Valley School Enrollment Is Wednesday, Aug. 22

Principal Jerry Maupin advised the Valley Tribune that Valley School enrollment begins Wednesday, August 22, with grades kindergarten through twelve enrolling between the hours of 9:00 and 11:00 a.m.

All parents who have kindergarten age children are reminded to bring birth certificate and current immunization records. This is a must before the child can be enrolled.

Hamner Home Damaged By Fire

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamner had only minor fire damage Tuesday night of last week, due to the quick action of Turkey firemen.

Mrs. Hamner was awakened by a strange noise and she smelled smoke. She called her husband, who told her to call the fire department. They got to the house in scant minutes.

The fire of unknown origin started in the wall next to the southwest corner of the house.

The Hamners have only praise for the quick and expert action of the Fire Department.

Still Time To Register To Vote

Congressman Jack Hightower of Texas sent a letter to newspapers recently reminding people that they still have time to register to vote in the fall elections. He states that "freedom is never free."

"Our vote was purchased with a sacrifice, the hardship and even the lives of those who secured this opportunity for every citizen of the United States over 18 years of age, as defined by the Constitution. With this right comes a great responsibility. If not exercised wisely and faithfully, it could be lost—apathy and freedom don't mix," he wrote.

Registration in Texas is easy and can be handled entirely by mail. Please take a few minutes to fill out and return a registration card if you are not registered to vote or did not vote in the general election in November 1982, or in the primary this year in May.

If you need a card or help, call the office of your local Tax Assessor, elections administrator, or the Texas Secretary of State's office in Austin toll-free. The number is 1-800-252-9632.

The deadline for registration is October 6, which is 30 days before the November 6 general election.

Remember, the "only thing necessary for evil to triumph is for good men and women to do nothing," Hightower concluded.

TEXAS POTATOES ARE SPUDTACULAR

The homely tuber is not only

American's most popular vegetable, it is also one of the most misunderstood and misrepresented vegetables. For years the potato has been considered a high fat, high calorie, starchy food, sure to increase the pounds around our waist. However, a person would have to consume 11 pounds of potatoes to put on one pound of weight. This vegetable that comes in the plain brown (or red) wrapper is an excellent source of complex carbohydrates, which provides the body with long lasting energy. Potatoes are fat free and they are a good source of Vitamin C, Vitamin B-6, iron, iodine and copper. A medium potato has only 100 calories and for every ten percent of 100 calories they contain good quality protein. Nutrition research has shown that when starch is substituted for sugar in the diet, the appetite is lessened.

Texas potato harvesting begins in April in the Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden area, followed by the harvest in Munday, Seminole and Van Horn in June and the High Plains in July and August. In 1983 the harvesting acreage in the state reached 15,200. The Texas potato crop contributes 23 million dollars to the state's economy. Farmers receive 16% of the retail price of fresh market potatoes and 6% profit from the processed product. Norgold Russet and Red La Soda are the main varieties of potatoes grown on the High Plains.

Reddy's Safety Reminders:

Most of us take electric power for granted. We just flick a switch and there it is — doing all those things we've come to expect. That SAME power can be dangerous if we don't learn to treat it with respect. Here are a few reminders on how to live more safely — electrically — from Reddy Kilowatt:

Never Pull on the Cord!

When disconnecting electric appliances and equipment, be sure to pull on the plug — not the cord! If you pull on the cord, you'll eventually wear it out and expose hazardous wires. Also, don't overload extension cords and outlets.

Install Antennas Away from Power Lines!

If you have a TV or CB antenna to install or repair, make sure there's plenty of clearance between it and the nearest power lines. Working too close to a power line can be hazardous.

Don't Shoot at Power Lines!

Also remember not to shoot at power lines or the insulators that hold them. The severed line could cause a serious electricity outage and the downed line itself could be very dangerous.

MRS. CLINT W. TOWNSLEY

Turner-Townsley Vows Exchanged In Double-Ring Ceremony

On Saturday evening, August 4, 1984, at 7:00 p.m. nuptial vows were exchanged between Jenny Lou Turner and Clint Wayne Townsley in a beautiful formal candlelight service at the First United Methodist Church in Turkey. Don Lawrence, minister of the Church of Christ in Boise City, Oklahoma, performed the double-ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jan Turner of Turkey and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Townsley of Boise City, Oklahoma.

