Base Acreage Exceptions May Help Area Farmers

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Monday, the Department of Agriculture has agreed to let local committees grant exceptions to new rules regarding acreage limitations for farmers who want to participate in the farm program.

Bentsen said the department has assured him that decisions on exceptions will be made at the county level and that farmers will not have to go through a lengthy process involving appeals to Washington as had been feared.

Details on the procedure are expected to be announced momentarily said the Senator.

"The new farm bill changes the formula for calculating the maximum number of acres

Teacher Tests Will Be Given Here March 10

Muleshoe Independent School District Superintendent H. John Fuller said the local teachers in the Muleshoe school system will be administered TECAT (Teacher Literacy Tests) on Monday, March 10, in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria.

The superintendent said the cafeteria will be set up to give the tests to 65 teachers each session, and he expected teachers from outside the local system to be tested in Muleshoe.

According to predictions, some 10,000 teachers in Texas will fail the test. This will be five percent of the teachers in the school system in the state. Superintendent Fuller says that if five percent of the local teachers fail the test, that will be five teachers, but, he does not expect that many (five) to fail.

Coordinator for the local testing will be former Muleshoe resident, Mattie Hicks, who is now with South Plains College, Levelland. Mrs. Hicks was formerly Director of Nursing at West Plains Medical Center.

Testing will begin at 7:30 a.m. on Monday, March 10, and although the test is expected to take 2-3 hours to complete, the teacher has unlimited time to complete the test, added Fuller.

At a future date, all administrators will also be required to take the test in order to keep their Texas certification, said the superintendent. He said that even the Texas Commissioner of Education will be required to take the Teacher Literacy Test.

There will be no school on the Monday the tests are conducted.

farmers can plant if they want to participate in the farm program," Bentsen said.

"Under the 1985 farm bill, acreage bases will be calculated on a five year average of planted acres rather than the two year average used previously. This change is resulting in numerous hardships and special cases."

"In addition, the law as written, sets different acreage

Industrial Meeting Set By CofC

During a meeting Thursday night of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, board members stressed that in no way "were there pointing any finger at any individual" in an attempt to get an interested, ongoing industrial organization in Muleshoe.

It was determined by the board that they had no authority to attempt to re-activate the former Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation, or call any meeting of the former organization, which has not conducted a formal meeting since Thursday, April 19, 1979, according to newspaper files in the offices of Muleshoe Publishing Co.

As a result, the CofC will be conducting a public meeting on Tuesday, March 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the council meeting room at the Muleshoe City Hall, and all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Local Grad Is Recruiting

Private Israel Belez, a 1985 graduate of Three Way High School, has been assigned to the Army's Clovis recruiting team for temporary duty as a recruiter aide.

The son of Ted and Connie Belez of Enochs, Belez enrolled in the Army's Delayed Entry Program during his senior year, in high school and reported to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., last September for basic training and light wheeled vehicle mechanic school.

Belez was a three-sport letterman at Three Way High School, earning four letters each in football, basketball and track. He plans to attend South Plains College at Levelland and to study law enforcement when his Army tour of duty is over.

"Private Belez will assist recruiters by contacting classmates and acquaintances in his home area, share some of his Army experiences with them and show them how they could benefit by the educational and job training opportunities the Army has to offer," Sergeant First Class Roberto Diaz, Army Recruiting Station Commander at Clovis, said.

Belez chose a European duty station for his first permanent assignment. He will join a unit in Germany when his recruiting duty ends in April.

Backaches Painful But Seldom Cause Complications

An aching back has been called the great American pain because so many people are affected each year. Backaches are one of the most common causes of work days lost through illness, says the Texas Medical Association.

The vast majority of backaches are often called "non-specific" because they have no obvious causes. There are also no obvious, easy cures. Most non-specific backaches are probably due to a strained ligament that causes surrounding muscles to go into painful spasm. Some people, however, tend to develop back pain when they are under stress, just as other people commonly develop tension headaches.

