No lack of incentives for Hawks at Bowie

Incentive should not be lacking among the Hawks Friday night when they travel to Bowie for their third district game.

They know they are still in the running for a playoff spot. They want revenge for last year's 9-7 loss to the Jackrabbits. And they'll be playing for their head coach, who will be sweating out the results here at home.

Kickoff time will be 7:30 p.m. Eventhough two teams, Vernon and Breckenridge, in the district remain undefeated by conference opponents, the Hawks still have their sights on a playoff slot.

With a 1-1 record against district opponents, Iowa Park is still in the running because as yet no team in 4-AAA has a lock on advancing past the regular 10-game schedules.

Last year's two-point loss to the Rabbits was only the second time Iowa Park has been on the short end of the score against Bowie, since the two teams first met in 1970.

And both losses -- the other was a 26-22 decision in 1988 -- have been in Hawk Stadium. Scores of the last two games at Bowie were 28-7 in 1989 and 66-0 in 1987.

Iowa Park has amassed a 10-2 record against the Jackrabbits.

Coach Lucky Gamble is forbidden to be with the team, having been placed on suspension. Details of the suspension are in another article on this page.

Bowie and Iowa Park have similar records, 3-5 and 2-6, respectively, but neither club has yet faced a common opponent.

The Jackrabbits have defeated Electra, 41-13; Holliday, 16-13, and Bishop Dunne 22-12. The non-conference losses were to Paris, 42-13, and Trinity Christian, 35-6.

Their two losses were to the district's thus-far leaders, Vernon and Breckenridge. They opened district with a 29-2 loss to the Lions and last week were edged 21-7 by the Buckaroos.

In that contest last week, neither team scored through the first half, and Breckenridge held only a 7-0 lead going into the final period.

The Bucks held the Hares' ground game, including returning starter Trace Morris, to only 97 yards rushing.

So Bowie found success in the air, completing seven of 13 attempts for 108 yards.

Jackrabbit quarterback Ray Darwin, a 160-pound junior who took over that position when the original field general suffered a broken hand earlier in the season, had most of his success connecting with wide receiver Troy Chandler, who had five receptions for 83 yards.

Bowie had a 33-yard touchdown run nullified by a holding penalty in the first period.

In their game with Vernon, Bowie actually lit the scoreboard first when the Jackrabbit defenders sacked the Lions' quarterback in the end zone.

Of the nine seniors, 13 juniors and four sophomores on the Bowie roster, nine players are two-way starters.

Coach Gamble, commenting on last week's win over Bridgeport, said, "We saw how we could move the ball when we did things right. Defensively, we played good, except for two breakdowns in the second half."

The Hawks expect to have at least one of the two starters who were sidelined last week with injuries, back in uniform Friday.

Mark de la Rosa, who has averaged five yards on 34 carries this season, was sidelined with a leg injury sustained against Graham. He is expected to resume his position at Bowie.

Defensive end Patric Kennedy, however, is still nursing a very sore ankle, also hurt at Graham, and is not expected to be at full speed Friday.

End Jason Dudley, who had missed several games with a shoulder injury, returned to play against Bridgeport and is expected to continue the rest of the season.

Oil slick reported near river

Iowa Park police were notified by a caller Wednesday morning that there was an oil spill in the rural area.

The caller told the dispatcher that the spill was on "1205, about five miles north of the city."

However, there is no 1205, and county officials later decided to check farm road 1206, the road from FM 368 to Valley View.

A deposit was found in the area

RESULTS OF ARSON - Firemen were unable to save but one of two structures in the back yard at 1616 Karen Saturday morning. Neighborhood children had been using the structures of the unoccupied home as a play area, and one reportedly set a stuffed bear afire, initiating all the problem, according to David Collins, fire marshal. No charges have yet been filed.

Chamber outlines plans for numerous activities

Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce directors finalized plans for a number of future events, during their regular monthly meeting Monday.

Plans were outlined for the organization's annual all-membership luncheon and election, a turkey-giveaway promotion by businesses, a Christmas decorations contest, downtown stroll promotion, and the annual banquet in January.

The all-membership luncheon will be held Nov. 18, with a catered meal to be held in the new Recreational Activities Center.

Besides a guest speaker, members will vote on three-year-term directors and new officers.

A nominating committee consisting of Sheri Kennedy, Tommy Key and Gary Jones was appointed by president Joe Hughes.

Those elected will take office at the Chamber's annual banquet, which will be held Saturday, Jan. 11, in the high school cafeteria.

A turkey giveaway will be held at several businesses on Nov. 20, where the winners will be chosen from among persons who have registered.

The date was set eight days before Thanksgiving, so the recipients will have time not only to pick up their prizes, but also allow them to thoroughly thaw before cooking, it was pointed out.

Chamber secretary Susan Dillard will be contacting businesses wishing to participate, and a list of participants will be published in the next couple of weeks.

A Christmas decorations contest will be sponsored by the Chamber, open to all residents of the Iowa Park school district.

Script prizes with a value of $50 each will be presented to the winners of two categories: religious and non-religious. Judging will be done during the third week of December, but the names of those judging will remain anonymous.

Another program that will be designed to attract families to visit the business district also is planned for December. Details will be announced at a later date.

Coach suspended Friday

Iowa Park head coach Lucky Gamble will not be at his familiar post along the sideline at Bowie Friday night. He won't even be in Bowie.

Gamble has been suspended one game for allegedly violating a rule of the University Interscholastic League.

Supt. Glen Mitchell confirmed Tuesday that he had suspended Gamble following a meeting Tuesday of the district executive committee.

Details from the committee's meeting are not made public. However, numerous rumors were readily available about town Tuesday which, if true, could possibly explain the action.

Players were reportedly allowed to go to the field house Sunday, Oct. 13, and view films of the Graham game. Most of those players were unable to attend the usual Saturday film viewing session, because they were either scheduled to take the SAT test or attend a church function, according to rumors.

Someone, believed to be a parent of a player, wrote letters not only to the UIL but also the district committee chairman, Graham superintendent Bobby Parker.

Mitchell said a copy of the anonymous letter was not sent to him.

The suspension does not prohibit Gamble from working with the players throughout the week, right up until the time the bus leaves for Bowie.

Gamble told the Leader Tuesday that assistant coaches Robert Clensay and James Skeeler would be doing their usual chores during the game, of calling the defensive and offensive plays, respectively.

Clensay also will make those decisions normally made by the head coach during the contest.

City meeting set Monday

Resolutions, bids and an ordinance are on the city council agenda for Monday night, which is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

One of the resolutions deals with the city's budgets. Included are the writing off of bad debts and checks, adjustments, budget line items, establishing revenue accounts, creation of two new accounts, and an operation budget report for the 1990-91 year.

