Money Available For Building Terraces

Recent heavy rains have taken their toll on our productive farmland. It seems that every field has some washing and erosion damage. This damage will show up in reduced yields and loss of income in the days ahead.

The Great Plains Conservation program, administered by the Soil Conservation Service, has money available to help farmers build terraces to control erosion. The program currently pays approximately 75% of the cost of building terraces.

The program also provides assistance with waterways, irrigation pipeline, livestock water dams, as well as many other practices needed to conserve our soil and water.

If you are interested in the Great Plains Conservation program, as well as other programs now available, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office in Silverton at 823-2320.

Senator Sarpalius Has Not Discontinued His Mobile Office

Senator Bill Sarpalius notified the Valley Tribune that the mobile office has NOT been discontinued. The man who was driving it is not with them any more and he is the one who sent the letters with the misinformation.

Senator Sarpalius states he will continue to cover his 31st Senatorial District, but he and his friends and supporters are footing the bill without any help from the state. He says he is going to have to be as economical as possible, but he will cover all the district as he can.

With The Sick

Opal Taylor was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Tuesday by Quitaque Ambulance and EMTs where her leg was X-rayed and showed to be healing well, she reports. She was removed from the body cast but will have to remain in bed another three weeks. She can sit up, though, after being flat on her back for five weeks.

Bill Woods returned home Thursday of last week after being in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for 24 days and having undergone surgery twice. His daughter, Mrs. Weldon Griffin, reports he is improving well.

Mrs. Wesly Woods of Plainview, daughter of Buster Chadwick of Quitaque, underwent major surgery at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday morning. Buster called back to Quitaque and reported she had come through fine.

Lee Seymour has returned home after spending a few days in the Floydada hospital having tests made.

George Setliff was in the Lockney hospital for a few days having tests run.

R. C. Green returned to his home Tuesday morning from Childress General Hospital. He had surgery on Friday of last week and is said to be doing well.

Hill's bale had 920 pounds of seed and the bale weight was 580 pounds. B. J. Robison, gin manager, said the weather had not seemed to hurt the lint. He says they are ginning some cotton every day now.

Turkey Farmers Co-op Gin had not ginned any when we checked on Tuesday. They are hoping for a good freeze.

Valley Defeats Motley County There Friday Night

Valley Patriots defeated Motley County 34-0 there in a district 3 1-A West game Friday night.

Thomas Rodriguez had 128 yards on 14 carries to lead Valley rushers. Kirk Saul connected on seven of 16 passes for three touchdowns and no interceptions.

Coach Steve Adams says, "The kids have done real good adjusting to position changes. We have had to make a few changes because of injuries."

Statistically, Valley carried the game all the way through.

Wimbledon was once known for its Croquet Club which in hard times in the 1870s added lawn-tennis to its title.

The game of badminton is a present-day form of an earlier and simpler game called battledore, which British officers learned in India.

Bridge players talk of "trumps" because an early version of the game (around the 16th century) was called "Triumph."

A Stroll Down Memory Lane

November 5, 1925—W. D. McKay, right-of-way man for the Fort Worth and Denver visited Quitaque this week and attended a mass meeting Monday night where he explained the R.R. contract which his company wants to sign with the town. The contract will guarantee the railroad company the station and right-of-way . . . In the new fabrics for winter we find velvet leading in colors of peony reds, purples and strong clear blues. Velvet is often combined with gold lace. Crepe de chine, soft satins and the semi-sheer crepes are also seen, and they follow the same colors as velvet. A new fabric that is being used very much is cut velvet on a chiffon ground. The distinction of the design plays a large part. Jersey is very good. Kasht is still seen, and tweed is standard. The latest ensemble does not harmonize. Greens, grays, browns with red and black with bright colors are the daytime mode. Cashmere coating is very good, especially with a crepe de chine dress. The combination of red and brown is sure to attract the young woman, as grey will attract the more reposeful type. Velvet in beautiful coats and frocks is very attractive for the young girl . . .

