Dimmitt Man Drowns At Lake Mackenzie

Billy Marquez, 18, of Dimmitt became the latest drowning victim at Lake Mackenzie late Sunday, July 8, 1990. Justice of the Peace James Edwards ruled the death accidental.

The man is thought to have jumped into the water on the south side of the boat ramp, began swimming, then went under. He struggled to the surface, but was pulled under again, and then disappeared.

Emergency personnel responded to the call about 5:30 p.m., after members of his family reported him drowned. Divers from the Amarillo Police Department arrived on the scene and entered the waters about 9:55 p.m. The body was removed from the water on the second attempted rescue dive at 10:15 p.m. and taken to Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home in Silverton.

It is speculated the victim may have become entangled in a tree beneath the surface of the water. One of the APD divers became tangled in a tree and had to have his diving partner to help free him, causing more anxiety at the scene.

Funeral mass was held at Foskey Funeral home in Dimmitt on Wednesday.

Car-Phone Phobia

I must confess to a degree of unease when the person on the other end of my telephone conversation also is driving a car. Something about carrying on a phone conversation while whizzing down the highway at 65 mph unnerves me.

I noticed this phenomenon several months ago when I was interviewing entrepreneurs for a story. At first I blamed the rumble on bad connections, but then I realized these people were returning my calls from somewhere out on Main Street — literally.

My interviews fell apart. How can you ask someone a sensitive question when he may be trying to pass a tractor-trailer rig in the middle of a sharp curve? I expected every question to be followed by the awful sound of crunching metal and breaking glass.

I never would consider buying a car phone for myself. I admit it: Something about other motorists brings out the beast in me.

For example, I can be driving along having a pleasant conversation with my children when the idiot in front of me suddenly slams on the brakes.

"QUIET!" I screech at the girls. "Can't you see we're in TRAFFIC?"

I realized that I have a serious problem the other day when I observed the children pretending that they were driving to the grocery store.

"It's not going to get any greener!" said Julie, sounding the imaginary horn. "Did you get your license from a Cherrios box?" she shouted.

"Fool!" added her little sister from the make-believe passenger seat.

While I admit to the problem, I must say it is aggravated by the fact that other drivers in my community really are quite insane. And we have unstable driving conditions where I live — one-way streets that reverse direction overnight, lanes that appear and disappear for no apparent reason.

I have tried to explain to more than one policeman that I was just trying to get out of the way when I did whatever I did that was wrong — I'm never really sure what it was.

Can you imagine what would happen if my mother called while I was trying to negotiate under these conditions?

The other day my brother was passing through town. He didn't have time to stop by, but he did call from his car to say hello. In addition to hearing about the latest developments in his life, I also learned that a band of Hell's Angels was southbound on Interstate 75, headed my way.

I really think I could live without car phones for a long, long time. ll

Ask Bob Bullock

Editor's note: Bob Bullock, Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, answers questions from taxpayers in his monthly column, "Ask Bob Bullock". If you have a question about state taxes, write to Bob Bullock, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Austin, Texas, 78774, or call 1-800-252-5555.

Dear Bob Bullock:
I returned a coffee pot to the store where I bought it. I was given a refund on the purchase price, but told I'd have to write to your office for the sales tax, because it already had been sent to you. Do I?
J. B. Austin

Dear J. B.:
No, you don't have to write this office. When stores give full refunds on returned items, the sales tax also should be refunded. The store then takes a tax credit on the next tax return to this office.

Dear Bob Bullock:
I was surprised to be charged sales tax on an extended service policy for my new refrigerator. Why is this?
A.W. China Grove

Dear A.W.:
The extended service policy is payment in advance for repair or maintenance of your refrigerator. The service is taxable.

Food Diary Health Help

According to Cindy Rowell, R. D., outpatient dietician at Methodist Hospital, carrying a diary and recording what you eat for one week can demonstrate some hidden, bad eating habits.
Keeping a detailed food diary for a week is a simple way to learn if what, when, how and why you eat are the reasons you feel sluggish or can't lose a few extra pounds.
Make a six-column chart with headings noting the time, what you're doing and where, what and how much you eat, what your mood is, the time you spend eating and how many calories you consume. At the end of the week, interpret and study your notes.

