Police arrest woman for altering $10 bill

Iowa Park police arrested a 29-year-old woman last week for allegedly attempting to pass a $10 bill that had been altered as a $100 bill.

A clerk at Allsup's alerted police Wednesday afternoon that a woman had attempted to pay for several items with an altered bill.

The clerk, however, noticed what she believed to be a suspicious thickness on the corners.

The customer reportedly grabbed the bill and left, getting into a car with another woman and driving off. But the alert clerk took down the vehicle's license number.

Investigator Lynn Collins checked out the number believed to have been on the vehicle, determined the possible owner, and called the suspect to the police station.

Once at the station Thursday, Collins arrested Leslie Jean Solomon on a charge of forgery. She was transported to the county jail under a $1,500 bond.

Collins said the corners of a good $100 bill had been cut off and attached to a $10 bill.

The First Assembly of God may be a victim of Iowa Park's first drive-by shooting, according to police.

Charles Hensley, the pastor, called police Friday morning after finding what he believed to be a bullet hole in a trailer house parked next to the church.

Upon investigation, Collins determined the hole on the side that faces Poe was in fact a bullet hole, and also found another on the side of the structure.

He also found a damaged place on a vehicle parked next to it which appeared to have been caused by a bullet, but because of a rusting area, did not feel it was caused when the others were inflicted.

All three damaged areas were within 25 feet of each other, and about the same height from the ground.

The bullet which passed through the Poe Street side penetrated at least two more walls and a door. A fragment of the bullet was found in the carpet.

Robert James Cason, 17, was taken into custody at 8:48 p.m. Saturday at Allsup's, after an officer recognized him as having a warrant for his arrest.

But before the arrest was completed, additional charges were levied against him.

Actually, two different warrants for Carson's arrest were outstanding at the time. One was issued by the sheriff's department, for criminal trespass, and the other, "disobeying police officer" issued last May, was issued locally.

Cason reportedly resisted being taken into custody, but two officers completed the seizure.

The additional charges against him were resisting arrest and escape. No charge was filed, though it could have been, for assault of a police officer.

A patrolling officer took a 16-year-old male into custody at 11:19 p.m. Sunday near Johnson Road and Mary Drive, on a charge of public intoxication.

The youth was transported to the police station, and later turned over to his mother. He must report to municipal court on the charge, according to the police blotter.

Police arrested Julio Castro, 36, on a charge of criminal trespass at 1:07 a.m. Wednesday of last week.

The officers had been alerted of a possible prowler slightly more than an

January good permit month

Building permits for 1994 got off to a good start, according to city hall, with construction of one new residence listed.

January's total was $99,300. And if all the homes are built that developers have indicated, that may be the lowest month's total of the year.

Permits issued during January included:

James Bever, 102 E. Bank, remodeling, $3,000;
Wayne Williams, 205 W. Alameda, alteration, $100;
Tim Clark, 1511 Bentwood, new home, $91,000;
Beatrice Green, 802 S. Colorado, roofing, $600;
Randy Scobee, 322 W. Highway, addition, $1,500;
Henry Esparza, 606 E. Bank, roofing, $400;
W.G. Partney, 700 W. Cornelia, storage shed, $500;
Barney Barnett, 1215 Emma, carport, $2,200.

Kamay area residents ready for petitioning

Residents of the Valley View/Kamay area have now advanced past the talking stage, and now signatures are being collected on a petition, to obtain toll-free calling to Iowa Park, Wichita Falls and Holliday.

A crowd estimated at some 400 persons crammed into and stood outside the doors of the Kamay Volunteer Fire Dept. Tuesday evening of last week, to hear the final discussion of details leading up to the petitioning phase.

Details of the recently-enacted act passed by the state legislature pertaining to toll-free calling were explained by Commissioner Woody Gossom, who has been working with others several months on the project.

From 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 10, petitions will be located at Kamay Electric Service, Coffman

WINTER SCENE - The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Denny, 200 W. Alameda, was a winter wonderland scene Monday morning, adorned with approximately two inches of snow cover which fell on the community Sunday afternoon and evening.

Council reluctantly okays higher ambulance rates

Members of the city council Monday night expressed the feeling their hands were tied, and approved a proposed amendment raising the rates Life Line Ambulance Service can charge.

The ambulance service is under contract with Wichita County and the cities of Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Iowa Park, to provide service in the areas of those governmental bodies.

Because Life Line's request for a rate increase had already been approved by the other entities, aldermen were told that their choice was either to accept the rates of the amendment, or not have any ambulance service available to residents.

Life Line's previous rates included $198 for an "Advanced Life Support" call, $144 for a "Routine" call, and $3.20 per "loaded" mile.

The company had requested raising those rates to $290, $185 and $5, respectively.

However, the contract Iowa Park finally agreed upon called for increases to $218, $158 and $4, respectively.

But, it just happened that two of the council members had recent experience with Life Line, and the itemized bills they received indicated that rates were being charged higher than those that had been in effect, and even higher than the newly-approved rates.

Alderman Bud Mercer showed an accounting for a call to his home on Dec. 22, and Alderman Virgil Woodfin for a call to his home on Jan. 8.

In both cases, the Emergency run charge was $230, and the per-mile rate was $4.

Additional charges for alleged services performed enroute in Woodfin's case were also listed on his bill, which is said to be a standard procedure.

The council had hoped Life Line owner Mike Harmon would be in the audience for the meeting, to answer questions on the billing.

Harmon, however, had told City Administrator Mike Price earlier that he had a 5 p.m. meeting already scheduled, but would come to the meeting if possible.

Mercer, Woodfin and Price are to hold a meeting in Wichita Falls with Harmon, in an effort to obtain explanations on the apparent overcharges.

It was also suggested, during the council's discussion, that some sort of oversight, other than annual audits, be made on bills during the year to see if only the approved rates were actually being charged to customers.

No action was taken on that point, however.

Kirk Jensen, who is having a new home built on Quail Valley Road, just outside the city limits, petitioned the city to be annexed, and asked that water service be made available for the contractor's use.

The required public hearings on Jensen's request for annexation will begin in two weeks, but the council went ahead and approved his request for water service.

Also approved were proposals to advertise for water and sewer installations and the sale of city property.

Price was authorized to advertise

ALL STATE MUSICIANS - Three members of the Hawk Band earned All-State Band honors, following a series of tryouts. They are, from left, junior Darin Cash, trombone; senior Erin Hefti, saxophone, and senior Susanne Zeigermann, flute. They will participate with the All State Band in practice sessions and a concert Feb. 9-12 in San Antonio. Miss Zeigermann is an exchange student at Iowa Park High School from Germany.

Election, contracts on meeting agenda

Following a program recognizing all former school trustees, the current board will turn its attention Monday night to calling this year's election and considering contracts of all administrative personnel.

The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p.m., in the junior high school library.

February has been declared "School Board Recognition Month" in Texas, and Monday's program will be based on that theme.

A large plaque on which individual plates bearing former trustees and their years of service will be displayed. The first Iowa Park board served in 1910.

Some 26 former trustees have been invited to attend, Supt. Glen Mitchell said.

The date and other issues pertaining to the annual trustee election will be set during the meeting. Terms of Martha Dudley, Sheri Kennedy and Wendall House expire this spring.

Also on this spring's ballot will be candidates to serve the second year on the term vacated by Robert Cook.

Dennis Yeager fulfilled the remaining months of Cook's first year.

An executive session is to be held, during which evaluations of most key personnel will be discussed.

