BEDRAGGLED COTTON ON THE RALPH CARTER FARM AFTER SUNDAY NIGHT'S STORM.

Sunday Storm Damages Trees And Crops

Sunday afternoon about 6:30 p.m. high winds, hail and blowing rain hit the Quitaque and Turkey area with some devastating results. Many crops north of town and crops in the Gasoline area as well as some between Turkey and Quitaque were beat to the ground. Farmers are debating about replanting or perhaps just plowing up the sad looking remains of a lovely cotton crop.

True there has been plenty of moisture this year but the rains have prevented planting of crops and then the weather has been rather cool for this part of the world so the crops that have come up were having a tough time of surviving and then the storm arrived to do it's damage.

Reports are of one inch of rain in the town of Quitaque but there was more fell since the winds were so high that the rain gages could not get a true reading. Streets were like small rivers or streams just after the storm.

Many tree limbs were blown from the trees, many healthy live ones as well as some dead limbs. The Texas Highway Department called out their men to help clear up the debris from the streets and highways so that residents could safely travel the roads. Employees of the City of Quitaque also had their job cut out for them in this same area.

Stark Does Cover

by Arlene Hinkle

A few weeks ago area residents who have Cap Rock Telephone Cooperative as their provider received a new telephone directory. The cover photo is a beautiful picture of the Caprock, but when we looked inside the directory, we could find no mention of who had taken the photo.

Going into Internet this past week proved enlightening, for there on the cover page for Cap Rock Spur Connection was a statement saying: "Thanks to Randy Stark of the Quitaque Exchange for supplying our Directory Cover Photo."

Presto! The mystery was solved and now we know who "hid his light under a bushel." It is a beautiful photo, Randy, and it is nice to know that Quitaque has pictures in high places.

New Floyd County Highway Could Become Reality By The Year 2002

courtesy Floyd County Hesperian - Beacon by Juanita Stepp

Northeast Floyd County residents can expect at least a five year wait before completion of a new state highway in their area according to Texas Department of Transportation officials. Development of a highway connecting State Highway 207 with Farm-to-Market Road 1065 could begin sometime after July 31, 1997 if construction is approved.

Mike Craig, Plainview Area Engineer for TxDOT, conducted the final public hearing concerning the proposed 16.2 mile roadway. Fifty-two people were present at the combined open house/hearing in the District Courtroom of the Floyd County Courthouse on Tuesday evening, June 10.

Craig told those attending that the project, if approved, would be the "most expensive piece of road ever built in the Lubbock District at an estimated cost of $2,900.00 per vehicle mile."

Construction costs have been estimated at $5,252,000 by state engineers. This would be paid entirely by the state with no local or federal involvement.

Floyd County would bear the cost of acquiring the needed right-of-way and necessary relocation of utilities along the roadway. Estimates of county expenses are being placed at $225,000 to $320,000.

This would include hiring independent fee appraisers and review appraisers as well as relocating two dump sites identified along the route. Right-of-way would be obtained by purchase at fair market value, declaration of eminent domain, or by donation from the landowners.

Another consideration is the fact that Floyd County is a closed range county. Any landowner who has livestock pastures adjoining the roadway would have to fence it at their own expense.

Craig indicated that there were no major drawbacks to approved.

Gary and Suzie Johnson New Owners of Hotel Turkey

Gary and Suzie Johnson, after managing Hotel Turkey for the past year, recently became the new owners of the Hotel.

They moved to Turkey from Arkansas, after having worked as court reporters for the past twenty years. Both have been surprised at the number of local residents who have never been to the historic hotel--while being completely amazed at the number of foreign travelers that find their way to the front door.

Sportsman Restaurant Destroyed By Fire Saturday Morning

The Sportsman Restaurant at Quitaque was gutted by fire Saturday morning. The fire was discovered about 7:30 a.m. before the restaurant was open for the day's business.

Cindy Lane who is manager at Allsups thought she saw smoke and asked customer, Stan Price to check it out. Sure enough the restaurant was afire. Quick response by the Quitaque Volunteer fire Department kept the damage to mostly smoke damage.

The fire was thought to have started in the kitchen area but at this time the actual cause of the fire is not known. No one was in the building at the time and no one was injured during the quenching of the fire. By Saturday night makeshift lights and cooking facilities outdoors had the Sportsman back in business for the evening.

