Build extra value into your two most permanent rooms

Built-in lavatory, spacious bath tub, ventilated toilet and even a matching bidet, all in color, are typical of today's trend toward elegance in the bath.

'Wild' water control decks for modern kitchen sinks offer simplified single lever control, a work-saving spray, as well as detergent or hand lotion dispenser and even remote control drains.

The kitchen and the bathroom, many authorities agree, are not only the most permanent rooms of any house but the most permanently furnished, as well. Other rooms are enlarged, combined or eliminated by remodeling. Their furnishings may well be changed as often as every two or three years. According to builders and architects, this frequency of change rarely involves either kitchen or bathroom.

In the past few years, however, there is a definite trend to add both individuality and premium resale value to the home by remodeling both the kitchen and bathroom of older houses and adding color fixtures and modern motifs. According to American Standard, owners want more individual expression and personal enjoyment from their kitchen and their bath. To do this, manufacturers of plumbing fixtures are offering a wide variety of designs and color co-ordinated fixtures equally adaptable to both the new and older houses.

Hong Kong Flu Vaccine "Crash Program" Requires 64,000 Fertile Eggs Per Day

One of the first published pictures of the Hong Kong influenza virus shows in this photo, virus particles magnified 133,000 times by an electron microscope. The black bar represents 4-millionths of an inch.

An Auto-Analyzer, one of several sophisticated and highly sensitive machines used to test Hong Kong influenza vaccine. This unit automatically checks the vaccine's potency in the Parke-Davis Laboratories.

DETROIT — Parke, Davis & Company is operating a "crash program" to produce large quantities of vaccine to help protect the American people from an epidemic of Hong Kong influenza which medical authorities expect this winter.

"We are on a 'crash program' because we could not begin producing the vaccine until initial supplies of the Hong Kong virus arrived from the federal government," according to Dr. Joseph P. Sadusk, Jr., vice president for scientific and medical affairs.

"Then, of course, we have to produce the vaccine under scientifically controlled production and testing methods — all of which take time — but we are confident we can have a safe, potent vaccine ready by early December."

In meeting this emergency, the firm processes 64,000 large white fertile eggs daily in its race against time to get a vaccine to the public before the flu attacks.

"Because the vaccine is grown in chick embryos, we are one of Michigan's largest egg buyers," Dr. Sadusk commented, "and we probably are the only buyer who demands huge numbers of fertile eggs of one certain size."

"Our research has shown that we can produce the vaccine most efficiently from white eggs which weigh 23 ounces per dozen, and which are less than a week old."

When the nest clean eggs arrive at the vaccine production facility, they are placed in an incubator for 11 days. From there, they are shifted to a darkened area for candling.

Next, the eggs go to the inoculation room, where they are sprayed with an antiseptic solution, injected with the Hong Kong influenza virus and put into a second incubator for two days.

After the eggs receive a second antiseptic bath, the top section is re-moved and the vaccine fluid harvested. Depending on how well the virus grows, up to three doses of unfinished vaccine are obtained from each egg.

Finally, technical processes and a series of tests — some approximately two to three weeks in length to assure the vaccine's purity, safety, efficacy, and acceptability to patients — are required before it can be bottled, packaged, labeled, re-tested and air shipped to distribution branches throughout the country.

Importance of Vaccine

portant," Dr. Sadusk added. "When a new strain of virus like this occurs — one against which existing vaccines cannot protect — it is possible that the virus can change as it passes from one person to another and become much more serious, or produce complications in certain people."

"The aged, very young, and people suffering chronic diseases are the ones who likely will suffer most from this flu," Dr. Sadusk added.

BIG STOCK BUYER NEEDS FIRM HAND

By Robert Allen

A college student might do worse than set his sights on a career as an investment advisory specialist in Wall Street.