The positions include the assistant superintendent, all campus principals and assistant principals, athletic director, all counselors and the tax collector.

Actually, the evaluation of the athletic director was the exclusive subject of a called meeting held last night.

Following all the evaluations, the board is to return to open session and vote on those contracts.

Besides the various department reports, other topics on the meeting agenda include:

- * consider student transfer requests;
- * consider a request for a maximum class size waiver for the fourth grade;
- * consider a proposal on "Gifted/Talented Identification Requirements Creation of TEA Talent Pool."

Essie Johnson selected outstanding ESA'er

Essie Johnson was selected Outstanding ESA'er of Epsilon Eta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha during a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Barbara Hickman. Mrs. Johnson will represent the chapter in District VI.

Following the opening thought, given by Cyndy Dickerson, the business meeting was conducted by Mary Lynn Boyd, president.

It was announced that the chapter had received an invitation to attend the state board meeting, Feb. 12 and 13 in Dallas.

Pat Bradley, vice president, said the next pledge orientation would be held Feb. 10, in the home of Amy Brewer. The Jewel Pin ceremony for new members will be held Feb. 15.

Service chairman, Skeeter Clark, presented "Miles of Pennies" project for service to be held in the spring, and Dee Dee Forney will check with the Children's Aid Society to find if they have special needs that the chapter can assist with.

In other business, the members voted to help with projects of Iowa Park Clean & Green, a group dedicated to the beautification and clean up of the city. Epsilon Eta members will collect aluminum cans, and will plant a tree at a location determined by Clean and Green.

Mrs. Forney said that the North Texas Rehab Center telethon will be March 6 and 7, and the Iowa Park satellite center will be at her home.

A program, "Waterfall of Blossoms," was presented by Cyndy Dickerson. She gave each member the materials and instructed them on making hanging basket holders.

Members attending were Skeeter Clark, Marie Huckaby, Romona Vaughn, Essie Johnson, Dee Dee Forney, Mary Lynn Boyd, Cyndy Dickerson, Barbara Hickman, Pat Bradley and Joyce Henry.

The next meeting will be the Preferential Tea in the home of Amy Brewer.

Gilmore conducts workshop for Iowa Park Garden Club

Denise Gilmore conducted a workshop on making paper angels for the Friday morning meeting of Iowa Park Garden Club members at the RAC.

Twenty-two members in attendance assembled the angel whose body was made from a white paper doily, a wooden tole painted face, a pink satin bow around the collar and dried strawflower hair.

The angels were glued to a pink construction paper background with "A Very Special Angel" printed at the bottom. The piece was then ready to place in a shadow box frame.

During a short business session Nell Copening gave the thought for the day entitled, "Friends".

Gala Mikkelsen-Pinnix, treasurer, distributed "Vision of Beauty" calendars. The annual publication was purchased from the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc.

Stormy Mikkelsen gave a conservation report on the dangers of using treated timbers, such as old railroad cross ties, in a raised bed for a vegetable garden.

She stated that the chemicals used to treat the wood are toxic. They can leak into the soil and then into the vegetables planted in the raised bed.

For the horticulture display, Pam James showed an Amaryllis bulb which she is forcing into bloom.

Hostesses for the meeting were Kay Cole and Charlotte Kennedy. The serving table was covered with a winter green cloth and held a basket filled with ivy for the centerpiece.

Open house honoring author set Friday

Open house honoring Mila Capes-Altom will be Friday from 7-9 p.m. at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

The public is invited to attend the event and become acquainted with Mrs. Capes-Altom. Persons who have Indian blood, but have not traced their ancestry will be especially interested.

She has a genealogy publication, "Journey Into The Past," that contains basic guidelines to Indian ancestral research.

It is a small publication, but represents many hours of work and research on how to go about tracing one's Indian ancestry. The publication has a heavy stock cover with spiral binding and may be purchased Friday evening.

Mrs. Capes-Altom has presented genealogy programs locally and for the North Texas Genealogical Association in Wichita Falls.

Her next speaking engagement will be at the Oklahoma University of Arts and Sciences at Chickasha, Okla.

A Chickasaw and Choctaw Nations descendent, she was raised to live in both the "traditional and non-traditional" worlds.

She attended Concho Indian School, Fort Sill Indian School, Bethania School of Nursing, and Midwestern State University.

Although the author had been thinking about this project for a long time, after meeting so many people who want and need to locate information to prove their Indian ancestry, she decided it was time to put what she had learned into written form so others could profit from the many hours she has already spent.

She says everyone needs to know that there is no guarantee one can find, or prove their Indian ancestry.

"Journey Into The Past" is the first of Mrs. Capes-Altom's written work to be published, but another, larger book is more than three-fourths finished and is expected to be released sometime this summer.

Her first publication has only 20 pages of text, but it is filled with information to help one get started on researching. It includes where to begin, listening to people and making tape recordings, information about the Dawes Roll Books, documentation and presentation. It also includes names of the Oklahoma tribes and addresses of officials.

A member of the Chickasaw Nation Legislature, who is a friend of Mrs. Capes-Altom, is assisting her in setting up interviews with tribal elders and making appointments with remaining members of the original enrollees for her second publication entitled, "Journey Into The Past and Back".

She has been given access to some of the original diaries and records kept by those making the Trail of Tears.

Her second publication, will be an evaluation and basic description of the removal of the five civilized tribes, Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Creek, and Seminole, and their relocation. It will be a study of before, during and after the Trail of Tears.

