THEN and NOW!

by Eunice McFall
We are a very privileged group of people as a whole in the United States. We have life very easy when we compare it with the life that our forefathers lived or even the lives of most of the people who live in this twentieth century. Our forefathers and mothers had to work so very hard to just be able to exist that it is very difficult for us to realize the time and energy that it took just to make enough to put food on the table, clothes on the body and to keep a roof on the house.

But do you think that we might be less privileged in other ways? We can go into the kitchen and turn the tap and fresh clean water comes out for us to drink or cook with. We go to the grocery store and have a very wide variety of food to choose from for our week's meals. Our ancestors had very little variety to choose from but in the summer they did feast on the fresh garden produce but when winter arrived, if they had not been very industrious and canned or dried the fresh garden produce in the summer they would not have a variety of foods for the winter months. Just think how hot it must have been with no air conditioning in the kitchen and the wood stove fired up to can the good garden produce!

But privileged they were in the closeness of the families, the choice of their worship on Sunday, the choosing of their representatives to run the country for them for the coming years, the freedom to salute "Old Glory" in all of her splendor, and the right to choose what path that their lives and those of their children would follow!

We, too, have these same privileges! All we have to do to gain these privileges is exercise them and make the right choices for ourselves and our loved ones. We do have life easier in some ways than our forefathers but still tough choices remain for us to make (and quite a few choices that our forefathers never even dreamed about)! We still must choose which road we will travel down. Will we choose to go and do the honest, honorable thing or will we choose the path of least resistance? We may think our choice will only effect us but there we are very wrong-our choice will effect mankind for the rest of time. Think long and hard before choosing the path that you plan to take-make it a path that will be profitable, not just money wise but human wise, not just for you but for your neighbor as well!

Webster states that privilege is a special right, or favor that is granted to some person or group. We are a privileged group blessed with special favors-let us try to make all the right choices so that we can pass this wonderful right on to those following us and perhaps one day the world will all be a privileged place for all peoples not just the chosen few.

Dry, Hot Spell Past?

Tuesday evening and night the Quitaque, Turkey, Flomot area received very welcome rains. Reports of one and one-half inches were given at Quitaque. Turkey residents said they received from 1.80 inches to 2 inches. Water was standing in the fields and pastures all the way to Paducah Wednesday morning as I drove there to prepare our paper for printing. The crops and farmers will certainly appreciate this nice cool drink.

Fire Fighters Are Busy

by Ann Coker
Members of the Turkey volunteer Fire Department have not enjoyed much sleep recently. Due to the extremely hot, dry weather every little cloud that appears has had dangerous lightning causing grass fires.

Last Friday night they were called on to help fight a fire in the Plaska Community. Saturday night they went to Memphis to assist in fighting the fire that was approaching the southern edge of town.

Also on Friday night when the men returned from Plaska, they were called out to the farm belonging to Mary Beth Adamson where another grass fire was started by the electrical storm. Firecrackers started a grass fire Sunday night, after the members had been at the Park, was started along the old railroad track in the northern part of town.

Have A Great Summer

Guidelines For Waste Disposal In Quitaque

There have been several questions recently about the dumping of waste in Quitaque. Also several instances of illegal dumping on city property lately in the Quitaque city barn area. To help clear up the rules, here are the latest guidelines by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission: no trees, tree limbs; no grass clippings or other yard waste; no batteries, auto parts, or anti-freeze; no building, wire, cable or fence materials; no metal items, appliances, or carpet; no motor oil, oil filters, or fuel filters; no tires-no asbestos or treated seed; no burning or smoldering materials; no infectious or medical waste; no hazardous, industrial, or toxic waste; and no chemicals or chemical containers may be put in the dumpsters.

We would like to remind the residents of Quitaque that these are not local rules but are regulated by the State. The City of Quitaque is not permitted nor has the facilities to handle these items. Dumping these materials on City property is not an acceptable practice and illegal dumping charges may be filed for illegal dumping.

