Valley Takes District Championship; Plays Booker For Bi-District Saturday

The Valley Patriots won the District Championship in a hard-fought victory over Anton at Plainview Thursday night of last week. The Patriots go to Canadian Saturday where they will play Booker for the Bi-District Championship. Game time is 7:00 p.m. Valley will be the visiting team.

In the game between Valley and Anton, the Patriot defense took over, as has been their strong suit all year. The Anton team was larger, pound-wise and some in height also. The first half the Patriots held Anton to only 21 yards gained. Their team had been averaging 28.1 points per game during the regular season and a total offense of 330 yards per game.

Valley's offense moved at will the first 24 minutes, piling up 200 total yards and occupying Anton territory almost the entire half. The defense stopped Anton cold at every play.

The Patriots added only 53 yards in the second half, but Anton never got untracked, finishing with 100 yards for the game.

In the beginning of the game Thursday night, the Patriots soon dispelled the idea that they might not be able to move against the team who averaged ten pounds heavier. The first play from scrimmage was a 28-yard pass from quarterback Kraig Cox to runningback Tommy Williams. The Patriots did not score on that possession, but advanced to the Anton 19 before the drive stalled.

Valley didn't score on its next two possessions, but with 3:37 left to play in the first quarter, Cox found Steve Price alone in the corner of the end zone to culminate a 39-yard drive. Two minutes later, Cox hit Will Williams with a pass through the middle of the Anton defense and he went 52 yards for the second Patriot score. Valley did not score again in the first half, but punted only one time in five possessions.

The second half was a struggle for both offenses. Valley managed just four first downs and only threatened to score one time. Anton got a 48-yard pass to set up its score late in the fourth quarter.

Will Williams caught the on-side kick attempt in the air and Valley ran out the remainder of the clock.

Valley is now 9-1 for the season as they go into the Bi-District play for the Class 1-A Championship game with Booker Saturday.

Coach Ted Giddens says of the game Thursday night, "Anton was the most talented team we have played in two or three years. We were lucky to get out alive, but you can't expect to go far in the play-offs without luck."

"The team played great. We kept them bottled up on defense until the last three minutes, then it was too late for them."

"We had good defensive efforts out of everyone, but Rex Morgan, Steve Price and Walt Rice were outstanding."

"Offensively, Will Williams showed he was completely healthy. He banged up the middle and picked up a lot of important, tough yards."

"Tommy Williams came in and played great at tailback after Tim Clardy was injured on the second play of the game."

"Daniel Ortiz, Walt Rice, Keith Beavers, Lee J. Browning, Larry Clay, Darren Edwards and Bobby Ortiz did a good job of blocking."

"Kraig Cox had another great game at quarterback. He had had four in a row and improved with every game."

The Patriots are well on their way to going back to state again. All fans are urged to go Saturday evening and support them to the fullest. The game will be broadcast on 1510 radio from Childress for those unable to attend.

LET'S GO ALL THE WAY, PATRIOTS!

THE VALLEY TRIBUNE TO BE PRINTED EARLY NEXT WEEK

Since Thanksgiving falls on Thursday, the printing day for the Valley Tribune, the newspaper will be printed a day early, on Wednesday, next week.

All news items and advertising must be in Monday. Thanks for your cooperation.

COGDILLS HAVE VISIT WITH GRANDSON THEY HADN'T SEEN IN 22 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Oval Cogdill had a wonderful visit with their grandson, Glenn Allen Stewart of Mesquite, whom they hadn't seen in 22 years, Saturday. He is the son of their deceased son, and because of circumstances beyond his control, the son was adopted by another family when he was two years old. The Cogdills had lost track of him until five weeks ago, when the visit was arranged.

"This is a 'grandma supper,'" the grandson was quoted as saying, and "the greatest day of my life." And for the Cogdills, it was a great day, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Spear of Hereford visited their daughter, Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Armstrong, Sunday night. Monday morning they all left for Fort Worth to visit the Armstrong's daughter, Mrs. Jackie Pruitt, who recently had surgery. Then they were to spend a few days in Whitney before returning home.

Fine Weather Is Helping Harvest

Farmers are taking advantage of the beautiful fall weather and are stripping cotton and gathering peanuts. Yields are down this year due to the prolonged drought and the heavy rains which came late.

