

First State Bank Open House to Honor Kenneth Shropshire Friday

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mosbey of 1301 7th Street, Shallowater, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Ann Mosbey, to Thomas Gathing O'Jibway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip O'Jibway of 2303 61st Street in Lubbock, Texas.

The couple plan to marry March 23rd in the First United Methodist Church.

Miss Mosbey is a 1970 graduate of Shallowater High School. She attended Commercial College and is currently enrolled at South Plains College in Levelland, Texas. She is employed by the State Department of Public Welfare. Her fiance is a 1970 graduate of Monterey High School and has attended Texas A&M University. He is employed as a contractor.

Shallowater's First State Bank will host an Open House tomorrow, Friday, January 11th, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. to mark the 10th Anniversary of the bank's Senior Vice President and Cashier, Kenneth Shropshire.

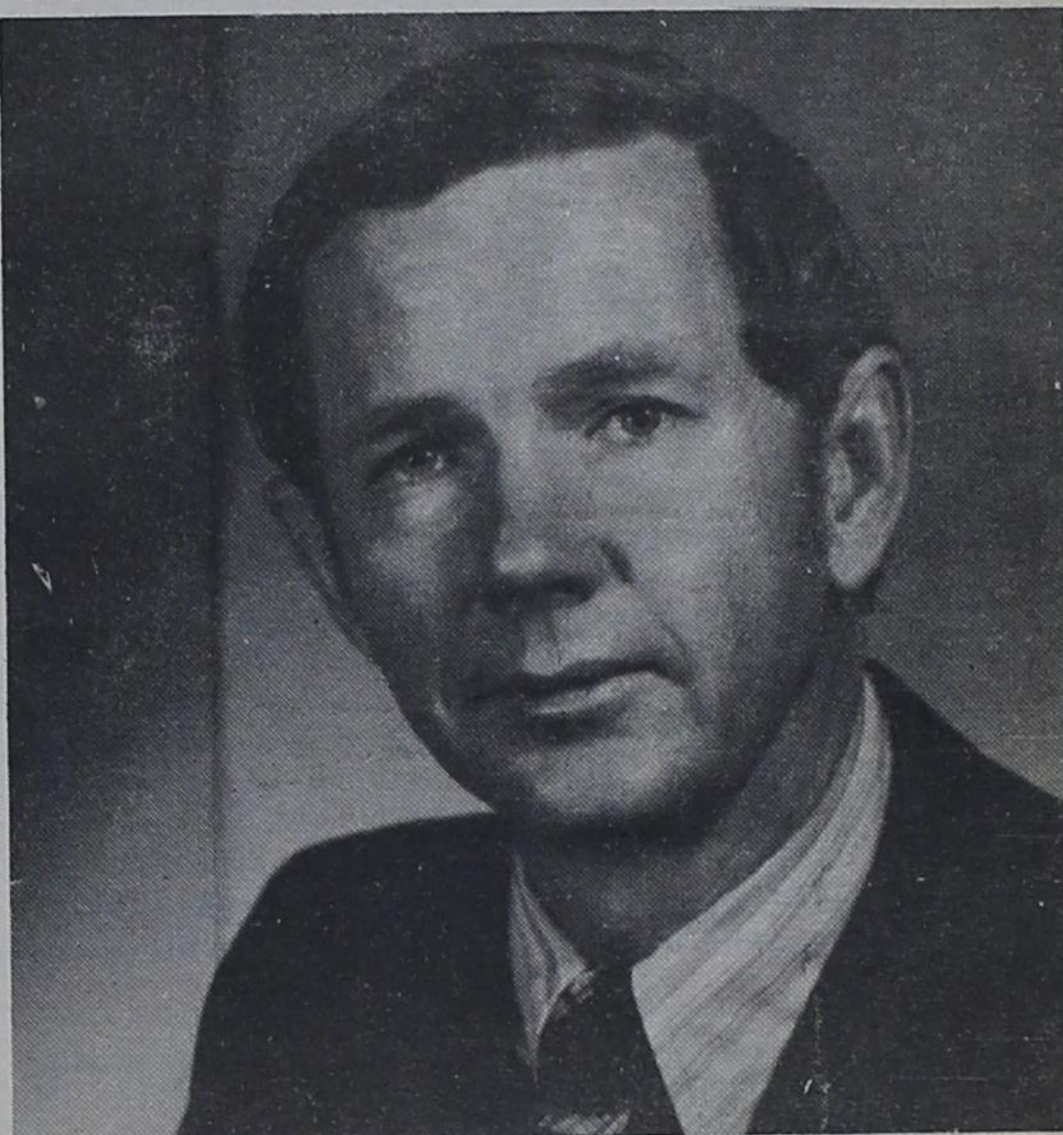

Shropshire, who joined the bank in December of 1963, is a 1958 graduate of Texas Tech University. He began his banking career with the First State Bank of Dimmitt with Bob McClain and served there for three years before moving to Shallowater.