Pre-nuptial musical selections and the traditional wedding march were provided by Miss Cindy Griffin of Quitaque at the piano.

Miss DeAnn Craft of Garden City, Kansas accompanied herself at the piano as she sang "Ice Castles—Through the Eyes of Love," and accompanied by Miss Griffin sang "That's The Way." Miss Craft and Brother George Price of Spur sang a duet, "After All Those Years."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of matte taffeta which featured a sweetheart neckline with full puffed sleeves enhanced with large bows and a full double ruffle of chantilly lace over taffeta. Venise lace decorated the front of the bodice and extended around the entire neckline of the dress. A full skirt flowed from the waistline with scallops decorating the front of the dress detailed with large bows. Several rows of chantilly ruffles extended from the bottom of the scallops to the full length of the dress with a large chantilly ruffle extending the full length of the chapel train.

For her headpiece, the bride chose a wide-brimmed hat featuring layers of chantilly lace ruffles accented with pearls. A large white bow with long streamers in the back complimented the bows on her wedding dress.

The bride carried a cascading colonial bouquet of blue and white roses, lilies and forget-me-nots accented with star-dust, nosegay and lace streamers.

For something old the bride wore a wedding band belonging to her late Grandmother Turner. Her dress was new and she borrowed a white Bible from her Grandmother King which was placed in front of the Unity Candle. She wore the traditional blue garter and carried pennies bearing the birthdates of the groom and herself for good luck.

The ceremony was performed before an arch of sky blue candles and decorated with blue and white flowers, fern, large blue bows and streamers. On each side of the arch stood two smaller candelabra decorated with blue and white flowers and large bows. Large navy and white lace bows with small flowers and stardust decorated the pews.

Mrs. Janna Guest served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joan Pigg, sister of the bride, Mrs. Jammie Cammack of Lubbock, Mrs. Julie Dorman of Lockney and Miss Sandy Norton of Lubbock served as bridesmaid. They wore identical sky blue organza dotted long dresses which featured off-the-shoulder neckline adorned with wide white lace and satin bows, elbow-length sleeves, full skirts with a wide organza ruffle at the bottom topped with rows of white lace.

The attendants carried bouquets which were small replicas of the bride's bouquet. They wore matching floral wreaths in their hair.

Little Miss Jamie Pigg, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a long white dress featuring a blue lace yoke and sleeves and carried a lace-ruffled basket of miniature flowers. Jarret Pigg, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo similar to the groom and carried a white satin pillow.

Marc Mills of Boise City served as best man. Mike Townsley, brother of the groom of Keyes, Oklahoma, Jay Turner of Boise City, Roger Mitchell of Abernathy, and Monty Seymour of Floydada served as groomsmen. Brent Guest and Clinton Pigg, brothers-in-law of the bride, and David Gafford, cousin of the bride, seated the guests.

Candlelighters were Megan Kinen of St. Francis, Kansas and Kelli Hardin of Clarendon. They were dressed in identical sky-blue tea-length dresses featuring a wide off-the-shoulder ruffle and trimmed with white lace.

Honored grandparents were Ora Lee King, Alga Turner and Earl Cullins of Coleman.

Helen Townsley, niece of the groom, handed each guest ribbons engraved with 1st Corinthians scriptures of love and expressions of gratitude from the bride and groom. She also handed out rice bags at the reception.

Miss Paula Helms of Lubbock registered the guests at a round lace-over-blue covered table accented with a tall bud vase of blue and white silk flowers.

All floral decorations, bouquets and corsages were done by the bride's mother.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall which was beautifully decorated with lattice work, greenery and baskets of various foliage plants creating a garden atmosphere. Decorations were by Mrs. Pat House and Roye Pigg.

The bride's table was covered with a lace ecru cloth over a sky blue floor-length underlay. The bridal cake, which was beautifully done by Margie Pinkerton, featured three tiers in the center topped with an all-white bride and groom under a heart-shaped arch of white flowers. Four smaller cakes surrounded the base of the tiered cake. Punch, nuts and mints were served from the table which was completed with crystal and silver appointments and featured the bride's and bridal attendants' bouquets as the centerpiece.

The groom's table was covered with a round lace ecru cloth over a navy blue underlay. A large blue and white floral centerpiece was placed on the head table beside the silver coffee service. Finger sandwiches and sausage balls were also served from the table.

