Patriots Open District, Lose To Samnorwood

The Patriots first game after the Christmas holidays was against the Guthrie Jaguars. After a slow start in the first quarter, the Lady Patriots played tough defense against the Lady Jaguars in the second quarter, giving up only 2 points, and taking the half-time lead of 21-19.

The Lady Patriots defense let up a little in the third quarter but their momentum picked back up in the fourth quarter and the Lady Patriots came out on top 49-40.

Coach Rapp commented that he was pleased with the all out effort the girls gave throughout the game. The leading scorers were Gina Conner-13 and Shadi Mullin-9.

Turnovers plagued the Patriots, allowing the Guthrie Jaguars to go to the dressing room at half with a 40-25 lead. However, Patriots came out ready to play in the third quarter with seven steals and shooting 68 percent from the field to cut the Jaguars lead to seven points. The Patriots battled hard in the fourth, but to no avail as the Jaguars held the lead and went on to a 75-66 victory.

Leading scorers were Jon Pigg-22 and Clay Edwards-11.

In the season district opener, the Patriot teams met the Samnorwood Eagles at Samnorwood.

The Lady Patriots put the pressure on the Lady Eagles with their full court man to man press, however the Lady Patriots were unable to keep the Lady Eagles off the line. Free throws proved the difference as the Lady Eagles scored 29 of their 66 points from free throws giving them a victory of 66-52 over the Lady Patriots.

Leading scorers were Shadi Mullin-17 and Gina Conner-15.

Looking for their first win, the Patriots in district play easily took control of the first half of the game and went in at half with a 25-15 lead.

The Eagles regrouped at half and increased pressure on the Patriots the second half. Poor shooting from the field and free throw line and turnovers proved too much for the Patriots as the Eagles took the victory 56-41.

For their next two district confrontations, the Patriot teams will play at Lakeview on Tuesday, January 10, and McLean on January 13.

Junior Varsity Patriots
Lady Jr High Patriots faced the Lakeview Eagles, Thursday, January 8 in their first game after the Christmas holidays.

Unable to execute their offense against Lakeview, the Patriots only scored five points the first half. They regrouped at halftime and came back to score 20 points in the third quarter, holding the Lady Jr. High Eagles to only three points. The Patriots went on to win 29-12 over Lakeview.

Leading scorers were Kacey Fuston-12 and Katy Browning-9.

Jr. High Patriots took to the floor at full steam ahead taking the lead quickly and never relinquishing it. They held the Jr. High Eagles to 20 points for the game and took an easy victory of 42-20.

Leading scorers were Jason Smith-22 and Danny House-14.

As I See It!

By Thelma Gafford

You may remember some time back I asked you, the readers, for ideas of ways to improve our communities. Well, after all this time one of you came through for me.

This is really so simple, and considering the number of children as well as grown-ups that enjoy getting outside, I don't know why I didn't think of it sooner.

The idea... improve the city park in Turkey. Make it usable for everyday use, instead of just on Bob Wills weekend and the July 4th celebration.

Years back, Turkey had a sorority, and these ladies bought all the playground equipment that is at the City Park and there was a couple of picnic tables that have since been run over or into, whatever they are quite up to standards.

The big tourist attraction to the park is the Bob Wills Monument, no doubt about it, and we in Turkey are very appreciative of the dollars that are spent here because of it. Whether it's for gas, food, lodging, or souvenirs. Not to mention the friendships that are made with the travelers passing through. There is also another attraction that is sometimes missed. And that's the Wagon Train Monument. It's special to a lot of people. We gave those people on the wagon train something to remember, just as they did us.

One can stand at either monument and look beyond it and that's where the tourist attraction ends.

The over-grown weeds, the untrimmed trees, deep ruts—too deep to even drive through. Not a place of enjoyment for anyone, not even the citizens of Turkey, and especially the children.

The citizens of Turkey (myself included) should challenge each other to make our City Park a beautiful place.

Close your eyes and dream with me for just a moment. It's a hot summer evening, the little ones are cranky, you're tired, mind is bogged down with earning a living, whatever.....You say let's go to the park. Everyone's happy. The big trees shade the area, friends stroll the new walking path, the little stream flows slowly, the birds are singing in the trees. Your neighbors are having a picnic and invite you over.

