When we hear the word "UIL" we naturally assume it is reference to some kind of athletic activity connected with the school. The UIL, however, is much more than athletics. It is an organization which sets up all the governing rules for interschool athletics and ACADEMICS. There are probably more students who participate in academic competition in Texas than in athletics. Although winning the competition in academics is not a strong measure of the academic program of the school it does reflect a degree of scholastic interest.

The Valley Elementary students are now getting ready for a March 12 district contest in which grades three through eight will be competing. To practice is to learn and to learn is to practice. The right to compete in this contest of knowledge. Practice, practice, practice, is the name of the game.

Given below are excerpts taken from practice papers of several eighth graders who are getting ready for the "Ready Writing" contest. The topic on which the students are writing is "Our Country" and shows some expressive thoughts of which these students are capable. Four of these students will be selected to compete in the contest.

Christi Gragson—"It is very easy to take the things we have for granted. We do the same thing to this country. We use the ingredients like it would never run out but someday it will and then we will really be in a bind."

Shanlee Meyer—"We have the right to choose our jobs. If we want to be a fireman, we learn to be a fireman. If we wish to be a doctor we can go to school and study to be one." Shanlee continues by adding that "this may not be true in other countries."

Billy Robison—"Above all, the people (in America) are free and I think the people and country will flourish. America The Beautiful—These three words say more than any other three words ever spoken."

Scott Saul—"If everybody could see how life is in Russia, they would fight with all their might to keep communism out of America so that we could keep all our freedoms."

Lea Ann Edwards—"If a citizen (in the United States) doesn't like some legislation under consideration they can talk with their congressman and have his say in how the government is run."

The spelling contest is usually one of the more popular events and there are a number of students trying to make the spelling team. The sixth grade competitors have been selected and should be strong spellers. They are Gina Conner, Celeste Sperry, Kyle Fuston and Amy Maupin. The seventh and eighth grade division representing Valley are Paula Scoggins, Christi Gragson, Cari Morrison and Joe Silva.

The "Number Sense" contestants have been named from an excellent number of math students. The number sense contest allows the students only 10 minutes to attempt to answer as many math questions as they can. The sixth graders who will be competing for Valley are Amy Maupin, Andrea Hinojosa, Kyle Fuston and Colby Waldrop. The eighth graders representing our school are Melissa Maupin, Scott Saul, Joe Silva and Cari Morrison.

Another popular event conducted for elementary and junior high students is the "Oral Reading" contest. This is a contest where the contestant attempts to convey the meaning of a printed selection (poetry) to an audience by reading orally. It is not a memory contest but the student must know the part well.

The members of the team have not yet been narrowed down to who the participants will be but the following elementary students are hoping for a place: Celeste Sperry, Shana Moony, Gina Conner, Dewey Gragson, Andrea Hinojosa, Bengie Hughes, Susie Lowe, Warren Merrell, Armando Ortiz and Colby Waldrop. The seventh and eighth graders vying for a spot on the team are Mell Brittan, Sherry Clay, Michelle House, Sherry Morrison, Stacey Rothwell, Lea Ann Edwards, Paula Scoggins, Brandye Moony, Melissa Maupin, Shanlee Meyer, Derek Mullin, Lacy Price and Sandy Price.

The high school literary district events will take place March 22-23 at Sudan and the One Act Play cast will compete for Zone Honors March 13 at Clarendon College.

Congratulations to Sarah Hewett on receiving a one rating at the Regional Music Contest in Lubbock last Saturday. Sarah will compete on the state level in June in the Senior Division. June Johnson competed in the contest and received a two. Even though June will not get to compete at state, she represented Valley well. Kim Cagle and Joe Morrison participated in the freshman division and each got a one rating.

(Your editor and those of the community who have spoken to me, are appreciating Mr. Leeper's comments more each week. Thank you, Wilburn.)

Paymaster Installing New Equipment This Year

Ronnie Carpenter, manager of Paymaster Gin, Quitaque, announced this week that the gin will install a Lummus Universal Density Press this summer. Carpenter states that "Paymaster is extremely proud to make this investment in the Quitaque community. This investment plus the pre-cleaning modification a year ago to improve fiber quality will provide local growers with the latest State of the Art cotton ginning equipment and customer service."

A bale packaging system is also part of the UD press installation. This equipment will provide Class A wrapping as defined in the newly-approved Bale Packaging Standard. A completely covered base with no sample cutting holes to expose the cotton will prevent the product from external contamination from dirt, grime, oil and grease. U. S. mills prefer this and foreign mills are rapidly restricting their purchases to this type of bale package.

