FOURTH GRADE CLASS

Valley Bombs Knox City In Home Game Friday Night

Valley defeated Knox City, the State's No. eleventh ranked team, 43-18 Friday night on Valley's home field. The Patriots built a commanding 30-0 halftime lead. The Patriots led in total yardage 361-165.

Quarterback Kirk Saul connected on 15 of 34 passes for 260 yards and four touchdowns. Matt Barrett took eight catches for 198 yards and four touchdowns. Thomas Rodriguez had five catches for 73 yards. Will Williams led Valley rushers with 55 yards on nine carries.

"Offensively," Coach Adams says, "it was a team effort. The linebackers blocked well to give the offense time to throw the ball. We threw and caught the ball well. The key to the game was field position. We kept them in a hole and our defense played well, very well, forcing several turnovers. Kirk Saul punted five times for a 45-yard average. It makes a big difference when you can keep field position and cut down on turnovers."

Stellar defensive performances were turned in by Roy Beavers, Chuck Martin, Will Williams, Rosendo Silva, Jamie Cox, Thomas Rodriguez, Freddie Ruiz and Joe Silva.

The win upped Valley's loop mark to 1-1 and the season record to 4-2.

Valley dominated statistically, with 19-0 first downs and the 361-165 advantage in total offense.

Valley travels to Spur Friday night to face the Bulldogs, with game time at 7:30 o'clock.

Kirk Saul, Matt Barrett Win Special Honors

Kirk Saul, Valley Patriot Quarterback, made Amarillo Globe News Player of the Week for his performance in last Friday night's game. The 6-0 junior signal caller connected on 15 of 34 passes, picking apart Knox City's defense Friday night at Valley.

Matt Barrett, on the receiving end, caught eight of the passes thrown by Saul which included four touchdowns. Matt received honorable mention in the Amarillo Globe News.

SOUTH PLAINS STANDOUT

Matt Barrett, a 5-4, 127-pound junior wide receiver from Valley, caught eight passes for 198 yards and four touchdowns as the Patriots ripped Knox City 43-13 in a key District 3-1A West Zone game Friday night, and was honored Wednesday by being named Class 1-A South Plains Standout by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Barrett, an All-South Plains performer a year ago, was on the receiving end of touchdown passes of 47, 21, 15 and 11 yards from Kirk Saul, who passed for 260 yards in the victory.

Congratulations, Patriots!

Classes Attend Soil Conservation Demonstration

The fourth and fifth grade classes of Valley School recently participated in a demonstration on how to prevent soil erosion. The classes saw a film entitled, "The Adventure of Junior Rain-drop." The film portrays just what rain can do to our land if we leave the soil bare. They also studied different types of soil and how water moves through sand, loam and clay.

A demonstration of what rainfall does to bare soil and grass covered soil was presented by John Crowell of the Soil Conservation Service and Rusty Henson of the Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District. The experiment shows how rainwater runs off bare soil, quickly taking soil with it and causing erosion. Another experiment shows how rainwater is slowed down by crop stubble and grass resulting in less runoff and less erosion and more water soaking into the soil for use by crops.

The students attending will participate in a Conservation Poster Contest this winter. The purpose of the Poster Contest is to teach students the value of our soil, water, plant and animal resources and teach them how to conserve our natural resources.

Winners of the Poster Contest at Valley School will go on to compete at the County level against winners from Silverton School. An awards banquet will be held again in February next year.

For additional information, contact John Crowell at the Soil Conservation Service in Silverton, 823-2320, or Rusty Henson, Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District Director, in Quitauque.

Valley Junior Patriots Take Another Win

Valley Junior High Patriots picked up another win last Thursday in Childress when they defeated Childress B Team 20-14.

Bubba Clardy romped for three touchdowns, and Curtis Williams scored on a two-point conversion.

The halftime score was 14-14. Valley's offense was able to hold the ball almost the entire second half as well as scoring the winning touchdown.

Valley's line played as well as they have all season, and this was what enabled Bailey to move and hold the ball so well. Linemen were Jason Little, Chad Isabell, Cal Farley, Stephen Silva and Max Lopez.

Three Proposed Amendments Draw PCG Endorsement

Three of the fourteen proposed constitutional amendments on this year's November election ballot, numbers 1, 2 and 10, have drawn unqualified endorsement from Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Two of the three concern the future availability of an adequate water supply, "one of the most essential components of the good life we know in Texas," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. The other relates to financing for the purchase of farm and ranch land.

