Greyhounds Fry Follett Panthers 14-12

The Greyhounds had their hands full with an excellent Follett Team at Follett Friday night, finally defeating the scrappy Panthers 14-12.

Tim Stedje fired a 59-yard desperation pass to Steven Fry for a touchdown with only 15 seconds to play to give the Hounds a 14-12 win over Follett in an important District 1-A high school football game.

Gruver is 3-1 in league play, 4-2 overall.

The Greyhounds trailed 12-7 and faced a fourth and 10 situation from their own 42 yard line, when Fry fried the Panthers with his scintillating touchdown catch.

Stedje finished the night completing 15 of 32 passes for 245 yards.

Gruver scored first in the opening period on an 11 yard yard by Lloyd Cator. Trevor Williams kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

The Panthers rallied in the second quarter, scoring on a 5-yard pass play from Jergenson to James Hendricks. The run for the two point conversion failed and Gruver led 7-6 at the half.

Follett took the lead in the third stanza, when Brent Boone scored on a 50 yd. gallop. Once again, however, the run for the two point conversion failed, as the Greyhound line was superb on defense.

The air-minded Hounds raced through the air for an excellent game. Fry caught three passes for 92 yards, and Mark Gilbreath had five catches for near 100 yards.

Kip Pittman may be recruited by the pro's as he had a record night, averaging nearly 46 yards per kick on four punts. Wow!

It's back to the drawing board for the Hounds this week, when they travel to Groom to play the Tigers. The game will be another important conference game at 7:30 p. m.

The Junior Varsity will travel to White Deer for a 6 p. m. game Thursday. The 7th and 8th grade Greyhounds will host Follett here at 6:00 p. m. Thursday.

Operation prescribed for statue

By Mike Halley
American-Business Staff

The state architect cautioned Wednesday that the goddess of liberty atop the Capitol needs surgery soon or she could lose the arm she uses to hold her star aloft.

The statue, which will be rehabilitated as part of a Capitol restoration project, shows in a photograph a 28-inch crack in the shoulder above the left arm.

Without corrective action within a year the arm could fall off, said Ray Graham, who was hired to lead the restoration of the Capitol building and grounds.

Graham gave his diagnosis at a meeting of the state Preservation Board, made up of Gov. Mark White, Lt. Gov. Bill Riebesell, House Speaker Gil Lewis, Sen. Roy Blaker, Rep. Mike Millap, and Austin businessmen Lowell Lehmann.

The board approved Graham's request to seek $1.7 million from the Legislature for the project in 1986 and 1987.

Graham said the state would be reimbursed by whatever private contributions are made to the project.

Graham said he hoped the zinc goddess could be repaired without having to be taken down from her perch.

But if the statue has to be removed, most likely by helicopter, and recast in bronze, the goddess work could run up a $350,000 repair bill, Graham said.

The Capitol goddess of liberty suffers from a cracked shoulder.

From viewing a blurred photograph of the statue while it was being raised to the dome a century ago, Graham said there was no way to tell how it was hoisted to the building roof.

Lewis said, "It just mystifies me how a hundred years ago we could put that thing up there, and now in 1985 we can't figure out how to get it back down."

White said the bulk of funding for the project eventually will come from private sources. The board will name a not-profit committee for fund-raising, and contributions will be sought from foundations, corporations, and organizations interested in the preservation campaign.

Library News

Eugenia Price, a favorite author for many, has once again combined historical fact with full-bodied fiction in creating a richly textured work of enormous appeal and power. Her newest book, TO SEE YOUR FACE AGAIN, is the eagerly anticipated sequel to her best-selling SAVANNAH TO SEE YOUR FACE AGAIN continues the saga of the Browning, Mackay, and Stiles clans in a moving, dramatic, and romantic tale that vividly evokes all the splendors of the Old South.

Natalie Browning is precocious child at the end of SAVANNAH has blossomed into a passionate, strong-willed sixteen-year-old beauty who can charm her way into every heart and out of any unpleasant situation. Stubborn, arrogant, and accustomed to getting whatever she wants, Natalie is now about to meet her match in a turbulent and dangerous adventure that will, at last, make her a woman.

In 1838 Natalie boards the ill-fated steam packet PULASKI. When the boat explodes at sea (in a graphic re-creation of an actual event), she is saved by rugged, independent Burke Latimer, with whom she soon falls deeply in love. But, shortly after they are rescued, Burke disappears, leaving only a letter imploring her not to look for him. Devastated, Natalie vows to use any and every means available to find Burke and reclaim her love. But where? And how?

This expansive novel, scrupulously researched and filled with fascinating history, moves from the dazzling world of antebellum Savannah through the lush, beautiful Georgia upcountry, presenting an unforgettable portrait of a young land and the courageous people who made it their own.

Other titles by Eugenia Price at Gruver Library are three that constitute the award-winning St. Simon's Island trilogy: BELOVED INVADER, NEW MOON RISING, and LIGHTHOUSE. Also available are: DON JUAN McQUEEN, LIGHTHOUSE, NO PAT ANSWERS, A WOMEN'S CHOICE, SAVANNAH, and WOMAN TO WOMAN.

