She said "We're seeking personal stories of what it was like to live and work during that period-whether as a farmer, a housewife, a businessman, a government or service worker or simply as a child growing up....."

If you would like to tell "your story" or send pictures, please call: COLLECT 212/865-4133 or you may sign up at Caprock Public Library in Quitaque and Ms. Nicolo will call you.

This will be filmed in August so she will be making contact in July.

Incident Command System Class Coming

The City of Quitaque volunteer services would like to ask all area law enforcement, volunteer fire departments and EMS participants to attend a two part class dealing with how to effectively handle emergency incidents. The Texas forest Service Incident Command System (ICS) is a nine hour course that describes the main features which constitute the ICS.

Collectively, these features identify the unique quality of the ICS as an incident or event management system. It provides an introduction to terminology, organizational structure, and the main facilities used in conjunction with ICS. It describes the planning process at an incident and describes the stages of resource management.

The class is broken up into lecture, video tape, and table top simulation exercises. The final test is a simulation exercise in which the students put the ICS into practice on a simulated incident.

This class does provide nine CEU hours for most services (Check with your service directors).

The class is tentatively set up at the Quitaque Catholic Center July 26th and 27th. (Friday 7-10 & Saturday 8-3). Please call Quitaque City Hall for reservations. There is no fee for emergency personnel to attend this course.

THEN & NOW!

by Eunice McFall
 Vacation Time is here once again. It is time to stop and smell the roses, slow down, find a quiet place and just sit and dream a few dreams. How often do we feel that we would like to just have a few minutes to ourselves all alone with the rest of the world shut out?

A vacation can be that time for you if you can manage to get away from the busy world in which we all reside the rest of our days. Where can you find the solitude for just sitting and contemplating where the road of life is leading you? It must be away from telephones, tv, radio and all the rest of the loud noises that call to us constantly. We can perhaps just take a long summer walk alone and feast our eyes on the beauty of the bright blue of the Texas skies or may be you will choose to dig in the garden while the birds are singing in the trees overhead. Peaceful!

We can even use those long trips that we have to go to the big city as a time to contemplate what we want to do with the rest of our days. Not that it will happen just as we hope it will but at least we will have had the joy of dreaming of what could be! If we never dream, what chance do we have of accomplishing anything in our life? If we do not dream, what do we have to look forward to? If we do not dream, where will we go with our lives? True we will not get or accomplish everything that we dream up but it can pass many pleasant hours for us and thus we are the winner even if nothing comes of our dream!

If we look for a bit of solitude in our life style, we can become less stressed, more energetic, less rushed, more content, less angry and happier. When we try on the cloak of solitude, we can get acquainted with ourselves. How many people in today's world really knows and likes themselves. I believe that if you do not spend some time alone with yourself you can never really come to know the real you that is inside this body that we groom so carefully each day. Perhaps we need to groom the inside of ourselves as carefully as we clothe outside. And the only way to do this is to come to know ourselves and to learn to like ourselves! Good hunting.

Fireworks And The Continued Dry Conditions Spark Wildfire Concerns

Scattered rain showers across the state have done little to dampen concerns about the use of fireworks this July Fourth holiday.

"We're optimistic," Bobby Young, associate director of Forest Resource Protection with the Texas Forest Service, says of the recent rains. "But we also realize that we're not out of the woods by any means. By the Fourth of July it (rainfall) may all be gone, so we're concerned."

Much of the state remains gripped by drought, and wildfire conditions remain high across most of West and Central Texas.

The "fire siege of 1996" has claimed more than 500,000 acres so far this year. In East Texas alone, more than 65,000 acres have been charred through May—about 3.5 times more than was lost in all of 1995.

And drought has dried up thousands more.

It would be "tragic" to lose any more Texas land, especially to something like fireworks, Young says.

In an attempt to prevent fireworks-related wildfires, several counties in the Panhandle recently banned the sale, use and possession of fireworks. Other counties and cities across the state also are considering similar action. Young hopes those local officials will first gather input from their local fire departments about the situation and how they feel about the fire danger.

Gray County turned to the governor's office for help earlier this month. County officials asked for and were granted an executive order from Gov. George W. Bush banning the use and sale of fireworks because of the drought and extreme fire hazard there.