Think it can't be like that? Huh... maybe that's why it isn't. The only thing that we might NOT can do, is have the little flowing stream. We have the facilities, but not the water. We can't change that, but the rest can be changed.

Our park can be made inviting and pretty, and used for more than just two days a year. Let's get busy, citizens.

Lake Theo Stocked With Rainbow Trout

Caprock Canyons State Park rangers have been busy lately stocking Lake Theo with 11-14 inch long Rainbow trout. The month of December, 1988, there were 6,000 trout stocked in the lake. Stocking dates were December 4, 13, and 28 with the final date to be January 11, 1989. They were to stock another 2,000 trout at that time to bring the total to 8,000.

"Quite a lot of people are reportedly catching their limit, which is five with ten in possession. Corn and salmon egg bait have been successful," said gate employee Margarita Leal.

"Requirements for fishing for the rainbow trout are to have a fishing license and purchase a Trout stamp. The cost of the stamp is $5 and will be attached to the regular fishing license. Children and senior citizens over the age of 65 are exempt from having to obtain a license or stamp.

Caprock Canyons State Park is open seven days a week.

Memorial Fund Set In Honor Of Oliver Clark

A memorial fund has been established in the memory of Oliver K. Clark, long time Deputy Sheriff of Briscoe County, who died on October 31, 1988.
 Oliver was a well respected peace officer who was dedicated to sound law enforcement and who often went beyond what was considered his duty to help others. He loved and understood young people and manifested a tremendous interest in the youth of Quitaque, Turkey and the surrounding area. Our community is a better place in which to live because Oliver was a good peace officer. He was always willing to lend a helping hand to the young and adult alike.

Oliver Clark

The Memorial fund has been legally established as the "Oliver Clark Memorial Scholarship Fund" for the purpose of awarding cash scholarships to Valley High School graduating seniors. Deserving seniors may receive a cash award in the amount of $200 toward seeking a career in Law Enforcement, or who have displayed outstanding public service work for the community.

Any 1989 graduating senior of Valley High School who is interested in receiving the award may file an application at the business office. Applications should be received at least six weeks before graduation date or before enrolling in a law enforcement course.

The Fund is widely encouraged by officers of the Department of Public Safety, Texas Sheriff Association, local community service organizations, and Valley School.

The Fund is accepting donations at the First National Bank of Quitaque. All donations will be appreciated and are tax deductible.

The first fire fighting organization in America was started in Philadelphia.

Turkey Firemen Busy Fighting Grass Fires

Two grass fire alarms were turned in Sunday, January 8, 1989 to the Turkey Fire Department.

Fire fighters were called to the home of Jerry Beck, five miles southwest of Turkey at 2 p.m.

At 11 p.m. a grass fire was reported five miles past the Co-Op Gin, southeast of Turkey.

Both fires were extinguished quickly without any property loss or injuries.

Fire Department members urge citizens to use extreme caution when burning trash or burning off weeds during these dry, windy weather conditions we are experiencing.

They also suggest if you smoke to please use your ashtray in your vehicle, instead of throwing burning cigarettes out the window.

The emergency number in Turkey is 423-1212, in Quitaque, 455-1444.

When reporting an emergency, remember to remain calm, give your name, and exact location, and the nature of the emergency.

"Challenge to Change"
Change is not a dirty word. Willingness to make changes in our life or circumstances when necessary is a sign of maturity.

Each new year many people make resolutions, or resolve to make changes to improve their lives during the coming year. These resolutions usually involve losing weight, saving money, or managing time better.

I'd like to challenge you to make another resolution—greater commitment to improving our communities in Briscoe County. In the December 25, 1988, Amarillo Globe News editorial section, a reader wrote, "The Great Wall of China was built one stone at a time, and we can rebuild our economy one idea at a time. It's time to quit asking, 'when is the economy going to get better' and start asking, 'how can I help.'"

We asked participants at our leadership seminar in November to write down their goals for Briscoe County in the next five years. Following are some of their quotes.

