Voyles named police chief

NEW IOWA PARK POLICE CHIEF
...Jim Voyles takes oath from Mayor Johnny Crawford.

Jim Voyles was hired chief of the Iowa Park Police Department by unanimous vote of the city council during a meeting Monday night.

Voyles, who was sworn into office at 8:57 a.m. Tuesday by Mayor Johnny Crawford, served 12 years as sheriff of Wichita County, lost in his bid for another term of office in November.

A resident of the county since 1919 and Iowa Park since 1937, he has served four years as chief sheriff's deputy before being elected to the sheriff's post, taking office Jan. 1, 1965.

The vote of the council took place following a 43-minute executive session which was closed to the public. Voyles fills the vacancy left by the resignation in February of Charles Beaver.

Aldermen instructed Gene Britton, city administrator, to write a letter to Charles Whittingstall, complimenting him for his efforts while serving as temporary chief during the interim.

Voyles will receive a $10,600 annual salary, same as Beaver was receiving when he quit.

DITCH PROBLEM

The council received a petition and heard complaints concerning conditions of a drainage ditch between Park Plaza and Foley Addition, south of West Highway.

Bob Pemberton, a resident next to the ditch, told of numerous instances of finding ticks in yards, breeding of mosquitoes, and other situations derived from poor drainage of water in the ditch.

Studies, Pemberton was told, have indicated a major expenditure of some $20,000 to properly line the ditch with concrete to insure drainage.

All the council members agreed the ditch was a problem, but felt that even though the ditch was a dedicated alley, it was not the responsibility of the city but the property owners, to clean and keep it up.

Crawford said he would check with the city attorney about "spending taxpayers' money on personal property". He said he would have further study made by a Nortex engineer.

Pemberton pledged to talk with neighbors about mowing the ditch to keep down the insect population.

Alderman Bud Adams said city personnel have spent a couple of years walking up and down the ditch, studying it, but without money to fix it with, they were doing no good.

OTHER BUSINESS

Council members discussed opening of another alley, on the south side of Garden Valley Addition. Britton told members it could be achieved by having one natural gas meter moved.

Residents who would use the alley have always put their trash in their front yards for city pickup. Alderman Greg Ross stated.

The council passed a resolution to allow needy persons to make payments over a period of time to the city for services rendered for which charges must be made.

A lengthy discussion over what the city should charge to have water meters replaced when there was disagreement between a resident and city hall over whether the meter was defective.

The proposed policy asked $40, but Alderman C.A. Hicks wanted to charge $10 instead. His motion failed for lack of a second, after it was brought out repairs to a meter costs $14, not including labor.

The fee was finally set at $25 for a meter which has not been in use more than five years.

Members agreed that the city should not charge to have a meter changed out if it were agreed that the meter was faulty.

During the discussion, it was pointed out that many times water patrons have leaks in their systems and blame the meters.

Aldermen voted to engage a traffic engineering firm to study the city and make recommendations for improvements. All costs for the study are to be covered by a state grant.

The study was requested by the city's Traffic Safety Council.

No action was taken on upgrading insurance coverage on policies covering city facilities, pending further study.

Parade Saturday morning kicks off Little League

Iowa Park Little League gets underway this weekend, with the annual downtown parade of teams Saturday morning.

A full slate of games will be played by major and minor league teams, starting at 11 a.m. at the fields on West Magnolia.

The senior league will not get started for about another week, according to Howard Klinkerman, player agent, because of work currently underway on the field. That group was to start Friday night.

Four major teams will play Saturday, with the league's fifth team, the Pirates, drawing a bye. All eight minor teams will see action.

Klinkerman said officials are trying to find a sponsor for a fifth senior league team, but thus far only four teams will play.

Dog bites student

A dog is being held in quarantine for observation as the result of the third incident this month of an Iowa Park child being bitten.

Police received a report Friday that junior high student Norman Williams, 13, had been bitten by a large, black dog.

The youth is son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of 107 W. Garden.

Jimmy Alsop, junior high principal, said the dog had been caught and was being held for observation. The dog does not show signs of having rabies, Alsop indicated.

In other police activity here, Iowa Park officers are investigating the attempted burglary of the First Baptist Church at 300 N. Yosemite. The incident was reported Monday by Mrs. Barbara Adams, church secretary.

Police said intruders gained entry through an unlocked door on the north side of the church.

Six doors inside the church were marred with pry marks, according to police, who theorize the break-in occurred between 9:30 p.m. Sunday and 8:30 a.m. Monday.

A desk in the church's main office had been pried open, but nothing was taken. Burglars also attempted to break into the pastor's office, police reported. At the First Baptist Elementary School here, reported Sunday that a window on the west side of the school's cafeteria had been broken with rocks.

Rabies clinic set Saturday

A rabies clinic will be sponsored Saturday by the Iowa Park High Chapter of Future Farmers of America.

To begin at 9 a.m., the clinic will continue until 1 p.m. at the Vocational Agriculture building at Johnson Road and West Highway. Pet owners should use the south parking lot entrance.

The rabies vaccination is administered by a veterinarian during the set period, for a small fee per animal. Also, distemper-hepatitis shots may be given if desired.

NOT MUCH COMPETITION

Rodeo rigging made at Kamay

Obscurely located a stone's throw east of Kamay is one of this nation's few shops where rodeo equipment is custom made.

The smell of leather is strong inside the small workshop where Raymond Hulin manufactures or retails everything needed to outfit a professional rodeo cowboy.