In discussion at PCG board and committee meetings, Johnson states, "not one voice has been raised in opposition to these amendments, and we are urgently asking our membership for a heavy turnout of favorable votes."

Noting that other proposals to establish a comprehensive Texas Water Plan via constitutional amendments have failed in three previous elections, Johnson believes "It is up to those of us who recognize the importance of these issues to ensure against a fourth defeat at the hands of the multitude that always votes 'no' on every proposal they don't fully understand."

Amendment number 1 on the ballot will read "The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

Amendment number 2 will read "... authorizing the issuance and sale of $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds."

Morris Wilkes, representing chief water plan architect Senator John Montford of Lubbock, explains that the water provisions were split in the Texas Legislature to neutralize urban opposition to the agricultural water conservation bonds. Because of the wording of enabling legislation, Wilkes says, amendment number 1 has to pass in order for number 2 to be effective, which is why proponents are campaigning for passage of both as a "package."

Amendment number 10 will read "... authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide financing assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land."

Voter approval would allow the state to issue general obligation bonds to provide low interest financing for farmers and ranchers to purchase agricultural land. The program would be patterned after the successful Veterans Land Program and would be administered through the General Land Office and the Veterans Land Board.

Borrowers would have to be U. S. citizens, Texas residents for five years, and from a household in which at least one member receives at least 35 percent of total income from farming or ranching. Maximum loan would be $100,000 with a five percent minimum down payment and a minimum purchase of 50 acres. Maximum loan period would be 40 years.

JUPITER PLUTIFUL TEXAS

Oh, once it was dusty in Texas, In the land where the strong breezes blew.

Where gray sand and black dirt in handfuls

Was all the dew West Texas knew.

But now, it's a water bound country,

With oceans of clouds in the sky, And you can't find a field or a pasture.

Only lakes that will never run dry.

So with mud on my boots and my britches,

In a spirit of "never say die,"

I'll give you a toast to West Texas,

And a slogan . . . HERE'S MUD IN YOUR EYE.

House Approves Of Farm Bill

The House approved a five-year farm bill last week that curtailed administrative attempts to scale back price supports for American farmers. The decision came after months of heated debates in the House Agriculture Committee, insisting that Congress relieve the pressure that has put Texas farmers in its tight economic situation.

The bill passed by a vote of 282-141 with a pending total of $141 billion for fiscal years 1986-1990. The proposition is within the proposed budget passed in August, but it has been criticized for being based on outdated crop production estimates.

Joe Rankin, president of the Texas Farmers Union, said he believes that the action is a do-nothing bill that fails to provide the income support private farmers need to survive. "It has provisions in it which will allow the Secretary of Agriculture to cut loan rates by 25 percent," Rankin said.

"It offers no hope for relief whatsoever," he said. "We've got to get some improvements on the Senate side for it to be of any help to farmers. We were disappointed in the failure of the Beddell Amendment because we felt it was a step in the right direction."

Rankin said this action by the House is not the realistic ap-

FOUNDATION SEEKS TO IMPROVE QUALITY OF HIGHER EDUCATION

The Don and Sybil Harrington Foundation has worked closely with West Texas State University to improve the quality of higher education in this region and to make the university experience accessible to more students. "The Harrington connection" works in a variety of ways.

The Harrington String Quartet offers the most visible evidence of the Harrington influence. The quartet has been acclaimed in performances throughout the region and beyond. The four musicians also teach on the WTSU music faculty and serve as principal players with the Amarillo Symphony, all through the generosity of a $1,221,000 endowment from the Harrington Foundation.

But the Foundation's influence on higher education in West Texas doesn't end there. A $175,000 endowment has provided scholarships for WTSU nursing students since 1981. And a $1.2 million endowment provides academic merit scholarships for hundreds of students each year.

The academic merit scholarships began in 1978 with $200 awards to incoming freshmen who had been members of National Honor Society or its equivalent in high school. Beginning in 1981, the award became a renewable scholarship for those students who maintained a 3.0 grade point average in their college work. Beginning this year the amount of the stipend varies from $200 to $600 per year, based upon ACT test scores.

Over 2100 students have participated in this program since 1978. Lila Vars, who heads WTSU's recruiting efforts, believes these grants have given WTSU the opportunity to compete for the top students in Texas. Melody Cruse of Turkey and Cindy Hawkins of Quitaque are students who received scholarships this year.