Another resolution would establish an order of priority and method of repairs to be applied to streets.

The third resolution, if approved, would support passage of Proposition Four on the Nov. 5 state constitution amendment ballot.

The proposition, if passed, would allow the state to issue up to $1.1 billion in general obligation bonds for construction and renovation of various facilities such as prisons and institutions.

Aldermen will consider authorizing administrator Gary Jones to advertise for bids to construct valley gutters, as well as purchasing fire hydrants, valves, valve boxes, fittings and pipe.

The ordinance, if approved, would establish dates for public hearings required for the annexation of a nine-acre tract of land on FM 368 South.

Administrator Jones will explain an emergency purchase required for equipment at the sewer treatment plant.

COACH Lucky Gamble and players watch from the sidelines during Friday night's 40-0 win over Bridgeport. It was the Hawks' second win of the season, but evened their district record at 1-1. Full details are on page 8.

Lehman, Beavers recite vows in double-ring ceremony

After they return from a wedding trip to Honolulu, Hawaii, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy David Beavers will be at home in Irving.

The former Kellye Ann Lehman and Beavers recited double ring marriage vows Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in First Baptist Church. Rev. Larry Washburn, pastor of Pacific Avenue Baptist Church, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Garland Lehman and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Beavers, all of Iowa Park.

Karen Hacker, pianist, provided musical selections and accompanied the soloist, Melissa Logan, cousin of the groom, as she sang "The Lord's Prayer," preceding the ceremony, "The Rose" during the ceremony, and "Just You and I," as the couple lit the unity candle.

Two heart-shaped candelabras entwined with grapeleaf ivy were set with votive cups and flanked by palm trees. The unity candle, centered on a brass holder, was also entwined with greenery and accented with a Bright pink bow.

Bright pink bows marked the pews.

When given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a luxurious white satin gown that was made by her mother.

Bodice of the gown featured a deep V neckline and extended to a V at the waistline. Overlaid with white lace, the bodice was lavishly defined with iridescent sequins and simulated pearls.

Long tapered sleeves were gently gathered at the shoulders and trimmed with lace appliques adorned with pearls and sequins. The lace extended down the sides of the sleeves that pointed at the wrists and were closed with tiny pearl buttons.

The skirt was enhanced with lace appliques sprinkled with pearls and sequins. Seashell scalloped lace bordered the hemline that extended into a short train overlaid with lace and accented with pearls. The train was accented with a large butterfly bow attached at the waist.

A double-tiered fingertip bridal veil was fashioned by Paula Shay, a friend of the bride. It repeated the rose appliques like those on the dress and was caught to a pearl halo with silk flowers and a pouf of illusion.

The bride carried a large cascade bouquet featuring white silk orchids, pink and red roses and English ivy. Centering the bouquet was a large bow of white satin entwined in the flowers.

Added to the bride's bouquet was her first Bible, covered with lace, and a baby ring that belonged to her father and was also worn by the bride as an infant. This served as "something old." Something new was her dress, borrowed was a strand of pearls belonging to her mother, something blue was her garter and she had a new penny in her shoe.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Melinda Solomon of Iowa Park. Bridesmaids were Amy Alderson of Wichita Falls and Rebecca Daymude of Iowa Park. Amber Mayfield of Wichita Falls was flower girl.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identically styled tea-length dresses of turquoise taffeta with a Bright pink lace overlay. The hem, waist, neckline, and sleeve hems were highlighted with Bright pink fabric.

Backs of the dresses featured a scooped neckline with a large Bright pink butterfly bow marking the waist. They wore matching shoes and each carried a single long stemmed Bright pink silk rose with white iridescent ribbon and English ivy extending along the stem.

The flower girl's dress was fashioned of turquoise taffeta after those of the bride's attendants. The bodice was overlaid with pink lace and the skirt was formed by two ruffled tiers.

Waistline and hem of the dress were trimmed with Bright pink. She carried a white wicker basket containing an arrangement in the colors of turquoise and varying shades of pink.

James Davis of Richland Hills served as best man for the groom. Groomsmen were Greg Lowe and John Cameron. Tracy Lehman, brother of the bride, and Kevin Beavers, brother of the groom, were ushers. All are of Iowa Park. Jeremy Mayfield of Wichita Falls was ring bearer.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails, a white shirt, tie and cummerbund. Other male attendants and the ringbearer wore back tuxedos with white shirts, Bright pink bow ties and cummerbunds.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lehman wore a two-piece suit with skirt of teal and a floral print jacket in varying shades of pink, rose, purple and teal on a navy background that extended into a double-breasted look at the waist. She added a rose colored dickey.

The groom's mother was dressed in a pastel peach one-piece outfit. The bodice featured a lace overlay extending into a peplum and long lace sleeves matching the colors of the skirt. She added a wide self-fabric belt.

Look Who's New

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Whisnand of Maypearl are parents of a daughter, Rachel Elaine, born Oct. 12, weighing seven pounds, four ounces. She has one brother, Blake, two and one-half years old.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L.S. Whisnand of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. Don Dietrichson of Maryland. Great-grandparents are Nadine Darland of Burkburnett, Edith Whisnand of Electra, Mrs. Ester Dietrichson of Maryland and Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Cox of Wichita Falls.

Guests for the reception in Fellowship Hall registered at a table covered with a turquoise cloth and Bright pink lace overlay.

In addition to the bride's book, the table held a seven-tiered candelabra centered with an arrangement of various shades of pink made by the bride. It also had a recent picture of the couple that was flanked by pictures of each of them as infants. Guests registered with a white plume pen. Jody Logan presided.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and featured the bridal bouquet as a centerpiece. A three tiered bride's cake decorated in the chosen wedding colors of Bright pink and turquoise had a fountain in the bottom tier. The cake was topped with a bride and groom under a heart-shaped archway entwined with ribbon and tulle of the chosen colors.

Presiding were Sandy Gerkey and Marcy Shortnessy both of Kaufman. Punch and mints was served from a crystal service.

Pink, overlaid with turquoise lace, covered the groom's table. The centerpiece consisted of an arrangement containing an 8x10 photo of the groom as a child dressed in his cowboy hat and playing a guitar. On either side were boots worn by the bride as a toddler.

The groom's chocolate cake was made in the shape of a book and was covered with chocolate icing. It was inscribed with "Our Life Together Begins This Day." The table also held a silver coffee service, nuts and coated pretzels in silver serving pieces.

Presiding at the groom's table were Jean Logan and Beverly Euell, aunts of the groom.

