Lone Star Gas now servicing new communities

Lone Star Gas Company this week announced the purchase of several distribution systems of area communities, including Holliday and Valley View.

Also included in the purchase from City Gas Company of Amarillo, were Archer City, Clarendon, Hedley, Lella Lake, Megargel, and Olney.

Lone Star Gas has not yet announced its policies on personnel, location of offices and methods of billing and collection.

"Lone Star Gas has served these communities with gas delivered to the city gate," Neal Hall, vice president for distribution of the firm, said. "Thus, the purchase will be an extension of that service to include actual distribution and complete gas service."

The change was effective April 1.

City begins study of new sewer plant

An in-depth study into the present and forecasted needs of the city's sewer treatment plant was presented to the Iowa Park city council at its meeting Monday night.

Making the presentation was Bill Wischmeyer of Riewe & Wischmeyer, Inc., consulting engineers of Dallas.

He offered five solutions to the council, ranging in a cost of from $265,000 to $491,000.

The engineer's proposals were based on the city's population reaching 10,000 by the year 2000, which is a figure many in the community think will be attained long before the change of the century, especially if industry is lured to the community.

The city will have its bonding representative at its next meeting to discuss bonding capabilities.

Federal money is available to cities building new sewer plants, it was pointed out, at a rate of 30 percent cost share.

City fathers became concerned about their sewer situation when state inspectors tested the treatment plant in April of last year and found it was treating waste at 20 percent less efficiently than is required by law.

Amendments to the Mobile Home Ordinance were accepted. They included leaving out requirement of wheel removal; requiring additional buildings to mobile homes be made of outside metal; deleted building permit requirement; and requires a trailer park to obtain a permit, instead of a license.

Ordinance Number 153 was approved, which abandons 45 feet on either side of Park Street in front of the Church of Christ, and makes the land available for purchase to the adjoining owners.

A three-year insurance policy was renewed on the North Jackson water tower. It is a $50,000 policy costing $777 to cover wind, storm, and hail damage. Annual dues to the Texas Municipal League were approved for payment. Based on population, dues for Iowa Park are $174 annually.

A maintenance contract with NCR was approved, at a cost of $364, which insures the care of the city's posting machine. Payment of $250 court fees were approved for city attorney O.N. Newman, who represented the council in a recent court case.

Two employees were approved to attend a water and sewer school at Abilene, May 5-7.

Attorney Newman swore in the three newly-elected aldermen, Herman Mahler, Rip Smith and L.W. Teel, and mayor Erwin Soell. Later, Mayor Soell re-appointed Mahler as Sewer and Water Commissioner; Arch Hughes, Street Commissioner; Frank Harlin, Parks and Recreation Commissioner; Teel, Police Commissioner; and Smith, Sanitation Department Commissioner.

The council also voted to pay the expenses and fees for any alderman who was able to represent the city at a meeting of the North Texas Regional Planning Commission today at Nocona, which will be attended by Gov. Preston Smith.

County Commissioner Buck Voyles was given permission to place a fence around the block on which the county maintenance barn is located.

In other business, in which no official action was taken, the city:

- discussed the possibility of Park Manor providing ambulance service for Iowa Park and Electra;
- discussed need of insurance covering books in the city library;
- discussed relocation of park equipment which was displaced in the West part of town for construction of a new home.

Public invited to free seminar

The general public has been invited to a free explanation meeting of the world-famous Speed-Read Seminar, to be held today at 7:33 p.m. in the County Agricultural Building.

Presented by the Developmental Training Services, the course is designed to increase reading speed, comprehension, retention, ability to concentrate and memorize.

Representative of the firm reports the course is well-received in communities where it has been held, and among their students have been many men from professional fields where reading is essential.

Rubinoff to appear in April 28 concert

Advance sale of tickets are to begin this week for the April 28 return to Iowa Park of Dave Rubinoff.

Return of the extraordinary musician to the city, sponsored by the Noon Lions Club, is by popular demand. Those who attended his performance here a few years ago recall the outstanding programs he provided.

T.C. Berry is general chairman of the concert. Harold Cowley and Bob Hamilton are sales team chairmen.

Rubinoff's earlier performance in the old W.F. George High building's auditorium is still a topic of many discussions.

People apparently were captured by his ability to entertain, regardless of their tastes in music.

He will perform, as violin solos, the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, the Warsaw Concerto, and the Rhapsody in Blue, with humorous injections of a television advertising medley, and high-light foot-tapping with a rousing square dance fiddling in which 18 old-time tunes will be featured.

The Maestro's day includes free performances for school students during the day of his evening concert, as well as an appearance before the Lions Club. And prior to the concert, he accepts an Iron-clad rule to be at the auditorium an hour before the audience assemblies for practicing on his beloved Stradivarius.

His two-century-old instrument, by the way, is insured for $100,000.

Educators aware of the value of music appreciation in schooling are enthusiastic in commending the Lions Club for bringing Rubinoff and his famed Stradivarius to Iowa Park.

The interest of young America has been continually held by Rubinoff, not alone because of his artistry, but in a large measure because his matinee appearances are geared to his audience reaction. He does not "play down" to them, and from the moment he strikes the first note—whether it be the crashing note of a classical rendition or the lilting swing of popular music—the youthful audience reacts with appreciation and approval.

That same interest has been shared by thousands of American fighting men, for he has only recently returned from an acclaimed tour of armed forces in Vietnam, Japan and Korea.

He describes his most exciting and thrilling experience of the tour as being the time he played the Warsaw Concerto to the ear-splitting and roaring planes at the fighting front.

"My biggest surprise," the maestro said, "was the wild enthusiasm our hard-boiled fighting boys displayed after each selection in contrast to the concert going audience in Carnegie Hall. I never realized that my Stradivarius meant so much to the men on the battle front."

Rubinoff recently played an open air concert at the Chicago Grant Park that attracted 225,000 listeners, which is one of the largest audiences to attend a concert in the United States.

Streich new president of local school board

Cecil Streich was elected president of the Iowa Park Independent School District board of trustees during a reorganization meeting Friday night.

Streich succeeds T.C. Berry as head of the board. Vice president is Hoyt Watson and Robert Wilcox is secretary. The meeting was held Friday instead of the regularly scheduled second Tuesday, to allow two members to attend, who would have been out of town.

Arch Hughes, Clarence Mahler and Donald Schram were named to the Board of Equalization, which will hold its meeting Aug. 11-12.

A committee of Jesse McCullough, Watson and Wilcox was appointed to propose a rent schedule for persons and organizations wishing to use portions of the new high school building for meetings and activities.

Permission was granted to allow special education students to make a field trip to Six Flags, if arrangements can be made. Considerable discussion was held with two representatives of a steel building construction company on the possibilities of building a structure on the new high school campus which would house Vocational Agriculture, automotive mechanics and building trades. Later, as more vocational courses are offered, the building will be expanded to house those classes.

In other business, the board canvassed the election returns; approved use of the high school auditorium for the Dave Rubinoff concert; paid all architect fees on the new high school except $5,000, which will be withheld until all corrections in the construction are completed; and tentatively scheduled another meeting the latter part of next week.

IN LITERARY CONTEST

Ten qualify for Region

Ten Iowa Park High School students qualified to compete in the Region One University Interscholastic League Literary Meet at Lubbock, April 25.

They were qualified by placing in the District 2-AA contest held Friday at Childress.

Iowa Park captured five first places, nine seconds, a third and a fourth.

First place winners in the District meet qualify for the Regional, as do second placers in shorthand, science, spelling and plain writing, and second and third place winners in typewriting.

Roger Cummings and Scott Julian captured first place in boys' debate, Carolyn Mahler was first in informative speaking, Val Overbey in poetry interpretation, Deanne Carver in shorthand, and Don Yeager was first in prose reading.

Second place winners who qualify for Region include: Darryl Ratcliff, spelling and plain writing; Sherrie Skelton, typewriting; Kathy Holderman, shorthand; Debbie Catlin also qualified by placing third in typewriting.

