Wayland Extended Royal Welcome To Cisco Delegation Who Staged A Splendid Entertainment There

Wayland royally received the large party of Cisco folk who went on a good will trip to that enterprising community Thursday night. The best program that has ever been presented during the series of rural programs was given by the Cisco high school orchestra, and members of the Cisco party. The people of Wayland responded by showing real old fashioned hospitality and served twenty-five big layer cakes and forty gallons of ice cold lemonade free to the Cisco delegation and all others who were present. Good fellowship marked the meeting and for an hour after the program had ended the Cisco business men mingled with the Wayland people and had a regular get acquainted, social time.

Prof. Cochran, superintendent of the Wayland school, was to a large extent responsible for the great success of the evening. He had worked hard and faithfully, making arrangements for the occasion. He struck the key note of the day when in a short speech he declared that Cisco was considered as home by himself and others in the community. That when he wanted to go to town to purchase something he always thought first "where can I get the article," and the thought always came to him "If you want to be sure to get it of good quality and fair price go to Cisco." He said Wayland people usually go to Cisco. To prove his assertion he asked all those present who felt as he did to raise their hands, and there was a general hand showing.

The high school orchestra led by Prof. P. L. Kelley played highly appreciated musical numbers throughout the evening. E. H. Whitehead, field secretary of the chamber of commerce, served as chairman, making a short talk on Cisco, Cisco high school and the Cisco chamber of commerce. Crigler Paschall, city commissioner and official of the Cisco American legion, made the main address of the evening, greeting the people of Wayland on behalf of the business men and the city government of Cisco. He assured them that Cisco was for the service of the rural people of the territory surrounding Cisco, and that the Cisco chamber of commerce was at their disposal. He then made a short but powerful address on Americanism and the part played by the American legion. He concluded by offering the services of the legion of Cisco to all ex-service men of the Wayland community, and extended a blanket invitation to them to attend all meetings of the local post and to join the John William Butts post. John Fanning, in his own inimitable style, spoke to the people about the work being done by Ciscoans for the upbuilding of the moral fibre of the young people of the country. He particularly stressed the work being done by Rotary, and explained "Boys Week" to be observed here next week. He told several of his witty stories and concluded by holding a sing-song in which all joined.

Chas. Gray, chairman of the trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce, under whose department the rural programs are being given, explained the work being done by the chamber of commerce. He declared that the Cisco chamber of commerce is maintained largely for the benefit of the agricultural sections. He asked several questions concerning Cisco and several of the young people who had read the Cisco literature were able to answer most of them. He invited the Wayland folk to use the facilities offered by Cisco, such as the schools, churches, business houses, and professional services available.

G. B. Adams of the Blease Motor Co., and Rev. Gaines B. Hall made short but timely talks that were well taken by the audience. Prof. Cochran then made the best speech of all when he invited all present to partake of the twenty-five big layer cakes and the forty gallons of ice cold lemonade prepared by the good ladies of Wayland. T. D. Lauderdale showed that he was qualified to be a circus lemonade dispenser by his work in ladling out the cooling drinks, and the ladies assisted by some of the men and boys, served everybody present. The orchestra played enthusiastically, and good fellowship prevailed.

At the conclusion of the entertainment the prize winners of the chamber of commerce prizes were awarded. These were Miss Mai Cole, first prize, $2.50; Fred Cole, second prize, two free passes to Broadway theatre; Miss Celia Maxwell, third prize, one pass to the Broadway theatre, donated by J. C. Fanning. In the past years two of the Cole children have graduated from the Cisco high school.

The Cisco men present were each introduced to the Wayland people. They were Phil Keelan, representing the Central Motor Co.; Ernest Hison, representing the Cisco Banking Co.; G. B. Adams, representing the Blease Motor Co.; John Fanning, representing the Broadway-Ideal theatres; Chas. G. Gray, of the Gray Hardware Co.; Dr. K. J. Scott, Crigler Paschall, Raymond Nye, J. A. Smith, Walter Holmesley, L. A. Harrison, of the Cisco grocery; Rev. Gaines B. Hall, E. H. Whitehead, of the chamber of commerce; P. L. Kelley and his orchestra, consisting of Frank Holmesley, Jack Daniel, Warren Smith, and Hoot Gibson of Rising Star high school, who played the bass drum.