Special guests attending the wedding were Gladys Balthrop of Rosston, Ida Lehman of Iowa Park and Heyvard Davis of Graham, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corgill from Comanche, Okla., and Lonnie Beavers of Iowa Park, grandparents of the groom.

Attending the gift table and distributing birdseed for the couple's departure on their honeymoon were Dustin Lehman, brother of the bride and Cody Beavers, brother of the groom. They were attired in black slacks with white shirts, turquoise vests and floral ties in the chosen wedding colors.

A large basket covered with turquoise and hot pink taffeta, with a large pink bow attached, held the birdseed.

Both the bride and groom graduated Iowa Park High School in 1989. The bride also attended Richland Junior College in Richardson.

Brunch highlights 23 Study Club meeting

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Singer was the setting Thursday morning for a brunch and the first meeting of the 23 Study Club 1991-92 club year.

Autumn was reflected in the riot of colors in fall flowers, plants and accessories in the beautifully landscaped grounds.

The theme continued in decorations and appointments throughout the home. The Halloween motif was featured in carved and trimmed pumpkins, complemented with fruit, berries, vegetables, leaves and other Halloween symbols.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Singer were Mmes. Ross Roberts and D.O. James.

Before the brunch Frances Park, club president, offered the invocation.

The serving table was covered with an antique ecru crocheted cloth. Appointments included amber Depression glass marked with a Tree of Life design, silver coffee and punch services, and embroidered linen napkins.

A scarecrow on a small bale of hay was the centerpiece, and formed background for an arrangement of miniature gourds and ears of corn.

Mrs. Riley Thompson served as program leader. Mrs. Rollin Roberts presented an impressive meditation using "The Path of Unknown Land--23 Study Club" for a title.

Mrs. Roberts pointed to how the club can have a successful year if all members will let old things which have been drawbacks pass away and follow in the footsteps of the Master.

The program emphasized the Education Department of General Federation of Women's Clubs and the theme, "Hats Off to GFWC". Members wore old hats retrieved from boxes and told of the sentiment attached to them.

Mrs. Delbert Todd, a former member welcomed back after retirement as a junior high school teacher, and Mrs. Roberts directed the Fine Arts feature.

Mrs. Todd led the group in singing "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet" and "Easter Parade", with Mrs. Roberts furnishing accompaniment on the accordion. Mrs. Todd sang "Send In The Clowns," with taped accompaniment.

Each program of the year was planned to include a touch of American Trivia. The first, Kentucky Derby Museum and Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., was given by Mrs. C.E. Birk. This added interest to the program as the importance of the derby hat was stressed.

"A Feather in Our Cap" was the topic given by Sue Maness, librarian at Tom Burnett Memorial Library. She pointed out how the library is an asset to Iowa Park.

Mrs. Maness discussed the different services provided by the library and how they are funded. She said the library has 14,000 books, 350 videos, audio cassettes, books on tape, a copying machine, computer, games for children and adults, and a genealogy section.

She said the upstairs meeting room is a popular place for weddings, showers, anniversary celebrations and club meetings, and told of the charges for using the room.

Mrs. Maness told club members that a GED program was started recently and that the library supports the literacy program.

She listed other programs to include story telling, summer reading project, after-school party, Santa's Center, Easter egg hunt and Christmas lighting. She distributed oak leaf book marks for favors.

Miss Park directed the business and gave "A Bee In Your Bonnet" federation counselor's report on "Family Literacy". Her president's message was highlighted with a reading from "The Sanscrit".

Miss Karen Walker and Tony Skasick

Couple set December date

December 7 has been selected as the wedding date for Miss Karen Walker of Iowa Park and Tony Skasick of Wichita Falls.

The announcement was made by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Walker of Iowa Park, parents of the bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Skasick of Wichita Falls are parents of the groom-to-be.

Miss Walker is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and is employed by Iowa Park Florist.

Skasick graduated Hirschi High School in Wichita Falls and is an employee of Berend Brothers.

The couple will exchange vows in First Baptist Church of Iowa Park.

Iowa Parkans attend District ESA meeting

Five Iowa Parkans attended the Epsilon Sigma Alpha District IV meeting, last weekend, in Fort Worth.

Attending were Epsilon Eta members DeeDee Forney, Lela Mercer, Mary Lynn Boyd and Essie Johnson, and inactive member Patsy Cope.

Forney, who is District VI president, conducted the meeting which was hosted by the Sigma Epsilon Chapter of Crowley.

District ESA meeting

Mercer gave a workshop on Service Reports, and Tama McDowell of Arlington told how to make a Chapter Annual Report. Eloise Owen of Arlington, a member of Citizens Against Crime, talked on being targets for crime in our cars and in our homes, and what we can do about it.

The Iowa Park chapter won third place in Service Hours for the quarter.

The next District meeting will be held Jan. 9, 1992, with the Bedford chapter serving as hostess.

BROWN-CAVETT
BACK & NECK
CHIROPRACTIC

Dr. Daniel Broom

Degenerative arthritis of the spine is one of the most common disorders that occurs, limiting function in persons over 50 years of age. Approximately 300,000 persons over 65 years of age are limited in their activities because of it. If everyone lives long enough, so it has been said, everyone will get degenerative arthritis. Degenerative arthritis however, does not have to mean a hopeless and ongoing painful condition.

While degenerative arthritis of the spine cannot be cured, the pain that accompanies it can often be improved with chiropractic treatment. Older Americans have learned this and have a very high rate of usage of chiropractic services. Researchers at the University of Iowa School of Medicine in a 1985 study of spinal pain of the 65 and over population, found that 75% had sought chiropractic treatment. In male subjects, more had seen chiropractors than medical doctors.

Chiropractic treatment seems to be effective for two reasons. The first is its ability to correct the spinal joint misalignments that are often the cause of pain. Degenerative arthritis weakens the spinal soft tissues that maintain joint alignment, causing frequent misalignment to these persons. The other reason chiropractic treatment is often helpful in degenerative arthritis, is that it is effective in regulating spinal pain. In a 1984 study in the American Journal of Physical Medicine, researchers reported a 140% improvement in spinal pain tolerance following chiropractic manipulation. This improvement was thought to occur through the same mechanism as seen with TENS and acupuncture. In a related study, chiropractic manipulation was also found to elevate circulating levels of endorphins, a powerful pain blocker released by the brain.

For many suffering from degenerative arthritis of the spine, chiropractic treatment can provide relief. No one should "just have to live with it" until they have tried chiropractic.

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

Well, the other shoe is about to drop. And when it does, your trash may be more expensive to handle than when you purchased it new at the store.