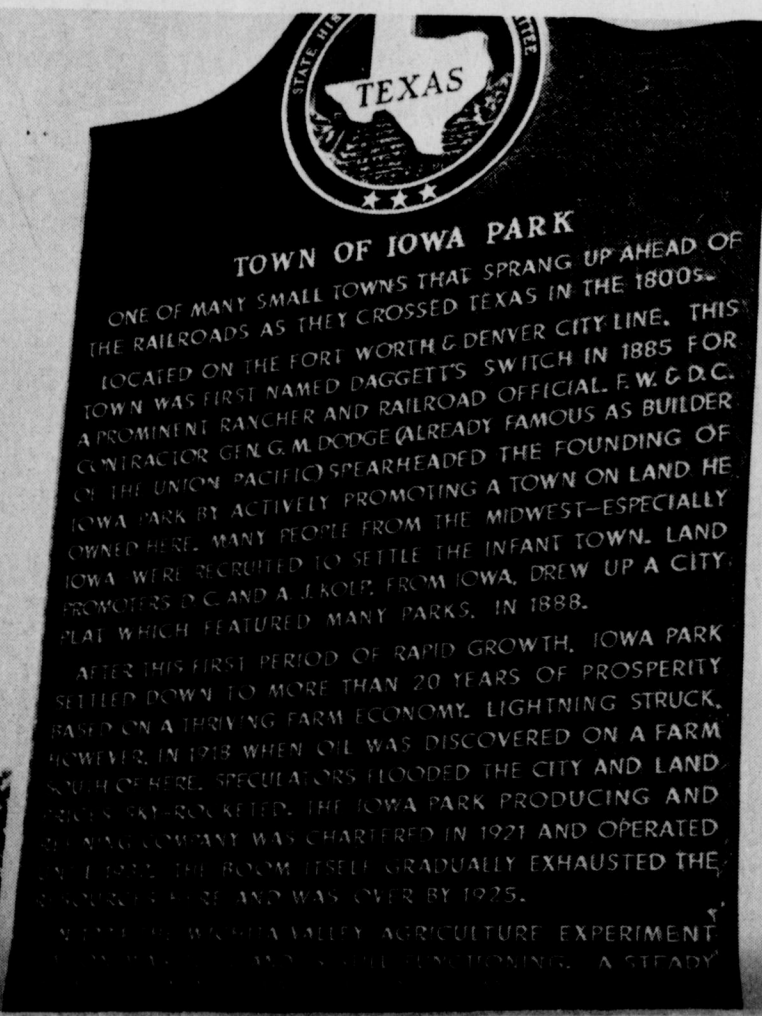

Others placing in the contests were: Second place—Deanne Carver, poetry interpretation; Patti Brown, prose reading; Audrey Bushfield, oral reading; Paul Guyette, science; Carol Cole, persuasive reading; and Jay Cantrell, persuasive reading.

Fourth place—Billy James, slide rule. In the one-act play contest, held here Monday afternoon and evening, Electra was judged first place and advances to the Region.

Iowa Park was second. Val Overbey was selected Best Actor and Michele Brown was named to the All-Star Cast.

OLD-TIMER Ralph Hines, Wichita Falls resident and uncle of Iowa Park's Miles Hines, reads the inscription on the town's new historical marker which was dedicated in services Saturday morning. Mr. Hines has been a resident of the area 82 years.

Tornado alarm signal explained

With tornado season fast approaching, the Volunteer Fire Department has issued information to the public to acquaint them with the "take cover" warning alarm, which will be used when a funnel is approaching the city.

The alarm is 12 blasts of the sirens over a two-minute period. This is not to be confused with the four blasts over the same time period, which is a call to firemen on a fire drill.

For the next few months, the fire department will use the tornado alert warning as a practice every second Monday night of the month. This is actually to call members to meetings. It will be used only when the weather is clear and no storm is in the area.

Regular meeting signal on the siren is one long extended blast.

Large turnout for dedication

The dedication of the Iowa Park historical marker was held Saturday morning in the Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church.

John Maples was master of ceremonies. Norman Mayes, president of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, welcomed guests.

Fred Parkey, Iowa Park representative of the Wichita County Texas State Historical Survey Committee, introduced the officers of the committee. The group included Dr. Kenneth Neighbours, chairman; Miss Louise Kelly, vice chairman; Mrs. Edward Thiele, secretary-treasurer.

He also gave special recognition to Mrs. Abby Cooper of Electra, a member of the society, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Taylor of Clarendon and Ralph Hines of Wichita Falls, who had lived in the area for 82 years.

Buck Voyles, county commissioner of Prec. 3, introduced a group of distinguished guests and county officials. These were Temple Driver, judge 78th District Court; Dave Allred, state representative, Bill Carnes, county tax assessor and collector, and Mrs. Carnes; Bud Greer of Electra, commissioner of Prec 4; Faris Nowell, superintendent of the Iowa Park schools and Mrs. Nowell. K.G. Wilks, city secretary, introduced citizens who had lived here 50 years or more. Gale Lowrance was recognized for having lived in the community for 79 years. Others in attendance who had lived here continuously 70 years or longer were Miss Dossie Smith, former city secretary, Miss Mary Butcher, Mrs. Emma Gaunt, Mrs. T.M. Clark.

Those who registered indicating that they had been residents of the community 50 years or more were Mmes. C.F. Hill, M.L. Hines, Ruth Gard, John B. Barbour, Lydia Hudson, Homer Blalock; Messrs. Gregor M. Rathke, R.A. Williams, Loys D. Barbour, T.M. Clark, N.E. McKinney, L.A. Lee and Carroll Hester.

A highlight of the service was a brief history of Iowa Park given by Mrs. M.J. McDonald. She gave interesting excerpts from a paper she had written when she was working on her master's degree at Midwestern University.

In her research, she found mention of the town as early as 1881. In 1882, three elections were held to determine where the county seat would be located. In the last election Iowa Park lost to Wichita Falls by one vote. Other important statistical data revealed that the first school building was erected in 1889; the town was incorporated May 29, 1891; and the first bank was organized in 1900.

Activities were climaxed with the unveiling of the marker in the city park by Mrs. M.L. Hines. The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.N. George, pioneer settlers of the community, she paid tribute to those who had blazed the trail and laid the foundation for the growth and development of "The Town of Friendly Living".

Rev. Gerald Tidwell, pastor of the Faith Baptist Church, gave the invocation, and Rev. W.F. Williams, pastor of the Church of God, offered the benediction.

STRAINING TO FINISH first in the 100-yard dash preliminaries of the District 2-AA meet held Thursday at Vernon is Hawk sprinter Gary Williams. He leads Electra's Ronnie Gaffner in the heat, but they also finished first and second in the finals that night, though Williams had to hobble the last few steps after pulling a leg muscle.

Hawks track champs

While the high-flying Iowa Park Hawks were capturing their 12th District 2-AA track and field championship in 13 years at Vernon Thursday, six members of the team were qualifying for the Region I meet at Lubbock April 25.

But the Hawks suffered their biggest loss when Gary Williams pulled up lame and could not compete in his specialty, the 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

The Hawks built up a commanding lead during the afternoon, when the field events were held. They held 44 strong points, six ahead of Shamrock's 38 and Seymour's 29. Seymour had to win the mile relay, last event of Thursday evening, in order to pull into second place.

Iowa Park finished with a team total of 113 points to Seymour's 96, Shamrock was third with 86.

The Hawk freshmen finished fourth in their division, the same position they held after the field events ended.

First and second place finishers in the district meet qualifies contestants to run in the regional, and the same placings at region qualify for the state meet. Representing Iowa Park at the Lubbock

Williams won the 100, but had to hobble the last five yards to beat Electra's Ronnie Gaffner. He had a big lead, and still broke the tape in a 10.2 clocking.

Jeff McDonald is another who is recuperating from pulled muscles at the meet will be the first place 440-yard relay team of Billy Hacker, Porter Pyle, Lee Dawson and Gary Williams, with Jeff McDonald as alternate; Bill Gilmore in both the intermediate and high hurdles; Williams in the 100-yard dash; Greg Ansell in the high jump and pole vault and Steve Brock in the pole vault.

Williams, who was considered one of the top contenders in the state for the intermediate hurdle crown, suffered a pulled muscle in the finals of the 100-yard dash, and was not able to compete the rest of the meet.

Coach Tommy Watkins said Williams now has an infection in the leg, and it is not yet certain whether he will be able to compete at Lubbock, though he probably will.

Martin-Thompson vows exchanged

The Faith Baptist Church was the setting Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Carol Ann Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Martin, and Larry Lee Thompson, son of Mrs. Lavere Thompson and the gate Mr. Thompson. Rev. Gerald Tidwell, pastor, was the officiating minister.

Wedding selections were provided by Mrs. Larry Robbins of Wichita Falls, organist, and Curtis Martin of Altus, Okla., uncle of the bride.

The center of decorative interest in the nuptial space was an arched candelabrum. In flanking position were two sunburst arrangement of white gladioli, and branched candelabra in which cathedral candles burned marked the extremities of the space.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She chose a formal white satin gown styled with an Empire waist which was accented with a Chantilly lace yoke. The lace was repeated in the long tapered sleeves and around the chapel train, which was attached to the gown with a bow below the shoulders. The bridal veil cascaded from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a Dutch Colonial bouquet of yellow roses, petite carnations, stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jo Williams was maid of honor, Miss Marsha Shadle was bridesmaid, and Miss Marcia Thompson, sister of the bridegroom was junior bridesmaid. They wore formal Empire gowns of yellow sheer over taffeta trimmed with bows at the waistline. Their headpieces were fashioned of yellow tulle and they carried Dutch Colonial bouquets of white daisies.

