Delle Stevenson guessed the exact number of pieces of iron.

Mike at the State Park is requesting assistance in finding this person. They only put a partial phone number with a 293 prefix which would indicate a Plainview location. Should anyone have information that would help Delle receive the T-shirt, please call Mike at 806/455-1492.

Three people tied for second place with a guess of one off. Each is a winner of a Caprock Canyons Cap. Wallace Holland of Lubbock guessed 93 as did Irma Leal of Pampa while Chad Perry of Silverton guessed 95.

Caprock Public Library News

by Arlene Hinkle

What a great National Trails Day! The book sale was deemed a success by Sut Patrick, who volunteered for most of the day. Through great diligence and unlimited patience, he sold countless books, and still managed to end the day with a smile.

The inflatable tiger bouncer was a huge success with the kids and so was the kiddie arcade. Volunteers for the day included the Student Council members from Valley School Melody Farley, Mindy Proctor, Christy Leal, Elena Fierro, Jamie Taylor and other volunteers were Janice, Walt and Wes Henson, Bob Hinkle, Micah Stark and Donna Cagle.

Volunteers are the most wonderful commodity that a city can have and Quitaque is lucky to have so many that contribute so much.

The Powells stated that they appreciated all the loyal patronage of the area people during their 14 years of ownership of the Caprock Home Center. They would like for their customers to continue to support Roland and Donna.

Roland said he was elated to be back in Quitaque and encourages everyone to come by for a visit or supplies. The business at large will continue as before, no changes are planned at this time.

Wanted Fire Fighters

by Rod Hinkel, Fire Chief

The Quitaque Volunteer Fire Department is in need of volunteers. We perform many roles in the community. We not only fight fires in people homes and businesses; but also the ones that occur in the grasslands and rangelands that surround this area.

We are a small group that has five trucks at our disposal, three of which are grass fighting trucks. We can provide the training necessary for an individual to become proficient in the art of fire fighting.

As another community service we initiate the storm watch program whenever the town is in possible danger from any severe weather.

If you feel that you can donate six hours of your valuable time each month to the community that you consider to be your home, then come and join us on one of our two monthly meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

THEN & NOW!

by Eunice McFall

Sunday is a very special day for those of us in the United States. It is a day in which we honor our fathers. Fathers should hold a very special place in the hearts of everyone of us. Without fathers we would not have the support that they so aptly supply without complaint day in and day out for their children. They stand by and let us make many mistakes so that we can learn many lessons. This has to be the biggest test of all for a father to stand by and let us make mistakes when they could so easily tell us that what we are doing will only end up wrong. (Of course we would not take their word for it, we all, it seems, have to try our wings at some time or another and of course we do get them clipped a time or two too!)

Fathers are those sturdy figures who forged the trails to the new land and hacked a living out of the forest so that this great land could be settled and we could lead the life of ease that we have today. (Do you every wonder what our forefathers of the 1700's would think if they could come back to the United States today for a day?)

Fathers are those who work from daylight to dark to make a good living for their families. Many spend all of their life working at jobs that they do not like just so that their family can live comfortably.

Fathers are those who stand behind their sons and daughters and try to give them a boost when necessary so that they can gain success in their chosen field of life. When the child fails at a project the father is one of the first to be there to pick up the child, dust it off and set it on the right path once again, telling the child that it is a very special person and that if they want to bad enough that they can conquer the world.

Fathers try to protect their children from all the hurts and wrongs of this old world (of course, this is not possible) but isn't it wonderful to know that there is someone in the world that believes totally in you and what you want to accomplish. Someone who is always in your corner fighting for your right to make your own mistakes.

Fathers give their values to their children by word and deed. Fathers give love to their children by action and statement. Fathers are one of the two most important things in a child's life. The other is Mothers. With those two important people pulling for children, they can't help but make this world a better place to live in.

Remember to Give Your Father A Happy Father's Day Greeting!

Shorter-Calvert Vows Exchanged May 9, 1997

Wedding vows were exchanged on Friday May 9th, 1997 at 6 p.m. o'clock in the evening by Cindy Michelle Shorter and Chad Ray Calvert at First Baptist Church in Flomot. Cindy is the daughter of Clois and Kathy Shorter of Flomot. Chad is the son of Ray Beryl and Wanda Calvert of Turkey. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Nathan Mulder, pastor.

