Steps Taken Toward Drouth Relief For Eastland County People

Eastland County Takes Some State Fair Honors

Among the 52 competitors with exhibits on display in the Agricultural Department of the State Fair at Dallas this year, Eastland county carried off third place, with a $300 award. Randall county won first place with an award of $350; Harrison county second with a $325 award; Eastland third, with $300; Marion fourth, with $275; Wheeler fifth, with $270; Henderson sixth, with $250. Our county made an excellent display, and attracted much favorable comment, according to many of our people who attended the Fair and saw it. County Agent J. C. Patterson and Home Demonstration Agent Miss Ruth Ramey handled the exhibit.

Several enviable prizes were carried off by Eastland county representatives in the general exhibits and the vegetable exhibits also.

W. B. Starr, the famous sweet potato producer of the Dan Horn community, won 1, 3 and 4 on his potatoes.

R. E. Baker of Colony carried off 1, 3 and 4 on peaches; Henry Wilson of Flatwoods was awarded 1 and 3 on pumpkins.

B. Norton of Olden evidently "knows his okra," as well as his other vegetables, for he got off with 1, 2 and 3 on beets; 1, 2 and 3 on turnips; 1 and 3 on radishes; 1 and 2 on peppers; 1 on grapes; and 3 on persimmons.

J. R. Harper of Carbon won 3rd place on pecans in the individual exhibits, and 4th went to Gus Bowden of Rising Star.

J. J. Krenshaw of Gorman was awarded 2 and 4 on figs.

Two Eastland county rabbit breeders, Geo. Parrick and R. L. Shaw, were awarded 1 and 2 on their Steel Grey Flemish Giant doe and 2 on their Junior Chin-chilla buck.

The boys club classes also came in for honors, being awarded 1 and 2 on sweet potatoes; 2 on feterita, hegari and sure cropper corn; and 2 and 3 on kaffir corn.

Keeping Record On The Circulating Bills

During the past week a movement entered into by several of the Cisco business men has started several five dollar bills in circulation around town with a slip of paper attached to each bill stating what the bill was used for, and to whom it was given. A checkup on the rounds of these bills is being kept, and the main idea of the whole matter is to show just what all a five dollar bill kept in circulation here will do among our home people. Some thirty-five or forty bills used in this way have been accounted for thus far, and it is really surprising what all may be accomplished by that number of bills in constant circulation among the people here. The bills have now made their appearance at quite a number of business establishments in Cisco, and in keeping with the original idea, each in turn, as one of these bills are received acts as if it is burning his hand, and quickly turns it loose to someone else, with the proper notation, that it may continue its career of going good.

The idea is a good one, and is one which has been tried out and found very interesting in various places over the country. Two weeks ago this paper carried a little item in its editorial column giving a record of a one dollar bill which was used in this way in one section of Chicago. The same idea has been used many places, and these circulating bills make history which is enlightening, to say the least.

So if you get one of these bills, we would suggest that for the general good, you for once suppress your Scotch strain, and pass the bill on to your neighbor as quickly as you can. Money kept in circulation is what makes times good or bad, and it is said that there is as much or more money in this country now than there ever was, but it is not in circulation. A bill hoarded away at any

Republican Speakers Address People Here

Col. Harvey H. Haynes, speaking in the interest of Bill Talbot, republican nominee for governor, made an excellent address at the City Hall Thursday evening. Capt. J. F. Lucey also addressed the gathering. The speakers were introduced by Dr. H. B. Tanner of Eastland.

The main idea of Col. Haynes' talk was that Texas should manufacture her own raw materials. Capt. Lucey's address was on the proposee oil tariff.

A. P. SLATER PASSES AWAY

After a long illness, A. P. Slater died at his home on avenue E in Cisco on Wednesday morning at about 9 o'clock. Funeral services were held from the home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. F. E. Singleton, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, following which the remains were conveyed to Santa Anna, where interment was made, burial services being conducted by Rev. Patterson of that place.

Mr. Slater was born in Camden, Missouri, November 4th, 1860. On October 2nd, 1893, he was married to Miss Maggie Oster at Ottumwa, Iowa. They had one daughter, who died in infancy, and is buried at Santa Anna. Mr. Slater is survived by his widow.

He came to Cisco about 30 years ago, and has been a familiar figure here, where he has been engaged in various lines of business. For the past several years he has been in the grocery business near his home on avenue E.

For the past year or more he has been rapidly failing in health, and the end brought relief from much suffering.

time merely helps to tie up business, and add to the agencies for making a financial depression.