Audrey Bushfield and George Bushfield were candlelighters, and Diana Smith was flower girl.

George Wright of Wichita Falls was best man, Terry May and Mark Thompson, brother of the groom were groomsmen.

Ushers were Duncan Spruiell and Jerry Spruiell.

The bride's parents were hosts for the wedding reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth accented with swags of yellow tulle caught up with nosegays of daisies. Garlands of greenery and daisies encircled the tiered cake and punch bowl.

Miss Leona King secured signatures of the guests for the bride's book. Reception assistants were Mmes. Herman Graham of Altus, Okla., Fred Martin of Tulsa, Okla., Louis Sefcik and David Uhren, sister of the groom.

The bride is a senior at Iowa Park High School, where she is an officer of FHA.

The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School, and was a well-known Hawk football player. He served in the U.S. Army and spent two years in Germany. He is presently employed at Thompson Tool Co.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be living in Iowa Park.

Mrs. Lavere Thompson was hostess for the rehearsal dinner Thursday evening at the Trade Winds Motel in Wichita Falls.

Shower honors Patti McLemore

Miss Patti McLemore, bride-elect of Mike Miller, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Joe Baxter. Other hostesses were Mmes. Lester Watson, Pat Kingcade, Wayne Williams and Roy Crabtree.

Decorations for the party were governed by a blue and white color scheme. The refreshment table, which was the center of interest, was laid with an embroidered outwork blue linen cloth and appointed with a floral centerpiece in the chosen colors.

Special guests were Mrs. J.W. McLemore and Mrs. Jimmy Miller, mothers of the betrothed couple. The honoree and special guests were presented with corsages.

Miss McLemore and her fiancé will exchange vows of matrimony, May 1.

Miles for Children Walk April 25 to benefit MOD

Several Iowa Park area residents are expected to join with NASA scientist-astronaut Dr. William E. Thornton, April 25 in a "Miles for Children Walk."

The project is sponsored by the Teen Action Program (TAP) of the National Foundation March of Dimes and the Teens Aid the Retarded (TARS).

The 25-mile walk is slated to begin at 8 a.m. at Shakey's Pizza Parlor at 1400 Archer City Highway in Wichita Falls.

The event is a rather unique activity and will be almost totally planned and organized by students.

Through the Miles for Children Walk, the TAPS and RARS will be able to receive donation, large and small, from numbers of individuals desiring to be helpful with this cause. The youth groups hope to demonstrate that young people care about the problems of today and can lead a constructive program to prevent and treat some of our major health problems.

All along the route will be checkpoints and rest stops, where walkers must get their "mileage sheets" stamped for certification, that they have completed all or a portion of the route. Each walker then collects whatever has been pledged for each mile he or she has walked.

Certificates of achievement signed by Dr. Thornton, selected as scientist-astronaut by NASA as a member of the sixth group of space aspirants, will be presented to those completing the 25-mile route.

Youth urges stamp gifts

Ken Griffin, who is working on his Eagle Scout award, has been interested in the current project of the Friends of the Library to collect trading stamps during the month of April to buy a new encyclopedia for the library.

His interest and desire to assist in the project inspired him to prepare boxes and place them in all stores in town that give trading stamps for the convenience of the contributors.

Up to this point, people have not been taking advantage of the boxes as he had hoped. This could be due in part to the fact that people may think that they have to contribute full books of stamps. Loose stamps and coins are equally acceptable, and Ken joins the members of the sponsoring organization in hoping that the public will participate more wholeheartedly in the project.

The stamps and money will be picked up at the stores by the librarian or a member of the Friends of the Library.

Son on duty in Thailand

U.S. Air Force 1st Lt. David M. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley M. Thompson, 711 W. Manes, is on duty at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Lt. Thompson, a communications officer, is in a unit of Air Force Communications Service which provides global communications and air traffic control for the USAF. He previously served at McClellan AFB, Calif.

A 1960 graduate of Vega High School, he received his B.S. degree in mathematics in 1967 from Texas Technological College.

Retardation meet topic

Mental Retardation was the topic of a talk given by Ed Navratil, a member of the Iowa Park Auxiliary to the Association for Retarded Children, at the Evening Lions Club meeting Tuesday.

He stated that there are six-million people in the U.S. who are either mildly, moderately or profoundly retarded. Of that number, two and one half million are under the age of 20 and two million are of working age. He stressed that the last group required a comprehensive training program to prepare them to participate in community life.

He said that there are 29 retarded children, under the tutelage of three special education teachers in the local school.

He concluded by describing briefly some of the ways that the local association is assisting the children and teachers and extended an invitation to those interested to attend the next meeting April 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Miss Nancy Lollar's classroom.

R.G. Warner was program chairman, and Dave Bridgers furnished the dinner music.

Club works on new park

Members of the Iowa Park Garden Club devoted Friday to working at the Burnett Park southwest of town, where they planted trees and bulbs.

To date, they have planted 1000 canna bulbs, 50 crape myrtles and 50 pine trees. Mrs. W.A. George and Mrs. Dick Reilly were hostesses for the regular monthly meeting before the group went to the park for the work session.

Mrs. James A. Sewell, president, brought the thought for the day, based on the book of Genesis.

Mrs. Pete Koonce was responsible for the horizontal arrangement of cabbage roses and sweetpeas.

It was announced that the installation luncheon will be held May 8 in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church. Hostesses will be Mmes. Frank Harlin, Luther Shaw and Bobby Sinclair.

Others who attended the meeting were Mmes. E.F. Soell, A.W. Bedford, Delbert Todd and Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

Club members were assisted by 12 volunteer Boy Scouts and two Scoutmasters Saturday at the city.

Scouts who worked were Dale Turner, Tony Singer, Mark Smith, Jerry Johnson, Mark and Richie Ashburn, Paul Tiggrett, Phil Johnson, Richard Hicks, Wade Reams, Ricky Kirkland and Ronnie Feltman.

Scoutmasters were Bill Griffin, Troop 37, and Fay Brott, Troop 38.

JUDY BALCH

STUDY CLUB AWARD

Judy Balch is named Outstanding Teenager

Judy Balch, daughter of L.F. Balch and the late Mrs. Balch, has been named the recipient of the 1970 Outstanding Teenager of the Year award, given by the 23 Study Club.

The award is given annually to a high school senior. The club does not nominate a student for the honor, but prepares nomination forms and distributes them to all organizations as well as individuals who desire them.

When the forms are filled in and returned to the club, they are given to three qualified out-of-town persons to judge.

Dr. Arthur F. Beyer, head of the Biology Department of Midwestern University, was the key judge this year. Serving with him were Mrs. Merle Anthony and Mrs. J.C. Porter, teachers in the Wichita Falls High School.

Judy will be the honored guest at the 23 Study Club luncheon today to conclude activities for the current year. She will be presented with a plaque by Mrs. J.W. Cantrell, a member of the club's youth committee.

This year will mark the eighth year the club has honored outstanding teenagers and Judy will be the first girl to receive the award.

Nominated by four clubs and individuals, she was described as "quite mature in her thinking with a definite goal in life". She was also lauded for having done her part to keep the family and home together and running smoothly since the death of her mother several months ago, and for her social service drive, which inspires her to give of her time and energy to help others.

Among other honors, Judy has received this year, the Good Citizen Award given by the DAR and the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award.

She has been a member of the pep squad for three years and is vice president this year. She is also a member of the mixed choir, FHA, and has belonged to Future Teachers of America.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church and the Young Woman's Auxiliary. During the summer of 1969, she participated in a mission project sponsored by the church, working in Ricardo and Riviera in South Texas.

She is a volunteer worker at Park Manor Nursing Home and plans to enter Midwestern University's School of Nursing this summer.

Her hobbies are cooking, sewing and reading.

Other nominated for the award were James Richter, Gary Frazier, Billy Hacker, Patti Brown, Jim Clapp, Deanne Carver, Kathryn Sue Rains and Marsha Faye Roberts.

Seven attend TOPS meeting

Seven members attended the Tops Trimetres meeting Wednesday morning.

Lois Robertson was named queen and the fat lady, a club emblem, went to West Texas.

Low calorie recipes were discussed to give members an incentive to try them so that they could look slim in the new spring clothes.

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

John L. Maples, minister, church of Christ, Iowa Park.

Question: Mr. Maples, what does the expression mean where it says that Jesus came to fulfill the law, not destroy it? B.G., Iowa Park.