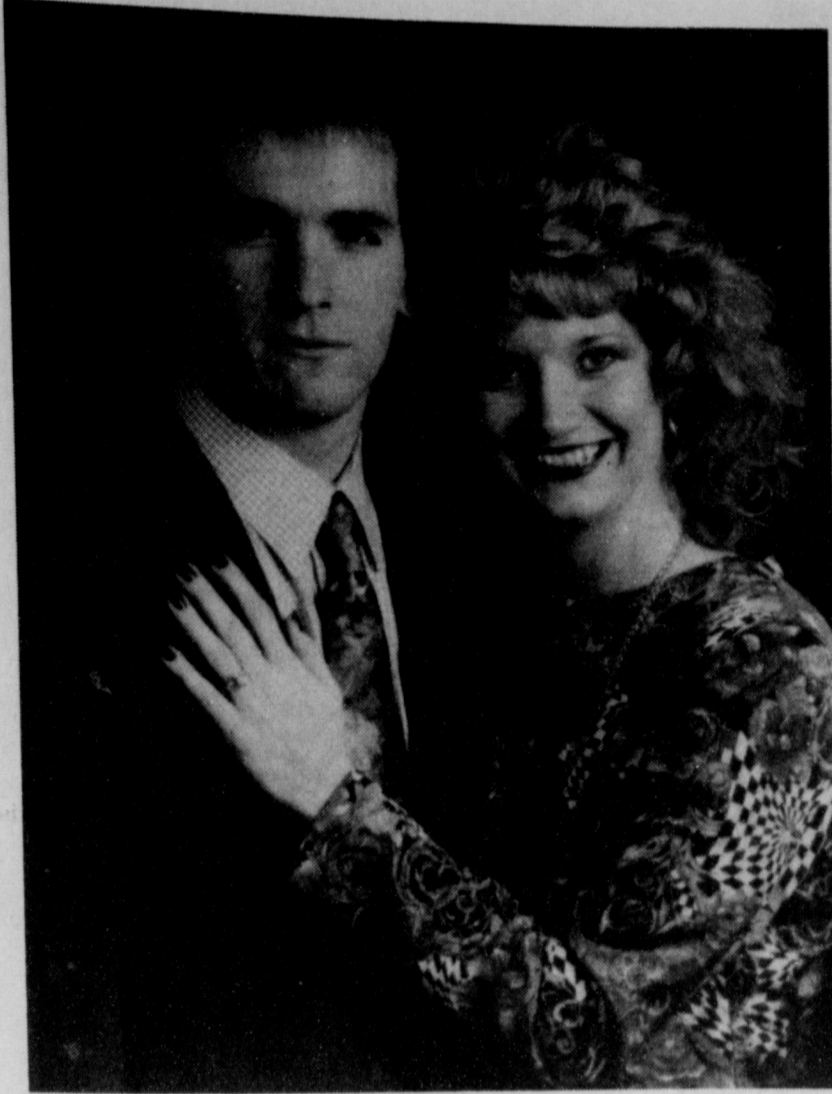

Other chapters will include personal characteristics, routes taken, what kind of government they had, and where each tribe settled, gleaned from personal interviews and from archive journals in Indian museums. Some legends also will be included.

"There is a lot of work that goes into tracing one's ancestry, it takes hours of searching old records, spending money, and sometimes spending a lot of time waiting," Mrs. Capes-Altom said.

"I was a teenager before I realized that not all people know their lineage. I stay excited as I find more and more about my own past. It is thrilling to me to think about every name I find belonged to a human being that lived, loved, laughed and dreamed," she added.

An embryo is now forming in Mrs. Capes-Altom's mind for a third publication. In the future, she hopes to personally explore the original homeland of the tribes, and travel as nearly as possible the original trail her ancestors took to Oklahoma.

Chanda Lynn Hinkle and Ronald Wayne Young

Couple sets May date

Chanda Lynn Hinkle and Ronald Wayne Young will exchange marriage vows May 14, at First Baptist Church in Panhandle.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Kalka of Panhandle. Parents of the groom-to-be are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Young of Iowa Park.

Miss Hinkle received a Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting and Finance from Texas Tech University in 1990. She is employed by NEC America, Inc., in Irving.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1986 graduate of Iowa Park High School. He received a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from Texas Tech in 1990. Currently he is employed by IBM in Roanoke.

Katarina Munsch celebrates birthday

Katarina Mykella Munsch was honored Jan. 25 with an Italian dinner party to celebrate her first birthday.

Balloons were the party theme and brightly colored ones were printed on the tablecloth and napkins. The centerpiece was balloons printed with "Happy Birthday" tied to contrasting colored sticks and arranged in a green glass container. The cake featured large pastel balloons and a pink candle inscribed with "Happy Birthday Katarina".

Attending were her parents Necia and Michael Munsch, grandparents, Gay and DeWayne Williams, her aunt, April Anderson, uncle David Williams, and Ardenne Driscoll. From out of town were her grandparents, Holly and Boyd Munsch and uncle Christian Munsch of Wichita Falls and great-grandparents, Bonnie and Andy Arrington of Nocona.

Beautification meeting today at RAC

William I. Presson, with the Texas Department of Transportation, will be guest speaker at a meeting of Iowa Park Clean and Green this afternoon starting at 5:15 at the Recreational Activities Center.

Presson will show slides and speak to the group on the sowing of wildflower seeds, and projects in which the Department of Transportation can assist the local group.

Also on the agenda will be reports on plans for the pocket park, iris beds along the railroad tracks, future work at Oscar Park, and progress of the fundraisers which include engraved brick sales and collection of aluminum cans.

Anyone who is interested in the beautification and clean up of Iowa Park is welcome to attend.

Pharm/alert Health Tips

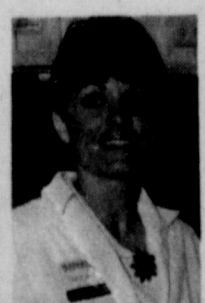

Make Your Medicines Work For You

- Many people prolong illness or grow sicker because they don't take their medicines correctly.
- Have your prescriptions filled right away, and have them refilled before you run out.
- When you get a prescription, be sure to ask your doctor or pharmacist the following five questions:
 1. What is the name of the medicine and what is it supposed to do?
 2. How and when do I take it, and for how long?
 3. What foods, drinks, other medicines or activities should I avoid while taking this medicine?
 4. Are there any side effects, and what do I do if they occur?
 5. Is there any written information available about the medicine?
- Be sure you understand all instructions before you leave your doctor's office or pharmacy. Write them down if it will help you remember later.
- Your medicines will work best for you when you take them as directed.
- Keep your medicines in their original containers.
- Do not share your prescription medicines with family or friends.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

I figure from now on, whenever I'm going to Houston, I'll just drive.

Last week's trip down there, which included driving to Dallas and flying the rest of the way, was a major disappointment and not worth the effort.

Dolores, our daughter Kari Collins, and I wanted to be in Houston no later than 1:30 p.m. Thursday. So I had reservations on the 10 a.m. flight out of Love Field.

Because the airline wants you to check in at their desk 45 minutes early presented a minor problem: how to get there on time because we were going to face the reputedly horrific commuter traffic on I-35.

In order to be on time, I figured we should leave Iowa Park by 6 a.m. And so I'd be awake enough to drive that far, that meant getting up at 4 a.m., which I did.

As we were passing through Lewisville, I began to relax, because the traffic wasn't anywhere near as bad as I had anticipated.

But that was short-lived.

About 10 miles south, we hit the congestion. How bad was it? Well, the next 15 miles, on that three-lane highway, our speed was 0 to 8 mph. But things loosened up when we got through Farmers Branch, and we cruised on in.

We didn't mind having time for a cup of coffee at the airport, having arrived about 9:40. And were among the first 20 to board the plane, when they called for loading at 10:05.

But just after everyone had taken their seats and the door was shut, the pilot announced over the speaker system that a big storm had hit Houston, and no landings were being permitted at Hobby Field until things had cleared up.

We sat, and sat, and sat. Other passengers came aboard. They were to have been on a later flight.

Finally, at 11:10, the pilot got his clearance to take off, because the storm was about to clear Houston.

Only one little hitch, though. The storm's clouds were still between us and our destination, so that meant a "minor detour from the regular route."

I knew the 55-minute flight was going to be extended somewhat, when my Scout's training told me the sun was on my left, once we cleared the low clouds over Dallas.

Then we were told the plane's route was to take us over Abilene, Junction and San Antonio.

We originally had been scheduled to arrive in Houston at 10:55, but my watch indicated it was 12:40 p.m. when the plane's wheels touched the runway.

During the press convention, I compared notes with Roy Eaton, publisher of the Wise County Messenger at Decatur, who had driven all the way down with his wife.

Roy's departure time from Decatur was about 10 minutes earlier than the time I recalled when we had gotten off US 287 to go to Denton.

But the Eatons were already in the hotel when we got there. They had arrived just about the time our plane was touching down at the airport, despite having to drive through a major storm on I-45.

So, it just goes to show you. The fastest method of travel doesn't always get you to your destination any earlier.

for bids to have water and sewer installed in the initial portion of Park Place Addition.

The bids are to be opened Feb. 22. An offer of $10,025 for two lots owned by the city, from Bill Steger, was approved.

Three residential lots were created after the city had the water tower moved from Gordon Lake to the south part of town.

When the city advertised the availability of the lots, one was purchased, but no offers were received for either of the others.

