■ OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH ₩

The is the start of a new year nd several people are starting potential and productivity however by planing improvements on from a visual observation. their farms and ranches. Some of those who plan soil and water conservation practices on their place nclude Alva Jasper, J. K. Patrich Sam Lewis, Berle Fisch, Ray Teeple, L. W. Francis and others who will install irrigation pipe gue, J A Ranch, Bill Cushing and others plan farm ponds. These ponds will be mainly for livestock vater, but will also serve for fish ponds and for other wildlife. Roy Brown, Ellis Currie, J. P. White Jim Stroup and others plan ter races. Datis Martin and Lem Weaver plan land leveling for improved irrigation. Martin and E. J. Hamilton plan grassed water ways to safely control outside water. Bill Cushing, E. A. Birdwell, the Barrell Ranch and others plan brush control on range land. C. M. Flowers,

The above list is just a part of those who will install soil and water conservation practices during 19-62. All of these practices will increase the value of the farms or ranches much more than the total ost of installing the practice
