Each Year a New Crop

A brand new life opens next week for millions of children all over America. It's their first experience with the public school and their first big adventure away from home!

Part of those millions will be entering Iowa Park Elementary School. Fifteen of them gathered in front of the building early this week where Miss Ethyle Kidwell greeted them as Chauncey Weiler took their pictures.

Fourteen proud mothers looked on and admired their offspring and passed compliments on the children of their friends and neighbors. And well they might! Where else can you find a more classy group of first grade pupils?

And most of the clothing worn by these children was bought right here in Iowa Park. Frankie's Apparel furnished a lot of material for the dresses and some of the ready made ones. Famous Department Store and the Lad & Lassie Shop also had a hand in outfitting these youngsters, both girls and boys.

We're not sure about identifying the children above, but we'll try to fit the children to the proper parents. So here goes:

Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Pastusek. Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Knezek. Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons Brubaker. Linda Ann, dau. of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Warren. Janine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McKee. Ranny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Voyles. Terry Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hail. Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stewart. Linda and Glenda, dau. of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sawyer.

Janice, dau. of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Watts. Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Covington. Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McKinnon. Mike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Overbey. Karen Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Vestal, Jr.

Bob Covington, coach.

Squad of 36 Greets Hawk Mentors at First Grid Workouts

Coaches — Bob Covington and James Reese have been putting the football boys through a lot of practice the past few days, getting them ready for the first game of the season Friday night, Sept. 9 at Electra.

Wednesday night the Hawks had scrimmaged with Seymour here and drew a large crowd. Saturday morning they will go to Seymour for another good workout.

Thirty-six boys reported for practice, with eight lettermen returning to the lineup.

They are J. C. Bridges, Norman Lee, Harvey Klinkerman, David Sewell, Eddie Whittenberg, Randall Pierce, James Low and Norman Marquart.

Other squadmen are James Paris, David M. Thompson, Lee Allen Holloway, Lynn Hensley, Jerry Beggs, Jimmy Harris, Larry Hall, Ronnie Coleman, David Middaugh, Donald Daugherty, John Wesley, J. D. Miller, Mark Clark, Donnie Todd, Jim Barbour, Jerry Morgan, Malcolm Berry, Paul Parkey, Ronald Price, Douglas James, Gordon Griffith, Delos Whisenhunt, Malcolm Bell, Donald Morgan, Forester Robertson, Lazy Forest, Jerry Gelsert, and Buddy Horine.

Student managers of the team are Mike Laible and Jim Powell.

Plans call for a pep rally each Thursday night on Cash street for all students and patrons.

Independents Close Season with 2 Losses

Baseball season in Iowa Park came to an abrupt finish this week when the Independents lost to Wichita Falls All-Stars in the Oilbelt playoffs.

Tuesday night the locals went to Burk and played the first of a best two out of three playoff series. The All Stars dropped the Independents behind the five hit pitching of Doug Mullins. Wayne House and Jerry Cope sparked Iowa Park at the plate with triples.

Lee Roy Weiss was losing pitcher, going six innings. Johnnie Deal pitched fine relief ball.

Thursday night the same teams met on the same field and again Wichita Falls clubbed out a victory, this time 5 to 3.

Oneal Weaver was winning and George Huckaby losing pitcher. Burk garnered 6 hits and Iowa Park 5. Defensive play contributed to the downfall of the Iowa Park boys.

The Independents won 10 league games and lost 6 in the regular season.

All the players take this opportunity to thank all fans who contributed to the club, and especially those who came to the games and supported them through the season.

PIONEER COUNTY WOMAN BURIED AT CLARA

Funeral rites were conducted at Clara on Wednesday of this week for Mrs. Tina Engelman, 87, mother of Mrs. Walter Kasper of Iowa Park. Mrs. Engelman died last Sunday at the home of a niece in San Antonio where she had lived since 1943.

Mrs. Engelman came to America from Germany when she was 18 years of age, married Fred Engelman in 1895 and moved to Burk-burnett with him in 1910.

They operated a hardware store until 1915, then moved to Clara and became farmers.

Mr. Engelman died in 1940 and was buried at Clara.

Business Men Rally To Ground Breaking For New Post Office

The machine age being so advanced as it is, the ground breaking ceremony for Iowa Park's new post office building was run off in record time Tuesday—and not a spade in sight!

The long awaited start on the new structure was made first in the morning when Carl Sullivan, local contractor, staked off the site and ran lines for the foundation. Then about 2:00 p.m. Roy Sawyer got his ditching machine in position and waited for the big event.

Men from all parts of the business section straggled over to the site to give the building a big sendoff. Then Chauncey Weiler showed up with his mysterious gadgets, took a few practice squints through his range finder, and announced he was ready.

The men lined up in front of Roy Sawyer and his ditching machine, and Chauncey took a couple shots. And the ground breaking ceremony was history!

Now comes the actual construction by Sullivan and various other contractors, and the part Postmaster Pete May has been anticipating with mixed emotions—the move to new and roomier quarters.