Thanks to the environmentalists! Those of you who have kept up with stories we've printed over the past few years are aware of the ever-increasing regulations imposed on the city and its "sanitary landfill."

Actually, that term should be changed to "insanity landfill."

Your reading has informed you that the city has for the past several years been paying through the nose for the "lining" of its dumping pits.

That lining is with clay. The same clay that was dug from the same pit. Clay or plastic lining is required by all the regulations.

The lining is some two feet thick. But it is applied about six inches at a time, watered, rolled with a compactor, and repeated.

Then, each day's dumpings must be covered with a layer of dirt.

Well, as the game is played, there are new regulations being applied. But not all the regulations are yet known. All the city and county governments know as yet is what they're told, as to what additional regs will be imposed.

You see, the federal government's regulations were reportedly printed in the Federal Register about two weeks ago. Now the Texas Department of Health has its shot at adding more of its own likings.

In a nutshell, bigger is better, we are told, because the cost of operating and complying is broadened. Smaller cities, and I'm talking 20,000 and less, are scared out of their wits.

To my thinking, we should all be scared out of our wits.

The way I understand the regulations, all landfills -- trash pits for those who still don't know what I'm talking about -- closed after a yet-to-be-determined date, will have a host of new regulations and mandates to meet.

The tip of the iceberg, as I understand, is that water monitoring wells must be installed to insure that underground water is not contaminated; the pits must have a cover of dirt that will support as much weight as it did before the pit was dug, and a fund set aside that can be used to clean up the entire mess if it ever becomes a problem within 30 years after closure.

I'm told that only four cities in this entire part of the state are still operating their landfills: Iowa Park, Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Vernon. All the rest are either using these four landfills -- not Iowa Park's, yet -- or have contracted with private companies who have their own landfills.

Every regional council of governments in the state is coordinating programs to develop regional landfills.

Frankly, I've got my suspicions about the whole thing. I'm suspicious that the private companies are creating much of the problem. I'm suspicious that the state people are primarily wanting to cut down the number of sites they have to inspect.

About those private companies. I'm aware that Graham, which went with a private contractor about a year or so ago, has already complied with a demand for a higher fee. And the most recent may have been the second such demand.

I'm not sure the same regulations are applying to the private companies as it does to city and county governments. If they do, as far as the construction of the pits are concerned, are they going to have to put up the same cleanup fund as the governments?

If so, how can they afford it?

One response I got, was that the companies will just jack their prices into outer space, once they have a lock on the business.

And if a city should balk at a fee being demanded, what is it to do should it refuse? They wouldn't have any place to take the trash, if, indeed, they even have the equipment on hand to pick it up. Many municipalities have already sold their equipment when they went with privatization.

No one has yet explained to me what the government will do with those privately-owned landfills and their 30-year cleanup fund, if the firm should go bankrupt. Who pays then, the taxpayers?

I read in last week's newspaper from Slaton, up near Lubbock, that the city council was so fearful of the new rules that they closed their landfill, immediately.

That city didn't have any place to take its trash, at least no contract. They had held discussions with Lubbock and a private firm, but no contract.

I'm anxiously awaiting this week's issue of the Slatonite, to see what has come out of that situation.

I've got another unanswered question: how about all the old trash dumps?

Locally, our operation has been to comply with all regulations, including refusing to bury any automobile batteries. They're bad stuff, according to the health people.

Can you imagine how many batteries that have been buried in the old dump pits over the years?

It would seem they are more of a threat to the underground water than our new, properly-operated landfills.

That first paragraph may not be as funny as you may have taken it. Unless some changes are made, my best guess is that my home's trash fee sometime in the next five to 10 years may be as high as $50 monthly.

Anybody want to argue?

I still think my suggestion to the city council about four years ago, to switch to incineration, is a way out.

Worth Quoting

We've got certain groups in this country that have learned how to capitalize on fears, real or imagined, to make a buck.

The examples are as plentiful as federal dollars when it comes to cashing in on the public's perception of danger.

We've stunted the growth of the nuclear industry in this country for 20 years by listening to the anti-nuclear people and the fears they drum up. The WIPP site west of Andrews is a case in point. Millions of dollars have been squandered trying to answer all the imagined problems dreamed up by scientists seeking additional grants from Uncle Sam to research perceived pseudo-problems.

The general public has been deluged by scare stories concerning pesticides, hormones, medical wastes, global warming, ozone depletion, social security raids, and hundreds of other subjects. And behind most of them is an organization formed in opposition, seeking both donations and government funds, and with a well-staffed payroll.

The latest in a long line of scary subjects are municipal landfills -- and we've created another industry of experts who are willing to testify at the drop of a diaper, on how disastrous landfills are to our well-being.

But along comes a guy after our own heart. He's America's premier "garbologist," archaeologist William Rathje of the University of Arizona, who argues that we have more accurate information about the surface of Neptune than we have about municipal solid waste.

Consequently, he says, we continue to make important political decisions on the basis of myths and old wives tales.

Myth #1:

Our throw-away society is the root cause of the solid waste crisis. Actually, the intensity of waste generation, a function of the gross national product and population growth, has not changed since 1970, according to figures based on data from the U.S. census bureau. Moreover, packaging's contribution to the waste stream has been declining every year since 1972. Today, packaging comprises only about 30 percent of our nation's municipal garbage.

The truth of the matter is that packaging eliminates more solid waste than it produces. Professor Rathje has studied households in both Mexico and the U.S. and found that, although Americans discard twice as much packaging as Mexicans, Mexicans discard three times as much food waste as their American counterparts. The net result is that Mexican households generate one-third more garbage a day than American households.

Myth #2:

Landfills pose a serious threat to groundwater resources. A few do, but most don't.

According to the EPA's worst case scenarios, 83% of all municipal solid waste landfills pose less than a one-in-one million lifetime health risk. To put it in perspective, you are 42 times more likely to die from a lightning strike than from leaking landfills.

Moreover, EPA concludes that 60 percent of all landfills pose less than a one-in-10 billion lifetime health risk under the same worst-case scenario. In other words, you are 170,000 times more likely to die from insect stings.

Myth #3:

Waste incinerators are a dangerous source of toxic air pollution and generate hazardous ash residues which are difficult to dispose of safely. Again, the EPA's own data fail to support the hysteria surrounding the incinerator issue. Modern incinerators pose less than a one-in-one million health risk under worst-case scenarios.

Regarding the ash issue, the EPA and U.S. conference of mayors recently completed the most comprehensive study ever undertaken to examine the leachate from incinerator ash for hazardous residues. Their conclusion? Leachates were close to meeting drinking water standards.

Myth #4:

Recycling can solve our solid waste crisis. Frankly, this myth is based upon wishful thinking and misleading data.