Grandparents attending the wedding were Herb and Geneva Martin and Everett and Alma Shorter of Flomot.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an elegant gown by the designers of Mon Cheri Bridals. The gown featured a bodice of Italian Silky Satin with an overlay yoke of French Illusion. Short sleeves cuffed in satin accented the softness of the jewel neckline. A slightly dropped waistline allowed the ballgown skirt of French Illusion to fall gracefully to the floor where a double inset of satin, banded the skirt.

She wore a headband embellished with sequins and pearls from which flowed two layers of veil trimmed with seed pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses accented with baby's breath and white iridescent ribbon. For something old, the bride carried her mother's wedding Bible and wore her maternal and paternal grandmothers wedding bands. Her wedding gown and veil was something new. She wore a garter of blue belonging to her mother and borrowed her maternal grandmother's diamond tennis bracelet. She slipped two pennies and a silver medallion of her paternal great-grandmothers in her shoe for good luck.

Vows were exchanged before the altar with a beautiful fresh flower arrangement of white gladioli, roses, daisy mums and light blue iris. Iridescent blue bows and white tulle completed the arrangement.

Annabeth Clay of Flomot, aunt of the bride provided the traditional wedding march as the bride walked down the aisle. The song, Butterfly Kisses was played as the grandparents, groom's parents and the bride's mother were seated. Valentine was played after the ceremony as the couple walked out of the church.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall at the church. The bride's table was laid with a crocheted cloth over blue. A three tiered wedding cake was accented with white crystalized rosebuds, centered the table with a vase of flowers on one end and a crystal punch bowl at the other end.

Strawberries dipped in white and dark chocolate, garnished the German Chocolate Cake for the grooms table. A silver coffee service, belonging to the groom's maternal grandmother, the late LaVern Barnhill completed his table. Both cakes were decorated by the bride's cousin, Lori Kleibrink of Lubbock. Julie Clay of Lubbock and Tina Carson of Turkey presided at each table.

Following a trip to New Orleans, the couple will reside in Lubbock.

A quarrel between friends, when made up, adds a new tie to friendship, as experience shows that the callosity formed around a broken bone makes it stronger than before.

—St. Francis de Sales

The word squirrel comes from two Greek words meaning shadow tail. The large, bushy tails of tree squirrels curl over their backs and seem to keep them in the shade.

TxDOT's "123 Days of Summer" Campaign Focuses On Work Zone Safety

For most Texans the most dangerous part of their jobs is the commute to work. For highway maintenance and construction workers, the roadways are their offices, and this summer, they're concentrating on making their work places safer.

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) has kicked off a new public and internal information campaign called "123 Days of Summer" to put highway safety out front this season. The program's goals are to increase employee awareness of work zone safety practices, prevent on-the-job accidents and educate the public about the dangers road crews face. It runs through August.

"Summer is probably our busiest time since we can accomplish a lot of roadway maintenance and construction during the warmer, drier months. That's also the time more Texans are out on the roadways traveling. What we want is safer roadways for motorists and our workers," said Jerral Wyer, safety and industrial hygiene section director with TxDOT's Occupational Safety Division.

Each year between May and August, on-the-job accidents and injuries at TxDOT increase significantly. In fact, eight of TxDOT's last 10 on-the-job fatalities occurred during the summer. In 1995, more than 100 Texans died in work-zone accidents, most of which could have been prevented. More than 19 percent were caused by drivers either speeding or driving too fast for conditions.

The campaign has two parts: One designed for TxDOT employees, and the second for its external customers—highway drivers. For TxDOT employees, the added emphasis on safety begins before they hit the highways. Each workday will begin with a safety briefing where TxDOT workers will receive additional information on accident prevention and the safe handling of hazardous materials. But for all its internal measures to keep its employees safe, TxDOT must rely on the public to help. Last May, TxDOT began its companion safety campaign called "Give Us a Brake" to emphasize the need for motorists to the posted speed limits and pay attention when driving through work zones.