Farm Forum

Texas Farmers Union members held a 1990 Farm Bill Forum Monday, July 2, 1990 at 8 p.m. in the courtroom of the Foard County Courthouse, Crowell, Texas. Guest speaker was United States Congressman Bill Sarpalius.
Virgil Blakney, longtime FU member of Turkey attended the meeting.
Sarpalius stated that he tried to keep the committee from freezing target prices and to get loan prices raised (this was in the Ag committee).
He also stated even though he didn't get the above passed in committee, they have offered several amendments that will come up on the House floor.
While most other commodities received a four percent increase for inflation, agriculture did not get an increase.
Keith Spears, of the A.S.C.S. Committee, predicted in five years there will be no farm program.
Panelists for the Farm Forum consisted of Ronald Bertrand, Stan Beavers, Dr. Rod Heitschmidt, George Mullino, Joe Rankin, Darrel Seals, Wesley Sims, Keith Spears, and Robert Stewart.

FACTS & FIGURES

If you're a member of a club or association, you have plenty of company. America has over 21,000 national and international associations. How many regional and local groups are there? Over 50,000!

Over 100 of the world's largest associations have picked out the same public relations firm: Hill and Knowlton. Fortunately for smaller associations that can't afford a top PR firm, the head of Hill and Knowlton recently authored a book of PR advice, "Power and Influence." Not all stores and libraries have the book so it pays to call around.

If you ever become a Congressman, how many Washington-based associations will try to influence your vote? The answer is well over 2,000!

Getting a Green Thumb

Q. I can't seem to get anything to grow. Is a green thumb something you're born with, or can it be acquired?

A. Actually, a green thumb is in your head. It's simply a positive state of mind about growing things.

Rapp, Miracle-Gro, showing love, playing the right music—but most of all,

Raising houseplants successfully requires a combinations of lots of actions—choosing the right plants for the right spot, watering properly, feeding properly with a quality fertilizer such as Miracle-Gro, showing love, playing the right music—but most of all,

Your thumb may be greener than you think.

showing confidence. It may help to start with something hardy such as sansevieria, often called snake plant or mother-in-law's tongue. As it grows, it can help your confidence grow. Then, all it takes is willingness to give some time and energy to the care of your plants—and you'll find you've grown yourself a green thumb.

- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons cider vinegar

Peel and coarsely chop peaches (makes about 3 cups); set aside. In a small skillet melt butter. Add walnuts; cook and stir until golden, about 2 minutes. Add curry and ginger; cook and stir until spices are golden, 30 seconds to 1 minute. Add peaches, brown sugar and vinegar; simmer, uncovered, until peaches are tender, about 5 minutes. Refrigerate in a covered container until ready to serve.

Summer is 94 days long. No more, no less, each and every year. We've now hoed out 27 days of it leaving us only 67 days to go. This provides you with an easy formula for figuring out the amount of water you'll run, the number of kilowatts you'll burn, the number of times you'll mow your lawn, how many times we need a rain, the amount of money you'll need to vacation in the mountains if it only costs a hundred bucks a day, and all other sorts of things. Aren't you glad summer don't last the year round?!

Speakin' of rain, and who hasn't...we ain't had any!

The odds of someone paying any attention to you is based upon the stupidity of your actions!

Notice where a voter sent his Congressman a gift the other day...it was a potted cactus with a card attached saying, "Sit on it!"

If you speak before you think, people will find out what's really on your mind!

It's not too early to start thinking about what you are going to do to your garden next year!

Sign on a dentist's upon leaving...OUTch!

We shouldn't be too hard on our politicians. Most of them are doing the work of two men...Laurel and Hardy!

The Town Loafer says happiness is squeezing one more brushful out of a toothpaste tube!

These dieters exercise classes advise you to wear loose clothing. If you had any loose clothing, what would be the use of dieting?!

A horse race fan says he went to the races on the 7th day of the 7th month because it was his birthday, so he bet on the 7th horse in the 7th race...the horse finished 7th!

They now have telephone capable of screening your telephone calls. Put in the number of the people you don't want to talk to and if they call you, they get a busy signal!