We invite you to come in and look over these titles and many of the other good choices available for your reading pleasure.

It's hard to believe that people in America—or Texas—particularly in our own city, Amarillo, are hungry. But, it is a fact that the High Plains Bank deals with every day. You can help by taking canned goods to your nearest library or Fire Station this week, Oct. 11-20, during the annual Can Hunger food drive.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

To prevent possible fungus growth, remove leaf collection on small shrubs, especially boxwood.

Your kitchen ventilating fan needs to be clean several times a year to prevent a fire and poor ventilation.

Never use electric tools outside in wet weather. You could prevent a tragedy.

Write on the back of labels from new clothes the laundering or cleaning instructions.

It is a good idea to keep a set of measuring spoons near the medicine cabinet for measuring dosages of medicine.

Help Your Heart

Look for health on the menu

The typical American eats out once a day. How are your meals out prepared? The answer is important, especially if you are watching your weight.

You can eat away from home and yet enjoy delicious meals that conform with the American Heart Association's dietary recommendations. One way to do it is to watch for the AHA name on restaurant menus. You can find meal options approved by AHA in a growing number of restaurants (Sizler Family Steakhouse and the Hungry Tiger, for example), hotels (Marriott, Fairmont and Sheraton) and even on airplanes (American Airlines).

The goal of the AHA's "Eating Away from Home" program is to provide tasty and heart-healthy meals low in fat and cholesterol. The AHA selections on the menu are generally lower in calories too because of smaller portions and modified methods of preparation. For example, meats are lean and usually baked or broiled and vegetables are prepared without heavy sauces. In some parts of the United States, dining out guides produced by local AHA chapters list restaurants that routinely, or at your request, prepare food according to AHA's dietary guidelines.

If you don't know enough about a restaurant, call it in advance to ask about the food and whether special requests will be honored. Ask whether the restaurant will: (1) Serve margarine rather than butter, and skim rather than whole milk? (2) Prepare a dish using vegetable oil — corn, soy, sunflower, safflower — or margarine rather than butter? (3) Trim visible fat off meat and skin off poultry? (4) Prepare a dish without added salt or monosodium glutamate, MSG? (5) Serve fruit — fresh or in light syrup — for dessert? (6) Have a special seating area for non-smokers?

Once you're in the restaurant, be assertive. Remember that you are the patron. Don't be intimidated by the menu, atmosphere, waiter or waitress. If you wish to cut down on the size of your meal, choose appetizers as the main course, order a la carte or share food with a companion.

Insist that food be served the way you want it — with dressings, gravies and sauces on the side, for example. Send the food back if they don't do it right.

Help your heart! You can get a healthy meal if you know how. When reading the menu, look for items prepared without adding fat, such as those that are steamed, cooked in their own juice, broiled, roasted or poached. Avoid food cooked in butter sauce, cream sauce, cheese sauce, hollandaise or gravy. Also avoid food that's been sauteed, fried, braised, creamed, escalloped, baked, stewed, pickled or smoked.

Local News Service Says ...

Go Greyhounds!!!

Cattlemen Profit

According to Kenneth Slough of Double'D Fertilizer & Feed in Gruver, local cattlemen could significantly improve the value of their calves by holding them after weaning on a preconditioning program for three to four weeks before sale.

"Cattle buyers will pay more for preconditioned cattle because they know that fewer will get sick or die after the stress of shipping," Slough said. "And, because they've been started on feed, calves will go into a growing cycle much faster than cattle that were weaned right onto a truck."

Slough recommends a preconditioning program which includes special health and nutritional attention along with preventive treatment by a local veterinarian.

"Weaning is the most stressful time in a calf's entire life," Slough said. "And when a calf is stressed it goes off feed, loses weight and most of its natural immunity. If you wean a calf then move it right to sale, mingling it with cattle from all over, you're just asking for it to get sick."

On the other hand, the feed supplier explained, thousands of tests have proven that preconditioned cattle are not only healthier, but during preconditioning period they usually gain at least 50 to 60 pounds. "And that's during a period when they're usually expected to lose weight," he added.

"On the day of weaning they should be vaccinated according to the recommendations of a local vet. They then should be moved into a small pen that has some shelter from the weather."

The feed supplier added that the real key to the success of a preconditioning program is getting the calves to eat as soon as possible. "We suggest providing calves with plenty of fresh, clean water, and on the first day, all the top quality hay they can eat."

For the next 21 to 28 days the cattle should be fed, free-choice, a highly palatable complete feed that is formulated especially for preconditioning programs. Preconditioning-Receiving Chow, he noted, meets that criteria and is formulated to provide the balance of nutrients researchers say will quickly restore rumen function that may have been stalled by stresses associated with weaning.

"And, because this complete feed also contained AS-700 in optimal quantities, the cattle have a means of combatting disease and infection until their natural immunity has been restored," he said, adding that cattle should also be treated for parasites twice during preconditioning.

"Protecting existing jobs and creating new jobs is at the heart of our program."

