CONCEALMENT OF LOBBYING IS TOLD

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

The fishing party consisting of Messrs K. N. Greer, Michael, Godfrey, Nick Miller and Stewart, are reported to have shipped home 1,500 pounds of fish... The poundage has finally been reduced to 738 pounds, which is still far too great for our limited imagination... we just can't believe there could be that many fish caught anywhere.

Joe Burnam, energetic insurance salesman, has just returned from one of his wandering pilgrimages in the great open spaces which surround Cisco... He reports unusually fine crops... wheat being threshed and turning out well... corn bursting out of the shuck, cotton well matured to date... feed crops ready to be headed so that it may sucker out for the second crop of grain heads... we are thinking of maize... cattle fat and plenty of grass and water... Who could have imagined the present condition a year ago when poor, starving cattle were being shot in order to take them out of their misery... no grass or water... no feed and no prospects of any grass, the turf having been seemingly destroyed by the drouth... A strong man recovers his strength rapidly after extreme exhaustion, and so does a strong country... another year and who knows but what all signs of depression will have been swept away as magically as is an object waved out of sight by the motion of the magician's hand... verily a great country.

P. P. Shepard, truly an interesting conversationalist... Talks of the advancement in the arts of living during the brief span in which he has lived... Caesar, one of the greatest and richest monarchs that ever lived would be appalled if he could visit in the home of one of the humblest of Mr. Shepard's employees... Caesar must be fanned by a slave... sorry process compared to the electric fan... food from every nation and every climate...

LOBOES PLAY COMMUNITY ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Community and the Loboes will tangle in the fourth episode of their feud on the softball diamond at Humble park Friday night. The Community club recently defeated the Loboes by a one-run margin after coming from behind a big lead, but the game was thrown out when withdrawal of the Humble club forced the forming of new schedule. During the first half of the season on the two clubs battled to a draw, splitting their two games and both teams finishing the half with a percentage of .500. The Loboes won the first game and the Community the second. The gasmen are leading the league with a win over Garner's Tuesday night, while the youngsters have not yet played their first game. Humble, the other club in the circuit, has dropped a game to Garner's.

Mrs. Altiere as unharmed, although she was within a few feet of her husband when he was mowed down by machine gun and shotgun bullets.

Arguments Heard In Marble Machine Case

3 PLAINTIFFS ASK RECOVERY OF PROPERTY

Cisco's much prolonged marble machine war appeared to be nearing a climax today when arguments were heard before a jury in Justice Wilson's court in a case in which defendants sought recovery of property allegedly seized and held by M. L. Perdue, Cisco chief of police. The property in question was a machine which allegedly was seized by officers as a gambling device, and return of which was asked by plaintiffs. The trial was being held this afternoon. It was believed that the plaintiffs, represented by Will St. John, would seek to have the status of the machine, whether a gambling device or not, established by the jury. City Attorney R. E. Grantman was to represent the defendant. The plaintiffs, R. E. Waters, C. W. Lowery, and W. L. Moore, were said to have posted a $150 trial cost bond. The machine allegedly was seized at a cafe here some time ago after all 'gambling devices' were ordered out of operation. Previously court action had been taken by both sides of the marble machine case to determine the legality of the machines. The present plaintiffs had sought to have the police here restrained from interfering with the machines after they had ordered them out of operation. In district court the police were upheld and 'gambling devices' were subsequently ordered removed. Seizure of the machine in question followed.

He threatened to disband Catholic youth organizations if they fail to reform completely their present plans.

EMPLOYABLES MAY REGISTER AT EASTLAND

Although National Reemployment Service registration has closed at relief offices in Rising Star, Gorman, Ranger and Cisco, unemployed employables may still register at Eastland, according to Origer Paschall, assistant district manager. The office, county headquarters and one of two of 16 counties, is located in the basement of the courthouse. Paschall has received orders from headquarters emphasizing that those not registered on the service's rolls will not be eligible for employment in the government's work program. There is no distinction in the registration, it extending to every unemployed, irrespective of the relief rolls, the assistant district manager stated. Paschall estimated Wednesday at the near completion of the registration figures that there are 5,000 men and 500 women who are unemployed employables in the county.