As eager to discuss the sport as he is to talk about his growing business, Hulin knew what he wanted from life by the time he was 13 and began rodeoing.

He continued to rodeo through high school at Port Arthur and joined the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association in 1962 while attending Lamar Tech at Beaumont.

At 35, Hulin continues to enter bareback bronc riding at many winter rodeos and averages a rodeo each week during the summer. Now specializing in bareback bronc riding, he has discontinued bull riding.

A ruptured disc caused by years in the arena forced him to undergo back surgery in 1971, and during the three month recovery period he began work for a rodeo equipment firm.

Four years ago he set up his own shop outside Kamay where he began turning out bareback riggings.

As testimony to the growing popularity of rodeoing, Hulin's bareback rigging business has doubled, and his work now includes custom made bronc saddles, chaps and other rodeo accouterments. Last year Hulin and a parttime employee turned out 450 bareback riggings.

There are only about a half dozen operations similar to Hulin's in the United States.

"I'd venture to say we've sent equipment to every state in the union," Hulin said, pausing to take a dip of snuff.

With 95 per cent of his business coming by mail and telephone, Hulin's equipment has been sent to Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Alaska and Hawaii.

And there have been some big names to warm resin on Hulin's work, among them Larry Mahan, Joe Alexander, Rusty Riddle and current world champion Chris LeDoux.

GOOD EQUIPMENT

Good equipment, Hulin maintains, plays a large role in the success of a professional rodeo cowboy.

Asking Larry Mahan to use a bareback rigging too big for his hand would be like asking Arnold Palmer to swing a left-handed nine iron.

"Good equipment is the whole deal.

If a cowboy can't hold on, he can't ride. And if he can't ride, he can't win," Hulin explained.

That's why he won't begin work on a bareback rigging until he is sure of the cowboy's hand size.

In the earlier days of rodeoing it was not uncommon for cowboys to borrow equipment from one another.

It is the exception today. "A cowboy's equipment is designed for his individual needs. The competition is so strong he can't compete and win otherwise," Hulin said. He is quick to add a cowboy's ability to perform is equally important.

The business of professional rodeoing is undergoing other changes aside from the fact that many cowboys travel from rodeo to rodeo via airplane.

Rodeoing is becoming more cosmopolitan.

"If you get right down to it, maybe only half of the professional cowboys have ranching backgrounds. Take me, I grew up in the middle of the city," Hulin said.

Youngsters participating is having a large impact on the sport.

Five years ago Hulin thought rodeo had reached its peak, but business indicates an increase in interest annually.

"I think the growth is coming from youngsters in high school and college," Hulin said, rattling off the names of several professionals in the top money who started in college or are now attending a university.

"Even Midwestern State University is trying to work up a rodeo team," he added.

RODEO SCHOOL

Rodeo schools have sprouted up all across the U.S., especially in Texas and California.

A young cowboy can master an event much quicker by attending a rodeo school than by funding his arena education with entry fees.

Rodeo schools have put the sport on a par with high school and college football where the youngsters are coached on technique and proper equipment, Hulin said.

There is no argument that rodeo is an expensive undertaking for the newcomer.

Depending on the event, rodeo schools can cost from $150 to $400 for an average four day session.

Then there's equipment.

Just to get started in bareback bronc riding a cowboy must have the rigging that runs about $112 if made by Hulin. Chaps are $75, spurs $40, gloves $9 and a rigging bag to carry all the equipment costs about $24.

And that's just for one event.

For saddle bronc riding a cowboy must invest in a bronc saddle that retails for about $375.

When talk turns to the timed events like steer wrestling and calf roping, costs can soar infinitely because the cowboy must purchase a horse, trailer and something to pull it with.

But it's really no surprise professional cowboying is so expensive.

At $2.45 a pound the cost of rawhide skirting used in much of the equipment is more expensive than beef steak.

George West, rehabilitation teacher for Texas Commission for the Blind in District 11, spoke to Friends of the Library members at their annual meeting Thursday night in the Iowa Park Library.

He discussed and showed some of the materials furnished through the Texas State Library's Division for the blind and physically handicapped. These included materials recorded on disks or tape, printed in large type or embossed in Braille.

He stated that readers could obtain books and magazines for recreation or self-improvement and to keep up with current events. He demonstrated how the cassette could be slowed down to a four-hour playing time out of the tape to afford an excellent instructional device.

Discussing the new Right to Read program offered for the blind and physically handicapped, the speaker said that only six percent of the people who need it are taking advantage. He told the group that a free machine was available for use at the local library if needed. He demonstrated the abacus showing how it enables many blind people to manage finances independently.

Mrs. E.F. Soell, president, directed the business. A Book Drive was set for June 11 in an effort to increase the number of books in the library. It was agreed that books would be picked up if they needed to be and that someone would be at the library to receive books when brought.

Cook of the Week

Meal planning sometimes gets to be a chore for those who spend a great portion of their lives preparing family meals, a job which really takes ingenuity. Mrs. Allen Shewmake has a suggestion for a Quick-N-Easy meal which gives her a delightful sense of security to provide her family with a delicious meal, especially on very busy days.

As a compliment to the meal, she suggests a garden fresh salad topped with a choice dressing. By request, she brought another recipe, 24 Hour Layer Salad, which sounds like it can add zip to any meal. It is one of those "do ahead" salads that makes meal preparation easier.

The former Suzanne McCarter of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Shewmake was graduated from Hirschi High School. Before her marriage, she worked in the office at Medcenter and as a nurses aid at Wichita Falls State Hospital. She is a member of Weight Watchers in Iowa Park.

