Ray Price Concert To Be This Saturday In Turkey

by Lawana Cruse

Back in 1967 Ray Price turned the country music industry upside down and was driven into semi-exile for it when he recorded the beautiful Danny Boy with a 47 piece orchestra. Country music critics were horrified. It wasn't country enough. Deejays refused to play it. But when he first sang Danny Boy with full strings at the Grand Ole Opry in the Ryman Auditorium the audience went wild and that was when Ray got it in his mind that he wanted the sound of strings instead of straight hard country. Things went downhill for him after that and he left Nashville and came back home to Texas.

In 1970, he recorded the Kris Kristofferson song For the Good Times. Other singers had recorded it but it took Ray Price's version to make it a hit. It won the "Country Music Association of America" Song of the Year award, "Billboards," award and earned the International Academy of Country and Western Music "Single of the Year" honors. It was on the charts for two years selling more than a million copies. It went on to sell more than 11 million copies.

In the early '80s he was dropped from the label for which he had made millions of dollars, like a lot of the other country-western singers who laid the foundation for country music.

But Ray Price is back and going strong. He says he still can't get much airplay but it hasn't affected the draw at his concerts, which seem to be on the upswing. People want to hear real country music again and now there are several good radio stations that are playing more traditional country.

Fourth Annual Quitauque Quest Will Be October 25

The fourth annual Quitauque Quest mountain bike race will be held at Caprock Canyons State Park Saturday, October 25th. The cross country race, sponsored by the Caprock Bike Club, will start on the north side of Lake Theo on Eagles Point Trail at 10:30 a.m. with registration beginning at 8 a.m.

Seventy five riders are expected to compete on the 12 mile course. The less experienced participants will ride one loop of the course while the intermediate and highly experienced riders must complete two loops or 24 miles of rugged terrain. Following Eagles Point Trail, the course will utilize the Upper Canyon Trail, the Lower Canyon Trail and will end on the newly developed Canyon Rim Trail. The course has been made even more difficult due to summer rains and all creek crossings are flowing with water and the embankments are very sandy.

The Quitauque Quest bike race is a part of the bike races called West Texas Chainbreaker mountain bike race series. Other races in the series are held at Lubbock, PaloDuro Canyon, Brownwood, and San Angelo. Riders who participate in the series earn points which determine overall series champions. Quitauque Quest is the third race in the series and is very important to participants because double points are earned. The last race in the series will be held at San Angelo.

Riders who compete in Quitauque Quest will earn prizes of merchandise and cash. Those competing in the 24 mile events will win cash awards while the beginner category can earn awards of merchandise. All entrants will receive a T-shirt and water bottles if they are among the first 75 entries.

About 50 volunteers from the community of Quitauque will man various responsibilities. This biking event could not be conducted without the help of volunteers who insure a safe and fun time for everyone concerned. The public is invited to view the race and get a feel for the excitement from start to finish. The event should take about three hours.

A Beautiful Fall Day, Saturday, For Quitauque's Fall Foliage Fest

by Arlene Hinkle

The Fall Foliage Fest has come and gone, leaving behind some new crafter freinds and, hopefully, some new craft purchases. The Main Street Arts and Crafts was deemed a success by the crafters and most asked to be put on the mailing list for National Trails Day.

The cloggers were full of energy and fancy footwork, and their performances were enjoyed by all.

The tractor-pull got off to a slow start, but quite a few boys and girls eventually signed up. They really had to work for their winning spots.

The Book Sale at the Library drew a good crowd, and Sut was encouraging one and all to buy, buy, buy!

Clyde Dudley and Matt Barrett were the announcer and driver for the day--not sure which one was in charge of the siren, but it was an attention getter. Even in a small town such as Quitauque, people have a hard time finding where events are being held.

The pumpkin desserts were "scrumptious" as always and Karol and Inetha did a wonderful job of decorating and preparing for the soup and salad luncheon.

The Health fair was a very necessary project and much information was available to all. The immunizations were well-received and the safety display made believers out of all.