COPS PUZZLED AT DISAPPEARANCE OF MAN WHO 'KIDNAPED' HIS WIFE

Police today were puzzled over just what to do about one of the strangest complaints they have had in many a moon. The complaint charged "affray" by a man. But he was not to be found, and the principal witness against him had vanished with him. Those swearing out the complaint had asked that a charge of kidnaping be placed against the man, but inasmuch as the only persons he had taken with him when he left Cisco were his own wife and baby, the officers said that this complaint would have to be altered.

ARRANGEMENT FORESEEN TO JUSTIFY ITALY

LONDON, July 18. — A diplomatic deal to justify Italy's strife against Ethiopia and give Emperor Haile Selassie the choice of war or surrender on the powers' terms was indicated today as the cabinet met to discuss the crisis. The League council will meet at Geneva between July 27 and August 2 to consider the situation, but meantime Great Britain is urging a three-council meeting of the three allied nations, Britain, France and Italy, to work out a plan which would avert a possibility that some small nation member of the council might defeat Ethiopia's cause.

Higher Rates For Freight Are Askekd

AUSTIN, July 18. — Texas railroads today asked the state railroad commission for an increase in freight rates to meet the costs of restoring wages previously cut 10 per cent. The increases were a maximum of seven per cent spread over all commodities. H. B. Cummings of the Texas-Louisiana traffic bureau told the commission the average was two per cent increase. If granted, the rates will not apply to cotton, grain, or livestock. They would not apply on distances of 180 miles or less, which would retain the advantage of Texas rates. Requested increase is the same as that put into effect on interstate commerce as an emergency measure by the commission on April 18. The emergency rates are proposed to continue until June 30, 1936. Commissioners took the request under advisement. The state commission was told that if it is found the increase works a hardship on any industry, or that the rate is too high for competition with trucks or other rates, that exceptions will be asked.

Hopes Seen For New Breck Oil Era As Wildcat Well Flows 300 Barrels

BRECKENRIDGE, July 18. — Bright hope for a new oil era in Breckenridge began to take definite shape yesterday when it was reported that the Pitzer and West well on the DeLafosse ranch was flowing pipe line oil, free from water with the pay barely scratched. Those returning from the test said it was believed that as it stood it would probably make 300 barrels per day and that it may be drilled a little deeper to see if production would increase. The pay in this test which opens a new wildcat section of the country to drilling, and discovers the Ellenberger lime, at a lower depth than other Stephens county production, was encountered at 453 and the bit has been sunk only a foot, to 454. The oil was then drenched out and the hole plugged with about thirty feet of cement. That was Sunday before last. The cement was allowed to set and yesterday the company started drilling in. The cement was gone through, it was started swabbing out the water and this afternoon the oil was flowing at a rate estimated at 300 barrels per day. The oil tested 42 gravity.

McDonald Probe To Continue at Dallas

DALLAS, July 18. — Rep. E. E. Hunter of Cleburne, chairman of the legislative committee investigating charges of incompetency of J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, arrived in Dallas today with two state auditors. The books of a milk company were to be examined to check payment, said to have been made into a special milk and cream grading fund, against entries in the commissioner's office. Hunter came here from Fort Worth, where a similar check was made and two witnesses informally questioned. The investigation was ordered by the legislature after charges in the house that McDonald had been negligent in the handling of certain funds.

Huge Sum Asked In Gas Case Suit

NEW YORK, July 18. — An $180,000,000 damage suit charging conspiracy to wreck the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company was filed in federal court today under the anti-trust laws against the Columbia Gas and Electric company, largest natural gas producer in the world. The $500,000,000 Columbia concern was accused of forcing the Missouri-Kansas into receivership by various steps while the smaller competitor was striving to deliver gas in the midwest and "break down" the exorbitant rate structure which the Columbia was and is maintaining.

UTILITY MAN TELLS WIRES 'DESTROYED'

WASHINGTON, July 18. — E. W. O'Brien, employe of an associated gas and electric subsidiary, told the utilities lobby investigating committee today that it was his "true conclusion" that deliberate efforts were made to conceal and destroy the evidence of the firm's $700,000 campaign against the bill.

WASHINGTON, July 18. — R. P. Herron, young Warren, Pa., utilities representative, revealed today that he "destroyed" all records relating to more than 1,000 telegrams he dispatched to congress, protesting against the Wheeler-Rayburn bill. The records were destroyed, he said, by order of securities sales representatives of the Associated Gas and Electric company at Ithaca, N. Y.

