Homecoming--a very special event in many lives. Homecoming brings different visions to different people. A school bymecoming is always a very special time. Especially, if it is a 10, 0, 30 or more celebration. When ten years have gone by you usualy are ready to see the old familiar faces of friends you grew up with. You are rather curious as to where each other lives, what sort of jobseveryone has, if married and who to and how many children eachhas.

By the time 20 years has rolled by other questions enter your mind--You spend a lot of time talking about how different it is for your teenagers and when you were in shoool.

Now when 30 years have passed, you probably 'ave a couple of sweet grandchildren to carry pictures of and brag on After all yours are the sweetest, cutest, and the smartest and you eally want your old class mates to realize this.

When the 40 year reunion of high school friens appears on the scene, we are all beginning to slow up a bit but ar curosity about old and dear friends is still around. We wonder hw our friends can look so old, after all we haven't changed that muh! Ha! Just take a good look in the mirror against a high schol picture--See the

By the time our 50 year reunion is here, we re just hoping that the dear familiar faces of yesteryear will be abe to show up at our class reunion. Yep, when all's said and doneit's the people that make our lives so special--especially those the have known us the longest and best.

So take time to enjoy each special persn and each special reunion of your life. It is time well spent.

Happy Homecoming!!!

TURKEY-QUITAQUE INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

NOTICE OF COMPARABLE TAX RATES AND REVENUES

The legislature has enacted a statute on school funding to comply with a court mandate enforcing the state constitution. Under prior statutes (SB 1) the tax rate for last year provides $5,112 per student in state and local revenues. Under this statute (SB 351) that same rate now provides $5,416 per student in state and local revenues.

State law only requires a minimum tax rate of $.835 for county education districts. State law does not require a school district to adopt additional taxes. Neither does state law require a school district to adopt a tax rate that maximizes the receipt of state funds.

The Turkey-Quitaque ISD board of trustees will meet Monday, September 23 at 8:00 o'clock p.m. to set a tax rate for the 1991-92 school year.

Texas Farmers Union News

The fallacies of free trade:

Canada will not be undersold "We will not be undersold" is a common enough phrase used to sell everything from cameras to cars. But when entire nations use the approach to squeeze sales away from competitors in the farm export market, farmers themselves are the losers, says a national farm leader.

At issue is a reported dispatch from a U.S. attache in South Amer ica which stated that the Canadian Wheat Board, the government agency that coordinates wheat export sales for the country, has vowed to undercut U.S. wheat export prices by at least one U.S. dollar per metric

National Farmers Union President Leland Swenson says such practices prove that the U.S.-Canada Free Trade Agreement, and the entire free-market school of thinking, is flawed. "It just shows that no matter what we do, somebody is going to undercut our prices," he said. "And by playing that price gouging game, all we're doing is gouging our own farmers."

U. S. Senator Kent Conrad (D-ND) was the first to pick up on reports of the Canadian directive.

He fired off a letter to Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan asking that American markets be closed to Canadian wheat. "It's not free trade, and it's not fair trade," Conrad Swenson says the Canadian price ing action adds credence to a 1988 farm policy study commissioned by NFU and the National Farmers Organization. In the study, Okla-homa State University economists Daryll Ray and James Plaxico stated that the reasoning behind farm policy decisions since 1985 has been "our competitors would stop undercutting our prices if loan rates were lowered." "Not surprisingly, our competitors did not oblige," the two concluded.

Further evidence of the farm export war was reported in the August 23rd edition of the "The Kiplinger Agriculture Letter." Underscoring the point that "our exports have come to depend on subsidies," the newsletter reports that 60% to 65% of American grain exports are expected to be Export Enhancement Program sales in the current fiscal year.

Cotton Referendum Results Announced

The United States Department of Agriculture officially announced the passage of the Cotton Research and Promotion Referendum. This action amends the Program to allow for the assessment of imported raw cotton and the cotton content of imported textiles and apparel and the elimination of the current refund provision. Producer refunds will end September 1, 1991, thirty days after the official USDA notice. Collection of import assessments is expected to begin around the end of this year. Valid ballots cast by U.S. cotton producers and importers to-taled 46,220, with 60% favoring the nendments. A simple majority of those voting was required to pass the referendum.

Referendum outcome voting in Texas was 60% for and 40% against.