Attending were Hubert Brooks, O. V. Johnson and Rev. Bob Beck. Dr. Tapscott stayed with the Becks, and enjoyed some of Reva Jean's hot biscuits for breakfast before leaving for another associational workshop . . . HOW TO COOK POSSUM

(Editor's Note: In answer popular request, Mrs. Irby found a recipe in a magazine and added her own touches.)

- (1) Catch a possum, cage it for two or three weeks and feed it bread and sweet potatoes and plenty of water. (This will help "clean out" what the possum has been eating, Lord knows what.)
- (2) Kill the possum, then scald in boiling water and scrape the hair off.
- (3) Disjoint it, discard the inedible parts and boil until done.
- (4) Place the possum pieces in a roasting pan and put sliced sweet potatoes (grown here in our valley, of course) around the edges of the pan and between the pieces. Sprinkle with black or red pepper, lots of garlic, salt, sage and more sage and bake in a 400 degree oven until potatoes are done.

Dampening the dustpan helps the dust stick.

Gaps Can Be Reduced In Medicare Coverage

People age 65 and over who qualify for Medicare do not always get the greatest benefits from their coverage, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer economics specialist. "There are steps that consumers can take to help reduce the gaps in their Medicare coverage," says Bonnie L. Piernot. Start by choosing doctors and medical suppliers who accept assignment, she says. Assignment is the specified charge Medicare allows for a procedure. When a doctor does not accept assignment, the consumer or supplemental insurance must pay the difference, reminds the specialist. Those with serious illnesses requiring extended care can ask their doctor to consider moving them to a skilled nursing home when Medicare coverage for hospital costs expires, Piernot points out. "Patients can also ask the doctor to consider home health service visits when the hospital and skilled care coverage are used up, or if hospitalization is unnecessary," she says. "It's especially important for patients to prepare their Medicare claims carefully," the specialist advises. "Keeping accurate records and filling in the claim forms completely will help you get the benefits you're entitled to receive." If you think your claim has been underpaid, you can appeal to the Medicare office, says Piernot. About half of those who appeal get at least a partial adjustment, so it is probably worth the time and effort, she adds. Medicare does not cover all medical expenses, reminds the specialist. She explains there are three different kinds of gaps in Medicare which must be paid by consumers or their insurance coverage. They are the deductibles and coinsurance payments; the difference between Medicare's approved amount and the actual amount charged; and items not covered at all by Medicare such as prescription drugs, private duty nurses and care in a custodial-care nursing home.

Hesston's New Commemorative Rodeo Buckle On Sale

The third edition in Hesston Corporation's Silver Anniversary Buckle Series, entitled "Halfway to Payday," is now available at Brown-McMurtry Implement Company in Silvertown and other participating Hesston farm equipment dealers. Buckle enthusiasts have been awaiting the new 1985 limited-edition buckle, which commemorates Hesston's 12th telecast of the National Finals Rodeo. Designed by western artist Fred Fellows, this year's buckle features a calf roping scene.

The Hesston buckle series has been a key element in promoting the Hesston Corporation's annual telecast of the National Finals Rodeo—the "Super Bowl" of ProRodeo. Originated as a unique traffic-building promotion for Hesston dealerships in 1975, the buckles have become one of the most popular collectors' series in the country, gaining stronger interest each year.

The 1985 NFR, telecast for the first time from Las Vegas, Nevada, will feature top Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) contestants vying for world champion titles in six standard rodeo events, plus Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA) barrel racing.

Viewers will be seeing same day coverage of the final world championship round Sunday, December 15, via a special live tape delay on most U. S. stations. Canadian stations will air the special on a delayed basis Saturday, December 21. More than 200 stations across North America will participate in this special Hesston Rodeo TV Network broadcast.

Hesston's 1985 Silver Anniversary buckles are being offered in standard and miniature sizes, for $9.00 and $7.00, respectively. The miniature buckle is ideal for ladies or children's wear, and is an exact replica of the third Anniversary Series buckle, only in a scaled-down size. Both buckles are produced in limited quantities.