Karen's Kozy Korner

Halloween can be a fun time for the entire family, but the real trick is to get everyone involved. Visiting in homes, hospitals and community centers can be arranged for a whole family Halloween. This can be a real joy to shut-ins and senior citizens if it is properly planned in advance. properly planned in advance.

For a community or neighborhood activity, try a progressive party. The children can have a special trick-or-treat at each home along the way. Each stop should be different. The final stop could be "special treats" with several neighbors working together to provide the refreshments.

A ghost-story time can take place almost anywhere - in a large room, a grove of trees or in a yard. People attending this activity should come prepared to tell stories, and a prize should be given for the best Halloween tale.

A costume party is another favorite way to celebrate Halloween. Each person comes to the event in a special costume and is allowed time to parade in front of the group. Prizes can be awarded in different categories such as most original costume, scariest costume or funniest costume. When planning your Halloween celebration, remember to make sure it is appropriate for the age group in attendance. Just because something is fun for adults doesn't mean it will be for children.

If parents and other adults take the responsibility for planning and supervising Halloween activities, the occasion should turn out to be safe and happy for the entire family.

Former exchange student visits

Beulah Winkler Peter Royl

Peter Royl, who was an exchange student from West-Berlin, Germany during 1960-61 returned to Gruver for a short visit, October 11th. As a Gruver Student, he stayed in the home of Clark and Beulah Winkler and graduated with the Senior Class of Gruver High School in 1961.

After returning to Germany, he studied at Berlin and Stuttgart, Germany and earned his PH.D. in Nuclear Engineering in 1971. Peter has been visiting the U.S. frequently since then on business. He works for the German Nuclear Research Center at Karlsruhe on joint projects with the U.S. DOE and U.S. NRC. on fast breeder reactors safety and participates currently in an experimental program that is carried out at Sandia National Laboratories in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Returning to Gruver for a visit with Mrs. Winkler was a delayed homecoming for Peter. He and Mrs. Winkler attended the Friday night football game where they met a lot of friendly faces and nearly 1/2 of his former Senior classmates. Among these friendly faces was Peter's former basketball Coach Corky Chapman. Exchanging memories was putting them back into the old days of the 60's. Beulah Winkler had tried her best to freshen his memory with all the events that had happened since then. She also provided a home like she always did with her very enjoyable Mid-western food. It was really like coming home for him.

This is the interior view showing the shopping and dining area where patrons may relax and enjoy a variety of quick foods, while visiting with friends. GOPHER'S CONVINIENT STORE LOCATED IN GRUVER.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH J.W. "BUCK" BUCHANAN OCTOBER 1985

State Representative, 88th district of Texas, J.W. "Buck" Buchanan is a man of varied experience and has a proven track record of community service. This Panhandle native has not only witnessed the growth of the area, but also has participated in that development as a farmer, rancher, Chamber of Commerce manager and Water District manager. His neighbors recognized that strong leadership in 1959 and elected Buchanan to two consecutive terms in the Texas Legislature.

Following his service as a member of the Texas House of Representatives, 1959-1962, he served as manager of the North Plains Water District.

After stepping down from the post as manager of the North Plains Water District in 1980, Buchanan was elected to serve again in the Texas House of Representatives and is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on the North Plains and Texas water resources.

Representative Buchanan is a member of the House Natural Resources Committee, House Administration Committee and vice-chairman of the County Affairs Committee. In addition, he has served on the sub-committee for Budget and Finance for Natural Resources and County Affairs and during this past session worked on the conference committee that developed the State Water Package.

Currently he is serving at the request of Speaker of the House Gib Lewis as a member of interim River Authority Study Committee and the interim study committee for Natural Resources and County Affairs.

A family man as well, Representative Buchanan and his wife, Millie have raised a son and a daughter and now have two grandchildren.

His record of service speaks for itself. The highlights are:

Throughout his distinguished career, Buchanan has met his civic responsibilities with distinction. In both Dumas, his current home, and in Spearman, Representative Buchanan has been a vigorous participant in civic activities.

Voter turnout key to water amendment

These days, many election are decided by a small minority of eligible voters. This may be the case on November 5 when 14 Constitutional Amendments are voted on by Texans statewide, and water issues extremely important to the state are addressed.

Constitutional Amendment No. 1 would provide for the issuance of $980 million in bonds for water development, transportation, wastewater treatment, water quality, flood control and water supply projects. Amendment No. 2 authorizes the sale of $200 million in state bonds to provide low interest loans for farmers in upgrading their irrigation efficiency.

In a similar election in 1968, when a constitutional amendment concerning state water issues appeared on the ballot, the measure was defeated statewide by a small margin of approximately 5,000 votes. During that particular election, West Texans voted in favor of the issue by a large majority, but the voter turnout was only about 15 percent of the registered voters.

The 5,000 majority votes cast against the constitutional amendment in that 1968 election could have easily been offset if even one additional voter per precinct in West Texas had gone to the polls.

The provisions of Constitutional Amendments 1 and 2 are for all Texans. However, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce urges West Texans to lead the way in supporting these two extremely important water issues by going to the polls in record numbers to vote for Constitutional Amendments 1 and 2.
