MISS VIDA WALKER DIES

Miss Vida Mae Walker, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Walker, died at the family residence Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and interment was made at Admiral, the old home of the Walker family. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. O. Cox, pastor of the Baptist Church, of which Miss Vida was a devoted member. She was a member of the local Rebekah Lodge and was buried by that order. Miss Vida was born May 7, 1894, and would have been 22 years old at her next birthday. She has been in failing health for several years, a sufferer from heart disease, but with all her suffering she was of a cheerful disposition, with a smile and a pleasant word for every one. She had many friends in Baird and Admiral who mourn her untimely death.

To the father, mother, sister and other relatives we tender sympathy in this hour of sorrow. The young may die; the old must die; but it is always with a sad heart that we have to note the death of a young girl or boy in the first flush of womanhood or manhood. There is no balm for a wounded heart that is filled with grief at the loss of a child or a near and dear relative. God alone, can give comfort to those who thus mourn. We are promised in the scriptures that if we keep His law we shall see our loved ones again in a brighter, better world beyond this life, where there shall be no more pain or parting. There we will meet our loved ones, and many things we now cannot understand will be made plain to us.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 23

EASTER LESSON.

LESSON TEXT—I Cor. 15:1-28.
GOLDEN TEXT—Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep.—I Cor. 15:20.

If teachers can impress indelibly upon the minds of their scholars the fact that Jesus rose from the dead and is as truly alive today as when walking the hills of Galilee this repetition of the Easter story will not be in vain. For the pupils to take notes of the points of the argument and to recite upon those notes at the end of the class hour would greatly help to fix the facts in their minds. This account considered today is perhaps the oldest written record we have of this great fact, written about 56 A. D., hence the significance of verse six.

I. The Triumphant Fact (vs. 1-4). If Christian workers would be more familiar with this passage they would more intelligently understand what the term "Gospel" means. The fact of the resurrection loomed larger in Paul's mind than the virgin birth; the former was and is the greater miracle. This, one of the supreme chapters of the Bible, tells us what the Gospel is, and what its results are to be. (1) What it is. Not a new cure for tuberculosis, nor a new social environment, but the good news of one who was God incarnate (Paul does not use his earthly name Jesus), Christ the Anointed One, who died for our sins just as the Scriptures had foretold, and was buried. On the third day, "according to the Scriptures," He rose again and is now and ever shall be alive. Any Gospel that ignores the incarnation, passion and resurrection of Jesus is false to the Scriptures and a lie. (2) The result of preaching or testifying to this great program is twofold: first, salvation, "saved, restored to right relations with God;" and second, perseverance, "wherein ye stand." The "God-story," good news, evangel or gospel—they are all the same—is "the power of God unto salvation," and the strong doctrine of the resurrection will cause men to walk straight, to stand upright. "Christ died for my sins according to the Scriptures" (Isa. 53:5-10).

II. Witnesses to the Fact (vs. 5-12). Paul (v. 3) received the resurrection truth from many witnesses, whom he proceeds to enumerate, for it was not a matter of his own invention. The incredulity of the disciples at the first is frankly recorded (Luke 24:12). Jesus did not appear first to John, Pilate or the Sanhedrin, but to a woman, and the change of the apostles from a spirit of despair to that of confident, joyous certainty was most astonishing. There are eleven recorded appearances of Jesus after his resurrection, and not one of them was made to his enemies. Paul does not mention all of the appearances. He is probably naming only those persons, witnesses of his appearances, with whom he had conversed, or at least a few from each group. (1) Peter, referred to indirectly in Luke 24:34; (2) the apostles, to be exact, the first ten, Judas being dead and Thomas absent; (3) the apostles with Thomas present; (4) five hundred, the only record of this great company, though perhaps implied in the "brethren" of Matt. 28:10. "Half a thousand witnesses are enough to establish any case." Of these the greater number were alive twenty-five years after the event; (5) James, probably our Lord's brother, the honored head of the Jerusalem church; (6) "Then all the apostles," a larger circle than the twelve (see Luke 28:48, Acts 1:6-8). This may have been the appearance in the morn at the Sea of Galilee; (7) "me also."

