Business For Ladies.

The opportunities for ladies to find emloyment that is both suitable and remunerative are limited; their pay is usually poor as compared with the salaries said to men in same line of occupation. But there are some very noted exceptious journalism, the drama, music and plat-form offer equal advantages to men and women, and one occupation in which comen are sometimes more successful than men, and that is in the management of agencies. In this line The Queen City Suspender Company, of Cincinnati, O. are offering inducements to ladies that we think ought to attract attention. They are now manufacturing and introducing their new Stocking Supporters for Ladies and Children, and their unequalled Skirt Suspenders for Ladies. None should be without them, our leading physicians recommend them, and are loud in their praise. These goods are manufactured by ladies who have made the wants of ladies and children a study, and they ask us to refer them to some re liable and energetic lady to introduce household would meet with a ready response, and that a determined woman send to the Company her name and ad-Ohio. 308-321.

A clear illustration of this was last week shown in a Longview, Texas, court. John W. Duncan, one of the attorneys in the case, argued that no value or reliance could be placed upon petitions promiscuously signed by citizens of any place. The opposing counsel characterized Duncan's argument absurd and idiotic. The court and the jury were also against Duncan. He went quietly to work to prove that petitions were of no value. The next morning in open court, he read a solemn petition praying that the Court would hang their townsman, Luke Howard, who is one of the most respectable and enterprising citizens of the place. Duncan displayed the names of all the county officers and of fifty business men signed to the ludicrous petition. Among the signers were the father, fatherin-law and brother-in-law of Mr. Howard.

MINING MATTERS.

THE C. H. C.

The C. H. C. is sending down 15 to 18 tons of ore daily and anglesite-sulphate of lead is-being extensively mined.

THE PRINCETON. About 12 tons of ore are daily being sent down from the Princeton-one-half of which is iron ore, used chiefly by the Pasadena as a flux. THE HONDURAS.

D. F. Taylor and Clint Dutcher have resumed work on the Honduras, and be lieve that they will be enabled to commence shipping ore with a very little development.

LEASES EXTENDED.

Newman group only extended over a period of three months and were about to expire. While Mr. Newman was here this week the leases on the Swansea, New man, Chestnut and others were renewed so as to run to Jan. 1, 1886.

CASCADE BASIN.

Cascade Basin is a district which has produced specimens of rich ore and owners of properties up there have reason to expect good returns. The Belcher, Silver Grey and others have done something to bring the region into prominence. Steve James and J. B. Menard went up there Monday to work or some of these properties.

Trout Lake have executed a lease on the third level to Milt Evans and Billy feet, for which development they will be entitled to 40 feet of stoping ground, paying a royalty on all ore extracted. The owners have a force of about five men at work and are shipping their ore

THE PASADENA SMELTER.

The Pasadena smelter is receiving about 40 tons of ore every day-a considerable quantity of which comes via the coke ovens from Trout Lake and the Mialready turned out are in the neighborhood of 60, and Manager Watkins says it is his hope and intention to make number 100 before the close of 1885. One thousand tons of bullion will make an excellent showing for this district.

THE STEPHENS.

W. B. Whiteside and Theo Barlow are at work on the Stephens and are having a great deal of trouble from water. vein was cut a month ago, but the large body of water which was tapped simultaneously with the vein prevented its being tested thoroughly. They are now driving from a point some distance back in the tunnel to tap the vein further in the mountain and above a mammoth spring, which they are satisfied is the source of their present annoyance.

THE GOLDEN AGE.

The Golden Age on Dolores mountain has again uncovered some very fine mineral, and if it holds out as well as tests which were made this week, or anything near it, it will prove a bonanza of magnificent proportions. In the vein is a 10 inch streak of quartz, which has heretofore been passed by unnoticed, but free gold was accidentally discovered in it a day or so ago. This has not yet been thoroughly tested. Tests on other ore, however, give the owners every reason to feel happy, but they do not care to put on too much pressure until certain of the value of their property, as they have been misled before. To show what foundation there is for their hopes, we repro duce figures from certificates of assay:

108 ounces per ton.