Answer: The expression you refer to, is in Matthew 5:17, "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." Jesus was born, lived and died under the law of Moses, Galatians 4:4 Jesus fulfilled the law, just as we might fulfill all the installments on a contract. When he fulfilled it, it was finished, John 19:30. It was then done away, Hebrews 10: 9, 10. It was then nailed to the cross, Colossians 2: 14-16. Therefore, we are no longer under the old law, but under the new law of Christ, a superior law in every way.

If you would like to have a question answered please write to "Bible Questions and Answers", P. O. Box 520, Iowa Park, Texas, 76367.

Philia Club's program on Americanism

The required Americanism Day theme was observed in the Philia Study Club's program Monday evening at a meeting hosted by Mrs. Louis Sawyer.

Harold Cowley, principal of Kidwell Elementary School, was guest speaker. He presented a program on "Our National Parks-A Heritage to Cherish." The program featured a description and slides of twelve of the national parks.

Mrs. Donald F. Cook read a poem "Workshop of Freedom", by Elizabeth Ellen Evans for the meditation.

Local ladies attend meet

Mrs. Merle Anthony, head of the History Department at Wichita Falls High School, was the speaker for the annual tea honoring new members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority Sunday at the Woman's Forum in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Jerry Brumbelow and Mrs. Thomas Hoffman, pledges of Alpha Epsilon Omicron chapter, were among the honored guests. They were presented with a yellow rose, symbol of Beta Sigma Phi, by Mrs. Jack Kerr.

Mrs. Kenneth Coffman, president of Faith City BSP, announced that Rituals would be held April 25 at the YMCA, and would be followed by a banquet and dance at Maskat Temple.

Others from Alpha Epsilon Omicron chapter who attended were Mmes. George Bludnick, Richard Dunn, Sammy Henderson, Louis Sawyer, Arlen Shook, Bill Todd, Robert Riley, and Richard Decker.

Church circle holds meeting

The Lucy Birk Circle of the Women of the First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday morning at the church.

Mrs. Gale Lowrance, chairman, gave the emphasis for the month on "Christian Higher Education".

Mrs. L. Shelton was moderator for the Bible lesson, "Why Did This Happen to Me?" based on 11 Cor. 1:3-11.

The above mentioned women and Mmes. Paul Barbatoc, Cecil Holloway, C.E. Birk, Locke Lowrance and Rev. A.M. Dorsett enjoyed cover-dish luncheon at the church.

A social hour followed in the home of Mrs. Holloway.

Annual FFA event Tuesday

The annual FFA banquet will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Iowa Park High School cafeteria. Approximately 225 people, including FFA members, their parents and invited guests, are expected to be in attendance.

The guest speaker will be Tex Graham of Wichita Falls, the well-known cartoonist responsible for "Back Forty" cartoons appearing in several newspapers.

The banquet will be sponsored by Jim McClendon of McClendon's Feed & Seed Store, Bob Johnson of Johnson Grain Elevator and Wayne House, representing Texas Electric Co.

Shiny Spring Bluebirds meet

The Shiny Spring Bluebirds met in the home of Mrs. John L. Chapman Tuesday afternoon. Lisa Chamber lighted the candle, and the roll was called by Laura Bowerman and Karen Arrington.

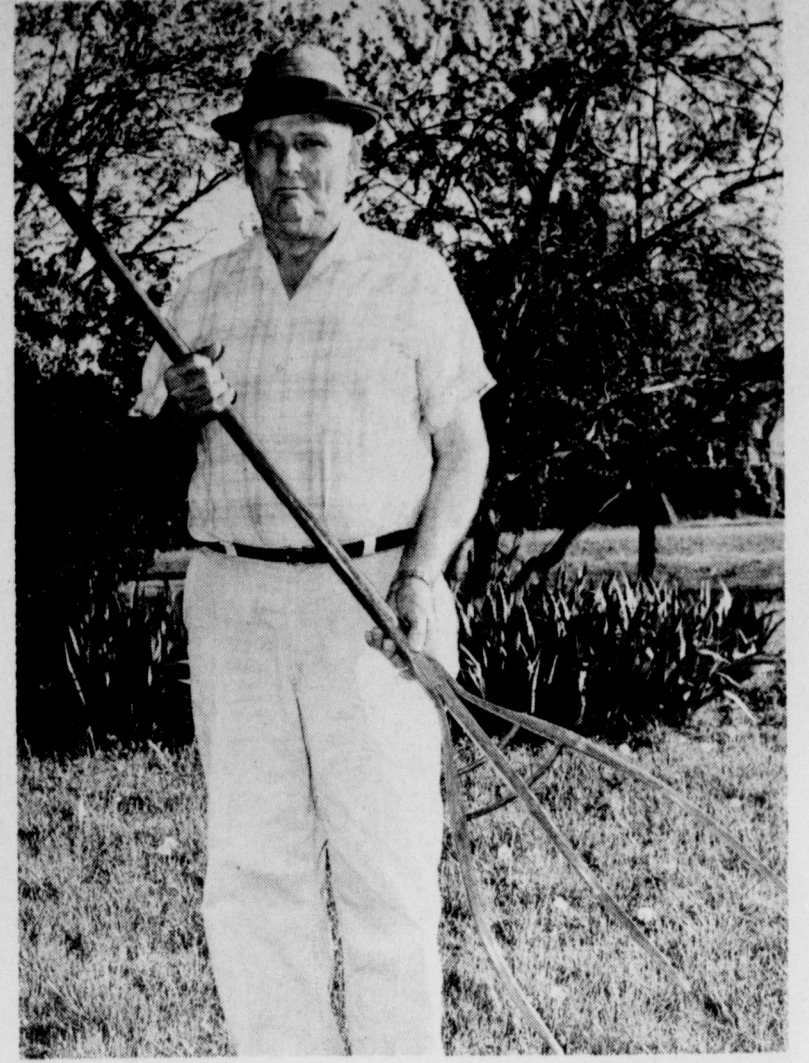

Girls answered roll call with names of places they would like to visit if they had the privilege of going anywhere they desired. Most of them had a yen to go to Hawaii. Others mentioned the center of the earth, California, Pennsylvania and heaven.

Work was started on felt and button pictures.

Other Bluebirds present were Jtoy Chapman, Christie Howden, Becky Hoyer, Hayli Hudson, Joyce McDonald, Malinda Reaves and Kay Singletary.

TREASURED ANTIQUES, Mrs. Lester Watson wears a two-piece black silk dress of yesteryear to pose for a picture with the couple's antique bedroom furniture.

INTERESTING PITCHFORK, Lester Watson holds a one-piece hickory pitchfork, which his great-grandfather brought to the U.S. from Germany.

Lester Watsons admire antiques

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Watson have the intuitive awareness of beauty and the value of an antique, whether it be a piece of furniture, tableware, kitchen accessory, farm implement or clothing. As a result of their interest, they have a number of conversation pieces in their home.

Some of their valuable antiques are heirlooms. Others have been purchased or given to them by friends.

Admirers of antique furniture would probably say that a three-piece walnut bedroom suit is the most interesting of the Watsons' antiques. The furniture is assembled with square nails which enhances interest in it. The dresser has three marble-topped sections and a long-centered mirror that rests on a marble base. On either side of the mirror, are small shelves.

The matching bed has tall head and footboards and is covered with a very old crocheted spread. The five-piece china wash set, probably used in a guest room is accented with violets and touches of gold. According to the Watsons, the set is more than 100 years old. They have another white pitcher and bowl set which is 114 years old.

To complete the yesteryear setting in the bedroom, the Watsons use an old oak rocking chair which is 100 years old. This was given to them by the late Nate Zink, who brought the chair from Kansas in the late 1880's. It had previously belonged to his parents.

Mrs. Watson has a black silk two-piece dress, still in excellent condition, which belonged to a sister of Nate Zink. She has a black bonnet and velvet purse, perfect accessories for the dress.

Some of the smaller antiques prized by the couple are a china "salt pincher", used before the days of the salt shaker by his great-grandmother's family; a 100 year old coffee grinder; a wood pounder used to pound kraut into jars; a preserve compote in vogue a century ago.

They also have a very old dough bowl, a beer stein with pewter top from Austria, which is reputed to be one of the few remaining with the design it bears, a "Perfecscope" patented in the U.S. in 1895, and numerous smaller articles.

Mr. Watson has a special yen for farm implements that were used in the early years. One of the most unique, and by far, the oldest implement he has is a hickory pitch fork, which was brought by his great-grandfather from Germany. He has a large scythe that his grandfather used in harvesting crops.

The scythe was operated by hand, and upon first glance it is hard to realize how one person could have handled it by himself. A smaller hand scythe hanging on the wall underneath the larger one, is a reminder that it was not always expedient to use the large instrument.

