City Drug Of Turkey Takes Part In Unique Anti-Drug Program

Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse (PADA), an anti-drug abuse public information campaign designed to help educate parents on the health dangers of the abuse of drugs by children, was recently launched nationwide.

Sponsored by the Pharmacists Against Abuse Foundation, created by McNeil Pharmaceutical and the Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies, PADA focuses on alcohol and marijuana which, are two drugs young people are most likely to use in entering the drug scene, according to those in a position to know. The campaign focuses on cocaine, the fastest growing drug of abuse in America. Parents and children need to know that using these drugs is harmful—that's why we're actively distributing a free brochure titled "The Kinds of Drugs Kids Are Getting Into," say the neighborhood druggists.

The PADA Foundation developed the program because pharmacists, by academic training and professional experience, are experts on drugs and a good source of information on drug abuse. For a free brochure or more information, visit City Drug in Turkey, it was announced this week.

The Turkey United Methodist Women met Monday, May 7, for the second session of the study on Africa. The president, Mrs. Gene Fuston, presided. Mrs. Bert Degan gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. R. C. Green gave a short devotional entitled, "Kindness," which was based on Proverbs 19:22. The leader, Mrs. W. L. There are three main religions there, Islam, Christianity and Traditional Religion. They want it their own way, not western style, she said. Made in Africa by Africans. They say the Islam religion came from Abraham's son, Ishmel.

Mrs. Armstrong also told about some remarks Anthony B.

Fadely, an African missionary, made concerning Africa. He said he was awakened at 4:00 one morning and went to see what was happening. The Christians were singing "How Great Thou Art," "the Hallelujah Chorus" and "Amazing Grace" with gusto at that early hour. He asked, how many of us would do that? He said Christianity is growing in Africa.

There were nine members present.

Problems of Emphysema Cited

Emphysema, a disease afflict-ing more than 1.3 million Ameri-cans, usually does not appear until middle age. The symptoms do not manifest themselves until after extensive damage has occurred and is seldom seen in nonsmokers.

Emphysema causes permanent damage to the lungs, cutting down the amount of surface air available for transporting oxy-gen to the blood. Its major symptom is shortness of breath, which becomes worse as more lung tissue is damaged. Emphy-sema places such demands on the heart that death often comes from heart failure.

Although treatment can some-times help relieve discomfort, damage which has already taken place cannot be reversed. The treatment for emphysema is complicated; machines, medicine, special exercises, tubes, and frequent trips to the hospital are all routine. The best solution or course of action is prevent the disease. According to the Ameri-can Lung Association of Texas, the way to prevent emphysema is to stop smoking before it occurs.

For those who want to stop smoking the Lung Association recommends the Freedom From Smoking in 20 Days Program which provides a positive ap-proach to gradual cessation.

To order the two manuals contact the American Lung Asso-ciation of Texas, 7701 N. Lamar, Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752. A donation of $7.00 is requested to cover costs of printing and mailing each set of Freedom From Smoking books.

Summer Basketball Camp To Be Held For Area Boys

Registration is now open for the 27th Annual Wayland Baptist University Summer Basketball Camp, according to Pioneer Head Coach Mark Adams. Three week-long sessions are scheduled, with all activities taking place on the Wayland campus.

The camp, which annually attracts boys aged 8-11 from throughout Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, is directed by 1983-84 NAIA District 8 Coach of the Year Mark Adams. He will be assisted by Pioneer team mem-bers and several outstanding area college and high school coaches including WBU assistant Rick Cooper, Flying Queens Head Coach Dave Ketterman, Joe Mondragon of Clarendon College, and WBU student assis-tant Kelly Kitchens.

Stress will be placed on improving each player's funda-mental skills, with a premium placed on individual instruction. Campers will be exposed to techniques and various basket-ball skills that will lead to im-mediate improvement in any age group. And, as an added aid, each participant will receive a basketball report card to help gauge individual progress.

All campers will be housed in a modern air-conditioned residence hall on the Wayland campus and will have access to several recreational areas, including the modern McClung University Center game room and snack bar. Meals will be prepared by the WBU staff and served in the campus cafeteria. Other possible attractions include a swimming party and movie.

Each camper will be covered by accident insurance and a training room and medical attention will be available. Immediate access to Central Plains Regional Hospital is also an advantage. Each boy should bring a physi-cian's statement of fitness to registration.