No sizable apiary should be placed within two miles of another.

"Work zone safety is really very easy to accomplish. It's just a matter of reminding people of some very simple rules like watching and observing the reduced speed zones in work areas. Too many work-zone accidents are caused by motorists driving too fast for conditions," Wyer said. Some other rules of the road motorists need to remember:

Keep a safe distance from the vehicle in front. Most accidents in work zones involve rear-end collisions.

Stay alert. Pay attention to construction workers and equipment in the work zone areas.

Be patient. Traffic delays in work zones are often unavoidable while improvements are being made to Texas roads. Patience can prevent accidents.

"Of course, safety awareness isn't just limited to the summer. It's a year-round effort to make our workers and motorists safe on Texas Highways," Wyer said.

AIR Facts & Figures

Cars And Clean Air

(NAPS)—Cleaner burning fuels provide healthier air. Smog, which is ground level ozone pollution, is a serious local and regional air quality concern because it can cause shortness of breathing, chest pain when inhaling deeply, wheezing and coughing, not to mention the long term effects of asthma, bronchial infection, and lung disease.

Millions of tons of dangerous air emissions will be prevented through the use of cleaner burning fuels.

A proven way to reduce ozone pollution is the use of cleaner burning gasoline. The American Lung Association has said the use of clean burning gasoline, often called reformulated gasoline (RFG), "Means less lung disease, fewer hospitalizations and ultimately lives saved in those regions of the country that have long suffered from the dirtiest air."

These inexpensive health benefits come from the use of cleaner burning gasoline. In the past two years alone RFG has removed over 1.2 billion pounds of smog forming compounds and air toxics from the air.

PROGRAM ON LAUGHTER AS A HEALTH AID

Ms. Arla Felts of Vernon, the new Motley County Extension Agent, was delighted with the cheerful welcome and introduction at the Do Gooders' Club June 3 at Flomot Community Center.

Ms. Felts presented a program on "Laughter is a Health Aid." She said the average American should laugh 15 or more times a day, and added that an individual should keep a funny story "in storage" to remember when in stress or depressed.

Mrs. B. Rogers conducted a brief business meeting, and the club's western quilt was reported on display at the Motley County Library. Members of the club meet each Thursday afternoon to work on the current quilt.

Leona Degan and Tommie Cruse presided at a patriotic-decorated table in observance of Flag Day.

Attending in addition to the above mentioned were Edith Washington, Mary Jo Calvert, Sylvia Lee Martin, Alma Shorter, Trula Martin, Annie B. Cloyd, Judy True and Nada Starkey.

RAINS CONTINUE IN THE AREA

An isolated 0.60 of rain fell five miles east of Whiteflat early Friday morning, June 6. No one in northwest Motley County was spared the downpour on Sunday. A big question mark looms as to how much replanting of cotton, and when other planting can be completed, but Ranchers are "all smiles."

Mrs. Tommie Cruse of Flomot officially reported 2.20 inches of rain. West of Flomot had 3 to 3.70 inches. In Whiteflat, 1.60 to 3.00 inches fell on already saturated land!

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cypert of Lockney accompanied her mother Mrs. C. W. Starkey to Lubbock Thursday for a medical checkup following recent surgery. Lola Jewel Starkey of Abilene met them there and returned home with her mother to visit. Other daughters, Mrs. Nola Long of Winneford, OK, and Mrs. Bobbie Hanna of Warner, OK visited from June 5 thru 12th. Visiting the family Friday and Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth George of Lewisville.

Mrs. Lori Kliebrind of Lubbock, Mrs. Clois Shorter, and Mrs. L. E. Shorter visited in Southlake from Wednesday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rhodes, Rick and Russell. Joining them there Saturday to visit and attend the wedding of Rick Rhodes and Marian Grooms Saturday were Christi and Dwain Milan of Petersburg, Mrs. Cindy Calvert of Lubbock, Keri and Kevin Sehon of Ropesville, and Clois Shorter and L. E. Shorter of Flomot. The families returned to their respective homes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Starkey, Warren Davis and weekend houseguests Mrs. Jackie Lynn Davis and Michael of Fritch, attended the wedding of the grandson, T. C. Reid and Carissa Jane Hileski, Saturday. It was held at the J.A. Hill chapel on West Texas A&M campus in Canyon. T. C. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Reid of Amarillo. Warren and Michael were ushers at the wedding.