Kenneth and his wife Jolene, who celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary last October, are the parents of three children, 11-year-old Joe Guy, who graduated from Shallowater High School in 1970 and is presently working with a professional band, the "Sassy Stuff", 15-year-old Carol, a sophomore at Shallowater High School and a member of the basketball team who is currently engaged in raising a St. Bernard, and 7-year-old Linda, a first grader who plays piano and was a contestant in this year's Lions Club Princess Contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Shropshire met in Carlsbad, New Mexico, where they both graduated from High School. He is the former Jolene Williamson of Carlsbad.

The 41-year-old Shropshire, who is an outdoor enthusiast, bagged his first deer this season while hunting at Kerrville. He has made four canoe trips down the Rio Grande, and while on a river trip last summer with Wayne Wages and Pug Horton was credited with pulling one of his companions from the river after a canoe had overturned. Kenneth jogs 2 miles every day, enjoys riding motorcycles, is an avid water skier—and goes skiing every week-end during the summer months—builds furniture and tinkers with automobiles. He has also built a canoe and hydroplane boat and enjoys watching television sparingly, listing his favorite show as the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show.

The public is cordially invited to come by the First State Bank of Shallowater Friday, Jan. 11 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. and enjoy the open house and visit with Kenneth. He's a real "jewel".

South Plains College Attacks The Gasoline Shortage

South Plains College in Levelland has mapped out a three pronged attack on the gasoline shortage to help the several hundred students who will commute to classes when the semester begins Jan. 14.

The first part of the program was announced earlier. A new policy had been adopted which would allow off-campus residents to live in dormitories on a day-to-day basis at a very reasonable expense. The $4.25 daily charge will include a room, linen service and three meals in the college cafeteria.

Just recently, two more steps were taken to help combat the gasoline pinch. College officials have made arrangements for buses from the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma bus line to make regular stops at the Student Center. "This will give Lubbock students a way to get to classes without using any of their own gasoline," said Earl Gerstenberger, dean of students at SPC.

The buses will leave Lubbock daily at 7:25 and 11:10 a.m. and will arrive at the Student Center at 8:10 and 11:55 a.m. For the return trip students will be able to take either a 9:25 a.m. bus or a 1:40 p.m. bus. Arrival times in Lubbock are listed as 10:10 a.m. and 2:35 p.m. respectively.

The cost for a round trip ticket on the bus will be $3.05, Gerstenberger said. And he added that students may catch the bus or be dropped off anywhere along the route between the Student Center and the Lubbock bus terminal at 1313 13th St.

Shortly after classes begin, college officials will meet with students who are interested in using the bus line regularly to help them adjust their class schedules to fit the bus schedule. A meeting date will be announced later, Gerstenberger added.

The third alternative the college has outlined is organizing car pools for commuting students. College officials will meet with students in the Student Center at 10:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 14, to assist in forming car pools. The car pool plan is aimed at all commuting students from around the area, Gerstenberger said. And as with the bus schedule plan, students will be allowed to adjust their class schedules to fit as well as possible with the schedules of other students in the car pools.

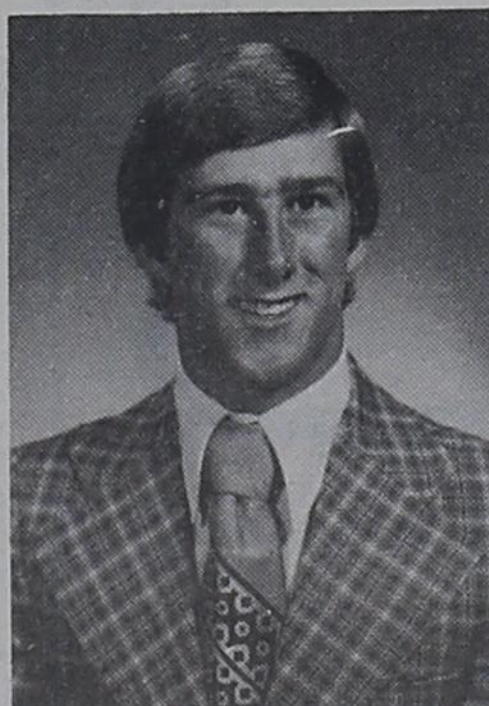

"We hope that these three plans will make attending classes a little easier on commuting students," Gerstenberger concluded.