Although landfills may not accept these items here are some ways to help you reduce waste: Take old tires to be recycled at the safe tire disposal trailer located at the City barn; take used motor oil to a recycling center; do not catch grass clippings, mulch your lawn instead; ask installers of appliances or carpet to remove items they have replaced (there may be a charge for this service), the Tulia landfill will still accept composition shingles (contractors and homeowners must take shingles to the landfill).

There are also several people who live just out of the city limits using the facilities and dumping in town without paying for these services which constitutes illegal dumping. If you would like to get trash hauling services please call the City Hall to make arrangements.

Dear Editor,

Recent news from the media headlines has been filled with violence and social injustice. Consequently, America has been shoved into the world's spotlight as a dangerous country to visit, yet the US remains to be the "dream" destination of many teenagers across the globe. As Americans it is our responsibility to show the people of the world that America is one of the most beautiful, wondrous countries on earth. Our citizens are kind, generous and anxious to share our cultural heritage with people of other countries.

American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE) has been placing foreign high school students with caring American families for over 13 years. By spending a school year with an American family, these students return to their countries with a deeper understanding of Texas, The United States and it's people, by opening our hearts, homes and lives to another culture, we will be fostering understanding, furthering education, enriching our own lives, and working together to strengthen ties with the future young leaders of foreign nations. This is an imperative step in the approaching peaceful relations between countries.

AISE places student in cities, and towns, ranches and farms, in urban area, mountain areas, desert areas, rural areas and every place between no matter how small or large the community is. AISE needs loving families who can volunteer to host an exchange student beginning in August 1994. There has been a tremendous response nationwide, but there are still students that have not been placed.

The United Nations has designated 1994 as "The International Year of the Family". If we could just show other nations that the spirit of volunteerism and love across cultural boundaries still exist in the family of America as was intended when our constitution was drafted, the world would understand that the people of American still care. Become an "International Family". Call AISE at 1-800 SIBLING for more information.

Farmers Receive

Farmers in Briscoe County are advised of the opportunity to receive technical assistance through the local Soil and Water Conservation District to develop a site specific water quality management plan to prevent or minimize the potential of their operation contributing to further percolation of arsenic into the groundwater.

Arsenic acid is one of several chemicals identified in recent years suspected of polluting groundwater in the county.

"The advantage of participating in this program is that if a farmer voluntarily develops and maintains a site specific water quality management plan (WQMP) through our district and has that plan certified by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board (TSSWCB), the farmer will be compliant with state water quality law and exempt from other state regulatory processes regarding nonpoint source discharge of pollutants," said John Burson, chairman of the local SWCD. "Of course the farmer will have to maintain his or her plan to retain their certification," added Burson.

In explaining a water quality management plan, Burson said that a WQMP includes appropriate land treatment practices, production practices, management measures, technologies or any combination to achieve a level of pollution prevention or abatement.

S.B. 503, which was passed in the last regular session of the Texas Legislature names the TSSWCB as the lead agency in Texas for activities relating to abating agricultural and silvicultural nonpoint source pollution.

The TSSWCB is responsible for assuring that individual water quality management plans comply with state water quality standards established by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission.

Resource Plans

"As a result each WQMP developed, maintained and implemented by a landowner or operator through a SWCD must meet rules and criteria adopted by the TSSWCB," said Burson.

"With a little fine tuning and certification of an existing soil and water conservation plan for a farm, a producer might find that his or her operation will adequately meet state water quality goals," said Burson.

Best management practice standards will be based on criteria in the current USDA Soil Conservation Service field office technical guide for our district Burson said.

Fire Department Supper Successful

by Ann Coker

The Volunteer Fire Department was quite pleased over the success of their hamburger supper last Sunday night in the park.
The Fire boys started serving their delicious hamburgers at 7:00 pm and continued until the last customer was served. They also sold home-made ice cream.