Mary Ellen Barton and Viola Stinson visited in Floydada Saturday with Mrs. Mollie Bursleson and Mrs. Lou Bursleson.

Those attending the Starkey cousins reunion in Plainview Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Starkey and Mrs. C. W. Starkey and her houseguests, Mrs. Nola Long of Winneford, OK, Mrs. Bobbie Hanna of Warner, OK., and Lola Jewel Starkey of Abilene.

Tanks got their name from the British, who developed them during World War One. To conceal their purpose, they referred to them as "water tanks."

Food For Thought: The Body Is A Battleground

Eating the right food and getting the right vitamins can keep you healthy and may even help prevent certain diseases. A new brochure tells you how.

(NAPS)—Some of the most important battles may be fought within your own body.

More than 10,000 times every day a team of antioxidants fights the body's enemies—and if you're healthy—wins. Team Antioxidant battles to protect us from the bad guys, Free Radicals, and the cancer and heart disease they can contribute to.

A fun, colorful, new brochure, Team Antioxidant: Because Your Body Is A Battleground, can educate adults and children about how these heroes wage war to protect the human body.

Here's how to tell the good guys from the bad guys:

The Good Guys—Team Antioxidant

Vitamin E—helps in the fight against heart disease by preventing Free Radicals from oxidizing "bad" cholesterol, which promotes atherosclerosis.

Vitamin C—may help protect cells and organs from damage caused by the Free Radicals and helps make Vitamin E and The Carotenoids more effective.

The Carotenoids—its members Beta Carotene, Lutein and Lycopene, work together to fight Free Radical damage to cells and their DNA, which can lead to tumor growth and cancer.

The Bad Guys

Free Radicals—Dangerously unstable oxygen molecules that attack healthy cells—as many as 10,000 times per day—contributing to such degenerative illnesses as cancer and heart disease.

In the brochure, vivid vitamin characters discuss which foods are rich in antioxidant nutrients, and give tips on how to read a nutrition label. They also offer additional information about healthy eating and lifestyles.

"Research has shown that our bodies are filled with free radicals that attack cells and lay the foundation for diseases such as coronary heart disease, various cancers, Alzheimer's disease and arthritis," says Jeffrey Blumberg, Ph.D., of Tufts University. "It is important that consumers educate themselves about optimizing their health through diet and the potential benefits of antioxidant vitamins."

For a copy of this poster/brochure, send $2.50 (for postage and handling) to: Team Antioxidant, P.O. Box 1830, Newport, KY 41071-1830.

This educational poster/brochure was developed by BASF Human Nutrition, supplier of bulk vitamins.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these appeal procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property
- any exemptions that may apply to you
- the cancellation of an agricultural appraisal
- the taxable status of your property
- the local governments which should be taxing your property
- any action taken by the appraisal district that adversely affected you.

Informal Review

If you have questions or concerns about your taxable property or exemptions, etc., you can have an informal review with the chief appraiser, Carlye Fleming, or any of the appraisal district staff, at 806/823-2161; or you can come to the office in the courthouse basement, 415 Main Street, in Silverton.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board

If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board (ARB).

The ARB is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals or other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notice of the time, date and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 415 Main Street, Silverton, Tx (courthouse basement).
 Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court

After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision, you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information

You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at Briscoe County Appraisal District, 415 Main St., Silverton, Texas, 806/823-2161. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division at P.O. Box 13528, Austin, Texas 78711-3528.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB*

Usual Deadline

On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines

For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

* The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

Lisa McKnight and her children visited several days last week with their grandmother and great grandmother, Virginia Degan. The McKnights live in Amarillo.

Guyretta Clinton has changed jobs. She moved from working at the grocery store to the Turkey Drive-In Cafe. I had missed her at the grocery store so was glad to see her at the cafe.