Volunteer Fire Department Meets

The Frenship Volunteer Fire Department met at the City Hall Monday night. Three members of the Fire Department are attending Emergency Medical Technician training classes at Lubbock Christian College on Monday and Thursday evenings. They are Ken Clark, Joe Rosales and Johnny Joe Rosales.

After completion of 81 hours of class work and a State Examination, they will be certified to operate an ambulance and the medical equipment.

Morris Named to All-State Team

Ray Morris, Shallowater High School senior, has been named to the Class A all-state football team by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

He was selected as first team offensive end. Earlier, he has been named to the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram's all state team.

An All-District performer on both offense and defense, the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal had selected him as first team All-South Plains offensive end.

Plans are being completed for the Loop FFA 4-H Livestock Show, Calvin Scott, Loop vocational agricultural teacher reported. The show is scheduled Saturday, January 12.

Miss Sherill Molder of Anton and Bobby Lee Ward of Littlefield exchanged wedding vows Saturday, December 29 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnson.

Antique Show Set For Hereford Run

The L'Allegra Study Club of Hereford, Texas is sponsoring an antique show entitled "Curiosities and Collectibles" on January 18, 19 and 20 in the Community Center, Park Avenue in Hereford.

The show will open promptly at 1 p.m. each day and close at 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Tickets for the show are $1.00 each and may be used throughout the entire showing. All revenue raised will benefit the Deaf Smith General Hospital Intensive Care Ward in Hereford.

NEWS BRIEFS

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—Legislative leaders expressed optimism for success of the state Constitution Convention which opened at noon Tuesday (Jan. 8).
 Planning committees have worked out a fast-paced 81 day schedule which may, or may not, hold up.
 Optimists see at least a 50-50 chance of success, noting that of 12 constitutions offered voters in other states during the last 12 years, half were rejected, frequently on a single issue.

 House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., projected presiding officer of the historic convention, the first since 1875, hopes to have committee hearings started by January 16.
 Preliminary briefings by corresponding committees of the 37-member Constitutional Revision Commission will precede the committee hearings.

 Daniel claims the convention, composed of 181 legislators, will be successful because delegates have a down-to-business attitude and are the best prepared group (thanks to work of the Revision Commission) ever to undertake such a task.
 Such controversial issues as right-to-work inclusion in the constitution, legislative pay raises and appointive appellate judges, under Daniel's plan, would be submitted to voters as separate issues. That procedure, the speaker maintains, would prevent jeopardizing a largely non-controversial document because of a handful of hot potatoes.
 Eight substantive committees and five procedural committees are proposed to handle the initial hearings and study starting next week.

Political Season On—Major candidates are getting in place for the 1974 primary races.
 Attorney General John Hill announced for a second term. Agriculture Commissioner John White announced for a 13th.
 Gov. Dolph Briscoe revealed his plans (back in late October) to seek a second term.
 Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby will be doing the same. Others already on the starting blocks include Railroad Commissioners Jim Langdon and Mack Wallace, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Treasurer Jesse James (although some haven't announced formally).
 Comptroller Robert Calvert remains a question mark. Whether or not he retires, former Secretary

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

Despite the relative ease with which Texas Tech defeated Air Force Saturday night, Coach Gerald Myers wasn't all wreathed in smiles. He was pleased, yes, but not overjoyed.
 Gerald had gotten a chance to play a lot of subs, men who might have to take up the slack at some point in the tough conference race. He thought that they might have done better, played a little more smoothly together.
 "It's going to be real rough," he opined, talking about the league slate. "Texas looked pretty strong today (against Missouri) and SMU looks strong. They'll all be pointing to us."
 It begins to look as though Grady Newton and Don Moore will round out the starting team for the conference campaign, but look for Grant Dukes and Phil Bailey to log considerable time, along with Steve Dunn. The latter might even be at forward.