Because they had been previously advertised, but not sold, it was not necessary to re-advertise their availability, aldermen were told.

Also approved was a resolution by the council which supports the efforts of Kamay area residents to obtain toll freestretched area calling.

Castro was transported to the county jail.

Two reports of criminal mischief were filed during the past week with police. One was because of damage inflicted to equipment at the laundry in the 300 block of West Bank, and a window screen at Bradford Elementary had been torn off.

WORTH QUOTING

A classified ad that has been running every week for months and months in the Montague County Shopper goes something like this:

"Will the persons who borrowed my Harrow last summer please bring it home? Tex McNabb, Nocona, TX."

A few days ago another ad appeared right under that one. It said, "if you have Ted McNabb's harrow, take it back to him. I want to borrow it."

Mrs. Mike Hoover and Kyla

Jan (Mrs. Mike) Hoover moved from Abilene to Iowa Park in August, after her husband was named principal at Kidwell Elementary School.

Jan was born at Big Spring. Her father was a Methodist minister and the family lived in several different towns in Texas while she was growing up. She graduated high school at Perryton, and received her Bachelor of Science in Education degree from McMurry University in Abilene. It was while she was attending McMurry that she met her future husband.

Jan and Mike have two daughters, seven-year-old Kyla, a second grader at Kidwell, and Ashleigh who is two years old. The family are members of the First United Methodist Church.

Currently, Jan prefers to stay at home with her children, but does some substitute teaching. When the girls are older, she is planning on going back to full time teaching.

Jan likes to play golf and read in her spare time, and she enjoys trips to the mountains or lakes with her family.

Most of Jan's recipes came from her mother, but the "Pecan Pie" recipe was given to her by an aunt. She said that "Smothered Steak" and "Meat Loaf" are favorites of her husband.

Smothered Steak

Use round steak or sliced pork chops
Brown meat, that has been cut in pieces and dipped in flour, salt and pepper, in skillet. Not too much grease. Put in casserole dish.

Add flour to grease to make a gravy with water. Add 1 can cream of mushroom soup. Pour over meat; add enough water to cover well. Bake about 3 hours at 350 degrees.

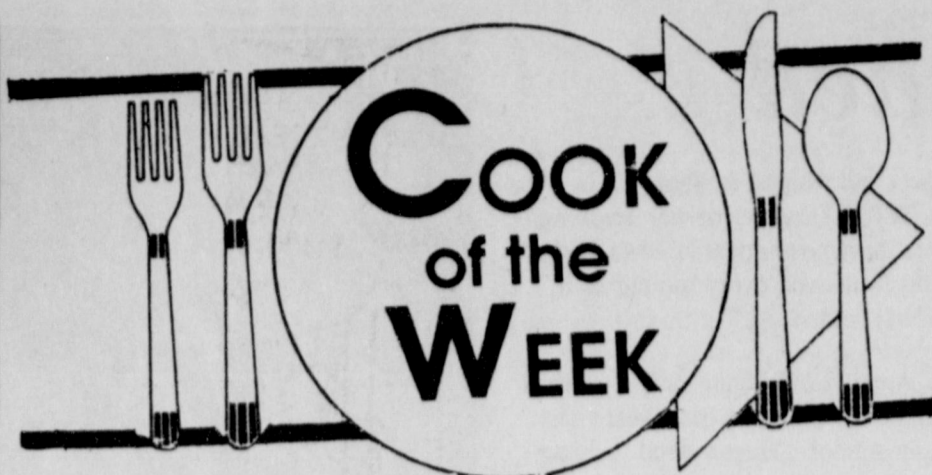

Note: Onion soup mix may be added to gravy mix.

Meat Loaf

2 lbs. ground chuck
2 eggs
1 cup milk
2 cups tomato sauce
1 1/2 cup cracker crumbs
1 small chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Mix all together, adding meat last. Bake 45 minutes to 1 hour in 350 degree oven.

Chocolate Chip Cake

1 box yellow cake mix
1 small box chocolate instant pudding
1 ctn. sour cream
3 eggs
3/4 cup water
3/4 cup cooking oil

Combine in mixer on medium for 2 minutes. Fold in 1 cup chopped pecans. Then fold in 1 small bag chocolate chips.

Pour mixture into greased and floured bundt pan and bake 55 minutes at 350 degrees.

Pecan Pie

1/2 cup sugar
2 Tbsps. butter
2 eggs, beaten
2 Tbsps. flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup white Karo
1 cup chopped pecans
1 unbaked pie crust

Cream butter and sugar; add flour and salt and mix well. Add eggs, beating well. Mix in Karo. Place pecans on bottom of crust. Pour pie mixture over pecans in crust. Place in 350 degree oven and bake 30-35 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean.

Easy Pot Roast

1 pkg. Lipton onion soup
1 1/2 cup water
Frozen roast of your choice

In slow cooker, add the onion soup mix and the water. Then add your favorite roast (frozen). Cook on low heat overnight. The next morning peel and cut potatoes and carrots if wanted. Add to roast and salt and pepper. It will be ready by noon.

Houston show draws local entries

Twenty five FFA members from Iowa Park High School will be exhibiting a total of 28 entries in this year's edition of the Houston Livestock Show.

The event is scheduled Feb. 19 through Mar. 6 at the Astrohall.

Iowa Park FFA is among 878 Texas 4-H clubs and FFA chapters that have more than 11,000 entries in this year's junior show division.

The show's four market animal categories (steers, lambs, barrows and poultry) represent animals raised by the exhibitors as food sources.

Top animals in each of the categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1993 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $3.5 million.

Iowa Park's delegation has 12 market barrows, 11 market turkeys, four market steers and one market lamb entered.

Lacy and Rusty Downs will have two entries in the show, as will Kevin Tucker. Lacy and Rusty have each entered a market barrow and market turkey, and Kevin Tucker has a market steer and market turkey.

Others who have barrows entered are Amber and Ashley Brandt, Chris Clerihew, Robyn Dillard, Ross Dillard, Clancy Lalumia, Barry McCord, Keith Norris, Sandy Rusk and Kerry Wylie.

Other market steer entries include Deneka Johnson, Joshua Johnson, and Clay Parker.

Others who have market turkeys entered are Adam Arrington, Josh Arrington, Dennie Atchley, Mindy Atchley, Kaylee Baumer, Rudy Hawkins, Cari Hogan and Amanda Stephens.

Lori Kyle has the only market lamb entered from here.

With two tables in play this week, Alene Onstead had the high score of 4720. Second high was earned by Beatrice Mayfield with 3500 points. If you plan to play bridge next Monday and have not signed up, please remember to call Jo Lynn at 592-4471 and get your name on the roster. Thanks!

C&W Valentine Dance

The RAC will host its regular monthly C&W dance with a Valentine flair tonight beginning at 7:00. The dance is open to the public of all ages with an admission fee of $3.00 per person. We are planning a great time in celebration of the upcoming holiday, so if you have never been to one of our dances this would be a great time to start coming!

Attention Cloggers

Unfortunately, due to low attendance in Iowa Park, we have had to cancel clogging lessons at the RAC. However, if you are interested in taking lessons we can put your name on a waiting list to start new classes this fall. Cloggers who have been attending regularly will need to contact the class instructor for where to continue their lessons. Thanks to those of you who were faithful... we enjoyed having you!