The building will cover 2400 sq. ft., and will be semi-fireproof with modern design. It will be made of Haydite blocks with part brick-veneered. A loading platform will be placed at the southeast.

Plans call for a concrete floor covered with asphalt tile, plus air conditioning and fluorescent lighting throughout the building.

Iowa Park folk are anticipating the luxury of being able to park in front of or beside the post office and go inside to do business. That will be a great day!

by Marye Eckelkamp

The past few months have found labor leaders in Washington wooing the agriculture leaders in Congress into a coalition of labor and agriculture. Labor leaders have been appearing before hearings on agriculture bills and vice-versa for the first time in many years.

Many of the leaders of both factions tried to make it sound that labor is for the farmer 100 per cent. A farm leader stated before the hearing on the minimum wage that an increase in wages meant an increase in some 6 million dollars to the farm income. It sounds good, but is it true? There should be more than a little doubt in your minds that an increase in wages means more groceries in the pantry.

It is more likely that it means more new cars, new television sets, deep freezers, more vacations and more of every other luxury that families are saving up for. You will find very few unpaid grocery bills today. And, most Americans are already eating high on the hog, so to speak. Not much cornbread and gravy at every meal now.

Any efforts by labor to convince the farmer that he is his friend can be quickly discounted by their own program of "High Wages, Short Hours and Cheap Food."

This campaign for a coalition of labor and agriculture is nothing new. The Farm Bureau has been aware of it for a good many years, but has never succumbed to the wooing. If and when labor wants to sit down and talk turkey on a fair and equitable basis for both the farmer and labor, we will listen. But until they quit trying to gain an advantage at agriculture's expense, Farm Bureau will continue to fight for the rights of the farm people of this nation.

There is always a chance that the farmer might take a different view if the margin between what he sells for and what he pays for the finished commodity weren't so wide. Tractors aren't getting any cheaper.

Farm Bureau stands for high wages, high spendable farm-income and reasonable industry profits, but not if the farmer ends up with the short end of the thing. So the next time you read about the Utopia of such a coalition, you might better check and see if it actually would exist.

Agriculture Students Get Practical Training Besides Book Learning

The purpose of vocational agriculture in public schools of Texas is to train boys for farming and related occupations.

The vocational agriculture program can be broken down into five areas which include a study of the various phases of agriculture:

Study of farm mechanics, supervised farming program, FFA work and adult farmer education.

A boy may take three years of vocational agriculture in Iowa Park High School. Practical instruction and field trips acquaint them with problems involved in the production of crops and livestock. Other problems such as producing a living at home, keeping records, and soil and water conservation are also studied.

Field trips tie in with class instruction and such skills as dehorning and vaccinating cattle, culling chickens and drenching sheep are learned as a boy actually performs these operations.

Part of the school year is devoted to farm mechanics. Basic skills in farm carpentry, sharpening and fitting hand tools, farm electricity, painting, soldering, concrete work, farm water supply and plumbing, welding and operation and maintenance of farm machinery are taught.

Boys also construct projects that are useful at home and in connection with their projects. Eddie Whittenberg constructed the outstanding project in the farm shop last year. He made a spring tooth harrow for a Ford tractor.

In order to receive credit in vocational agriculture each boy is required to have a supervised farming program and keep an accurate set of records. A boy should have full managerial and financial responsibility for the project.

These projects are a laboratory where the boy can apply principles he has studied in class and learn first-hand the jobs and skills involved in the production, feeding and care of his projects.

A functioning local chapter of Future Farmers of America is an integral part of the in-school program. FFA is a national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture in public high schools. It is boy-initiated and boy-operated with guidance and counsel of the vocational agriculture teacher, who has the official title of adviser.

The FFA program provides the initial training for living together in a democratic society. It offers opportunities for development of the students' initiative and leadership through planning, working and participating in purposeful individual and group activities.

Serving on committees, participating in leadership contests, livestock judging, taking part in meetings, arranging and preparing programs, banquets, radio scripts, raising money, exhibits for local show windows, fairs and shows are some of the individual and group activities in which an FFA member participates.

The nature of the program depends on the leadership of the officers and all members of the chapter. Although the FFA has impressive ceremonies or rituals, the organization is neither secret nor political.

All Students Invited To Study Music; Tests Will Be Given Soon

Forty new recruits for the new school band is the objective of a campaign which will begin soon in Iowa Park schools. It is quite possible to achieve this goal with the co-operation of parents and children.

Most parents desire their children to play some musical instruments, and the school offers the best opportunity for them to do so. Unfortunately, every child is not naturally adapted to playing a musical instrument.

In order to determine those best suited to participate, tests will be given to determine the inherent musical ability of the children. Arrangements will be made whereby instruments can be rented for six weeks to make sure the children will succeed before further investment is made. Parents whose children pass the test will be notified.

Tests will be given students of the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th grades. This method of starting children on musical instruments is being used by schools throughout the country with great success.

Lessons will be furnished during class periods. Now is the logical time for children to start, and it will be only a matter of months before they will be given the opportunity to win a chair in the regular band and to participate in all of the school band functions.