Herron, bond salesman for the company, which spent $700,000 fighting the utilities bill, said he destroyed the records relating to "my legislative work" because he thought he should get it out of the way before the congressional utilities investigation got under way. "If you have anything left, it's a mistake, isn't it? Senator Lewis Schwellenbach, democrat, Washington, asked. "Yes sir," the handsome young man replied.

He denied, however, that any of the documents were in any way incriminatory. He said the A. G. E. paid for the telegrams, signed by names taken from a city directory.

GOV'T TO TRY COLLECTION OF PROCESS TAX

WASHINGTON, July 18. — The government will continue to seek collection of AAA processing taxes in all cases except that of the Hoosac mills, in which the Boston circuit court of appeals ruled the tax is unconstitutional, the department of justice announced today. "The decision of the majority of the circuit court of appeals for the first circuit does not prevent future collection except in that case," Attorney General Homer Cummings said. He reaffirmed that the government would carry the case to the supreme court as quickly as possible and said the government would attempt to collect the taxes unless and until the supreme court directs likewise. "The senate meanwhile continued study of AAA amendment, including provisions designed to strengthen validity of the taxes.

The Processing Tax Decision

This week a federal circuit court of appeals in Boston declared that the AAA processing tax is unconstitutional, and the news immediately created a furor of excitement in agricultural, business, and other circles throughout the nation.

What effect the decision will have is not yet clear. But this much is certain. It will have the effect of bringing the matter immediately before the United States supreme court for a ruling.

Then and only then will the constitutionality of the measure be settled.

If the processing tax were all that is involved, it would be different. But the whole AAA structure is built upon it. As a matter of fact, much of the New Deal is based on it, as it concerns the AAA.

Every man, woman, and child will feel the weight of the decision of the court when the test is made, regardless of which way the body decides. Cisco is no exception, but rather will be directly affected, in that this is a part of an agricultural district.

During recent months the New Deal has suffered some staggering blows, but has managed to weather all of them so far. Now comes this one, the test of the AAA. Maybe it will strike and maybe it will not. But the decision handed down in the supreme court will, in a great measure, decide the future of the New Deal.

Costly Accidents

This paper recently published an editorial on safety, as applied to drowning prevention. Now it goes further to include other forms of safety as well.

During the last few weeks there have been a number of serious accidents in the county which have taken the lives or maimed several persons. Some of them likely could have been avoided, some perhaps not.

This editorial is aimed at the ones which might have been avoided, and is entirely unpartisan and without censure against any individual or concern, its only thought being to save human life.

Automobile accidents have taken the greatest number of victims recently. In several, apparently, there was no definite cause of the accident, but several contributing causes. In some cases excessive speed or reckless driving was blamed. In others apparently mechanical defects or bad roads were said to have caused the crashes. Whichever might have been the cause, it likely could have been avoided.

Industrial accidents, which came up for discussion a great deal some years ago, have been cut down considerably, both in number and in seriousness. The companies, especially the large ones, have taken every precaution possible to save the lives of their employees, but occasionally something goes wrong and another victim is added to the list.

Accidents are costly things. In a twinkling they may wipe out the work of a lifetime—a train wreck, a plane crash, an automobile collision, sudden contact with flying

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—News that the four billion dollar work-relief program is blossoming out as another CWA will surprise only those who have relied for information on the mimeographed handouts from government press agents.

Aside from the resettlement experiments of Dr. Rex Tugwell, the rural electrification experiments of Morris Llewellyn Cooke, and some housing and a few PWA projects under Secretary Harold L. Ickes, the bulk of the money will be used to employ men on inexpensive projects similar to those of the old CWA and the unballyhoed FERA work program, which continued after it was still employing a couple of million men when the new program officially began.

The administration's reluctance to admit as much encourages the prevalent idea that CWA primarily means a program of "leaf-raking," "boon-doggling" and that sort of thing.

But CWA itself and CWA incognito (following partial demobilization) contributed a great deal more than that. It's up to the individual community to insist that its work-relief projects be of genuine value.

JUST to give you an idea, the records show that Harry Hopkins' work-relief labor has accomplished the following since CWA was "demobilized":

HEALTH AND SANITATION—Built 2259 miles of sewers, 1600 miles of watermain, 553 hospitals and improved or extended 218,529 reservoirs and improved or cleaned 218,500 sewage disposal or garbage disposal plants, 245,121 sanitary privies and improved 24,000; installed 2466 septic tanks and drained 3,275,000 acres of mosquito-breeding swamps through 28,363 miles of drainage ditches.