If you missed the Glass and More that was displayed by We the Women, you truly missed a treat. Those who brought their treasures to share with others were really appreciated.

Mayfield and Associates were number one in the scarecrow contest with Prof Patrick coming in second. The judges were in a quandary trying to choose which of the many scarecrow displays were the best. They commented on the unique originality of all of the scarecrows displayed.

Turkey Halloween Carnival Set

The Trick or Treat boys and girls will be out on Friday, October 31.

On Saturday evening, October 25, the Firemen and Auxillary will be serving dinner before the 7 p.m. concert by Ray Price.

THEN and NOW!

by Eunice McFall

Who says you can't go home again? Of course you can travel back to the place that you always think of as your original home. But the distance is only the first step that you will take in your journey home. Once you arrive there after being away for 20-30-40 or 50 years, you realize that you could be in a totally different town if you had not read the city limits sign when you were driving into town. Oh well, things are bound to change over the years and you continue on down the street. Now where is that little drug store that you got such great sodas at, why I do believe it is still there. Must remember to stop in and order one for old times sake. What? You no longer have a soda fountain? How can you call yourself a drug store when you do not make the best sodas that I ever remember having a sip of?

Next you try to go to the old home place--well now it is around here somewhere--well what do you know you found it but something is wrong with the sight of it--the house is not quite as large or as tall as you remember it and the trees are so much smaller than you remember them being and where in the world did the windmill and barn go? Oh well, you were just seeing the old home place in the mind and eye of a child. You walk up the path and knock on the door and as a smiling lady answers, you tell her that you once upon a time lived in this very house! She asks who you are and you tell her your name and she has a very puzzled look on her face as she has never heard of anyone by your name having lived on this place but she is kind enough to let you roam through the smaller than you thought rooms, dreaming about the happy times that you spent during your growing up years in these rooms.

On to the school were you entered in the first grade and finally graduated from eleven to thirteen years later. Well, what do you know, this too has changed--it hasn't shrunk like the home but it seems that it has been built onto and perhaps a street has been closed to allow more buildings to go up to house all the new stuff that is necessary to have in the schools today. Why, you get lost just trying to find the old auditorium. And there is no need to look for the gym as the old one has been torn down many years ago and a new larger one built.

You remember the little store that was across the street from the school where you could buy a coke or school supplies or even a hamburger at noon. When you look around there is no such place to be seen. The football field too has been improved even though it is in the same place. Better bleachers and field house. Why the home-making department even has a cottage to hold their classes in! quite different to the two rooms that you attended home economics in. Time does have a way of marching on and changes do occur but you can still go home again, just be prepared for the changes, some good and some not so good! If you don't believe this just take a look in the mirror and compare that picture with one of you 20 years ago!

THINGS SEEN OR HEARD

by Ann Coker

Enjoying a cruise are Wes and Karen McDougall. They boarded their cruise ship in New Orleans. Karen is the daughter of Dot Arnold. Recently Nadine Baisden returned to her home in Turkey. She had been visiting with her son and family, the Jim Baisdens, in Grapevine. While there she also had some doctors appointments.

Lisa Campbell and Tina Carson are presently doing the Walk to Emmaus, a religious experience. Helping on the Walk to Emmaus is the Methodist pastor, Julius Early.

Guests in the home of Lorene Setliff last week-end were son, Kenny Setliff and his two boys from De Sota; son, Scotty and wife, Marie and new baby Ryan Setliff from Keller, grandson, Aaron Setliff, a student at Texas Tech and Bud and Alice Richardson from Tulia. Lorene swears she did not spoil her new grandson, Ryan.

Enjoyed visiting with Euman Lyles and his son Larry Lyles last Saturday. The Lyles live in Hereford.

Lacy Shannon has recently had back surgery in Amarillo. She will be home this week, but can do no lifting for quite sometime.

I attended a funeral in McLean last Tuesday for a cousin, John Haynes. I met the family at 11:30 at the Methodist Church for lunch and we visited there until time for the funeral.