"Everyone work together for new business; to have a good doctor in the clinic every day would be an asset to our county; to have more community and county-wide fellowships would create a better working relationship for us all; community building for regular youth activities; encourage our officials who try to work for progress; shop with merchants we have; attend area activities to promote...Briscoe County; we need to pull together as hard as we sometimes pull apart; dry cleaners; drug store; hotel; mini Wal-Mart."

These comments represent thoughtful consideration to our county's needs. What are we going to do to make these happen?

The citizen quoted above in the newspaper article concludes his letter with, "Give us one brick at a time with short, direct instructions. I promise not to whine if mine is red and yours is green, if mine is heavier than yours. Let's all work together and rebuild our economy."

Former Residents Visit Memphis

Former Turkey First United Methodist pastor W. L. Armstrong and wife, Faye, visited the First United Methodist Church of Memphis, Sunday, January 8, 1989.

The Armstrongs are in the United States on furlough from the Methodist School and Seminary in Indonesia. During their tour of service, they have been instrumental in establishing 25 Methodist Churches in the third world.

They shared in the morning service and were present at the youth dinner to share their work with those present.

Short Takes

National Wildlife Federation
Cooling it: There's at least one place on Earth where man's tinkering with the environment has cooled the climate instead of warming it. In Palm Springs, California, temperatures over the last 15 years have not kept pace with a general warming trend in the desert southwest. According to National Wildlife magazine, the reason is all those golf courses. Instead of heating the ground and air, the sun's energy is spent evaporating water from acres of irrigated greens.

Insect-ade: If you are looking for the ultimate health food drink, the Chinese have just the thing: ant juice. According to International Wildlife magazine, ant juice is touted as a cure all sorts of ailments. It's rich in protein and trace elements. There's just one hitch: the elixir can add inches to the waistline. Ants have four times as many calories per pound as beef.

The Home of the 80s

More American consumers today are choosing the look of solid cast-iron cooking elements for their kitchens.

Solid elements—long familiar in Europe—are favored for their sleek look, easy cleanability, and even heat distribution. However, say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, consumers selecting solid elements may need to adjust some kitchen habits for the best performance.

For example, one of the most attractive features of solid elements is that they have no drip bowls to clean. However, the cast-iron elements require the same type of care as your favorite cast-iron skillet. The home economists offer the following tips:

- First, clean the elements with soapy water and a soft cloth.
- Turn the elements on long enough for them to dry.
- When the elements have cooled, apply a thin layer of oil to "season" the cast iron.
- Finally, heat the elements for several minutes.

These simple steps help maintain the appearance of the elements and prevent rust spots from forming.

While special cookware is not needed for solid elements, pans must have sturdy flat bottoms and be made of materials that heat evenly and do not warp when heated. Medium to heavy weight aluminum or stainless steel with aluminum inner core or bottom are recommended for most even heating.

College Hotline January 14-15

The Texas Association of College Admission Counselors (TACAC) and First City, Texas will co-sponsor a toll-free HOTLINE number available to all Texas residents from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, January 14 and Sunday, January 15, 1989.

People in Texas may telephone toll-free 1-800-253-8989 with their questions about college selection, admission, testing and financial aid. The most up-to-date information regarding the application process, college majors, entrance requirements, financial aid and meeting deadlines will be available.

College admission directors and high school guidance counselors will be answering the ten (10) phone lines. Financial aid personnel will round out the team of "experts".

With over 3,000 higher education institutions to choose from and over $14 million in financial aid available, selecting the "right" one is truly a challenge. The goal of the 1989 HOTLINE project is to provide immediate answers to all the people of Texas who have questions about college.

Nearly 1,000 calls were answered last year on topics such as entrance requirements, ACT/SAT testing, college costs and scholarships.

People believe to cure a sore throat, wrap a piece of bacon around your neck.

The pyramid on the back of the one dollar bill is left in an unfinished condition to symbolize the quest for a more perfect government and additional states in the Union.

THEN and NOW!

It has been broiled, fried and barbecued. It can be bunned and topped with every condiment known to mankind or it can be served naked and undistinguished. Its origin is Germanic but its pizzazz is all-American.