PUBLIC RECREATION—Built 2360 new playgrounds and improved 4433; 131 stadlums, improving 73; 316 swimming pools, improving 95; 532 community centers, improving 101; 3301 parks, improving 2447; 572 athletic fields, improving 242; and built or improved nearly 5000 baseball diamonds, golf courses, tennis, basketball, and handball courts, zoos, and so on.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS—Constructed 8602 and improved 9990 airport buildings, armories, auditoriums, abattoirs, bus and car shelters, city halls, courthouses, fairground buildings, fire halls, garages, jails, libraries, public markets, military posts, museums, police stations, water-works stations, and other structures.

SCHOOLS—Repaired and improved 30,188 school buildings and built 1856 new ones and additions, repaired 417 state college, state normal, and university buildings and built 36 new ones.

ALTHOUGH there probably will be more politics than ever in the new work-relief program, the administration has been so sensitive to criticism of CWA in other respects that the type of projects has continued to improve on the average and probably will continue to do so.

Organization of the new program has been confused and messy. But now Hopkins has been given the ball and told to run as fast as he knows how. The record indicates the program will be far from a dead loss.

The Authorities On Law

wheels in a big machine, a falling timber—and another family is without a breadwinner, a man without an arm, a leg, or his eyes. They are costly, both in terms of money and in terms of human suffering.

But the worst of it is that many of them could have been avoided. An ounce of precaution is worth all the regrets in the world.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, July 17. — Justification for its name will be given by the state automatic tax board on July 20. The board will meet then and automatically adjourn, as automatic tax board have done for years.

Supposedly, the board is to meet, receive the state tax rolls, go into a huddle with mathematicians and compute the tax rate necessary to balance the state budget.

The meeting date for the board is fixed by statute. By the tax rolls never are completed by the time the board must meet. All it can do is adjourn until the rolls have been completed. That, usually is some time in August.

Lieut. Governor Walter Woodul, Houston, was governor of Texas for a short time last week without knowing it. Governor Alfred stepped across the border into Oklahoma while investigating Red River flood damage. The minute his feet left Texas soil, the Houston man became governor. He ceased to be governor a few minutes later when Alfred again stepped back into Texas.

On the trip from Austin, Governor Alfred paid the first visit to his birthplace since he became governor. He also visited the Cowboys' Reunion and partook of the stew prepared by Waggoner, younger son of the late multi-millionaire, W. T. Waggoner. Paul annually attends the reunion and personally prepares the stew, from butchering to the final seasoning.

In Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann's office is a pathetic collection of letters. They have been investigated by the secretaries division. To glib sales efforts the letters have been bringing a golden harvest. One noted the enclosure of a remittance, though it meant for the writer walking to work all week for lack of carfare. Another chipped in with the hope of a return that would enable him to pay off pressing debts. Most surprising about the letters is that all the writers are apologetic about not being able to send more.

Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control and ex-officio chairman of relief, has found a way to do both jobs. He spends the morning at the state capitol in the board of control office. He cuts his lunch hour short and goes to a down-town office building to spend most of the afternoon at state relief headquarters.

Texans who have walked between the state capitol and the Austin hotels for the past 50 years have passed a little confectionery that has made its own candy all that tion, he will ask a year's leave of absence from the University.

Bob Wells, rate expert for the state railroad commission, is the first casualty of the state department baseball league. Wells' left arm was broken while playing with the railroad commission team against the state insurance department team.

The state persistently has refused to adopt a civil service system for examination of its employees but, inconsistently, insists on examination for many persons in private employ. Not only those in professions like law and medicine must undergo state tests. Barbers, beauticians, nurses, undertakers and many others must pass state tests. The joke now is on the state. Before it can get federal funds under the national re-employment act, the persons employed by the state to aid re-employment must pass federal civil service tests.

Strange devotion to state service apparently exists among state convicts. Officials insist they are not to do more than they should in summer heat but many of them are working themselves to death. Paid state employes at Austin, meantime, complain that state buildings are not air-conditioned.

The man who wants his city to grow and prosper should buy at home.

He should do this because it is the right thing to do. And if his motive is selfish, he should do the same thing.

His own prosperity depends upon that of the city. It is tied up with that of the merchants who offer to him purchasing opportunities. Good business for them means good business for him, no matter what the occupation in which he is engaged.