After dark, the Fire Department presented a vivid display of the fireworks. At the conclusion of the fireworks, there was a minor grassfire as a result of the fireworks. The members of the fire department were then able to exhibit their talents by quickly extinguishing the fire.

When the drawings were held, Jessie Hernandez was the lucky winner of the microwave oven.

Billy Wheeler and J. T. Mullins were the lucky winners of the two $50.00 gift certificates.

The Turkey Swimming Pool Association also had a very profitable night with their cake walk.

Food Safety For Backyard Chef

In the midst of this hot summer, outside grilling has become even more popular. This allows the kitchen and the cook to stay a little cooler. Cooking out requires extra precautions though, in order to prevent food borne illness.

Careful grilling can prevent excessive smoke and charring that may be unhealthy. Follow these simple tips to help keep your cook-outs both safe and fun:

- *Select high quality meat and products for best results.
- *Keep meats at 40°F or less until right before grilling. Thaw frozen foods in the refrigerator and do not use the left over marinade on cooked meat.
- *Wash your hands before and after handling raw meats.
- *Wash all work surfaces and utensils thoroughly with hot, soapy water before and after preparations. Use a different cutting board for meats than fruits and vegetables.
- *After meat is placed on the grill, wash utensils and platters with hot, soapy water before using them again. Cooking kills bacteria, but cooked foods can be recontaminated with unwashed utensils.
- Keep serving time after cooking to a maximum of two hours; refrigerate all leftovers immediately.
- *Poultry products should be cooked until the juices run clear or the temperature reaches 70°F.
- *Eating raw or rare meat is not recommended, especially for persons who have chronic illnesses, recovering from surgery or have comprised immune systems. Cook meat thoroughly to kill bacteria. Remember these tips to keep your summer grilling safe and fun.

Workshops Address Rural Issues

The Center for Rural Health Initiatives is sponsoring workshops to help rural community leaders learn more about health care issues. The workshops are a part of the HealthFind program, a unique physician recruitment program. Everyone who works in rural health care, health administration, or is concerned about health care in rural communities is invited to attend. There is a registration fee to cover the cost of lunch. The workshop for this area is scheduled for July 25, in Plainview. Call the center at (512-479-8891) by July 8 for information or to register. Those who preregister will receive an individualized data packet about their community during the workshop.

The workshop will cover community assessment, physician recruitment and retention, and legislative and legal updates that may affect health care in rural communities. Participants will learn how to determine which model of community assessment will work best for their area by exploring different kinds of community assessments. Workshop participants will discover how to get everyone in the community involved in finding physicians through HealthFind, and how to keep physicians in the community. In the last session of the day, workshop participants will learn about recent changes in the Medical Practice Act, reimbursement regulation and state legislation as well as potential issues coming before the Texas Legislature in its upcoming session.

HEALTH FACTS

175,000 Texans To Lose Health Insurance

A recent study by Families USA shows that 175,000 Texans will lose their health insurance each month this year. Some will lose their insurance when they get sick and their insurance company cancels their policy. Others will lose their insurance because they change jobs, start a new business, get divorced, get laid off or graduate from college. In 1994 and 1995, nearly 1 out of 4 Americans will be without health insurance at some point.

"War on Drugs" Youth Conference

Texans' War on Drugs Youth Leadership program has been recognized by many national organizations as a model for the country, such as the National Crime Prevention Council, National Association of State Alcohol and Drug Abuse Agency Directors, Center for Substance Abuse Prevention, Southwest Regional Center for Drug Free Schools and communities, and Commission on National and Community Service. The program began in 1984 with only 40 young people from across Texas. This summer, approximately, 1,800 junior and senior high school students are expected to participate in several sessions throughout the state. As Mr. Heard says, "More than anything, these young people need to see they have their communities support. They need to be recognized for their efforts, as they are changing community attitudes toward drug abuse." For more information, contact Bill Whitehead, Region 17 ESC, 806-793-4857. Over 350 area junior high and high school students will gather at Texas Tech University for the tenth annual Texans' War on Drugs Youth Leadership Conference, July 6-9, 1994. Sponsored by Texans' War on Drugs, the four-day conference brings together groups of young people who are concerned about their future in a world filled with drugs. Many of them have seen first hand the devastating effects of drugs on their peers and family. These youth leaders come together over the summer for a week of comprehensive training on preventing alcohol and other drug use in their schools and communities. They share the pressures they face daily and publicly reaffirm their commitment to lead drug-free lives and help their peers do the same.