The Paymaster Gin is excited about the customer service the new press will provide to producers throughout the trade area. This is another step to provide producers the complete quality ginning service they need and want.

Its operations include ginning, oil mill processing, animal feeds, consumer and institutional foods, insurance and recreational plastics, with major operations in the United States, Mexico and Brazil.

Mrs. Bain Hosts Nuevo Study Club

Mrs. Gordon Bain was hostess to ten members of Nuevo Study Club Thursday, February 23, at 4:00 p.m. The members were delighted that Mrs. Lurline Walker was able to be back again after an extended absence due to her fall and broken hip the first part of November.

Mrs. Ella Colvin, president, called the meeting to order, and appointed Mrs. Bain, Mrs. George Gafford and Mrs. Roy Patterson as a committee to nominate officers for the new club year beginning in September. Cards were signed to send to Mrs. Chris Williams at Harris Hospital in Fort Worth and Mrs. Dessie Mae Robertson, who was a patient at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Mrs. W. L. Armstrong, program leader, gave a review of the life of Mrs. Grace Anna Goodhugh Coolidge, wife of former President Calvin Coolidge. She said she was a teacher of the deaf before she was married to the former president in 1905. Two sons were born to this union, John and Calvin, jr., and reminded her audience of the great tragedy that struck the family when Calvin, jr. died of blood poisoning in 1924 at the age of 16.

The speaker described Mrs. Coolidge as a very beautiful lady who wore stylish clothes to set off her good looks and was said to be one of the most popular First Ladies. She crocheted a white bedspread for the famous Lincoln Bed, Mrs. Armstrong said. The President died in 1933 and his wife in 1957, Mrs. Armstrong concluded.

The hostess served a delicious refreshment plate of specially made Hawaiian sandwiches and cake with coffee, hot chocolate and orange juice.

Quitaque Methodist Church To Have Special Film Series

The First United Methodist Church in Quitaque will be showing the "Dynamic Laity" film series beginning Sunday, March 4, at 6:00 p.m.

This unique six film series focuses in on the struggles of Chuck Bradley as he becomes aware of his responsibilities to his church and to grow as a Christian. Chuck is just an ordinary lay person who wants to see his church grow and, through his often humorous experiences, the viewer discovers the joy of fruitful service to the church through the member's unique gifts.

The film titles and schedule are: "But—I'm Just A Layman," March 4; "For the Love of Pete," March 18; "The Ministers," March 25; "The Gift of Love," April 8, and "Discover Your Gifts," April 15.

The "Dynamic Laity" film series is produced by the Institute for American Church Growth in Pasadena, California. Founded in 1973, the Institute's objectives have been to motivate the local church in evangelism, to help train pastors and laity in principles and understandings of what makes the church grow and to serve as an information resource for churches across America.

Everyone is invited to come view these films each Sunday evening, March 4-25 and April 8-15, at the First United Methodist Church in Quitaque.

POWER FAILURE AND FOOD SAFETY

The power failure in the Silverton area Sunday brings questions about food safety. When the electricity is off, keep the freezer and refrigerator doors closed as much as possible to prevent cold air from escaping.

A fully-loaded freezer will keep food frozen for two days. A half-full freezer will keep food cold for at least a day. The location of the freezer and the outside temperature also affect the freezer's capacity to maintain adequate temperature.

If the power will be off for an extended time, transfer perishables from the refrigerator to the freezing compartment. The frozen foods will keep the other foods cold.

Dry ice can be added to a freezer but this is probably not practical in our area because of availability.

When power is restored, check foods to determine extent of thawing. Get rid of any food that is off-color or has an off-odor. Never taste suspect meat, poultry or other foods.

Meats that still have ice crystals or have maintained a 40 degree F. or lower temperature (for less than two days) may safely be refrozen. Quality may be lessened some but it will be safe to eat. Use refrozen food quickly.

Bacteria multiply rapidly in shellfish, vegetables and cooked foods. Spoilage often cannot be detected by odor. Do not refreeze any of these foods if they have thawed completely. Even partial thawing and refreezing lessens the quality of these foods. WHEN IN DOUBT, THROW IT OUT!

You can refreeze thawed fruits if they still taste and smell good. You can also use them in cooking and baking or for making jams, jellies and prepared foods.

As soon as power is restored, turn the freezer control to its coldest position to refreeze the food as quickly as possible. When the food is well frozen turn the control back to the usual setting.