Friends of the couple serving the refreshments included La-Risha Sawyer of Amherst, Jenny Clay of Lubbock, Kris Altman and Danelle Schmucker of Nazareth. Audra House and Vera Pinkerton picked up dishes from the guests as they finished. Others assisting with the reception included Pat House, Roye and Mary Pigg, Janinne Brooks, Margaret Lane, Ann Coker,

Tekell-Hewett Vows Exchanged In Formal Church Ceremony

Ellyn Kathryn Tekell of Cleburne and Jonathan T. Hewett were married in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony August 11, 1984 at Field Street Baptist Church in Cleburne.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tekell of Cleburne and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Hewett, and the grandson of J. T. Persons of Quitaque and Ruby Hewett of Plainview.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported Belgium lace in the Victorian style with train and embroidered scalloped hem. Her Victorian style wedding hat of white organza was turned up on one side to reveal the lace-work of the under-brim. She carried a cascading bouquet of stephanotis, white roses, ivy and spring-eri over a white Bible and Belgium lace handkerchief.

Two of the bridesmaids were Amy and Sarah Hewett of Margie Pinkerton and Rita Guest.

REHEARSAL DINNER

A lovely semiformal buffet supper was hosted by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Townsley, on Friday evening. The meal was catered and served in the fellowship hall by Mr. and Mrs. Roye Pigg of Quitaque. Pat House was in charge of decorations.

Quitaque, sisters of the groom. All five bridesmaids wore long dresses of tampoico pink taffeta. Large bows lay upon the shoulders of the dresses and the sashes were accented with a cascade of tampoico flowers and baby's breath. The bridesmaids carried brass hurricane lamps, candles lighted, and accented with greenery and flowing tampoico ribbon. Two of the bridesmaids and the maid of honor, Sammie Rogers, were close friends of the bride and students at Baylor University and Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches.

Best man was Neale Jones of Baylor University, close friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Steven Tekell, brother of the bride, and three friends and former classmates of the groom when they attended Howard Payne University.

Special guests at the reception hosted by the bride's parents were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gatewood and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Tekell of Cleburne, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Persons and Mrs. Ruby Hewett. The Persons' great-granddaughter, Courtney Eason of Alvarado, who attended the wedding with her mother, Jenny Grey, and grandmother, Barbara Kaether, handed rice bags to the guests.

Reports

AUSTIN — There are a number of changes in the recently passed Education Reform Act which will have a direct impact on public school students during the coming school year.

Many students will be relieved to know what wasn't changed by the comprehensive reform law: the current 175-day school year has been retained, and the school day was not extended by the Texas Legislature.

For those parents with preschool-aged children, a prekindergarten program is being required of local districts if fifteen eligible children are identified in the district. This prekindergarten program for educationally disadvantaged children is completely optional on the part of the students and their parents.

Next, the law requires all school districts to offer either full or half day kindergarten programs to students who are at least five years old and who wish to attend. The State will provide funds to partially cover the anticipated costs of these preschool programs.

Class sizes will also be smaller as a result of the new law. For grades kindergarten through four, a maximum limit of 22 students per class will be phased in over a five year period. A class ratio average of 1 teacher for every 20 students will be required for all other grades in a school district.

Students may not receive social promotions any longer. Class promotion will only be allowed on the basis of academic achievement by maintaining a grade average for the school year equivalent to at least 70 on a scale of 100. Parents must be notified of student grades that fall below 70.

In addition, students may not receive course credit for any class in which they have more than five unexcused absences during a semester. Causes for excused absences are personal sickness, sickness or death in the family, quarantine, weather or road conditions making travel dangerous, or any other unusual cause acceptable to the teacher, principal, or superintendent.

The direction has been provided by the Texas Legislature; now it is up to the school districts to guide the State's public education programs toward the goal of providing the best education possible for our youth. If we can more closely meet the needs of our society and lift our children a little higher in their educational pursuits, then our efforts and the money spent will be well worth it.

SOCIAL SECURITY IN BRISCOE COUNTY BY TERRY J. CLEMENTS TO WORKING SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFICIARIES—

So, you are earning money while receiving retirement benefits. That's good. You are making excellent use of something called the "annual earnings test." For instance, if your annual earnings (wages and/or self employment income) do not exceed $5,160 ($6,960 if age 65 or older), benefits will not be reduced at all. Even if earnings exceed this "exempt" amount, only half the excess will be used to reduce your Social Security benefits.