Retirement and Social Security

by Terry Richardson

How much money is needed to assure a comfortable retirement? Many financial analysts recommend that middle-income Americans need a replacement rate of about 80 percent of pre-retirement earnings.

Too often, people never think about where that money will come from until it's too late to do much about it.

Social Security retirement benefits replace about 42 percent of an average earner's pre-retirement earnings. Social Security is a financial base on which most retirees can build.

Some critics of the program say they could do a lot better than Social Security in providing for their retirement. I would encourage them to make the effort, because a partnership with each worker is what was originally intended.

When the original Social Security Act was passed almost 60 years ago, Social Security retirement benefits were thought of as part of a "three-legged stool." The other two financial "legs" were (1) personal savings and investments and (2) employer pensions.

What if an individual is either wise enough or lucky enough, through investments and pensions, to duplicate Social Security's replacement rate of 42 percent of earnings for an average individual? He or she would then reach an 84 percent figure and assure themselves a comfortable retirement.

If you do a little less well, the effort is still all to the good because you will have more than just Social Security to rely on.

A good starting point for any analysis of what you will or need for your retirement years is a Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement that is available free from Social Security. Just call 1-800-772-1213 and one of our representatives will be happy to help you.

Immunize Your Little Texan By Two

Now's the time to have your child immunized. Immunizations are an important part of preventive health because a number of infectious diseases are almost completely preventable through routine immunizations. Texas leads the nation in the number of reported cases of vaccine-preventable diseases. Estimates show that while 95 percent of Texas' school-age children are properly immunized, only 30 to 40 percent of the state's preschool-age children have received recommended vaccines. As late as 1990, Texas was home to about 18 percent of the nation's cases of measles, one such preventable disease.

Efforts to improve the health of Texas children are underway. A measure passed last year by the Texas Legislature and supported by Texas Medical Association provides that every child in the state be immunized against vaccine-preventable diseases, regardless of ability to pay. Shots Across Texas, the statewide immunization initiative, recently kicked off its efforts to assure children are appropriately immunized. The physicians of TMA play an active role in Shots Across Texas' immunization efforts to make Texas children healthier.

To prevent dangerous and potentially life-threatening diseases, Texas Medical Association urges you to make sure you and your children have current immunizations. Because these immunizations need to be received by age 2, waiting until your child is ready to start school needlessly puts them at risk of exposure to disease.

Routine childhood immunizations protect against eight diseases. The following immunization schedule is recommended as a guideline by the Texas Department of Health and the Texas Medical Association:

*DTP (diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis)—a series of five shots at 2 months, 4 months, 6 months, between 15 and 18 months, and a booster shot between ages 4 and 6.

*Polio—a series of four oral doses at 2 months, 4 months, 15 to 18 months, and 4 to 6 years.

*MMR (Measles, mumps and rubella)—two shots, one at 15 months and a booster at 11 to 12 years of age.

*Haemophilus influenza type B—two different vaccines available, both given at 2 months, 4 months and 15 months; one also requires a dose at 6 months.

*Tetanus-diphtheria—between ages 14 and 16 and every 10 years thereafter.

Hepatitis B—three shots, given at 2 months, 4 months and 15 months. An additional recommendation was issued by the Center for Disease Control in November 1991 about Hepatitis B. Although it is an adult disease, Hepatitis B has not been controlled by adult immunizations because of the difficulty in reaching much of the population at risk. To help eliminate Hepatitis B, the CDC now recommends immunizing for the disease at birth, at 1 to 2 months, and at 6-18 months.