First of all, collection rates for materials are misrepresented since 50% of all recyclable materials collected is too contaminated for reuse. If we collected every material for which recycling is economically feasible and for which there are markets, we would collect only 31% of the waste stream.

The fundamental reason that we have a solid waste "crisis" is because landfills, which are the ultimate disposal site for 75% of our garbage, are filling up and not being replaced.

Why? Because the NIMBY (not-in-my-backyard) syndrome has paralyzed the siting process and created a waste disposal gridlock.

According to Rathje, until we squarely address the siting problem and purge these four myths from the policy debate, the garbage "crisis" will be with us for some time to come.

JAMES ROBERTS
Andrews County News

Congressman Bill Sarpalus was back pedaling late in the week trying desperately to distance himself from the moronic gerrymandering perpetrated by fellow Democrats down in Austin.

The Panhandle, hard pressed to cast a political shadow in either Austin or Washington, was further emasculated by the shameless gerrymander undoubtedly pulled off with the blessings of the congressman from the 13th Congressional District.

Amarillo was split and Randall County became a part of the 19th Congressional District represented by Larry Combest of Lubbock.

The 19th District now has three of the four counties at the top of the Texas Panhandle. Then it plunges almost 300 miles encompassing territory so diverse that mountain lions make occasional forays into the north portion while the sub-tropical armadillo frequent its southernmost reaches in Ector County.

Dalhart in Dallam is closer to Santa Fe and Denver than it is Odessa in Ector.

The boundaries of the district deviate a county or two on the way to Ector to surgically remove Republican strongholds from the 13th District in hopes of protecting the Sarpalus incumbency.

Sarpalius is now saying that he did his best to prevent Amarillo being split in the congressional redistricting. Well, if he makes that story stick he is going to have to admit that after a stint of being an aide to the speaker of the Texas House and then serving multiple terms as the Panhandle's state senator his influence in Austin is worth a plate of warm spit.

We don't think the people of the Panhandle buy it. We don't think they like it.

The voters know that Sarpalus was consulted by Democratic leadership, which announced that the congressman's wishes would be a decisive factor in the redistricting of the Panhandle.

It is inconceivable that the congressman's advice was sought, then totally ignored.

If the congressman and his aides are misrepresenting his role in the matter, how can his constituency trust him on other matters?

If it is determined that the congressman has not told us the truth, then we'd like to place his name in nomination for the 1991 Benedict Arnold Award.

Did you read about Clay County Commissioners pursuing plans to consolidate all of the county's justice of the peace precincts and constable positions into one each?

Clay County currently has four justice of the peace precincts and four constable precincts. County commissioners want to consolidate these offices into one JP and one constable for the whole county.

If that's such a good idea, what about consolidating the four county commissioners' precincts into just one precinct? There wouldn't be as many split votes, and it might eliminate violations of the Texas Open Meetings Act.

It might save some money, and the commissioners court could ride to lunch on a motorcycle.

Letters to the Editor

There's a better way

Dear Anonymous Letter Writers of Iowa Park:

I would sincerely like to ask you to consider the possible consequences that could be imposed on our school system and town due to your letters to the U.I.L. and the District Executive Committee.

In your efforts to create difficulties for the school's athletic department, I don't think you realized or care that this could, possibly, not only hurt our school's athletes, but the kids who also participate in band, choir, mock trial, and literary events; any competition that is ruled by the District U.I.L.

If you have a grievance with some facet of our school system please go to your school officials. If you feel a violation of the U.I.L. rules has been made, let our school officials investigate the allegations and report the violations to the U.I.L. As a board member, I personally know that as a board, we spend many hours attempting to make the best decisions on issues that govern our school. I also know that not everyone agrees with the decisions we make, but I can assure you that although some of our decisions are not popular to the citizens of Iowa Park and often not to the board members themselves, they were agreed on for the welfare of the school system as a whole and not for any individual section. Through many hours of discussion and study of over one hundred personal and professional resumes, including many individual interviews, we, as a board, decided that Coach Lucky Gamble was the person we needed for the job of Athletic Director. I realized that we the fans of "Hawk Football" often know more and make better calls from the stands than our coaches do. I am probably more guilty than anyone, however, I can assure you from this man's past record, he knows his football, and I feel that he can turn our program around if given a fair chance. I realize that bringing in a completely new system has created some hurt feelings, not only among the players, but the parents as well, thinking that their child is not being played fairly. I think we as fans need to remember a quote Coach Gamble made at a past pep rally which was, "Maybe we need to think less of you and me and more of us." We all as parents want our children to play and I'm no exception, I simply ask that as our new coaches are trying to rebuild the football tradition of winning in Iowa Park, that we show patience and support.

If you think, as I have heard several times, that the school system allocates its budget unfairly in favor of athletics, especially football, please consider that football also generates more revenue for the school than any other school sponsored event. As a former student I can remember when the school spirit over the football team created greater participation in many other areas of the school such as the band and pep-squad. I, however, by no means think athletics is the most important aspect of our school, and I receive great satisfaction in knowing that the majority of our athletes are honor roll students first. I think all events that our students participate in are equally important and just ask that you consider that not only the kids who participate in sports will be hurt if our school is punished by the U.I.L.

Our kids have always been respected in every event they have participated in and, whether you know or care, you have not helped with your letters in changing things for the better for the majority of the students. All of our kids may suffer because you have a gripe with the football program that you are not willing to publicly present to proper school authorities. I promise that I am more than willing to listen to any complaint anyone needs to air as any of our school board members and officials are. Please, in the future give your local school officials the opportunity to help with your needs, and let's settle Iowa Park's problems in Iowa Park. Sincerely,
Denny McCarthy

Police investigating three theft reports

Three theft cases, one criminal mischief and two arrests were among the listings of the past week on the police blotter.

A welder on a trailer was reported by a resident in the 600 block of East Alameda to have been stolen. The report was filed Wednesday of last week.

That same day, a resident in the 900 block of Foley complained about the theft of halloween decorations having been taken from in front of the house.

A resident in the 300 block of West Pecan called police at 3:50 a.m. yesterday after reportedly hearing a noise in the back yard.

When an officer responded, it was discovered a blue girl's 10-speed bicycle valued at $110 was missing.

One of the local postal carriers called police Saturday afternoon to complain that juveniles in a home in the 500 block of North Victoria had egged his postal department vehicle.

Neither he nor the responding officer were able to get a response from the occupants of the house the carrier identified.

An officer was to return at a later date and discuss the situation with adults of the house.

Police were alerted by telephone Saturday evening that a vehicle with a man and child were sitting on the side of US 287 east of Bell road, and that the adult appeared to be intoxicated.