Allen, who is assistant tax assessor and collector for Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District, and Suzanne are members of the First Christian Church. Their children are David Scott 7, K.C. 5 and Derek 1. Mrs. Shewmake's hobbies are horseback riding and reading.

Upcoming tractor pull program speaker's topic

Members of the Noon Lions Club were urged Tuesday to attend the second annual Wichita County Young Farmers' tractor pull, slated for the rodeo arena on FM 369 July 15-16.

During the meeting's business session, members voted to donate all proceeds from their annual broom and home product sale to the city for improvements of Oscar Park at Gordon Lake. The sale will be May 14, according to John Sibley, chairman.

"Just come and watch it one time, and I'll promise you'll enjoy it," stated Richard Davis, advisor to the Young Farmers as he described the tractor pull.

Davis showed a number of film slides made by Barry Mahler, Young Farmer president, at various major competitions over the nation. Mahler is recognized as one of the outstanding announcers for tractor pull competition in the nation.

This year's competition will be for a $5,000 purse, up $2,000 over last year's initial competition in the country.

Davis said an implement show around the arena is also planned, in hopes of attracting some 6,000 spectators for each of the two nights.

The high school vocational agriculture teacher also spoke on how the agricultural industry of this part of the country should be better recognized. "The economy of the county directly reflects the economy of farmers and ranchers," he said.

Also during the business session, members elected a new slate of officers, who will officially assume their offices July 1.

New officers are John Sibley, president; Carl Hecker, first vice president; H.M. Nipper, second vice president; Bob Hamilton, third vice president; Richard Hill, secretary; Doc Woodall, treasurer; Lester Brooks and Wilbur Karstetter, new directors; Keith Auld, tail twister; and Henry Jones, Lion tamer.

No date has yet been set for the installation meeting.

Parker appointed to city council

Charles Parker was appointed Tuesday night to fill the Holliday City Council vacancy created earlier this month when Leo Chappell resigned as mayor.

Three councilmen -- Melvin Bills, Ben Ezzell and Red Denney -- cast the deciding votes to appoint Parker to the post.

Alderman Fred Maier, who argued the city should stage another election to fill the vacancy, did not vote.

Maier defeated Parker 107-96 in the April 2 regular municipal elections for the Place 5 spot on the council.

However, the vacancy was created in the Place 3 spot when newly elected councilman and mayor pro tem Jim Darr inherited the mayor's post when Chappell resigned.

Darr won election to Place 3 by defeating David Kucinski 131-75.

It had been debated that Kucinski should fill the vacancy since he ran for the Place 3 spot.

Apparently the majority of the council supported Parker since he collected the most votes of anyone not elected.

A consensus of the council gave the green light Tuesday night to the processing of an application to the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) for a water system improvement grant.

The council instructed city engineer Andy Andrews to complete application materials for formal action at the council's next meeting scheduled for May 9.

Andrews indicated the project probably would cost about $150,000.

A FmHA grant could cover as much as half the cost of the project, while the city would be financed the remainder through a low-interest federal loan.

In other action Tuesday night the council approved a bid by Red Slack Gulf for new tires for the city pick up truck.

Councilmen discussed details of a water contract for a development north of the city with Howard Lyles.

The council tabled action on hospitalization insurance for city employees.

Rabies clinic slated May 21

Holliday's annual rabies clinic has been scheduled for May 21, according to City Sec. Evon Carter.

The clinic will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. May 21 at Holliday City Hall.

The licensed veterinarian conducting the clinic will charge $4 for each animal treated.

Cattlemen should keep watch for screwworms

By DON DECKER
County Agent
William Morton, chairman of the Wichita County Screwworm Committee, urges all livestock producers to be alert to the screwworm threat and to use all possible measures to prevent reinfestation of local herds. To date, no cases have been identified in Wichita County in 1977. The county screwworm program is conducting an educational campaign with all producers groups of the county to brief them about the campaign to "Stamp Out Screwworms." Producers are reminded to inspect their animals at least twice a week, since screwworm larvae reach maturity in less than seven days. Treat every wound found with an insecticide.

Spray animals when screwworms are known to be in the community, and following livestock surgery or shearing of sheep. Collect larvae or egg masses found in or near wounds, and send the samples to the Mission Laboratory for identification. Mailing kits for worm samples are available at several county locations, including the County Agent's office in Wichita Falls and the ASCS office in Iowa Park.

Producers should avoid animal surgery during seasons of high screwworm activity. All branding, dehorning, castrating and shearing should be completed before the screwworm season opens. Also, avoid unnecessary animal injuries by keeping corrals and gates free of protruding nails and sharp wire.

A hybrid grain sorghum demonstration is being conducted by Frank Morton of Burkburnett. The purpose of this demonstration is to keep persons informed on an adapted grain sorghum hybrid for this area.

The hybrids included in this demonstration include Excell 733, GB, Taylor Evans 66B, Taylor Evans Y101, Warner 832, Warner 839T, DeKalb C42Y, DeKalb C42A. Morton has planted field size plots with approximately two acres per variety.

Blight strikes trees, bushes

Fire blight is affecting some of the pear and pyracantha bushes in the area. C.D. Fite of Wichita Falls is using control measures on a pear tree affected by this bacterial disease.

This disease is evident when infected twigs and leaves turn a dark brown. The dark brown leaves are still attached to the stems. Fite is controlling this disease by pruning out the infected portion of the pear branch four to six inches below the last visible sign since the disease is highly contagious. He dips the pruning shears into a 10 per cent solution of household bleach. This prevents spreading the bacterium from one cut to another.