We hope there is not another power failure this winter, but with the kind of weather we have had, anything is possible! Power failure is possible any time and is even more crucial during summer months when maintaining the correct temperature in a freezer is more difficult.

Turkey Cub Scouts Host Blue-Gold Banquet Monday

The Bob Wills Cafeteria was the scene of the February 27, 1984 Pack 264 Blue-Gold Banquet.

Tables were laid with white, with blue and gold streamers down the center. The centerpieces were family trees made by each boy and votive candles of blue and gold, loaned to the group by the Silverton FHA. The head table was centered with a tree with Cub Scout profiles cut from posterboard and sprayed royal blue and each boy's name printed in gold. Each boy made place cards for his family. Cub Scout napkins were used. Ruth Fuston furnished favors of plastic Easter eggs filled with candy and gum for the young people.

The Flag Ceremony was presented by Kyle Mars and Danny House to a tape recording of the National Anthem played by Mrs. Bob Rauch of Silverton.

Tommy Pinkerton was master of ceremonies and gave the welcome. The boys gave a special tribute to Scouting. Each boy filled in a track down the Bobcat Trail which is the first trail to complete to become a Cub Scout.

Jerry Bob Smith offered the blessing for the food. Each one served his plate from a buffet dinner of casseroles, salad, beans and chips with dessert of chocolate cake. Drinks of tea, coffee and punch were served by the boys.

After the meal, Rev. Melvin Clinton, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Turkey, was introduced as the speaker. He gave a wonderful talk on the history of Scouting in helping produce responsible citizens of the young men in the world. He tied this all in with the life of Christ and his purpose on earth to give goodwill toward all men.

Following the speaker's address, Tommy Pinkerton presented a gift to Joe Fuston who is the Cub Master of Pack 264.

Awards were presented by Margie Pinkerton who is Den Leader.

Perfect attendance awards were presented to Tommy Pinkerton, Danny House, David Lane and Henry McNary, who was unable to be present. Tommy, Danny and David helped present the Special Recognition Awards.

Special recognition was made to Rita Mullin, who was unable to attend due to illness; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Browning for a watermelon feast held for the boys; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith, who donated money and gave a heater to the Scouts; the Lions Club for being their sponsor; and Mrs. Artie Gilbert, for going that extra mile. She was unable to attend, also.

Bobcat badges were presented to Manuel, Lee Roy, Bobby, David, Garrett, and Jason.

Second Bead was given to Tommy, Chad, Joe Wayne, Henry, Manuel and Lee Roy for pressing toward Bear badge.

Pressing toward Ranks and first bead toward Wolf badge was presented to Danny and Kyle. These boys also received their first gold arrow from Wolf rank.

Silver arrows were presented to Chad, Garrett, Tommy, David, Bobby and Jason.

Perfect uniform inspection awards were given to David and Joe Wayne.

Good Behavior Award for hiking trip was given to Henry McNary, and runnerup was Chad Calvert. Good Behavior Award for Derby Car Trip was given to Lee Roy Galvan.

Following the awards, the boys, assisted by Vera, Oleta, Penny and Margie, sang an Indian Lullaby. They sang with the tape recording made by Rita Mullin, since she was unable to be with us.

The boys next activity will be a door-to-door March of Dimes with proceeds going to the Children's Rehabilitation Center in Amarillo. This is planned for March 12.

We wish to express special thanks to the Bob Wills Association for the use of the cafeteria and for silverware packets; to Sandy Fuston for the table covering; the city workers for helping to set up the tables and chairs; and to the mothers for the delicious food.

Those present for the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Silva, Bobby and Manuel, Lee Roy Galvan, Mrs. Ray Calvert and Chad, Mr. and Mrs. Don House and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, Brandon and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Clinton, Mrs. Joe Fuston, Mrs. Billy Pinkerton, Vera and Tommy, Mrs. Beverly Mars, Penny and Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lane, David and Oleta, Mr. and Mrs. Don House and Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith.

We regret that Mrs. Joe Fuston, Joe and Amanda, Mr. and Mrs. Galvan, Mrs. Genwine McNary and Henry, Mrs. Otis Mullin and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert were unable to attend due to illness.

February 23, 1984, Danny and Kyle met in the home of Margie Pinkerton. They made family trees and learned to spell their names in sign language for the deaf. They also practiced their flag ceremony.

February 24, 1984, Garrett and David met in the Pinkerton home. They made family trees and place cards. The trees were made of limbs the boys collected and sprayed with gold color. These were placed in cans sprayed blue. They cut apples from yellow construction paper and tied these to the tree. Each apple had each family member's name, and the family name was painted on the can. They practiced for the banquet.