The adult explained he was waiting for a female to return with gasoline for the vehicle.

However, the officer arrested David Larry Wampler on a charge of public intoxication, and the woman after she arrived for possession of marijuana.

Wampler was released the next morning after signing a personal recognition bond.

The woman, Gina Lynn Scarlett, 27, was transported to county jail, according to the blotter entry.

Misty and Shay Lynn, the two daughters of Tina and Gary Dipprey, pretty well keep their mother busy.

Misty, a nine-year-old Bradford student, is active in Junior FFA and is a member of the Hawkettes, who are cheerleaders for local Top of Texas football teams.

Seven-year-old Shay Lynn is a student at Kidwell and is also a member of the Hawkettes.

Tina, who moved to Iowa Park from Vernon when she was 12 years old, is a 1976 graduate of Iowa Park High School. When she and Gary married, they moved to a farm at Kadane Corner.

She is employed as bookkeeper at Kamay Electric Service, and also sells cosmetics. She is on the Bradford PTA board of directors, and a member of Kidwell PTA. She serves as room mother for both girls.

Gary is production superintendent for C.B. Christie and, with help from Tina and the girls, does custom hay baling.

The entire family shares in doing chores around the farm such as caring for the chickens, cows, and dogs.

The girls also help Tina with the cooking, and it was apparent that the recipes she brought in are some of their favorites.

Tina likes to play tennis and volleyball, and work on various crafts.

Her family's favorite activities include camping, fishing and swimming. Tina said that they especially like to go deep sea fishing off the Texas coast. The family are members of the Kamay Baptist Church.

Griffith explains proposed tax

Gordon Griffith, county commissioner of Precinct 3, spoke to the Evening Lions Tuesday on a proposition to adopt a one-half percent county sales and use tax that they will have the opportunity to vote on Nov. 5. He said if it passed the money would be used to reduce the county property tax.

He said that voting for the tax, if it passed, would mean reduction in property tax, expansion of the county's tax base, diversification of county revenue sources, utilization of excess revenues to further reduce taxes, consumer tax to equalize tax burden among taxpayers, and economic development tool which lowers taxes and thereby lowers the cost of doing business. He said upon the passage of this proposition, the one-half percent county sales and use tax would start being collected on Oct. 1, 1992 and the tax rate for 1993 would be reduced. Griffith said that the Commissioners Court is committed to reduce property taxes by the amount of the sales tax revenues subject to increase demands for services and mandates from state and federal government. He also said that groceries, prescriptions and certain services would be exempt from the tax.

A lengthy round table discussion followed Griffith's talk.

Baptist Women continue review

Mrs. Eleanor Bell continued the review of "Empowered," a mission book by Esther Burroughs, for the Thelma Smith Baptist Women of First Baptist Church in a meeting held Monday night at the church. Mrs. O.S. McLemore was the hostess and 11 members were in attendance.

Mrs. Bell prefaced the review of the third chapter with a brief review of the previous chapters, reading numerous scriptures that show the power of the Holy Spirit in lives committed to Christ.

The study for the night was divided into the following parts: Reclaiming the Call, Reclaiming the Power, Reclaiming the Stewardship, Discovering Our Marketplaces and Reclaiming the Mission of the Church. Mrs. Bell used a chart on which the topics were listed and gave opportunity for members to respond to where they and the church are in reclaiming the call, power, stewardship, mission of the church and finding the marketplaces.

Special interest was noted in reclaiming the stewardship and finding the marketplaces. Mrs. Bell reminded her listeners that stewardship involves more than tithes and offerings, but also making homes, cars, offices and children available for the Lord. She said that the marketplaces could be the home, grocery store, beauty shop, children's hospital, jail ministry, people who are dying of AIDS, and even a train-subway station where two college graduates have set up a shoeshine stand.

During the review, she was assisted by Mrs. V.I. Woodfin and McLemore, and in closing by Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. C.L. McKinnon who directed the group in reading "When Lord," a paraphrase of the 25th chapter of Matthew that the author of the book had made into a song.

Mrs. Woodfin and Mrs. E.T. Patterson were in charge of business and period of prayer for missionaries of the birthday calendar preceding the program.

FAITH OR WORKS?
Jesus was asked by the multitude, "what shall we do that we may work the works of God?" Would Jesus insist on keeping the Sabbath, following the ten commandments, circumcision, or ceremonial cleansing? Jesus replied, "This is the work of God, that you believe in Him whom He has sent." (John 6:29). Faith is not one of many works, but it is the work of God. No truth is more clearly stated in God's Word than the simple truth we cannot earn, merit, or work our way to heaven. Our salvation is based upon what Jesus has done for us.
Questions frequently arise about repentance and baptism. It is vital to understand they do not constitute a work, but the acceptance of the finished work of Jesus. As David Lipscomb observed concerning baptism, "there is no more propriety in calling baptism the work of the man baptized than there is in calling a burial the work of the person buried." Because we are saved by faith and not by works, it is imperative to understand the true biblical concept of a saving faith. In Romans 4 Paul teaches us we are saved by faith, not by works. In James 2 the author teaches what kind of faith can save us.
These passages combine beautifully to give a full understanding of God's definition of faith. James explains that a saving faith is a faith "with works" one that is living, active, and working. Salvation is not so much a matter of "faith or works," or "faith and works," but a true biblical faith which is a faith that works through love. And Paul encourages a faith which "works through love." (Galatians 5:6). From Ephesians 2:8-10 we learn that God saves us on the basis of grace through faith, not works; being saved we are created in Christ Jesus to do good works. We are not saved by works, but are saved to work.
The Bible speaks of "obedience of faith" (Romans 1:5; 16:26). Instead of obedience being a work which might imply merit, obedience is an act of faith. As taught in Hebrews 11, a saving faith is a faith that obeys and responds to God's extended Grace.
Jesus Christ is a prime example of obedience (Hebrews 5:8,9) Jesus put His complete faith and trust in God, and as a result obeyed to the point of the cross. If we look to Jesus as our Lord, we realize we too must obey. Faith does not negate the necessity of obedience, but establishes the "obedience to the faith" (Acts 6:7). Our faith in Jesus Christ makes us follow the perfect obedience of Him.

HAWKS AND SUPPORTERS
OFFER THANKS FOLLOWING
FRIDAY NIGHT'S VICTORY

Hawks continue unbeaten by Bulls

The Hawks were so completely dominating Friday against Bridgeport that they were able to overcome four turnovers, nine penalties and three nullified touchdowns, and post a 40-0 victory.

The win maintained Iowa Park's record of having never lost a varsity football game to Bridgeport.