My typing is getting better since I got the hang of it!

Then there was this lady taking driver's license exam and trying parallel parking when the examiner asked, "Could you get a little closer?" So, she slid over almost in his lap!

If necessity is the mother of invention, I don't see how all the unnecessary stuff gets invented!

The worst part of a diet is not watching what you eat...it's watching what everybody else eats!

The boss was looking at the suggestions from the suggestion box and murmured, "I wish they would be more specific...what kind of kite...which lake?"

The teenage girl said that her boyfriend was the goal of her life, but her father kicked the goal!

Hear about the guy who had three cars and three motorcycles but still walked in his sleep?!

Strange that we put in a lot of time trying to make money and then spend it all killing time!

If money talks, it should have started crying for help a long time ago!

Seems like today's elections are held only for the purpose of seeing if the opinion polls and surveys were right!

That's -30- for this time, remember, the largest odds in the world are those against getting even!

SOCIAL SECURITY FACTS

NOT ALL FARM WORK IS COVERED BY SOCIAL SECURITY
Farmers and farm workers need to know when farm work is covered by Social Security.
Farmers must pay Social Security taxes for any worker who is paid at least $150 in cash during the year. If the farmer's total expense for agricultural labor is $2,500 or more, all workers are covered by Social Security, even if they earn less than $150. An exception is made for some piece-work laborers.
The exception applies to laborers who live at home and commute to work daily during harvest season to pick fruit or vegetables by hand. If the work is paid on a piece rate basis, it is only covered by Social Security if the worker is paid at least $150 in cash.
More information for farmers and farm workers is available from Social Security at the Plainview office, located at 1401 B W. 5th, or by calling 1-800-234-555A (1-800-234-5772). Ask for Factsheet 6, Crew Leaders and Farmers or Fact sheet 8, Agricultural Workers.

Mammograph Can Save Lives

Approximately one in 10 women will develop breast cancer at some time in their lives. It is estimated that in 1990, 150,000 women will develop the disease and 44,000 will lose their lives to it.
Although these statistics are frightening, women can protect themselves. Early discovery of breast lumps and prompt treatment of breast cancer can decrease mortality in women of all ages.
"Breast cancer can be detected early in three ways-breast self-examinations, physical checkups on a regular basis and mammography," said Doris Scales, RN, nurse specialist in the Hodges Cancer Center, Lubbock.
Scales advises women to perform breast self-examinations every month, beginning at age 20. This procedure can help a woman to become aware of the normal size, shape and feel of her breasts. This familiarity makes the early warning signs of cancer easier to detect. Any unusual changes should be reported immediately to a doctor.
"It is important, however, for women to remember that breasts are composed of ducts and fat, which can change over time. For this reason, breast exams should be performed by a doctor every three years for asymptomatic women between 20 and 40 and every year for women older than 40," said Scales.
Mammography is an X-ray procedure that can detect the smallest of lumps long before a self-exam or even a doctor's examination. The procedure produces a high-quality image of the internal structure of the breasts and can detect any existing lumps or calcifications.
"Coupled with breast self-examinations and clinical examinations, mammography is the most accurate way to detect breast cancer in its earliest and most treatable form," said Scales.
"Asymptomatic women age 50 and over should have a mammogram every year. Between ages 35 and 39, a woman should have her first mammogram, and asymptomatic women 40 to 49 should have a mammogram every one to two years," said Scales.

Cool Summer Melons

Food in the summer should be as refreshing as a dip in the swimming pool—cool, clear and satisfying. Meals that take hours to prepare are best saved for the chilly months ahead. For summer, fresh and cool is the rule.

Nothing suits a warm weather appetite better than ripe melons. As light as they are appealing, juicy honeydew and cantaloupe deserve a place on every summer menu. Melon is a natural dessert choice, but also makes a delicious addition to soups, salads and entrees.

Chilled Honeydew Soup is a delightful beginning to a summer meal. Icy pineapple sorbet and pureed honeydew form the base for this soup. The key to creating the perfect balance between sweetness and acidity is the addition of a splash of honeydew flavored Midori Melon Liqueur and a squeeze of lemon juice.