About fifty bankers, business men and legislators gathered at Eastland Wednesday afternoon and adopted plans for drouth relief to be submitted to the Legislature. A committee of forty will call upon Governor Moody as soon as a conference can be arranged to present to him their resolutions and urge him to call a special session to consider this matter and get some much needed direct action along this line.

The meeting was called by the Eastland County Bankers' Association, of which Guy Dabney of Cisco, is president. Mr. Dabney presided over the meeting, and was elected president of the organization which has as its object the securing of this drouth relief. Garland Eubanks of Throckmorton was elected secretary.

The plans are for the county commissioners of counties that desire aid to issue general warrants bearing low rate of interest, the warrants to be purchased by funds to be appropriated for that purpose by the Legislature. Appropriations would bear a low rate of interest, and the money derived from the sale of the warrants to be appointed by the County Commissioners' Court, to the farmers to be used in making crops. The borrowers, it is proposed, will issue liens against their crops for the protection of the county, which in turn protects the State.

Representatives O. F. Chastain of Eastland, Victor B. Gilbert of Cisco, and A. H. King of Throckmorton were present and each expressed himself as being favorable to the calling of a special session of the Legislature and of the plans of relief adopted by the mass meeting. Representative King submitted a question to the convention on whether bill should be passed by the Legislature extending the state taxes in the drouth-stricken areas for one year without interest or penalty. The meeting adopted this resolution also.

The keynote emphasized by the entire organization was that the people of the drouth area must have relief immediately without further delay.

It was said that should aid ever be obtained through the Federal Government it would come too late to aid those of the West Texas area as they would have given up in despair before that time.

Dabney was instructed by unanimous vote of the meeting to appoint a committee, with the power to add members, to wait on Governor Moody at an early date, acquaint him with the conditions confronting the people of West Texas and urge upon him the necessity of his calling the Legislature at once to take immediate steps to relieve the situation.

In urging the relief plans, it was pointed out that charity was not being asked, but that the plans are feasible and business-like and that they need not be put into use except by the counties, as felt the need of it and then only to the extent of that need.

Following are the resolutions adopted at the meeting Wednesday:

Whereas, by reason of a two or three years' drouth that has existed throughout this section of Texas, and by reason of the extremely short crops this year

City Commission Has Its Regular Meeting Monday

The City Commission held its regular meeting Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with all commissioners present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, with exception that the wording referring to the action taken upon the city budget at a previous meeting was changed.

and the low prices of commodities, these conditions accentuated local calamities in different sections, has brought about a condition that demands immediate farm relief, and any relief be afforded in order to have the most beneficial effect must be immediate and without undue delay, and,

Whereas, a large number of representative business men, bankers and farmers of the drouth stricken area of West Texas in mass meeting assembled in the city of Eastland on this, the 15th day of October, A. D. 1930, have devised the following plans and suggestions:

1. It is the sense of this meeting that any plan in order to be feasible must be a self-supporting plan from each county's standpoint.

2. The commissioners' courts of the counties desiring to avail themselves of this plan will issue legal warrants to the extent of the total amount of money needed to relieve and assist the distress of the farmers in each of said counties in making the 1931 crop.

3. The state of Texas will provide funds and purchase the said warrants from the various counties desiring to avail themselves of this relief.

4. Said warrants to bear interest at a low rate and to be payable in one to two years from date.

5. Said counties will be authorized by proper statute to advance to the individual farmers in said distressed circumstances an amount of money that will take care of all actual necessities as may be determined after investigation by proper authorities.

6. Said amount of money advanced to be secured and a lien to be prescribed on the crops grown by said farmers. The lien herein mentioned shall be a superior lien.

7. It is further the sense of this meeting that the plans and suggestions above made represent the best thoughts of this meeting, but that we are willing to accede to a more feasible or a more workable plan, as the legislature may, in its wisdom determine.

Therefore, be it resolved, by the representative business men, bankers and farmers here assembled, that this resolution be presented to our governor, with the urgent request that he at once convene a special session of the forty-first legislature for the purpose of carrying out this or some other feasible relief plan that may be determined upon by the said legislature assembled.

Committee on Resolutions

No action was taken upon a garbage man for another year, however, some discussion was indulged in as to some of those who had filed bids in response to an ad asking for SEALED bids. Commissioner Burnett, who is the health and sanitary commissioner, announced that he could recommend all those who had submitted bids, with whom he was acquainted, but in view of the fact that sealed bids had been asked for, that he saw no other way of handling the matter except to consider the lowest bids. Mr. Burnett also announced that so far as the present incumbent, Mr. Martin Palmer, was concerned, that he could recommend him fully, and that he had never called upon Mr. Palmer to do anything in line with his duty but that he was ready and willing at all times to perform such duty.