"The successful outcome of the referendum clearly demonstrates U.S. cotton producers' confidence in the Cotton research and promotion the Cotton research and promotion Program, "says Cotton Board Chair-man William H. McCoy, Jr., pro-ducer from Board Chairman Wil-liam H. McCoy, Jr., producer from Oswego, S.C., "The increased funds desired from a purious assessment." derived from a uniform assessment will now enable Cotton Incorporated to expand its vital market-building

As a result of the successful Cotton Research and Promotion Referendum, the Cotton Board will recommend to USDA a reduction in the assessment rate to be effective for the 1992-93 crop year. Due to the amount of time necessary to implement a change in the as rate, a lower level will not affect the 1991 crop. The current assessment rate is one dollar per bale plus sixtenths of one percent of the value of the bale. The Cotton Board will determine the recommended rate change at its annual meeting later

Masonic Lodge To Have Open House

Matador Masonic Lodge #824 will hold its second open house of 1991 on Sunday afternoon, September 22, according to an announcement made by Billie Farley, the Master of the Lodge. The Lodge is located at Matador.

The public is cordially invited to attend and view the lodge room and its unusual furniture and equipment, much of it looking exactly the same as it looked when Masonry first came to Texas in the early 1830's. Light refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

Matador Masonic Lodge was founded in 1898, and has been in its present location since 1929. The lodge has a membership of 61.

Although it is impossible to de-termine exactly when the first Masons came to Texas, we do know that Ben Milam came to the Tehas country about 1818, and General Zebulon Pike led an expedition into the area a few years later. Both were Masons.

House Joint Resolution 114 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize home rule cities having a population of 5,000 or fewer inhabitants to amend their city charters by a majority vote of a city's qualified voters at an election held for that purpose. By the 1830's, numerous Masons had come to the area from both Mexico and the United States. Antonio Navarro, Lorenzo de Zav-ala and Juan Sequin joined others like Stephen F. Austin, Anson Jones and Sam Houston in forming lodges. The first lodge was formed at Brazoria in 1835, and in the same year, the Grand Lodge of Louisiana au-thorized lodges at Houston, Na-cogdoches and San Augustine. In 1837, those first three lodges formed the Grand Lodge in the Senate Chambers of the new Republic of Texas, with General Sam Houston as the presiding officer, and a total of 27 members. Ansor Jones, later to be the last President of the Republic, was elected the first Grand Master. Today, Texas Masonry has over 180,000 members and 954 lodges.

The Grand Lodge of Texas met in a lot of places until 1903, when the move was made to a permanent location in Waco. The beautiful Memorial Grand Lodge Temple,

Lazbuddie Longhorns Outscores Valley Patriots Friday, 52-14

The Lazbuddie Longhorns produced a high powered offensive attack to a 52-14 victory over Valley Patriots in six-man action Friday

Valley scored first when Clay Edwards rushed 40 yards for a touch down. But Lazbuddie responded with several consecutive touch-

Bradley Price scored Valley's Hendrix threw him a 43 yard pass Valley connected on one of two extra point attempts. Chad Powell and Clay Edwards were injured during the game and probaably will not be able to play when the Patriots host the Higgins Coyotes for their homecoming game Friday night, September 20.

By Valley JV, 36-19

After a scoreless 1st quarter we capped a 67 yard drive on the third play of the 2nd quarter to score our first of three touchdowns in the quarter. We were able to move the ball in the 2nd quarter with a strong running game along with some key pass completions. Our line did a good job blocking and our backs hit the holes running hard. We still have some work to do to get our offense working on all cylinders.

Defensively we gave up 19 points. They made a couple of big plays on us but over all we shut them down allowing them only 7 first downs. Our defense was swarming to the ball causing 6 fumbles and recovering 3 including one for a touchdown. We were pleased with the way we were hitting and the fact we always had several players around the ball.

Each week we look at the film and pick out the things that we need to work on to improve so that we can get better each week. The kids are working hard and we expect them We play Miami at Valley September 19, 1991 at 6:30.

EDUCATION

Training tomorrow's workforce today: That's the goal of America's utility companies, who are working with educators to develop a skilled workforce that can meet the competitive challenges of the world mar-ketplace of the '90s—and beyond. As they became involved in en-ergy education following the Arab oil embargoes of the 1970s, electric companies across America discov-ered what educators have long known: energy literacy is tied to math, science and other skills; math and science scores of American students are declining—and we are consequently producing fewer sci-entists, engineers and mathematicians each year. The result: a workforce that doesn't have the skills—even for many entry-level jobs—to keep American companies productive, profitable and competi-tive; and a projected shortage of over half a million scientists and engineers by the year 2006.

That's why the member companies of Edison Electric Institute (EEI), located in urban, rural and suburban areas across the country have forged a number of education partnerships with their communi-ties. In Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, for instance, an electric company has spent $5 million placing computers, printers and net-works in public school classrooms. In California, an electric company is a major force in implementing new teaching methods in multi-cul-tural classrooms. In Texas, an electric company is the major sponsor of youth organizations that help keep children in school, provide tutorial services and offer career guidance, such as Future Farmers of America and 4-H clubs. EET's Educational Services Committee helps member companies deal with industry-related issues within the educational
