Prairie Dog Town

The way some people remember the wide open spaces back sixty years ago when the jack rabbits would lope across the praries by the thousands, and having but few enemies such as coyotes and bob cats which were plentiful during the times, but jack rabbits had them greatly outnumbered.

The main stars of the prairie was the plain little prairie dog. Now he has plenty of enemies but also had one of the best dens to live in. You never found just one prairie dog den in a place, they always surrounded by dozens and sometimes hundreds of dens called a Prairie Dog Town. The site was selected on a wide slope usually at the foot of a hill and never by a creek or gully. This would permit the water to spread out during a rain storm and water the grass and weeds close by the dens. Each den was constructed with a tall rim around the top also as to keep the water out. After each rain the prairie dog would dig and pull a big roll of wet clay around the den packing it by pounding with its nose.

If a rattlesnake entered the den the prairie dog would get help from other dogs and fill the den with clay and pack it down so the snake would never escape, this was its grave.

The plain little owls that stood on top of the abandoned prairie dog dens and bowed politely as people approached was a lazy little bird, called the dog owl and raised its little ones underground.

The closest dog town now is near the farm to market road between Silverton and Claude.

Elgin Conner of Quitaque Lions Club, Marg Boyles, secretary of We the Women gave David Brunson a donation for new carpet for the Community Center, which came from their co-sponsored Turkey Dinner held last February.

 In spite of the fact that retired teachers are constantly being fed a steady stream of rumors about how the Governor's office or the legislature has some kind of sinister plan to destroy the Teachers Retirement System, nothing could be further from the truth.

The real facts are, the Texas State Teachers Retirement System is one of the soundest in the nation. The legislature has been super nice to the System.

There are three main reasons why the Teacher Retirement System is super sound. First the state has injected well over one-half billion dollars from the general revenue fund into the System during the surplus seventies and early 1980's. Had it not been for the huge surplus that piled up in the state's general fund during this period, many teachers withdrew from teaching and pulled down their contributions to the tune of over Five Hundred Million Dollars. It is estimated the state left over $600 million of these matching funds in the Teacher Retirement System to the benefit of the System.

Many legislators feel it is high time the Teacher Retirement System bail out of the high-risk stock market and place the funds into super-safe government securities. Should we have a 1929 stock crash, it could endanger every retiree's monthly check. A bline retarded person could have made a mint over the last two or three years if they had bought and bought and not sold.

The investors of the Teacher Retirement System look good today, but it is high time to county their chips.

Nuevo Study Club

Mrs. Nadine Baisden was hostess for Nuevo Study Club at her home Thursday, Feb. 26, at 3 p.m.

Minutes were read and approved, and a treasurer's report was given. Mrs. Baisden gave some information about the library during the business session.

Among the items given for roll call was an interesting one told by Mrs. R. C. Green. She related that the beauty who inspired the hit tune "San Antonio Rose" still lives in the Alamo city. In 1936, allured by the rose she always wore in her hair, her musician husband, Robert Symonds, wrote the famous lyrics. Four years later, Bob Willis and his Texas Playboys introduced the number. Mr. Symonds died in 1976, but his 77 year-old "Rose of San Antonio" still lives there and wears that flower daily, according to Mrs. Green.

Mrs. Baisden, program leader, gave a very interesting talk on the Lake Trails of Texas. Among the lakes she told about were White Rock, Bonham Lake, Grapevine Lake, Roy Hubbard, Lovon, Lewisville, Moss Lake, Texoma, Bonham State Park Lake, Lake Giddens, Bardwell Lake, Lake Whitney, Lake Glen Rose, called the Home of the Dinosaur, Lake Weatherford, Lake Worth and Lake Arlington. She also gave special facts about the towns and counties surrounding many of the famous lakes.

A refreshment plate was served and the meeting adjourned to meet March 12 at Turkey Methodist Fellowship hall with Marcella Patterson and Wilma Wedge as co-hostesses.

OTHO STUBBS OF TURKEY, Texas, painted several pictures of the Quitaque area for use on postcards. The pen and ink sketches are of the Quitaque Peaks, Eagle Point, Quitaque Ranch and the Texan - Santa Fe expedition of 1841.

Otho plans to do a series of pen and ink paintings of the Turkey area to be used on post cards in the near future.

Mr. Stubbs is a fascinating man to talk to, because of his vast knowledge of this area and its history.

By Marc A. Rouso
Want to get in on a good thing? As an historical date approaches, many count on the value of one collectible to rise.

"The Quiet People"

By Doris C. Crandall
Amarillo, Texas

The town of Claude, population 1,100, sits in the middle of vast ranch land in the Texas Panhandle. Because of the long distances between towns, most ranchers have CB-radio-equipped pickup trucks and cars. In emergencies, they call the town's base set on Channel 9.

Tom Henry Miller operates that base set. "You've got the Reporter," he answers when a call comes in. "Reporter," in CB language, is Tom's "handle," or nickname. Tom volunteers his services and he's on call 24 hours a day.