Valentine Parties

The RAC will host children's valentines parties throughout the day on Friday, Feb. 11. Persons interested in attending should contact the RAC at 592-4471 before next Thursday. Reservations will be required so that we can be certain to have enough goodies for everyone. Parents or caregivers who can help with preparations are encouraged to call Jo Lynn as soon as possible.

Reminder... 2/14

Groups who have regular meetings on Monday evenings at the RAC are reminded that February 14th is not available due to a previously scheduled, paid event. Please relay this information to members of your organization. We regret the inconvenience, but do appreciate your cooperation.

Teacher has book published

Beverly J. McClure, a fifth grade teacher at Bradford Elementary School, has had her second article published in a children's magazine and a third will be published in June.

In addition to these having been accepted, she now has a manuscript for a novel "making the rounds" (her words). It is for children, ages eight to 12.

Beverly laughed and said, "And, I also have a bunch of rejection slips about this high," measuring an exaggerated height with her hand.

"But, I'm not discouraged, Dr. Seuss had lots of rejections before he sold his first book", she said

Evidently she really isn't discouraged, because she has two other novels in various stages of completion. "I'm always starting more than one thing at a time," she said.

One of the novels she is working on is for young adults. The other is a biography of her mother's life.

Mrs. McClure's first article appeared a year ago in a magazine for children entitled, Happiness, that is published in Virginia. It was on Fire Prevention and Safety.

Her second was published in the January/February issue of Humpty Dumpty magazine, also for children. It was titled "Fingerprints", with drawings, showing children how to take their own fingerprints.

The article pointed out that each person has something unique--that nobody else in the world has fingerprints like theirs. It also showed artwork that could be created from a fingerprint. Mrs. McClure explained that the children do that in her art classes, teaching the children to be creative.

"I started writing three years ago, but I still haven't sold enough to pay for my typewriter ribbons and postage."

The third of her articles to be published is on the Road Runner and will be in the June issue of Junior Trails, a religious publication for children.

"I started writing three years ago, but I still haven't sold enough to pay for my typewriter ribbons and postage," she joked. She now has a desk top computer.

Beverly says she has no trouble writing stories for children. She commented, "I think that I think like a child now."

She raised three sons of her own and has taught in the elementary grades 21 years. Part of the time she taught first and second grades and for the past 10 years has been a fifth grade teacher.

She has 23 students in her homeroom. She teaches language arts and science. How do students this age differ than those she taught in the early 1970s?

Beverly says the students today really learn quicker, because they have so much more to help them learn. "I just wish I had time to use more of the materials I have provided to me. We use the VCR a lot. So much now is audio-visual.

"Children have so much more to do now than they used to. They are involved in so many things outside the classroom that homework sort of takes a back seat in priorities. Of course, we realize there is life outside the classroom, and because they can learn faster now, it helps in that respect," she said.

"I find the children are a little easier to handle the first of the year than they are near the end of the school year. They start to act more like they are junior high school age and begin to assert their independence more toward the end of school," Beverly commented.

She believes the D.A.R.E. program has helped a great deal because the children now feel they have someone they can talk to that will listen to them. Also they are more aware of what to watch for, what to expect and what to do about it.

All 21 years of her teaching career have been spent in Iowa Park. "And I've loved every minute of it," Beverly said.

A native of Wichita Falls, Beverly lived there the first nine years she taught school. They moved to Iowa Park 12 years ago and now her husband, Jack, has to drive back and forth to work. He is a member of the Wichita Falls Fire Department.

The McClures have three sons, Kelly, a senior at Midwestern State University, his mother's alma mater. He is majoring in chemistry and plans to go to graduate school, but has not yet decided where.

Scott has his own air conditioning business in Iowa Park and has returned to MSU to complete his degree. A third son, Rex, lives in Charleston, S.C.

There are also three McClure grandchildren, so Beverly continues to be associated with young children, in or out of the classroom. It is almost a given that she will continue to write articles and stories appealing to children.

Vera Lilla Bates

Graveside services for Vera Lilla Gilbert Bates, 81, were at 2 p.m. Monday in Highland Cemetery.

Rev. Charles Hensley, pastor of First Assembly of God of Iowa Park, and Rev. Bobby Christmas, pastor of Allendale Baptist Church of Wichita Falls officiated. Arrangements were under direction of Owens & Brumley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Bates died Friday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Born Oct. 21, 1912, in Leon County, she was married to John O. Brown March 3, 1933 in Jourdan. He died Jan. 9, 1969. She and Carl Bates were married May 8, 1974, in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Bates had lived in the North Texas area 30 years. She graduated Normangee High School, and worked for Bethania Hospital 10 years retiring as a nurses aide. She was a member of First Assembly of God in Iowa Park, the Adult Sunday School Class and the Women's Ministry.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Dorothea Holleman of Wichita Falls and Johnnie Ray of Flomaton, Ala.; two stepsons, Doyle F. of Houston and Archie of Fort Worth; three stepdaughters, Betty Smith of Fort Worth, Virginia Fort of Leroy, Judy Bohart of Wellington, Va.; two brothers, four sisters, 17 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Memorials may be made to Hospice of Wichita Falls.

Irene Horton

Services for Irene Horton, 79, were scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday at Community Funeral Home in Vernon. Graveside services will be at 2 p.m., in Independence, Okla. Rev. Neal Owens, pastor of Vernon Church of God, will officiate.

Mrs. Horton, stepmother of Edward Horton of Iowa Park, died Monday in a Vernon nursing home.

Born Sept. 27, 1914, in Texola, she had lived in Vernon 22 years, moving from Oklahoma. She was a homemaker and a member of Vernon Church of God. Her first husband, Dan M. Trench, died Sept. 27, 1970.

She is survived by her husband, Jewell; two sons, Daniel McFarland Trench of Amarillo, and Ronnie Doyle Trench of Clancy, Mont.; one daughter, Judy Mae Langston of Wills Point; another stepson, Glen Horton of Haltom City; three stepdaughters, Rita Lee of Vernon, Joyce Gray of Minnesota and Glenda Morris of Wichita Falls; three brothers, Woodrow Cox of Clarkston, Wash., Mearl Cox of Sacramento, Calif., and Hugh Cox of Lewiston, Idaho; three sisters, Mattie Rogers of Hacienda Heights, Calif., Lorena Solomon of Sacramento, and Lillie Mae Tice of Rocklin, Calif.; 20 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Tony Shawver

Services for Tony Shawver, 58, of Munday were at 2 p.m. Sunday at Megargel Baptist Church. He was a stepson of Neta Shawver of Iowa Park.

Rev. Brad Sullard, pastor and Rev. David Ball, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church of Breckenridge, officiated. Burial was in Megargel Cemetery under direction of Lunn Funeral Home.

Shawver died Friday in Megargel.

Born July 25, 1935, in Megargel, he was married to Brenda Harmel April 4, 1958, in Olney.

Shawver graduated Megargel High School and Texas Tech University. He was a farmer and a welder. He served in the Army from 1958 to 1960. He moved to Munday in 1968 from Megargel. Shawver was a member of Munday Volunteer Fire Association and of First Baptist Church of Munday.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Carey of Megargel; one daughter, Joy Ball of Breckenridge; a sister, Sue Sharplay of Corsicana; his stepmother, and three grandchildren.

Memorials may be made to Munday Elementary School library, P.O. Box 300, Munday, 76371, or Megargel Cemetery Association.

Richard Herring

Services for Richard "Ted" Herring, 78, were at 11 a.m. Tuesday at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Rhineland.