To buy at home creates better feeling all around.

It helps your neighbor, and he is grateful.

He will be ready to do something for you when you need it.

It is of great aid in building up united, harmonious and earnest civic spirit.

It keeps money at home to meet the taxation required for municipal maintenance and needed improvements.

If you spend your money in an outside city, you are assisting that city to grow at the expense of your own.

Your own town should come first. You live there, your interests are there, you are bringing up your children there. Then show your regard for it and your loyalty to it by patronizing its merchants.

Eagle's Rise, Fall Is Put Biblically

BOSTON, July 18 — Mrs. Evelyn Connell, Biblical student, compared events of the past few years with those of the Bible and found them similar, even to the rise and fall of the Blue Eagle.

Mrs. Connell said the Great Stone Face in New Hampshire was similar to the part of Joshua where pilgrims entered the promised land and were commanded to take stones and leave them in the lodging place where they lodged for the night.

"And these stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Israel forever. And the children of Israel did as they were commanded, and they are there unto this day."

"Joshua took a great stone and set it up 'as a witness unto all the people, for it hath heard all the works of the Lord which he spake unto us." Thus the stone face.

She finds the eagle in the 17th chapter of Ezekiel where it said that an eagle rose and settled among "the merchants of the city,"

2 Honest Men Check Dimes and Nickels

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 18 — Superintendent Fred E. Henderson of the St. Joseph Street Railway System can be just as honest as a Spokane, Wash., resident who paid for a trolley ride in St. Joseph 30 years later.

The man wrote Henderson enclosing a dime in conscience - payment. Henderson answered, enclosed five cents. Explained the superintendent: "The fare in 1905 was only a nickel."

COTTON TYPE TO BE SOUGHT FOR DALLAS

DALLAS, July 18 — A thorough canvass of experimental results in various agricultural stations throughout the state will be the next step in the standardization of Dallas county's cotton yield. County Agricultural Agent A. B. Jolley said. An organization is being perfected this week to select one or two varieties of cotton suitable to the black land belt of which Dallas county is a part.

The ultimate goal of the organization will be to decide upon one type of cotton most suitable to the soil conditions of the black land belt. This type must be selected by the farmers themselves, it was pointed out, and their representatives will study the various types at experimental stations and will hold a meeting probably in the latter part of August to compare notes.

By growing a standard type of cotton authorities hope to avoid cross pollination by insects which results in a mixed cotton yield, resulting in a lower grade and a lower market price, authorities assert.

Standardization of cotton in Gonzales county has shown favorable results, Roy Saunders of the Federal Bureau of Plant Industry advised. He said that 90 per cent of the cotton grown in Texas is of inferior grade and staple.

REVISION OF COTTON STANDARDS PROPOSED TO MEET CROP CHANGES

WASHINGTON, July 18, A revision of the United States official standards for cotton grades has been proposed by the bureau of agricultural economics with a view to making the white grades more representative of the cotton crop and of eliminating grades for types of cotton which have become scarce. Arrangement of samples within the grade boxes has been changed to facilitate use of the standards. A set of the tentative revised standards was shown this week in Washington to a group of representatives of producers, cooperatives, spinners, and cotton merchants.

The suggested changes involve dropping the grades for blue stained cotton as well as the grade strict good middling yellow tinged, and combining the light yellow stained with the yellow stained grades. Two new grades, strict good ordinary extra white and good ordinary extra white could be added, making a total of 32 grades instead of 37 as at present. Only 13 of these grades would need to be represented by physical type boxes of which at present there are 25. The standard set of boxes would include eight grades of white and 5 of yellow tinged. This change would reduce the cost of a complete set of standard grade boxes from $125 to $65.

The standard boxes for the yellow stained and blue stained grades would be eliminated. The amount of cotton of these grades now found in the markets is so small that the bureau has had difficulty in obtaining enough samples to make up the official standards boxes.

Changes in the color of the crop in recent years have been toward white cotton. Research by the division of cotton marketing — including thousands of samples from the

Scenes in Moscow; Stalin Unnoticed; Girls at Hard Labor; Heavy Traffic

By WEBB MILLER

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 18 — Moscow is famous for nudist bathing but friends told me all the view-worthy damsels are getting clothes-conscious and wear swim suits. Only bulky, middle-aged females cling to the old-fashioned nudist habits. Friends told me even bathing was a vastly overrated recreation.