The spring spray programs gives excellent results in fire blight control. Three spray applications are made at seven day intervals beginning when 10 per cent of blossoms are open. Recommended chemicals for the fire blight include Bordeaux mixture, zineb, or antibiotic spray such as Streptomycin.

None of the pear varieties are immune to fire blight. Some varieties exhibit a resistance or tolerance. The resistant varieties include Kieffer, Orient, Leconte, Magness and Moonglow. The Bartlett pear is the most susceptible to this disease.

THIRD PLACE finishers in the district 4-H horse judging contest, junior division, held at Roby last week, were, from left, Deana Galloway, Alisa Cain, Terri Steed and Gina Baggett. They are coached by Bob Galloway.

Two cotton varieties yield well

Two commercial cotton varieties tested last year in the Wichita River Valley yielded each about 1,300 pounds of lint per acre.

Dr. Lewis E. Clark of Vernon, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, tested the two - SP21 and SP37 - at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station near Iowa Park.

In later evaluations of the fibers, he found the staple length of SP21 and SP37 to be one inch and the micronaire 4.0. The SP 21 is more resistant to verticillium wilt. Both are varieties developed several years ago by Experiment Station scientists.

Clark also had in the test 16 experimental lines - none yet available to growers - whose yield per acre ranged from 1,000 pounds to 1,400 pounds of lint.

He planted the test May 27 on very fine sandy loam that was fertilized with 250 pounds of 16-20-0 per acre. It was irrigated only twice - at first bloom and about four weeks later - because rainfall last year in the Valley was extremely favorable for production.

Dr. Cleveland J. Gerard of Vernon says irrigate near the time of first bloom if cotton is to be watered only once. He is an Experiment Station soils physicist. He says if cotton is to be watered two or more times, the interval between waterings should be 15 to 20 days, depending on the moisture available from rainfall.

Insecticides were not used in the 1976 test because insects were not a problem. Even the counts of boll weevils last year at the Iowa Park headquarters were very low.

Clark cautions producers, however, to check their cotton for insects during the growing season, and treat it if necessary.

He said cotton root rot was not a problem in the test, although it may be troublesome in other areas of the Valley. Where it occurs, it reduces yields.

Clark says if seed of SP21 and SP 37 are not available, growers should check with county Extension agents for other recommended varieties.

The pecan spray program is scheduled to get underway in Wichita County this month. The April application is made when the leaves are one third grown. NZN or zinc sulfate is used for pecan rosette (zinc deficiency) and Benlate is used for scab.

Wesley Davis will be using this application for his pecan spraying and his second application will be made May 25-June 5 (exact date to be announced), since timing is so critical. Davis will use Zolone for the Pecan Nut Casebearer, NZN or zinc sulfate and Benlate.

The third application will be made in June using the same material. Homeowners are advised to substitute Malathion or Sevin in the place of Zolone as a safety precaution.

Band earns Sweepstakes

The Iowa Park Junior High School band last week earned the coveted Sweepstakes award. Receiving first division in both concert and sightreading, the 89-piece unit under direction of Mark Cartwright, achieved the award because it had already received a first division in marching last fall, which is a requirement for the UIL award. In earning Sweepstakes, the junior high band joins the high school band and high school choir in bringing recognition to Iowa Park for its school's music department. Both the high school units earned Sweepstakes this year, also.

New position for Red Hoss

There's something new about former Hawk great David "Red Hoss" Ross, who is battling for a starting berth with the University of Rice Owls. Now he's the hit-er instead of the hit-ee. Head coach Homer Rice has moved the Red Hoss from offense to middle linebacker, and he likes what's happened. At Rice's annual Blue-Gray intrasquad game a couple of weeks ago, Ross played on the winning defensive team, and helped in that win by intercepting a pass.

4-H adult and youth leaders who are interested in aquatic science projects, water sports, or 4-H record books are invited to participate in one of these three weekend workshops at the Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood on May 14 and 15.

Aquatic science workshop sessions will include aquarium culture, marine biology, and recreational information from James T. Davis, Extension Fisheries Specialist.

4-H record book training for both advanced and beginning 4-H leaders will be given by 4-H and Youth Specialists, George McArthur and Martha Couch.

If this house can be heated and cooled by the sun, why can't yours?

This solar energy research house is heated, air conditioned and supplied with hot water by the sun's rays. Rooftop solar collectors trap the heat from the sun, which is then transferred into the house.

Texas Electric helps sponsor this solar research facility. And we participate in a national solar energy development program.

Someday, houses like this one may be common. But right now, it's an experimental system that's simply not affordable for widespread home use.

Meanwhile, you need electricity to heat and cool your home today. And we have to make that electricity with fuels that are available.

That's why we're building power plants that run on lignite coal and nuclear fuel. These new plants are expensive, which means electricity will have to cost more.

But it also means we'll be able to continue supplying the electricity you need.

Electricity. You count on it today. We're working to keep it that way.

Fighting Wasps

A couple of our friends came over one day and we decided to clear all the wasps out of the barn. The only way I knew to fight wasps, until that day anyway, was to chunk the nest down with a big rock or clod and run like the dickens, hoping none could catch you. But our friends said no, that was not the way to do it, it had no style. One boy took charge and showed us how to make paddles from thin boards off of an apple box. We used the coping saw and a barlow knife to shape handles and we were in business. He said that it was sissy to chunk rocks at the nests from a long way off, said the best way was to take a stick and walk boldly up to the nest and just thump it down. He explained that wasps could tell if you were afraid of them and would attack you if you were but if you were brave they could sense it and wouldn't bother you.