The hamburger. There is no consensus as to its exact introduction to this country. The common belief is that the Hamburg steak was brought to America by German and Jewish immigrants during the 1850s. But chef Louis Szathmary, in his book American Gastronomy (1974), contends that he has seen an 1836 menu from New York's Delmonico's restaurant listing the item.

The hamburger as we know it today reached stardom during the St. Louis Fair of 1903 and has flourished ever since. While the first hamburger stands were introduced during the 1920s, higher class restaurants continued to serve "chopped steak" minus the bun.

U.S. presidents have not escaped association with the sandwich. Ike-burgers enjoyed a mild popularity during the first presidential campaign of Dwight D. Eisenhower (1952). And, during the waning days of meat rationing in 1946, the dreaded Trumanburger consisted not of beef but of mashed baked beans.

Today, the fast-food business is a $58 billion industry. Fast-food hamburger restaurants dot the landscape from Maine to California. Most Americans visit a fast-food hamburger chain approximately once a week.

The beef patty has come a long way—over an ocean, down the highway and on to our television screens. As we approach the 21st century, one can only guess as to the next step. With shuttle launches and space stations just around the corner, can hamburger heaven be far behind?

January is National Soup Month—a time to celebrate soup and all the good things that go along with it. We consume more soup in January than in any other month. It takes the bite out of the January cold, and kicks off the year with a "souper" approach to nutrition.

Fortunately, more is known than ever before about what makes and keeps us healthy. We know that good nutrition is an important factor in health maintenance.

Soup Can Be A Good Source of Fiber

Dietary fiber—the combination of insoluble fiber (wheat grains) and soluble fiber (vegetables and fruit)—is an important part of a healthy diet. Many people eat bran cereal as a primary source of fiber. However, they may be unaware that one serving of bean or pea soup provides as much fiber as a serving of many bran cereals.

Several major food manufacturers have responded to special consumer needs. Campbell Soup Company has been a leader in this movement. For example, low sodium, ready-to-serve Campbell's Split Pea Soup contains six grams of dietary fiber per 10 ounce serving. For those people who are concerned about sodium, Campbell's offers a low sodium split pea soup. Soup at lunch or dinner not only adds variety, but also helps increase daily fiber intake.

A Delicious Source of Calcium When Made With Milk

Let's not forget calcium—a need we never outgrow. Women, especially, often don't get enough calcium and may risk developing osteoporosis, a severe bone-thinning condition that can result in weak, brittle bones. The National Academy of Science recommends that women consume about 800 to 1,000 milligrams of calcium per day.

The trick is finding ways to fit milk, an excellent source of calcium, into the everyday diet. Cream soups prepared with an equal amount of milk are a delicious answer. And there are many to choose from to satisfy a variety of tastes. Cream of tomato, cream of spinach, cream of mushroom, cream of broccoli and cream of shrimp, to name a few, are a perfect entree or appetizer.

Low Sodium and Reduced Sodium Soups Offered

Many health-conscious individuals are also making an effort to lower their sodium intake. A variety of soups can help. Campbell Soup Company introduced low sodium soups in the 1960s, and recently introduced Special Request Soups, with one-third less salt than regular condensed soups. Special Request is a "happy medium" between regular condensed soups and low sodium soups, for those on salt-restricted diets.

National Soup Month is a celebration of one of the first, and still one of the most popular, foods. Today, soup is one of the fastest moving products through supermarket check-out counters. It is offered in a variety of flavors and kinds, to meet almost every taste and circumstance. Its great variety makes it fun and convenient to eat, and a delicious addition to a balanced meal.

Treat Yourself to An Apple A Day

Celebrate the season by starting a healthy habit. Doctors and nutritionists agree that eating an apple a day is a low-calorie, low-fat, low-sodium way to add important dietary fiber to your diet. If you've been limiting yourself to one favorite variety, now is a perfect time to try something new. Here's a clip 'n save shopper's guide to America's favorite apples and how to enjoy them best.