The speed with which 100 shock-workers, including many women, finished a car-track and paving job was surprising. It was done in 10 days, working in three shifts, day and night. In England or France it would have taken five to six weeks. On the asphalt job they used 10 American motorized rollers, some operated by women.

Clock Aids Traffic

Moscow's new traffic regulator is like a big clock-face with green, yellow and red sectors. The hand travels around the face continuously when the hand approaches green or when the hand approaches green or red.

Other interesting scenes and observations:

Bockkeepers in offices with most modern equipment using the ancient abacus to compute. I didn't see an adding machine in Moscow.

The elaborate luncheon at the Foreign Office guest house consisting of eight courses commencing with caviar, and five Soviet wines, including champagne.

Eighteen story Moscow Soviet hotel in course of completion and ten and fifteen story apartment and office buildings.

Tallest Building Started

Beginnings on the foundations for the tallest building in the world larger than the Empire State building, scheduled for completion in 1942 to be topped by a 200 foot statue of Lenin. Proctor, an American engineer, advising on the foundations, told me it is being planned on an entirely new principle whereby the weight is all borne on the perimeter.

The huge five-motored bombing planes one sees on the Moscow air field.

Women working at hard labor everywhere. When we landed at Weljkie Luki, the first air landing in Russia, I saw a score of women, some girls of 14, laboring on a cement landing platform. In leaving, the last person I noticed was a fishy woman wielding a sledge hammer much too heavy for her.

Huge Apartment Built

One of the largest apartment buildings in the world with 500 apartments, housing 3,000 persons. The lines formed to buy almost anything — 50 to 75 persons waiting to buy morning papers and even queues to buy iliacs. An Investia writer told me they could circulate 4,000,000 daily if they could obtain the print paper. Circulation is now 2,000,000. Millions who could never read before now are literate. You see more bookshops in Moscow than in New York, London or Paris.

The furor in a shop when Princess de Rohan Paris dress designer, was discovered. Real princesses have been rare in Russia these many years.

Clothes High in Price

High prices in the "open markets" where shoddy knitted women's jacket and skirt suits were priced at 99 rubles, or more than one-third the monthly salary of a laboring man.

The astonishment of an American girl who imported a coconut. It was classed as a spice and the duty was $3. Another paid $2 on a bottle of lemon juice—it was also classed as a spice.

"That you see no fat men but many fat women."

Bill Stoneman, the St. Joseph, Mich., sportsman, probably the only frog-catcher in the U. S. S. R. An old peasant watched him yanking frogs. Finally he asked what was the idea.

Stoneman explained the legs were good to eat. The old peasant said: "Well, I guess I'll try it. I didn't use to think horse was good to eat, either."

School Contests To Feature Centennial

AUSTIN, July 18 — Texas public schools are beginning plans "to think, talk, write Texas Centennial" in 1936.

Contests are being planned by the Texas Interscholastic league and with a generous flavor of Centennial subjects they are calculating to make definite contributions toward making pupils "Centennial minded."

All material used in literary contests must pertain to Texas history and state heroes; for contests public speakers will use historical topics. Dr. E. C. Barker, professor of history at the University of Texas, has prepared a booklet of 150 orations by Texas orators or on Texas history, for use in public schools.

Aug. 1 Deadline On School Transfers

EASTLAND, July 18 — Students who attended rural schools this year and contemplate transferring to another must make arrangements by August 1. Mrs. W. H. Mullings, assistant county superintendent, reminded Wednesday.

"Although there remains until August 1 to make the transfer, it is preferable that it is done as soon as possible," Mrs. Mullings stated.

It was emphasized that the office must have the signature of the parent of the transferring student. The arrangement can only be made at the county superintendent's office, Mrs. Mullings said.

WPA Workers Must Register With U. S.

AUSTIN, July 18 — Texas indigents who want to work on Works Progress Administration projects must register with the U. S. Employment Service, according to a report sent to Texas Relief Commission officials.

Social service department of the Texas Relief Commission will certify employables to WPA, basing priority on such considerations as health, disabilities, skill, and morale. Relief clients certified will be dropped from regular rolls as soon as the first pay check is received.

Enrollment of a youth in Civilian Conservation Corps work will not preclude hiring another member of the same family on a works project, the report said.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JO DARIEN, finishing her first year in college, learns her father is out of work. Jo gets a job as bookkeeper in a small marine supply store. She is engaged to BRETT PAUL, athletic star.

