Bad Weather Halts Weekend Visiting

PUTNAM-For the benefit of our out-of-state readers (and we do have some) we will say that we have had all kinds of weather at Putnam the past week. For two days the thermometer reached in the high 80's and it was clear and nice. Some people got out their garden plows and bought onion plants. Then the next day the temperature plummeted down to 15 degrees with sleet, snow and ice. That's just Texas weather. The grain fields are getting so pretty and green again, also the grass and weeds that will afford good grazing for the livestock.

We are lucky so far as I know, not to have any of our citizens on the sick list.

Mr. Hulen Smith who has been a patient at Eastland Memorial Hospital for some time, came home Friday. He has to go back for treatments, but we are glad he is able to come home.

On account of the severe weather there has been very little visiting this weekend, therefore news is scarce.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guidry and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Miller of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Everett of Breckenridge, Mrs. Retta Brown and Sharla of Ft. Worth and Mr. and Mrs. James Isenhower and family of Coleman were all guests of Mrs. Ollie Burnam last weekend and attended the funeral of Mrs. Burette Ramsey.

Burette's two daughters, Mrs. Stella Hughes of Rankin and Mrs. Jo Ann Collinsworth of Jacksboro have been staying with him this week. We did not get a list of all relatives attending the funeral, but Johnnie Mae's brother, Willie Jeter and family, were here from Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carter of Vernon spent last weekend with Mrs. Veda Yarbrough.

Mrs. R.B. Taylor spent Monday night and Tuesday night with Mrs. Fred Heyser at Baird.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Mosesly of Kingsville visited her mother and sister, Mrs. R.C. Speegle and Mrs. Annie Mae Donaway this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Toland of Breckenridge visited her parents, the John Pettys, Friday.

Local Telephone Tax Passed On To Customers

COUNTY-Telephone users within the city limits of Baird, Clyde, Loraine, Merkel, Moran, Putnam and Trent will see the local two percent franchise tax added to their telephone bills beginning this month, according to Alan Armstrong, Customer Service Manager for Continental Telephone in Baird. The city tax had previously been paid by the Company out of its local service revenues.

In a recent rate order to Continental, the Public Utility Commission of Texas directed that any local franchise or street use tax paid by the Company be broken out from local service charges and passed on to customers receiving service in the taxing jurisdiction. The firm complied with this order in local rate adjustments placed into effect last summer, but held off billing the tax until certain questions were resolved and city councils notified of the change.

The Commission determined that telephone users should be aware of the tax impact on their phone bills. Only customers within a taxing jurisdiction will be liable for the tax. The ruling exempts telephone customers in rural areas and those in cities levying no franchise tax.

"On the brighter side," said Armstrong, "we are pleased that the federal excise tax on both local and long distance service has been reduced from four percent to three percent." For many customers the reduction in federal tax will offset the added local tax. In both cases the telephone company serves only as the tax collector and regularly forwards the tax receipts to the appropriate government body.

Baird FFA Joins In 50 Year Celebration

Baird-FFA, one of the best examples of youth in action on the American scene today, is currently celebrating its Golden Anniversary. This national organization for students studying vocational agriculture in the public high schools will be observing National FFA Week Feb. 17-24.

Soon after vocational agriculture became a subject in many of the nation's high schools in 1917, instructors became aware of the need to provide practical training beyond the traditional classroom approach. Their idea was to make the instruction more interesting by making practical work experience, competitive livestock judging, and agricultural leadership development activities part of the instruction. Vocational agriculture instructors and students eagerly accepted the learn by doing principle.

The FFA was founded nationally in 1928 after similar organizations had started in several states. Right from the beginning, the FFA has stressed leadership, cooperation and citizenship—all vital to success in modern agriculture.

Today the FFA has a membership of 500,000 with chapters in approximately 8,000 high schools throughout the nation. The organization has state associations in all states and in Puerto Rico.

Each local chapter and each state association elect its own officers each year. In all cases the teacher of vocational agriculture is the advisor of the local FFA chapter and the state supervisor of agricultural education is the advisor of the state association.

Officers of the Baird FFA Chapter are: Dennis Baxter, President; Barry Williams, Vice President; Darryl Harris, Secretary; Bob McCormick, Treasurer; Davy Vestal, Reporter and Will Morgan, Sentinel. The chapter consists of 51 members.

Mr. Dick Vestal has served as advisor of the local chapter for the past 18 years. Before moving to Baird, Vestal taught vocational agriculture in Priddy, located in Mills County, and in Jacksboro.

In addition to serving as local advisor, Vestal is the immediate past president of the State Association; has served on the State Membership Committee on NVATA resolutions and was presented the Honorary National FFA Chapter award.

FFA activities are specifically designed to be a part of the instructional program in vocational agriculture. Members learn through active participation how to conduct and to take part in public meetings, how to speak in public, and how to take a leadership role in their school and community.

Yearly projects for the Baird FFA include working with the Callahan County Farmer's Co-op in conjunction with its annual stockholder's meeting; assisting with the County Junior Livestock Show and sale; coordinating the Baird Junior Rodeo and assisting with the Callahan County Sheriff's Posse rodeo.

Competition is a key element of the FFA from the chapter to the national level. Each year the FFA recognizes more than 80,000 members at local, state and national levels for outstanding achievement in activities related to agriculture career and leadership development.

At the close of the current school year, Baird FFA members will have participated in stock shows at the State Fair in Dallas, Abilene, Fort Worth and Houston. Local teams will participate throughout the year in senior and junior chapter conducting, livestock judging and dairy and land judging.

The annual Baird FFA Banquet will be held in May and several awards will be presented at this time.

