioner that somewhere in the legislative process, extra money should be set aside to reward those school districts that develop successful pilot programs to re-educate, re-enforce, re-develop parents in attaching the discipline, and the ultimate rewards of quality education.

And teachers cannot give students quality education without quality parents.

And here in Texas we can no longer blame poor education on the huge influx of non-English speaking students. Last year, the Petersburg school district near Lubbock outscored every other school district in the state with a 100 percent passing rate on the freshman TEAMS test. Yet 65 percent of the students in Petersburg are Hispanic.

Most of the Asian students arriving in this country cannot speak English. Yet they quickly rise to the upper percentage of the class. The difference has to be the importance and discipline attached to education in that home.

Before we can have quality education, somehow, someway, we need to help that mother who married at 17, now has 3 children, no husband, an 8-hour job, and struggling to keep food on the table and freshly laundered clothes on the backs of her school-age children.

And if she still carries the sixties' syndrome of anti-establishment, anti-schools, perhaps surrogate parents for educational purposes may have to be appointed.

This state cannot tolerate the loss of 80,000 kids annually from obtaining an education -- the future price we'll pay in crime rate, lack of earnings, lack of citizenship, lack of productivity, and ultimate swelling of the welfare ranks staggers the imagination.

want to buy a car and put it on his books and pay him $1 a week or month or whatever she could.

He also paid for her insurance which was about $4 a month. "To a widow with three small children, that really meant a lot to me," she said.

Ruth married Parnley (Bud) Gard in March, 1941. He died in 1951.

A native of Iowa Park, Ruth was born on a farm four miles south of town to T.P. and Alice Dorris. She graduated Iowa Park High School in 1929 and was active in volleyball and tennis. "I guess I grew up a tomboy, since my only sibling was my brother Frank," she said. But she still loves sports and watches the games on television.

Following graduation from high school, she attended the old Wichita Falls Junior College until her mother became ill and she stayed home to care for her until her death in 1938. Her father died in 1919 and her mother purchased the home on Yosemite where Ruth continues to live. She is the only surviving member of the Dorris family.

In November Ruth attended her 60th class reunion and out of a class of 29 there were 10 of the 14 surviving members in attendance. She served as treasurer of the Iowa Park Alumni Assoc. 22 years, retiring from that post in November.

She plans to do more church work now that she will have more time. She is a member of the Church of Christ and has been attending the local congregation longer than any of the other members.

Of artistic bent, Mrs. Gard loves crafts and plans to do more than she has in the past. She and five of her friends meet often and work together.

She has an impressive collection of one of the crafts she enjoys most, that of eggery. She became interested in this when she attended a seminar with a friend. Her children love everything she makes, but according to Ruth's assessment, she is barely average. She also is a proficient seamstress.

One of her hobbies is collecting thimbles and she has a large collection which her son and friends have added to through the years, including some from England and Canada. She also has an interesting collection of antique fruit jars and some silver pieces.

Her son, Jim, lives near Norman, Ok., and is in sales, and her daughters, Dianne and Dorris, live in Fort Worth and work for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. She also has two grandsons.

Mrs. Gard may be completely retired from the workplace, but she will find plenty to keep her busy.

Another ordinance also approved grants the abandonment of a 20-foot strip of right of way on the east side of the 400 block of N. Victoria.

A proposal to allow the public works department make available to plumbing, mechanical and electrical contractors books of work permits was also approved.

The books are optional and not required, aldermen were told. Individual permits remain available.

into custody at 2:38 a.m. Friday in the 100 block of W. Park on a charge of public intoxication. He was released at 7:02 after posting a cash bond, according to the police blotter.

Tuesday, the city's municipal court judge committed Randy Hutson, 34, to serve out a fine he could not pay. He was transported to Wichita County jail.

Also arrested Tuesday evening was Forest Green Cook, 54, on a warrant issued by the DPS in Bowie for speeding. He was released after paying a $50 fine, according to the blotter.

Rain reported

Iowa Park received .12 of an inch rainfall from showers that moved over the area Friday, according to Virgil Woodfin.

More precipitation began falling Wednesday morning, and that was to be followed by additional moisture, according to the weather forecast.