At the big member-firms of the New York Stock Exchange, investment advisory work means providing professional advice to a variety of individual and institutional customers. An institutional customer might be a bank, an insurance company, a pension fund, a school or a mutual fund. It obviously buys and sells much larger quantities of stocks and bonds than the average investor, so its requirements are precise.

And its objectives vary to this extent: one institution will seek income primarily; another will want a combination of income and potential growth, and still another will be looking for price appreciation only. And there are many different "mixes" of all three goals.

Investment specialists draw upon the firm's research department for investment ideas and they must be alert to special situations in the ever-changing world of finance.

Why are more and more individuals and institutions turning to investment specialists? Mostly for greater efficiency in handling money, according to Eric T. Miller, vice president in charge of investment services at Dominick & Dominick, Incorporated, one of Wall Street's oldest concerns.

"Time is a big factor," says Mr. Miller. "A large institution can't afford to have money that is idle. And most do not have the time to make adequate studies. They are simply not staffed for the job. That is where we come in."

Mr. Miller added that it is easy for a money-manager to be lulled into false comfort by owning so-called "blue-chip" securities.

"Some of these 'sacred cows' have done poorly over the last few years," he said. "They are fine, long-established companies that for one reason or another have not kept pace, in terms of their stock prices, with the market as measured by the Dow Jones averages."

"It does not mean that these companies are in trouble or that their shares will not rise again in value, but the common stock investor is not satisfied to wait. He expects to be in time with the long-term trend, and since 1950 that trend has been up."

Stay Physically Fit And Trim All Winter

If you're slim and in good physical condition after an active summer, physical fitness experts suggest that you maintain your fitness all winter long.

Start out the morning with calisthenics — sit-ups, push-ups, deep knee bends and jumping jacks — exercises in which the whole family can participate.

Then go on to a breakfast of an artificially sweetened cereal like Quaker Diet Frosted Rice Puffs and Diet Frosted Wheat Puffs. These cereals give you nourishment without any excess calories.

The Quaker Oats Company, national sponsor of all physical fitness programs of the Amateur Athletic Union of the U.S. (AAU), recommends exercise and good food as an important combination in all physical fitness and weight-losing programs.

BRISCOE COUNTY From The County Agent's Desk

CLOSE CHECKS URGED FOR SCREW-WORMS

Screwworms are continuing to spread to the north and Plains livestock producers are urged to keep a wary eye open for the costly pest until cold weather sets in.

Latest reports from officials in the Mission Screwworm Laboratory show screwworm cases popping up in several counties on the South and Rolling Plains. Howard County has reported 14 confirmed cases while Swisher and Mitchell Counties show two cases and Yoakum County one case. Motley County has reported one case and Fisher County, two.

Counties neighboring the South Plains and reporting cases include Andrews, Glasscock, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Coke, Nolan, and Sterling.

All livestock producers are urged to observe their animals closely and to use every preventive practice possible during the next several weeks. All animal surgery should be delayed until cold weather arrives and all wounds should be treated immediately. Livestock should be examined regularly and sprayed with a recommended insecticide.

Furthermore, samples of all worms in wounds should be collected and sent to the Mission lab for identification so that areas with confirmed cases can be "bombed" promptly with sterile flies. Containers for mailing worm samples are available from my office.

Officials at the Mission lab say sterile fly production at present is more than twice the capacity for which the fly-rearing plant was designed. During the week ending October 12, 198,578,000 sterile flies were released.

Total screwworm cases in the state now total 4,883, skyrocketing in the last few weeks and spreading northward and eastward. Officials have expressed fear that these outbreaks will reach across the Red River into Oklahoma. Investigations are still underway in these areas and heavy sterile fly treatment is continuing.

PRUSSIC ACID POISONING

Whether we like it or not, frost and freezing weather are just around the corner. The change in weather will affect plant growth. When the growth of all members of the Sorghum family, including Johnson Grass, sudan, milo, forage sorghum and all hybrids, is stopped by frost, they sometimes develop a high prussic acid content and become a hazard to grazing livestock. Certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and are responsible for the prussic acid development. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how soon a veterinarian can get to it.