DID IT AGAIN!

In last week's Valley Tribune, it was stated that quail hunting had opened and deer hunting was to begin at Caprock Canyons State Park, but that was in error as most hunters know. There is no hunting in State Parks. There is hunting in the Caprock Country around the park and there is much territory.

Program Announced For Community Thanksgiving Dinner, Service In Turkey

The following program has been announced by the committee in charge of the Community Thanksgiving Service to be held in the Bob Wills Cafeteria in Turkey Sunday. The dinner is scheduled to be served at 12:30 p.m., and following the meal the service will begin sometime between 1:30 and 2:00 p.m.

There will be a song by the congregation, "God Bless America." A prayer will be led by Brett Parsley, Church of Christ minister.

Special music will be presented by the Church of Christ, and songs by the community choir will include "America the Beautiful" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Rev. W. L. Armstrong, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will present a scripture reading, after which a quartet from the Methodist Church will sing.

"Count Your Many Blessings" will be sung by the choir. Testimonies will be given on "What I'm Thankful For."

"Jesus, I Thank You" and "Thank You, Jesus" will be the next musical selections, and special music will be presented by the other churches. An offering will be taken before the closing prayer.

Everyone in Turkey and the surrounding area is invited to attend the dinner and service. Each family is asked to bring a vegetable and a salad or dessert. Turkeys are being furnished by Peoples State Bank and baked by various individuals.

NOTICE

Families who haven't gotten their cheese, butter and cornmeal for November are asked to please come by the City Secretary's office at City Hall in Turkey and pick up these products.

Mrs. Clema Johnson had as guests in her home Wednesday and Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Red Johnson of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Stone were in Plainview Monday for Leroy's checkup with his doctor, and he got a good report.

Mrs. E. L. Hill spent Saturday in Plainview visiting her mother, Mrs. Goldie Russell, at Heritage Home.

W.I.F.E. To Host Tasting Tea Saturday

Caprock Chapter of Women Involved In Farm Economics will host a Tasting Tea on November 19, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the old post office building in Quitaque.

The fare will be holiday desserts. Everyone is invited to come by and enjoy Quitaque Day with W.I.F.E.

Parents-Teachers To Organize Here

Parents and teachers who are interested in organizing a parents and Teachers Organization (PTO) for the Valley School are asked to contact the following persons: Susie Rivas, 455-1277 (daytime), Janet Edwards, 455-1129 (day or night), Juanita Gray, 455-1296 (after 5:30 p.m.), Ruth Fuston, 423-1266 (after 5:30 p.m.) or Rita Galvan, 423-1371 (day or night).

(Ed. Note: The PTO will be locally maintained and will not be affiliated with the National Parent-Teacher Association.)

MRS. BAIN ATTENDS DELTA KAPPA GAMMA MEETING SATURDAY

Mrs. Gordon Bain attended a meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma in Childress Saturday, held in the First State Bank building. Speaker for the occasion was Garland Cavitt, superintendent of schools at Samnorwood. His topic was Economics and Education.

Attend National W.I.F.E. Convention In South Carolina

Janinne Brooks and Janice Hughes were among a delegation of 15 W.I.F.E. members, representing 10 Texas chapters, who attended the Seventh Annual Women Involved in Farm Economics National Convention in Charleston, South Carolina, November 3-6, 1983. The Convention was chaired by National W.I.F.E. President June Saylor, Muleshoe, Texas.

The Convention held many seminars and workshops. (Some of the men speakers commented that they had never before been to a convention where every minute of the time was allocated to business.) Every commodity held a caucus of its own; results and recommendations were presented to the Convention floor. A seminar on Farm Finance was conducted by the Ford Tractor Company. A session by Richard Wellman of the University of Georgia Law School urged passage in state legislatures of the Uniform Marital Property Act. A lengthy and well-worded telegram was received from President Reagan concerning the farmers' plight and commending the efforts and capabilities of Women Involved in Farm Economics. The President and Mrs. Reagan had planned to attend the W.I.F.E. Convention until the trip to the East took precedence.