Although a non-specific backache is often very painful, there is virtually no risk of complications. Such backaches generally heal without treatment, but unfortunately they also tend to recur.

There are several things you can do to protect your back and lessen your chances of backache. When lifting heavy objects, keep your back straight; bend your knees and let your legs do the work. Avoid high heels; they force your stance into an unnatural position that strains your back. Select a firm, high-backed chair whenever you sit and use a cushion to support

Katrisha Scott

In This Week's

Senior Spotlight

This week's Sudan Senior Spotlight shines on Katrisha Ann Scott. She is 18 years of age and was born in Muleshoe on Nov. 12, 1967. When it comes to her favorite subject, you can always count on it being accounting.

Along with Trisha her parents have three other daughters and two sons. Trisha's favorite song, singer and group are "Innocent," "Alexander O'Neal," and "Cameo." She states that her favorite movie is Beverly Hills Cop and her favorite TV show is the Cosby Show.

Trisha has many hobbies and among them are reading, playing basketball and sitting back and listening to music.

She has participated in many activities at SHS. Among these are basketball and UIL Prose, one act play and band. She also attends Mount Olive Baptist Church in Sudan.

After graduation she hopes to attend West Texas State University in Canyon.

Trisha was also asked what her favorite season, month and sport were and she says, July, summer and basketball.

When Trisha wants to go out and have a good time, she wears her favorite color, purple, and goes to eat Mexican food.

Trisha's goal in life is to be best at whatever she does. Other comments she made were: "I have enjoyed all the help I've gotten from the teachers." She also added "I'd like to say to all the students at SHS 'Have fun and enjoy your years at the greatest high school in the world'" be taken lightly by either, says family relations expert Dorothy Taylor.

She says that by moving in with parents, the adult child's housing costs are usually reduced or eliminated. Yet the older parents' costs increase.

A parent may also be expected to provide free child care while the adult child works or looks for a job, if that parent is not also employed outside the home.

In addition, the family home can provide a familiar environment, and a strong support system for the adult child and his or her children.

Taylor, who is a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics program, also cautions that returning to the family home can be a source of problems. For some adult child-

Baptist Church Plans Activities For Month

The month of March has been set aside for Pastor Appreciation Month in the Plains Association of the B.M.A.

Members of Richland Hills Baptist Church have several things planned throughout the month to show their appreciation to their pastor Brock Sanders.

Wednesday, March 5 a church wide fellowship was held to kick off the month and celebrate his birthday. The church also had a pounding for the pastor and his family.

Thursday, March 13 a meal has been planned for the family and on Thursday, March 20 there will be a church wide bowling at Clovis, N.M. with members meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the church for sandwiches before going to Clovis.

A covered dish luncheon is on the agenda on Sunday, March 23. Sunday, March 30 "Easter Sunday" a special Sunday morning service will end the month of Pastor Appreciation in March.

ren it will increase feelings of resentment, failure or lack of independence.

"If parents disapprove of the adult child's social life and sexual behavior or have different ideas of appropriate values and behavior for their grandchildren, it will be a stressful living situation for all," she remarks.

To reduce some of the problems in a two- or three-generation living situation, the specialist recommends a thorough discussion and agreement between parents and adult children about the roles and responsibilities of each.

Because adult children often move in with parents at a time of crisis in their lives, it may be difficult for them to effectively communicate about these matters at first, Taylor observes.

The older parents may also be upset about the imposition on their time, finances, lifestyle or privacy.

But to avoid conflict later, it is important for adult children and older parents to eventually work out an agreement about sharing household duties, telephone and utility costs, child care and discipline of the grandchildren.

The specialist says they may also need to discuss parking space for automobiles, personal space and privacy, kitchen privileges and meal preparation, laundry and general expectations about evening hours, use and volume of television and stereo music.

Since their home is being used to accommodate the adult child, older parents should not feel reluctant to insist on the final say in setting house rules, she advises.

Taylor points out that when either the adult child or parents consider the living arrangement to be temporary or transitional, it will be helpful to establish a tentative date for departure.