The outstanding freshman member will be honored with the Greenhand award. The recipient of the Chapter Farmer award will be an outstanding second or third year member. The coveted DeKalb award will be presented to an outstanding senior member.

In addition to the awards presentation at the banquet, a chapter sweetheart will be selected. Reigning sweetheart of the Baird Chapter is Cindy Dyer. Miss Dyer competed in the West Texas Fair Sweetheart contest in September, 1978, and was named runner-up to the title. She will represent the local chapter at the District FFA meeting in Abilene March 26.

The last 50 years have been a period of growth for the FFA, both locally and nationally. In 1972, a new vocational agriculture classroom and shop were added to the present Baird High school structure. A recent addition to the local agricultural program is a tractor mechanics class.

FFA has been preparing students for their Brighter Future since 1928. FFA at 50—a golden past, A Brighter Future.

With the past accomplishments and the future expectations, the next 50 years for the nationwide FFA organization is indeed bright.

Baird FFA Project Sale Feb. 24 in Cross Plains

BAIRD—The Baird F.F.A Chapter has created a scholarship fund for the students who raise projects and show them at the County Show.

Last, March, the chapter had a sale for all members who had animals in the county stock show. The premium money, that amount above market price, was placed in a scholarship account for the students. This will be added to each year, and after the students graduate this money will be used for their continued education.

At the 1978 sale, a total of $1896.00 was placed in the scholarship fund.

Fourteen students shared in this scholarship money, and this year approximately twenty-six will receive money from the sale of their animals to apply to their scholarship account.

We feel this is a very useful and practical method of rewarding the students for the efforts of their work with the project program, and will largely benefit them when they enroll in college.

Anyone may purchase these animals at the sale, which will be held at the County Showbarn in Cross Plains at 5:00 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 24. This would be a good time to fill your deep freeze.

The President Speaks

By Dennis Baxter

BAIRD—One of the most important assets a school or community can have, is an organization that young people can participate in, for it can hold many exciting and educational challenges. One such organization is the Future Farmers of America.

The FFA is celebrating its 50th anniversary. For 50 years, the FFA has been a growing and independent organization. It is built upon the work of young men all over the nation, from the ages of 14 to 21 years of age.

The FFA is headquartered at Alexander, Virginia and is broken down into states and from states to the local chapter. Each chapter is supervised by an advisor who teaches the classes and supervises other activities and project programs.

In our chapter, as in others, we conduct chapter business according to our needs.

We have many activities in which to participate such as stock shows, parliamentary procedure, judging contests, farm radio show, public speaking and skills demonstrations.

Also, in the class and shop we learn about all different types of plants, animals and farm and ranch management. In the shop, we learn many shop skills such as welding, cutting, metal, mechanics and wood work.

The FFA is truly a great organization for it provides so much for the young people, who will some day play a very big part in building a better community and nation.

A Chance To See and Grow

By Barry Williams

BAIRD—The FFA has given me many opportunities to travel and meet people. Through the FFA I have gone to the State Future Farmers of America Convention in San Antonio and the Co-op Youth Leadership Conference in Kansas City, Missouri, sponsored by Farmland Industries and the Callahan County Farmers Co-op.

At the State FFA Convention, I was able to meet FFA members from all parts of Texas and learn what other FFA chapters do. I was also able to be a voting delegate and help make decisions for every FFA member in Texas.

On my trip to the Co-op Youth Leadership Conference, I spent a week with young people from throughout the Midwest and Southwestern States from Minnesota to Texas and from Colorado to Iowa. This conference was designed to teach leadership by teaching you to understand yourself and others, and also to let you meet people from different parts of the nation.

I would like to thank the Baird Future

Farmers of America organization for giving me this opportunity by electing me Vice-President of this great group; and thanks to the Callahan County Farmers Co-op and its members for sponsoring me on my trip to Kansas City. A very special thanks to Mr. Dick Vestal, who has supported all FFA members and myself in preparing our FFA activities.

IS THE CHURCH PART OF YOUR LIFE?

EASTER

When you speak of the love of God, do not do so in any superficial and saccharine manner. For it was the love of God that required the death of Christ.

The cross of Christ does not represent the love of God. It IS the love of God.

So it is that any child of God, through faith in Jesus Christ, puts the cross at the center of the Christian faith.

As wonderful as the birth and the resurrection of Christ were, it is the crucifixion of Christ which is central. You see, the death of Christ for all is equivalent to the death of Christ for each. It is the great proof that Jesus Christ loves you and He loves me. For the love of Christ which constrains us is the love that died and the love that raised itself from death to live forever.

Welcome Visitors to Callahan General

BAIRD—A good visitor can be an important part of the health team of a hospital. You can play a key role in helping lift the patient's spirits and speed his recovery.

A good visitor lightens and brightens the day for the patient by helping give the patient the right mental attitude to get well faster and by taking his mind off his personal troubles. As a human, be a friendly, loving person, and make the patient feel wanted. You are also a link between the patient and the outside world. Most people are good visitors with positive attitudes and they use their visiting privileges with concern and thoughtfulness.

Today Callahan General Hospital has more patients and therefore, many visitors than ever before. Thus hospitals must have rules about such things as noise, visiting hours, child visiting, smoking and etc., to insure the best possible care and service for the good of all patients.

Good visitors are aware of the patient's needs by keeping their visits short, pleasant and cheerful. Good visitors don't impose on the health team but become a part of the team.

You're wanted and welcome as a key part of the healthcare team. So visit, by all means, but first ask yourself, should the patient have visitors, does the patient want visitors, and is my visit necessary?

Then, when you do visit... be a good visitor... only you can supply the