Policy-making was an important part of the Convention.

tural producer not only from the offending nation, but from those nations that can no longer depend on a constant market from the U. S., and

WHEREAS, such embargoes do not hamper or deter offending nations in their course of action as the products may be purchased by a third nation and then sold to the designated offender, and WHEREAS, although current legislation decrees the agricultural industry may not be singled out for embargo actions, other goods embargoed need not be necessary to the well-being of the offending nations,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that Women Involved in Farm Economics protest the embargo of the agricultural products by the government of the United States in any effort to chastise other nations of the world, unless it be a complete embargo of all U. S. technology and products, and be taken to insure that American products will not arrive in the embargoed nation through a third party, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that in such cases when agriculture products are used as weapons in setting foreign policy, compensation will be paid through the Defense Department Budget, to the producers of said products.

Also passed were a resolution requesting that the President of the United States appoint an American farmer who is actively involved in agricultural production to serve on the Federal Reserve Board when a vacancy occurs, a resolution opposing all hazardous waste disposal sites in our rural farm areas, a resolution urging the adoption of the USDA of the following definition of a family farm: "A family farm is a form of business enterprise in which the management decisions are made by a family engaged in the production of food or fiber for profit, which is intended to provide the major source of income and capital for investment," and resolutions opposing importation of all meats that do not meet the standards governing U. S. meats, and calling for the reduction in the amount of meat imported.

On the way to Charleston and on the return trip, the Texas delegation toured some of the historic South, including major Civil War battlefields. The tour reinforced a recurring theme expressed at the Convention: As a nation divided against itself cannot stand forever, so an industry divided against itself will surely fail. We in agriculture must realize that unsolved differences between the various facets of farming only serve to weaken our already precarious position. But as a strong and unified voice, we will be heard and we will make a difference.

Teresa and Lacey Elder and small son, Eric, left Thursday morning for Austin where they will make their home.

Both parents working has advantages of increased income for necessities or "extras" and possible satisfaction for the employee woman. Get organized in order to manage the home, family and job responsibilities.

—Delegate some responsibilities to family members.

—Learn to say "no" to things you know you don't have time for.

—Dovetail jobs when possible —put in a load of washing while you get ready for work, put it in the dryer during lunch, and wash another load as you cook supper.

—Write lists of jobs to be done and leave yourself and your family notes of things to be done, appointments and after-school activities.

—Do some housecleaning all during the week so you can enjoy other things on the weekend.

—Keep a list for out-of-town trips of items to look for or things to be done, such as taking cleaning, so the trip will be productive.

—Make time for yourself among all the other duties—take a nap, read a book, sew, or do whatever is relaxing to you.

Mrs. Charlie Grundy and her sister, Mrs. Fannie Lokey of Lubbock, spent a week at Mrs. Lokey's cabin at Breckenridge fishing. They returned to Quitaque Saturday and Mrs. Lokey returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe King of Dumas stopped by to visit the Glynn Barretts and other relatives Sunday. They were enroute home from a visit with the John Kings and the Gary Barrett family in Stamford.

The Superintendent's Corner

by Wilburn Leeper

For the first time, current Federal regulations require that school districts verify salary information which has been supplied on free or reduced lunch applications. This is an effort to ensure that only eligible children receive free or reduced-price lunches at school and is not an attempt to meddle in anyone's financial affairs.

The school has selected at random a certain number of applications for verification. Those selected have been sent a letter asking for documentation of income information necessary for continued participation in the free lunch program.

THE FOOTBALL PLAYOFFS

When Valley and Booker school officials met last Saturday to arrange for their Bi-District game, the date and site of the game had already been set in 1980. In 1980 when Valley last played Booker in a playoff game, Valley won the coin toss and selected the site at Memphis. According to the UIL rules, if Valley and Booker ever met again within a six-year span, then Booker could claim to be home team and be given the right to name the place where the game is to be played. Therefore, Booker chose Canadian as the location for Saturday's game.

MORE ABOUT PLAYOFFS

Within the last six years, there have been eight Zone playoff games between the North Zone and the South Zone. The North Zone has won seven of the games and the South Zone has won one. Valley contributed to four of those wins while Happy is the only school in our Zone to lose a Zone playoff game.

