Hoedown Phase II Set For Next Week

Quitaque is taking on a "new look" with old buildings freshly painted, unsightly weeds eliminated and store windows once again displaying an interesting collection of memorabilia.

Because so many people cared and worked at the "Hoedown" on June 24, there will be a second workday on July 22, 1989, primarily to clean up and make displays in other vacant store windows. When completed there will be a Sidewalk Museum in Quitaque with interesting things to see throughout the town.

A large work force will be needed to turn out Saturday, meeting at the City Park at 8 a.m. There is still a great deal of litter to be removed, junk to be hauled off and painting to be done. Working together can accomplish so much and gives one a sense of pride to have been a part in such a worthwhile endeavor.

Keeping a community clean not only improves the physical aspect, but also reflects the kind of people who live in the community. It's a symbol of pride and a symbol the citizens of Quitaque care about.

The Briscoe County Task Force, beautification committee is very serious about displaying the commodities of Quitaque and the surrounding area, and encourage residents to join in their efforts to draw tourists and industries to our towns. Meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month at the Community Center in Quitaque.

Quitaque City Council Adjusts '89-'90 Budget

The City Council of the City of Quitaque met in a called meeting on Monday, June 29, 1989, to consider the Fiscal Year 89-90 budget for the City.

Conner presented a proposed budget for the Council to consider. After adjustments were made to the budget concerning salaries, overtime, and other benefits, Councilman Stark made a motion to adopt the amended budget, Davidson seconded the motion. The proposed budget was adopted by the council by unanimous vote.

A copy of the adopted FY 89-90 budget are on file in the City Secretary's office at the City Hall, and can be examined by the public at any time during regular office hours.

Emergency Farm Loans Are Being Accepted By FmHA

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by adverse weather are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration office located in Floydada, FmHA County Supervisor Becky Via said today.

Briscoe County is one of many in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the flooding and severe storms.

Ms. Via said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan," Ms. Via said.

As I See It!

By Thelma Gafford

AS I SEE IT

This Summer is really flying by, not only for me, but for the school children and teachers. Can you believe that half of the summer vacation is over? The football boys will start two-day workouts in four short weeks! I know they're hoping for an August cool spell during that time.

Speaking of football, an incomplete schedule for 1989 is in this edition of the paper. A complete schedule won't be available until late August. Coach Gilmore has really put a lot of effort into getting games lined up. Even though we won't qualify for district honors this year, he has managed to get us placed in a district, so our boys can get more playing time during this year of re-organization. According to Gilmore, Valley's reputation, as always, precedes itself. Critics say we're gonna' be tough even if we are new at this 6-man game. But, we already knew that, didn't we?

Some members of the Valley FFA, along with Mr. D. Mr. Maupin and Mrs. Janice Hughes left for the FFA State Convention in Houston on Monday. They will return home Friday. That's a fun loving bunch, so I know they'll have a great time.

Question of the Week. Is it true that some parents really do get to take real vacations?

TEXAS TIDBITS

Enchanted Rock, a bald granite mountain covering 640 acres and stretching 1,824 feet high, is known as Texas' noisiest mountain. Located in northeastern Gillespie County, Indians credited the mountain with having a spirit and offered sacrifices. Weird, creaking, groaning noises emanate from this mountain, especially at night. Geologists logically explain the sound is caused by contractions of the stone during cool evenings after the daytime heat.

Slow down your electric meter!

You can help slow down your meter and lower your cooling bills by following these tips:

- Set your thermostat on 78° or higher and use ceiling or portable fans to help circulate the air.
- Have your air conditioner serviced annually and once a month, check the filter. A dirty filter can keep your air conditioner from working efficiently.
- Keep doors, windows, and drapes firmly closed to keep cool air in and heat out.
- Protect ceiling and walls with adequate insulation. Make sure cracks around windows, doors, pipes and wiring are tightly sealed with caulking and weatherstripping.
- Use heat producing appliances, like ranges, dishwashers, and dryers during the cooler part of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carson announce the engagement of their daughter, Jay Lynn Carson to Doyle Dean Proctor of Turkey. Doyle Dean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Proctor of Turkey. The couple plan to wed July 22, 1989 at Clint, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lawrence Miller of St. Louis, Mo. announce the engagement of their daughter, Shelly Kay Miller, to David Jefferson Beck, both of Houston. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Beck of Ft. Worth. They plan to marry August 5, 1989, at Southwayside Baptist Church, Ft. Worth, where the groom's father is pastor. From 1957 to 1961, Dr. Beck was pastor of First Baptist Church in Quitaque.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

by Mary Jane Shanes
Social Security beneficiaries should report their marriages even if the marriages will not change their benefits. Often other changes may be needed such as change of address, change of names on social security records, and changing the names on checks they receive.
Changing the address is important even for beneficiaries with direct deposit because the social security administration must mail notices to all beneficiaries several times a year.
A name change should be reflected on the social security card. The beneficiary must complete an application for the card and provide proof of the name change, such as a marriage license or marriage certificate.
People with medicare may also need to show the new name on that card. All records should show the same name.
Another good reason to report the marriage is to find out when, and if, a beneficiary can qualify for benefits on the new spouse's social security record. If more money can be paid on the basis of the marriage, the beneficiary will be told when to apply. There is usually a one year wait before the beneficiary can receive benefits on the new spouse's record.

Some benefits do not end with marriage. A widow or widower over 60 (or a disabled widow or widower 50 or older) will not lose his or her benefits with remarriage. A person receiving benefits as a disabled child, a divorced spouse, a parent, or a widow or widower receiving benefits based on having child in care, will have benefits end unless the marriage is to certain other social security beneficiaries.
Questions about marriage and benefits can be answered by contacting social security by phone, mail, or in person. Beneficiaries should have their claim number with them if they call or visit the office. For best service, contact social security after the first week of the month.
For more information or to file a claim call 1-800-2345-SSA.