"FOR JESUS' SAKE"
For Jesus' Sake are wonder-working words. They are able to work powerful changes in our interpersonal relationships. Let me encourage you to work this truth out in your life, in your family, in your business, and personal life. What do you think would happen to you if you begin to make every decision based upon this truth? What would you do differently if you were to do this particular action for Jesus' sake?
When we seek to do whatever we do based on the truth that we will do it for Jesus' sake, several things will happen:
(1) we will make Jesus the King of our lives. By doing this, we dethrone self and we enthrone Jesus!
(2) we shift our motives from ourselves to Him.
(3) we make Him the Master, and we recognize ourselves as His Servants and His stewards.
(4) he becomes the focus of all we do -- not our husband, wife, children, parents -- but Him, and Him alone!
It is a fact. This great spiritual truth is so simple. This truth may appear to you to be so simple that after you read it you will forget it. If you do, you will make a very serious mistake.
Are you having problems in your marriage? Are you having difficulties with your children? With your parents? Difficulty at work? Poor judgment in handling your finances?
What changes would take place in your life if you began to do everything "For Jesus' Sake"??

Time management topic of Amity program

Time management was the program topic Monday evening at a meeting of Amity Study Club.

Margaret Denton led the program, using for reference the book "I Just Need More Time" by Liz Miller and Carol Burns. She stated that with the modern day role of women, self-management is very important to learn and incorporate into a lifestyle.

She gave several helpful hints for lifestyle management including spending one hour each day on yourself; exercise for 12 minutes four times each week; get out of bed 30 minutes before anyone else in the house; have a spot for everything; and always have a "To Do" list.

Gail McIlroy gave the meditation using four short devotions from "Please Give Another Devotion," using Time in each one.

During the business, Marilyn Hale presented the Federation Counselor's Report. She suggested that members bring items for the "Country Store," to be held March 17.

Evelyn Ward named a nominating committee to include Mrs. Hale, Annetta Reusch and Judy Brown.

It was announced that items such as baseball caps and bud vases to be taken to M.D. Anderson Hospital be brought to the club's March meeting. In other business, members approved a donation of $25 to go to "Project Graduation."

The club met in the home of Janice Grey with Dawn Coffman serving as co-hostess.

Trustees to meet Tuesday

Iowa Park school trustees will undertake two major topics at their meeting next week, including bids for asbestos removal, air conditioners for the high school, and contracts for administrative personnel.

The board will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building. It was re-scheduled from the regular second-Tuesday date.

Bids have been received for a major project of removing asbestos from the junior high building, and also multi-zone units to replace the 20-year-old air conditioner/heating units.

Accidental Discovery May End Obesity

Suppresses calorie absorption
SWEDEN--Medical researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, have discovered (accidentally) a new weight-loss formula. The new discovery appears to enable an overweight individual to lose pounds and fatty tissue without conventional dieting or exercise.

Scientists made the discovery while searching for a formula to lower cholesterol. In a controlled study of a test group of people, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but the doctors were astounded to find that every patient who used the formula lost weight. The published report of this study stated, "A highly significant decrease in body weight was seen" in patients who received the formula.

The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits". One patient in this study lost more than 30 pounds.

According to one informed source, the active ingredient comes from a 100% natural botanical source and contains no drugs or stimulants. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, suppressing their absorption.

A significant portion of the calories ingested therefore pass through the digestive system unabsorbed. The body has to get energy to replace the lost calories, so it starts to burn stored fat, which can result in rapid body weight loss. Clinical testing has verified the safety of this formula for long-term use.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida, has exclusive North American distribution rights. A review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Cal-Ban 3000 is reasonably priced at $19.95 for a 3-week supply and $38.95 for a 6-week supply. Postage and handling is $3. VISA, M/C, AMEX and COD orders are accepted. To order call TOLL-FREE 1-800-537-3723 or purchase locally at Settle Drug Store, 120 W. Park, Iowa Park, TX.

Call today to begin the pleasant transformation from fat and flab to the slender firm body you want! If you fail to achieve a major weight loss you may return the empty bottle within 30 days for a 100% refund.

JV keeps slate clean at home

The Hawk Junior Varsity maintained its perfect at-home record Tuesday night by defeating Decatur 52-43. The team finished the season with a 19-6 record, but all the losses were suffered on the road.