But, the governor's office is urging other counties planning similar action to use the provisions of a new state law, HB 828, which allows counties to limit the use and sale of certain aerial fireworks during times of drought, provided the county designates a safe area where such fireworks can be used.

The Texas Pyrotechnic association, which represents most of the fireworks industry in the state, has voluntarily banned the sale of aerial fireworks such as bottle rockets.

Professional displays aren't affected.

So, Young encourages Texans to enjoy such organized shows put on for July Fourth.

Letter to Editor

Hi,
Well, I guess it's that time of year, so here is my check of $20.00 for another year of the Valley Tribune.

I do enjoy the paper. My mom is still living and was 98 in April of this year. Some in Turkey may remember her, Ruby Hardwick. My sister Marjorie also lives here in Sacramento.

Big news news in Sacramento is getting ready for the unabomber. Camera crews from all over the world are set up.

I just returned from a wonderful 3 day trip to Yosemite, a place I had wanted to see for years.

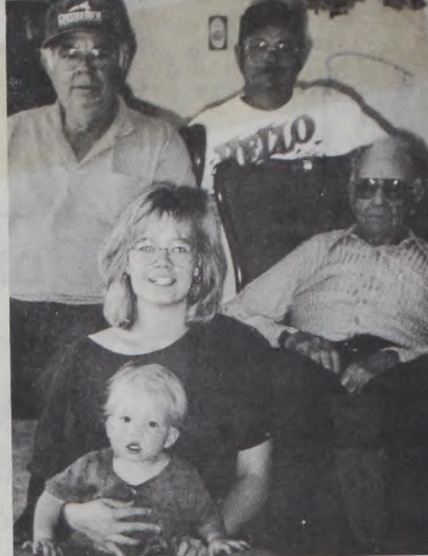

Hello, to friends in Turkey, I remain,
Inez Fuston

The following thank you was sent to Mayor Jimmy Davidson who wanted all those who helped in any way with Governor Bush and his family's visit to the Caprock Canyons State Park to also receive their thanks.

Dear Mayor Davidson, Barbara, Jenna and I thank you for the beautiful bouquets of flowers that were presented to us during our visit to Quitaque. Please extend our appreciation to the City Council and Mr. Guy Young, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and the membership for their thoughtfulness.

Our visit to Quitaque was delightful. The girls especially enjoyed the trail ride. It was a wonderful day! Texas is blessed with wonderful people and great places to visit.

With warm regards,
Sincerely,
Laura Bush

Thrips Main Pest Concern For Cotton

Provided by Rebel L Royall

Seeding cotton plants have been pelted by hail, blowing sand and strong winds. The good news is that generally warm, dry conditions have discouraged the development of seeding diseases. The bad news is that these severe conditions have encouraged Thrips to spend most of their time in the terminal and not out on the expanded true leaves and cotyledons where their feeding activity is far less damaging. Thrips feeding in the terminal area not only cause the later appearance of much reduced "crinkled up" leaves but also reduce the number of early squares. This will result in reduced yields and can delay crop maturity.

Thrips have moved into cotton from maturing wheat and other host plants. The general pattern is the appearance of winged adults during the week of seedling emergence with a sharp increase in thrips numbers the following week due to reproduction. The most prevalent species observed thus far has been the western flower thrips although other species can be found. In test plots with up to two leaves present, thrips have averaged up to 5 per plant in untreated plots. Numbers as high as 15 have been found on individual plants.

The Extension cotton guide lists the treatment threshold for thrips at 2-5 per plant. This may be too early in the game and may be too low as plants begin to square. Generally it is not a paying proposition to treat for thrips once cotton begins to square.

There has been excessive blackening and death of terminal leaves this year, even in cotton protected with insecticides. While the best insecticides have limited this to a large degree, it still can be found. I believe that the incessant high winds, and blowing sand this year are responsible for this increase in terminal damage. Usually these damage symptoms are almost always associated with thrips feeding.

In thrips control tests north of Earth, the treatments that look best are Temik, a Gaucho + Orthene seed treatment, and foliar sprays of either Orthene or ipronil (not registered yet.)

Boating Safety Tips

Many boaters have noticed the increased numbers of law enforcement on lakes across Texas. Some have come in contact with a Texas Parks and Wildlife game warden and have a reminder of the experience - a citation.