Eggs Fit Into Dietary Guidelines

The latest revision of the U.S. Dietary Guidelines has some good news for egg lovers -- and just in time for Easter.

"Many consumers mistakenly think that they must avoid or strictly limit cholesterol-containing foods such as eggs in order to prevent heart disease," says nutritionist Dr. Dymple Cooksey.

The revised Dietary Guidelines for Americans, make it clear that saturated fat, total fat and excess calories also play a role, explains the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

The Guidelines do recommend that people moderate the use of egg yolks and organ meats, which are high in cholesterol, but low in fat, she adds.

But before eliminating eggs from the diet, it's important to have a physician determine your level of blood cholesterol, advises Cooksey. "People with elevated levels may benefit from reductions in dietary cholesterol and fat while those with normal or low levels may not need to be as concerned."

In general, eggs fit into the diets of people who want to adhere to the dietary guidelines of eating a variety of foods and maintaining a desirable weight by getting adequate starch and fiber while avoiding too much fat, sugar, sodium and alcohol.

The nutritionist points out that most egg dishes incorporate a variety of other foods from the dairy, fruit and vegetable and bread groups.

They are low in calories -- with 80 calories for one large egg -- and also contain a good level of vitamins and minerals for those calories.

To prepare eggs in ways that will help them best fit the dietary guideline recommendations Cooksey suggests using non-stick pans and cooking sprays to cut down on fat when cooking. Poached, soft-cooked or hard cooked eggs require no fat at all for cooking.

In quiche, omelets, frittatas and other egg dishes, use low fat dairy products, such as lowfat milk and reduced fat cheese to cut calories.

Substitute a cracker crumb crust for a pie crust which is high in fat and calories when you make quiche. Or use rice, potatoes or bread on the bottom of the pie plate. Use vegetables for filling quiches and omelets.

Business Opportunities

Does Your Company Know Where To Look?

Even small businesses can reap significant opportunities from the pages of the right directories. For example, there's one directory that can help firms find public relations companies they can be happy with.

The public library can be a storehouse of such information. Some libraries have the 1986 edition of O'Dwyer's Directory of Public Relations Firms. It lists more than 1,700 firms with such information about each listing as: ranking of the 50 largest firms; index to firms by 17 types of specialties, from agribusiness and beauty and fashion to sports and travel; a geographical index, and an article on "How to Hire a PR Firm."

Before venturing down to the library, you may want to call the reference department and make sure they have the newest edition on the shelves. If not, they may be glad to order one -- or you can phone other libraries to find one that has it. The directory is published by J.R. O'Dwyer Co., 271 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016.

Creative Living

with Sheryl Borden

Three topics will be presented on "Creative Living" on March 11 and 15. Homemade ice cream is good enough to be a treat anytime of the year, however most people don't usually think of making ice cream until summer. Jan Newquist is a home economist and registered dietician with the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in Albuquerque and she will give some tips about how to have great homemade ice cream every time you get out the freezer. She'll also talk about storing ice cream and give some suggestions for adding different kinds of fruit to the mixture. She'll also share several delicious ice cream recipes.

Another guest will be JoAnn Cooper, a home economist with the Hershey Foods Corp. in Hershey, PA. All over the world, chocolate is a favorite dessert of millions. Because of this, it's not surprising that Hershey Foods has come up with some recipes for cooking chocolate desserts in the microwave oven. Jo Ann will share some of these microwave chocolate recipes.

The first guest will be Leta Brazell, co-owner of The Quilt Works in Albuquerque. Some quilt patterns remain favorites from generation to generation and the log cabin pattern is one of these all-time favorites. Ms. Brazell will show us how to do a "quilt as you go" log cabin.

On March 13 the topics will include general cake decorating and blanching foods in the microwave. Cake decorating can be a pleasure and a challenge. Zella Junkin is manager of Consumer Affairs with Wilton Enterprises in Woodridge, IL. She suggests that anyone interested in learning to do cake decorating, should first concentrate on some of the basic techniques, such as making stars, zig-zags, writing and outlining. She will demonstrate these basics for us also show some special pans that will add even more interest to your cake production.