Rev. George Foley, pastor, officiated. Burial was in St. Joseph's Catholic Cemetery under direction of McCauley-Smith Funeral Home of Munday.

Herring, stepfather of Lenny Joe Williams of Iowa Park, died Sunday in a Knox City hospital.

Born May 16, 1915, in Knox City, he was a retired farmer and a member St. Joseph's Catholic Church. He was married to Dorothy Williams Nov. 28, 1974, in Rhineland.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Dorothy Oliver of Lubbock, and Judy Fox of Mesquite; two sons, Richard of Burleson and David of Arlington; two stepdaughters, Donna Browning and Joann Maston, both of Munday; two other stepsons, James Williams of Munday and Rick Williams of Cleburne; two sisters, Edna Herring and Mary Groves, both of Knox City; two brothers, Louis J. of Merrit, Fla., and William of Henrietta, and 23 grandchildren.

Lucille Ingram

Services for Lucille Ingram, 86, of Throckmorton were held at 2 p.m. Monday at Merriman-Archer Funeral Home in Throckmorton. She was the mother of Raye Stubbs of Iowa Park.

Rev. Edgar Jones officiated and burial was in Throckmorton Cemetery.

Mrs. Ingram died Friday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

She was born April 12, 1907 in Throckmorton County. She was married to Hugh C. Ingram Aug. 4, 1922, in the Bush Knob community in Throckmorton County. He died Aug. 1, 1974.

Mrs. Ingram was a retired food service worker for the Throckmorton Independent School District and a member of First Baptist Church.

Surviving are one son, Cecil of Fort Worth; another daughter, Peggy L. Murray of Throckmorton; one brother, Sherman Fant of Houston; four sisters, Caddie Burrows of Throckmorton, Mavis Howsley of Lubbock, Charlene Fant of Gardnerville, Nev., and Mary Ruth Harris of Wichita Falls; eight grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Jewel S. Deaton

Services for Jewel S. Deaton, 89, were at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at Dutton Funeral Home. Dr. Greg Ammons, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, officiated.

Graveside services were at 2 p.m. Thursday in Veale Creek Cemetery near Possum Kingdom Lake in Young County, with Rev. Tim Heavin, officiating.

Mrs. Deaton died Tuesday, Jan. 25, in Iowa Park.

Born Sept. 15, 1904, in Kingston, La., she was married to Bert Deaton Aug. 8, 1925 in Redmud. He preceded her in death in 1981. Her sons, Charles, died in 1941 and George, died in 1993.

Mrs. Deaton had lived in Iowa Park two years, moving here from Hamlin. She was a member of Dumont Baptist Church and was a homemaker.

She is survived by three daughters, Ann Meinzer of Iowa Park, Mary Osborn of Winters, and Betty Park of Dumont; one son, Glenn of Hamlin; one sister, Nettie McClain of Grand Prairie; two brothers, Jake Shackelford and Sam Shackelford, both of Spur; 12 grandchildren, and 16 great-grandchildren.

Hazel Maud Perry

Services for Hazel Maud Perry, 90, were at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Highland Pavilion.

Rev. Glen Blackmon, pastor of First United Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Highland Cemetery under direction of Dutton Funeral Home.

Mrs. Perry died Sunday in a Kingfisher, Okla., nursing home.

Born June 19, 1903, in what is now Gotebo, Okla., she was married to Leo C. Perry March 18, 1923, in Crowell. He died Feb. 9, 1988.

Mrs. Perry lived in Iowa Park more than 56 years until moving to Kingfisher 1 1/2 years ago. She was a homemaker and a member of First United Methodist Church.

She is survived by four daughters, Gwen Warren of San Jacinto, Calif., Betty McKinnis of Kingfisher, Neva Bancroft of Irving, and Donna Peterson of Houston; 10 grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren, and eight great-great-grandchildren.

Memorials may be made to Tom Burnett Memorial Library of Iowa Park.

Edward B. Sammons

Graveside services for Edward Burns Sammons, 86, father of Linda G. Owen of Iowa Park, were Thursday at 10 a.m. in Crestview Memorial Park in Wichita Falls.

Sammons died Monday, Jan. 24, in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Born July 12, 1907, in Heron Lake, Minn., he was married to Norma M. Mycroft Aug. 2, 1936.

Sammons was a retired oil field engine repairman for Harlow Sammons Inc. He had lived in Wichita Falls since 1950.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Richard V. Kemnitz of Woodland, Calif., Ronald P. Kemnitz of Wichita Falls and Edward J. of Plano; another daughter, Janis F. Dollar of Los Angeles; one sister, Abbie Trout of Pocatello, Idaho; 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Area gardeners should be gearing up for the spring season.

Soil preparation, landscaping planning, cole crops, and lawn weed prevention are top priorities for the next month in Texoma. This garden checklist will help remind you about special care practices in the lawn, landscape and garden for February.

Planting:

* Cool-season color can still be planted. Pansies, ornamental cabbage and kale can brighten the late winter landscape.

* Fruit and pecan trees are available at local nurseries and ready for planting.

* Container grown shade trees can be planted for property value improvement and summer shade. Use recommended varieties.

* Test your garden soil before planting or fertilizing. Contact your local county extension office for details.

* Prepare garden soils now for spring planting. New gardeners should consider constructing raised beds. Fill the bed area with a quality potting mix for an instant garden area.

* Onion transplants can be planted now. The famous 1015Y Texas Supersweet onion is available at local garden centers.

* Cole crops can be planted soon. These include cabbage, broccoli, Brussels sprouts.

Weed and Pest Control:

* Apply pre-emergent herbicide to established lawns for warm season annual weed control. Products such as Balan, Balan XL, Betasan, and E.C. Grow are available at garden centers and pest control outlets. Follow all label rates and directions when using these products.

* Apply dormant oil sprays to fruit trees, pecans and other scale prone landscape plants. Apply dormant oil when temperatures are between 40 degrees F. and 70 degrees F. and is predicted to remain moderate for several days. Follow all label directions.

Fertilizers:

* Apply a 21-0-0 fertilizer around pecan trees in late February. One pound per square inch of trunk diameter is sufficient.

* Fertilize asparagus beds with a high nitrogen product at label rates.

* Use a 3-1-2 or 4-1-2 ratio plant food for cool-season flowers, at label rates.

Pruning:

* Shade tree pruning should be complete soon. Remove damaged or weak limbs. Do not top shade trees.

* Prune peaches and plums to an open center with strong side branches.

* Prune grape vines back by 80 percent.

* Prune bush roses around Valentine's Day. Do not prune climbing roses until after their main flowering cycle in late spring.

Senior citizen sporting event set this summer

"Growing older doesn't mean we are growing old," emphasized a spokesman for the upcoming Texas Senior Sports Classic in Wichita Falls.

Don Decker of Iowa Park, who has retired from two jobs, was explaining how the first North Texas Senior Sports Classic scheduled for the first week in May, should change the public's attitude towards older people.

He said mature adults over 50 years of age are physically fit and have a desirable quality of life.

"Just visit the Sikes Senter Mall any morning and see the people walking or check the number of joggers running past your house," he explained.

The scheduled senior athletic games will be conducted at Sheppard Air Force Base May 5-7, with events for men and women over 50 years.

Gail Natale, publicity chair for the proposed games, said although this will be the first in Texoma, similar games have been taking place across the country for more than a dozen years under different names.

"Our's will be North Texas Senior Sports Classic", she explained, but pointed out that similar events are held in Austin, Arlington, Corpus Christi, Lubbock as well as Kerrville. In many cases they are simply called "senior games".