DOUGLAS MARSH, handsome, wealthy, comes to the store to buy equipment for the summer colony he is establishing at Crest Lake. Jo works overtime, assisting with the order, and Marsh asks her to have dinner with him. She agrees.

Marsh tells her about his summer colony and offers Jo the job of hostess there. Secretly able to believe such good luck, she accepts. When Brett hears about his new job they quarrel and Jo tells him their engagement is at an end.

Next day she goes to Crest Lake. Marsh meets her. He warns her that some people consider him "eccentric."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

JO'S doubt was quickly forgotten when the green roadster topped a gentle rise in the road and she saw below her the broad and breathless beauty of Crest Lake. It was so wide that the opposite shore was almost obscured by the mists of an early dusk, and it stretched to either side of the smooth clearing below, disappearing beyond the thick green of the trees. Unconsciously Douglas Marsh halted the car to get a moment's view.

"Oh," cried Jo in delight, "it's— it's beautiful!"

It was not just as she remembered it from the summer motor trip with her parents, for below her the trees and stumps had been cleared to make a wide clearing which was carpeted now with clipped grass. She saw the corner of a tennis court, and beyond it, a golf green that edged along a small neck of the lake. Marsh allowed the car to coast slowly down the hill now, and in a moment Jo saw the new Crest Lake Inn, a huge and rambling structure of logs and shingle roof, with unbelievably wide windows and a veranda on the lake side.

"Perhaps," said Marsh dubiously, "I should have left the spot alone. It's always dangerous to try to improve on nature."

Jo shook her head. "I think it's wonderful."

What Marsh had done he had done with infinite taste. The Inn seemed to belong to its setting quite as much as the lake itself, and there was nothing gaudy or jarring to mar the natural charm of the place.

"The cottages are beyond the Inn," Marsh said. "We can't see them from here. The Inn is even larger than it looks. Mother and I have our rooms there, and I've reserved a suite for you which overlooks the lake. I think you'll find it very pleasant."

"I'm sure of it," breathed Jo.

As they drew nearer to the clearing she saw the boat house, the long low dock which ran out to a safe depth for even a deep-keeled sail boat which was moored along side. When the car rolled into the wider gravelled road, two men in slacks and sweaters waved at Marsh from the golf course.

"Charlie Gunder and Todd Barston," he explained to Jo, returning the pair's greeting. "Gunder holds most of the stock in Lytzen's where you say you bankrupted me yesterday—and Barston's the avia-

Stories in STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

CITY OF GLORY AND TRAGEDY

WITHIN the famous Old Town Square of Prague is packed some of the most glorious, and at the same time most tragic, events in the history of Czechoslovakia. The scene on the stamp shown below, which was one of the series issued in 1928, commemorating the tenth anniversary of this country's independence, includes the Tyn Church, called the St. Paul's of Prague, in front of which in 1621 the patriotic leaders of the Bohemian revolt were put to death by command of the Hapsburg rulers.

At the left is the Tower of the Town Hall, from which, during the Thirty Years' War, the rebels flung the mayor and other officials out onto the spears of soldiers below. On the face of this tower, also is the famous astronomical clock, made in 1480 and one of the oldest in Europe, before which citizens congregated every hour to witness the passage of the 12 apostles before a figure of Christ.

And in the tower itself is a small chapel where Czechoslovakia's unknown Soldier rests.

War Memorial Is Asked by St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 18 — Establishment of St. Louis as the center of a five-pointed star of main highways, to be known as Gold Star memorial highways, is the latest project of Gold Star mothers in St. Louis. A memorial building within the city for the preservation of patriotic records also is planned.

Gold Star mothers here have been working on the project for some time, and have obtained the backing of the Board of Aldermen. To complete this project, they are seeking the approval of PWA officials.

Creation of the star of roads would involve landscaping and planting of trees along four highways in Missouri and one in Illinois. This has the City Plan Commission of St. Louis and the Missouri State Planning Board and the State Highway commission. All the states have named roads to be included in the project, according to Mrs. Warren F. Drescher, national president of the Gold Star Mothers of the National Society 1917 World War Registrars.

The Board of Aldermen gave the registrars permission to build a memorial building topped by an electrically lighted gold star at some point in St. Louis. The board has also passed an ordinance creating St. Louis as the Gold Star center of the Nation.