Sessions are scheduled for July 8-13, July 15-20 and July 29-August 3.

Registration will be held the first day of each session in Hutcherson Physical Education Center, the site of all instruction-al sessions. Total cost is $135 for resident campers and $85 for commuters. Enrollment is limited to the first 80 participants in each session and a $25 deposit should be included with each application.

For more information on the camp, send for a free brochure from the Wayland Athletic Office or go by the office in Hutcher-son Center. Brochures may be obtained by writing Adams in care of Wayland Baptist Univer-sity, 900 W. 7th, Plainview, Texas 79072.

The Superintendent's Corner

by Wilburn Leeper

The Texas Legislative Council has prepared its preliminary draft of a bill relating to public schools. The draft will be considered by the legislature this summer if that legislative body is called into special session by the Governor.

The recommendations do not contain a lot of surprises because a major part of the proposal comes directly from Mr. H. Ross Perot and the committee which he chairs. Under this proposed program, provisions are made for a career ladder for teaching personnel with built-in salary change, current operating expenses, categorial programs, and transportation services. Cost estimates for the program are greatly increased over the cost of the current expenditures.

The career ladder provision will perhaps be one of the most costly items to be considered. It is a revolutionary idea which takes into consideration a number of conclusions when teacher salary, placement and retention are at issue. According to the plan, each teacher will be assigned to one of the four ladder levels and the assignment will be based on performance, experience, job related education, advanced academic training, and job assignment. Probably all teachers with two years or more experience will be assigned to level two but with the possibility to advance to level four within 15 years. All beginning teachers will start in level one and may advance to other levels only through a complicated series of appraisals, performance, years of experience and academic criteria. Level four, considered the master teaching level, will be very difficult to reach but will be worthwhile in salary. There are plans for salary advancement within each level but a maximum could be reached if advancement to a higher level is not completed.

This is a merit pay type system which rewards teachers for excellence but will be quite expensive when the bill comes due. One prevalent idea in support of the plan is that it provides a way for outstanding classroom teachers to remain in the classroom without being deprived of a good salary. The present system, especially for men teachers, makes it necessary to go into school administration if they want the higher salaries. Preliminary figures show that a master teacher could earn a salary in the range of over $30,000 while the beginning teacher would start with an annual salary of $15,020.

There is a good chance the Legislature will say this whole package is far too expensive. Who knows! Every legislative session is an exciting time, especially when it comes to solving education problems. This session may be vicious as well as exciting and when it is over it is very likely no one will be completely satisfied.

In light of what happened in the destruction of the Motley County School, most school districts in the area are taking another look at their property insurance coverage. Valley is no exception. The Board of Trustees evaluated the insurance coverage two years ago and set the current coverage at $1,209,000 on the main building, gym, bus barn and fixtures. We try to keep the insurance as close to replacement cost as we can afford.

Lisa Herrington received her degree in accounting last Saturday from Texas Tech University. She is now interviewing for positions with several accounting firms and has not made a firm commitment for her future. Lisa is a 1980 graduate of Valley and we are very proud of her.

Terry Brittan was home over the weekend and visited at the school. Terry is now employed by the State School for Mental Health and Retardation in Odesa. Terry is enjoying his work and hopes to return to college and earn a degree in accounting. He is a 1980 graduate of Valley School.

Border Cities Suffering Because Of Devaluation, Adverse Weather Conditions

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, saying economic problems along the U. S. border with Mexico have reached a "point that demands the attention of Congress," introduced legislation recently to help put the border economy back on its feet.

The Bentsen bill, drawn up over a period of several weeks, is in response to a series of problems and setbacks that have severely damaged the border economy. The setbacks include reductions in the value of the Mexican peso and disastrous weather conditions.

"As a result of the peso devaluations, the amount of money spent by Mexican nationals on this side of the border fell from $4.6 billion in 1981 to only $450 million in 1982, less than a tenth of what it had been a year earlier."

"Hundreds of businesses have been forced to close their doors. Tax collections have declined dramatically, putting the backs of local governments and schools to the wall."

"Unemployment in one border county, Starr County, has reached 46.2 percent. The rate of joblessness in county after county up and down the border far exceeds the national average."