A lot of the citations are issued because boaters lack the proper number of life jackets or kids are not wearing life jackets," said Carlos Vaca, boating law administrator for TPWD. "But, surprisingly, a good number of the citations are issued because of failure to produce certificate of number."

TPWD statistics show that since the saturation patrols began a month ago, game wardens have contacted 168,549 people and issued 3,359 citations. Here are some of the most common infractions for which boaters are cited:

- * Improper exhaust system
- * Failure to have enough personal floatation devices on board.
- * Failure to display registration number.
- * Operating without proper lights.
- * Failure to have a serviceable fire extinguisher.
- * Children under 13 years of age not wearing personal floatation devices.
- * All children under 13 in motorboats under 26 ft. in length must wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved PFD while underway.
- * Failure to produce certificate of number of facsimile thereof.

AISE Accepting Host Family Applications

American Intercultural Student Exchange is currently accepting applications from families in this area who are interested in hosting a foreign exchange student for the upcoming school year. Families may choose to host a student for a full year, or a semester. These high school students, all proficient in the English language, will arrive in the United States in August and attend local high schools, while living as members of their American host families. All AISE students have completed a lengthy screening and interview process with representatives in their home countries, and come highly recommended by school principals, counselors, and teachers.

Host families provide students with a bed, meals, and a loving, family atmosphere. AISE provides students and their host families with counseling and support throughout the exchange experience, and all students have medical insurance and spending money for the duration of their stay.

Each year, thousands of families across the United States host AISE exchange students. AISE currently works with high school students from over 50 countries world wide. AISE is a nationwide, nonprofit organization dedicated to the belief that foreign student exchange is a necessary step toward peace among all nations. For further information on hosting an AISE student in your home, please call 1-800-742-5464.

TIME SAVING SHORTCUTS

Air Conditioners (NAPS)

Because an air conditioner provides cool air so easily month after month, season after season, year after year, many consumers give little thought to air conditioner care and maintenance.

According to home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, the lack of maintenance on an air conditioner causes many unnecessary service calls—and yet, it takes so little time to do.

They advise that annual maintenance before startup can save time and frustration of having a non-working unit during the peak of the summer season, when you need it most.

Dirty filters can cause more service calls than any other problem. The air filter collects dust, lint and other particles from the air before it passes over the evaporator coil, so periodic cleaning of the filter (every three to four weeks) can really help to maintain peak performance.

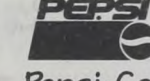

Once a year, have a service company inspect and clean the coils and condensate water passages as well as check the fan and oil and fan motor. A properly cared for air conditioner will help you beat the heat in the most efficient way.

Goodness Gracious It's Good!

ANSWERS TO EVERYDAY COOKING QUESTIONS FROM THE MARTHA WHITE KITCHEN

Q: I hear a lot about polenta. Isn't it just like the corn meal mush my grandmother made?

A: Polenta is the Italian version of corn meal mush that is often served as a side dish with meaty stews and sausages. During the last few years, polenta has been popping up on trendy menus nationwide.

In the United States, corn meal mush has traditionally been served for breakfast like oatmeal. Or, it is chilled, sliced and fried.

It can certainly be served for lunch or dinner just like polenta. Try spooning a hearty beef stew or a ragout of sausages, vegetables and marinara sauce over corn meal mush.

OLD-FASHIONED CORN MEAL MUSH

2 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup Martha White® Self-Rising Corn Meal Mix

In medium saucepan, bring water to boil. Gradually whisk corn meal into boiling water. Reduce heat and cook 20 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve hot. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

VARIATION: For Fried Mush, pour hot mush into lightly greased loaf pan. Cover with plastic wrap; chill at least 2 hours. Turn out of pan; cut into 3/4-inch slices. In skillet, heat 2 tablespoons oil over medium heat; brown mush slices on both sides. Add more oil, if needed.

"Let all things be done decently and in order."

-I Corinthians 14:40

If you are like a lot of us, you are hardworking, generous, kind-hearted, and in fact virtually the who list of Boy Scout attributes; but you have never learned the secret of being organized. You can quickly turn your house or office into a state of chaos, because you try to do too many jobs at once; and since you can't bear to throw anything away, you never have enough storage space. Moreover, you overload your circuits because you are too public-spirited to say no to any worthy cause; and so you are too busy to serve any of them properly. Nevertheless, take the time to attend your House of Worship, for it will help you bring neatness and order into your life. There are only so many hours in the day, and you should let the Lord show you how to make the most to them. After all, He arranged the workings of the whole universe, so He can easily do the same for you.