A request was made by A. B. O'Flaherty, a member of the cemetery committee, that the city appropriate $5000 to augment an amount already at hand, for the purpose of building an archway at Oakwood cemetery and start a stone fence on either side of the archway. No action was taken upon this request. Action will probably be taken at the next meeting.

Some discussion was had in respect to the new pump house at the lake, and the City engineer was asked to advertise for bids for the construction of same.

On motion of Commissioner Fee, the commission adopted the resolution that no bill will be considered by the commission unless it is first approved by the head of the department where it originated.

The commission authorized the city attorney to take such steps as necessary to perfect the title to some of the city's property where the old city jail used to stand.

The commission also authorized the widening of avenue J between 6th and 7th Sts. to conform with blocks on either side. Also authorized advertisement for curbs to be built along the street, with the understanding that local labor be used for such work.

Various bills against the city were read and approved for payment.

The condemnation of certain old houses in the city which are menaces to the health of our city, was discussed, and action was started toward same.

The commission recessed until 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

SHIP FOUR CARS STOCK

The Cisco Livestock Marketing Association shipped four cars of stock to the Fort Worth markets Tuesday of this week, consisting of three cars of cattle and 1 of hogs. J. H. Blanken accompanied the shipment to "Cowtown," and made the sale. Prices on the cattle were from $2.50 to $7.50 per hundred, and on the hogs $9.60. Proceeds of the shipment for the association members are being handled through the First National Bank here.

"THOU SHALT NOT -"

We sometimes wonder what kind of new laws will be added to the statute books within the next few years, if no curb is put upon them in some way. For in the minds of many legislators, legislate, legislate, seems to be considered as the general cure-all for all ills. We suppose that before long some shining legal lights will get together and get a law passed abolishing poverty, stomach-ache and other like unpleasantness—and then back off and wonder why their newly-made regulations of human welfare are not effective. It would be just about as reasonable as some measures which have already been passed.

That oil proration law may be all right, in principle, but as long as the big companies are allowed to import their heavy cargoes of cheap foreign oil just how much effect on the claimed "overproduction" is the choking down measure on the little local producers in these fields going to have? About as much as trying to dip the ocean dry with a bucket.

The constitutionality of the proration scheme is now being attacked in various places, and in Oklahoma last week charges were made that the proration program was not for the purpose of conservation, but for the purpose of price fixing. It was developed in a hearing there that a man by the name of Collins, a Corporation Commission Umpire had received a salary of $2,000 a month paid by some of the big oil companies who sought the curtailment of production in Oklahoma. Collins testified on cross examination that four companies, and probably five companies operating in Oklahoma, and proration there were importing oil from foreign countries.

Now come those with the big idea of restricting cotton acreage — they propose to tell the farmer just how much cotton acreage he shall put in. Why not go a step further and undertake to regulate the number of eggs the farmer's old dominecker hen shall produce in a week? And they might mandamus old Pide and order her to give just a half gallon, and no more, of milk per day!

In our humble opinion, if these new law incubators would work half as hard on "legislation" to curtail some of the importation of foreign cheap products which are helping to cause the so-called "overproduction," then the farmer—as well as the balance of us—might get some of that much-talked of "relief," which we all hear a lot about but do not get.

What has become of the old fashioned man who said the Cisco country could not "go wet" again?

STOCKMEN, FARMERS ARE ENCOURAGED BY RAINS

Benefits from the recent rains are already making themselves evident among the stockmen. Two weeks ago the man with only a small bunch of cattle was looking forward to the winter with gloom and dismal foreboding, as he speculated on just how much feed he might have to buy to try to keep his stock alive. Now this same stockman is in much better spirits, for he is assured of some winter pasturage, and if killing frost holds off till November, as it often does, it will give the stock time to fill out considerably on the new grass brought forth by the rains.

This confidence on the part of the cattleman has already shown evidence in the slump in the number of cattle received by the Ft. Worth markets. Last week's receipts showed about 11,000 cattle and 8,000 calves, and the week before showed receipts of 17,000 cattle and 13,000 calves. Cattle-men who a few short days ago felt that they were forced to reduce their herds, taking whatever price was offered now feel quite differently about it.

It is predicted that this will help to bring about an advance in prices as a natural result, and thus contribute toward better conditions.

The farmer is assured now of a winter grain crop, and the fellow who gambled with the weather man and sowed grain before the rains, reasoning that it would surely rain because it had waited long enough, has good reason now for that smile he is wearing.