He would go up to the nest, thump it down, back up a few paces and we would join him with our paddles, swatting the little creatures as they buzzed near us. When the nest hit the floor of the barn a cloudburst of yellow jackets was in the air going all directions so fast you couldn't see them, much less hit them with the paddles.

Mr. Brave who had told us how to do it was lying on the floor after he had tripped over his own feet running backward. Wasps were all around him, some were stinging, some were waiting their turn. Another kid had told us earlier that if you stood perfectly still they wouldn't bother you even if they were swarming all around. His theory had to be adjusted somewhat as he was standing perfectly still, holding his breath while three big ones were stinging him. He finally let out a holler and bolted for the door with a stream of them hot on his heels.

We regrouped our forces outside the barn and counted the casualties. On our side it was well above one hundred per cent and we didn't know how the wasps fared, since none of us wanted to go back into the barn to check.

Mom made a paste of baking soda and water and applied it to our wounds. If you were out somewhere without baking soda, mud was a fair substitute. There were more exotic mixtures such as used chewing tobacco or snuff applied to the sting. I also heard of a cure for insect stings that was made of sheep pellets but fortunately I was never subjected to the use of it.

That wasn't the last time we fought wasps but it was the last time I ever believed anyone who said that wasp wouldn't bother you if you were brave.

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

Reaction to Pres. Carter's energy saving proposals has been fast, loud and generally specific, in this part of the country anyway.

Cong. Jack Hightower's news release sounded typical of a party member not wanting to burn any bridges, but pointed out the producers still apparently weren't going to get their due under the proposal.

Rep. Charles Fennell quickly drafted a resolution which he introduced in Austin, blasting proposed federal control not only of interstate but intrastate natural gas prices.

And my old editor buddy down at Andrews, James Roberts, says "We were disappointed in the program outlined. As a Texas and as a resident of the old patch, it left us as cold as a defrocked Hindu in Siberia".

Texas Railroad Commission chairman Jim Langdon questions the source of Carter's information, stating most of the figures used concerning oil were completely wrong.

It was just more of the same old thing to me. Everything can be solved with taxes, that seems to be the belief of anyone in Washington.

The goals are realistic, and I think anyone can agree. We should not depend so heavily on energy fuels from other nations.

But the whole reason we're in this situation in the first place is those dumb nuts in Washington who want to control production in our country. They started us buying all that overseas oil when it was cheaper than they wanted to pay our own producers, and now that the need and price have increased to the levels they are, they want to blame shortage.

Knowledgeable oil people agree that there is a shortage of crude oil and natural gas in the United States... at current price controls. But they also say that if a realistic price is allowed, and certain restrictions such as areas of discovery and production are removed, we can produce our own needs without the Arabs.

The level of production in the United States runs a true curve to the controls congress has put on the oil industry.

My impression of Carter's talk was mainly marred by his wanting to tax some and pay others with the same money. That's just more socialistic talk, the same we've been getting out of Washington the past couple of decades.

Once a tax is put on, it's almost impossible to get it off, too. Remember that stupid excise tax that congress put on playing cards back during World War II? It was mainly to cut down on use of paper, during a paper shortage.

They, congress, didn't lift that tax until the late 1960s.

There's no doubt most of Carter's energy proposals will be accepted by congress. After all, most of the congressmen are from urban cities and northeastern states. And the people they represent believe strongly in the old free lunch idea.

I think we're in for a bad time in our part of the country, for a few years, anyway.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wondered as I sat watching the special called "Interfaith Community vs. Blasphemy," the other night just how many people were watching it along with me? I wondered just how many people were concerned enough not to flip to another channel to watch "Kojak" in his strife, I'm sure, to solve another crime case? I wondered just how many Americans really listened intently to the show speaking out against blasphemy? It told of how movie producers are trying to make a movie about Jesus featuring him as being a homosexual. It concluded with Pat Boone asking people to take a stand against this scandal. People are turning to movies which contain blasphemy by the millions, which therefore results in the movie producers making millions. They figure if blasphemy is what we Americans want, surely for that amount of money, they will give it to us. I am personally against blasphemy and I believe it is up to the ones left who still care to fight it. Pat Boone is certainly doing his share. And, we as caring Americans surely need to care now. When it gets so bad they are going to turn Jesus into something he wasn't for the sake of money, the United States of America has surely become a weak nation and could scarcely get much worse. I sincerely hope each American will think about what is happening and especially before going to the movies. The profane language used in shows anymore is accepted - instead of protested against! But - hundreds of movie goers seem to think it's ok - the rougher the show - the more people there are who want to see it. I wonder if, beginning here in Iowa Park, our local churches would begin a crusade against blasphemy just as they did "Living Proof?" It has to begin somewhere. Pat Boone is trying, but he needs our help - mine and yours if we still care about our God, our country, and our morals.

Lana Lane Snyder.

The Hungry Hawk

By Beckie Wetzel

When hunger strikes, and linen tablecloths, waiters, wines and high prices don't thrill you, the Bonanza Sirloin Pit (2603 Seymour Hwy.) just might be the place to "chow down".

If the "hungries" strike on a Tuesday or Thursday night, for $2.49 you can eat a 6 oz. club, baked potato, toast, and/or soup and salad.