The first guest, Lauren Ryan, brings good news for home gardeners and produce enthusiasts who enjoy freezing fresh vegetables for year-round enjoyment. Recent tests prove that you can blanch some fresh vegetables such as corn, green beans, cauliflower and broccoli are killed when the vegetables are blanched in the microwave. That means much less work than the old-fashioned method of blanching—just you, your microwave and the bag for freezing. What an improvement! Lauren represents Dow Consumer Products in Indianapolis, IN.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on KENW-TV, Channel 3 in Portales on Tuesday and Thursday at 12 noon and at 2:00 pm on Saturday. (All times are Mountain Standard).

HOMEMADE ICE CREAM

Homemade ice cream is one of the old-fashioned pleasures that has grown in popularity with the development of new small electrical appliances using ice cubes and table salt. Basic recipes come with most freezers. The following recipes are courtesy of the American Dairy Association.

DOUBLE CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM TORTONI

1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds
3 tablespoons butter melted
1 cup finely crushed chocolate sandwich cookies
3 pints chocolate ice cream
1 jar (12 oz.) cherry preserves

Combine almonds, butter, and crushed cookies; mix well. Set aside one-fourth cup of crumb mixture for top. Sprinkle half of the remaining crumb mixture over bottom of an 8-inch square pan that has been lined with aluminum foil. Spoon half the ice cream over crumb mixture; drizzle with half the preserves and sprinkle with remaining crumb mixture. Repeat, using the remaining ice cream and preserves. Sprinkle reserved 1/4 cup crumb mixture over top. Freeze several hours or overnight. To serve, cut into nine squares.

CREAMY BANANA ICE CREAM

Heat milk in 1-quart saucepan until very warm. Stir in marshmallows until melted. Cool completely. Beat eggs in large mixing bowl until foamy. Gradually add sugar; beat until thickened. Stir in milk mixture, cream, extracts and salt; mix thoroughly. Combine banana puree and lemon juice; mix well. Stir into liquid mixture. Chill about 1 hour. Churn freeze. After freezing, transfer ice cream to a plastic freezer container. Ripen in freezer at least 3 hours before serving. Yield: 2 quarts

Protect Credit Card Numbers

Most people wouldn't think of leaving their money out where anyone could pick it up. Yet casual use of credit cards can have the same effect.

"Practically any cashless transaction can leave consumers open to fraud," says family economics expert Nancy Granovsky. "Since fraudulent schemes change as fast as we become aware of them, the general rule for consumers is to guard their credit card numbers as they would cash."

According to Granovsky, a home economics specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, one of the most recent scams is to request a credit card account number over the phone so that a free gift can be sent.

Of course, no prize or free gift comes, and the caller has your credit or charge card number to use for ordering merchandise by phone or even applying for a lost card using your number.

"It's not a good idea to give your credit card number over the phone," she says. "If you do, make sure it's to a reliable company that you have had dealings with before, rather than an unknown firm."

credit cards, it's important to keep your charge receipts, reminds the specialist.

When you buy something with your credit card, ask for the carbons that separate the receipt copies. Otherwise your account number, its expiration date and your signature will be available to anyone who has access to the carbons, cautions the specialist.

Even when ordering by mail, don't write your credit card number on an open postcard form, says Granovsky. Put the order card in an envelope instead and pay the extra postage to assure that your number will be safely protected.

To detect any misuse of your credit cards, it's important to keep your charge receipts, reminds the specialist.

When your monthly credit card statements come, use your receipts to reconcile your statement. If something appears on the statement that you didn't buy, notify the credit card company immediately.

Granovsky notes that some people aren't too concerned about fraudulent use of their credit cards, now that consumer legislation limits their liability to $50 dollars for each card.