Some of the more optimistic of farmers and ranchmen of West Texas have several times during the past hot, dry summer struck an encouraging note in remarking that they had bit their lips and fought conditions through hard, drouthy periods before, and guessed they could again—but take it from us, the farmers and ranchmen of Eastland County find a lot of encouragement to carry on their fight in the fine rains received here in the past two weeks.

"SPORT SPASMS"

By DICK WEST, Jr.

The Big Spring Steers, after holding the powerful Green of Breckenridge last week at bay, invade the Loboes' lair for a conference game. The black and gold lads from out on the plains gave the Loboes a very tough gamelast year, but were subdued to the tune of 22 to 12. This year both teams appear stronger. My guess for the encounter is Cisco 32, Big Spring, 0.

The Loboes, with Turknett hurt, will not flash as great an offensive as in previous games. This little "Dynamite" has been a powerful factor in the Big Dam march this season. He is frail, but how he can use his head and carry that ball. His punting and passing have developed this season until he is probably one of the greatest accurate punters in the state. In the driving wet game against Spur, Tarknett took the heavy ball and spiraled it perfectly for an average of over fifty yards. The first time he completely baffled the Spur safety man, and the ball went about seventy yards counting the roll. The next time he pulled the same trick, and the oval sailed beautifully out of bounds on Spur's five yard marker, after a travel of about fiftyfive yards. The Loboes scored after these setbacks of Turknett's punts.

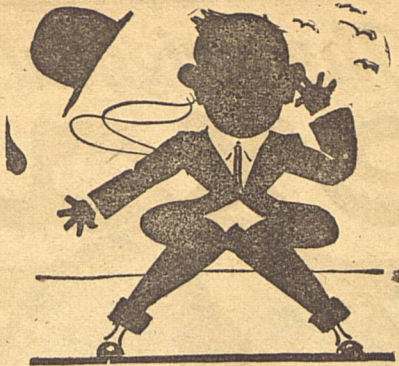

It is true that Chambliss is gradually regaining his form, but his injured knee will keep him from punting as systematically as Turknett. Roy's passing will improve, but is not as accurate as the heavies of Clifford. Yes, the Loboes against Breck, if Turknett plays, will be a lot meaner than against Big Spring.

Too much praise cannot be given Robert Blackburn. Every time a Lobo regular back has been hurt, Blackburn has stepped in and played a whale of a game. He has a perfect stride, and lots of drive, but whether he can stand up under heavy pressure or not is the question. He probably can, for he is a natural athlete, and a fighter at heart. Bobbie is ever alert on passes, but his greatest asset lies in his plowing through the tackies and center on fake reverses and spins.

The Lobo line is in excellent condition for the coming fray. Massengale, Bennie, Van Horn, Wagnon, Cole, Norvell, McMahon, Steen, Black, McCall, F. Ray, C. C. Ray, and Preston are all in wonderful shape and rearing to go. Coach Chapman had his forward wall blocking and charging better than ever, and that's saying a lot. The offensive work of Massengale, Steen and Ray could be improved, but the defense is all that any coach could want.

My guess for the other games of importance for this week are: Ranger 40, Sweetwater 0; Breck-

Boy Scouts Gave Interesting Program

The Boy Scouts gave a very interesting program at the High School building last Friday night which was valuable not only as entertainment, but also afforded those in attendance a better insight into the excellent work in which the Boy Scouts are engaged. The attendance for the program was fair, but not as good as was really expected.

The general public is not really aware of the great importance of the work of the Boy Scout organization. It is one of the greatest movements in existence today for the purpose of developing young manhood, and is certainly doing a great work toward fostering the proper ideals, purposes and conduct of the growing boy. The movement should receive the hearty cooperation and support of every loyal citizen.

Judge A. L. Lankford of this city makes the following comment on the Boy Scout work:

"The Boy Scout movement is one of the greatest organizations in the world. The Boy Scout organization is making real men of our boys, and training them for good citizenship.

"In these reckless days of 'flaming youth,' when many boys and girls are running wild without proper training, furnishing the front page crime news of the day, it behooves fathers and mothers to give their best support to the Boy Scout movement.

"I noticed an article in some paper or magazine recently stating that the records of the penal institutions of some state in the union had been examined, and out of the 20,000 boys and girls committed to that institution, there was not one Scout among them. There is a reason for that. It is not accidental. Boys and girls cannot be trained by precept alone, by saying 'thou shalt, and thou shalt not.' The Scout idea is to make boys interested in doing that which is right. They learn the principles of morality by doing those things which make boys clean in body and mind, clean speech, clean sport, clean habits, and association with clean boys.

"The boys are taught to be thrifty, to make the best use of their time and opportunities. 'To be mentally awake and morally straight.'