At 2:30 a.m. a farmer is rushing his wife to the hospital when his car breaks down. The farmer calls Tom, who telephones the medical center. In minutes an ambulance is on the way. Or a call from a cowboy out on the range with an injured animal alerts Tom, and Tom phones the veterinary clinic.

Then, too, Texas is twister country. It's vital that people have a few minutes' warning in order to take cover. A rancher 20 miles out in the country may spot a tornado and call the base set. Tom pushes a button that activates a siren. Prairie fires are also a threat to the land and are reported through the base set.

Tom's volunteer work doesn't seem unusual until you learn that as a nine-year-old in 1928, he was struck with crippling arthritis and has been flat on his back for the last 58 years.

In the beginning, Tom's legs and body stiffened. He could not turn his head. He was in constant, almost unbearable pain. Gradually the pain eased, but he was left paralyzed, with only minimal use of his arms.

The people around Claude, Texas are grateful for Tom's services.

A schoolteacher gave him lessons in leather crafting, and for years Tom made and sold hand-tooled leather belts and billfolds. He sells greeting cards and magazine subscriptions, operates a telephone answering service and reports happenings to the local newspaper.

Tom Miller has received many citations for his volunteer work. Yet he never accepts the credit. "Jesus, through the people here," he says simply, "provided a way for me to lead a productive, fulfilling life, even while in bed."

(The above article was published in the Guideposts, a magazine published in Carmel, N.Y. and sent to the magazine by Doris Crandall of Amarillo. The Tribune thought its readers might enjoy reading it since it is area news.)

The fastest animal is the cheetah. The large cat has been clocked at seventy miles per hour.

Army Offers Exciting Alternative

Enlisting in the U. S. Army for two years can be an outstanding option for young men and women who are deciding their future plans, says Capt. Ronald K. Scott, commander of Army recruiting in Amarillo. It can also be a viable alternative for students in a two- or four-year college program who need a break before continuing on toward a degree.

"In a two-year enlistment, young people can earn up to $17,000 toward college under the GI Bill Plus the Army College Fund," Scott says. "Paying for a college education is a problem that has put many students into heavy debt. It's a dilemma students around the nation must face."

Two-year enlistees can receive training in one of more than 50 special skill areas which they choose, some which include engineering, construction, petroleum supply, and food services, according to Scott.

"It's possible to earn a two-year associate's degree during an enlistment," he says.

There's also a plan where soldiers with college experience can have their student loans repaid by the Army, according to Scott. The Army will pay off a National Direct Student Loan, Guaranteed Student Loan or Federally Insured Student Loan at the rate of one-third the balance per year of enlistment. For a two-year enlistment, two-thirds of the loan will be repaid. This program cannot be applied if someone is participating in the GI Bill Plus the Army College Fund program. The two programs can't be earned or used simultaneously.

"The Army recognizes the importance of the two-year enlistment for those who want to take advantage of the many Army benefits, and have the option of not committing themselves to a longer three- or four-year enlistment," Scott says. "Qualified young men and women can enlist for two years, then decide on a career, education, or civilian job."

Persons who want more information on the Army's two-year enlistment program can contact Scott at (806) 373-1841.

THE GOOD NEWS IS YOU HAVE HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE.

Finding out you've got high blood pressure is half the battle. With a plan for exercise, weight control, salt reduction and medication, the rest is easy.

If you have high blood pressure, get on a good program and stick with it. And do what your doctor says. Then there probably won't be any bad news.

Cotton Talks

From Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The Board of Directors of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. January 14 voted to seek approval for cotton as a perishable crop under the new Immigration Reform Act, heard status reports on the organization's continuing efforts to influence other pending government decisions, and appointed a Garza County gin manager to fill a vacancy on the board.

The move to get cotton included as a perishable crop is aimed at helping producers retain valued employees that otherwise might be deported. The new immigration law allows aliens to apply for a temporary visa if they worked in agriculture for at least 90 days between May 1, 1985 and May 1, 1986, but only if employed in field work related to perishable crops.

Directors decided on the issue after Steve Hay, representing Lubbock's Catholic Family Services, cited "not a few" agricultural employer and worker requests for assistance and offered his group's help in obtaining temporary visas for qualified workers. The new immigration law for the first time imposes employer sanctions for the hiring of illegal aliens.

Do You Remember?

FROM THE FILES OF THE ENTERPRISE TURKEY
March 8, 1947
 Mrs. S. A. Christian, 76 years old, passed away Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in an Amarillo hospital, of a heart attack. She had been ill about a week with influenza. News of her death was a great shock to the many friends of her family, and cast a gloom over the entire community.

Funeral services were held at Turkey high school auditorium Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock conducted by Alva Johnson of Turkey Church of Christ, assisted by Rev. P. A. Powell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Turkey.