Todd Pulley had an outstanding first half. The senior back scored four touchdowns, but had two called back on penalties; ran a two-point conversion, and kicked a 42-yard field goal for the second consecutive week. He wound up the team's leading rusher for the contest, with 105 yards 77 in the first half) on 18 carries.

Greg Steger almost matched Pulley's output. He scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter and added a two-point conversion to finish the night with 57 yards on 10 carries.

Coach Lucky Gamble apparently took advantage of the lead to get a look at next year's apparent quarterback, Jason Miller, and he apparently wasn't disappointed. The 145-pound junior kept the ball twice, picked up 52 yards, and scored on a 27-yard carry.

Chris Williams carried 13 times for 71 yards. Williams scored one of those touchdowns, a 33-yarder, that was called back by the officials.

Starting quarterback Robert Denton kept the ball three times, gaining 33 yards, and connected on the first four of eight pass attempts for 105 yards. He was intercepted once.

Receivers Michael Brewer and Joel McLlroy shared those four receptions evenly, with Brewer's accounting for 59 yards and McLlroy 46.

The Hawks didn't punt the ball away the entire game.

Bridgeport threatened to score only once in the game. The Bulls covered a Hawk fumble on the Iowa Park 42, just before the first period ended.

They kept the drive alive when, on fourth down and needing six for a first, ran 18 yards to the 20. Two plays later the drive was ended, when a tackle by Joey Boyd shook loose the ball and it was covered by Brent Brown, on the Hawk 10.

Bridgeport took the opening kickoff, but was forced to punt after losing a yard on three plays. It was a big kick that bounced all the way out of the Hawk end zone, officially covering 61 yards.

From their 20, the Hawks mounted their first sustained drive to score.

Iowa Park's two shortest scoring drives were on the final possessions of the game. Bridgeport turned over possession on the Bulls' 38 late in the fourth period, and the Hawks needed only two plays, by Williams and Miller, to reach the end zone. Bridgeport punted three plays after the following kickoff, and Miller returned it from the Bulls' 37 to the 28. That drive also required two plays, by Williams and Steger.

Other big defensive plays were credited to Charles Jolly, Mark Tatum, Cory Bridwell and Shawn Green.

Two Hawk starters, Patric Kennedy and Mark de la Rosa, sat out the entire game on the sidelines with injuries. However, Jason Dudley, who has missed the past few games with a shoulder injury, did see limited action.

The smaller-than-usual crowd in the stands, who braved a cold northerly wind that arrived shortly before game time, were kept in the dark about time and score, other than through announcer Robert Wilcox. The scoreboard, like the Bulls, failed to function.

The arrangement was made by mutual agreement between Supt. Glen Mitchell and Tarleton State.

SCHOOL SCENE

Information prepared by Iowa Park School Counselors

Visitors to Bradford Elementary School this week will notice that everyone is wearing white--buttons, that is.

The red, white and blue buttons saying, "Proud to be Drug-Free" are part of the North Texas Drug-Free Week, and the school's way of showing its support of that program

Past weeks have found art students decorating grocery bags with their personal messages to encourage others to stay away from drugs. Local grocery stores will use these bags so their customers can share the messages the students created.

On Friday everyone will be seeing red as students are encouraged to wear red clothing to show their unity in proclaiming that drugs are dangerous. Topping the red clothes will be hats ranging from simple to decorated to encourage the students to "Put a Cap on Drugs."

School is a place to learn readin', 'ritin, and 'rithmetic. But it's also somewhere for children to learn to say no to the things that can harm them, and to say yes to ways that will help them live long, productive lives.

Friday night scores of Hawk opponents included:
Burkburnett 35, Justin Northwest 7
Abilene Wylie 13, Merkel 0
Decatur 37, Lake Dallas 0
Clyde 48, Early 0
Childress 30, Amarillo River Road 15
Vernon 27, Graham 6

Pilot Point, a team that has dealt playoff problems often to Holliday, finally lost a district game two weeks ago, breaking a string of 81 consecutive conference victories. The Bearcats lost 26-22 to Bells. But they came back the following week and humiliated Callisburg 57-0, the team they beat 41-7 in 1978 that started a 79-0-2 string.

McGregor's connection with Iowa Park continues to be one of domination. That's the club that beat the Hawks 21-17 for the Area title in 1987. Two weeks ago, McGregor shut out Waco Connally, coached by former Hawk mentors Len Williams and Dean Kirkpatrick, 21-0.

Friday, Nov. 1, will be Senior Night at Hawk Stadium. All players and others who help with the Hawk football team will be recognized. Iowa Park will be hosting Breckenridge, in the final home game of the regular season.

Retired coach wanted to be around grandchildren

Weldon Strain
... retires in Iowa Park.

The desire to be near his grandchildren is the reason Iowa Park has become the home of one of the most successful former Texas high school coaches.

Weldon R. Strain and his wife, Mitzi, moved here in May, and now reside at 609 N. Yosemite.

Their only child is Bradford Elementary teacher Jan Yeager, wife of Dennis.

"I decided, rather than retire to the lake, I'd rather be around my grandchildren," he said.

Strain, in his 24 years as a junior high, high school and college coach, amassed a record of 178-56-11.

He spent three stints at Forney, southeast of Dallas, two as coach and the third as the high school principal.

During his years at Forney, he was to that program what Tommy Watkins was to Iowa Park in the 1960s.

His first stint there, 1950-51, his teams were 19-3, including a 12-0 the second year for the state championship.

He returned in 1967, and through 1971 Forney was 40-13-1.

The folks of Forney asked him to return a third time, in 1985, to serve as the high school principal. He retired after three years at that post.

Since retirement, he has worked some as a teacher appraiser.

Strain attended Richardson schools, where he excelled in football, basketball and track. He attended Southern Methodist Univ. and Paris Junior College, where he played sports.

He was graduated from East Texas State Univ. with a Masters Degree.

Following his first tour at Forney, he coached two years at Leverell's Chapel, where his teams broke even, 5-5, in 1952, and went 7-3 in 1954.

Sandwiched in between, he coached the 1953 season at Paris Junior College, where his club had an 8-2 record.

Strain left Leverell's Chapel the second time, and coached from 1955 to 1966 at Spring Hill, earning an 84-29-10 credit.

His finale in coaching was 1972-73 at Mesquite Junior High, where his team lost only once in 16 outings. He also served as an administrator there.

"Not only was he a coach," writes one of Strain's former student/athletes, Jim Garrett, now director of the Department of Recreational Sports and Special Facilities manager at the University of Texas at Arlington, but also an athletic director.

"In these capacities, he had seven districts (titles), and one regional championship. He also had four football players and two basketball players to play in the Texas High School All-Star Games.