It's a difficult team to analyze. There's good inside strength in Rick Bullock and William Johnson and there's good guard play in Richard Little and Moore. But it's not a balanced attack and there's need for more scoring at the other forward spot.
 Gerald is concerned about other teams using a zone against Tech—"name me one good outside shooter on our starting team"—and he would like to have a little more speed on the club.
 Bailey is a consistently good outside shooter, but he has other weaknesses that keep him from being a starter. Dunn has the speed to go with Little on the fast break, but he also has weaknesses that keep him from being a starter.
 Moore played better Saturday night, but his scoring isn't strong. Dukes has the potential, he lacks experience. There are a lot of spot players, but not the balanced attack Gerald would like going into a rugged conference round.

 Nebraska proved what people have felt—Texas isn't as strong and can be had. The Cornhuskers shut down the wishbone in the Cotton Bowl until it was downright embarrassing.
 The Longhorns managed only three first downs in the first half and were little better the second half. They did have one tremendous goalline stand and sports writers felt that this, just before the half, would spark the Horns. It didn't.

I talked to the Nebraska players after the game and one of them said that he thought Nebraska had to have the greatest defensive coaches in the nation.
 "Texas didn't run a single play that we didn't know or expect," he said. "Even the reverse. We worked on that just two days before the game."
 Marty Akins was stopped on the option. Roosevelt Leaks, admittedly far from full strength, was stopped. And when Texas finally passed, as it had to to open up the defense, the passing game was not a threat.
 In the final analysis what beat Texas was muscle, the same thing that Texas is famed for using to beat everyone else. John Bell did a tremendous job at noseguard, although Bill Wyman blocked him consistently. Still, the Nebraska line backers were free to plug the gaps. Along with Bell and the linebackers, Nebraska got strong play from the tackles and ends. So, when it was all over, the Cornhuskers had shutdown the running and forced the Horns to do what they don't do well, pass.
 The Hall of Fame sports luncheon, as usual, was a great affair. Everyone likes it, but everyone goes away saying "it was a great show, except that it ran too long." And every year the writers say, well, we've got to shorten it—and every year it never changes.
 You can't shorten a dinner that honors great athletes. This is their day and they deserve the tributes and attention. Morris Frank was a tremendous emcee, as usual, and his quick wit kept the affair from lagging, as much as any one man can.

 For the first time in 12 years or so the Cotton Bowl fell short of a sellout. There were a lot of empty seats and tickets were a dime a dozen. But Nebraska underlined what Tech Coach Jim Carlen has said about support being a key to a team's invitation.
 There were Nebraska fans everywhere. As a wild guess, there must have been 15 to 20 thousand Nebraskans in Dallas. They were in the hotels and motels, on the streets, in the stands. You saw far more red than you did orange. They backed the Cornhuskers.

*****
The Roundup—A big sign on the Cotton Bowl wall said: "Happy New Year—Chris—Bud—CBS—from UT." That was fine, except it was NBC doing the game!...Enjoyed talking with Tom Brookshire, who worked with Lindsey Nelson on the telecast. The former Hubber was interested in the WT-NM Assn. and in Bobby Layne....J.D. Hufstедler took in the Hall of Fame luncheon and the Cotton Bowl. He was about the only Lubbock man I saw....Jim Reed, former Tech basketball great, is the Phillips distributor in Brownfield, but did you know his brother, Ragan, is also in business there?...Jones Ramsey, Texas SID, is quick with a quip. It was alleged that Darrrell Royal was asked if he would take the New York Giants coaching job and he replied that he couldn't talk about it until after the bowl game. Jones said that there was a report that he was going to marry Liz Taylor, "but I can't talk about it until after the bowl!" Darrell said that he had not been approached and that he was not interested....And after waiting over an hour to see the Hula Bowl, we never got to see Joe Barnes.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Ever take binoculars with you on a fishing trip? No, I don't mean a hunting trip—I mean fishing.

Most everybody takes a pair of binoculars when hunting deer and other big game—but very few use them while fishing, unless it be in the Gulf of Mexico. Even there the use is rare.

We highly recommend binoculars to anglers—even if they have keen eyes and can spot fish feeding, see a school of minnows swimming, or shad jumping—from quite some distance away. Most of us can use that extra boost that binoculars give to vision while fishing, even more than in hunting.