Although some risks are associated with immunizations, they are outweighed dramatically by the benefits of disease prevention. If you are concerned, speak with your physician about vaccine risks and benefits.

The recent increase in outbreaks of infectious diseases, combined with renewed emphasis on preventive health, makes immunizations more important than ever. Check with your physician about immunizations you and your family need.

Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 33,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 118 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 84 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and 96 percent of the state's allopathic medical students. The TMA's key objective is to improve the health of all Texans.

Pre-"Texas" Entertainment Each Night

Visitors to the "Texas" musical drama this year are being entertained by two groups that each possess a unique musical style.

Tisra Til ascends the patio stage at 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday evenings. This well-traveled musical duo consists of Stephen (Tupe) and Janey Kenyon. During the past 15 years, Tupe and Janey have shared their imaginative stage show with audiences across the United States and around the world.

Crowds visiting "Texas" on Friday and Saturday nights tap their toes to the friendly sounds of The Prairie Dogs. The band has been a crowd-pleaser prior to weekend performances for each of the last three years.

The band, comprised of Dane Williams, Byron Williamson, Greg Meador, Mike Berger and Dennis Garvey, is gaining recognition for a new brand of music they affectionately dub "Cow Jazz." The band's performances are filled with original music written by band members. They consistently cross the traditional lines between folk, rock, country, bluegrass and jazz.

• Keep lawn and shrubs well maintained. Also thin overhead foliage to promote sunny conditions.

• When applying OFF! Skintastic For Children, put it on evenly but not heavily. Follow label instructions and use common sense. Keep away from hands, mouth, eyes and open cuts.

Manage-For A Healthier You

Today's society had ingrained in their minds the beliefs that being overweight is caused by overeating. This belief is supported by the endless amount of calorie-restricted diets, diet books, chemical appetite suppressants and other weight programs. However, many of us are familiar with the fact that low-calorie diets alone rarely work. Research shows that of the persons who are successful at losing weight, more than 95 percent will regain the weight loss within a year.

That is why it is imperative to combine exercise with weight management. "Why is exercise important?" you ask. Here's just a few reasons:

The more calories you burn, the more weight you lose.

If you exercise daily, a higher proportion of the weight you will lose will come from fat deposits.

Exercise also has an effect on your appetite. If you exercise hard before a meal, you will decrease your appetite.

Physical activity speeds up your metabolism while you are exercising.

As you lose weight, your body will feel firm because your muscles are toned.

Your cardiovascular system will improve its ability to respond to stress and exercise.

Physical activity added to a dull routine will relieve some of the boredom and loneliness that will make you want to eat.

You will be in a better mood, have more fun and enjoy life more.

Many people think that training causes body fat to turn into muscle and that when you stop training for a while, the muscle turns back to fat. This is misconception. Muscle and fat cells are completely different, both structurally and functionally. However, training can help you lose body fat by burning calories (metabolic rate) since muscle is very active tissue that requires lots of energy.

As you gain muscle through weight training, you may lose body fat if you maintain your normal intake... a desirable change in body composition that will make you look thinner, whether or not you lose weight. The main idea is to exercise, start out slow and build up. You will feel better immediately. As with any major weight loss program, see your doctor before you begin in order to avoid any possible health problems.

You are invited to a reception at Elizabeth June Birvin's Home for Aged 311 Tee Anchor 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, July 9th, 1994 in honor of Mary Ellen Lowin on her 90th birthday. Your presence is the only gift we covet. If you are unable to attend, a card would be appreciated. P. O. Box 31450 Amarillo, Texas 79120

Things Seen or Heard

Things Seen or Heard by Ann Coker

Dennis and Peggy Irby and daughter, Alana, were week-end visitors in the homes of their parents, the Redell Irbys and Hazel Fuston. Peggy and Alana will be spending a few extra days in Turkey after Dennis returns home.