John's grandson, Thacker Haynes, officiated at the funeral. Thacker is the pastor of the McLean Methodist Church. In my opinion, it was the best funeral sermon I have ever heard. Jerrel Meacham, a former Turkey resident had told me how good he was. I heartily agree with Mr. Meacham. Jerrel Meacham was a pallbearer.

It is always great to read about the success of former Valley coaches.

Rick Price, the head coach at Nazareth, has been there for eight seasons. His record for those eight years is won 53, lost 19 and tied 1. Last Friday night the Nazareth team defeated Springlake-Earth, the fourth ranked team in the state, 20-7.

Sam Browning, another ex-coach at Valley is now coaching the Miami Warriors. He has been in Miami for four seasons and his record is won 22 games and lost 7 games. I'm quite proud of these two ex-Valley Coaches.

Jim Hutchins, who lives east of Turkey stated his wife, Rhonda had suffered a problem with breathing. She was sent to Dallas to a nose specialist. The doctor did surgery and now she is breathing normally. Lorene Setliff said her grandson, Aaron Setliff, and Gene and Fredia Fuston's daughter, Kasey Fuston are both enrolled in Law School at Texas Tech. They have their classes together.

1945 Graduating Class Holds Reunion

The Turkey High School Class of 1945 held their 52nd year reunion Saturday, October 18th at Senior Citizens Room. This was the smallest number to ever attend, but the ones that did attend "re-lived" their school days. It was a sad time, also, because of a death in one member's family and also illness in several families.

Sixteen members and their spouses attended. They were Jack and Jeanette (Barnhill) Case of Matador; Scott Clark and Sue of Plainview; Birt Lane and Pat of Plainview; John Harold Shannon and Pat of Killeen; Billy Lyles, Patsy and Beth; Billie (Geissler) Robison; Peggy (Gipson) Logan and Troy; and Oleta (Cunningham) Randell and Louis, all of Turkey.

The group decided to have their next reunion in the year 2000, which will be their 55th year.

Faulkner Reunion

Bill and Ida Farley last week-end were in Comanche, Oklahoma to attend the Faulkner Cousins reunion. The Faulkner cousins have enjoyed this cousin reunion in Oklahoma for several years.

Ida's sister-in-law, Wanda Faulkner, returned home with Ida and Bill to spend Saturday and Sunday nights with them before returning to her home in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Ida reported they thoroughly enjoyed the reunion and are looking forward to next year's reunion.

Turkey Senior Citizens to Meet

The next meeting for the Turkey Senior Citizens will be October 28th at 6 o'clock.

Come and bring a covered dish and join in the fun, food and fellowship.

Open House at Liberty Suites In Tulia, Sunday

Open House will be held this Sunday, October 26th from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at Liberty Suites in Tulia located by the Conestoga Restaurant on North Highway 87. Liberty Suites is a full-service retirement apartment complex for area senior citizens. Door prizes, refreshments and tours of model apartments will be the open house agenda.

Barbara Scroggins, daughter of Louise Chandler and a Quitaque native, purchased the Crows Motel and is converting it into retirement apartments for area senior citizens. The property will offer a variety of services and is the first apartment complex of its kind in Swisher County.

Ms. Scroggins' company has owned and operated Unlimited Care in Tulia for the past four years. Unlimited Care is a private residential long-term care home as an alternative to nursing home institutions for persons needing around-the-clock care and living assistance.

The new apartment complex is designed to enhance and extend senior citizens' liberty of personal choice and independence in a rural town atmosphere. Ms. Scroggins stated "Our goal is to meet needs of senior citizens who don't require around-the-clock care, but desire to live independently in a safe and secure environment with services such as daily meals, housekeeping and linen laundry. Emergency call systems are in each apartment with staff available on the premises at all times in case of emergencies."

According to Ms. Scroggins, "If senior citizens have a clean, safe place to live with daily nutritious meals and companionship of others living nearby, it can prevent moving to a nursing home environment."