Valley School has an official School Board Policy regarding administering medication to pupils. Sometimes, parents do not understand the certain restrictions placed upon teachers when asking the teacher to administer medication to their child. The policy states that no employee shall administer any medication to a pupil unless the school has received a written request from the parent. Also, no prescription medication may be given to a pupil unless the medication is in the original container and is properly labeled.

Recently eleven Valley teachers attended a six-hour basic computer course in Amarillo in anticipation of future computer use in the classroom. The purpose of the two night sessions was to allow teachers to become familiar with the computer and its uses. Computers are becoming widely used in schools today. Valley is now teaching computer literacy in the 8th grade and will offer word processing in Typing II next semester.

If Valley defeats Booker this week and Paradise beats Jayton, then the two winners will meet sometime over the Thanksgiving weekend. The game probably will be played in Vernon.

KEEP FINANCIAL RECORDS

Before serious financial planning can take place, families need to assess their spending habits, says Nancy Granovsky, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Examine past spending patterns for at least two to six months. Use old receipts, check stubs or other records to show where the money has gone and how much has come in during the same period. Or, keep close records for two to three months. Then determine what percentage of spending income has gone for major categories such as housing utilities, non-mortgage credit payments and food. If more than 25 percent goes for "miscellaneous" you will need to keep better records for a while in order to accurately track your spending for budget purposes, says the specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe King of Dumas visited all three of her sisters and their families Sunday as they were enroute home from Stamford where they had visited the John Kings and the Gary Barretts. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Barrett, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ramsey, and a number of nieces and nephews before returning to their home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Conner were in Petersburg Sunday where he spoke at both services at the Church of Christ. They were guests for lunch with the Larry Adrians.

Baby giraffes are about six feet tall when they are born.

Thompson Implement Sale Finalized

The sale of Ray Thompson Implement Company, Inc. to George Reed and Gerald Smith was finalized November 14, and the John Deere implement dealership began operating this week as Briscoe Implement, Inc. The business was purchased in December 1954 by the late Ray Thompson. Don Cornett entered the business in 1958 and the late Ted Strange entered the business in 1964. Thompson passed away in 1967 and Strange died in 1982, leaving the Don Cornetts and Thompson's widow, Mrs. Mildred Thompson, as the final owners.

Reed and Smith were enthusiastic about the operation of Briscoe Implement, Inc. when they assumed operation of the business Monday. Their wives, Roy and Raye, are joining them in the operation of the business. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Don Garrison of Silverton. The Reeds have farmed in Silverton for the past several years, and the Smiths, both of whom are former Silverton residents, return to Silverton with their son, Lance, from their most recent home in College Station, where he was engaged in agricultural investment management.

They are pleased to announce that former employees, A. R. Martin, David Johnston, Brian Emert, Dana Martin, James Dunn, Gary Younger and Brenda Patton, will continue in their present jobs. Don Cornett is staying with the business for about 30 days to insure the smooth change-over.

The new owners invite you to stop in soon for a visit and a cup of coffee, and to see for yourself what good deals are now being made on John Deere products with which you are already familiar. They will appreciate your continued business and will work hard to keep it.

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Conner were scheduled to take his father, Doc Conner, to Lubbock Tuesday for a medical checkup.

Mrs. Eulalia Coker was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo last week and had surgery for the removal of her right leg just above the knee and a toe on her other foot. She came through the surgery good for her age and condition, and is doing as well as could be expected, according to reports.

Mrs. Velma Jones drove to Childress Friday and spent the weekend visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bailey. Her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wooley of Fort Worth were also visiting there. Mrs. Jones returned to Quitaque Sunday afternoon.

Edd Cuppell of Vega visited his cousin, Mrs. Lillian White, Friday. He and Lillian visited Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Morris in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wilson visited with the group. They report a good time reminiscing.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS farm women throughout our history have made vital contributions to the development and growth of American agriculture through their dedicated work on farms and ranches; and

WHEREAS farm women are true partners and major participants in the industry that feeds the world, investing their physical labor, management skills, and moral support to business and family; and

WHEREAS farm women are meeting the challenge to foster the prosperity of agriculture as they effectively promote the products of farm and ranch and actively concern themselves with the legislation, regulations and policies that affect agriculture; and

WHEREAS farm women continue to serve in a variety of key leadership positions on behalf of their communities, organizations and churches;

THEREFORE, to direct national attention and recognition to American farm women and to their essential work and efforts on behalf of the well-being of our Nation,

I HEREBY proclaim the month of November 1983 as "National Farm Women's Month" in tribute and appreciation of America's farm and ranch women.