The main part of the restaurant building is made of concrete so the structure is still standing and ready for the remodeling to come.

Roye Pigg, owner stated that he hopes to have all repairs made within a month and have his restaurant back in business. He will continue to do his catering business while repairs are made on the building.

Roye could not praise the residents of the area enough for all the help that they have given them since the fire. "You just never know how special people are until they come to your aid when you have troubles," said Roye's wife, Mary.

Anonymous

from the Fleet Reserve Ass'n Newsletter of St. Louis

I've been called Star-Spangled Banner by some. Others refer to me as Old Glory.

Whatever they call me, I am your flag, the flag of the United States of America.

Something has been bothering me, so I thought I might talk it over with you, because it has to do with you and me.

I remember the day when people lined up on both sides of the street to watch a parade--like always, I was leading the parade, proudly waving in the breeze.

When I passed by your daddy, he immediately removed his hat and placed it against his left shoulder so the hand was directly over his heart.

Do you remember?

Over the years I've walked down a lot of city streets and I don't see this any longer. What happened?

I'm still the same old flag. I've earned a few more stars since you were a child.

I've seen a lot more battles since those parades of long ago.

But now I don't feel as proud as I used to. When I come down the street you just stand there with your hands in your pockets and I may get a small glance when I pass by and then you look the other way.

Then I see your children running around and shouting--they don't seem to know who I am.

I passed by this one man and he actually took his hat off. When he didn't see anybody else with theirs off, he quickly put it back on. Is it a sin to be patriotic anymore?

Have you forgotten what I stand for and where I've been?

The men of many generations have fought for the stars that I carry on my back.

Take a look at the memorial Honor Rolls, read the names of those who never came back, those who fought to keep this republic free.

One Nation Under God--when you salute me, you are actually saluting them.

The day will come when I will be coming down your street again. So when you see me, stand straight, place your right hand over your heart, be proud, and I will salute you by waving back.

I'll know that YOU REMEMBERED!

Good Gal Award

Suggest by Rae Logan to Ann Coker

Rae states: We have a candidate we would like to submit for your "good guy" column. During the time of our mother's illness, due to stroke, she has received many cards, visits and remembrances from her friends in Turkey and Quitaque and is remembered in prayer, faithfully by the congregations of the Turkey and Quitaque United Methodist Churches.

But there is one person who has remembered her "above and beyond," with visits, letters and cards without ceasing. She is a busy wife, mother and grandmother, but she makes time in her schedule to remember her friend, Ella Colvin.

To Opal "Pete" Meyer, we will never be able to say "thanks" enough. She has taught us all what the words, "faithful friend," really mean. We appreciate you Pete, from the bottom of our hearts. You are indeed a "good guy." We love you. Ella's kids, both big and little.

Leslie Nicole Leal

Julia and Felipe Leal of Turkey are proud to announce the birth of their new daughter, Leslie Nicole who was born in Childress on June 26, 1997. Leslie weighed eight pounds and ten ounces. She was 21 inches long.

The highest mountain in the U.S. is Mt. McKinley in Alaska, with a highest point of 20,320 ft.

Local Girls Attend Baptist Camp

Plains Baptist Assembly, a Baptist Encampment south of Floydada, has been a busy place this summer. June 20th and 21st, 175 girls, their counselors and leaders from four associations attended Mini-Camp, and 275 girls from these same associations attended G. A. Resident Camp June 24th through June 27th.

The beautiful canyon with its tall trees and pretty river made a wonderful setting for the girls to take part in the many activities provided by the camp leaders.

Attending Mini-Camp from Quitaque were Susan Ramsey and Donna Roys, counselors, and the girls that they brought with them were Madye Ramsey, Larissa Payne, Alicia Roys, and Laura Payne. Kathy Farley helped transport the girls and their counselor to G. A. Resident Camp. Those who went were Theresa Clinton, counselor, Ashley Roys and Cassie Farley, Junior Counselors, Krystle Clinton, Amnanda Roys, Connie Reid and Olivia Greene. Camp leaders from the Caprock Association were Connie Allen, Crosbyton, Edna Blakney and Mary Beth Adamson. Everyone reported a wonderful time at camp!