Apple	Characteristics	How to Enjoy
Red Delicious	sweet, tender, juicy unique, knobby base	as a snack or in salads
Golden Delicious	sweeter, firm, golden skin	as a snack
McIntosh	juicy, slightly tart most aromatic	as a snack or in sauce, pies and salads
Rome	firm, slightly tart	excellent baked apples
York	firm, slightly tart lopsided shape	in cooking or as a snack
Jonathan	tart, firm, juicy good fragrance	as a snack or in cooking
Granny Smith	green, moderately tart, very firm	snacks, salads, culinary use
Stayman/Winesap	mildly tart, rich flavor	good all-purpose apple
Empire	dark red, firm, sweet-tart	as a snack or for all purposes
Newtown Pippin	green, mildly tart, firm	great for baking, cooking, snacking

Hints For Homemakers

Kidproof Decorating Tips

Everyone takes pride in a beautifully decorated home. But families with small children have often shied away from expensive furnishings for fear of ruin from tiny, jelly-stained hands and muddy, little footprints. Today, however, there are some wonderful, fast-acting household cleaning products that ease the fear and cut down on costly cleaning bills.

As always, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

- Teach your children at an early age to treat the living room furniture with respect.
- Give your child one good item for his or her own room, be it a rug, a chair or fancy wall-hanging, to engender an interest in taking care of prized possessions.
- Restrict food consumption to the kitchen and dining room areas. Don't allow kids to track food through the house and eat in their rooms.

But, no matter what precautions you take, if there are children in your household, spills and stains are bound to occur.

Winter seems to be having a lot of trouble making it into the low rolling Plains. So far in this time of year, which is supposed to be our coldest and worst until about January 25th. When we generally start a gradual warming trend, we haven't had much Winter at all...Certainly not a prolonged spell such as we have had in the past...I guess we'll pay for it in February & March.

The Gain Is Worth The Pain

Exercise-Is it Worth The Trouble?

Why bother with exercise? All that stretching and sweating. After all, why do fitness experts call it a workout if it is supposed to be fun? What does exercise achieve? The answers could be a better job, certainly a stronger heart and bones and a buoyant sense of self-confidence.

According to Cyndie Gaule, exercise specialist in Methodist Hospital's Centre for Cardiac Rehabilitation and Fitness, there are several areas in life which individuals may benefit from taking some personal time for regular exercise.

Self-Esteem- One of the quickest benefits of exercising is an improved sense of self-confidence. Exercise programs offer a variety of ways to gain a sense of mastery over physical challenges. At first, the major challenge may be just taking the time four or five days a week to exercise. As strength and stamina build, so does confidence and enjoyment. In studies of participants in an aerobic exercise program, individuals who exercised regularly had lower levels of depression and anxiety, and high levels of self-esteem.

Workplace- Exercise yields a benefit for individuals when they are involved in decision-making tasks. A group of individuals was tested before and after eight months of an exercise program that met for an hour three times a week. Their scores increased by 68 percent on the tests of information processing and decision-making.

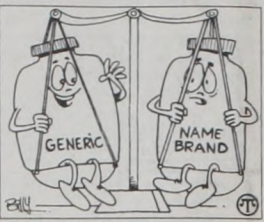

Health Status- The heart and lungs receive exercise along with the bones and muscles. It has been found that an individual's response to stress changes with exercise. Under stress, a fit person will experience a stronger heart-beat. This is preferred to the more rapid beat that occurs when a person is not in good condition. Improved fitness levels have been associated with less extreme physical reactions to stressful life events which means better health in the long term.

FDA Rules On Generic Drugs

Generic drugs generally save consumers about 50 percent, and often as much as 80 percent, over brand-name drug equivalents. Now, after an exhaustive study, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has again concluded that generics also "provide the same intended effect in patients."

An exhaustive FDA study showed generic drugs to be equivalent to brand name drugs.

The new FDA report is the result of a hearing called in 1986 to examine questions raised by brand-name drug companies and others about bioequivalence, the key test used to approve generic drugs. Bioequivalence is a measurement that shows a generic drug enters the bloodstream at the same rate as the brand-name version.

After reviewing all data from the hearing—attended by 800 experts from universities, industry, medicine and government—the FDA found the bioequivalence principle "scientifically sound," and concluded there is "no need to recommend major changes in the way FDA approves drug products."