Secretary of Agriculture

In accordance with National Farm Women's Month, 75 to 100 farm women representing production of all commodities have been invited to the White House for a briefing on Thursday, November 17, 1983. Topics to be covered include Central America, Economics, and Current Agriculture Policies. The President and Mrs. Reagan will be in attendance, as will be Mrs. Block.

Representing Texas at the briefing will be Elva Reeves, Texas State W.I.F.E. President, Dalhart, and Virginia Dujka, Texas Vice-president Elect for 1984, East Bernard.

Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Dujka will meet Janinne Brooks, President of Caprock W.I.F.E., in Austin on November 19 to attend the Farm-City Conference to be held at the Stephen F. Austin building. The purpose of the conference is to bring producers and consumers together for an exchange of ideas.

The Valley Tribune editor took advantage of the beautiful day Sunday and drove down the Palo Duro to view the beautiful colors. It had been several years since she had been down to Palo Duro and the scenery was outstanding. The Caprock Canyons State Park is another part of the same canyon and is just as beautiful in a smaller range. (Really, this editor thinks this part of the canyon is the most beautiful.)

Mrs. Melton Attends Grandson's Graduation Ceremony

Mrs. Chlorene Melton and her daughter, Sharon Trout of Childress, attended graduation exercises of Pvt. David Lee Trout from basic training at Fort Bliss, near El Paso.

Pvt. Trout, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neill D. Trout of Childress, has completed basic training and the graduation ceremonies were held on November 3 in El Paso.

Trout, a 1983 graduate of Childress High School, was transferred to Fort Leonardwood, Missouri for extended training following his graduation. He began training September 1 and was among 173 men of the A Company 2nd Battalion 1st Air Defense Artillery Training Brigade that graduated.

He is married to the former Betty Ann Freeman, who is attending school in Childress.

Mrs. Melton reports they had a very nice trip except for getting lost and nearly winding up in Old Mexico. She returned home on Tuesday of last week, mailed bills, and tended to other business and returned to Childress as her son-in-law, Neil Trout, was in the hospital. He was to return home on Sunday. She returned to Turkey on Friday night after attending the ballgame at Plainview between Childress and Denver City, where the Childress band performed at halftime when they saluted the men who are serving in the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Copaus of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Lancaster, over the weekend and also Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nance of the Rock Creek Church of Christ were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Brunson for lunch Sunday. Mr. Nance spoke at both services at the Quitaque Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stone of Sweetwater and their daughter, Amber, spent the weekend visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Ramsey in Quitaque and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stone and Melissa in Silverton.

Briscoe County Ranch First to Utilize State Lease Plan

L. N. Johnson of South Plains has signed a contract with the General Land Office of Texas for a five-year lease of the 9,540-acre Hackberry Creek Ranch in the northeast corner of Briscoe County.

Johnson, who holds a BS in agriculture from West Texas State University, plans to implement a Soil Conservation Service General Land Office assisted deferred grazing plan for a cow-calf operation on the ranch.

Johnson is a farmer and rancher in northeastern Floyd County.

The surface lease, which allows for grazing and hunting on the land, is the first state lease to designate guaranteed annual payments for permanent improvements to the property. Johnson will be required to make $21,465 a year in permanent improvements such as the building of fences and windmills, brush and erosion control, and the development of water resources and pipelines. Money spent on improvements will be credited toward his lease payment of $53,405 a year.

The $5.60 an acre for grazing rights is the highest ever charged by the state, according to land commissioner Gary Mauro. He said the state average for grazing rights is 30 cents an acre. Mauro noted, "Basically, we tried to sign a lease that would increase the present economic value of the land and enhance the property on a long-term basis."

The lease is the first to include a soil and water conservation plan which will be closely monitored and audited by the Soil Conservation Service, a feature that will be included in all future surface leases, Mauro said.

The lease also calls for the development of a wildlife habitat and game reserve with the Parks and Wildlife Department coordinating the work.