In hunting you look for the animal itself, but in fishing you're seeking "signs" of fish—evidence that they are in the area even though out of your sight. You look for movement on the water, or of the water, as well as activities of the live food that fish seek.

Birds circling are a definite sign of food directly below them. Quite often it proves to be a school of whites chasing shad, but black bass can be located the same way.

A heron standing statue-still in the shallow waters of a gulf bay, close to shore or perched atop a submerged rock in deep water, means (if it stays there any length of time) that there are small fish nearby. And where small fish are, big fish soon will become feeding time.

A reliable dealer can guide you in selecting the right binoculars. Mainly it's a matter of personal preference as to quality, power and weight.

One thing for sure—a sharp pair of binoculars can, quite often, increase your fishing success immeasurably.

Try 'em—you'll like 'em.

First Baptist Church News

The Church Council will meet Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the church for their first meeting. They will discuss various aspects of church life and will be made aware of their role in the future growth and planning of the church. The council, which is an elected body, consists of the pastor, minister of music, church secretary, clerk, treasurer, WMU Director, Sunday School Director, Church Training Director, Brotherhood Director and Deacons Chairman.

A group from the church will leave Monday morning, Jan. 14 for Dallas to attend the 1974 Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference. They will be staying at the Baker Hotel.

A committee of Senior High young people are studying the possibility of combining a summer '74 trip to the Institute in Basic Youth Conflicts with a choir tour going down and returning. The Institute could be the finest and most memorable experience ever enjoyed by our young people, and it may be possible to include a choir tour along with the other plans being made for the July 22-27 trip to Dallas.

The church is making plans for Bob Larson Weekend March 1-3. We are very fortunate in securing Mr. Larson for this weekend. He is a well known authority on youth culture and music, and has lectured the world over.

First Baptist will host a fellowship refreshment time for all the youth of our community following Friday's game with Seagraves.

SHRIMP 'WIGGLE' STILL A PUZZLE

Bubbling under a crust here is that classic sauce with the funny, folksy name of Georgia Shrimp Wiggle. No use writing in to ask why because no one seems to remember. Origin unknown. But the flavor is rare, wistful, and deeply Old South by any standards. Redolent with nutmeg and a little something from the old sideboard, "Wiggle" by any other name would be a delight. Traditionally served on toast as a luncheon dish, it becomes something more important under a crust for dinner or late company supper.

SHRIMP WIGGLE PIE

- 1 can (4½ ounces) shrimp
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 5 tablespoons flour
- 2½ cups milk
- 1½ teaspoons celery salt
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon white pepper
- ¼ teaspoon freshly grated nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate (optional)
- 2 teaspoons sherry
- 1 egg yolk beaten with 1 tablespoon water
- 1 cup green peas, cooked

Drain shrimp. Melt butter in a saucepan; blend in flour, milk, and all seasonings except wine. Cook until thick and smooth. Quickly stir in yolk. Cool the sauce slightly before adding sherry, peas, and shrimp. Pour into an 8-inch pie pan or baking dish; top with fluted crust. Bake 40-45 minutes in a moderately hot (400 degree) oven. 4 servings.

March of Dimes Poster Child Shares Family Fun and Chores

By DAN GILLMOR

"Scotty was a month old when we brought him home from the hospital," Monta Hafen recalls, "and it was really hard not to overprotect him."

That was five years ago, and Scott, who is Monta and Gary Hafen's fifth child, was just leaving to go down the block from their modest ranch house in North Las Vegas, Nev. That may not sound unusual, unless you are aware that Scott was born with crippling birth defects, hydrocephalus (water on the brain), and spina bifida (open spine).

The first defect has been corrected by surgery. The second is painfully evident. Scott is paralyzed from the waist down and has to use braces and crutches to get around.

"It was hard at first," his mother says, "but we finally got hold of ourselves. Life had to go on. We made ourselves be less protective."

"We don't treat him as an invalid in any way. We expect things from him, and he does them. If he makes a mess with his toys, he has to pick them up and put them away in his toy box."

"Of course, with four older brothers and sisters, he gets a bit spoiled, no matter what Gary and I do. But we figure that's not so bad. After all, they only do what they want to do. We don't expect them to take care of Scotty to any greater extent than they would naturally take care of the littlest one in the family."