"In basketball, he accumulated 14 boys and girls titles. In track as a coach and AD, he had 10 district championships, seven regional wins, one state winner, two state runners-up, and a junior college conference title.

"His baseball accomplishments were six districts and three regional titles.

"Coach Strain was not only a good teacher on the playing fields and courts, but also demonstrated that same ability in the classroom. He had a knack to bring the best out in young men and women which is clearly demonstrated by his outstanding coaching record.

"Athletes from across the state should have been as lucky as those of us from Forney to have played for a man that understood the concept of playing sports and having fun," Garrett said.

Forney classes of 1949 to 1953 and football players from 1967 to 1971 honored Strain Oct. 4 during a reunion.

JV continues unbeaten; Freshmen finally win!

Police carnival Saturday night

The second annual Police Department Halloween Carnival will be held Saturday night at the Burnett Softball Field, next to the old RAC building on East Texas.

Proceeds from the event, which is to get underway at 6 p.m. and continue until around midnight, will be used for the department's crime prevention programs.

The Hawk Junior Varsity racked up their seventh win without a loss Thursday, by defeating Bowie 41-6.

And the Hawk Freshmen posted their first win after six disappointing losses, defeating Holliday 28-6.

Ironically, both teams trailed early in their contests.

Bowie kept its scoring drive alive by gambling on fourth down and picking up 10 yards to the Iowa Park five. The Jackrabbits scored on the next play to take a 6-0 lead.

The Hawks came right back, however, to score on their next possession. The drive was capped by a 32-yard pass from Tony Lozipone to Scott Byrd.

The two-point conversion failed, and the first half ended in a 6-6 tie.

Iowa Park only had the ball two possessions the first half.

The Hawks used ball control after taking the second half kickoff, and ate up all but 10 seconds of the 10-minute period.

Lozipone threw a 15-yard pass to Tim Denton to end the drive. And then the quarterback tossed a two-point pass to Byrd for the team's first lead.

The Hawks racked up 27 points in seven minutes during the fourth quarter.

Byrd scored the first TD when he returned a punt 60 yards.

Bowie ran three plays and punted, and Lozipone connected with Ken

Cooper for a 51-yard score.

On the following kickoff, Scott Tigrett shook the ball loose from the carrier and Iowa Park covered it on the 29. Byrd scored from there on an option play, and ran the same play again for the two-point conversion to make the score 34-6.

Don Ellis, with three minutes remaining in the contest, scored on a 32-yard sweep around left end. Ellis then tacked on the extra point kick for the final score.

Bowie turned over the ball six times: Michael Frazier had two interceptions, Ellis covered two fumbles, while Jason Maxwell and Matt Bowden covered one apiece. Tigrett and Carl Rose caused those fumbles.

Byrd, Ellis and Maxwell each were credited with quarterback sacks.

Coach David Furhman praised his kickoff team, including Jayson Houston, Bowden, Billy Flippin, Tigrett and Rose, for playing well.

He also cited the offensive line, Bowden, Joshua Johnson, Mike Seigler, Tommie Nicholas and Chris Eaves, for their play.

FROSH COACHES PAY DUES
Freshman coaches Steve Stewart and Jimmy Cain paid their dues for the Frosh winning their first game of the season.

Stewart's hair was cut in a short burr and Cain shaved off his mustache.

Four of the game's touchdowns were scored in the first half of play, with Holliday lighting the scoreboard initially.

Bowie Farr tied the game, however, on a 12-yard run, and Clint Scobee put the Hawks ahead by kicking the first of his four extra point goals.

Farr would score again before the halftime break, on a six-yarder. But in between those two touchdowns, Chad Simpson scored on a four-yarder.

Jason Young tacked on the final touchdown, from six yards out, in the second half.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - The problem with cutting costs in state government is that "there are a lot of people in the middle who have built careers on making sure the system isn't efficient," says State Comptroller John Sharp.

Sharp made this observation in a speech to Texas county judges and commissioners last week where he outlined his plan to replace paper food stamps with a credit card system.

Instead of presenting food stamps at the grocery check-out, a person would use an "electronic benefits transfer card."

The system would prevent certain types of fraud as well as eliminate enough paper to save thousands of trees, Sharp said.

Sharp thinks other savings would follow as the state reduced its 300 full-time fraud investigators plus the courier services which deliver stamps to local offices.

"But I got calls from every timber company, every printer, every courier service and half the fraud investigators," he complained.

Lottery Or Budget Cut

Meanwhile, Sharp warned voters that if they fail to approve the proposed state lottery on the Nov. 5 ballot, it will be necessary to cut $462 million from the state budget.

The comptroller wants to begin an instant scratch-off game by July, which he predicts would generate $462 million in 14 months.

Lewis Drops One Suit

Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis has dropped one of two legal maneuvers to get an Austin judge removed from his pending misdemeanor ethics case.

Lewis, D-Fort Worth, also dropped his lawsuit against Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle, who presented the case to a grand jury that indicted Lewis 11 months ago.

The action came a few days before state District Judge Bob Perkins is scheduled to decide whether the criminal cases against Lewis should be transferred to a lower county court.

Tim Evans, Lewis' Fort Worth attorney, said last week's filing will not affect that decision. It involves only a separate request, filed three weeks ago by Lewis' Austin attorneys, that sought to remove Perkins from the case if he refused to approve the transfer.

"Gib Lewis has no quarrel with the judge. His quarrel is with Mr. Earle's prosecution, and he looks forward to the day when it is exposed to the scrutiny of a neutral jury," Evans said.

Term Limit on Ballot?

Amid frustration and anger toward Congress, a bipartisan group announced a petition drive to place on the Texas ballot a measure limiting politicians' terms in office.

Texas for Term Limitations, headed by Republican Rob Mosbacher and Democrat Jim Calloway, said the group will attempt to collect enough signatures to place a non-binding referendum on the March primary ballots of both major political parties.

"We need fresh people, and they should not all be white male lawyers," Mosbacher said. "They should be women, blacks, small business people, school teachers, union people, artists, all kinds of people."

Defeat of No. 7 Urged

Lane Zively, president of the non-union Texas Public Employees Association, urged voters in the Nov. 5 election to reject Proposition 7 allowing teacher and employee pension funds to be invested in real estate.

The State Teachers Association, the state's largest teachers' group, has taken no position on Proposition 7, but its president, Ollie Besteiro, also urges the amendment's defeat.

The Teachers Retirement System has invested in real estate since 1983, has foreclosed and taken over management of 10 buildings, will foreclose soon on two more, and has lost $156 million in market value on its real estate holdings.