III. The Fact Applied. (vs. 13-20). The Corinthians, to whom Paul was writing, did not deny Christ's immortality, but seemed to deny that the same power which had raised him could be applied to us who are only human. Paul answers this by presenting four arguments:

(1) The resurrection of Christ proves the possibility of the resurrection from the dead, if only of Jesus. The Sadducees taught the contrary. The Stoics taught that the dead were re-absorbed in God. To say Christ is not risen is to claim death as annihilation, to destroy faith in Jesus (v. 14) and to impugn the testimony of those who had seen him (v. 15). A dead Christ means dead Christians (v. 17) and our heaviest sorrow will be to face the grave (v. 18).

(2) The Christian is "in Christ," and his resurrection carries ours with it. Paul's emphasis upon this term "in Christ" (vs. 18, 19, 22, 23 and elsewhere) is important to note.

(3) Christ, the second Adam, brings life; our common human nature dies like as the first Adam, but our second Adam rose and "in him" we live.

(4) If Christ conquered death only for himself it was no real victory, nor could he give back to the Father a redeemed world.

Death is the last "enemy," for until sin is banished it will be present (Rom. 6:23).

TO PACK POULTRY

Specialists Urge Unusual Care in Preparing Fowls.

Methods Recommended Which Are Essential to Perfect Product at Any Time, Especially When Weather Is Unfavorable.

Poultry packers are urged by the specialists of the United States department of agriculture to give unusual attention to preparing and packing their birds for shipment, particularly if the mild weather, which has been widely prevalent this autumn, continues. The poultry specialists say that the weather conditions in many sections have been very similar to those which prevailed in the autumn of 1913 and which, as poultry shippers will remember, proved disastrous to all packers who did not dress, chill and pack properly.

The specialists, therefore, recommend the particular observance of the following methods of handling dressed poultry, which are essential to a perfect product at any time and are of vital importance whenever weather conditions are unfavorable:

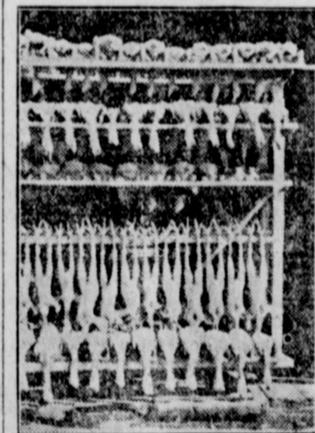

Methods of Handling Dressed Poultry

1. Keep the holding batteries for your incoming stock clean, well aired, and free from vermin, and see that the chickens have plenty of fresh water and plenty to eat.

2. Don't kill a chicken when the crop is full of feed. Give the chicken only water for 24 hours before it is killed. Food in the crop or in the intestines of a dressed chicken causes loss of flavor and hastens decay, which more than offsets any gain from extra weight.

3. Good bleeding is absolutely essential to a good appearance on the market and retards decay. Circular 61, bureau of chemistry, department of agriculture, explains the best methods of bleeding and loosening the feather muscles for dry picking.

4. Hang the chicken by both feet while picking. Hanging by one leg spoils the shape of the bird. Picking on the lap gets the skin dirty and hastens decay.

5. Dry pick if possible. Scalding is particularly undesirable because it hastens decay.

6. Chill every dressed bird until the body temperature is below 35 degrees F. Never pack or ship an imperfectly chilled bird. More decay is due to imperfect chilling than to any other single factor in dressing. Dry chill, if possible. Chickens cooled in water lose flavor, decay sooner, will not cold-store as satisfactorily as dry-chilled, and are in every way more undesirable on the market. Refrigerator cars will carry well-chilled goods in good condition, but they cannot chill warm goods to a sufficiently low temperature.

7. Pack in boxes or small kegs whenever possible. A large barrel makes an undesirable package, because where poultry is packed in large masses the weight of the upper layers crushes the birds at the bottom.

REDUCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE ON COTTON IN INTERIOR POINTS

At a meeting of the Insurance Agents in Houston, Tex., on Feb. 24th, Messrs. Weinstock, Managers of the Warehouse and Marketing Department, presented arguments in support of a reduction in insurance rates on small lots of cotton, which was readily accepted. As a result, the Warehouse and Marketing Department received the promise of a reduction of 50 per cent on lots of cotton to exceed 600 bales, located in interior points, including those compared to the amount of fire insurance charged. In addition to the reduction of 50 per cent on all cotton stored in warehouses operating under the Warehouse and Marketing Law, the Warehouse and Marketing Department is in line with the sound business principles, for the merchant who insures his stock of goods against fire, is required under the law to keep books, including a record of his stock and produce and to base his claim on the Warehouse and Marketing Law, which is required under his bond, to protect the product against exposure, and to receipt give the weight of each bale of cotton stored in the same on the samples bonded and disinterested. Books must be kept in a safe showing the full transaction of the association. The cotton under the same law is required to be ginned and wrapped and the risk is materially lessened, as it is made the duty of the Warehouse and Marketing Department to see that all the requirements of law are complied with by the Warehouse Association. The insurance companies appreciate these facts and, hence, have made the reduction to 50 per cent of its original amount on all warehouses of a maximum capacity of 600 bales, with the additional reduction of 15 per cent on all warehouses under the supervision of the State Warehouse Department.

To give an example of what the efforts of the Warehouse and Marketing Department will save for the interior warehouses, which ultimately comes out of the producers' pockets, suppose there are a million bales of cotton—one-fourth of the Texas crop in warehouses—the saving in insurance alone will be $1,006,250.00, for 12 months. If cotton is held for only six months, of course, one-half of the above amount would be saved. Can any unbiassed mind say there is no virtue in co-operation? The above uncontroversial figures should be an object lesson and an argument that there is power in co-operation, and success to those who adopt the co-operative method of housing and marketing their farm products.

Co-operative Warehousing and Marketing Associations conducted under the laws of Texas will eliminate the following:

- Loss in weight.
- Loss in grade or classification.
- Loss in measures.
- Loss in weather damage.
- Loss in fire.
- Loss in sampling.
- Loss in insurance premiums.
- Loss in time.
- Loss in loans.
- Loss of middleman.

MAKING THE IDEAL REAL.

Our readers will recall that there has been a great fight made against the provisions of the Warehouse and Marketing Law in so far as they relate to the old methods of ginning and sampling cotton. However, the warehouse law has stood every test in the courts. The Banner presents in the picture above the contrast between the old method of wrapping and handling cotton and the method which the law seeks to put in force. It must be remembered that henceforth cotton must be wrapped completely to comply with the law. No exposed sides, no ragged ends. The Banner believes that when we have learned by one or more seasons' experience the value of this provision of the law, we will wonder that any body ever had the "nerve" to oppose a change of these provisions. That Parral incident knocked out the optimism of the new secretary of war, at least for a few days.

Well, "watchful waiting" is bearing exactly the kind of fruit every one on the Mexican border expected.

Perhaps President Wilson now realizes that the recognition of Old Whiskers Carranza was a mistake, but the public will never know it.

Cyclone Davis, in his inexcusable attack upon Jefferson Davis, W. L. Yancey and Robt. Toombs, has started a storm that may result in a disastrous political cyclone to him.

Of course the Carranza outfit in Mexico will attempt to palm off a dead Mexican for the body of the famous "Pancho" Villa in order to have the American troops withdrawn. The body may be Villa's but it is a hundred to one shot that it is not.

Congress should place an embargo upon all ammunition and guns for Mexico. The idea of our people selling guns and ammunition to these murderers to shoot our soldiers with while trying to capture a man responsible for the Columbus raid and the death of more Americans than any other outlaw, is repugnant to every American.

The officials around Washington who have been so optimistic over Carranza's cooperation with the American troops in chasing Villa, got a rude shock when news came that our troops were led into a trap at Parral and then attacked by Carranza's troops. Perhaps Washington will learn something about the Mexicans yet if they want to learn.

We are in the midst of another crisis with Germany and we are told that the final word is going or may be now on the way to Germany, and a severance of diplomatic relations, and possibly war with Germany is talked of at Washington. President Wilson has certainly done everything possible to prevent a break with Germany, but the many promises to our government to safe-guard American lives and property in her submarine warfare have not been kept. Germany seems to be trying to run a bluff on our government, to prevent shipment of war material to Germany's enemies, or for some unknown cause, is trying to provoke the United States to sever relations with Germany. It does look as if Germany has already dug up more snakes than she can kill without provoking war with the most powerful nation on earth. True, we have a small army and navy compared with Germany, but we can enlist and arm more men than any nation on earth. Germany knows this, therefore her disregard of promises made our government is a mystery. Probably the real reason will develop soon. Official Germany is and has been unfriendly towards the United States for years, but they never showed it openly until the Spanish war. All patriotic Americans, not blinded by their preference for the entente allies, hope that we will have no war with Germany and there will be none unless officials of Germany deliberately provoke trouble with our government—perhaps to extricate themselves from the predicament they find themselves in in trying to dominate all Europe, if not the world.