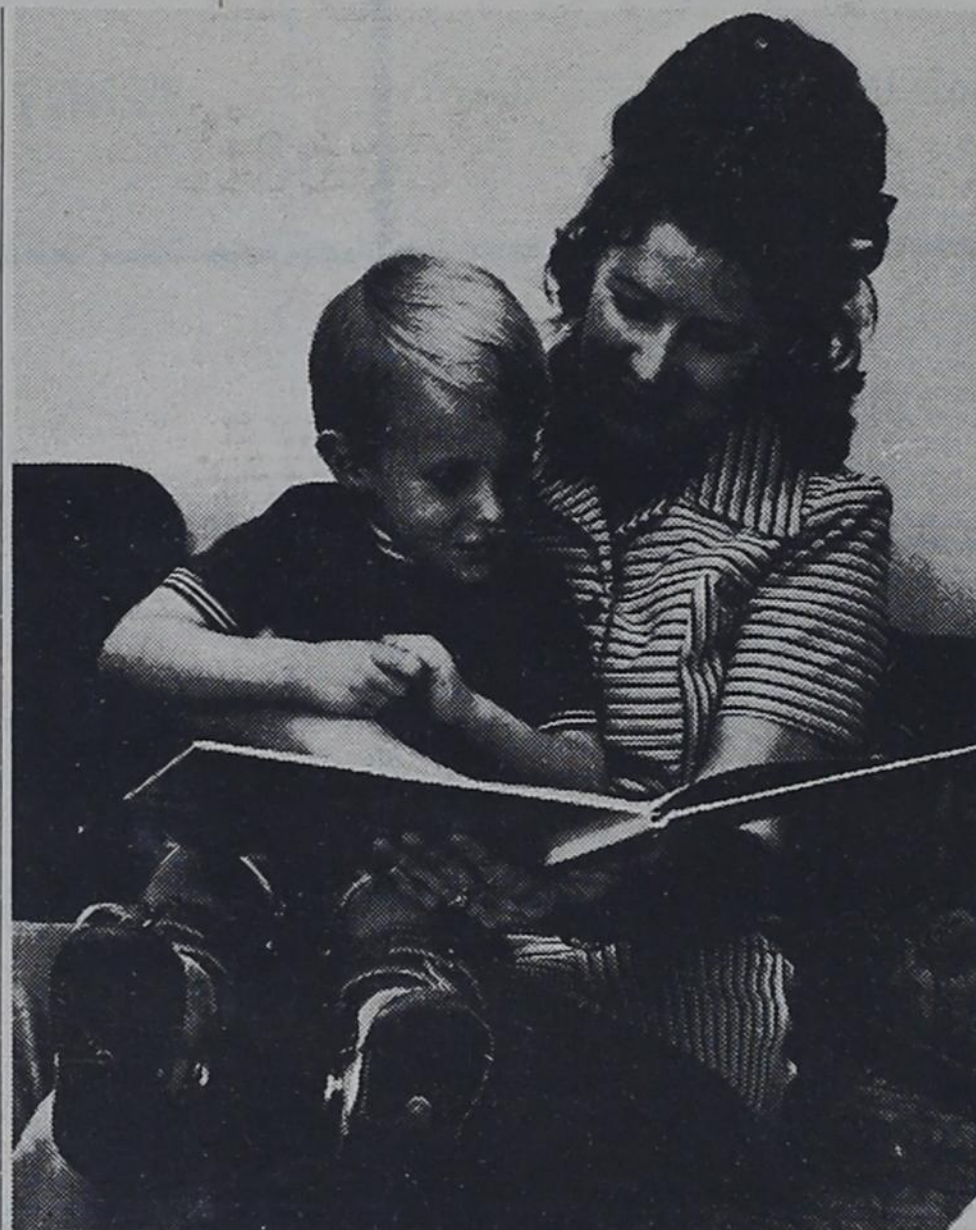

Scott's next older brother, Bret, has done a lot of that. He is only a year older than Scott, but Mrs. Hafen has encouraged the brotherly relationship without interfering with it.

"Bret puts him in his wagon and hauls him all over the neighborhood," she says, laughing fondly. "With just a little bit of watching along the way, that's how things have gone along."