Visiting last week in Ringling, Oklahoma with Kay and Bobby Clay were Estelle and Tink Lane. Kay and Estelle drove on to Dallas for the surgery of Kay's daughter, Jenny. Jenny is doing fine following her surgery.

Cliff and Helen Masters, of Clovis, New Mexico spent Thursday night with Louis and Oleta Randall. Also visiting Thursday with the Randells and Masters were Dean and Jean Mullin of Quitaque. Amanda Mullin, Michael Mullin, both of Big Spring, H. E. and Lillian Mullin and Joyce Guest.

Aggies study bacteria and their bio clocks

COLLEGE STATION — Scientists are rethinking what they know about how bacteria tell time.

New studies of a laboratory bacterium show that the organism passes on a biological clock even while it divides to produce new generations of offspring, says Susan Golden, a molecular biologist at Texas A&M University.

The circadian clock is a biological time-keeper that in humans governs functions like hormone levels and the wake-sleep cycle. The new findings complicate the picture of the circadian clock that researchers have been building through decades of research, Golden says.

Turkey Class of '57 Holds Reunion

The Turkey High School Class of 1957 held their 40th class reunion last Saturday and Sunday, June 7th and 8th.

They met at the Hotel Turkey for a great reunion. Susie and Gary Johnson were great hosts.

Classmates that registered were: Jerry Gafford and wife of Rigby, Idaho; Dana Lane Proctor and husband William of Amarillo; Paulette Lipscomb of Amarillo; Peggy Smith Orck and husband of Bridgeport, Texas; Van Allen Collins of Canyon; Lavon Gafford of Memphis; Navarre Bain of Amarillo; Gerald Imel and wife of Sperry Oklahoma; Phyllis Geisler of Earth, Texas; Claudia Lane Hawkins and husband Homer of Turkey; Joe Beth Lusk Smith and husband Dub of Lubbock; Ruby Jo Smith Lacy of Blytheville, Arkansas; Betty Chandler Hawkins and husband Jimmy of Forney, Texas and Irvin Seymour of Floydada.

Others attending the reunion for some visiting were Larry and Ruth Clark of Lubbock who claimed they enjoy making class reunions—it's their favorite pastime; Joy and Jan Turner, U.F. and Ann Coker, Stuart and Vivian Smith and children and Virginia Degan all of Turkey.

Also visiting was Floyd Gafford and granddaughter of Pampa; James and Zack Green of Wichita Falls; Kaylene and Criss Morrison and children of Lubbock and Randy Lacy of Lubbock.

Keith Green acted as the MC for the program. Keith asked his classmates for some memories of their school years. Their favorite or most infamous, was their Senior Trip to the Majestic Hotel in Hot Springs, Arkansas. The girls on the 6th floor decided to take bubble baths. They had so many bubbles they practically flooded the hotel. The Class was asked to leave!

Stuart Smith, pastor of the Turkey Church of Christ, held a Memorial Service for the classmates who are deceased. Those classmates are Jay Mullin, Ann Mullin Powell, Jimmy Brice, James Lipscomb and Sharon McGee McFall.

Stuart and his family also sang for the group.

The classmates enjoyed a delicious dinner at the hotel and breakfast Sunday morning before departing for their respective homes.

Missy Jeffcoat To Perform On Broadway

She will be performing on the family stage which will be located at 1722 Broadway. Her set will begin at 2:55 and last until 3:10.

Two of the songs Miss Jeffcoat plans to sing are Mi Vida Loca and You Win My Love.

Flowering plants said to have common ancestor

COLLEGE STATION — Blades of bermuda and bunches of broccoli appear to have little more in common than color. But a new study has found that they — and all flowering plants in the world — stem from a common ancestor that existed perhaps 200 million years ago.

The finding, reported in the December issue of Nature Genetics, means that breeders who are trying to develop better plants may soon have a much larger storehouse of genetic material to use.

"Down the road, we may be able to treat the genomes of all crops as one," said Dr. Andrew Paterson, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station molecular biologist at Texas A&M University and lead investigator on the project. "If we know the function of a gene in cotton, we will be able to infer what that gene's function in grain sorghum is."