Other items in his collection which are hardly as old are braces and bits, sausage grinder, Model T horn and wrenches, fruit jars, etc.

Mrs. Watson works at Bradford school cafeteria, and he works at Wichita Foundry and Machine Shop. They have one daughter, Mrs. L.V. Farmer of Burleson, and a granddaughter, Jackie, 9.

Seminar offered local merchants

The latest FBI report reflects a most favorable crime index for Wichita Falls. The only significant increase in major crime was in reported thefts. Shop-lifting composes an important share of this particular offense.

In order to combat thefts from retail establishments, County Attorney, Tim Eysen and Sgt. Leroy Fox, Sgt. Don Rains and Officer Kenneth Lindsey of the Wichita Falls Police Department will conduct a shoplifting seminar for retail managers, supervisors and senior clerks at police headquarters, 610 Holliday.

A shoplifting film, a slide presentation ("Techniques of the Shoplifter"), and actual past experiences of police in shoplifting will be discussed. Pass out material will be available. Classes will begin Monday, April 27. Sessions will be twice daily, at 9:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. and will last for approximately two hours.

Merchants should call 322-5611, extension 305 and register with the training officer. These classes will be held all week long or as long as there is a demand.

Library of Congress was founded on April 24, 1800.

MRS. NORMAN MAYES

Mrs. Norman Mayes named Insurance Woman of Year

Mrs. Norman Mayes was named Insurance Woman of the Year at a luncheon meeting of the Insurance Women of Wichita Falls last Friday.

Mrs. Mayes has served the organization, which is composed of insurance women in Wichita Falls and surrounding area towns, as vice president during the current year. She has been responsible for the monthly programs and has served as membership chairman. She also assisted with the candy sale at Christmams.

For winning the honor, she was presented with a gold charm bracelet with a Texas-shaped charm inscribed with "Insurance Woman of the Year."

Mrs. Mayes is secretary for R.W. Bill Insurance Co. She is superintendent of the third grade Sunday School Department of the First Baptist Church, and secretary of the Iowa Park Lioness Club.

Her husband is manager of Lone Star Gas Co. The couple have four children, Buddy 14, David 13, Susie 10, and Sherry 7.

Local delegation attends GA meeting

Seven girls and two counselors from First Baptist Church attended the state-wide Girls Auxiliary Queens Court held on the campus of Baylor University at Waco, April 3-5. The girls who attended and gave a report on the meeting last Sunday evening during the worship service were Mary Ann Dawson, Denise White, Annette Leath, Susan Teel, Patti Pressler, Rhonda Adams and Barbara Curry. Counselors who accompanied them were Mrs. L.W. Teel, Jr. and Mrs. Preston Leath. The theme of the court where 2637 girls between the ages of 13 and 15 who had advanced in Girls Auxiliary to the rank of queen attended, was "Focus". The sessions included missionary speakers, messages from young people, autograph and picture parties. One of the most impressive sessions was on Saturday evening, when the participants donned their G.A. Queen adornments for a candlelight service. Special guests were Mrs. H.C. Hunt, president, and Miss Eula Mae Henderson, executive secretary of the Texas Woman's Missionary Union.

The Answer Is Obvious

The potentially disastrous consequences of removing import controls on foreign oil becomes more apparent everyday, as the nation's most eminent authorities on the subject make their views known. It is gratifying to read an AP dispatch that reports an indefinite postponement of a major policy decision on the oil import question. The postponement will allow time for further contemplation of the economic repercussions of changing the balance in foreign versus domestic petroleum output.

Recent remarks of one of the country's top oilmen illustrates the basic issue. He observes, "Where would we be today with out controls? A simple projection gives us some idea. If we eliminate controls now, U.S. productive capacity will stand at less than 50 per cent of total U.S. demand by 1985. If controls had not been in effect for the past 15 years, we probably would be in similar circumstances today. There probably would have been no North Slope discovery, no significant offshore development, and we would now be dependent on foreign sources for at least half of our crude oil supplies. . . . Elimination of import controls means dependence on foreign oil—and dependence on foreign oil will make this nation insecure. When the last word has been spoken, this is what we must remember."

As more information comes to light on control or no control of oil imports, consumers should ask themselves whether saving—-theoretically—a cent or two a gallon on gasoline is more important than the economic and military security of the nation. The answer is obvious.

Frazier accepts invitation to play in All-Star game

There'll be a Mean Green helmet among the many other colored helmets being used in this summer's annual Texas Schoolboy All-Star Football Classic of the gigantic Texas High School Coaches' Association clinic.

Under the helmet will be the 6-2, 215-pound frame of Iowa Park Hawk all-star Gary Frazier, who received his letter of invitation to play last week.

The clinic this year will be held Aug. 2-6, in Houston, and the All-Star Game will be played for the first time in the Astrodome.

Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Frazier, must provide his own helmet, shoes, socks, protective pads and workout pants for the clinic game. His game uniform will be furnished, as well as his room, meals and traveling expenses.

The form letter issued to all players contained a paragraph of requirements they must meet when reporting for workouts. It stated:

"I also understand that on and off the field I will be under the supervision of the association and that any infringement of the training rules or disciplinary matters, I will be dismissed from the squad. I agree to be clean shaven, have a short, neat hair cut, be neatly dressed and abide by the decisions made by the All-Star coaches, selection chairman, and officers of the association."

Participants in all All-Star games of the clinic must agree not to participate or take part in any activity or workout sessions of any other All-Star game or workout practice sessions of any All-Star game in football, basketball, baseball or soccer, prior to the dates of the Houston Coaching School.

That Mean Green helmet Gary will be wearing, will soon after, be exchanged with one of white and burnt orange, the colors of the University of Texas at Austin. He recently signed a full scholarship with the Longhorns.

The scholarship was not much of a surprise to Hawk fans, who have been watching the oldest of seven Frazier children start for coach Tommy Watkins three seasons.

As a sophomore, he started as offensive tackle and defensive end. The next year he was an offensive end, for which

LETTERS to the EDITOR

The Iowa Park Leader
Iowa Park, Texas

Gentlemen:

I have been receiving and enjoying your newspaper for some time now, and I want to tell you that I have thoroughly enjoyed the weekly opportunity to keep up with the news in my hometown.

Now I have a minor problem which I would appreciate your assistance in clearing up. My husband and I have recently moved and I have had difficulty in getting my mail, including your paper forwarded to me at my new address. I would be very grateful if you would alter my address on your mailing list so that I could receive my paper each week.

The new address is:

he was named all-district and honorable mention all-state, and defensive linebacker. Then, with last year's state championship team, he was named all-district and all-state defensive end, and also played offensive tackle, as well as handling the punting and kicking-off chores. During those five years he was a starter, the Hawks earned a 34-5-1 record.

Frazier received scholarship offers not only from Texas, but all Southwest Conference schools, Kansas U., Oklahoma U., New Mexico U., Hawaii U., and dozens of smaller institutions.

He is eighth-ranked scholastically in his graduating class, holding a 93 average in his studies over the four-year period.

As I See It .....

By BOB HAMILTON, Publisher

The longer I'm in Iowa Park, the more I'm learning about the community and its people.

I've found that, for instance, several have left here in the past and made names for themselves, in a wide variety of fields. But I got word the other day that tells me we've got several residents who have famous relatives.

One of them is Bill Steger's mother, Mrs. Roy Steger of Oklahoma City. Her family name was Robertson, and it was her great grandfather who was one of the founders of Nashville, Tenn. You know how famous that town has become... that call it the "Hollywood of the recording industry".

Oh, yeah, also film star Dale Robertson is a distant cousin.

About the closest thing I know of to having a famous relative is my grandfather. He had the honor of drawing a dipper of water for W. Lee "Pappy" O'Daniel, when the former governor stopped at his farm near Bowie while campaigning back in the 1930's.

Remember the nursery rhyme about "the woman who lived in a shoe, had so many children she didn't know what to do?" Her problem was space.

That's the situation of our city hall now. It's needing more room for the police department, corporation court and library.

I sat (or rather stood) through corporation court session a week ago, and you wouldn't believe the crowded conditions. On one case, in which there were several witnesses, on man even had to stand in the restroom with the door open.