The three-day event will allow older adults a chance to compete in sporting and recreational contests that range from bicycle rides to 100-meter dashes.

Natale added that there will be the normal bridge and checkers events of senior citizens centers, but there will also be swimming, basketball, bowling, golf, racquet ball tennis and track and field events.

To even the events out there will be five-year age divisions such as 50-54, 55-59, and 60-64, she said.

More than $5000 in trophies, medals and ribbons will be awarded to winners in the various events and the top three in each class will then participate in the state-wide senior games to be held in Arlington. The top three from Arlington will go to the nationals that will be held in 1995.

"These games will demonstrate to the public that mature adults are physically fit and have a desirable quality of life...in fact by remaining physically active they are in the mainstream of life," said Natale.

How many will participate in this first senior sports classic is anyone's guess. A poll of other cities revealed that 800 entered the first senior games at Lubbock, but only 100 signed up at Corpus Christi.

"I believe the numbers will depend on publicity received and how it is understood by potential contestants," explained the publicity chair.

The classic games are sponsored by Senior Citizens Services of North Texas and information flyers with entry blanks will be available at all senior citizens centers in the area, according to Betty Brown, executive director.

She stressed that the games were originated by the Senior Citizens Services, but will not receive any funding by them as their resources are needed to carry out their normal operational services.

Decker, who first learned of the games while attending a bicycle ride in Kerrville during an Easter weekend, said the event as it grows will bring hundreds, even thousands of participants and volunteers into the area for three days each May.

In addition, the games will allow the public to see the growing facilities at SAFB, as all events will be held there with the exception of swimming which will be conducted at Midwestern State University.

"Best of all," grinned Decker, "it should change the public's image...even their attitude about aging. I'm older, not old!", he explained.

More information can be obtained at 322-6232, Betty Brown; or at 761-1000, Beth Adcock; or by writing North Texas Senior Sports Classic, P.O. Box 1655, Wichita Falls, 76307-1655.

Girls softball meeting slated

Girls softball season is just around the corner, and a meeting is scheduled Sunday evening to prepare for it.

The meeting, to begin at 7 p.m. at the Recreational Activities Center, will be open to all persons, especially parents, interested in the league.

On tap are election of officers, projects to be held during the year, and recruit coaches.

Girls softball in Iowa Park is a part of the Little League program, and open to youth six through 15 years of age, according to Skip Sheets, player agent.

Carlton heads LL Auxiliary

New officers were elected Sunday for the Iowa Park Little League Auxiliary.

They include Rick Carlton, chairperson; Dee Tatom, vice chairperson; Carrie Turner, treasurer, and Cindy Lane, secretary.

The organization's next meeting, which is open to all interested persons, will be at 1 p.m. Sunday, at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center.

Minor changes in district membership

The University Interscholastic League made some changes in Iowa Park's conference, including its number, it was announced Tuesday.

Dist. 3-AAA, formerly 4-AAA, continues to contain six members, including Iowa Park, Vernon, Graham and Bowie.

Added in place of Breckenridge and Henrietta, however, were Jacksboro and Bridgeport.

Breckenridge was assigned to Dist. 6-AAA, joining Abilene Wylie, Ballinger, Clyde, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland and Merkel.

Henrietta, after two years in Class AAA, will be competing with Electra, Archer City, Holliday, Olney, Petrolia, Quanah and Seymour in Dist. 9-AA.

Virtually everyone in Dist. 4-AAA had thought Graham would be moved up in classification. However, Graham High's enrollment was reported at 713, and the AAA cutoff was set at 714, according to reports.

Neither Bridgeport nor Jacksboro will be newcomers to Hawk fans. Both have been in the same district with Iowa Park in the past.

In fact, the Hawks have played the two schools eight times in football during the past 25 seasons, and Iowa Park won all 16 of those games.

Bridgeport and Iowa Park were in the same district from 1984 through 1991, before moving into another conference in the last realignment.

Jacksboro and Iowa Park were conference members for only one year, 1970, before the local school was re-classified. Jacksboro spent two other years, 1986 and '87, in Dist. 4-AAA, before returning to AA.

The Hawks and Tigers met in the state AA semifinals in 1969.

Iowa Park's five nonconference football games for 1994 have tentatively been scheduled, Coach Robert Clensay announced Tuesday.

They include, in order of play, Burkburnett, Electra, Hamlin, Southlake Carroll and Springtown.