LEE M. JOHNSON SELLS DENSLAW, TAKES IN FARM

In a deal consummated Thursday Lee M. Johnson disposed of the Denslow hotel to J. B. Loftin of Menard, who will move to Cisco, while Mr. and Mrs. Johnson become the owners of a 340 acre irrigated farm five miles from Menard. The Johnsons have gone to their farm and will raise truck, chickens and other farm produce. Mr. Loftin has returned to Menard to move his family here. It is understood that he will devote his time largely to the oil business, and will operate in the Cisco shallow fields. In the meantime the Denslow is under the management of C. O. Alsabrook, who stated that Cisco from Eastland just as soon as school closes.

GRASSHOPPERS IN COLLIN
MCKINNEY, April 24.—At the Lions luncheon here L. W. Garrettson reported that it would require 6,000 gallons of blackstrap molasses and 15,000 pounds of molasses to check the grasshopper pest in Collin county. The situation is said to be alarming.

Men and Women in News of the Day

Clara Kimball Young, of New York, motion picture and vaudeville actress, has reported to the New York police the loss of $70,000 worth of jewels which she left in a taxicab. Raold Amundsen, Arctic explorer, is rushing the assembly of two seaplanes in which he and members of his party expect to take off from Kingsbay and fly to the North Pole. United States Attorney Emory Buckner, of New York City, has been 100 per cent successful in his padlock crusade, every night-life club he charged with selling liquor having consented to decrees which will lock their doors for a month. Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, noted minister, told Yale students at New Haven, Conn., that he refused to be bound by the authority of any church, of any creed, of any teacher or of any book.

Cisco Rotary Club Has Designated Sunday, April 26, Tuesday, April 28 and Saturday, May 2, Boys' Days

For the purpose of encouraging the boys of Cisco to a wider scope of the every day duties performed by their elders—which work will ultimately fall upon their shoulders—the Cisco Rotary club has designated Sunday, April 26, Tuesday, April 28 and Saturday, May 2, as boys' days in Cisco.

Starting Sunday every boy in Cisco will be requested to attend the church of his choice and bring with him the members of his family. Where possible it is proposed to have some boy occupy the pulpit and conduct the religious services. In case no boy can be secured, the services will be conducted by ministers, who will talk on subjects concerning boys.

Monday, at the high school, there will be a municipal election and high school boys will become candidates for the various city offices. A mayor, commissioners, city secretary, chief of police, city attorney and other municipal officers will be chosen from the student body. On Tuesday these will perform the duties of the respective offices for the entire day. The student mayor will be under study of Mayor Williamson, and will conduct the affairs of that office under the mayor's supervision; the chief of police will have charge of the vags and other delinquents, and direct the affairs under that department, while the chief or assistant chief officiates in an advisory capacity. The commissioners will assemble and pass ordinances, allow claims and legislate for the city while the constitutional body oversees their work and sees that their efforts are correctly directed. In other words the city will be governed by boys for one day, who will take up their duties Tuesday morning after they have qualified for the positions to which they were elected.

On Tuesday, also, as many business men as can be induced to join the movement, will place a boy in charge of their business for the day, while the heads of the firms remain on duty in an advisory capacity to see that the young business men make no errors, or as few as possible. Oscar Cliett is in charge of this feature, and every boy who contemplates making application for a place in a business firm is advised to confer with Mr.