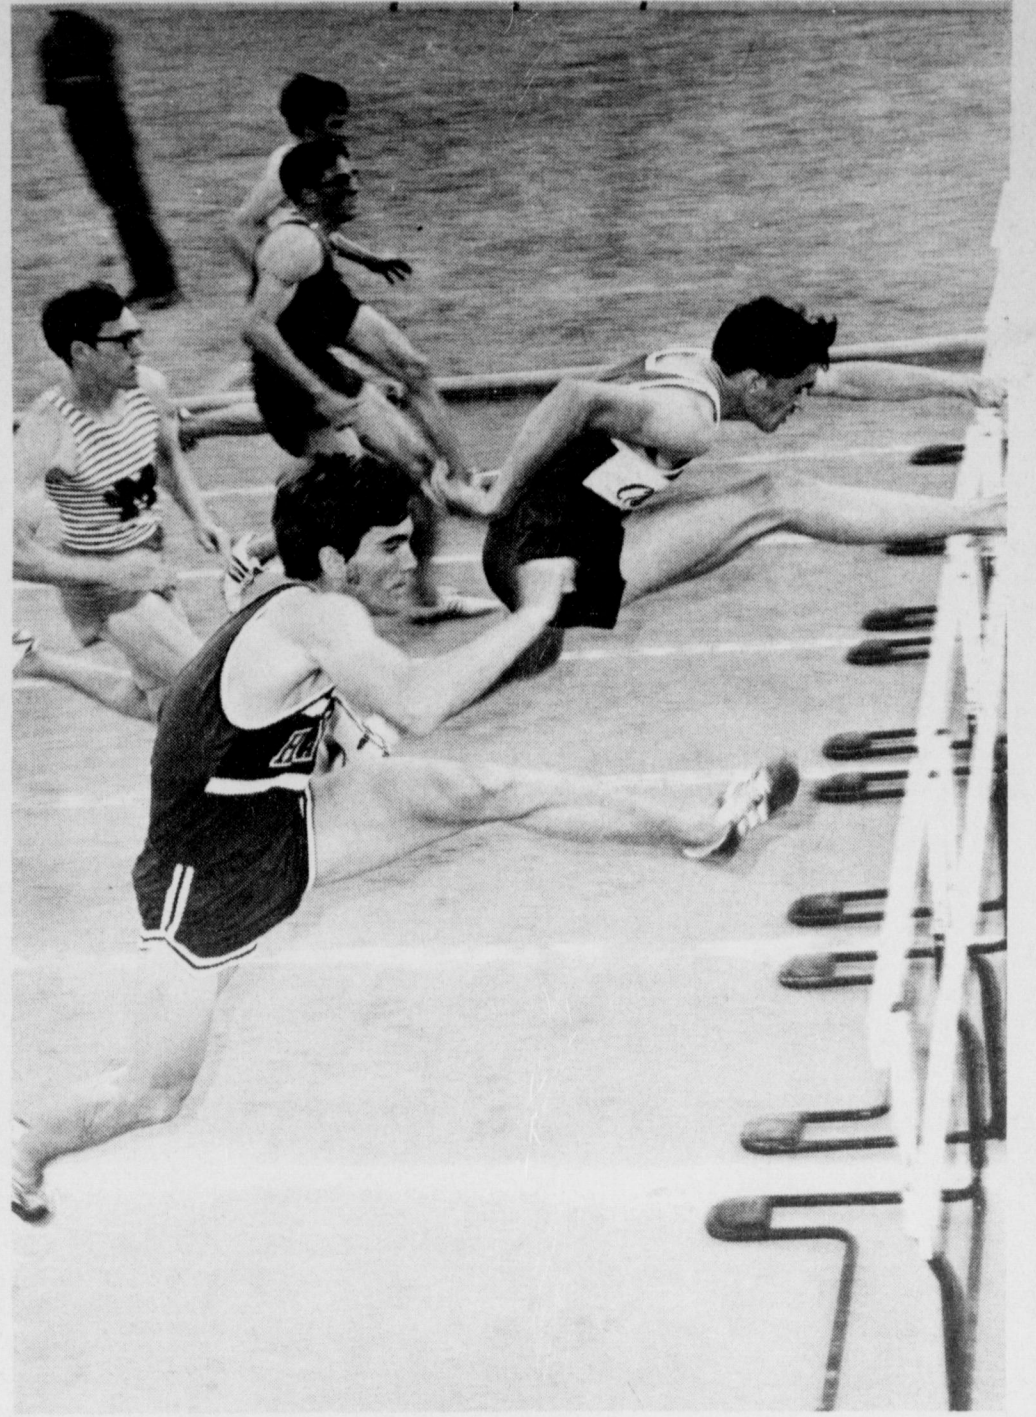

You see, the police station, which barely holds three desks, some filing cabinets, is also used as the city court room. And while Judge Titus Mitchell is attempting to hold a regular Thursday morning session, the police dispatcher must also continue his work with the radio, which adds to the confusion of crowdedness.

Others, waiting for their turn in court, had to wait in the city office during the case that drew the crowd I mentioned.

That restroom I mentioned not only has to serve the needs of the police department, but their prisoners and all workers in the city office as well.

The other crowded department is the city library. It is growing, thank goodness, into a well-stocked facility. But that growth has not only filled its initial room but is overflowing into the Chamber of Commerce office until one complete wall and 80 percent of all storage space is consumed by library.

The city can continue to operate under these crowded conditions. But who wants it to?

HAWK HURDLER Billy Gilmore, nearest camera, goes over the high hurdles half a step behind Verlin McKeever of Childress. Though this picture was taken during preliminaries, that's just the way they finished in the finals.

WARNER SINKS HOLE IN ONE

Dr. Rudy Warner sank his third hole-in-one Saturday, while playing the Electra golf course.

"The only problem," he commented later, "was that I had to wait 31 years for this one."

Dr. Warner got the ace on the par three, 148 yard ninth green, while playing with Larry Alexander of Electra. His official card was signed both by Alexander and course pro E.L. Clark.

His other two spectaculars were shot in 1935 and 1939, both at Quanah, where he lived some 30 years prior to moving here.

The Iowa Park chiropractor had rounds of 41 and 40 for the day, giving him an 81. . . not bad for a man who will celebrate his 79th birthday in August.

Stadium work well underway

Football fans who have indicated they wanted to donate labor on construction of the new stadium are asked to report to Frank Rauschuber, according to Booster Club president Hoyt Watson.

Footings for the north and south retaining walls have been poured, and forms for pouring retainers walls are almost complete.

Watson said they have some 25 miles of structural steel ready to be used in the construction, as well as most of the concrete drain pipe.

"We can use the workers at any time," Watson said. "Those who work regular hours on their jobs can even work out here from the time they get off until dark, if they want."

The stadium, which is valued at $129,000, is being constructed entirely by donations of money, equipment and labor, and reduced costs of supplies.

MILE RELAY--Aron Anderson opened a large lead for Holliday in the mile relay, but to no avail as Munday's Tolliver outlasted the Eagles anchorman Yogi Gore to win. Anderson was tied with Tolliver with 31 points for the district meet's high point man.

Five Eagles on way to regional meet

The 1970 Holliday Eagles claimed second place honors in the 11-A District High School and Junior High Track & Field Meet at Holliday Saturday.

Two district records were broken and one tied as Munday took the championship with a 124-point total in varsity competition. Nocona's Indians claimed the junior high crown with 156 points.

Five Holliday tracksters qualified to enter regional championships to be held at Denton April 25, by winning either first or second places.

Aron Anderson equaled the district high jump record, when he cleared 6-3 to win first place. The 5-10 sophomore also took second in the broad jump with a 22-3/8 leap.

This broke the old record 21-9, held by Gilbreath of Iowa Park, but Munday's Tolliver won the event and established a new mark at 22-3/4. Anderson was also on the mile-relay squad, which qualified for regional by finishing second (3:35.7).

In the pole vault event, which Shields of Nocona broke the old record (11-0) with an 11-6 performance, Anderson took third place.

Senior Yogi Gore cleared 6-0 for runner-up honors in the high jump event and he was a member of the mile-relay team. Gore also finished third in the 880, with a 2:09.7.

Holliday's big 6-foot 205 pound Jimmy Holmes, claimed two medals and a trip to region with runner-up honors in both the shotput and discus events. Holmes, a senior, collected a 42-9 3/4 in the shotput competition, then threw the discus 133-5 1/2, to earn medals.

Other Eagles who qualified for regional competition were Coy Sanders and Rickey Allgood, who were members of the mile-relay team which placed second. Mike King will go as an alternate on the relay team.

Sanders, a 6-1 junior, took fifth in the broad jump with a 20-3 1/2 leap. With 53.3 timing in the 440, Allgood finished third.

King captured fourth in the intermediate hurdles, clocking 42.6. Also, the 5-8 junior claimed sixth place in the high hurdles.

The junior Eagles claimed second place out of the nine teams participating.

Stan Mason captured first in the high jump event clearing 5-7. Mason also took fourth place with the shotput and fourth in the 100-yd. dash.

Scott Slack claimed second in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 8 feet. Donal Ross was third in shotput and placed fourth in discus competition. Ross also captured third place in the broad jump.