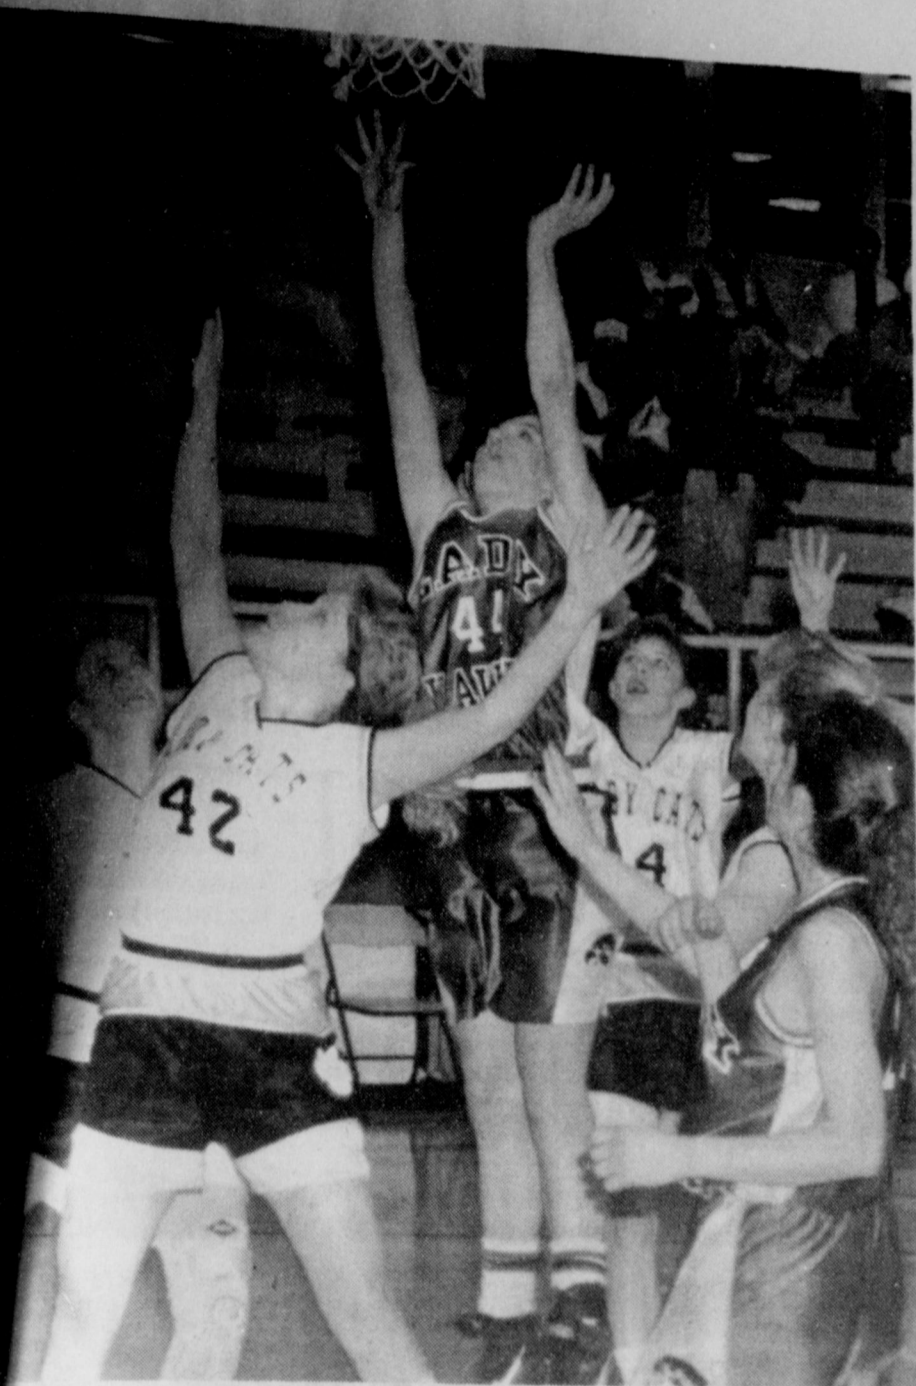

Carroll, which won the state football championship the past two years, as well as the basketball title in 1993, was moved up to Class AAAA.

Realignment of districts announced Tuesday by the UIL resulted in a gem of a comment by Kaufman coach Wayne Mahaffee, who will face conference members Southlake Carroll, Wylie, Castleberry and Mabank the next two years. He was quoted in the Dallas Morning News: "We were expecting it. The only thing worse would have been moving into the Southwest Conference."

ss ss ss ss ss

Some former Hawk baseball players might recognize the name of the new principal at Bridgeport High. He's Bill Theftord, who coached baseball from 1977 to 1984 at Azle, when the Hawks were playing in Class AAAA.

Hawks start 2nd half with victory

The Hawks earned an unexpected boost toward their goal of possibly winning the second half of the district round robin basketball schedule.

Iowa Park defeated Vernon, at Vernon, Tuesday night, 64-60.

Coach Tim Clark pointed out last week that three of the half's games are scheduled on the Hawks' home court, a factor often helpful to any club.

So the Hawks start the second half with a 1-0 record. They host Bowie Friday, Breckenridge Tuesday, travel Feb. 11 to Graham, and wind up the schedule at home Feb. 15 against Henrietta.

Also important about Tuesday's win at Vernon was the fact that the Lions had defeated Iowa Park 61-46 when they played here, mainly due to the Hawks scoring only 15 points in the second half.

That wasn't the case Tuesday, however. A 22-18 second quarter gave the Hawks a 36-34 lead going into the second half. They added two more cushion points in the third, 13-11, and stayed even, 15-15 in the fourth.

Three Hawks finished in double figures: Rudy Hawkins, 19; Mike Stanford, 14, and Randy Schmidt, 10.

The Junior Varsity also edged their hosts, 44-41.

Iowa Park posted its only victory of the first half Friday, by defeating Henrietta 74-55. Five players scored in double digits in that contest, led by Hawkins' 17. John Lucas had 16, Stanford 15, Jason Young 12 and Michael Fallon 10.

The JV also won that one, 66-62.

The preceding Tuesday's game was different, however. Despite playing at home, Iowa Park lost to league-leading Graham, 77-57. Hawkins and Stanford had 17 and 15 points, respectively.

Graham also won the JV game, 55-38.

LADY HAWKS

The Lady Hawks won one of their last three contests, and are 1-2 in the second half of their conference schedule with only Bowie and Breckenridge remaining.

They will host Bowie Friday, and travel Tuesday to Breckenridge.

Iowa Park's lone victory of the current half was Friday's 69-45 drubbing of Henrietta.

The Lady Hawks out-scored their opponent in every quarter, and held a 35-16 advantage at halftime.

Dusti Welch racked up 30 big points for scoring honors, and Brianna Stalker followed with 18.

The JV also won, 66-62.

At Vernon Tuesday, the Lady Lions out-scored Iowa Park 60-42, despite Dusti Welch's 14 points.

Vernon had beaten Iowa Park 59-43 here in their previous matchup.

The JV won another overtime, edging Vernon 46-44.

In last week's game on Tuesday, the Lady Hawks lost for the second time to Graham, 61-29. Iowa Park's two leading scorers, Dusti Welch and Jodi Young, both were held to eight points.

Graham also won that night's Junior Varsity game, 50-45.

Classes buy bricks

To support the beautification projects in Iowa Park, eight third grade classes are buying engraved bricks that will be placed around a flagpole at the Recreational Activities Center (RAC).

To celebrate the 100th day of school last week, students in the third grade classes were asked to bring 100 pennies to school. The coins were used throughout the day in working math problems, and the students learned how to roll them up in wrappers supplied by a local bank.

The students wanted to use the combined pennies to buy engraved bricks, and there were enough for each of eight classes to have a brick with their homeroom name and date engraved on it.

This activity is one of the third grade students' community projects, and one of their teachers, Mike Bean, says they are looking for other ways they can help in the clean up and beautification projects now going on in the city.

Parental problem drinking detrimental to children

(This is the third in a series of articles on alcoholics in the home by Diane Grandbury, school counselor.)

Studies indicate that parental problem drinking is most detrimental for children of six to seven years old, then again in early adolescence, and again in later adolescence.

Throughout their development children are consistently confronted with change. They must face the challenge of growth, plus the necessity to maintain the security of the past.

Children of alcoholics encounter major growth problems, but possess little security from the past upon which to draw. Because of this in times of an alcohol crisis, these children may regress to an earlier level of emotional development.

This defense mechanism is called regression. Unpredictable crying spells, baby-talk, bedwetting and a return to a previously extinguished habit, like thumb sucking, are some signs that a child has regressed.

Loud, angry voices late at night, the sharp smell of whiskey or the sour smell of emptied beer cans, a parent sprawled on a couch or passed out on the floor, the screech of tires as the family car turns in the driveway, or the silence, the waiting, the tension when the drinking parent has not come home are just some of the things that children of alcoholics endure with few opportunities for ventilation of their own feelings.

Repression is the defense mechanism that children in alcoholic homes often use. They repress their feelings to prevent "rocking the boat".

They may also repress actions like not inviting friends to their homes for fear of what the unpredictable alcoholic parent will say or do.

Projection is another defense mechanism used by some children of alcoholics. Projection is the denial of unacceptable behaviors and situations by attributing them to others.

A child in an alcoholic home might ignore his or her own inappropriate behavior while (unrealistically) blaming another for the same behavior. This mechanism functions to allow the child to disassociate from realities he or she cannot bear to face.

KIDWELL

Teacher of the Week

Mary Helen Schell, first grade teacher, has been selected as Teacher of the Week.

A native of Lawton, Okla, she received her degree from Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts in Chickasha. She has taught a total of 26 years, 15 of those at Kidwell Elementary, and three years as music teacher at Kidwell and Bradford Elementary.

Mrs. Schell and her husband, Glenn, have two children, Kenneth, a junior at Iowa Park High School and Karen, a sixth grader.

Mrs. Schell enjoys playing the piano, sewing and reading.

February GRIN Program

The G.R.I.N. (Guidance Really Is Neat) program for February is citizenship.

Mrs. Bowling will visit all Kidwell classrooms during the month. She will discuss such things as government, rules, fair play, voting and public servants as part of the program.

Emphasis will be placed on Presidents Lincoln and Washington, as their birthdays will be celebrated this month.