Those who have not eaten at Bonanza within the last two months will be surprised, as I was, at the new salad bar. Instead of a plain lettuce salad, there is now a help-yourself bar which includes potato salad, cole slaw, jello, assorted fresh vegetables, hominy, garbanzo beans and soup.

Refills on all beverages are free -- weekdays between 2 and 4 p.m. all 16 oz. soft drinks are only 10c.

Steak is not the only food available. Bonanza also carries fish (usually flounder or cod), chicken fried steaks and hamburgers.

Students enter math field day

Mike Nipper, Charles Franks, Bruce Hammonds, Brian Catlin, Julia Popejoy, Robin Marquart, Mike Britton, Billy Farmer, Mark Gregg and Lisa Bartow entered into a mathematics field day at Midwestern State University on Wednesday, April 20.

Other schools competing in the competition were Rider, Wichita Falls High, Burkburnett, Vernon and Hirschi High School.

Rider High School took first place in the competition, but according to Mr. Priddy, "We did a lot better this year than we did last year."

Each student was in one or more of the two areas of competition. All the students took a one-hour written test.

Competing in the math scramble were: Mike Nipper, Charles Franks, Bruce Hammonds, Brian Catlin and Julia Popejoy. In the math scramble each group of students was given a problem to solve. The group that solved the problem correctly first received five points. Iowa Park scored 33 points in this part of the competition.

Varsity 4th, frosh 3rd in district track meet

The Hawk varsity thindads finished fourth in the District 4-AAA meet at Graham Saturday, and qualified athletes in more events at the region meet than any season since moving up to AAA competition.

And the freshman team almost won its division, placing third behind Brownwood and Burkburnett.

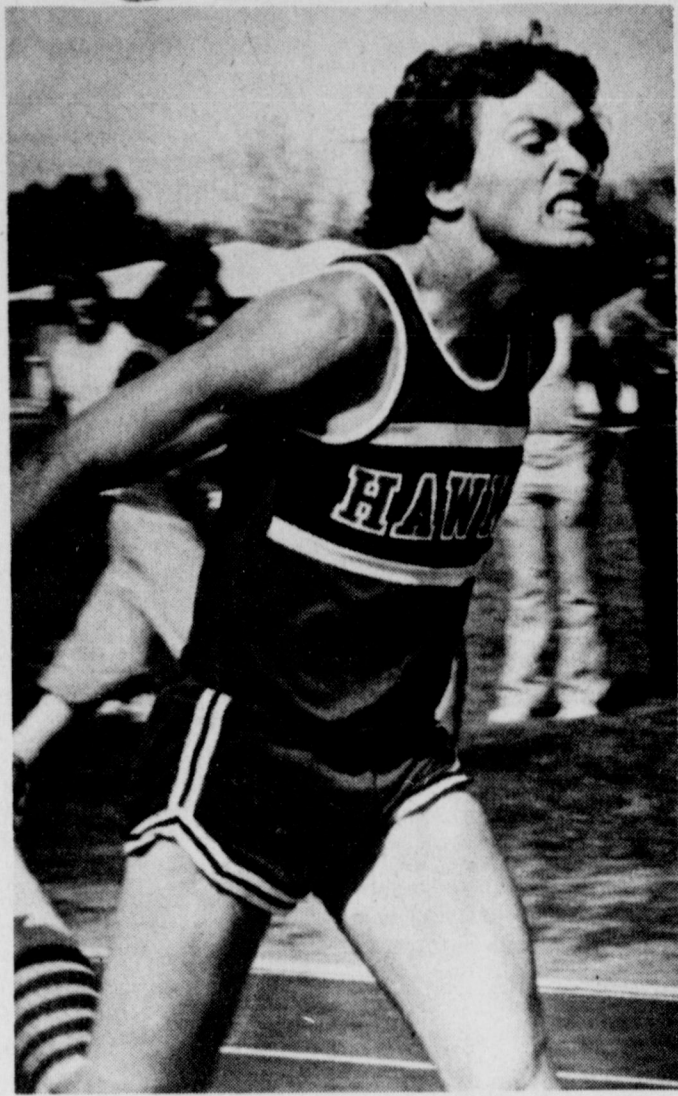

Without winning a first place in the meet, the Hawks qualified four to compete this Friday and Saturday at the regional meet at Denton.

Ray Cook will run in the high hurdle preliminaries at 2:40 p.m. tomorrow. He was leading in the district finals until knocking over the ninth hurdle, slowing him down to second place. Fastest qualifier in the region is 14.0, and Cook ran a 14.5 Saturday.

Starting at 1 p.m. Friday will be the preliminaries in the pole vault and discus. Jim Dooley placed second in the district with a vault of 14 feet. He was beaten by Graham's James Grimes, who went 14-3, which is the highest of any qualifier for this region.

IT WASNT BECAUSE Robert Dillard didn't give his best effort that he didn't qualify for the regional track meet. He stretched as much as he could, but placed third in the 440-yard dash finals of the Dist. 4-AAA meet at Graham Saturday. The stretch apparently helped, because he turned in his best time of the season, 51.4.

Kip Fuller was defeated by Brownwood's Doug Reid in the discus, and it was his first loss of the season in the event. Fuller threw the platter 138-1/2, below his season best, and Reid went 144-11. Best qualifier in the region was 158-2.

The fourth qualifier was Scott Stubbs, who placed second in the half mile. His race will not have a preliminary, and he will run at 2:10 p.m. Saturday in the finals.

Iowa Park's freshman team could possibly have won its division, had it not been for an injury sustained by sprinter Troy Thompson.