However, let me caution you about overpayments. Of all Social Security beneficiaries, you are the most likely to be overpaid. This is mainly because earnings information is commonly incorrect. It is tough to estimate earnings accurately.

What can you do to prevent being overpaid? Follow the steps outlined below. By doing so you will reduce the chance of overpayments due to earnings or if an overpayment should occur, the amount will probably be smaller.

1. File the required annual report. Persons who make over the $5,160/6,960 amount who are under age 70 must file an annual report each year. The deadline is April 15. It must be filed in addition to your tax return. It is a simple report. The basic information required is the actual earnings for the previous year and an estimate of earnings for the current year.

2. Be very careful about estimating your earnings. A starting place is the amount of earnings for the previous year. But don't stop at that point! Consider the possibility of bonuses, cost of living increases, other types of raises and overtime. Also, think about whether you will likely "fill in" for other employees during the year. Your Social Security benefits will be based on a current year estimate. Make sure it is as accurate as possible.

3. Keep track of earnings during the year. If you determine at any point that the estimate should be increased or decreased, call the Social Security office. The people there can update your record and adjust your checks appropriately.

Remember, it is a lot easier to get overpaid than to pay the money back. By following these times the earlier price. According to Commissioner of Health Dr. Robert Bernstein, the 45,000 vials needed by the TDH each year will now cost $1.9 million.

"The pertussis vaccine infrequently causes reactions which on very rare occasions are serious. The important thing, however, is that it does provide the needed protection against whooping cough," he told the Board.

HEALTH BOARD BACKS

Despite some controversy over pertussis vaccine, the Texas Board of Health has urged the continued use of this immunization against whooping cough.

At its monthly meeting in Austin recently, Board members went on record for supporting the Texas Department of Health's use of DPT vaccine, which protects against diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis or whooping cough.

The Health Department purchases DPT vaccine from commercial pharmaceutical manufacturers and distributes it free to local health departments around the state.

In June, Wyeth Laboratories, the manufacturer of DPT vaccine under contract with the TDH, announced it was discontinuing its production because of the high costs involved in defending against lawsuits over the vaccine's infrequent, harmful side effects. Because of legal costs and the limited availability of the pertussis vaccine, its price has sky-rocketed. Earlier this year a 15-dose vial cost $1.60. That price is expected to jump to $42—or 26 times the earlier price.

Statistics show that serious reactions to the vaccine occur in only one out of 300,000 immunizations.

The Commissioner emphasized the need for the vaccine by explaining that in 1934 there were 265,269 reported cases of pertussis in the country and 7,518 deaths. In 1983, there were 2,258 cases and fewer than 10 deaths.

He urged parents to have their children immunized against pertussis saying, "The fact that there is little pertussis now is because of the use of the vaccine, and the disease will return in large numbers, and many children will die," he said.

Dr. Bernstein said one way or another the TDH will provide pertussis vaccine for Texas children who cannot get it otherwise. He added that the Department also will urge the continued acceptance of DPT immunizations by the public and its careful and controlled use by private physicians.

In addition, the Board of

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1984

Health recommended that the TDH support efforts to promote federal legislation which would limit the liability related to producing DPT vaccine. Such legislation would allow pharmaceutical companies to produce the vaccine at reasonable prices.

State law requires that a child attending a day-care center be vaccinated against diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis. Any child attending an elementary or other school must have received either DPT vaccine or tetanus-diphtheria vaccine. Children attending child-care facilities or schools must also have received polio, measles, rubella and mumps vaccines.

TEACHERS TO SEE CHANGES

AUSTIN — Every public school teacher in the State will feel the impact of the recently passed House Bill 72, the new Education Reform Act. We sincerely believe that the reforms brought about by this Act will return the teaching profession to the place of respect it so rightfully deserves. Another important goal of the Act is to head off the impending crisis of teacher shortages throughout the State of Texas. Texas is indeed facing a critical shortage of qualified professional teachers, particularly in the areas of math and science. For the 1983-84 school year, the turnover rate in the teaching profession was approximately 11.5 percent. This means that more than one out of every ten teachers left his or her school district in 1983. Teachers are leaving one district for another district which offers better pay and benefits, and many are simply leaving the profession altogether.

This increase in vacancies is compounded by an increase in new teaching positions. In 1983-84, 90 percent of the school districts in Texas hired at least one new teacher; it is expected that 19,000 positions will need to be filled by 1990.