"But what they may not realize is that straightening out their account after a fraudulent purchase or even a simple error can be frustrating, time-consuming and may involve extra costs for long-distance phone calls and interest paid on the purchase in question, she says.

The home economist also points out that all consumers also wind up paying higher prices and credit card fees as this fraud adds to the cost of doing business for both merchants and credit card companies.

Rebekah Lodge

Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge No. 114 met Tuesday, March 4. Lodge was called to order by Noble Grand Mary Franklin and the American Flag was presented by Lena Hawkins.

Joyline Costen gave the opening prayer. Roll was called by Patsy Chance with 28 members present.

It was reported that the Secretaries and Scribes Association will meet in Muleshoe today, Sunday, March 9.

The drape was extended on the Charter for Cecil Atchley by Ona Berry, Pat Langfitt, Adele Tompkins, Opal Talley and Novella Price.

Five visitors from Clovis, N.M. were welcomed and invited at any time. Members reported sick were: Terie Snell, Vi Mitchell, Juanita and Clinton Busby.

Lodge was closed with a prayer by Ruby Green. Refreshments were served by Fern Davis, Ina Wilemon and Mary Franklin.

Jennyslippers

Will Meet At Noon Tuesday

Jennyslippers (Womans Division of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce) will meet at noon Tuesday, March 11 at Muleshoe Public Library for their regular monthly meeting.

A covered dish luncheon will be served. "All area women are always welcome to come and visit" said Marjorie Merritt.

The power of pictures is illustrated by the effectiveness of the seed catalogs.

If you walk, jog, or ride a bicycle at night, reflective clothing should be a part of your active wear wardrobe.

Prices of reflective clothing vary according to the value of the garment and the amount of reflective detailing applied. Strips of reflective tape can add between five and ten percent to the purchase price, while all-reflective fabrics may increase costs by 20 to 25 percent.

Accessories such as wristbands, vests, or headbands provide a less expensive way to go reflective. You can remove the accessories and wear the clothes in daytime for leisure wear.

Some sporting goods incorporate reflective patches into their companys' logos for customers who don't like stripes. The logos usually come in fluorescent yellow, orange, and white.

You can also buy reflective tape in the notions department of many fabric shops and add it yourself to running or biking apparel.

It may take some extra time to look for reflective features when you shop for clothing or to add those features at home. But those few minutes could save you from being injured by a driver who could not see you in the dark.

Mrs. Jones read a letter from National Headquarters on "Promoting TOPS". It was reported that election of officers will be held on Thursday, March 13.

Inez McWilliams received a check for a hair set for six weeks consecutive weight loss.

Mrs. Jones was named best loser for the week. Runners up were Thesia Davis, first, and Ruth Clements and Mrs. McWilliams, tied for second.

The meeting closed with the singing of the goodnight song.

LEPA Meeting

Planned Here

For This Week

All farmers and producers are encouraged to attend a meeting on LEPA irrigation Tuesday night, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Bailey County Civic Center.

On hand to explain the system will be Leon New, extension agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and other engineers. The meeting is sponsored locally by Pivot Products.

New said, "Decreased operating pressure and increased water application efficiency make low energy precision application (LEPA) a high return expenditure when buying a new center pivot.

"In many cases the additional cost for LEPA above conventional low pressure spray drops or impact sprinklers can be regained in one season or less."

According to New, LEPA is precisely planned to apply water 12 to 15 inches above the ground. The low application protects water from traditional wind and evaporation losses, he added.

Another cost saving feature, according to the engineers is that fuel cost reduction from lower pivot pressure with LEPA is often $1 to $1.50 per hour for quarter-mile units. Hourly fuel cost reductions can be projected at 50 cents per hour for each 10 psi less pressure and 1000 gpm water volume where natural gas costs $4 per mcf.

For additional information on the LEPA systems, attend the meeting Tuesday night at the Civic Center.

Jackie Scoggin is this year's Chairman of Bailey County's Division of Memorials program. "A memorial contribution is a meaningful way to tell the family of the deceased that the life that has just passed will continue to live on through the work of the Association," Scoggin said.