The state acquired the Hackberry Creek Ranch from owner Roy Furr in December by trading several smaller parcels of land. The trade removed 9,499 acres of land from the Briscoe County tax roll at a loss of about $780 in taxes. The land was appraised at an agriculture value of $251,000 and the county tax rate is 31 cents per $100 valuation.

It was the second big chunk of land taken from the county's taxable land in recent years. The formation of Caprock Canyons State Park took 12,500 acres.

While cutting into the county's tax money, the use of monies from the lease of state-owned lands will benefit the public school fund, where monies are invested and proceeds returned directly on a per school basis. The first $600 paid by the state for each student in a school district comes from this pool of money, according to land commissioner Mauro.

Mauro calls the Briscoe County lease "a small step in the right direction" by the state land office to eliminate non-productive land. When he was campaigning last fall for the land commissioner's job, Mauro said he "promised to run the state lands like a business."

Visitors in the Buster Chadwick home over the weekend were their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watson and children of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Wesly Woods and Children of Plainview, and Miss Stachia Chadwick of Clarendon.

The overall decrease in the teenage smoking rate has not affected 17 and 18-year-old girls. Almost one out of every four girls in that age group smokes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley of Dalhart came to Quitaque Thursday and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor joined them and they all drove to Anson to visit the C. C. Moss family. On Friday, the Mosses and their guests drove about an hour and a half out to the ranch of a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hunt, to go quail hunting. They had good luck and that night, they had a quail feast in the Moss home. Others who joined them for the meal were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moss of Anson, Mrs. Leslie Beard of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Jones of Anson, Keith Gilbert of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hunt.

Saturday night, the Mosses and their guests drove to Abilene and visited Ray Moss, a brother of C. C. Moss, who is very ill in Hendricks Memorial Hospital. Later, the group had dinner at Luby's Cafeteria.

The Taylors and the Bradleys returned home Sunday.

"Pick a Phone, Any Phone?"

Just because a phone will plug into your wall jack, it doesn't mean that it will work.

Why?

Well, for instance, let's look at a phone that will be used on a party-line. Since customers share a common line to the telephone company switching office, each phone has its own special ringing-cycle setting which allows the phone to know when it should ring on the party-line.

Even if you have a 'Private Line', you still may have problems.

Single-line customers may also have special dialing or ringing requirements that are not apparent. So, they purchase a new phone and sadly discover that it won't work. This is especially true for customers who may be considering a cordless telephone or even a universal dialing telephone, a clock radio that offers telephone access capability or any other special telephone service.

Trading in your dial phone could be asking for trouble.

The joy of owning your very own 'Touch Tone' phone could turn into tragedy if your phone line is designated for a dial or pulse phone. A pushbutton 'pulse' phone will work on most lines, since it also duplicates the signal of a regular dial phone. However, a 'Touch Tone' phone emits a 'beeping' tone that requires special equipment to recognize the signal. Some dial phones, even if you have Touch Call Service, are not compatible under certain circumstances.

So, if you decide to buy a new telephone, take the time to stop by your neighborhood GTE Phone Mart and see if your particular line has any special limitations. It could possibly save you a lot of frustration and money.

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried — a place where you could be alone with your thoughts — a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage — but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your place of worship.

Let it be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

Edge of America

A barren beach — some plunging waves — and then for thousands of miles, the sea. Poets might think that way. But millions share the thought . . . this is the edge of America!

But the edge of our nation has been closing in. Within our restless society we have confronted a new edge of America — a shoreline of freedom, of justice, of mutual respect of men for one another and for their institutions. When you leave that shore behind, there is nothing . . .

Look rather at the heart of America. Look at the spiritual treasure which inspired patriots to crown religious liberty as the supreme freedom.

Each week our churches pursue their sacred mission. More and more they've been welcoming families like your own . . . folks who have seen the edge of America — and are seeking the heart!

Governor
Mark White
REPORTS

AUSTIN—Four out of five Dallas-area teachers, responding to a recent Savitz Research Center survey, doubt Texas high schools are graduating students equipped to deal with real world demands.

Just as disturbing are survey results that quote an equally large percentage of teachers as blaming discipline problems for interfering with classroom instruction.