J'Bill Merrick canned almost half the team's points against Decatur, scoring 25.

Merrick also had 11 in the team's 48-38 win Friday at Bowie.

The Freshmen were edged in the final seconds of their game with Decatur, 49-48, and ended their season with six wins against 15 losses.

One of their other losses was a 71-59 defeat Friday at Bowie.

Henrietta tops Vernon

Iowa Park hosted a warm-up game Monday between Dist. 5-AAA runner-up Vernon and Henrietta girls' teams.

A fourth-quarter rally by the Class AA Henrietta club succeeded, 55-50, after trailing 41-34 at the end of the third period.

Dorner leads most stats

To no one's surprise, junior Kerri Dorner led the Lady Hawks in almost every statistical category during the 1989-90 basketball season.

In scoring 387 points through the 30-game schedule, she hit 39 percent of her field goal attempts and 64 percent of her free shots, while pulling down 161 rebounds and dishing out 55 assists.

Freshman Erica Knight was second in scoring with 199 points, but led the team with 180 rebounds.

Senior point guard Angie Turner was the team leader in assists with 64, and was third-high scorer with 166 points.

Season scoring totals credited to the other Lady Hawks included: Melody Gray 158; Marcy McCarthy 109; Michelle Cannedy 74; Deanna Sosebee 63; Shonna Weaver 59; Stefany Lozipone 38; Julie Short 15; Misti Murry 14 and 17 by "others."

The Lady Hawks ended the season with 11 wins and 19 losses, and in Dist. 5-AAA play finished 2-8.

Coaches vs. KNIN 9-ers Friday nite

It's being called a "basketball extravaganza," but what it is, is an inexpensive evening's entertainment for families.

Members of Iowa Park schools' coaching staff will take on the KNIN 9-ers at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the high school gymnasium.

A bean and cornbread supper will be served prior to the game, in the school cafeteria, by the Iowa Park Booster Club, which is sponsoring the evening's events.

Tickets for the meal are $1.50, while admission into the gymnasium is $1.

A performance by the popular IPHS Jazz Band will begin at 7, as the players are warming up.

The band will reappear during the halftime, along with the Top O' Texas Rockin' Rockettes and the "Gyms," a tumbling group from Gymnastics and More.

Baseballers beat Burk

Hawk baseballers defeated Burk Burnett 6-3 in their first scrimmage of the season Tuesday.

The team is scheduled to scrimmage Holliday today, but Coach Daryl Frazier said Tuesday that was unlikely both because of the weather forecast and the fact that the Eagles are still playing basketball, having won the district championship.

Kelly McClure went three-for-three at the plate against the Bulldogs and was credited with four of the team's 11 stolen bases in Tuesday's five-inning competition.

The Hawks are scheduled to take on Hirschi here at 4 p.m. Tuesday in another scrimmage, and do the same Friday with Wichita Falls High.

Their first regular-season game is scheduled here against Archer City on Tuesday, Feb. 27.

Hawks drop final games

With losses in their final two games of the season, Coach Earnie Reusch's Hawk basketball team finished the year with a 13-15 record.

The Hawks lost 71-51 Friday at Bowie, and closed out the season at home with a 66-49 loss to Decatur Tuesday.