Finally, we must look at the college candidates for these new positions. Although enrollment in education curriculums has increased, teacher certifications have actually decreased by 4 percent. Texas has had to rely on out-of-state teachers to make up for our shortages, representing 6 percent of all teachers hired in 1983-84.

Many of the new provisions under the Education Reform Act are specifically aimed at alleviating the severe teacher shortage crisis. The new legislation guarantees all teachers a yearly salary of at least $15,200, including beginning teachers, and provides an increase of at least $170 per month for all teachers that are currently paid at the state minimum salary. A career ladder program will be implemented to provide teachers with additional incentives that could translate into additional salary bonuses for outstanding work in the teaching profession.

To prompt more students to enter the teaching profession, the Act established a teacher loan program whereby future teachers may receive up to $4000 in loans for enrolling and succeeding in a teacher education program. Current teachers may also take advantage of these loans by returning to school to upgrade their teaching skills. Loan repayment may be made by teaching in the Texas public school system, with one semester's loan amount canceled for each semester taught.

Finally, the new law requires that all current teachers who have not previously taken the college education exit exam complete an examination that is to combine both basic skills in reading and writing with subject area knowledge. The State Board of Education will be authorized to exempt certain teachers from the exam who have already completed another acceptable test, such as the Graduate Record Exam. In developing the new exam, the Board will be aided by classroom teachers; further, teachers will be

SIX COUNTY 4-H'ERS PARTICIPATE IN DISTRICT FASHION SHOW

"Fantasy of Fashion" was the theme of the 1984 South Plains District 4-H Fashion Show held at the Lubbock Civic Center August 7.

Six Briscoe County 4-H members were among the 108 participants from the 20-county area in the district competition.

Shadi Mullin modeled white cropped pants and a navy nautical print top in the junior active sportswear category.

Penni Fogerson constructed a red skirt and vest and red and white striped blouse for the junior tailored division.

Melannie Daniels competed in the senior evening and specialty category with a striped one-piece pajama and matching robe and nightcap.

Kristy Fogerson's peach and beige striped pleated skirt and top and coordinating cream jacket was entered in the senior non-tailored category where she placed third.

Attending the Fashion Show were Margie Pinkerton, Ginger Mullin, Fern Mullin, Faye Self and Extension Agent Lynda Fogerson. Maebelle Francis and Roy Reed served on the judging panel for two of the categories.

More than two-thirds of Australia is desert, making it the world's most arid continent.

guaranteed the opportunity to take the exam more than once. All current teachers must, however, complete this testing requirement by June 30, 1986.

We believe that these new changes will go a long way towards alleviating the current teacher shortage crisis and ensuring a high quality of education for our children. Throughout the consideration of the Education Reform Act, we tried to support those measures that would truly benefit public education without placing an undue burden on the local districts. We had doubts with regard to some of the provisions in the bill, particularly with the teacher testing requirements, and will work to correct any expected problems in the Act when the next regular session of the legislature convenes in January. If you have any questions about the new education reforms, or about any other matter, please contact me by writing Senator Bill Sarpalius, P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

MORE YOUNG CHILDREN DROWN IN BATHTUB THAN IN OCEAN EACH YEAR

More infants and toddlers drown in bathtubs each year than in the ocean. In 1983, ten Texas children under the age of four drowned in bathtubs—five of those infants were less than one month old.

These statistics make water safety as important at home as it is in pools and lakes. Children can drown in very small amounts of water in just a few unsupervised minutes. The smaller a child is, the quicker he will drown or suffer brain damage.

Bathrooms are one of the most dangerous places for toddlers to explore. Baylor College of Medicine pediatricians offer these safety tips:

*Never leave children, even together, alone in the bathtub.

*Keep toilet seat covers down to prevent toddlers from playing with the water; they may fall in and injure themselves.

*Set the hot water heater temperature between 105 and 120 degrees to decrease the chance of scalding.

*Watch toddlers carefully on slick floors or other surfaces because it is easy for them to fall and suffer a head injury.

More than 500 Texans died last year during recreational water activities. Half of them were adults, many of whom did not know how to swim. Recreational water accidents, like home accidents, can be prevented by following suggestions such as these:

*Take swimming lessons offered by community organizations or at least learn how to "dog paddle" or float.

*Equip home pools with a first-aid kit, a life preserver, a long pole and a list of emergency phone numbers.