PROSPECTIVE BREAK WITH GERMANY

President Wilson notified Congress in joint session Wednesday that he had sent an ultimatum to Germany as a culmination of the submarine controversy with that government that has dragged along for a year. Germany is notified that unless she at once changes her ruthless submarine warfare against passenger and freight vessels so as to protect the lives of non-combatants and passengers of neutral nations on the sea, that he will sever diplomatic relations with Germany. The ultimatum may or may not result in war between the United States and Germany; but it is now all with Germany.

Pancho Villa, the Mexican bandit, is in an awful plight. He is dead, with one leg shot off, and is running through the cacti at a speed of fifty miles a day, with Uncle Sam's cavalry in hot pursuit. This information was obtained from the daily papers, which always tell the truth. It's nothing short or cruel to make a one-legged dead man travel at such a gait.—Honey Grove Signal.

Cyclone Davis started out all right with his speech in Congress, but he stayed too long and went too far. The bewhiskered Congressman started with Brutus and Caesar, which was a fine starting point. After flaying Mr. Brutus to a queen's taste, he should have landed on Judas Iscariot with both feet and pawed up all the ground where Judas' bowels were scattered. Having worked himself into a weeping way, it would have been no trouble at all for Cyclone to have dropped a bomb of rhetoric on Benedict Arnold that would have made the earth tremble. But Cyclone reserved his 42 centimetre shots for Jeff Davis, Bob Toombs and Williams L. Yancey. And the gun kicked Cyclone into kingdom come, scattering his whiskers from Cape Cod to Iloilo, even as the winter winds scatter the leaves of autums.—Honey Grove Signal.

COTTONWOOD LOCALS

Tuesday, April 18.

We have had rain and the farmers are just as busy as bees, some planting and some harrowing. You see some of the farmers had their corn up, and are now harrowing it while others had not planted and were waiting for rain, but we presume the corn crop is now planted. Next in order now is maize, feterita, cotton and peanuts. We think we ars going to have a convention soon and crown the Peanut, King of all.

This morning it is real cloudy and the prospects are good for another "lay off" for the farmers, and the forty two and checker players will have a time. We have some players here, we don't know whether they play the game well or not but they are "stayers."

Well yesterday was Trades Day at Cross Plains and we old fellows that are too old for any good at home or any where else, attended, and we met that old veteran of news paper correspondents, and also a battle scared Veteran of the Sixties. He looked well physically, (don't understand we think he looked pretty,) and is good for several years in journalism yet and for a short scratch, and with something blue to shoot at he could show with telling effect what he learned in the sixties.

Last Saturday was old Veterans day, and it was resolved at that time to invite the daughters to meet with us at our next meeting which will be May 13th, and we would like them to organize too. A SERIOUS SUBJECT.

The sparkers are looked upon by parents generally, as a nuisance and generally they are right.

Nine-tenths of the sparking is done by boys who have not their growth, and they look so green that it is laughable for the old folks to look at them.

They haven't generally a second shirt, and they are no more qualified to get married than a steer is to preach. And yet marrying is about the first thing they think of.

A green boy without a dollar present or prospective, sparking a girl regularly and talking about marrying, is a spectacle fit for gods and men.

He should be reasoned with, and if he will not quit it until he is able to support a wife, and to know whom he loves, and the difference between love and passion, he should be quarantine or put in a convent erected on purpose for such cases.

Nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages are the result of green human calves being allowed to run at large in the society pasture without any yokes on them.

They marry and have children before they do mustache; they are the father of twins before they are the proprietors of two pair of pants, and the little girls they marry are old women before they are twenty. Occasionally one of these gosling marriages turn out all right but it is a clear case of luck.

If there was a law against young galoots sparking and marrying before they have all their teeth cut, we suppose the cusses would evade it in some way, but there ought to be a sentiment against it.