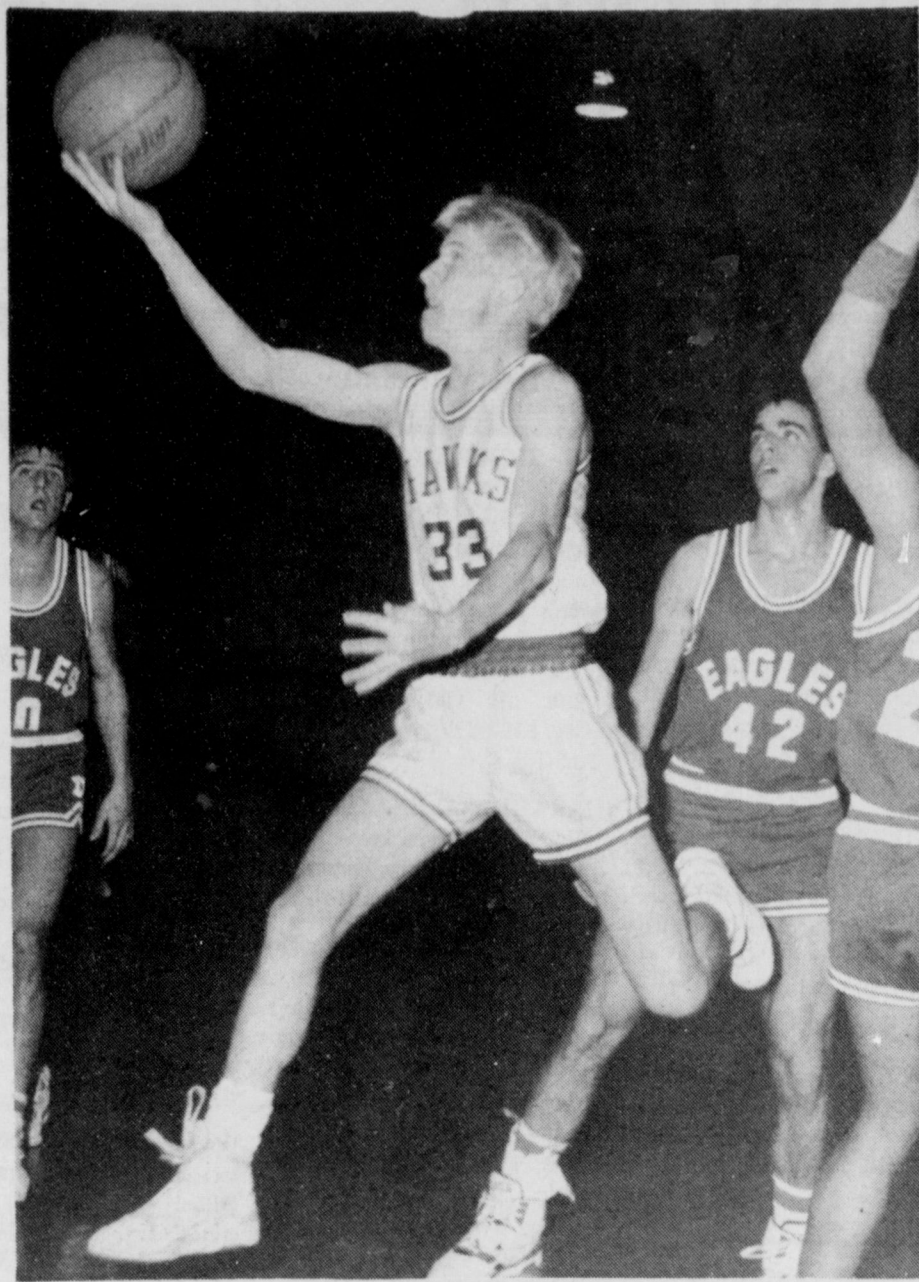

Though the visiting Eagles were the definite pre-game favorites, the aggressive play of the Hawks seemed to confuse Decatur through the first half of play.

Iowa Park led 17-12 after the first quarter. And had the visitors not staged a major rally in the closing seconds of the half, they would have trailed by more than 31-28.

Turnovers in the third quarter led to the Eagles finally taking over the lead with 1:55 left, 41-39. And as three starting Hawks, Jimmy Duggins, Wayne Chitwood and Todd Pulley, left the floor via the foul route in the final period, the Eagles steadily increased their lead. Chitwood led Hawk scorers with 18, and Duggins had 13. Bowie led at the end of all three early periods, 13-8, 26-21 and 57-32. Duggins had the hot hand in that contest with 18 points, and Gary Green had 10.

Shorts

Bowie High athletes received a shock a couple of weeks ago. It seems there was a party at a home raided by that city's police. Among those attending were two male and two female starters on respective basketball teams. All were suspended, because the school's policy says, "...athletes known to partake of an alcoholic beverage or associated with those that do are guilty by association." At a school board meeting, the observance of the policy was continued, according to the Bowie News.

Besides Bruce Palmer, West Texas State Univ. has received verbal commitments from seven other football players, according to the Canyon News.