For a contribution to the American Heart Association, Scoggin sends an appropriate card from the donor to the recipient of the donor's choice. The person receiving the card also receives a thank-you card to mail back to the donor acknowledging the donor's thoughtfulness.

no cotton base and only 40 acres of wheat under the new rules. However, if the farmer had switched from wheat to cotton he would have the full 100 acres.

"Any new formula will cause problems, so the 1985 farm bill authorized the Secretary of Agriculture to make any adjustments in acreage bases necessary to be 'fair and equitable' to individual farmers."

The department had earlier indicated it would require farmers seeking exceptions to make time consuming appeals to Washington. However, at the urging of Bentsen and others, the department has decided to permit the appeals to be made to local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committees.

Bentsen also noted that President Reagan signed a law Friday that changes the cross-compliance provisions in the 1985 farm bill. Cross-compliance requires farmers who participate in only one commodity program but plant other commodities to limit the acreage of all commodities planted.

Social Security News & Views

Annual reports of 1985 earnings must be filed by April 15 by people receiving Social Security checks who earned more than the annual exempt amount in 1985.

The 1985 annual exempt amounts were $5,400 for people who were under 65 all of 1985 and $7,320 for people who were 65-70 in 1985.

People who received some benefits in 1985 and who earned more than the exempt amount are required to file a report of those earnings by April 15. Those who received no benefits in 1985 are not required to file a report, but, those people should file a report to make sure that any benefits that might be due for the year are paid.

A person who earned less than anticipated, for example, may be due some benefits. The only way these benefits can be paid is if the person files an annual report.

The general rule is that $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount. A person can have substantial earnings before all benefits are withheld. For example, a 65 year old person whose monthly benefit rate is $500 could have earned $19,320 in 1985 before all benefits were withheld in 1985.

People who are required to file an annual report should have received a copy in the mail. If they have not, they should contact the Lubbock Social Security office to get a copy. Those not required to file, but wish to do so, can also get a copy of the form at the Lubbock office.

The 1986 annual exempt amounts are $7,800 for people 65-70 and $5,760 for people under 65 all of 1986.

More information about annual reports can be obtained from the Lubbock office.

Texas A&M tops list in retention of enrolled minority students

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M University has compiled the best record in the state among public institutions in keeping minority students enrolled and headed toward graduation, a recent report by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System revealed.

The report shows that 81.5 percent of undergraduate black students enrolled at Texas A&M in the fall of 1983 returned in the fall of 1984 to begin the '84-85 school year. The rate was even higher for undergraduate Hispanic students: 83 percent.

Fall of 1984 is the most current period for which comparative data is available, the Coordinating Board report indicated.

"We are proud to be the leader in having minority students succeed to the point that they want to continue their studies and work toward degrees," President Frank E. Vandiver said. "That's the goal for all of our students — to have them succeed and graduate — but we find it especially gratifying to learn that we compare so favorably with the other public universities in the state in helping minority students move toward attainment of their aspirations."

He pointed out that Texas A&M still has a proportionally small number of minority students in relation to the total student body, but he emphasized that significant increases have been realized in recent years in enrollment of both black and Hispanic students.

Health is the most unappreciated blessing in the world--by those who have it.

Historians pleased with decision to release foreign policy documents

COLLEGE STATION — Historians are calling a recent White House memo on timely release of foreign policy documents the "first real breakthrough" in a lengthy struggle for declassification of government documents from the 1940-60s. In the forefront of the effort to gain access to the documents has been Dr. Betty Unterberger, a Texas A&M University history professor and president of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations. "We've been pushing, urging and exerting all types of pressures on the State Department, Congress and the White House for more than four years to reverse recent trends that prevent scholarly access to important documents that give us an accurate understanding of the history of American diplomacy," Unterberger said.

"I consider this a triumph, but we still have a long way to go," she said.

Apples were imported to the U.S. from England in 1629 by John Winthrop, colonial governor of Massachusetts.