ENDEAVORERS MEET IN CISCO TUESDAY, MAY 1

The District Christian Endeavor will meet in Cisco for three days beginning Friday, May 1. Two hundred delegates are expected from over the entire district. The local Christian Endeavor is working hard to prepare for the convention and Edwin Martin of Randolph College president of the local Christian Endeavor, who appointed several committees, who are to handle the different details of the meeting. Misses Nona Ford, Helen Holmes and Mirtora Mayhew are the committees on homes. They urge that the people open their homes to care for the visiting young people who will be here. Last year the convention was held in Stamford and

QUARTER INCH RAIN FALLS IN CISCO COUNTRY

The Cisco country was drenched this morning by the hardest precipitation that has fallen here in the past two months. Right in Cisco the rainfall was estimated at one-fourth of an inch, but reports from the surrounding country stated that hard rains fell in many sections. Reports from Breckenridge today stated that there was a two-inch rainfall in that section, and at Rising Star a heavy rain fell, which has been predicted by Hackberry Slim, who has a rodeo staged for Rising Star Saturday.

K. Goodwin, of the publicity department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, came in today from Rising Star, and stated that he encountered the rain when about twelve miles south of Cisco. He stated the rain fell in torrents, and continued until he reached Cisco. At times the rain was so hard as to obliterate his vision.

RAINFALL WAS GENERAL OVER THE PANHANDLE

WICHITA FALLS, April 24.—Rains, which for two days have been falling throughout the panhandle district, today wet the district near here, reaching as far as Clarendon. An inch of rain had fallen this morning at 11 o'clock here, with prospects of an all day rainfall. Reports from other nearby sections indicate the precipitation is continuing.

PENNANTS HERE FOR FIREMEN'S STATE MEETING

The official decorations adopted by the committees of the fire department and the Cisco chamber of commerce are pennants and the street flags which will be displayed in the places of business and along the streets on the occasion of the convening of the Texas State Volunteer Firemen's convention in Cisco May 12, 13 and 14. To make these decorations uniform and as inexpensive as possible, the chamber of commerce has ordered pennants in large quantities, and these have arrived, and can be had from Secretary Richardson. The smaller pennants, which are to be used for auto and individual decorations, will be sold for the small price of 10 cents.

Simplified decorations will be observed during the convention, but this does not mean that the city will not be dressed up when the fire boys come, but expensive and elaborate decorations are taboo. The pennant scheme will be carried out in all the street and house decorations. On the streets will be the large pennants proclaiming the day and date. Fifty-foot banners will welcome the visitors to Cisco, and Old Glory will float in front of every business house.

"MAYOR OF ESKOTA" INVADES MCKINNEY

MCKINNEY, April 24.—W. L. Feely, the "Mayor of Eskota," Fort Worth funeraler, entertained the McKinney Lions club at its noon luncheon with wit and humor.

royal entertainment was accorded by Stamford people. These young people—both boys and girls—are of the best families of Texas, and they will be the guests of Cisco during their stay. Mrs. Elkins, president of the Woman's Missionary society of the Christian church, is in charge of entertainment. Miss Tommie Ford is in charge of the registration committee. Her committee is charged with securing the necessary funds for proper entertainment of the convention and all Ciscoans are eligible for registration. Miss Allogene Holmes is chairman of the program committee. This convention is quite a compliment to Cisco declared President Martin, and he asks all Ciscoans to co-operate in making it a success.

Judge Geo. L. Davenport Thursday Restrained County Commissioners In Expenditure of Any Road Funds

George A. Davison, road contractor, and successor to the Fleming-Stitzer Co., was granted a temporary injunction Thursday afternoon by Judge George L. Davenport of the 91st district court, restraining the county commissioners of Eastland county from spending any part of the proceeds of the $4,500,000 road bond money that may now or hereafter be available.

County Commissioner Birt Britain of the Cisco precinct said this morning that the commissioners court will contest the injunction which will likely come on to be heard within the next ten days, when the court will either perpetuate the injunction or dissolve the restraining order.