Tests will be given during the second week of school and results will be given to parents during that same week.

Anne Lowe, Weldon Pautsky Wed Here; To Live in Odessa

Miss Shirley Anne Lowe became the bride of Weldon R. Pautsky in a beautiful ceremony held Sunday, Aug. 28 at 2:30 p.m. in the home of the groom's mother Mrs. J. A. Pautsky on West Bank street.

Rev. J. D. McDaniel of Kamay Baptist church assisted the young couple with their exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lowe of Iowa Park. The rites were conducted before a setting of white candles and greenery on the mantel of the fireplace. A large wall mirror reflected the beauty of the scene. Large arrangements of white asters and mums flanked the central arrangement.

When escorted in by her father, the bride wore a beige wool suit and a close fitting hat of white satin. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and a white linen handkerchief which belongs to Mrs. Ida Cobb of Iowa Park, grandmother of the groom. This heirloom is more than 100 years old. The bride completed her ensemble with white accessories.

Mrs. Harry C. Clementson, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a street length beige pongee dress, used red accessories and wore a red carnation shoulder corsage.

Harry C. Clementson attended as best man. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. Miss Sarah Hudson presided at the bridesbook.

The refreshment table was laid with white lace over blue and featured a four tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. Blue water hyacinths were at one end of the table and the crystal punch service on the other.

Mrs. Noel Pautsky and Miss Sandra Pautsky of Holliday, served the guests.

For going away the bride chose a three piece pink linen suit with white accessories with which she wore a light pink and white carnation shoulder corsage.

The newlyweds have established residence in Odessa, Anne finished high school here in 1953, having been a member of the school band and the Melody Maida. During two years at Midwestern she was in the band, Tau Beta society, and was a staff member of the student newspaper.

After graduation from Valley View, the groom served with the marines. He is employed with an oil company at Odessa.

Any Small Boy CAN Love Bathing

When a little boy can have this much fun in the bathtub, he'll soon realize that cleanliness is a Good Thing!

MOST ADULTS ENJOY THEIR DAILY TUBBING because it's so relaxing—and because being clean makes them feel comfortable and civilized. A little boy, who has no burning interest in being either relaxed or civilized, can hardly be expected to share that point of view. He needs something else to get him into the tub without protest. For a little boy, a bath must be fun.

Perhaps the first step toward bath fun is a leisurely approach. If he's dumped in, scrubbed, dried, and dispatched to bed, no little boy will find it much fun. If he's still being bathed by his mother, it will pay her richly to allow enough time for little jokes and games and for conversations about what he's been up to all day.

When a boy is old enough to bathe himself, bath-time can be a play period when he runs his steamboat over sudsy ocean waves or dives his submarine through sudsy foam. Other fun topics can be his own gaily patterned towels and facecloth, soap, and soapdish. In such an atmosphere, you'll find that he'll swallow the all-important idea of cleanliness readily—if it's spooned out like sugar candy instead of castor oil. (ANS)

New Truck First of Its Type

NEWEST TRUCK to enter the store-to-store and multi-stop delivery field is this one just unveiled by Divco Corporation, Detroit. The rugged vehicle which has a streamlined bus-like appearance, is the result of over three years of technical planning, experimental testing and research. It is reported to have almost passenger-car smoothness, unusual maneuverability and exceptional ease of maintenance. Divco, known as the world's largest manufacturer of complete house-to-house delivery trucks, has dubbed this the "Dividend Series" vehicle. It will be available in 12' or 10' body sizes with 130" wheelbase and 115" wheelbase respectively.

Think Safety Drive Safely

SAFETY IS THE LIFE LINE FOR OUR CHILDREN

Eight hundred fifty children passing to and from a central school create a traffic hazard. The hours of heaviest traffic will be from 7:30 until 8:45 a.m. and from 3:30 until 4:45 p.m.

You are reminded that school zone speed limits are 15 miles an hour, and that by law you must stop every time a school bus stops, whether you are meeting the bus or passing it.

Students are requested by school officials not to walk in the street and to watch all railroad crossings. Parents should warn children not ever to crawl under or go around a parked train.

School bus drivers have been instructed to observe all speed limits and to stop at all railroad crossings and stop signs.

Parents coming for their children are requested not to block the buses from their loading zones, which is the entire block on the north side of the street in front of the school. We will have five buses loading at one time and they are given the right of way. They load in this manner so children can enter directly into the bus from the sidewalk.

The school is asking local law officers to observe our traffic and take proper action against all offenders, students or adults.

Keith D. Swim,
Superintendent

Sometimes people use their automobiles and trucks in a thoughtless way and somebody gets hurt—sometimes fatally. Let's not let that happen here.

Let's think safety, believe in safety, and drive with the safety of our own passengers and our community's pedestrians in mind at all times.

The children and older pedestrians have a responsibility in this thing too, and we can't impress too strongly on their minds that the pedestrian generally loses in an argument with a car or truck.

So let's not become a statistic at Austin—let's be alive and kicking around for a long time right here!