Gerald Hicks did 22 pull-ups for second place honors in that event. Hicks was also sixth in the intermediate hurdles. Taking fourth place in the broad jump and fifth in the 50-yard dash, was Bryon Redden.

John Kocks was another Eagle pointgetter with a third place finish in the 440.

Holliday Happenings

In Holliday's 4-H cooking group I meeting, April 3, in the home of junior leader Karla Henke, those attending made peanutbutter bars and lemonade.

Taking part were Tracy Anderson, Paula Beighley, Pamela Cullers, Stan Floster, Vicki Flowers, Sherrie Hitchcock, Kathy Henke, Jessie Johns, Cami Potter, Kelly Rowell and Karla Henke.

The group met again April 7, in the Henke home. This time, Brownies were made. Present were Pam Cullers, Cami Potter, Paula Beighley, Vicki Flowers, Sherrie Hitchcock, Kathy Henke, Bridget Talley, Jessie Johns, Stan Foster, and junior leader Karla Henke.

The first meeting of Group II and III was held recently in the Henke home. Karla and Karen Henke, members of group III and II respectively, prepared Italian Lasagna. Then followed the theme of the food show, "Foreign Foods."

PRESIDENT APPRECIATES DEDICATION

Skit continues performances

A skit performed by five Holliday FHA girls seems to be quite popular and in demand. The skit, entitled "FHA for USA", was written to be entered in competition at the FHA Area Four meeting in the first week of March.

Since that time, the girls have performed the skit before almost 2,000 people, according to Mrs. Helen Parsons, Holliday FHA advisor. "This does not include the number of people who saw the girls when they appeared on Channel Six's "Donna's Notebook", Mrs. Parsons said.

The girls, including Debbie Stone, Patty Haggerty, Andrea Lee, Mona Szenasl and Vicki Ross, were scheduled to have a busy week. They were to appear before the Kamaay Community Club, the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, the North Texas Expo, the Area School Masters' Banquet, and the State Hospital.

The skit has three more appearances scheduled next month: May 14--Cunningham Elementary School; May 20--Soropomist Club (Marchman Hotel); May 23--Archer County Cancer Association (Archer City).

Mrs. T.H. Stone, mother of Debbie, wanted to let someone know that "there was still patriotism among today's youth". So she wrote a letter to someone who she thought might really care--The President of the United States.

She received an answer to her letter from The White House written by James Keogh, who is a special assistant to the President.

April 7, 1970

"Dear Mrs. Stone:

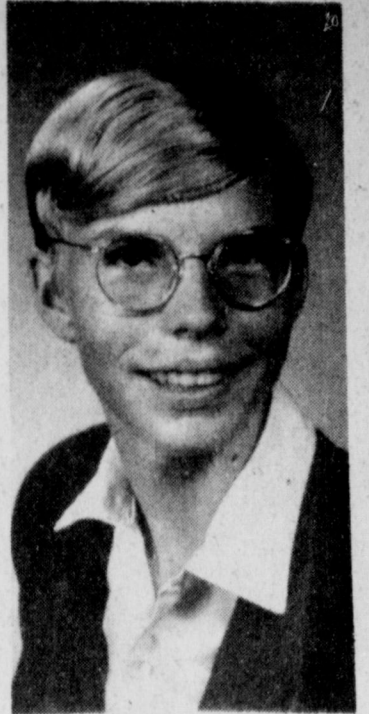

"Thank you for your letter to President Nixon telling him about the five teenagers of Holliday, Texas, all members of the Future Homemakers of America, and their patriotic program.

"The President always enjoys hearing about our nation's youth, and he hopes you will convey his warm greetings to these young citizens. He is proud indeed when young people actively participate in worthy endeavors and make positive contributions to the community and our country.

"With the President's appreciation for your thought in writing, and with his best wishes to you and the dedicated young ladies,

Sincerely,
James Keogh
Special Assistant to the President"

ALLSTAR CAST--Jimmy Henson was chosen to the 11-A Dist. All-Star cast in competition at Crowell last week. Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Henson.

AT COUNCIL MEETING

Daume sworn in as mayor

Fred Daume, Jr. was officially sworn in as Mayor of Holliday at a specially-called city council meeting Monday night.

The 47-year-old farmer and cattleman served on the city council for seven out of the past ten years.

Daume, a 1942 graduate of Holliday, has been a resident of the city most of his life. He lived at Bacon Switch from 1947 to 1959.

After graduating from Holliday, he served three years in the Air Force as an aircraft mechanic.

Presiding over his first meeting, Mayor Daume stressed the importance of doing everything possible to improve the city. "Everyone knows the condition of our streets, and we're far behind in making street improvements," he said.

He stated that he would be available every Monday and Thursday mornings from 8 to 9 to hear complaints or suggestions from citizens.

Mayor Daume's hobbies include watching football games and automotive racing. He was a member of the Eagles "chain gang" at home football games for six years.

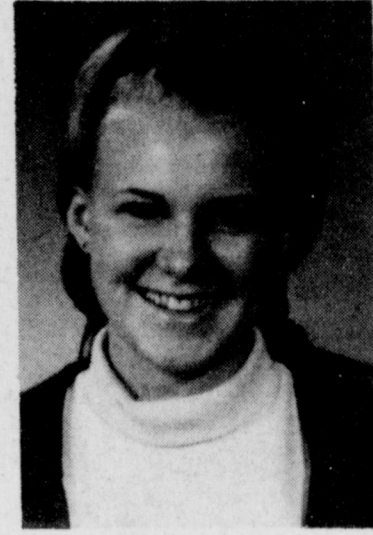

Fred and his wife, Willie Jo, reside at 333 S. Walnut with their daughters Nancy (15) and Linda Gail (3). The Daumes have a son Freddie Lee (19), who is a freshman at Texas A & M.

FRED DAUME JR.

Speech students go to regional

Two Holliday student speakers have qualified to participate in the regional literary events in Denton, April 24.

Gayle Levell won first place in the girl's poetry division in district competition Friday at Archer City. Buzz Miller was another Holliday student to qualify for region with a first place win in the prose.

Second place winners were Jim Henson, poetry; Johnny Debler, informative; and Penny Levell, persuasive speaking.

Sylvia Burnam took third in the prose competition. Holliday speech students were under the direction of Mrs. Erma Barton.

Warriors excel in meet

Valley View's field and track squad made a strong showing in the District 17-B championships in Wichita Falls last week.

Lon Fulfer not only claimed first place in the discus, but set a district record with his 138-1/2 toss. This surpassed the old mark nearly 10 feet.

Billy Morgan, another Warrior, captured a first place medal in the Pole Vault event. Morgan cleared 10-3 with the fewest number of misses.

Morgan also claimed points in the discus with a 118-9 1/4 throw, which was good for fourth place.

In the high jump event, Warrior Mike Caroland took third, clearing the bar at 5-8. Fulfer added more points to the team total with a third place finish in the shot put event (44-2).

Valley View's 440-yard relay team took fifth with a 48.3 timing. The Warrior's mile relay squad finished fifth with a 3:59.6 timing.

Lockett's Panthers took their fourth consecutive district title.

Cancer drive started here

The Archer County Crusade against cancer is off to a good start this week in Holliday, with Mrs. Dan H. Marshall as the community's chairman. The annual event, conducted by the American Cancer Society, began Tuesday.

Assisting Mrs. Marshall in the house-to-house canvass are: Mmes. Weldon Gibson, Troy Lindsay, Bobby Schmidt, I.A. Smith, H.A. Brackeen, Woody Copeland, Paul King, Brown Rowell, Ola May Stone, George Atchley, W.R. Coats, Rayford Sadberry, Buddy Wilmut, Orval King, T.R. Clemens, Bill R. Chambers and A.J. Inman.

Jimmy P. Hornay is president of the Archer County unit and Mrs. Irene Stanford is County Crusade chairman. The 1970 goal for the Crusade is $2125, ten per cent above last year's achievement.

In 1969, the Archer County volunteers were cited at the state meeting of the Texas Division, ACS, for being one of the outstanding units of District Thirteen.

Longest word ever to appear in literature occurs in Aristophanes', The Ecclesiazusae, and contains 170 Greek letters.

OBITUARIES

Danny Joe Prez

Graveside rites for Danny Joe Prez, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Prez of Wichita Falls, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Ketchum of Iowa Park, were Tuesday morning at Crestview Memorial Park.

Rev. W.F. Williams, pastor of the Iowa Park Church of God, officiated.

Other survivors include a brother, David, and a sister, Eliza, both of Wichita Falls, and the paternal grandfather, Joseph A. Prez of Lawton, Okla.

M.V. Scobee

M.V. Scobee, 82, father of Otis Scobee of Iowa Park, died Friday night in an Olney hospital.