Lewis and Mozella Eudy returned home last week after an extended visit in Austin with family members. They stayed a few extra days to be with their son and wife, Ronnie and Kay Eudy, following Kay's surgery.

Our daughter, Brenda Coker of Harper, and Linda Hamilton and sons, Zach and Josh, of San Antonio visited with us for a few days last week. They left Friday for Lamesa where they met Mark and for a visit with Mark's parents. They will return to Turkey and leave the boys with us for a few days. There may be scant news, if any, from us next week, unless each of you turns it in.

Visiting with Virginia Degan last week was her granddaughter and her children, Lisa McKnight of Amarillo. Also Virginia's sister, Totsy Bain of Lockney, visited in her home.

Billie and Maurice Fuston have recently returned from a trip to Knoxville, Tennessee. They visited with their son, Danny and his boys.

Visiting with Dot Arnold over the weekend was her daughter and husband Karen and Wes McDougall of Amarillo. Karen and Wes brought Mary Lou's travel trailer and they pulled it home.

Bonnie Hill spent a restless night last Saturday night. She received word her granddaughter's home, Lynn Davis, was in danger from the grassfires in Memphis. Lynn and her husband, Wiley Davis had to vacate their home but the fire was under control as it reached their yard. Also the same night a grassfire at Claude was spreading close to Bonnie's son's home, the Rod Hills. However, both homes and families escaped any damage.

Enjoyed visiting with Jack Case one day last week while he was in town. Jack and Jeanette have bought a home in Matador and will be moving from Amarillo to Matador soon. While visiting with Jack, I had my two grandsons with me. Jack said I needed to take them to Fun Valley - at South Fork, Colorado. South Fork was a favorite vacation spot for several families many years ago and our kids all loved to visit Fun Valley.

Ever since Veta Colvin was hospitalized she has been unable to handle her duties at the Bob Wills Museum. Loren Setliff has been filling in for her. Veta plans to resume her job this week. It is good to see Veta out again.

Visiting with Gene and Frieda Fuston this past week-end was Frieda's sister, Sue Parish, and children, Justin and Amanda, of Amarillo. Also visiting was their son, Kyle Fuston and family of Silvertown.

Linda Ferguson enjoyed having two of her children and their families home last week-end. Daughter, Connie and Bob Dvorak and son, Ike and Frances Reid and children, Michelle and Cory, of Graham. Cory remained for a longer visit with his grandparents, the E. G. Reids.

The Dvorak family traveled on to Albuquerque, New Mexico to visit with Bob's parents.

Jarret Pigg was released from Methodist Hospital following his kidney transplant on Monday, July 4th. His surgery was Wednesday, June 29th. His father, Clinton Pigg, who was the kidney donor was released from the hospital on Friday.

Jarret and his parents, Joanie and Clinton, are staying at the Lubbock Inn where they have a small kitchenette apartment. They will be there for some time. Their phone number is 792-5181-Room 180.

The Pigg's daughter, Jamie, is in Turkey with her grandparents, Jan and Joy Turner, and preparing to attend a 4-H Camp.

Shannon and Lisa Cruse and children drove to Bakersfield, California to visit with Lisa's parents, Wayne and Beverly Childers. The Cruse family were gone for a week.

While in Bakersfield, the Turkey group and Lisa's parents spent one day on the beach. Lisa reported that the temperature was 71 degrees that day.

The Cruse family attended church on a Sunday with Lisa's parents. While at church they met a former Turkey resident, Harold Parker and his wife and son. Harold was quite excited over meeting some Turkey residents.

Harold went to school in Turkey through the 8th grade. He graduated from high school in Arizona. Harold shared with the Cruses that he was in a class with Delores (Lacy) Price and Ricky Fuston. Even though he has been gone many years, he told the Cruses he still called Turkey home. He was interested if there were any class reunions coming up and wanted the Valley Tribune.