"Farm losses, as the result of a devastating freeze last December, are still being totaled, but they will surely exceed $50 million."

Among the provisions in the Bentsen bill is one which would reauthorize the Economic Development Administration with a specific section providing air to communities that have suffered sudden and severe economic hardship as a result of weather disasters and foreign currency devaluations.

The bill also amends the 1974 Trade Act, directing the Secretary of Commerce to help border cities implement programs that would increase their foreign trade capacity. Another provision seeks to prevent proposed cutbacks in the U. S. Customs Service that would further slow the flow of trade across the border.

The Bentsen bill seeks to boost industry along the border by providing that counties suffering economic dislocation as a result of foreign currency devaluations and with unemployment and poverty substantially higher than national averages be designated as Enterprise Zones. Legislation now before Congress would create Enterprise Zones, hardship areas which would offer special tax incentives as an inducement to business and industry.

The bill would also launch a study of the feasibility of establishing a Veterans Administration medical facility in South Texas to serve the 78,000 veterans living there and it would reauthorize the community loan programs of the Farmers Home Administration.

"I believe the time has come for the Senate to address the pressing needs of the people who live along the U. S. border with Mexico," Bentsen said.

"I hope that we can work aggressively to solve these problems in a bi-partisan fashion," Senator Bentsen concluded.

Agriculture-Related Businesses May Be Eligible For Assistance

Agriculture related businesses in several Texas counties may be eligible to apply for financial assistance from the U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA) under the Agency's Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) program.

Ag-related businesses who sustained economic injury and business losses due to a variety of physical disasters from May 1, 1983 to November 30, 1983 may be eligible for the EIDL loans through August 1, 1984, according to Philip J. O'Jibway, district director of SBA's Lubbock office.

Texas counties included in the declaration are Comanche, Dickens, Donley, Eastland, Fisher, Foard, Hockley, Jones, Kent, Menard, Mills, Motley, Potter, San Saba, Scurry, Swisher, Tom Green, Briscoe, Crosby, Dallam, Randall, Floyd and Taylor.

"Only business loan applicants who are determined unable to obtain credit elsewhere are eligible for assistance," O'Jibway said. "EIDL loans are made by the SBA to small businesses sustaining substantial economic injury as a direct result of the physical disaster in their county, whether or not the business had actual physical damage."

The interest rate for eligible businesses under SBA's EIDL program is eight percent.

O'Jibway said individual business owners seeking more information or requesting loan applications may contact SBA's Area 3 Disaster Office at 2306 Oak Lane, Suite 110, Grand Prairie, Texas 75051 or call toll free 800 442-7206.

SAFEGUARDS AID TRAINING PROGRAMS

AUSTIN — In each of the 950 public school districts which offer vocational education, there are safeguards to ensure that programs are current.

A major component in making sure that programs are doing their job is an advisory committee in each district comprised of business, industry and labor representatives. In communities in which committees are not used as they should be by our schools, we often have programs which leave something to be desired.

The State Board of Education, responding to the results of a 1981 Legislative mandated study of vocational education, is implementing stringent monitoring and evaluation activities in an effort to get rid of the deadwood. Every program is to have a five-year sunset provision which will force communities into using their advisory committees in evaluating programs. Approval of new programs is being tied to a list of high demand occupations.

Vocational education is an elective which by nature contributes to smaller classes. Required courses on the other hand will have larger classes because they have a captive audience.

Many vocational classes are smaller than what they could be and still maintain quality instruction. Efforts need to be made at combining classes with low numbers which have the same instruction. A teacher who instructs 10 to 12 students in a class and then turns around and teaches the same class later in the day involving 8 to 10 students should have the two classes combined where the teacher instructs 18 or 20 students at the same time. The Select Committee on Public Education has criti-

Basketball Camp To Be Held In June

Wayland Flying Queens Coach Dave Ketterman has announced dates for the annual Flying Queens Basketball Camp, scheduled for three week-long sessions in June.

The camp, which annually draws over 400 girls over the three-week period, is considered one of the best in the state and this year will be no exception. Ketterman and assistant Melissa McFerrin will join a host of outstanding high school and college coaches in all three sessions, scheduled June 3-8, 10-15 and 17-22.