Insulation comes in rolls, loose fill or batts. The "Resistance-value" or "R-value," indicates the ability of a material to keep heat from passing through it. The higher the "R-value" the more heat the insulation will keep inside in the winter and outside in the summer. WTU recommends R-30 insulation in the ceiling and R-16 in the walls.

Nuevo Study Club Meets In Home of Mrs. George Setliff

The Nuevo Study Club met Thursday, October 17, in the home of Mrs. George Setliff with Mrs. George Gafford serving as hostess. Mrs. Paul Robertson, president, called the meeting to order and conducted the business session.

Among items discussed was the Vernon Center Christmas gifts. It was decided to take the gifts to the November 14 meeting or earlier if possible. Each year the club sends a box of gifts to the Center. Mrs. Setliff was appointed to serve on the gift committee.

A letter was read from Mrs. Mayme Blume in which she said she would have to resign from the club as she would be making her home in Austin.

Mrs. Bert Degan gave the program prepared by Mrs. Gordon Bain. Topic was some early history facts of Texas. At the close she lighted a large white candle and read an appropriate poem in memory of Mrs. Mayme Adamson.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to nine members. The club adjourned to meet on October 24 with Mrs. Willis Walker, who agreed to host the club in place of Mrs. Powell, who is ill.

Turkey UMW Has Final Session of Bible Study

The Turkey United Methodist Women met Monday, October 21, in the chapel for the final session of the Bible Study on the book of Daniel, led by Fredia Fuston. An interesting lesson on chapters 7-12 was given.

Marcella Patterson gave the opening prayer and conducted the business session. Nadine Baisden and Marjorie Bain are on the committee to nominate officers for the coming year. They are to report to the next meeting. The rummage sale was discussed and it was decided that since this Saturday is the last day for the sale, all clothes would go for 50c or less. There are many good articles of clothing for all ages, so you would be able to pick up some good bargains, they say.

The new toys were discussed and it was decided to meet on Saturday mornings for the purpose of selling toys after the rummage sale is over. Play Skol and Remote Control toys, and many others are on hand. Orders may be placed for Cabbage Patch dolls, it was announced. The time the basement will be open is from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. each Saturday in November. Their ad is in another place in this issue.

Some phone numbers to call any time are 423-1085, 423-1034 or 423-1092, if you are interested in the toys. Money raised on these goes to the Lord's Acre project of the church.

The Valley Tribune received a renewal from the A. D. McDonald's in El Cajon, California, and Mrs. C. F. Taylor of Hedley this week. They all say they enjoy the Valley Tribune each week, like a letter from home.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends and loved ones for all that you have done since my accident. A very special thank you goes to all the EMTs. You answered our call so promptly and handled me with such great care. We do hope our town realizes how lucky we all are to have such caring and well-trained staff available for such emergencies. We appreciate every act of kindness shown to us, the cards, visits, phone calls, and especially, your prayers. A thank you goes to all who paid on the beautiful gift from Rice's and to all who brought food to the house. It has been a true blessing and we are most grateful.

We are so thankful to live in a community filled with kindness and have such wonderful friends. We still have a long way to go to recovery, but we will make it, thanks to your support. We love all of you.

God bless.
Opal and Dick Taylor

We would like to thank everyone for all the deeds of kindness that you have done for us during Mother Mayme's illness and after her death. We appreciated the many calls, visits, flowers, food and especially your prayers. May God's richest blessings be yours.

PROPER STOCKING RATES

Careful adherence to proper stocking rates may be the best solution to minimizing supplemental feed purchases, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Ranchers need to evaluate pasture carrying capacity each year during three critical periods —October, March and June.

October is the traditional adjustment period with sale of spring calves and limited winter forage growth. At this time a rancher knows how many animals he plans to hold over.

A rancher must know how many animals of different nutritional requirements are on hand at any given time and the acreage of grazable forage.

LEGUMES FOR SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS

Demonstrations by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have shown that legumes such as clovers and vetch can be a boost to any forage program in South Central Texas.

Legumes can fill a void that most producers experience with a forage production system based on warm-season grasses such as bermudagrasses and Kleingrass.

Incorporating legumes into such a system would allow grazing for 10 to 12 months a year, greatly reducing winter feeding costs. Legumes also offer top quality forage high in crude protein and phosphorus in late winter and early spring, the typical breeding season in most beef herds.

With proper inoculation, legumes can add 50 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to the soil to boost warm-season grasses.

The first policewoman was Alice Stebbins Wells, a member of the Los Angeles Police Force in 1910. Her chief duties included enforcement of laws concerning dance halls, skating rinks and penny arcades.