Frosted Johnson grass or sorghum should not be grazed until the damaged plants are as dry as good quality hay or for about a week after the frost, warns the county agent. If it is ready to cut for hay before the frost, it may be cut immediately, provided adequate curing time is allowed. Silage made from frost-damaged plants is safe as soon as the ensilage process is complete.

Young plants or second growth suckers are more likely to cause trouble than older plants nearing maturity. Too, the more luxuriant the growth, the more likely the plants will be dangerous when their growth is interrupted.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES TO MEET AT LEVELLAND THIS WEEKEND

Meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses regularly held at Kingdom Hall, Quitaque, have been cancelled this week in preparation for a 3-day convention to be held in Levelland beginning Friday, November 8th.

Theme for the program is entitled "Take Your Stand . . . solid in the Faith," with 23 planning to share from Quitaque in the Bible training sessions.

Main speaker for the convention is L. M. Dugan, district supervisor from the world headquarters of the Witnesses in New York. He represents the Watchtower Society who sponsor 3 conventions a year of Jehovah's Witnesses. He will direct the assembly program.

"God's Way Is Love" will be the main subject to be discussed by Dugan. Additionally, he will oversee the ordination ceremony of newly dedicated Witnesses at which time he will deliver a discourse entitled "Dedication and Baptism." Water immersion of the new ministers will follow when they are dipped under water in symbol of their dedication.

"Another convention highlight centers on the house to house visitation on residents in the convention city," Von Tiffin said. "Jehovah's Witnesses adopt the methods Jesus Christ used to preach the good news, for he knew what was effective, so we'll be seen in that community on the door steps and in public places offering Bible literature and telling about God's Kingdom."

More than 500 are expected to attend with the opening sessions scheduled for Friday, November 8th at 6:45 p. m. Family groups made their final preparations last Sunday to attend, according to Tiffin with several car pools planned.

Protect New Permanent Press Pants With Super New "Ounce Of Prevention"

Dread the first wearing of those new permanent press pants you bought for the children last week? No wonder! Your own go through more knees faster than any other children you know — or so it seems — since you have the patching chores to take care of. Why is that first wearing always the hardest? How do you they walk — on their knees?

That's the place most often damaged. Why not do a little protective work on the problem? Won't stop them from "walking on their knees" but could save you hours of work later on.

Before you send the new pants out to play, iron-on colorful new Super Bondex pants patches at the knees. They are made for permanent press, and they are softer than you thought patches could be — more pliable and will not add bulk. Super Bondex comes in a wide variety of colors and fabric textures so that you will be able to mix or match the color for any permanent press garments.

Or just have the Super Bondex patches on hand for quick repair work.

(Might not be a bad idea to pre-patch toddlers' coveralls, too. After all, they have an excuse for walking on their knees.)

Just follow simple directions.

For Permanent Press
(1) Pre-heat dry iron 5 minutes at "wool" setting.

(2) First iron area to be patched.

(3) Place patch on area, shiny side down.

(4) Hold iron still and firmly on patch ½ minute. If patch is too large to be completely covered by iron, do ½ at a time — ½ minute for each half.

(5) Run iron around edges of patch to completely seal.

(6) Let patch cool. Test for tightness by trying to lift edge. If necessary, repeat step (5).

To set crease in slacks, fold lengthwise and press for 20 seconds. These NEW patches will hold a permanent crease which never washes out.

The new Super Bondex patches go on at a cooler iron setting for permanent press.

Shirttail Sermon

Next Sunday is designated "Commitment Day" on the Church calendar. This is traditionally interpreted to mean that a sermon on the evils of drinking alcoholic beverages is called for. At that time there is usually also extracted from the members of the congregation a promise that none of them will drink it. This is good if for no other reason than the fact that we need a sermon on the sub-

However, there is another form of commitment that needs to be mentioned. This is the total commitment of a person to the cause of Christ. The person who is totally committed to His cause does not need to be reminded of his commitment. But he does not object to making such a promise because he realizes that this is a form of witnessing to Christ.