Harold now owns a portable welding service.

Melvin Carter Receives Lone Star Farmer Award

On Tuesday morning, July 19th, at 4:30 a.m., four future Farmers and their Advisor embarked on a really great adventure. Their destination was the gigantic, hot and humid Houston. It was the 32nd annual Texas FFA Convention they were journeying so far to attend.

One of these FFA boys was going to receive his Lone Star Farmer Degree, the highest degree conferred upon any boy by the Texas FFA. This boy was Melvin Carter. The other three boys were going as delegates of the Quitaque Chapter. They were Bob Saul, Sammy Johnston, and Lee McDonald. Their Advisor was Mr. Elmer Berryhill.

Mrs. J. O. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Davidson, and Jimmy Don spent the day Sunday at the Stewart McCracken home in Tullia.

Last Wednesday Mrs. H. B. Finney, Mrs. Tracy Drake, Mrs. Johnny Brummett and Mrs. Bob Patrick drove up to Hereford to pick some onions and potatoes.

Twenty years ago, the American farmer was producing enough for himself plus 10 others. But today he is producing enough for himself plus 23 others.

Mrs. Margaret Tipps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Tipps of Denver, Colo., spent the week-end visiting with Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Hamilton.

Alicia and Jamie Washington, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Son Washington of Springlake, are here visiting their grandparents; the Edgar Morrisons.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barrett and Mrs. Slug Ramsey drove to Tullia last Wednesday evening where they met the Barrett's children from Amarillo and all enjoyed a picnic in the park.

Some Areas See Weevil Pressure

by Shawn Wade

Lots of boll weevils survived the Southern High Plains fourth mild winter in a row and according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) boll weevils may be a significant problem in some areas this year.

With most of the cotton acreage in the Southern High Plains now squaring, some cotton field in Gaines and Dawson Counties have already received boll weevil treatments. PCG officials say the possibility of weevil control should be foremost on everyone's mind.

Early treatment decisions should be based on the 'trap index' using pheromone traps" says PCG Boll Weevil Program Coordinator Roger Haldenby. "At this time we are advising producers to talk to their crop consultant, entomologist or Extension personnel for advise on weevil treatments."

Haldenby adds that producers in the following counties should be especially watchful: Andrews, Borden, Briscoe, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Hall, Howard, Kent, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Motely, Scurry, and Terry.

The Fall Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program is going to have a hard time addressing widespread weevil infestations in this newly infested area with the limited funds that are available," says Dr. James F. Leser, Extension Entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This program needs your help. If weevil numbers run two to four per trap the week prior to the appearance of match-head sized squares, definitely consider spraying."

The PCG run boll weevil program has been very successful for 30 years because of help from the environment, mainly in the form of cold winters which compliment the programs goal of reducing the number of weevils entering overwintering habitat.

Without this help the last few years, the weevil has made a major push into normally weevil-free of the High Plains.

Producers in these areas are also being encouraged to look further down the road in order to manage this year's crop so that the highest level of weevil control possible is achieved.

"It may seem a long time to harvest when we haven't even seen blooms, but producers in high weevil areas need to give some thought now to early termination of this crop," says Dr. Don Rummel, Research Scientist and boll weevil expert from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock. "Regulating growth later in the season, knocking off squares and terminating a mature crop can possibly so as much good (for boll weevil control) as a pesticide application."

For more information about the status of weevil populations producers can contact their county Extension personnel or look for the "High Plains Boll Weevil Report" in the Cotton/Rice Segment of the DTN system.

No Bake Strawberry Shortcake

Creating great summer desserts needn't require long hours in a hot kitchen if you know what short-cuts to take. The secret to Strawberry Shortcake Sandwiches is prepared pound cake. Simply assemble triple layers of pound cake, sliced strawberries and a cream cheese and nut spread, and you've got a quick, no-bake dessert perfect for summertime patio parties, poolside brunches or a spontaneous afternoon tea.