Same goes for turtgrass, cactus, oak trees, grape vines and any of the other 250,000 species of plants classified on Earth, according to a United Nations report on biodiversity.

Pointers For Parents

Your Child's Skin And The Sun

(NAPS)—Here's some news to brighten your day. There are many steps parents can take to protect children from skin cancer which is caused by sun exposure.

The reported number of cases of skin cancer is growing faster than any other type of cancer. Children are at particular risk because melanin, the protective agent that helps prevent our skin from burning is not fully developed at birth. People also get the majority of their sun exposure before age 18.

To protect children, the American Skin Association offers the following suggestions:

- For baby's first 12 months, avoid the sun as much as possible. Ensure full shade with carriage hoods, canopies and umbrellas. After that use a sunscreen with a skin protection factor (SPF) of at least 15. Regular use of sunscreen before age 18 will reduce your child's risk of cancer by 75 percent.
- Before using sunscreen, do a patch test on the inside of baby's wrist to see if the sunscreen causes a rash. If it does, ask your doctor to suggest another sunscreen.

• When applying sunscreen, don't forget baby's hands, ears, nose, lips and areas around the eyes. Avoid the eyelids. When outside, reapply sunscreen every two hours.

• Stay out of the sun between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. That's when the sun's burning rays are the strongest. Don't be fooled by cloudy or overcast days because 80 percent of the sun's rays can penetrate light clouds or mist.

• Make clothing an important part of your family's sun protection plan. Sun-protective clothing is now readily available. Wear wide brimmed hats and lightweight long sleeved shirts and long pants.

• Be aware of the daily UV index. A high index on a very sunny day (10-15) indicates that a person can burn with just 15 minutes exposure.

EXCESS NITRATE IN QUITAQUE WATER
The City of Quitaque has been notified by the Texas Department of Health that the water being supplied by our system exceeds the maximum constituent level for Nitrate (as Nitrogen) specified by the "State Drinking Water Act" (public law 93-523 U.S.).
The limit for Nitrate (as nitrogen) is set at 10 milligrams per liter of water. The amount of nitrate (as Nitrogen) in the water we supply was reported to be 13.10 milligrams per liter of water.
Adults and children over the age of 6 months need not be concerned about drinking from the tap. An excess of nitrate intake by an infant under the age of 6 months may reduce its available oxygen supply and possibly produce "blue baby" symptoms.
To obtain bottled water from the City of Quitaque, persons must come by the City Hall between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Father Really Does Know Best
(NAPS)—According to the 1997 Wild Turkey Bourbon Father's Day Survey, Dads rarely lay an egg when giving advice! In a national survey, over 83 percent of respondents say that Dad is usually right when he gives advice...which isn't as often as you might think. Overall, moms are more likely to offer advice on important matters. Dad is least likely to comment on clothing, romance, what you eat, your exercise habits or the college you attend. Once they get to be grandparents, dads are also very tight lipped when it comes to dispensing their know-how on raising kids.
What does matter to dad? Over 70 percent of respondents said dad has a lot to say when it comes to financial advice, and 95 percent said the advice was sound. However, dads don't influence major purchase decisions such as a new car or home.
Over half the respondents said their dad did influence their job choices and career decisions, and 82 percent agree that dad didn't steer them wrong.
Fifty percent said dad likes to advise them on home improvements, and dads are more likely to help daughters than sons.
Nearly half remember a favorite "dadism," with the top ten being:
Because I said so.
Do as I say, not as I do.
This hurts me more than it hurts you.
If you're going to do something, do it right or don't do it at all.
It's not over till it's over.
Children should be seen and not heard.
Why buy the cow if you can get the milk for free?
Let that be a lesson to you.
Who ever told you life is fair?
Champions come from behind.