FACTS & FIGURES

Once every four years, horologists, the world's timekeepers, adjust for the six extra hours in the solar year by tacking an additional day onto the calendar.

A similar adjustment must be made periodically to keep the U.S. government's cesium clocks, located around the world, on time. That's the job of Allied Corporation's Bendix Field Engineering portable clock team, under contract to NASA. When they finish their synchronization check, the cesium clocks are accurate to within one millionth of a second, or one microsecond.

Have exposed camera film processed as soon as possible. Avoid keeping partially exposed film in your camera for long periods of time.

WHAT I LIKE ABOUT AMERICA

I like America because we have freedom and no one can tell me what to do. I like to drive the tractor and my Dad will let me. I like Cub Scouts because Margie will take us to camp and to the state park.

by Kyle Mars

I like America because it is a free country and I can do what I feel like doing. I can do anything I want to do on my land. I can raise a pig, cotton, wheat or corn and I can raise a cow and a horse. I can hunt on my land and I can ride my bike or motorcycle on my land and I can live the way I like. I can dress the way I want to and I can drive the pickup on my Dad's land.

by Jo Dee Robison

I like America because it is free and no one can tell me what to do except my Mom and my Dad. I can grow peanuts and cotton and wheat. I can raise pigs. I can dress the way I want to. I can wear a cap when I want to and where I want to.

State's Heritage Depicted In New Folder

Just in time for Texas' forthcoming Sesquicentennial year, when Texans will be looking back on their colorful heritage, the folks at the travel division of the state highway department have come up with a new folder capturing the very meat of the state's epic heritage.

Titled "The Flags of Texas," the folder pictures in high-quality detail the famous six flags of Texas history, and for good measure includes bits about the state seal, bird, tree, flower, grass, gem, stone, and dish. (The official Texas state dish is—what else—chili.)

"Speaking of birds," said Tom Taylor, director of the highway department's Travel and Information Division, "this little folder may well get two or three with the same proverbial toss. It's not only timely for next year's Sesquicentennial, but it'll answer a lot of questions we get from millions of travelers at our Texas Tourist Bureaus."

Taylor explained that most of the state's 12 tourist bureaus began flying all six of the historical flags in recent years. Among non-Texans, they generate perpetual questions about what they are and which is which.

"We Texans took it for granted that everyone would recognize the flags of Spain, France, Mexico, and so forth," said Taylor, "but after thousands of questions, it's apparent that folks from Ohio or Illinois have no idea, but they do want to know."

Acknowledging that the folder was produced primarily for out-of-state visitors who come by the millions each year, Taylor added, "This little folder also may become a 'must' for school youngsters studying Texas history. But that's all right; we printed enough to supply our tourist bureaus and lots of mail requests, too."

Individual copies of the new folder are available free by mail from The Flags of Texas, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78763-5064.

PERFORMANCE, PROGENY TESTING IN BEEF HERDS

Performance and progeny testing can determine outstanding qualities in beef cattle—qualities that identify superior animals. Top quality beef cattle excel in such economic characters as growth, carcass merit, reproduction and genetic soundness, and performance and progeny testing can identify these, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Bull feeding studies by the Extension Service on 15 ranches provided measurements such as average daily gain, weight per day of age, yearling weight and weaning weight. Bulls superior in these measurements sold for higher prices.

The average adult has 2,500 square inches of skin.

Vets Need To Notify VA of Classroom Status

According to Billye Kesler, Veterans Service Officer for Briscoe and Swisher counties, veterans often create problems with overpayments in GI Bill school benefits because they fail to keep the Veterans Administration informed of their classroom status.