This is another legal step in the complications growing out of the road bond muddle, and while litigation continues the public welfare lags. At this time none can tell when the matter will be finally adjusted. Doubtless the case will be carried to the higher courts, regardless of the decision of the district court at the hearing to make the injunction permanent, which means months, and perhaps years, of delay in finishing the road building system of Eastland county—unless matters are taken in hand by the people to perfect a settlement of the issues involved. A mass meeting is in progress at the city hall here this afternoon to consider the situation and other communities will take similar steps.

In speaking of the immediate effects of the Davison injunction, in so far as it affects the Cisco country, Commissioner Britain stated this morning that he was compelled to call off the work being done on the Leeray highway until the final disposition of the injunction. "We have been working on this highway for about a week, and have a section of the road in good shape. This road would have been finished in three weeks. We had placed crushed rock and asphalt on the ground and everything was in readiness to push it through to completion. Just when we will be able to place this road in repair cannot be stated at this time."

SUPREME COURT RULES AGAINST HOME RAIDING

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Federal prohibition officers will continue their drive against home brewers, despite the ruling of the supreme court here that raids can be made only on homes where dry law convictions have been made previously. It is said the government will take an appeal.

FALL FROM HIS HORSE CAUSED DEATH CISCOAN

Oscar Harrison, 19 years of age and brother of W. H. Harrison of the Domestic Oil Co., died at a local hospital Wednesday evening near 8 o'clock. The body was conveyed to Sidney, Comanche county, where burial took place at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The funeral was conducted at the grave by Rev. T. E. Bowman, pastor of the First Methodist church of Cisco, who accompanied the remains to that place.

Deceased was internally injured by a fall from a horse about three weeks ago, and was treated at a local hospital, and later dismissed as practically cured. The attending physician stated that deceased resumed horse-back riding, and suffered another accident which resulted in a severe hemorrhage of the nose. He was again taken to the hospital, but his injuries were of such a serious nature that his death occurred Wednesday.

COMMUNISTS OPEN SEASON IN BULGARIA

LONDON, April 24.—This is open season for communists in Bulgaria, according to a member of the English parliament who left Sofia Monday. It is believed six thousand have been arrested. Many were executed outside the city. Some being shot without a trial, and others were granted merely summary hearings, according to reports. It is said those shot were tortured beforehand, their bare feet being beaten with sticks. Volleys of the firing squad was heard all day long near the military barracks in Sofia, where the communists were being tried for their part in the cathedral bombing. As soon as convicted the communists were taken into the court yard and executed, according to dispatches from there. King Boris is said to be a prisoner in the royal palace.

NEW SUPREME COURT TO TRY W. O. W. CASE

AUSTIN, April 24.—Because all members of the Texas supreme court are members of the Woodmen of the World, a new special court was appointed today to try the suit of that lodge against Mrs. Bessie Davis. She gained a judgment of one thousand dollars on an insurance policy, which judgment was affirmed by the court of appeals. The lodge is now asking for a writ of error of supreme court. T. H. McGregor of Austin is named chief justice.

MON-TEX GAS PLANT TEST IS SATISFACTORY

RISING STAR, April 24.—H. C. Gracie, manager of the Mon-Tex Operating corporation, who have recently completed a new gasoline plant on the Potec lease a few miles east of Rising Star, was in the city yesterday and stated that a test run of plant was being made this week and the plant showed to be in good shape and with a few adjustments and replacements that his people would be ready to put the plant in daily operation. Mr. Gracie stated that he was well pleased with the gasoline content of the gas and that the product of the plant was satisfactory in every particular.

Mr. Gracie stated that the Goss No. 3, being drilled by his company, is now shut down for water at 2500 feet, and that locations are now being made and contracts let for several more wells in the vicinity of the Mon-Tex plant, in fact, he stated that it was the purpose of his company to develop the field fully. As evidence that this territory is attractive it is pointed out that the Humble and other big companies now have men in the field getting every available lease. In addition to their other activities the Mon-Tex company has recently acquired the gas franchise for the city of Comanche and have pipe on the ground for laying the gas line from their property to that city. They are under contract to deliver gas in Comanche by October 1.