Nutritious strawberries served simply by themselves make healthy desserts or summertime snacks too. With only 70 calories, one serving of 8 medium-sized strawberries is fat-free, high in vitamin C and folic acid, and a good source of fiber. California strawberries are available in good supplies now through November. Because they do not ripen after picking, look for red-ripe berries with bright-green caps. Store in the refrigerator, loosely wrapped with plastic, until ready to use. Then gently rinse with caps still attached to preserve flavor, texture and nutritional value.

Strawberry Shortcake Sandwiches

- 6 ounces light cream cheese, softened (3/4 of an 8-ounce package)
 - 2 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
 - 1 tablespoon honey
 - 1/3 cup chopped toasted nuts
 - 1 prepared pound cake loaf (10 3/4 to 12 ounces), thawed if frozen
 - 2 pint baskets California strawberries, stemmed
 - 1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped and sweetened to taste
 - Mint sprigs, for garnish
- In small bowl beat cheese, orange juice concentrate and honey to blend thoroughly; mix in nuts. Cut cake into 12 equal slices. Slice 1 basket of the strawberries. Spread 4 slices of cake, on one side, with some of the cheese mixture. Top with half of the strawberry slices, dividing equally. Spread 4 more cake slices, on both sides, with more cheese mixture; place on first 4 cake slices. Cover with remaining sliced strawberries. Spread remaining cake slices, on one side, with remaining cheese mixture; place cheese-sides down on sandwiches. Cut diagonally into halves; skewer each with a sandwich pick. Serve sandwiches with remaining strawberries, halved. Dollop with whipped cream; garnish with mint sprigs. Makes 4 servings.

Cold Chinese Noodle and Carrot Salad is a dieter's delight.

Trim and pare carrots. Cut into thin, long diagonal slices. Add carrots to 1 quart boiling water, return to boil and gently boil 5 minutes or until tender-crisp; drain and flush with cold water. Bring 2 quarts water to boil in kettle or large saucepan. Cut bundle of noodles once or twice across to shorten noodle length. Slip noodles into boiling water, return to boil and boil as package directs, about 1 to 2 minutes. Drain and rinse. Combine soy sauce, sesame oil, garlic, ginger, sugar and sesame seeds in bottom of salad bowl. Mix to blend then add carrots, noodles, water chestnuts and onion. Toss well and add hot oil to taste. Cover salad and chill at least 4 hours to let flavors develop. Makes 4 servings, 2 cups each.

Farm Safety For Kids Seminars

Children live, play and work on farms where they are exposed to a number of health and safety hazards. How can this issue be addressed effectively? What can you do to help prevent farm-related tragedies to children?

Farm Safety 4 Just Kids Seminars are planned for July 15th in Dumas, Texas at the Lions Club and on July 16th in Plainview, Texas at the country club. These seminars will explore opportunities to convey farm safety issues related to children. Participants will broaden their skills to expand farm safety education and also receive materials to conduct purposeful programs. Sessions will be offered on topics such as Reducing the Risk: Age and Ability Appropriate Tasks on the farm; Working with Key Organizations; and Resources and Activities. Everyone who has an interest in the future generation of farmers is invited to attend. Registration fee for the one day seminar includes lunch and seminar materials. To register, call Farm Safety 4 Just Kids at 1-800-423-KIDS.

Farm Safety 4 Just Kids is a national non-profit organization dedicated to preventing farm-related childhood injuries, health risks and fatalities.

The organization was founded in 1987 by an Iowa farm wife whose 11 year old son suffocated in a gravity flow of corn. Farm Safety 4 Just Kids has 1900 members and 41 chapters throughout the United States and Canada. There are four chapters in Texas: Floyd County, XIT: Moore County; and Hale County.

The national organization has worked jointly with local planning committees from west Texas for these seminars. Members of the committees include Billy Baker, Dumas; Cindy Lentz, Dalhart; Richard Larsen, Aiken; and John Zietz, Plainview.