Travel Plans

Bret won't be able to go along next month when, as 1974 National Poster Child for the March of Dimes, Scott will tour the country. He will represent the 250,000 or so American children born every year with birth defects.

Contributions to the March of Dimes are allocated to research, medical service programs, and educational efforts in the fight to prevent birth defects and to improve the quality of life at birth.

Mrs. Hafen is looking forward to taking Scott on the trips, even though they will be quite strenuous. "I feel that my children are responsible enough to carry on just as always. We have everything well under control."

"And Scott just loves to travel! I look forward to the feeling of success that he will get out of it. I've already seen a change in him since he started going around the state as Nevada Poster Child. He just seems to be more on top of the situation. He feels more like an equal of other children."

"You know how it is: he has something to talk about now. Something that he did that they haven't done. His friends get to run and jump and play, and Scotty can't. But now he gets to fly all over and meet famous people."

Even though there may be a bit of a "sitter" problem, Mrs. Hafen is not worried. Scott's father, a Las Vegas school principal, will be home, except for one or two trips when he will accompany his wife and son. Mrs. Hafen is confident that Diane, 9, Sondra, 10, and Brad, 13, can handle things.

It's clear that blue-eyed Sondra will cover the kitchen. She is a self-proclaimed tacos cook of distinction.

"Just get hamburger and cheese and onions," she advises. "Then grate the cheese and cut the onions and then do the tortillas."

Presto! Tacos! It's simple, isn't it?

Asked how to make tortillas, Sondra explained: "Oh, you don't make them. You just buy them frozen and then you fry them."

You see. It really is very simple to make tacos.

George Mahon Announces For Re-Election

George Mahon announced Monday that he is a candidate for re-election to Congress. He is presently serving his 20th term in the House. As Chairman of the 55-member Appropriations Committee, he occupies one of the most important posts of the Legislative Branch of the Government.

Mahon stated that the major concern expressed to him by the people of the area relates to present or anticipated fuel shortages. "Reports are confusing," he said, "and the facts are unclear; but the problem is a real one and will be the number one item on the agenda when Congress reconvenes on January 21."

Frenship Basketball Weekly Report

Varsity

Lonnie McKinney scored 21 points to lead Frenship to a 70-55 victory over Denver City Friday night. This was Frenship's second win in loop play with no losses.

Tuesday night the Tigers played Post and defeated them 69-48 to keep their district play perfect with 3-0. Lonnie McKinney had 24 points.

In varsity girls basketball Friday night, Denise Kinner hit for 43 points to lead Frenship girls to a 75-53 win over Roosevelt. Post defeated the Frenship girls 60-40 with Denise Kinner high for Frenship with 26 points. Post won the JV girls game 54-24.

Jr. High

The 7th, 8th and 9th grade boys and girls played Slaton Monday night and lost all six games.

Speed Limit Change Due—With President Nixon's signature on the nationwide 55 miles per hour speed limit law, Texas has no choice but to follow suit.

The State Highway Commission, under a new law passed in special session last month giving it authority to establish new speed limits to meet emergencies, scheduled a January 8 public hearing.

Result of the hearing was clear in advance: the limit will be lowered to 55 mph—probably enforceable by late January or early February.

The alternative: losing some $240 million a year in federal highway assistance.

A.G. Opinions—Political action committees have to report expenditures to influence elections, Atty.Gen. Hill held.

However, Hill said that determining whether such committees come under campaign reporting and disclosure law provisions is a question for factual determination in each case.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

•A law requiring financial statements by public officials is constitutional, and district judges are covered.

•A county commissioners court may transfer surplus road and bridge funds into the general fund.

•A member of the Parks and Wildlife Commission is entitled to reimbursement for expenses for meetings which are not regularly scheduled.

•A person who spends in excess of $200 per calendar quarter by paying another to communicate directly with a legislator would not have to register under the new lobby act.

•Texas Rehabilitation Commission can act on behalf of the state in entering an agreement with the Secretary of Health, education and Welfare to carry out provisions of the Social Security Act. The commissioner of TRC is the proper official to execute the agreement.

Food Stamp Cards Sent—Three hundred thousand needy Texans received cards authorizing food stamps for them early this month.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell, meanwhile, alerted his field offices to give special handling to stamps for the aged, Vowell said steps were taken to assure that none of these go without food stamps this month because they do not have cash for bonus stamps or because of errors or late deliveries of supplemental security income checks.