It is time enough for these ban-tams to think of finding a pullet when they have raised enough money by their own work to buy a bundle of laths to build a hen house. But they see a girl who looks cunning and they think there is not going to be girls enough to go around and they begin to put in their work real spry before they are aware of the sanctity of the marriage relation they are hitched for life and before they own a bedstead or a cook stove, they have to get up in the night and go for a doctor, so frightened they run themselves out of breath and abuse the doctor because he does not run too; and when the doctor gets there he finds there is not enough linen in the house to wrap up a doll baby.

It is about this time that a young man realizes that he is a colossal fool, and as he flies around to heat water and bring in the bath tub, and go after his mother or her mother, he turns pale around the gills, his hair turns red in a single night, he calls Ligh heaven to witness that if he lives till morning, which he has doubts about, he will turn over a new leaf and never get married again until he is older, and in the

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

CITY FINANCIAL REPORT

To The Honorable Mayor and City Council for City of Baird, Texas:

We, your Finance Committee, appointed by you on March 8th A. D. 1916, with instructions to begin work on and after April 4th, 1916, to audit Records of the Officers of said City for the past two years, We beg to submit to you the following report, viz:

Mayor

We find the docket of this officer properly kept, and that all moneys coming into his hands by reasons of pleas of guilty in Criminal Cases have been promptly paid to City Treasurer, as receipts properly issued.

Tax-Collector

We find that all moneys collected by this officer have been properly paid to City Treasurer and proper receipts issued therefor.

We regret to note there are so many delinquent taxes and we are of the opinion a majority of such delinquencies can be collected and should be done without further delay, as those who are in arrears enjoy equally with those who pay the many privileges of the city government.

Treasurer

We find that all moneys coming into the hands of this officer have been promptly receipted for and that all disbursements made by the city as evidenced by proper vouchers and presented for payment have been paid, his books are neatly and accurately kept in detail.

Secretary

We find the books, vouchers and other papers of this officer neatly and accurately kept, all business of the city council properly recorded, vouchers issued promptly for all accounts allowed by the City, and special mention is here made for the unusual neatness of the records of this officer.

Water Superintendent

We find that all moneys collected by this officer have been paid over to the City Treasurer as appears by proper receipts therefor. This committee notes the aggregate monthly receipts vary to an alarming degree, especially since your government provides for monthly advance payments of all water rents and a pre-rogative to cut off supply upon default of payment.

Moneys on Hand

We find a balance in the General Fund of	$435.48
" " " " " Street Fund of	836.79
" " " " " Sinking Fund of	4233.03

On which the City received 2 per cent on its daily balances.

Indebtedness

We find the Bonded indebtedness of the city to be as follows:
Six $500.00 Fire Station Bonds of the $3,000.00 issued Jan. 1, 1911, due Jan. 1, 1951, bearing 5 per cent interest $3,000.
Seven $500.00 Water Works Extension Bonds of the $3,500.00 issued Jan. 1, 1911, due Jan. 1, 1951, bearing 5 per cent interest 3,500.
We further find that the City owes $1400.00 due H. Schwartz and that the same is due on demand.

We also find that the City owes the Home National Bank of Baird, the sum of $1400.00 and that the same is due upon demand.

We find the balance to the credit of the Sinking fund of the city is in excess of the amount to meet the proportional part annually together with the interest thereon and we suggest that as soon as the time arrives to pay off some of the above bonds that same be done immediately as the rate of interest being far greater on these bonds than the amount paid the city on daily balances, and that when the city Council make the levy of rates on taxes for the coming year that the twenty-five cents heretofore collected be decreased to a much lower rate sufficient to liquidate the annual payment and interest thereon of said bonds.

Assets

Five business lots	$4,000.00
Steel Water Tower and Piping	3,600.00
Fire Fighting Equipment	2,000.00
Property and Improvements including 15 miles of Graded Streets and etc.	10,000.00
Water Works System (estimated)	30,000.00
Cash in hands of Treasurer	5,505.30
Total	$55,105.30

We recommend that the Abstract Book should be annually posted and find that such has not been done except partially for the 1911, and 1915, as this is the only means of ascertaining or parcels of lands within the City's corporate limits have by the statutes especially provides for this and should be right and that all renditions of property be signed by the party ordering same be signed and sworn to, as provided by law for complied with to be effective.