AUSTIN, April 24.—Checks for $42,078.78 for University of Texas oil royalty, recently returned to the company for signature, have been received by J. T. Robinson, land commissioner, properly signed, he announced today. These funds will be sent to the state treasurer designated to the available university fund, Mr. Robinson said. This royalty payment will bring to a total $96,455.78, funds applied to the available fund since the new law went into effect.

ATHLETICS OF THE MIND

Mere instruction is not education. It is something outside. Education is something that is going on inside.

It is no surprise, then, to educators like Dean West of Princeton that with the kindergarten methods in vogue in this country for boys and girls, as they go on, to be astonished by the fact that study is not a form of play, but a form of work.

There is such a thing as athletics of the mind. It is known that it has the same effect on man's development mentally that athletics have on the human body, giving poise, control, readiness, growth, strength and skill.

Says Dean West of Princeton: "You know that today a boy may commonly drop any study at the end of any year in our schools. How is he to get continuity of effort? How is he to master anything under such quick lunch procedure? You cannot train men that way, and, unless training of our boys and girls is going to turn them into men and women, and not boys' minds and men's bodies, and girls' minds in women's bodies, how are we going to get the best basis for a sound construction either in business, politics or education? It cannot be done; the thing is not there."

It may humiliate us to think that in this vast republic, with all its wealth and resources, and its need for the best-trained minds, our public and private education is not in a good condition; but such, Dean West assures us, is the case.

There may be some good reason for permitting traveling carnival companies to settle down in a city for a week, operate gambling games and collect all the loose change before hiking to another municipality, but we fail to grasp it. Yet a state law makes it difficult to handle these aggregations.

JAPANESE REVOLUTION

The Japanese revolution which began more than half a century ago nears completion. Autocracy steps down. Democracy wins. After a bitter struggle in parliament, in which a liberal cabinet was deadlocked with the reactionary house of peers, the "manhood suffrage" bill has passed.

Women are still political ciphers, but otherwise the franchise in Japan will now be almost as free as in America. All men over 25 can vote, without property qualification, provided they are not objects of public or private charity.

This change is momentous for Japan and may be momentous for America. It spreads the vote from less than 200,000 to more than 10,000,000. The ruling class so far has been, on the whole, friendly to America. There is no telling what the attitude may be when the government is subject directly to the will of a populace which, while kindly, courteous and intelligent, is intensely patriotic and highly emotional.

Von Hindenburg, candidate for president of Germany, is finding that, whatever war may be, politics is hell. The election is set for Sunday and "Hindy" will very likely be among the also rans.

THE DISARMAMENT SNAG

The American proposal for a new disarmament conference, as yet unofficial, has struck a snag. It is a French snag. The other powers are favorably inclined, but France doesn't want to take part in any disarmament proceedings until she obtains satisfactory security against Germany.

In theory, this position is perfectly defensible. In practice, it isn't water-tight, because France has a very critical taste in security arrangements and upsets them one after another.

There is a German proposal now up to France which looks good to most of the British and American judges. Germany would accept her present territorial status, with slight reservations as regards Poland, and give assurance that she would not resort to arms again for territory, but as a responsible member of the League of Nations would work with the allies for the peace of Europe.

The position of the administration in Washington is said to be this: That if France, instead of co-operating in international efforts to reduce armament, thwarts such efforts and continues spending large sums to increase her military strength, then France should be asked to start paying on her debt to this country, on the ground that if she can afford the one, she can afford the other.

On the other hand, Uncle Sam would be inclined to leniency with a debtor that co-operates sincerely for disarmament and peace. French jingoes may call this "coercion," but it seems entirely legitimate, and is meant for the welfare of the world, including France herself.

Philip Pettit has developed into such a powerful "after dinner" speaker that one wonders what he could do in the speech line before loading up on good Methodist food.

PRESERVING A VOICE

Bernard Shaw's voice is to be preserved for posterity on a phonograph record for the British Museum. The world is interested more in Shaw's pen than his voice, yet an author is not really known until his voice is heard. And Shaw's voice is said to be an especially pleasing one. He made such a hit recently with the beauty of his speech when he broadcast a short play by radio, that he was urged to let the gramophone people make a record of him.