Personal attention and instruction is a priority and enrollment in each session is limited to 140 for that reason. The cast of coaches and Flying Queen team members will provide individual instruction in fundamentals such as shooting, passing, dribbling, rebounding and team offense and defense. Emphasis is also placed on pride, teamwork, motivation, enthusiasm and hustle.

All instructional sessions will be held in Hutcherson Physical Education Center, home of the Flying Queens. Campers will be housed in air-conditioned Owen Hall and all meals will be served in the modern McClung University Center, which also houses a complete recreational facility. In addition, campers will have access to the Plainview YMCA recreational center, which includes an Olympic-size swimming pool.

Other camp features include junior and senior division leagues and all-star games, awards for outstanding performance, "Miss Congeniality" and "Honorary Flying Queen" awards each session, a Sunday evening devotional, and off-the-court recreational activities such as tennis, swimming, a talent show and movie.

Cost of the camp is $135 and a $35 deposit is required with application. Girls in grades five through 12 are eligible, but must meet Texas UIL rules. Out-of-state campers grades five through twelve are welcome to attend.

For more information, contact Ketterman at the Wayland Athletic Office or write him in care of Wayland Baptist University, 1900 W. 7th, Plainview, Texas 79072 for a free brochure.

Senate Panel Approves Bentsen Wildflower Bill

The Senate Transportation Subcommittee approved legislation recently by Senator Lloyd Bentsen that would encourage states to plant native wildflowers instead of grass along highways.

Bentsen, in urging approval of his bill, said it would not only "make available to millions of Americans the natural beauty of our country," but would also reduce mowing costs along highways and deter littering.

Senator Bentsen is ranking member of the subcommittee, which adopted his proposal as an amendment to highway legislation.

"It is with Lady Bird Johnson in mind that I propose this legislation. She has done so much to move us in the direction of appreciating and conserving the natural beauty of this great country," Bentsen said.

"Planting wildflowers along this nation's highways would not only beautify but would also help save millions of dollars at a time when both state and federal governments are looking hard for ways to hold down spending."

The Bentsen bill would offer an incentive to the individual states to plant wildflowers rather than grass as a groundcover along highways by stipulating that 25 percent of all federal highway landscaping funds be used for wildflowers.

Bentsen said the Texas Highway Department has made trial plantings of wildflowers on highways in 24 counties. Results indicate that wildflowers could reduce the $32 million the state spends on mowing each year by almost 25 percent since the flowers require less cutting than grass.

In addition, he said, state highway officials report a noticeable decline in the amount of litter thrown from cars in areas

Pointers For Parents

CAN YOU SPOT A KID WHO'S INTO DRUGS?

Right now, experts say, more than one-third of all kids in America use illegal drugs. One out of every 18 high school seniors is using marijuana every day. How can parents know if their child is one of them?

Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse (PADA), an innovative anti-drug abuse program designed to educate the public through local community pharmacists, offers these tips:

- Look for changes in behavior and appearance.
- School grades may suddenly start to drop.
- There's a loss of interest in things that were important, such as sports or other activities.
- There may be a withdrawal from family and friends and a tendency to "hang out" with new friends you're not invited to meet.
- Obvious signs include bloodshot eyes and persistent sweet, lingering odor on clothing.

PADA was organized through the efforts of McNeil Pharmaceutical and the Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies. The resulting public service campaign will use the resources of some 120,000 pharmacists at 55,000 pharmacies throughout the country. The

Your pharmacist can be a good source of information about drug abuse among youngsters.

White House Drug Abuse Policy Office, ACTION, PRIDE and the National Federation of Parents For Drug-Free Youth (NFP) are supporting the program.

PADA spokesmen emphasize the importance of parent involvement in this campaign, the need for them to know about drugs, to talk to their kids, to get involved in community organizations that can turn around the drug problem and drug culture in America.

Ask your pharmacist about the free PADA informational brochures and other information or call ACTION-PRIDE at 1-800-241-7946 or the NFP at 1-800-554-KIDS.

where wildflowers have been planted.

"This measure could give millions of people who travel on our nation's highways each day the opportunity to be uplifted by the unique contribution of wildflowers indigenous to that part of the country through which they are traveling," Bentsen said.

"I would urge that we join together to follow the lead of Lady Bird Johnson in beautifying our nation's highways and conserving a valuable national resource, while at the same time achieving significant savings," Senator Bentsen said.