Heavenly Hot Fudge

A Special Treat

(NAPS)—Here are some facts about hot fudge, one of America's favorite desserts:

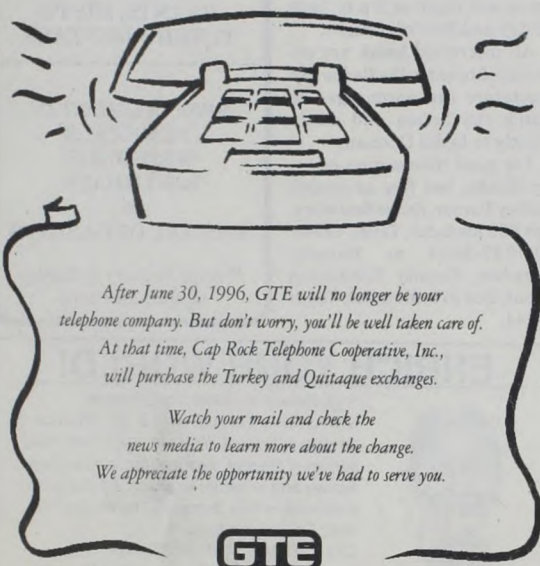

- The Aztecs used cacao beans as money and thought that by eating them a person could acquire universal wisdom and knowledge.

- Hernando Cortez took cocoa beans to Spain in 1528. After that cocoa became a popular drink and chocolate became a well-loved treat.

- A mouthwateringly, irresistible hot fudge sundae is the perfect treat to celebrate any occasion—a birthday, a good report card or any good news. Sharing a sundae is a good way to celebrate and cement a friendship.

The greatness achieved by our founding fathers was to a great extent due to their exceptional qualities of leadership. However, in spite of this they believed that they could accomplish nothing without the help of the Almighty. They felt the awesome responsibility which they bore for the destiny of our nation and its citizens; and they prayed for divine guidance before making the decisions on which our freedom and our system of justice would depend for all time. They saw themselves as merely the instruments of God's will, and it was this very humility that earned them their place in the history books and in our hearts. We who are responsible for only ourselves and our families could learn much from our founding fathers; therefore, we should attend our House of Worship and thank God for their foresight which has allowed us, among other things, to choose it.

Yesteryear

Taken from The Quitaque Post, June, 1958

Cecil Price turned in Quitaque's first wheat this year last Tuesday afternoon from a 14-acre patch just north of town. The wheat had been damaged by hail and there was a noticeable amount on the ground and hanging from broken stalks. Price estimate of 20 bushels was raised by 6- 1/2 bushels giving him a 26 -1/2 bushel average for the 14 acres. Considering the hail damage, the wheat turned out exceptionally good.

Lions Present Two Awards At Family Meeting Monday

Melvin Carter was surprised last Monday night at the Lion's Club Family night outing with the presentation of a plaque naming him "Safe Driver of the Year." The safe driving award is given monthly by the Local Lions Club to high school students during the time 9 months of each school year.

In the absence of Verlon Hamilton, his father Leroy Hamilton accepted a plaque honoring him as having the highest scholastic average of any of his classmates for his four years of high school work.

This honor is also a monthly presentation during the nine months of school, honoring individuals from the four high school grades.

The outdoor yearly event was well attended, with plenty of chicken, beans and salad on the table. The food was furnished by the wives of the Lion Club members, and the Club furnished the plates, forks, tea, cups, bread and dessert.

Ernest Reagan suffered several bad bruises and skinned his forehead when the tractor he was driving went out of control after dropping one wheel in a ditch. Reagan tried to jump off the tractor, as it seemed that the machine was going to turn over, but lost his footing and fell beneath the wheel. The back wheel ran over both legs but did not break any bones.

The tractor righted itself, made a circle and headed back toward Reagan who scrambled out of the way in time to avoid being run over again. The malicious tractor then ran head first into a bank and continued to spin the wheels until Ernest's father, Otis Reagan came up to stop the motor.