When the minister considers the number of people who have their names on the church's roll and compares it to the number who attend worship services regularly, he realizes that something more than a commitment to sobriety is needed. Attendance is small because men are not committed to Christ. They are committed up to a certain point but no further. They are committed to His cause if it does not interfere with their rest, their watching TV, or their attendance at a social function. When such a

New Twist For The Lunch Box

Every lunch-to-go deserves a little treat, but if you haven't much time to bake, those treats present a problem once every-one tires of purchased cookies and cupcakes. For a change, try some of these quick and easy ABC Snack Balls. They're a little like popcorn balls, but are made with peanuts, fruit flavor gelatin, and Post Alpha-Bits Sugar Frosted Oat Cereal. Better pack a few extra for sharing with lunchroom friends.

ABC Snack Balls
1 package (3 oz.) fruit flavor gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
4 cups alphabet oat cereal
3/4 cup salted peanuts*

*Or use 3/4 cup raisins.

Combine gelatin, sugar, and syrup in a saucepan; blend well. Cook and stir over low heat until gelatin and sugar are thoroughly dissolved — about 2 to 3 minutes. Combine cereal and peanuts in a bowl. Add gelatin mixture and blend well. Let stand until cool enough to handle. Moisten fingers in cool water and form mixture into 1-inch balls, pressing firmly together. Place on wax paper to dry. Makes about 30 balls.

QUITAQUE F.H.A. NOTES

The Quitaque F.H.A. Chapter met Monday, November 4 in the regular monthly meeting. This month our program was "Morals and Manners in Dating." This proved to be a very interesting meeting because we had four boys that gave their ideals about girls and the way they should act on a date. We discovered quite a few things that is taken for granted on a date which we would like to improve.

The panel of boys that gave their views or ideals were the following: Oliver Clark, Ronnie Hutcheson, Jerry Merrell and Scotty Stark. The panel of girls that asked questions were Billie and Jackie Cheatham, Pam Loudermilk and Gail Tyler. All of the girls wish to express their thanks to the boys who came and took part in the panel discussion.

FLOMOT YOUNGSTERS ENJOY HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Wednesday, October 30, the Flomot G.A.'s hosted the R.A.'s to a Halloween party. A total of 33 boys and girls were present along with five adults.

Refreshments of Hamburgers, Chip and Dip and punch were served.

Ghost stories were told, and games played, while in costume. The fortune telling was one of the highlights of the evening. All present reported that they had a fun-filled evening.

GROUND WATER STUDIES BEING MADE IN HALL-BRISCOE COUNTIES

The U. S. Geological Survey, in cooperation with the Texas Water Development Board, is conducting a ground-water study in Hall and eastern Briscoe Counties. The purpose of the project is to obtain, interpret and publish data on water wells and water-bearing formations. Similar studies are being in Floyd and Motley Counties. These investigations are part of the continuing assessment of water resources in Texas.

Most of the ground water in Hall and eastern Briscoe Counties come from sands that overlie the gypsum-rich beds. Water is also produced from sands in the red beds. The Survey hopes to test large capacity wells to determine the water bearing properties of these sands.

The investigation in Hall and eastern Briscoe Counties is under the supervision of Barney P. Popkin, U. S. Geological Survey Hydrologist, whose office is in the Lion Club Complex in Clarendon, Texas. During the investigation, well owners will be contacted for information concerning their wells and for permission to measure water levels, pumping levels and well yields, and to collect water samples for chemical analyses. For further information, please contact Mr. Popkin: Box 367, Clarendon, Texas, 73226 or phone 874-2536, office or 874-2542, residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Salem drove to Lubbock last Thursday where they boarded a plane and flew to Waco to visit their son, Tim, who attends James Connally Inst. there. They returned home Friday night.