No. 2.-203 ounces silver per ton. No. 3 .- 740 ounces silver per ton, gold two tenths of an ounce per ton. This is a very heavy lead ore, and runs, by a peculiar coincidence, just about the same as the high grade ore from the Newman

A Washington dispatch says: - The report of General Miles upon the condition of the Southern Utes, in Colorado, was received at the interior department this merning and the commissioner of Indian affairs immediately instructed the agent to secure supplies for the Indians. The bureau officers say that the trouble was caused by deficient appropriatons for the purchase of food supplies. The department has endeavored to distribute the amount of appropriations throughout the fiscal year, but to avert starvation among the Indians it has been found necessary to expend more than the limited amount set apart for each quarter and to rely upon congress to make good the deficiency. In the case of the Southern Utes there is an interest fund that can be used for the purpose of food when the regular appropriation is exhausted. Supplies amounting to 10,000 pounds of beef and 3.000 pounds of flour will be issued weekly to these Indians.

THE PRESENT GAME LAW.

FOLLOWING will be found the game law entire as it stands now. It is published in compliance with the general demand to know what it is since the last general assembly made such radical changes. As will be observed the season for large game is cut down a month and a half, and off the popular end, too. Instead of beginning hunting the first of September as has been the case heretofore, hunters and sportsmen will have to wait until October 15 this year. The changes are general, and those who hunt

Tribune-Republican All the mining sections of southwestern Colorado have for years been spoken of as the San Juan country. It embraces the counties of Hinsdale, Ouray, San Juan, San Miguel, Dolores and La Plata. This great section had long been inaccessible, but the completion of the Denver and Rio Grande to Durango and thence to Silverton was the first great step towards bringing the San Juan country to the attention of capitalists. This was soon manifest in the erection of reduction works at Durango and Rico, and the establishment of samplers and ore markets at these points and Silverton. Another most important aid to the development of the country is to be seen in numerous and magnificent roads. It is no discredit to other parts of the state to say that, in the opinion of many of our best mining experts, the San Juan country in native wealth is the peer of any equal area known.

In bulk of both high and low grade ores this section is unsurpassed. In silver, gold and lead its possibilities are immense and its isolated position warrants the belief that large. reduction works can be profitably carried on in that country. The Pasadena works at Rico have already shipped out fifty car-loads of bullion, thus demonstrating the feasibility of smelting near the source of supply. Rico has all the requirements necessary for economical smelting and can thus compete with Pueblo and Denver. With capital in the hands of experienced men a large quantity of San Juan ore is liable to come out in ensuing years in the shape of base bullion. Capitalists will be forced to acknowledge that Southwestern Colorado is now not a whit behind Northern Colorado as a promising field for investment, and with equal chances for permanency.

Ir seems a trifle strange that there has been so much gush and so little actual progress in raising a fund for a monument to the lamented Grant. A Denver paper says: "For nearly four weeks four of the leading papers of New York have been steadily soliciting subscriptions for the Grant monument fund and their total collections amount to less than $1,400. When it is, known that the proposed menument is estimated to cost $500-000 it will be seen that there is no hope of raising a sufficient Grant monument fund by popular subscription. We are not surprised at this result. Indeed we foretold it when the project was first undertaken. Somehow, although we may be a sentimental people, our sentimentalism does not take kindly to costly public monuments. This has been proved in the case of Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and Garfield. If Grant is to have a monument worthy of his public services it must be built by Congressional appropriation."

SHE WANTED CHANGE.—The conductor on a southwest Georgia railroad was rolling along at a good rate about half way between stations. Suddenly the engineer blew "down brakes," and as the train slowed up the conductor saw an old lady who lived in the village, waving a handkerchief. The conductor advanced to meet her to thank her for heroic presence of mind in saving his train when she drew out a dilapidated bill and said: "I want $2 in change; hev ye any dimes and nickles?" The change that came over that conductor's countenance would have broken up a $7,000 Government bond.

THE cowmen in Montana do up the depredating Indians in elegant style and their example and methods are respectfully referred to the cowpunchers of southwestern Colorado. A letter from an old Rico boy sends us the information that Ed Goulding and two other cattlemen met twenty marauding Piegans on the Musselshell between Half-breed and Razor creeks. The Indians had 75 stolen horses and the three whites fired on them, killing one. They were compelled to go for reinforcements and then killed the entire outfit, as well as recovering all the stolen stock.

A THRIFTY Southern saleon-keeper recently advertised as follows: "As I have experienced a change of heart through the blessed efforts of Sister B. and Brother S., I desire to state Ne Plus Ultra!!! to my numerous friends and patrons that at the end of the current month I shall retire from the accursed liquor traffic forever. Until that time my stock will be offered at greatly reduced rates. Come one, come all!"