We recommend, that the system of keeping the various books be improved upon in the manner suggested to this committee by your Council, thereby reducing to a minimum the cost of auditing and at the same time enabling to note at a glance delinquent at any stated time and thereby more fully in the City's most important ordinances. We feel that since much improved recently the water system that we have a pure water, if sprinkling, irrigating and other prohibitive taining thereto are complied with.

The citizenship of our little city are to be congratulated such capable Mayor and Aldermen who are so patriotic compensation and whose consciences are void of offense desire to do right and the realization of duties well performed.

Respectfully
Geo.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIES.

Dr. Robert Lee Griggs and Miss Cookie Juanita Work were quietly married at Rev. L. O. Cox's study at the Baptist Church, Friday evening, April 14th, Rev. Cox performing the ceremony that made these popular young people husband and wife.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Cora Work and a popular and most estimable young lady. Dr. Griggs is one of the best known and one of the most popular physicians in this part of the state. Perhaps no couple that has married in Baird ever had more friends than Dr. Griggs and bride and THE STAR joins these in extending congratulations and good wishes for their future happiness.

The couple left on the midnight train for Chicago, where Dr. Griggs will take a post graduate course in the Chicago Medical College.

Despite all efforts to keep the wedding quiet the news got out and the largest crowd ever known to gather at the depot to see a young married couple off on a bridal tour gathered that night to bid them bon voyage.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

umns in the audience chamber were entwined with trailing greenery and connected by chains of pink and white tulle. The altar was banked with fern and carnations and a screen of ferns and carnations formed the background, while from the electro-lies was suspended a large "H" and "W" made of pink and white carnations.

After the guests assembled a program of nuptial music was given by Miss Vida Gilliland with Mendelssohn's wedding march as processional and recessional with flute accompaniment played by Dr. C. G. Bloom. Mrs. A. R. Williams sang, "My Song to You" as a nuptial song. The ushers were Dr. V. E. Hill and Ed Glover. The groomsmen were Gus Hall, Misses Jean Powell and Helen Walker as bridesmaids wore frocks of pink and white voile with taffeta trimmings; they carried arm bouquets of pink and white carnations. Mrs. C. G. Bloom, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a gown of lavender taffeta with trimmings of lace and carried bride roses. The ring bearer, Mae Clair Wheeler, little sister of the bride, wore a white dress with pink sash, and carried a pink satin pillow upon which rested the ring.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, W. T. Wheeler. Her robe was of white Duchess Satin with trimmings of lace and pearls. She was crowned with a crown of pearls and the long veil of tulle caught to the hair with were continued in the decorations. In a niche at one end of the room the bride's cake rested on a table laden with carnations and ferns. At the opposite end of the room the punch bowl was arranged in a bower of ferns and carnations, presided over by Misses Bessie Austin and Pauline Terrell. Miss Jean Powell presided over the bride's book.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Witherspoon, of Brazos, Mrs. J. C. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Witherspoon and sons, George and Paul, of Ft. Worth Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Bloom, of Thurber.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall left on the midnight train for a honeymoon trip to New Orleans. They will be at home after May 1st. Mrs. Hall traveled in a tailored suit of grey with trimmings of black. Her hat was of old rose.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The Hall-Wheeler bridal party were entertained with a six course breakfast at the home of the bride-elect on Tuesday, April 18th, 1916.

The room was decorated in the wedding colors of pink and white, the center piece was a bed of violets and white with cupid and his bow in the center. Place cards of cupid on wedding rings within which was hidden a dainty wishbone pin for each lady of the bridal party, marked places for Misses Jean Powell, Helen Walker, Vida Gilliland, Afton Wheeler, Mesdames C. G. Bloom of Thurber; A. R. Williams, of Abilene Messers E. Hall, G. Hall, Dr. V. E. Hill and Ed Glover.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. A. R. Williams complimented Miss Afton Wheeler with a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Melvin Farmer. A spider web was woven through the halls and parlors. After the guests were assembled a few games of "42" were played then the unwinding of the spider web began. The guests found little fortunes at the end of their web and the honoree was surprised with a basket of kitchen utensils at the end of her web.

A delicious salad course was served to Misses Afton Wheeler, Jean and Jessie Powell, Helen Walker, Wren Foy, Mary Bowyer, Cora Nell Boydston, Mesdames Carl Scott, Wheeler, Wristen and Farmer.

Mrs. Wesley Turner was hostess to the "Wednesday Club" on April 12, 1916. Roll call answered with