Shaw is Irish, and it has been said by language experts that the speech of a cultivated Irishman today is perhaps the nearest approach in living language to the pronunciation of Shakespeare's time.

That suggests an appropriate performance for Shaw. Let him recite for a memorial record some fine passage from Shakespeare—whom Shaw has sometimes designed to regard as a worthy rival.

Boys' Week begins April 27, and ought to end April 26 next year—just in time to begin another one.

WHAT IS INTOXICATION?

An accurate, scientific definition of intoxication seems to be greatly desired in Ontario, Canada, where 4.4 per cent beer is about to be made available to the public. One writer asserts that there is an earlier stage of alcoholic influence which is comparatively harmless, being marked chiefly by "a brisk flow of ideas, increased freedom of speech and action and greater self-confidence, with a sense of well-being." The next stages lead by rapid processes to drunkenness.

An opponent of the 4.4 per cent beer points out that such arguing misses the point, which is that there is no way to drunkenness except through the earlier stages. He says the danger of the particular per cent beer in question is that if it does not produce the whole desired effect stronger beverages will be sought, and the bootlegger won't have been put out of business at all.

Americans interested in the restoration of light wines and beer will also have these problems to face.

Irish brawls. The Irish situation is misunderstood.

"A tourist in Ireland heard two peasants talking at a railway station."

"I'm after bein' over to Kilpatrick," said the first peasant.

"And I," said the second, "am after bein' over to Kilmurry."

The murdering villains thought the tourist, and he trembled and turned pale.

"Where be ye goin' now?" the first peasant continued.

"I be goin' home to Willmore," said the second.

"Kilmurry, is it?" said the first peasant. "Faith, boy, ye'd better be comin' wid me to Kilumall."

"The tourist dashed into the station and changed his Dublin ticket for a London one. No more Ireland for him. He didn't know, you see that the little Irish word 'kil' simply means 'church.'"

"Do you have very good caddy-ing up here in the winter?" said a visitor to a remote Scottish course to his caddy. "Naw, sir. Verra seldom," he replied. "Fer if isna frost, it's rain, and if it isna rain it's wind."

"But supposing it's a fine day," said the golfer.

"Then it's generally the Saw-beth," was the gloomy reply.

MOTHERS

The fairest flowers bloom and die Somewhere beneath the great blue sky, Unnoted by a mortal eye— And yet they do not bloom in vain.

The fragrance floats upon the air, Their beauty adds its humble share In making all of nature fair— 'Tis true: they have not lived in vain.

Some saints have passed scarce known on earth Beyond the circle of their hearth, Tho' full of faith, and love, and worth— Ah! tell me, did they live in vain?

They suffered more than others knew, They toiled as only mothers do, Still with this noble end in view: The welfare of the ones they loved.

And God who gave their being sway, Beheld in love their lowly way, Crowning the labor of their day— Then sure, they did not live in vain.

Whatever to the world we mean Of service, strength, or living clean, Your life still in our life is seen— Praise God! you have not lived in vain.

MAN HIJACKED ON STREETS OF EASTLAND CITY

Not since the days when the big gushers were in flower in the Eastland county oil fields has there been many cases of hijacking in the cities of Eastland county.

During that hectic period it was not rare that some wayfarer was held up and relieved of his wad, but it was generally supposed that this lawless element had sought other climes with the advent of law enforcement officers. It seems that at least two remained, or have returned, for it is reported from Eastland that R. M. Bridges was held up on North Seaman street in Eastland Tuesday night at an early hour.

In this instance the hijackers were a couple of negro women, who proceeded to relieve Bridges of his purse in true oil field hijacking style. They allowed him to pass between them, and closing in on each side, presented a six gun in his ribs while they rifled his pockets of $190 in bills carried in his shirt pocket. As they fled he grabbed one of the blacks who escaped by leaving a part of the collar to her dress. A negro woman by the name of Lottie Anderson is being held by the officers for investigation.