Teachers are in the classroom to teach, not to strong-arm students who are out of "self-control." As test scores drop and the cost of school-related property crime surpasses $200 million per year nationwide, those of us concerned with child behavior—parents, teachers and law enforcement officials—have a basic lesson to learn: how to teach children to expect limits without limiting expectations.

We are beginning to realize that a classroom teacher, like the corporate executive, needs special management training to deal with on-the-job crises.

As part of a pilot project, Southwest Texas State University offered a series of teacher workshops this summer in Classroom Discipline Management and Strategy funded by a $265,000 state criminal justice division grant.

Operated under the direction of the Texas Juvenile Justice Center, this program trained classroom teachers to cope with student discipline problems, truancy, drug abuse and delinquency. It provided a starting point for developing in-school "suspension" programs for disruptive students and maintaining an up-to-date directory of agencies and organizations available to help local school districts confronting discipline, crime and drug problems.

This practical approach to classroom management training is expected to provide a model for future undergraduate course work for student teachers in Texas colleges and universities.

It is also essential that we teach elementary school-age children about our criminal justice system, while they are formulating their attitudes toward authority and learning to distinguish right from wrong.

While I was state attorney general, I worked with the State Bar, educators, police, probation officials, and juvenile justice experts to develop that kind of program.

As Governor, I have approved a $111,153 criminal justice division grant to finance a one-year pilot program in about 25 schools across Texas to give young children straight-forward information about their rights and responsibilities in a free society. The object is not to scare our children into doing right, but to teach them how to become good citizens.

A preliminary finding, issued by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention in Washington, suggests that law-related education has the potential to reduce anti-social behavior in young people.

The Select Committee on Public School Education and the Texas Legislature are holding up a mirror to every aspect of public school education to search for better answers to the debate over teacher pay, financial aid to poor school districts, and a balanced curriculum.

But we cannot expect a Renaissance in education in this state unless we can achieve a rebirth of discipline in our classrooms and self-discipline in our children.

Tap water that's too hot can be hazardous to your health, says Dr. Mary Ann Heussner, a health education specialist with Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service.

Each year, thousands of people are scalded by tap water. Those most likely to be injured are preschoolers, the elderly and handicapped.

Tap water scalds are usually more extensive than other burns because many occur in the bathtub or shower where larger portions of the body are exposed at one time to the hot water.

Small children and the elderly or handicapped may be unable to react quickly enough to get out of water that is too hot before it scalds, says the specialist. But hot water burns don't have to happen if homeowners will simply lower the temperature of water in their hot water heaters to a safe range, she adds.

The 1979 Surgeon General's Report estimated that of the six million Americans under age 20 who smoke, 100,000 of them are 12 years old and younger.

More than 1.2 million cubic yards of earth and rock had to be excavated from the site of Manhattan's World Trade Center before building could commence.

Blaze Orange

The deer and turkey season which started Nov. 12 in most Texas counties is substantially safer for hunters if they would wear orange clothing.

This is the opinion of the education officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department who cite statistics from states which show wear of fluorescent color enhances the number of hunters without affecting the number of deer or turkey.

"Hunter blaze or fluorescent orange is the most easily recognized color for hunters under all weather conditions," said J. D. assistant hunter education director. "In some states this material is mandatory in mandatory accidents has been reduced as much as 50 percent."

Hunter orange is not a new thing in Texas except public hunts on the department's wildlife management areas for deer, turkey, quail and quail. When hunting these animals, hunters are required to wear a minimum of 400 square inches of orange material.

COLORED LEAVES AB

A quiet revolution takes place every fall. Slowly but surely, the leaves of trees and shrubs become a riot of red, orange and yellow for spectacular fall displays.

It's all tied to chemistry. As the season gives way to fall, the chlorophyll—the green pigment in leaves—breaks down, and other pigments, mainly carotenoids and anthocyanins, become visible. Leaf colors can vary with weather conditions and the amount of pigments in leaves.

Blaze Orange Can Protect Hunters

The deer and turkey hunting season which started November 12 in most Texas counties would be substantially safer for hunters if they would wear "blaze orange" clothing.