He hurt his back in the long jump event, but managed to win the 220 and place second in the 100, which he normally would have won. Then he ran the final leg in the mile relay, which placed third, and it was in that event, had it been in top form, the team might have won which would have given them enough points for the championship.

Hawks given new chance

The high school baseball team was given a chance to stay in the north zone championship race Tuesday by virtue of a 2-1 Vernon win over Burkburnett.

Burk had knocked the Hawks out with a 10-4 slugfest here Friday to remain undefeated in the race. That was the second Bulldog win over the Hawks, who also had lost one of three starts to Vernon.

Iowa Park travels to Burkburnett at 4 p.m. Friday to try to get back into the thick of the race. The Hawks host Vernon Tuesday, play another game with Stephenville here the following Friday, and their final regular schedule game with Burk May 10.

The Hawks played a non-conference tilt at Stephenville Tuesday, and were beaten in an offensive battle 14-11. That loss does not count on the zone record, however.

Karren runs her way to state

Karren Brown ran away from the field at the region meet Saturday at Denton, and has become a favorite to bring back the first state championship in girls' track to Iowa Park High.

Miss Brown finished some 10 seconds in the lead, winning her specialty, the mile, in a 5:35.2 clocking.

She becomes only the second female trackster to represent Iowa Park at the state meet, which will be held May 6-7 at the University of Texas at Austin. Jodie Frazier was the first, three years ago, in the triple jump.

Karren will run in the AAA division, which is held the first evening of the state meet. Two divisions run that night, AAA and AA, while B, A and AAAA compete Saturday afternoon.

The 17-year-old senior was clocked in 78 seconds on her first lap, taking the lead going into the second lap, and 2:39 after 880 yards, which would have placed her fifth had she been running the half mile event.

She slowed down on her third lap and Coach David Williams told her she need not kick on the fourth, because she was some 50 yards ahead of her nearest competitor.

She was the only IPHS athlete entered in the regional meet, but the points she earned with the first place were more than 20 other schools in the meet, including Burkburnett.

Karren started the season as a quartermiler, and a good one. Her best clocking was 62.0 in competition, but she had a 60.8 in workouts, Williams said.

When she switched to the mile she found her event. Karren has never been defeated, or even pushed by an opponent.

Her first race was slightly over six minutes, and she has consistently cut her times through the season. She won in 5:50 at Weatherford, 5:46.6 at Burkburnett, and 5:44.5 in the district meet at Graham. Williams said Karren would be working on speed and endurance this week and next, in preparation for the state meet. But she will not be entered in any races this weekend.

HAWKS FINISH THIRD PLACE IN DISTRICT GOLF ...Rick Blair, Charles Mattis, Kelly Roberts, Kyle Lemmon and Jeff Shiery show medals.

Golf team finishes third

Iowa Park's senior-laden golf team held off a late charge by Burkburnett and finished in third place in the final District 4-AAA standings.

Playing Friday morning at Burkburnett in the fourth and final round of conference competition, Kelly Roberts and Charles Mattis shot their best rounds of the series and Rick Blair played his consistent score.

The Hawks, leading Burkburnett by only four shots after the first three rounds at other courses, expected a big push from the Bulldogs, playing on their own home course.

But Iowa Park actually picked up two strokes, 326-328, to hold off Burk's bid for third place.

Roberts shot 39-37-76, Mattis 41-40-81, Blair 43-40-83, and Kyle Lemmon 43-43-86. Jeff Shiery also had an 86, but only four scores are counted.

Brownwood, trailing by nine strokes going into the final round, found the course to its liking and fired a 309 to overtake conference leading Mineral Wells' 320, and finish in first place, 1291-1293.

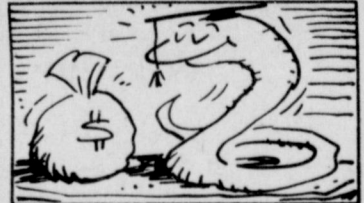

Other final scores were Iowa Park 1358, Burkburnett 1364, Graham 1390, Vernon 1396, Weatherford 1403 and Stephenville 1500.

The Hawk "B" team had its best round of the season, scoring under 400, according to Coach Mike Billingsley.

Their scores were Earl Bennett 88, Mike Davis 105, Kenny Reames 102 and Roger Reid 103.

Proposed textbooks available

Copies of every book submitted to the Texas Education Agency for the 1977 state textbook adoption will be available to all interested citizens for review at the Region IX Education Service Center Annex in Wichita Falls beginning May 5.

Sample books will be on file at the annex, located at 3114 Seymour Highway in Fremar Valley, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

All major publishers are expected to submit text materials for the Texas adoption in selected elementary and secondary school subject areas. The new materials may be adopted for a maximum of six years. Books will be studied in detail by members of the State Textbook Committee and their local advisors throughout the summer. The 15-member committee will be appointed by the State Board of Education at its May 14 meeting in Austin. Committee members, which includes school administrators and teachers, will also seek the views of other teachers in their own districts.

A series of public hearings will be held in Austin in order to gather citizen viewpoints before the State Board of Education adopts textbooks at its Nov. 12 meeting in Austin. The new materials will be available for students on Sept. 1, 1978. Elementary subjects scheduled to receive new materials include elementary Spanish for grades three through six, Texas history and geography for grade seven and literature for grades seven and eight.

Secondary subjects on the list include English composition, drama, biology, chemistry, German, Spanish, fundamentals of the free enterprise system, general business, office procedures, business mathematics and driver education and traffic safety.

