Quitaque Fire Department Says Softball Tourney Was Success

The Quitaque Fire Department sponsored a softball tournament over the weekend, and reports a success.

The first place winners were Panhandle Compress Gamblers of Quitaque. The team received a trophy and windbreakers.

Second place went to Paymaster Gin of Quitaque. The team received a trophy and each member received an individual trophy.

Third place went to the Renegades of Matador and Roaring Springs. The team received a trophy and one-hour free batting practice at Plainview Batting Practice Barn.

The Most Valuable Player award went to the Rev. Mike Grebenik. He received a silver cup. This award was most appropriate since Bro. Mike and his wife and two boys are leaving Quitaque this week. This award was chosen by the Softball Association President, Jack Chandler, and the two referees, therefore, it was an impartial decision.

This annual tournament is the best fund raising project for the Fire Department, it is reported. The department wants to thank the people of Quitaque and surrounding areas for their support in making the tournament the big success that it was and to ask for future support.

The proceeds will be used to continue upgrading the communications systems and finish construction on another building. A special thanks goes to the Softball Association for the great facilities and to Jack Chandler, president, for being tournament director. Thanks to all the people who donated time and funds for food for the concession stand and to the firemen's wives for the work they did.

The Fire Department and Ambulance Service operate for the benefit of the public and your continued support helps them to make things better for us.

(Editor's Note: These two organizations are volunteer services. There are many man hours donated every week that many of us take for granted. How many farmers would stop the combine in the middle of the field to make an ambulance run unless it was a family member or close friend? Yet, the businessmen of Quitaque are stopped themselves or an employee is sent repeatedly to help us, the public. If you can't take time to do these things, maybe you can do the next best thing: supply the money needed to help them to help us.)

Bud Baileys Are Winners Of Yard Of The Month Honors

The Bud Baileys were the worthy recipients of the "Yard of the Month" honors bestowed by "We the Women" for the month of June. Bud and Charlie have a beautiful green lawn with well trimmed hedges and when one passes by, it is a common sight to see Bud working in the yard.

This isn't the first time for the Baileys to receive this recognition, and congratulations are offered on their maintaining excellence in the neatness and beauty of their yard.

Lela Mae Hutcheson was the first winner for this year, and her home on the entrance to town always looks neat and attractive.

The judges tell us there are many worthy people whose yards should be mentioned. It would be well if awards could be given as "most lush grass turf"—like Jennie and Ebb Auston—or "best looking gardens"—such as James Brunson and the Clardy's, both of whom share their bountiful vegetables with neighbors and friends—"beautiful flowers"—at the Carl and Vera Woods home—and all over town there are lovely features in other yards many of which will be recognized from time to time.

At the end of the season a special gift will be given from the Valley Farm Store and First National Bank recognizing the outstanding yard of the year. In addition, the winner will also receive a plaque from "We the Women."

Everyone is encouraged to become more aware of littering the streets and keeping trash and weeds picked up around your own homes and vacant lots. If each person in town will do his part, Quitaque will be known as a neat, progressive town, but when people pitch out cans, paper cups and trash on the streets, it doesn't take long for the whole town to look unkept.

The purpose in sponsoring a yard of the month is to make persons aware that all of us can keep our own premises neat and clean and the best they can be. It is impossible to publicly recognize all of the individual efforts made in maintaining beautiful yards, but each person plays an important part in making our community attractive and well-kept.

Keep up the good work, Quitaque.

LaVon Gafford, master of ceremonies, welcomed everyone and recognized the two who came the farthest for the reunion. They were Roy Perkins of Iron Star, North Carolina, who was presented a Bob Wills belt buckle, and Ray Colvin Molloy from Fulsom, California, who was given a Bob Wills pendant.

New Manager At Caprock Home Center

Steve and Karen Winston from Seattle, Washington, arrived in the Quitaque area recently. Steve is the new manager of Caprock Home Center.

The couple has three children, Julie, 12; Chuck, 10, and Cassandra, who is almost six months old.

"I am enjoying my new job as manager of the Caprock Home Center," says Steve. "I hope everybody will come in to say hello."

As of now, the couple still hasn't found a house to rent, but they are optimistic that something will be found before long.

The Winstons are currently staying with the Billy Shannon family.