Keep Your Garden Healthy

According to Dr. Sam Feagley, Extension state soil environmental specialist a garden should be grown with a healthy soil that has 20 essential elements.
In order for plants to thrive, the soil must contain large amounts of nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium.
Nitrogen is a key element that homeowners and gardeners will more than likely have to add to their lawn or soil. Nitrogen ties itself to organic matter, and Texas soil runs short when it comes to organic matter.
A lack of nitrogen will cause the plant to lose its green coloring, and slow the growth of the plant. With nitrogen, you put it down a little bit at a time, and kind of spoon feed the plant. An overdose of nitrogen will make the plant grow vigorously, but it may not make it grow right.
About half of Texas would also benefit from additional phosphorous.
Phosphorous helps stimulate root growth and development. It also helps the plant to set fruit. Typically, plants need only one application of phosphorous, and it should be laid down in the spring when roots are being established.
If plant leaves begin to curl, it may not be from lack of water, but lack of potassium. Potassium works as a defense mechanism, curling the plant to prevent water loss and heat damage.
Before applying any fertilizer, one should send a soil sample in for soil analysis to determine what elements the soil is lacking.
"My recommendation to most people is to take one soil sample (mixed) from your lawn, garden, and flower bed. Mixing these samples together will provide the homeowner with a representative subsample," said Feagley.

Questions And answers Concerning School Bond Election Saturday

(Q) If the bond issue passes will there be a huge increase in my taxes?
(Ans) No, if you are now paying $75.00 per year in taxes the new rate would only be about $22.00 a year more for the added benefits of a new school.
(Q) Why is it that we are not tearing down the old building and constructing an entirely new plant?
(Ans) For two reasons. Our present tax structure would not stand a larger bond issue without raising the present valuations of properties, and there is some doubt that even this would be enough to warrant a bond issue large enough for a new building and auditorium. Also architecture information indicated it would be extremely costly to tear down the solid concrete walls on the grade school building.

(Q) Why not just remodel the present grade school building?
(Ans) The architect's estimates of remodeling alone was almost $90,000.00. In the school board's opinion it would be better to spend some additional money and have something everyone would be proud of. The bottom floor will be completely remodeled, but in addition eight new modern classrooms will be constructed for our children.
(Q) Have other schools done similar building in our area?
(Ans) Yes, Lorenzo, up near Lubbock, did the same thing not long ago. They remodeled the bottom floor of the grade school and built an attractive new building adjacent to the other building.
(Q) Will the old building be changed and be something to be proud of?
(Ans) Yes. It will be modernized inside and out, and architects tell us that newcomers would find it hard to distinguish from a new building.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reavis and daughter, Mary Lynn, and Linda Rowland from Childress and their grandson, Herbert Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reavis of Boise City, Okla. were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hooks over the weekend.
Herman Havis, an uncle of Mr. John King ate dinner on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. John King.

Tencel--First New Fiber In 30 Years

Provided by Calley Payne, CEA-FCS

Tencel is the first new fiber in 30 years! What is it? In April 1996, the Federal Trade Commission approved lyocell as a generic fiber type.

Tencel is the trade name for the lyocell fiber produced by Courtaulds Fibers, Inc. It is a natural fiber produced from cellulose found in trees grown especially for this purpose on managed tree farms. The fiber is produced by using a non-toxic dissolving agent and spinning process referred to as solvent spinning. Due to this process, the Tencel fiber is 100 percent biodegradable and more environmentally friendly than many other man-made fibers. Tencel looks and acts very much like rayon, however, it is a much stronger fiber, wet or dry, and is machine washable. This strength allows for longer-lasting garments. Tencel is an extremely versatile fiber.

It is naturally soft and smooth, yet due to its strength, a variety of finishing techniques can be used to produce unique surface effects in a wide range of fabrics. The drapability of Tencel allows the fiber to flow and move in a way that expresses grace and elegance. Tencel readily absorbs dye, producing deep rich colors whether dark or pastel hues. A wide range of fabrics can be created with this fiber. Knitted/woven fabrics, such as crepes, twills, and chambray, can be designed by using either 100 percent or blended Tencel. Garments made from Tencel are typically high priced garments and can be found in department and specialty stores.

Items made from lyocell must use that generic name on fiber identification and care labels. Brand names may be used in addition to the generic name if the manufacturer so chooses. Courtaulds Fibers, Inc. was the first company to enter the U. S. lyocell market with Tencel and will allow use of the Tencel name only on items containing at least 50 percent of the fiber. Fabrics must be certified by Courtaulds.