A resident of Young County 72 years, he was born April 3, 1888 in Wise County, he was married at Newcastle in 1912 to Myrtle Holder.

Funeral services were Sunday afternoon in the Hamilton Street Church of Christ in Olney, with DeWayne Simon, minister, officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. Lester Davenport, pastor of the First United Methodist Church.

Burial was in the True, Texas, Cemetery under direction of Lunn Funeral Home of Olney.

Other survivors include his wife; four sons, Raymond of Valley View, Glenn and Billy of Olney, and Frank of Burkburnett; two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Clifton of Newcastle and Mrs. Vergie Clifton of Olney; 18 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Virgil Robnett

Services for Virgil Robnett, 77, father of David Robnett of Iowa Park, was Monday afternoon in the Eastside Church of Christ at Duncan, Okla.

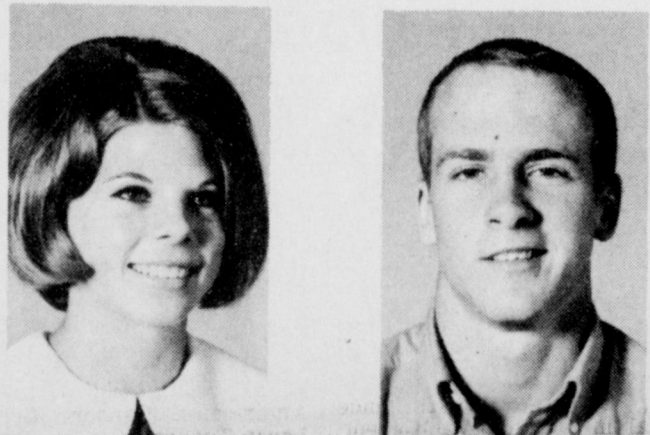

Officiating was Joe Laird, minister, assisted by Wayne Monroe, associate minister. Robnett, who died Saturday in a Duncan hospital, was born Feb. 25, 1893, in Ellis County, Tex. He married Texie English May 20, 1916, in Ryan, Okla. He was a retired butcher.

In addition to the son here, he is survived

Singing group entertains Lions

A girls sextet from Iowa Park High School choral department provided the entertainment for Tuesday's meeting of the Noon Lions Club.

Composed of Janet Fox, Cindy Hill, Beverly Klinkerman, Jodi Guthrie, Sandra Skinner and Cindy Schroeder, the group was accompanied on the piano by Debbie Schwenneker.

TEENAGERS HONORED—Deanne Carver and Jim Clapp, Iowa Park seniors, have received certificates of accomplishment, entitling them for consideration in the Texas Outstanding Teenager of the Year competition. Each 50 state winners will compete for one of two National Outstanding Teenagers of America titles and scholarships. Deanne is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Carver and Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clapp Jr. The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a non-profit organization, sponsors the contest annually.

Kathy Davis gives program

Kathy Davis gave a demonstration of money management for a meeting of the 4-H Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Tex. Lehman.

It was announced that the vegetable show would be held June 20. A report on the recognition certain members had received recently was given.

Four members and two guests attended the meeting.

Take guns along

During the past several months, a bit of misinformation about the Gun Control Act of 1968 has been widely publicized and has upset a number of gun owners. The gist of these stories is that a private citizen, permanently moving his place of residence to another state, cannot take his sporting guns with him.

"This simply is not true," stated Bill L. Gaunt, Southwest assistant regional commissioner for Internal Revenue's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, the federal agency responsible for enforcing the gun law.

Gaunt stated that "unless prohibited by state or local law, the vast majority of citizens moving from one state to another can simply put their personal sporting guns in their personal cars and take them to their new homes." They need not notify anyone or receive permission from any government agency.

Although most people can freely move their sporting firearms to a new home in another state, the Gun Control Act absolutely prohibits four categories of persons from moving any type of firearm across a state line for any reason.

These are (1) anyone who is under indictment for, or who has been convicted in any court of, a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year; (2) anyone who is a fugitive from justice; (3) anyone who is an unlawful user of or addicted to narcotics; and (4) anyone who has been adjudged a mental defective or who has been committed to a mental institution.

Gaunt explained that people who lawfully take drugs on their doctor's orders do not come under this part of the Act nor do persons who were committed to a mental institution for observation but were not adjudged mentally defective.

Some of the confusion may have been caused by a part of the law which regulates the interstate movement of firearms by common carriers such as airlines, bus lines, and the like. The Act requires that anyone taking a firearm aboard such a carrier shall turn the firearm over to the person in charge while under way. The law also requires that anyone shipping a firearm via common carrier shall notify the carrier that the package contains firearms or ammunition.

"This part of the Act concerns guns taken or sent by common carrier," Gaunt stated, "and in no way affects a person moving his personal sporting weapons to his new home unless he ships the guns by common carrier."

HAWKS

meet. His took place during the broad jump competition, in which he placed fourth. His place on the sprint relay team was taken by Pyle.

Gilmore had also qualified in the intermediate hurdles, as had Hacker, and they came in first and fifth, respectively. Gilmore was second in the highs.

Iowa Park swept the top three places in the pole vault, with Ancell first, Brock second and Steve Webb third. This was the first time Brock had ever beaten Webb, and the fine sophomore is left out of regional competition all together.

Ancell won the high event with a 12-6 clearance, but is well below the 13-foot mark he was clearing as a freshman and sophomore. He appears to be having trouble with heavier poles he needs to clear that height.

In taking second place in the high jump, Ancell sailed the highest with his "Fosbury Flop" he's ever gone, 6-2. He had cleared six feet only once this year, and that was at Amarillo.

With Williams out of the intermediates now, Hawk coaches feel the sprint relay team has the best chance of going to the state meet, unless Ancell can overcome his problem with the pole.

J. Earle Kuntz

J. Earle Kuntz, 68, a well known lawyer in Wichita Falls, and a former resident of Iowa Park, died in a Wichita Falls hospital Tuesday night.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Kuntz, he was born May 7, 1901, at Euless, Texas and moved to Iowa Park with his parents at an early age.

He was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1919. He attended Oklahoma A & M, University of Oklahoma and the University of Texas. He was admitted to the bar in 1924.

He was married to Vera B. Simmons, May 2, 1925.

Early in his law career, he was an assistant Wichita County attorney under E.L. Fulton and Wayne Somerville. He served a few months as assistant district attorney under the late James V. Allred, but most of his career was spent as defense counsel.

A veteran of 14 months with the Civil Air Patrol in 1942-43, Kuntz flew anti-submarine patrol in the wartime Army Air Forces auxiliary.

He later joined the army and served for 43 months in the Pacific, including 20 months of sea duty aboard an Army tugboat. He also served as staff judge advocate for a time.

Kuntz was past commander of Wichita Falls Chapter 21, Disabled American Veterans, past commander of AMVETS of Texas and former Wichita County Democratic chairman.

He was a member of Iowa Park Lodge 713, AF & AM, Masket Temple and Wichita County and Texas Bar associations.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. John Crandall of Santa Ana, Calif, and Mrs. Charles E. Skelton of Burkburnett; one sister, Mrs. J.C. Ralston of Iowa Park; six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be today at 3:30 p.m. from Owens-Brumley Funeral Home Chapel in Wichita Falls. Dr. William E. Wright, pastor of the First Christian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Crestview Memorial Park.

Returns home

Mrs. Locke Lowrance returned Saturday from Tennessee and Mississippi, where she had visited her daughters and families for two months. At Memphis, Tenn., she visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Leggett and family and at Yazoo City, Miss., she visited Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Cooksey and family.

Returns to UT

Jerry McDonald returned to Austin Monday after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud McDonald during the Easter holidays. Jerry is enrolled in the University of Texas, working toward his PH.D. after teaching English at Midwestern University last semester. He is a 1965 graduate of Iowa Park High School, and received his BA Degree in English from Midwestern University in 1969. He is employed as administrative assistant to the Financial Aid at the University of Texas.

One injured in accident

Mrs. Edith Paris, 510 N. Wall, was undergoing treatment at Park Clinic at press time yesterday afternoon following a two-car accident at Colorado and Magnolia.

Mrs. Paris was driving South on Colorado when the left side of her car was struck in the door by a car driven by Jules DeLaune of Wichita Falls, who was driving West on Magnolia.

DeLaune was not injured, but his passenger, Jack Shults of 108 Hope, received a minor laceration on his forehead.

Mrs. Paris was not believed to be seriously injured, as witnesses on the scene said she stood on her feet after being helped from the wreckage. She was taken to the Clinic by Sgt. Don Reed of the Police Department.

Chief Raymond Dixon investigated the accident.

Iowa Park's only professional FTD florist is Iowa Park Florists, 114 W. Park.