Interment was in Dreamland cemetery under direction of Stewart Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Bert Degan, Drew Holcomb, Paul Meacham, Roy Fuston, Hoy Lacy, and Harry Barnhill. Flowers bearers were Nan Lacy, Lorene Richardson, Willie Grace Mullin, Fredia Smith, Mrs. J. V. Mohon and Mrs. David Guest.

Sarah Ellen McKay was born Oct. 10, 1870 near Fulbright, Red River County, Texas. She was married to S. A. Christian in 1890 and to this union eight children were born, two of whom, Jimmy and Anderson, preceded her in death. They also adopted a little girl who they raised as one of their own. Surviving is her husband, who is ill in the hospital in Amarillo and whose condition was so serious he was unable to attend the rites; four sons, Albert and Elmer of Turkey; Mac and Russell of Graton, CA.; three daughters, Mrs. Roy Russell of Turkey, Mrs. Avery Jones and Mrs. Joe Whitehead of Amarillo. All were present for the last rites. She is also survived by 19 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

The Christian family moved to Turkey in 1915 and Mr. and Mrs. Christian made their home here since that time, most of that time in Turkey.

Gilmores struggled through to lose 15 to 41.

The fifth and final game between "Hill Billy" Hill and the Setliff-Setliff-Setliff-Buchanan-Geisler & Brittan Co. ended with a Setliff Co. winning 37 to 23 with Arville Setliff scoring 23 points himself as much as the whole Hill organization.

Turkey gins have closed down for the season, reporting 2631 bales ginned from a short crop. A total of 23,179 bales were ginned in Hall County.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thraasher are the parents of a 7 lb. 10 oz. daughter born Monday March 3 in the Stanley Hospital in Matador.

Extension Service

By Dirk Aaron Briscoe Co. CEA-AG

This is the season when homeowners and others get the urge to "top" or "dehorn" landscape trees with the assumption that the trees will be better off.

On the contrary, topping is one of the worst practices that can be employed against shade trees.

Topping refers to cutting back branches to stubs and sometimes all the way to the trunk. This severely injures trees and sets them up for attack by diseases and insects. Topping can even kill a tree outright.

People top trees to reduce their size (where power lines may be in the way, for instance), to save money on competent tree care, and because they think the practice will help the tree.

Proper pruning, on the other hand, involves removing trashy side branches in the top of the tree. This practice is not nearly as noticeable as topping and therefore often goes unnoticed.

Severe topping causes a proliferation of buds at the point where the branch was cut. Shoots then arise from these buds, forming a dense mat at the end of the branch. This dense growth is shallowly attached and subject to easy breakage by wind storms.

This new mass of growth also puts a strain on a tree's root system since food reserves have to go to support it. Thus the tree's root system is weakened and overall vigor is reduced, making the tree more susceptible to attack from insects, diseases and other environmental conditions. Sunscald can also be a problem.

Topping also reduces a tree's life expectancy and therefore affects its value in the landscape. Knowledgeable appraisers will severely reduce the value of a topped or dehorned tree.

Good pruning practices will retain a tree's natural form and enable it to be a much greater asset to the landowner. Considering how long it takes a tree to reach full size, proper pruning and care should be a top priority for the homeowner.

"Secrets for Survival"
 How do families successfully cope with unemployment? Psychologists tell us that the key to healthy adaptation is in the ability to face the situation -- to recognize, admit and actively seek a solution.

Here are some suggestions to help you and your family make healthy adjustments to the changes in employment:

- *Don't blame yourself. Blaming yourself or others for a situation beyond your control is wasted energy that could be spent on actively solving the problems at hand.
- *Talk with others who are in a similar situation. By sharing feelings and comparing notes, you find that you are not alone. Finding out how others are coping can help you gain a greater sense of control over your situation.
- *Communicate with your family. Think of your family members, even your children. Involve the entire family in finding solutions. Pull together for the benefit of the family.
- *Evaluate your employment situation. If you have to give up farming, determine all the skills and abilities you have that could be transferred to a related job. Consider your interest in another career area. Don't say "I'm too old to do anything else." Consider re-training for another job. Your attitude about changes in your life is crucial to a healthy adjustment.

*Take time for yourself to get rid of the tension and stress in positive ways. You don't have to spend all your time looking for a job or working around the house. Physical exercise can help your overall well-being. Talk about your feelings -- don't keep them bottled up inside.

The City basketball tournament at THS has come to an end. The tournament was won by "Silky" Lacy and his bunch of Dry Goods. He won easily over the Turkey Faculty Tuesday night, 41-29, to clinch the title of city champs.

The tournament started last Thursday night Feb. 27. There were five games played in the first round. The initial game was between the Faculty and John Barnhill's team, the Faculty barely nosing them out in overtime period.

The second game was between "Bakery" Bob Lane and "Satin" Williams, which Williams won 22 to 13. The star of this game was Lewis Ferguson with six points and five fouls.

The third game was between "Chic" Russell and his Worry Warts and "Silky" Lacy and his Dry Goods, Lacy came out in the lead by 10 points for an easy victory.