Steve was born in Lubbock and moved to Seattle in 1964.

Karen was born in Colorado and had lived in Washington state about five years before she met Steve. She has been a Country-Western Singer with her own band. She has sung at fairs with celebrities, such as Hank Thompson and Sheb Wooley (Ken Colder). She has now retired from her singing career and is happy to be a housewife.

Julie is excited about starting the eighth grade at Valley School and she looks forward to meeting new friends.

Steve's parents are Vernon Winston, sr. and Velma (Shannon) Winston, who live in Woodinville, Washington.

Karen's parents are Norby and Norma Meverden of Littleton, Colorado.

The Valley Tribune and the surrounding area welcome this family to our midst and hope you enjoy being a part of the community.

School.

Entry fee is $60.00 per team. To enter, contact Peggy Brannon, Box 95, Quitaque, Texas 79255, 455-1135.

The first game of the tournament will be played Friday night, July 22, at 7:00 p.m.

Following the meal, the group broke up into classes and visited, then visited with everyone. It was reported that a great time was had by all. The classes of 1958 and 1956 had the most present, with 17 and 16 respectively.

In August of 1982 several ladies began talking about an event such as this to be held sometime in the fall of that year, but it was decided to wait until this summer. So along about March they began to make plans in earnest and at least one person from each class was given the responsibility of contacting members of her particular class. The following were involved: Lawana Cruse, Kay Eudy, Claudia Hawkins, Pat Carnes, Wilda Fuston, Gelene Proctor, Paulette Lipscomb, Joy Turner, Louise Hood, Delores Price, Jo Lacy, Janice Wheeler, Thelma Gafford, Sandy Fuston, Rita Hedrick and Frances Wheeler. Many others helped in the final project. They did not get to see the old films of ballgames and senior trips because the projector would not work and the new projector could not be used with the old film. All in all, however, the event was reported to be a huge success.

NOTICE TO QUITAQUE SENIOR CITIZENS

Quitaque Senior Citizens Meet In Regular Session

The Quitaque Senior Citizens Association met Thursday, July 7, with 31 present.

Several committees gave reports. One committee had been selected to get a date for a baseball tournament but found all the time had been allotted for the summer.

President Bud Bailey reported that several people had complimented the work of the Association that has been done at the cemetery. He also reported that some donations have come in as a result of this work.

Computer Classes To Be Offered At Valley

The 1983-84 school year will see an addition to its already existing curriculum at Valley School. For the first time ever, computer training will become a part of the curriculum to which every student graduating from Valley will be introduced. Beginning with the next school year, computer literacy will be taught in one of the junior high grades. Computer literacy gives a student a minimal level of knowledge and skills concerning computer technology and usage and will prepare students for more advanced study.

A course in computer programming will be offered for credit as a high school course. Computer programming is fundamental to communicating with and controlling the computer. The high school course will be offered to students above the tenth grade who have sufficient background in math. In addition to the other two courses, word processing will be taught with computers as a part of the typing II course.

The teachers, Mrs. Bettie Green, Mrs. Pat Maupin and Mrs. Ruth Ann Scrivner, have attended college and other training sessions to prepare to teach the new courses. Definite teaching assignments to particular courses have not as yet been determined. Valley School is fortunate to have teachers who are prepared and interested in teaching computers.

Today, virtually everyone's life is affected either directly or indirectly by computers. The computer has made its way into the home and school, and into almost every political, industrial, commercial and scientific enterprise. The school today must be able to meet the challenge in preparing its students to function in a world where the computer plays such an important role.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Woods were in Plainview Monday. They stopped by to see Mrs. H. G. Tant in the hospital, but found her asleep and didn't disturb her.

Mr. Baisden was born in Williamson County, Texas on March 18, 1906, a son of the late Cain and Intha Baisden, and came to the Turkey area with them in 1910. He was married to Nadine Hollingsworth in Quitaque on August 12, 1932. He had retired from farming last year.

Ivory was transported just after midnight to Lea Regional Hospital, but all efforts to revive him failed.

An autopsy was performed and it showed he died from drowning.

Ivory was also owner of Shadetree's Fina service station in Hobbs.

He was born in Quitaque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ivory. He had lived in Hobbs since 1956. He was a member of the Progressive Men's Club, Best Western Club and Eunice Roping Club.