February 24, 1984, Bobby, Manuel, Lee Roy, Tommy and Henry met in the Pinkerton home. They made their family trees and place cards. They AUSTIN — What are the major issues that will face Texas in the future? Apparently the future is already here, because the issues and the problems we are deciding today are basically what policy-makers see as future challenges.

Texas was one of 30 states involved in analyzing goals and issues between 1972 and 1983. In Texas, the job fell to the Governor's Office and the project was Texas 2000. It set out to define future goals and objectives and recommend strategies for those goals to policy-makers. As in other states, the Texas project addressed the trends and identified critical issues.

Among those issues, the most frequently mentioned item by all the state commissions was economic development. More than 75% of the projects projected moderate economic growth in the next decade. They overwhelmingly favored dispersed industrial development in urban and rural areas and working toward even regional growth.

Agriculture ranked second, with preservation and productivity as major concerns. One of our major concerns in Texas is with productivity, and it was pointed out that the state's productivity rate in the past 10 years has been halved.

Transportation is a major item on the Texas list. Among the decisions that loom ahead are statewide planning mechanisms, alternatives to the automobile and expansion and improvement of the infrastructure. Long-term planning was called for to meet increasing volumes of traffic. Texas' traffic could double by the year 2000.

Economic development, agriculture and transportation were the overall most frequently mentioned problems for the future of the states. There are others that are equally important and we will address them in the next column.

One way to cut driving costs in the winter is to clean the snow and ice off from under the fender to reduce gas-eating weight.

AWAY FROM IT ALL

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried — a place where you could be alone with your thoughts — a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage — but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your place of worship.

Let it be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

Edge of America

A barren beach — some plunging waves — and then for thousands of miles, the sea. Poets might think that way. But millions share the thought . . . this is the edge of America!

But the edge of our nation has been closing in. Within our restless society we have confronted a new edge of America — a shoreline of freedom, of justice, of mutual respect of men for one another and for their institutions. When you leave that shore behind, there is nothing . . .

Look rather at the heart of America. Look at the spiritual treasure which inspired patriots to crown religious liberty as the supreme freedom.

Each week our churches pursue their sacred mission. More and more they've been welcoming families like your own . . . folks who have seen the edge of America — and are seeking the heart!

VP-Nutrition Sciences
Gerber Products Company

Q. I'm concerned that commercial baby foods are too highly processed. Should I prepare my own baby foods?

A. Feeding baby is a personal matter, and whether or not you make your own baby food is, of course, up to you. Here are some considerations to help you make the decision.

As a note of assurance, commercial baby foods undergo only enough processing to make them safe for babies. Modern processing methods are carefully controlled, however, to retain more nutrients than typical home-cooking methods.

At Gerber, the company with more than 50 years' experience in infant nutrition, ingredients are specially selected for nutritional value and quality. No preservatives, artificial colors or flavors are used to prepare infant food. And, the foods contain no added salt or sugar beyond that needed for product quality.

The consistency of commercial baby food helps baby swallow easily, but is thick enough to feed from a spoon without spilling. A large selection of baby foods, all with nutrition information on the label, are available, so you know baby can get the variety of nutrients needed for growth and development.

If you decide to make your own baby foods, it is important to practice strict sanitary methods in the kitchen. Keep work surfaces and your cooking tools clean. Select only top quality ingredients.

Prepare foods for baby in small amounts, separately from those prepared for adults. Make sure you select recipes without excessive amounts of fat, salt, sugar or spices. Extra servings of home-prepared baby foods may be frozen in single-serving sized portions. Small amounts make it easier to thaw and reheat only the amount needed for one meal.

Let's Ask the Experts!

Q. I've heard a lot about acid rain lately. What is it, and how is it caused?

A. According to scientists, all rainfall tends to be somewhat acidic because of dissolved substances that occur in all precipitation. Air pollutants from human activity can add acidic compounds to rainfall. Any rainfall that is more acidic than normal is termed "acid rain."

The major emissions that give rise to acid precipitation are sulfur dioxide and oxides of nitrogen. Sulfur dioxide is formed from the combustion of fossil fuels containing sulfur—coal and oil—or from metal-smelting operations. Electric power generation is the most important source of sulfur dioxide pollution. The largest source of oxides of nitrogen is emissions from cars, trucks and buses.

The process that turns the chemical into acidic sulfates and nitrates is very complex and involves a poorly-understood interaction of sunlight, moisture and certain other pollutants.