The Midori Fruit Bowl is the ultimate "less-is-more" dessert. Here, Midori Melon Liqueur intensifies the full flavor of honeydew, cantaloupe and pineapple by tenderizing and releasing the natural sugars of the fruit.

CHILLED HONEYDEW SOUP
(Makes 4 servings)

- 1 large honeydew melon, seeded, peeled and diced (about 4 cups)
- 1 lemon, juiced and peel grated
- 1/2 cup Midori
- 1 pint pineapple sorbet, softened
- Mint leaves for garnish

In a food processor or blender, combine diced melon, lemon juice, lemon peel, Midori and sorbet. Puree until mixture is smooth and creamy. Serve immediately. Garnish each serving with mint.

MIDORI FRUIT BOWL
(Makes 6 servings)

- 1 honeydew melon, peeled and seeded
- 1 cantaloupe, peeled and seeded
- 1 fresh pineapple, peeled and cored
- 1/2 cup flaked coconut
- 1/2 cup Midori
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, optional

Scoop out honeydew and cantaloupe to form melon balls. Cut pineapple into small wedges. Arrange fruit in a large glass bowl or hollowed out melon. Sprinkle with coconut. Combine Midori, orange juice, sugar and extract; mix well; pour over fruit.

HEALTH HINTS

Don't Assume Pain Is Natural

You may be putting up with more pain than you have to. See your doctor or dentist.

Doctors and dentists know millions of Americans put up with pain—unnecessarily. Fortunately, those professionals can often help you deal with discomfort quickly and easily.

For instance, for those among the nation's 50 million denture wearers who suffer excruciating sores that make eating and drinking difficult, dentists can now recommend a medicine that's easy to apply.

Clinical tests of the base compound in a product called Ziladent confirms its ability to form a thin but tenacious film that allows the medication to relieve pain and promote healing.

It lasts up to six hours and can bring you relief until you see your dentist. It's available without prescription at local drugstores or you can call Zila Pharmaceuticals at 1-800-922-7887.

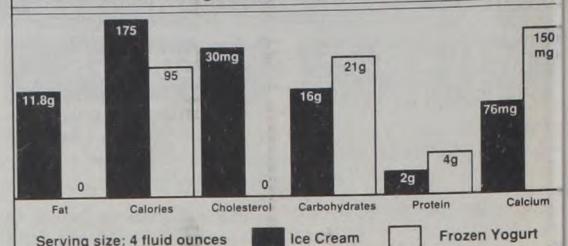

Rabbits are rarely found deep in forests. They prefer places where bushes or clumps of tall grass are available for hiding.

Nutrition Comparison of Frozen Yogurt vs. Premium Ice Cream

Source: USDA Agricultural Handbook 8-1
The next time you enjoy a frozen yogurt, you may be getting a taste of the future.

Here are a few facts about frozen yogurt that give food for thought to people interested in capitalizing on new trends.

•From 1985 to 1989 the market for frozen yogurt grew from less than $200 million to more than $1 billion.

The frozen yogurt market for 1990 is estimated to be $1.5 billion.

•By 1993, it's expected, there'll be over 14,000 places to buy frozen yogurt around America. Currently, frozen yogurt is offered through yogurt shops, department stores, cafeterias, health food stores, convenience stores and supermarkets.

•In less than a decade, frozen yogurt has evolved into one of the frozen dessert market's leading gainers—especially among those who don't want to gain. Frozen yogurt has one third to one half fewer calories than ice cream and it's from 97 to 100 percent fat free.

•To meet consumer demand yogurt manufacturers have introduced a wide variety of products. For example, Colombo, the leading manufacturer and marketer of yogurt worldwide, now offers 11 frozen yogurt in 37 lowfat flavors, 23 Lite nonfat flavors and five Die Colombo nonfat versions. Eight varieties of Colombo Gourmet frozen yogurt, a hard-packed product are also available. Its independent operators receive strong support from the company including branded paper goods, banners, custom cabrietry and comprehensive Colombo University training classes with out paying a franchise or royalty fee. In addition, the company's popular name assures brand recognition from consumers.

Will frozen yogurt replace ice cream in America? The answer may be on the tip of your tongue.