Finnell urges passage of inspection grace period

State Rep. Charles Finnell has secured unanimous committee approval of his bill to grant a five-day grace period to drivers to have their cars inspected after the safety inspection certificate expires.

Testifying before the House Transportation Committee, on which Finnell serves, the Holliday representative said, "Many ordinary drivers simply forget to have their cars inspected before the inspection sticker expires. This failure to renew the certificate isn't due to any sinister motives but rather to common forgetfulness to which we are all subject."

"We should provide some mechanism for law-abiding persons to be able to drive their autos to an inspection station legally for a short period after their sticker expires, especially when the expiration date falls on a weekend or holiday."

The bill now awaits debate before the full House.

In other legislative action, the House has given initial approval to a measure requiring food packages containing imported meat to be labeled as such, a bill co-sponsored by Finnell.

"We need to protect our domestic ranchers, particularly Texas ranchers, from disguised foreign competition. This bill would inform consumers of the source of the meat they buy," said the veteran legislator.

He also noted the House Business and Industry Committee Monday will receive a favorable subcommittee report on his bill to allow the State Securities Board to have their agents serve its own civil papers. Finnell predicted committee passage of the bill.

Looking ahead, Finnell also said the House Intergovernmental Affairs Committee has scheduled hearings on his proposal to allow district court judges in Wichita County to appoint their own bailiffs, instead of having appointments made by the sheriff.

"Local officials requested this bill to streamline the local judicial system," Finnell explained.

Hearings have been set for April 26.

Great News FOR THE World

HOLY SPIRIT GIFTS

Jesus promised His disciples that they would be given the Holy Spirit. He said to them,

"These signs shall follow them that believe: in My name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with tongues;

"They shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." [Mark 16, vv. 17-18].

Why were these promises made to the disciples?

THEY PROVED THAT THE MESSAGE from the dead. He had gone into heaven, leaving His little band of disciples to "Go into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

It was a big task. Would people listen to them? Surely they would not believe the story of a man brought back to life after being dead for three days.

So the disciples were given the power to work miracles, as a sign that their message was from God. We read how, on the day of Pentecost they preached to the Jews in languages that they had never learned, and could not have spoken but for the power of God. This was called, "Speaking in tongues".

No wonder the people were amazed; and no wonder they listened.

THE SPIRIT GIFTS HELPED TO GUIDE THE CHURCH

As a result of the preaching on the day of Pentecost, 3,000 men and women joined the disciples, and became Christians (Acts 2 v. 41). And so the Christian Church had made a good start.

But imagine the difficulties there would be. Such a big family of Christians would need some to guide and teach them, and to give them advice about the arrangements they would have to make. They could not learn from the New Testament, because it was not yet written.

So the gifts of the spirit were sent, not only to convince outsiders of the truth of the apostles' message, but also to help and teach the early Christians, and to set the first churches in order.

WHAT WERE THESE GIFTS?

In I Corinthians 12 v. 22 - the apostle Paul shows how different members of the Church possess different gifts, and how each member was to work for the good of the others. Then in vv. 28-29 he gives a list of the gifts.

"And God hath set some in the Church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues."

The first three gifts - the most important - were for teaching the early Christians.

THE END OF THE GIFTS

We have already seen that in the days of the first Christians, there was no New Testament - it had not then been written; and we have suggested that that is one reason why these gifts were so necessary. We can read about the life of the Lord Jesus, and we can read the letters of the apostles. But they had no written record; so that apostles, prophets, and teachers, with their spirit gifts, were a very necessary help to the first churches.

When the writing of the New Testament was finished, there was no longer any need for this special help from God. All that Christians need to know is written down for them in the Bible. So the spirit gifts were taken away.

The apostle Paul said this would happen. In I Corinthians 13 v. 8 we read,

"Charity [love] never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail whether there be knowledge, it shall be taken away; whether there be gifts, they shall be taken away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be ministries, they shall be done away." [I Cor. 13: 8-10].

DOES ANYONE POSSESS THESE GIFTS TODAY?

Some people do claim to have the gifts of the Spirit; especially they claim to be able to speak in tongues, and to heal the sick. How can we test those that claim to work miracles by the Spirit of God?

Firstly, we remind ourselves that the apostle Paul said in I Corinthians 13 that a time would come when the "gifts" would cease. If this period did not begin when the New Testament was completed, then when does it begin? Certainly not in the coming Kingdom, because there will be more gifts than ever then. (The Holy Spirit gifts are, in fact, called "powers of the world to come," and the early disciples had the "firstfruits" of these gifts.)

Secondly, we note that Holy Spirit gifts were given to help the true Church. The true Church believes and preaches the Word of God. Most of those who claim to have these powers today - if not all - preach things not taught in the Word of God. We must therefore reject these claims.

Thirdly, we have to confess that we are not impressed by many of the so-called miracles. Many of the cures are soon seen to be no cures at all; and others of them can be explained scientifically. Hypnotists can often get the same results.

Finally, yet another reminder that when we read the Bible we are, in a very real sense, receiving the Spirit of God. If we want to be saved, let us show that we appreciate this wonderful gift of God to us, by reading it as much as we can.

SUMMARY

1. Holy Spirit gifts were given to the early Christians.

2. They were for two purposes:

(a) To be a sign to unbelievers.

(b) To help build up the early Church.

3. They were only given UNTIL the New Testament writings were finished: after this they were to "vanish away."

4. No one since has been able to work miracles by the power of the Holy Spirit.