For a free booklet containing many facts about acid rain, you can write to the Consolidation Coal Company, Consol Plaza, Pittsburgh, PA 15241.

Colorful Book Tags Texas Flowers

Just in time for the spring wildflower season comes this beautiful four-color field guide to the blooming bounty of the Lone Star State. At last, Texans have a guide worthy of the state's rich array of wildflowers. A February release, Wildflowers of Texas (by Geyata Ajilvsgi) is just now arriving in area bookstores. Published by Shearer Publishing of Bryan, Texas, it sells for $11.95

(hardback; 414 pages).

Covering 378 of the most common wildflower species, the book boasts a uniquely easy-to-use format: all the information pertinent to each flower appears directly opposite its full-color photograph. No cumbersome cross-referencing or searching for additional information interferes with the guide's primary aim, the identification of flowers in the field. And its convenient 4½ by 7½-inch size makes it a practical, portable book.

The photographs fall into four major color sections: white (to green), yellow (to orange), red (to pink), and blue (to purple). Within each of these sections plants are arranged alphabetically by families, then genus and species. Descriptions are written for the layperson, not the scientist. Although all information is botanically correct, the author uses clear language that does not require a knowledge of botanical nomenclature. A helpful glossary and illustrations clarify any terms that might be unfamiliar or confusing.

Maps on the book's endpapers define the state's major vegetation zones which are keyed by letter symbols following the habitat information for each flower. This allows the reader to determine at a glance the geographic range of the plants.

Special notes following the plant descriptions add much interesting material to the content of the book. The many uses of the plants—as medicine, food, source of fiber, ornament in the home landscape—are typical subjects covered in the notes, plus the alternate common names of each plant. The entries are indexed both by common and scientific names.

Geyata Ajilvsgi is a native Texan who has been studying the flora of this state for more than 20 years. As a novice and layperson herself in the beginning, she collected specimens for the late Donovan S. Correll, whose Manual of the Vascular Plants of Texas (written with Marshall C. Johnston) is the standard reference text on the subject. Her work, both for Correll and later as a vascular plant field taxonomist for an environmental consulting firm, has resulted in the addition of several species to the state's flora. She is frequently called upon to locate and/or identify rare or endangered species.

Gastrointestinal Problems— New Treatments

Gastrointestinal problems are striking millions of women between the ages of 16 and 35, studies report. Help however is available.

A victim of gastrointestinal problems—often referred to as GI by doctors—complains of abdominal pain and diarrhea and may have other problems such as severe menstrual cramps, headaches and problems with urination.

Where food goes—from the mouth, down the esophagus, to the large colon, the small intestine and into the rectum.

Most likely, the patient is not suffering from a life threatening illness but from one of several potentially disabling bowel disorders—the most common of which is called "Irritable Bowel Syndrome," or IBS. It involves abnormal movement or "motility" of food through the digestive system and relates closely to lifestyle, behavior and stress. The movement of food from the stomach to the intestines is either too fast or too slow. Abrupt changes in speed cause the intestines to cramp, blocking gas and feces and causing abdominal pain.

One of only a handful of hospitals in the nation with facilities and expertise in physiological evaluation of both the upper and lower GI tract is Presbyterian Hospital in Oklahoma City. Its GI Lab can measure motor activity in the esophagus and colon and it has many tests for GI secretory and absorptive functions.

Psychological tests are also administered. With medication, dietary changes and, in some cases, counseling, many patients with the "GI Blues" have gone on to live rosier lives.

house to check my blood pressure and stayed to help. Thanks for every kindness by Quitaque friends while I was in the hospital and since I have been home. A special thanks to God for all His blessings.
Wendell and Roberta Farley

Our most sincere thanks and deepest appreciation for every expression of sympathy and every deed of kindness directed toward our family because of the passing of our loved one, Sid Bogan. He loved you as individuals, and as a community, and had his greatest joy in serving you, especially in his church and his place of work, the U. S. Post Office. Because of this, you have a special place in the hearts of those he left behind. May God bless all of you is our earnest prayer.
The family of Sid Bogan 38-1tc

We want to express our sincere thanks to every one for the kindness and thoughtfulness shown to us in the passing of our beloved one. Thank you for your prayers, phone calls, visits, food, cards, flowers, and consoling words. God bless you.

The family of Tom Barbee wants to express our thanks and our love to each of you for your expressions of love, and for the uplifting of us in prayer at our time of sorrow. Words just can't express our deep appreciation for each thought and deed. Jesus said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." We have certainly felt the love of Christ in you. We love you all. God bless each of you.