For questions regarding apartment rates and services, Barbara can be reached at 806/995-4300 or 1-800-753-2973.

The Valley Junior High Patriots suffered another defeat last Thursday night at Kress where they confronted the Farwell Steers. The final score was 6-38 in favor of the Steers. At 8 a.m. the cheerleaders put on a pep-rally in the school parking lot, despite the cold weather.

The 18th of September a pep-rally was held in the gym at noon. Visiting was Rusty Henson who delivered a speech that stirred the patriot spirit. Zeola Taylor also visited, posing as Chubby Checkers. She taught everyone how to do the twist, and in exchange for their cooperation they got candy.

Last week the Happy Cowboys, (AKA pep-squad officers) appeared fully attired to do the Cotton-Eye Joe across a "Beat Valley" sign with the help of the football boys. Galen and Colt gave a speech.

The Patriots plan to secure a victory this coming Thursday on their home field when they will take on the Springlake-Earth Wolverines at 5 p.m. Another exciting Pep-Rally will take place at 12:05 p.m. in the gym so come on out and show your spirit.

Red Ribbon Celebration To Be At Valley School

by Rhonda Rogers-Farner

For the 12th straight year, the Red Ribbon Campaign is being held in an effort to present a unified and visible commitment to the creation of a drug-free Texas. The campaign focus is on an enhanced awareness of the harmful effects of tobacco, alcohol and other drug use.

The Valley School will participate in the 1997 Red Ribbon Campaign. Prevention activities at every grade level have been planned by the Valley Student Council and the counselor. Students will be encouraged to take a stand against the unlawful use of drugs, tobacco or alcohol. Various activities such as the "Chain of Life," "Wear Red Day" and the "Grim Reaper" will educate students about the harmful effects of such substances.

The highlight of the week will be the annual "Red Ribbon Talent Show" sponsored by the Valley Student Council. The talent show emphasizes the theme that "a great time can be had without the use of drugs or alcohol." Valley students will provide the talent which will begin at 9 a.m. on Friday, October 24. The public is encouraged to attend.

Many of our nation's youth are being destroyed by drug and alcohol problems. Our community is not immune to this problem. The Valley School will celebrate Red Ribbon Week to provide a comprehensive alcohol and drug prevention program that emphasizes making healthy choices in life.

"...whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord."

-Ephesians 6:8

In a simpler age than the one in which we are now living, people used to help each other and their communities whenever they were needed. If the neighbors' house burned down, everyone pitched in with labor and materials to help them rebuild it, and provided food, clothing and blankets. If the town needed a place cleaned up to establish a park, the entire population went to work on it. Fortunately, this spirit of cooperation still prevails in some areas. Many a House of Worship must be maintained on a very limited budget; so if the one you attend calls for volunteers to paint the walls, pull the weeds in the parking lot or type the bulletin, raise your hand and lend it for whatever task you are able to perform. It is so little to ask in return for all the blessings you have received there from God's guidance and love.

"... we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly."
- Hebrews 13:18

It is a tragic weakness of human nature that we sometimes yield to the temptation to get away with something or to get something for nothing; and this tragedy is greatly compounded when our children are thus encouraged to acquire this trait. They might easily overhear Dad bragging about the way he cheated on his income tax return, or watch Mom gleefully displaying the item from the market that the cashier forgot to charge her for. It is no wonder that teenage shoplifting has become rampant in recent years. Your House of Worship teaches you that dishonesty does not show on the surface, nor does it come in degrees; but one way or another it will eventually catch up with you. Resolve to let faith help you avoid or overcome this insidious moral disease, before it can infect your children. You will also find it much easier to live with yourself.

 Pejinks was doing right well for himself with the boxing gloves for some time after entering the Marine corps, but we haven't heard anything lately regarding his prowess with the stuffed mitts. We did miss him though in the Turk baseball lineup the past season. He is a nice ball player, considering his tender years, and his dad reported that he also was a first-rate boxer by the same standard—especially in company like the Marines. ♦♦
