Gather round, there's good news today. A colorless, translucent nylon sewing thread has been introduced that can be used on any color fabric. Think what that is going to mean in terms of changing thread on the sewing machine, or finding that you have bobbins wound with every color except the one you need.

One spool of thread and you are ready to sew on any off-beat color, and when it comes to putting in hems, you'll find the stitches show less than with the translucent upholstery fabrics to use over iridescent cushion filling that will produce effects of jewel-like brilliance. Also new to the scene will be disposable paper upholstery. Disposable work clothes and play clothes for children will also make their appearance in the not too distant future.

No wonder the problem of what to do with our leisure time is fast becoming a subject for serious study and research. That old adage about "man's work being from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done" is about to go down the drain for good.

What with ready prepared foods, wear and throw away clothes, and air conditioners to keep dust out of the house, such old-fashioned recreations as embroidery, applique and tapestry are coming back into vogue. We are at last going to have time for the beautiful handiwork that took the place of tranquilizers back in great grandmother's day.

The current touring exhibit of fine French tapestries is a case in point. It still takes the most skillful hand weavers a month to produce a square yard of tapestry. The yarns they use are dyed with the most modern fade-resistant aniline dyes, and are scientifically moth-proofed in ways the ancient weavers never dreamed of, but the technique is the same and so is the enduring charm of pictures done by hand in wool. Modern chemistry has simply improved the colors and materials, and made it possible for us all to have more time in which to practice and enjoy fine handi-crafts.

My column last week has been read (I take it) sometimes with resentment, more times with approval. Some have given me a pat on the back and others a kick at a lower level. Nevertheless—if enough townspeople feel strongly enough about it, something will be done; not until then.

Several have called about our cat Smokey. No, he wasn't killed, thanks to a neighbor who saw him lying in the street. He had a confusion and his head swelled up and for two days he was on the verge of using up one of his nine lives. But he has recovered. Your child might not be so lucky.

Grandma's Rocking Chair

After last week's hectic days it seems that only one topic could be timely and appropriate, and that would be thankfulness for the fact our national leadership has held a steady hand on the tiller of the Ship of State during these trying days.

After having our Representative clue us in as to measures being taken, we can only say thanks to those in authority and pledge ourselves to stand solidly behind them.

From where I sit it looks like Mr. K has himself pretty well boxed in and has little choice except to lose face with people or turn the rest of the world against him. As for Castro, he only a pawn in this game and from now on will be of no consequence since Russia's plan for Cuba has been upset.

There are so many "hot pots" in the world and Mr. K is so busy keeping them all stirred up that his POT at home may boil over. Could be the Russians are beginning to be resentful of pouring all their energies into production of arms, and on an empty stomach, they might draw Mr. K's attention away from world affairs and to his troubles at home.

Of course, translucent nylon thread is about to usher in a whole new era in fabric design and it is predicted that within a few years there will be translucent upholstery fabrics to use over iridescent cushion filling that will produce effects of jewel-like brilliance. Also new to the scene will be disposable paper upholstery. Disposable work clothes and play clothes for children will also make their appearance in the not too distant future.

Hawks 22 Tigers 12

Iowa Park jumped into an early lead last Friday night and continued to build on it to beat the Electra Tigers, 22-12.

The Hawks outplayed the Tigers in the first half, which ended 15-6 for the Carter boys.

Fumbles in the third quarter gave Electra a chance to draw up to 12-15, but a 7-point fourth quarter clinched the Hawk victory.

First Iowa Park scoring was set up by Mike Davenport when he fell on a Tiger fumble on their 25. He and Larry Thompson collaborated to get the ball to the 1, and then Davenport carried the pigskin into paydirt. He carried the ball for the 2-point PAT.

"THE JOY OF MUSIC"

By Leonard Bernstein
Reviewed by Mrs. James Sewell
Those who have enjoyed Leonard Bernstein on television (and there are many in Our Town, particularly among the younger citizens), will enjoy this author's conversational method of presenting some portions of his book.

Contract for this book was signed in the season of 1943-44 when Bernstein was 25 years of age. He was to write it over the next few years — "Conversation at Thirty."

The book was 10 years late and when published its title was The Joy of Music. Much of the material was written as television shows for the Omnibus programs. Other activities of Bernstein have been conducting the New York Philharmonic, appearing as guest conductor both at home and abroad (we have seen him leading a boys' choir singing Christmas carols—remember?), writing the score for shows and movies, including West Side Story, which has been shown recently in this area.

Wins Scholarship

Band Director C. L. Vaughn has announced Larry Dodd, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Dodd, is among the 11 Midwestern university and high school students who won symphony scholarships recently when they auditioned in September.

Larry and the other 10 are members of Wichita Falls Symphony orchestra. He plays the French horn. He is also a member of the Hawk band and an honor student in IPHS.

Each scholarship for Midwestern students is $150 and for high school students $125. This covers the cost of private instruction for the instrument which the student plays in the orchestra.

Mr. Vaughn has been a member of the symphony orchestra for several years.

Band Notes

This year the Hawk band is under leadership of Johnny Hail, junior student. This is the first time in history the band has had a drum major. Heretofore a girl band member has served as drum majorette.

Johnny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Hail, 304 E. Pasadena, has shown polish, poise and good leadership at all public appearances of the band.

Vaughn says he is quite proud of Johnny and his ability as a drum major. The band has given outstanding performances at all games this year. They and the cheerleaders add color and support for the team at all times.

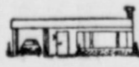

1962-63 Iowa Park band wishes to thank local fans for the following given our band as it entertained at the Fair and also during halftime shows at the football games.

Leaders this year are: John Hail, drum major Jo Cowden, Sandra Middaugh.