THINGS SEEN OR HEARD

by Ann Coker
The Terry Boedeckers have recently bought a place west of Quitaque. While they are doing some work on their new home, Terry, Robyn, Luke and Hannah will be living in the Turkey Methodist parsonage.

Visiting at Hotel Turkey this week is the daughter Margie Naftel and granddaughter, Natalie Naftel, of Suzie Johnson. The Naftel's live in Brussels, Belgium. They arrived last Thursday and will return this Wednesday, July 2nd. Suzie said they were getting in a lot of visiting in for such a short time.

Sheridan Davis of Memphis spent last week-end with her great grandmother, Bonnie Hill.

Coker had a nice birthday last week. He received several calls. One was from Mildred Starkey. Mildred said her mother, Jessie Coker, is about the same. Jessie is in a nursing home near Mildred.

Guests in the home of Lewis and Mozelle Eudy last Friday were Dan and Sue Guest. They spent the night with Byron Young. The Guests were on their way to a Luak Reunion.

Doing some shopping last week in Amarillo were three Turkey residents, Virginia Degan, Clema Johnson and Margureat Lane.

Mozelle Eudy said they are looking forward to the Eudy reunion that will be held in August at Hotel Turkey.

She also said their son, Ronnie and wife Kay were involved in a car wreck last Saturday. The Eudy's were on their way to San Antonio, driving in a heavy rain when the wreck occurred. Kay suffered a broken arm. They were both quite sore.

Mozelle also reported that they had heard from the Jay Eudys in Levelland. Jay has had some heart problems and had received a shunt.

The world's longest covered bridge is that at Hartland, New Brunswick, Canada, measuring 1,282 feet overall, completed in 1899.

proval of the project, but there were no really convincing arguments in favor of construction.

According to environmental studies conducted by Davis Melton, Environmental Coordinator for the Lubbock District, there would be little impact on the local environment along the recommended route. He estimated a short term impact of about $20,000,000 on the local economy during construction, but could not demonstrate any appreciable long term economic impact, which would result from construction of the roadway.

Turkey Fire Department Hamburger Cookout Deemed A Success

by Ann Coker
A good crowd turned out for the annual hamburger cook-out last Sunday afternoon despite the bad weather.

When the wind became so high the group left the park and reassembled at the Bob Wills Center. Hamburgers and homemade ice cream was served to the group.

Since they were unable to have the cake walk, Warren Lee Merrell of Quitaque was appointed auctioneer to auction off the cakes.

Many delicious cakes were sold. The highlight of the auction was a contest between Pat Carson and Warren Lee both bidding on the same cake. I understand Mr. Merrell was the top bidder.

The group had a great time despite the weather.

The group reassembled at the City Park later for the fireworks display which was a radiant show of colors.

The quilt that the Turkey Museum had sold chances on was won by Jeff and Joe Dan Pinkerton PCI Company of Oklahoma City. Leland Pinkerton was their father who was a brother to Billy. They stated that they plan to display the quilt in their office in Oklahoma City. James and Wilda Fuston won the bottles from the Museum that had been found in the old cistern at the old school site. In all $384.00 was raised for the Museum.

Brett Cruse of Round Rock, son of Lawana Cruse won the quilt that Connie Holland had donated to the Turkey Heritage Foundation.

The first windmills were probably built in the A.D. 600s in Iran.

County

The major areas which would benefit from the project would be the improvement to the condition of the existing roadway for those who use it. This would include school buses, mail delivery, farm and ranch producers and tourists visiting Caprock Canyons State Park

Following the information portion of the hearing, citizens were invited to express their views concerning the project by speaking at the hearing, submitting written comment, or making a statement to the clerk making the official record of the proceedings.

Craig stated, "The highway would play a supportive role in the area and the long term effect would be good, but what is there now works."

Highway

Public written comment concerning the project were accepted until 5 p.m. on June 20. Any comments received will be incorporated into the official record of the project development and considered along with existing data in evaluating the project's feasibility.

Final environmental documentation will be completed by July 31, 1997 and submitted for review. If the project is approved, Floyd County could begin acquiring right-of-way in the spring of 1998. Construction would begin in the spring of the year 2000 and would take 18 to 24 months for completion, with the road opening to traffic in the year 2002.