*Secure home pools with a four-foot-high fence and a locking gate.

*Avoid diving into shallow water which can result in a broken neck and permanent paralysis.

*Never swim or dive while under the influence of alcohol.

*Stock all boats with life jackets designed specifically for passengers' weight and height.

A free brochure offered by Baylor College of Medicine can help families learn more about home and recreational water safety. The brochure, entitled "Enjoying The Water Safely," is available free of charge by writing to: WE CARE FOR YOU, P. O. Box 13567, Houston, Texas 77210.

Kiwi, New Zealand's success story may set down roots in Texas

(AUSTIN)—It yields farmers and ranchers in the island nation of New Zealand thousands of dollars per acre. And now, Texas producers have the chance to reap the same benefits by raising . . . kiwi fruit.

Two kiwi fruit entrepreneurs from New Zealand, Kerry Finnigan and Westbrook Haines, recently visited the Texas Department of Agriculture to discuss the prospect of developing kiwi into an export commodity in Texas.

Finnigan, owner of a private horticulture company in New Zealand, says their kiwi industry is a success, even though their production season lasts only six months. The remaining six months could be utilized by other growers.

"The market for a Texas farmer who grows kiwi is this country's 232 million people," says Finnigan, who believes New Zealand has yet to tap significantly the world's kiwi consumption potential.

"We're just playing with the industry in terms of world consumption potential," Finnigan said, and added that their annual exports of 8,000 tons of kiwi to Japan amount to having four people once a year fight over one piece of fruit.

New Zealand's horticulture export director, Westbrook Haines explained the kiwi's success came from a liaison between the country's agriculture producers, processors and exporters. Both small and large farmers have learned how to produce based on market demand.

"Ten years ago our producers were producing what they wanted, and then saying to our businessmen, 'this is what we've got; now you go out there and sell it,'" Haines said. "Now, we've changed that and we've got producers who first ask what they have to do to the product to make it suitable to be marketed."

Haines adds that aside from land costs, the only other initial expenses for setting up a kiwi operation include sets for shelter and irrigation.

Because the kiwi is a high-yield crop, TDA's International Marketing Director Paul Lewis says it and other specialty crops that have been successful in New Zealand could help small Texas farmers turn a profit.

"The yields per acre are very high on kiwi. They were giving us some numbers that they could expect in the third year of production, something like $14,000 plus per acre," Lewis said. It doesn't take as many acres to get a good return on an investment as with some of the larger row crops, he added.

While the kiwi fruit will not solve all the agricultural woes of Texas' farming and ranching community, it appears that the little green fruit from New Zealand could be utilized by some Texas growers.

SUMMER BLOOD DRIVES ARE EXTREMELY IMPORTANT TO HOSPITALS

Summer blood drives are extremely important to area hospitals since overall donations are considerably lower, yet the demands for this priceless human medicine increases daily.

There is still no substitute for blood. It must come from volunteer donors. Someday our lives may depend on its availability.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center has asked to conduct a special blood drive for the community on Tuesday, September 4, from 10:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. This blood drive will enable us to continue a Blood Donor Club which can be used by all residents and their immediate family members to help defray the processing charges for blood components during periods of hospitalization. No one is penalized for not donating because of medical and/or physical deferments.

Credits in the community blood donor club are valued at $10.00 and are valid for a 12-month period. These credits can be transferred to any one of the 23 area hospitals Coffee Memorial Blood Center serves as well as to other states that may be members of the National Clearinghouse and associated with the American Association of Blood Banks.

More important, United Blood Services from Lubbock is now a new member of the Clearinghouse and will be able to accept credits from Coffee Memorial and our community blood donor club when our residents are hospitalized in Lubbock, Plainview or any other area they now serve.

You are the key to the success of the Blood Drive. Your personal contact, encouragement, enthusiasm, and participation will be desperately needed in making it successful.

If you would be willing to donate, please contact Lou Younger at 823-2254.

ONE CASE OF MENINGITIS-FORM REPORTED AT UVALDE

A case of primary amebic meningoencephalitis has occurred in a 12-year-old Uvalde boy who, reportedly, swam in the Frio River at Garner State Park in Uvalde County. This form of meningitis is caused by free-living Naegleria or Acanthameba amebas, normally found in many fresh-water ponds, lakes and rivers. They multiply rapidly in stagnant waters at temperatures between 85 and 100 degrees F.