This is the opinion of hunter education officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, who cite statistics from other states which show wearing the fluorescent color enhances safety without affecting hunter success.

"Hunter blaze or fluorescent orange is the most easily seen and recognized color for hunters under all weather and light conditions," said J. D. Peer, assistant hunter education coordinator. "In some states where this material is mandatory, the number of 'mistaken for game' accidents has been reduced by as much as 50 percent."

Hunter orange is not mandatory in Texas except during public hunts on the department's wildlife management areas for deer, turkey, quail and javelina. When hunting these species, hunters are required to wear a minimum of 400 square inches of the orange material.

COLORED LEAVES ABOUND

A quiet revolution takes place every fall. Slowly but surely, leaves of trees and shrubs become a riot of red, purple, orange and yellow for spectacular fall displays.

It's all tied to chemical processes in leaves as the summer season gives way to fall and the approaching winter, notes a forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Changes in temperatures and daylight hours cause the chlorophyll—the green pigment in leaves—to break down, allowing other pigments, mainly yellows and oranges, to become more visible. Leaf colors can vary due to weather conditions and the amount of pigments in leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter spent Friday night and Saturday in Lubbock visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Carter and Melanie.

"Another plus for hunter orange is that about 10 percent of hunters have some form of visual deficiency for color," Peer added. "The traditional red clothing cannot be seen well by hunters who have trouble distinguishing colors."

Peer advises Texas hunters to be sure blaze orange clothing they purchase meets the standards of the states where it is required. Faded material should be replaced, he said.

HELP OFFERED FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE BREATHLESS

Practice pursed-lip breathing! Learn how to cough! Exercise your muscles!

These are just a few of the hundreds of suggestions in "Help Yourself To Better Breathing," a free booklet offered by the American Lung Association of Texas especially for persons with emphysema and chronic bronchitis.

Chock-full of excellent "how-to" hints, this large-size 24-page booklet is illustrated by famous artist Roy Doty. There are first-person stories about how people have learned to cope with breathlessness. And specific directions on how to clear breathing passages of mucus.

Exercises for postural drainage and building stamina are illustrated.

Another section of this bright, helpful booklet identifies troublemakers, such as air pollution, extremes of weather, infections, and smoking and how to avoid them.

"Help Your Medicines Help You" describes various medicines and the importance of working closely with a physician. There are spaces within the booklet to write individual directions for taking each medicine.

Breathing aids, such as nebulizers, respirators, oxygen, humidifiers and vaporizers are described. There is even a section on eating to feel better.

The "Keep Living Your Life" chapter can help people suffering from chronic bronchitis or emphysema lead full, enjoyable lives despite their illness.

The booklet is used by participants in the Lung Association's Breathing Clubs, the exercise and education program for adults who have breathing problems.

health hint

Congress and the President have joined with a growing number of concerned Americans who are working to focus national attention on a health problem that can be life-threatening to children under 16. Congress named the week of November 7 through 13, 1983, as National Reye's Syndrome Week.

Reye's syndrome (pronounce it "rye") is recognized by the U.S. Public Health Service as one of the top ten killers among children's diseases.

The U.S. Surgeon General has issued a warning to parents: "Don't immediately give aspirin or any medication containing aspirin to children with chicken pox or flu." Check first with your doctor. The relationship between Reye's and aspirin is suspected, not proven.

Reye's syndrome most often strikes children between five and 16 who are recovering from viral infections, such as flu or chicken pox. This serious condition begins with vomiting and lethargy and may progress to delirium and coma. It is rare, but can be fatal and requires immediate emergency medical attention.

Insect fights insect in new international entomology project

COLLEGE STATION— Several species of tiny parasitic wasps will battle to the death in a Texas A&M University laboratory as part of an international project to find natural controls for a crop-destroying fly.

Texas A&M entomologist Dr. Brad Vinson heads the study pitting the insects in a "survival of the fittest" experiment to determine which species can be used to kill millions of tiny "dandruff-like" tobacco whiteflies that destroy crops both here and abroad.

The three-year project, sponsored by a $200,000 grant from the Binational Agricultural Research and Development Program in Tel Aviv, through the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, depends on the technique of integrated pest management in which wasps are used to control the flies that have proven resistant to chemical means, Vinson said.