"They are taught to be obedient to the constituted authorities of the home, school, and state; and to be loyal to home, parents, friends and the flag.

"They are taught to be honest and honorable in word and act with all people. They are taught to be kind and courteous

Kindness is a virtue neglected these days, I think. Burns thought so too, when he said: 'Man's inhumanity to man, makes countless thousands mourn.'

"If your children be all girls, do not think that you are not interested in the proper training of the boys of the town. When your girl is with a Boy Scout, and she will likely be with some boy, she will be with a young gentleman. Does that not mean something to all of us?"

COTTON GROUP ADOPTS DIVERSIFICATION POLICY

A policy of encouraging crop diversification tending toward a reduction in cotton acreage, was adopted Tuesday by the board of directors of the American Cotton Co-operative Association in session at New Orleans.

Announcement of the policy was made by E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the cotton association, after the board's meeting, which was attended by Chairman A. C. Legge of the Federal Farm Board.

"The board of directors," Creekmore said, "recommends acreage diversification, tending toward a reduction in cotton acreage. The board pledges its support to the Federal Farm Board in this movement and requests the Federal Farm Board to speed up this movement.

"As to price fixing, our policy is well defined. We are not fixing prices on any seasonal pool cotton at the present price level nor do we expect to fix prices in the immediate future unless there is substantial advance in the present market."

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES IN EXPANSION PROGRAM

ABILENE—The West Texas Utilities Company construction program for the next two weeks will feature expansion and development in both electric and water properties, and indicates considerable oil field activity in the Vernon and McCamey oil fields.

Three extensions to the Dalhart water system will be made, involving the laying of 1,025 feet, 750 feet, and 400 feet of two inch main to strengthen the water distribution system and connect new customers; 5,400 feet of two inch main extensions will be added to the new system at Dumas, where extensive improvements have been carried forward.

New lines and extensions to be built in the Vernon oil field include a three mile line to deliver power to the Zenith Oil Company, a single phase extension to the Cosden Oil Company for additional lighting demand, and new lines and equipment to serve the Easter Oil Corporation and the Empire Fuel Co. An extension will be built to the World Oil Company lease near Bakersfield to deliver power for oil well pumping.

Distribution systems will be extended and improved in Dalhart, Rowena, Hawley and Hamlin.

Repairs will be made at the Lake Pauline Dam, near Quanah, to replace rip-rap that has been destroyed by fishermen, and to fill in washes.

An appropriation has been made to cover the cost of mapping operating district "H," headquarters at McCamey, which includes the towns of Best, Big Lake, McCamey, Iran and Rankin.

At Abilene a 6x36 foot concrete platform will be added to the west end of the general warehouse.

Substation improvements will be made at Cross Plains, where considerable new equipment is to be added. At the Vernon substation, one mile of static wire will be installed on the Oklahoma, Chillicothe and Electric circuits feeding the substation. This work was made necessary because of the severity of the lightning in this territory. The static wire will protect valuable substation equipment.

Work on the outlined program is scheduled to go forward at once, with completion

HIGHWAY FUNDS AVAILABLE TO DROUTH STRICKEN STATES

According to a statement made public Wednesday, the Federal Government has made immediately available to the drouth states their 1932 allotment of its $125,000,000 appropriation for aid to highway construction as a means to provide employment for drouth-stricken farmers.

The action, taken at the instance of the national drouth relief committee, was made public Wednesday by Dr. C. W. Warburton, its secretary.

"I think you will realize," Warburton telegraphed Harry Flood Byrd, former governor of Virginia, "that the federal authorities have offered large resources to aid in relieving the situation, and that it is our desire to co-operate with you in the work your committee is doing." Byrd is chairman of the Virginia drouth relief committee.

The highway funds, which ordinarily would not have been available until July 1, 1931, will be paid only to the States in immediate need of drouth relief. Appointment of the funds was authorized by Secretary Hyde, chairman of the national committee, however, in August.

This was done to enable the states to make contracts against the 1932 allotments, which when apportioned assured them of the sums they would receive from the Governor.

Although the action was not made public, Warburton explained that the various state drouth committees had been advised of the step upon receipt of a favorable ruling by Comptroller General McCarl early this month.

Warburton indicated that a meeting of state chairmen would be held in Washington next month.

Warburton outlined the present status of drouth relief work. National and state relief committees have been set up as a result of the conference of 14 governors called by President Hoover. Also, the governors recommended "an intimate canvass of the situation in each county by the county committee and reports on the number of families in need and the character of the need of each family."

dates set in the near future, according to word from the construction department.