Human illness may result within seven to ten days after exposure to the amebas. Infections may be acquired when infested water gets into the nasal passages. Primary amebic meningoencephalitis is characterized by sudden onset of headache, fever, nausea, vomiting and stiff neck; almost always, death occurs within ten days.

In Texas, two cases of this disease were reported in 1980 (Travis and Polk counties) and one case in 1983 (Bexar County resident). The disease is extremely rare. In one study, the risk of acquiring the disease by swimming in infested lakes was estimated to be less than one in 2.5 million exposures.

Cases are most likely to occur when temperatures are high and water levels low, conditions which lead to stagnation and multiplication of the amebas. Even under these conditions, clinical infection is rare. Any body of water which is or becomes stagnant can support rapid growth of these amebas. This includes lakes, ponds, rivers and even swimming pools which are improperly or inadequately treated.

Why only one swimmer in over two million is infected is unknown. It may be pure chance or some anatomical or immunological abnormality which allows the ameba access. There is no way to predict who might become infected. It is not practical to attempt to place all potential sites of exposure off-limits for swimming. The actual risk is lower than many risks the public accepts every day. Therefore, the Texas Department of Health can only warn of the possibility and request that local health departments and the news media join it to inform the public regarding the conditions of local bodies of water used for swimming. Each individual and, in the case of children, parents must make the decision as to whether swimming in stagnant water under present conditions is worth the risk involved.

Needless deaths
"Cancer of the skin is responsible for 7,100 deaths each year in the United States. And most of these deaths are needless," according to the American Cancer Society. It is up to the patient to protect himself by going to a doctor if any sore, blister, patch, pimple or newly developed skin blemish doesn't go away in two weeks.

Anyone under the sun can get cancer.

If you work in the sun, watch it. Day after beautiful day of sunshine can result in overexposure which can lead to skin cancer. So cover up in the sun. And remember that a yearly health checkup is your best insurance against cancer. Call your doctor for an appointment today.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to express our thanks and appreciation to the Turkey Firemen. If it hadn't been for their quick action and "know how" our home and contents would have burned, but as it is only minor damage and smoke is all we had. We can't commend their actions and concern for us enough. We thank all of you from the bottom of our hearts.

Love you,
Charles and Laverne Hamner

Dear Friends,
Once again we would like to thank everyone for all the visits and prayers while I was in the hospital and since I've been home. I would like to say a special thanks to everyone who has brought jams and jellies and have shared their garden with us and to the many people who have sent gifts. Thanks again!

In Christian love,
Buck, Sue and Stachia Chadwick

We want to thank all of you for the many beautiful cards and flowers, for your thoughtful calls and visits, and also for the food brought to our homes. Your prayers and friendship have sustained us in so many ways during our time of sorrow at the loss of our beloved daughter and sister, Vivienne. We love you all and pray God's richest blessings on you.

The Tribune received a change of address from Mrs. Onia Patrick who has been in Shawnee, Oklahoma. She reports her daughter who had lived in Midwest City, Oklahoma has moved to Las Vegas, Nevada, and Mrs. Patrick was in the process of moving to Sweetwater to be near her other daughter. Her address is 1706 Marvin Street, Sweetwater, Texas 79556 if anyone wants to write her. She reports she is in failing health.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor attended a golden wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stansbury in Amarillo Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. It was held at the St. Francis Catholic Church.

The Taylors later drove to Panhandle and spent the night with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Duncan and Darcee. They saw the Dan Ray Duncans and the children spent Saturday night with the grandparents and great-grandparents.

The Taylors returned home Sunday evening.

Beauty against cancer
A famous cancer expert once said that he rarely saw skin cancer on beautiful women. The reason: many beautiful women give special care to their skin and protect it against overexposure to sunlight, they also have blemishes removed as soon as they find them. Skin care, says the American Cancer Society, helps you protect yourself from skin cancer—the most common and most easily cured of cancers.

Most common, easily cured cancer

Skin cancer, the most common form of cancer in America, is the least dangerous and is slow growing. It may be easily cured in a doctor's office, says the American Cancer Society. So don't delay if you find any change in size or color of a wart or mole, or a dry scaly patch of skin, or any lump, bump or pimple that doesn't clear up in two weeks. See your doctor!

A game similar to soccer was probably played as early as 400 B.C. by the Chinese.