Veterans attending school under the GI Bill are awarded monthly payments from the VA based upon their course load. A veteran who is enrolled in a college degree program and is carrying 12 semester hours or more is considered a full time student and is paid the full time rate by the VA. If, during an enrollment period, the veteran for any reason drops a course or courses, he must be sure the VA is notified. Under current laws and regulations, when a veteran drops or otherwise loses a course, and the change will affect his VA benefit payments, the reduction or termination of such payments will be effective back to the date the semester or other enrollment period began. The longer the veteran waits to notify the VA, the larger the overpayment will become.

MORRIS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATED IN McALLEN

Mrs. Ruth Morris sent an article about the dedication of Morris Junior High School which was held in McAllen Sunday, October 13, 1985 at 3:30 p.m. There were more than 400 in attendance. The school was named in honor of the late Homer Morris, a former Quitaque resident, who was an outstanding educator and involved in all phases of the work as long as he was able. He suffered a stroke a few years before his death which limited his capacity.

The school contains 98,000 square feet and has 34 classrooms, the administration offices, a 5,000 square foot cafeteria, and a 10,150 square-foot gymnasium, three music rehearsal areas, and a spacious 3,350 square-foot library/learning resources center. This is the latest of five junior high schools in McAllen.

Designed for energy efficiency by SHWC, Inc., architects, the school was constructed at a cost of $3,900,000.

This is a great memorial to one of the many Quitaque students who have gone on to make a name for themselves in the world. To those who travel to the Corpus Christi area on vacation, make a point to drive over to McAllen and see the structure located at 1400 Trenton Road.

Venoi Cain of Pharr, Texas, a former Quitaque resident, attended the dedication ceremony.

Mrs. Morris said four members of her family were present. Homer's sister, Allie Reavis of Childress, had broken her wrist and was at the home of her son in Lubbock recuperating at the time. She is back home now, Mrs. Morris reports.

WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT HEAT PUMPS...

COULD COST YOU MONEY!

An Electric Heat Pump & The Energy Saving Plan Will Help You Save Money in These Ways:

1 The electric heat pump is the most efficient system for heating and cooling a home, and can offer you years of energy savings. A heat pump can actually produce more than 2 units of heat for every unit of electricity used in a properly insulated home.

An electric heat pump, along with the other energy efficiency measures outlined in the Energy Saving Plan, can save you thousands of dollars in energy bills over the life of your home.

2 You can get a $110 per ton cash bonus for installing a central system heat pump in your home through the Energy Saving Plan. Your home must meet all the E.S.P. requirements and be served by WTU to qualify for the bonus program. Also, be sure to ask about WTU's incentive plan for installing a heat pump window unit.

For more information on the electric heat pump and the Energy Saving Plan, contact your local West Texas Utilities office today.

To the Quitaque Ambulance Service and EMTs, to Ruth and Orville Lee, Oliver Clark, Bro. Byron Hargrove and Bro. Jess Little, a special thanks. A heartfelt word of appreciation to Kathy Shorter and Anita Baldwin, and to members of the choir who furnished the beautiful music, and to Anne Beth Clay and Carmen Lee for baby sitting the little ones during the service.

Words cannot express our gratitude to the Flomot community who furnished the building and all the food and all those who helped to serve both lunch and supper to our families and loved ones; thanks to those from the Flomot and Quitaque area who brought and served food at the home and also to Joe Edd Helms home. A special thanks to Mrs. Annetta Helms, Debbie Cagle and Suzie Shannon for helping Joan out at her home. God bless each of you.

Pointers For Parents

You can deal with accumulations of soil, detergent, powder, or ointments. They are caused by laundering with soap in hard water, washing with too cool water, or not using enough detergent.

To make the grease cease, follow these hints from the experts at 20 Mule Team Borax:

- Launder diapers with a phosphate detergent, or use a packaged water softener when using soap or a liquid or powdered non-phosphate detergent.
- Wash in the hottest possible water.
- Wash no more than 24 diapers per load.
- Use at least the recommended amount of detergent.
- If grease balls are already a problem, you can remove them by ironing between paper towels to soften the oil. Then pretreat diapers with a pre-wash oily stain remover and launder, adding an additional cup of detergent.