SURGEONS TAKE TWO FINGERS OF J. C. DAVENPORT

J. C. (Red) Davenport, who was severely burned March 18 while working on the high line of the West Texas Utilities Co., is recovering from his injuries nicely, though two of his fingers on his right hand had to be amputated. The two middle fingers were removed Tuesday, and the attending physician stated he was doing nicely. For some time it was thought probable that the little finger would have to be removed also, and for this reason, the surgeon stated, the operation was delayed. However, the little finger was saved, and the burn on his hand as well as the place on the shoulder, is healing nicely, and with the exception of the loss of two fingers Red will be as good as ever in a short while, and will still live after having a shot of 13,000 volts of electricity into his body.

LOBOES-ROTAN BOTH PLAYED AIRTIGHT BALL

For twelve thrilling innings the Cisco Loboes battled the Rotan Yellow Hammers Wednesday at Rotan, the game ending tied 4-4. 'Twas a pitching duel between Jack Phippen of Cisco, and the famed Underhill of Rotan. Both teams accorded their pitchers splendid support except on a few occasions, and the Rotan folk were treated to the greatest athletic exhibition they had seen in many a day. Both pitchers went the full route and were going strong at the finish when darkness forced the calling of the game.

Underhill is undoubtedly one of the greatest high school pitchers in Texas. Recently he beat the Abilene Eagles, score 11-1 and held them hitless. Later he repeated by defeating the Eagles 9-1 and has been going like wildfire through the teams in that part of the state. That he is some pitcher is evidenced by the fact that he struck out eighteen Loboes. However the local lads garnered nine hits off him and hit him in the pinches when hits meant runs.

Phippen himself turned in great. He struck out only seven men but he held Rotan to five hits and kept them scattered. In the pinches he was airtight and had it not been for two costly errors and one wild pitch on the part of his team mates, he would have scored a win. This was the first game Jack has gone the route, but he looked like a veteran throughout the twelve innings.

Until the seventh inning the Loboes had the game sewed up. In this inning Chigger Browne let one get through his legs and then threw wild to Alsbrook. Pinkie in turn made a wild heave to home plate where Qualls was supposed to be but wasn't, and Rotan tied the score. In the next inning B. Pippin garbled what should have been a cinch double play, and Rotan managed to put over another pair of tallies.

In the Loboes' half of the eighth, with two men down, J. Pippin got on. Qualls advanced him to second with a Texas leaguer, and Alsbrook came up and tripled, scoring both men ahead of him. Later Alsbrook was thrown out, and caught coming home. The decision was close. Had he scored the Loboes would have had the game on ice. For the three extra innings each team settling down to steady baseball and neither team could put over the winning run.

Besides Alsbrook, Yeager and Qualls were the batting heroes. Yeager got a double and a single and Qualls got a triple and a single. Jobe, who has been hitting well, failed to register, striking out three times and getting hit by the pitcher on five trips to the plate. McCrea played a beautiful fielding game at short stop and made quite a name for himself at both Hamlin and Rotan.

Onstatt was the hitter for Rotan. He got three hits, one of them a two bagger. No other Rotan player got more than one hit. Underhill walked one man and hit Jobe twice. Phippen walked six men and hit one man.

This trip gave the Loboes needed experience, and proved that Chapman has two pitchers capable of going the full route. Petty, who in the past, thought he was good only for five innings, went the full nine at Hamlin and was going stronger than ever when the game ended.

Coach Chapman stated that an effort will be made to secure Rotan for a return game here, or a three game series to determine the sectional title if the fans want the games. Rotan has made a clean sweep in their part of the state dropping one game to Hamlin but later coming back and drubbing the Hamlinites. With Underhill in the box they are a wonderful team and no one can prophesy the outcome of a game between them and Cisco. They offer the best opportunity for a red hot series. However Chapman wants an expression from the fans before matching the series here.

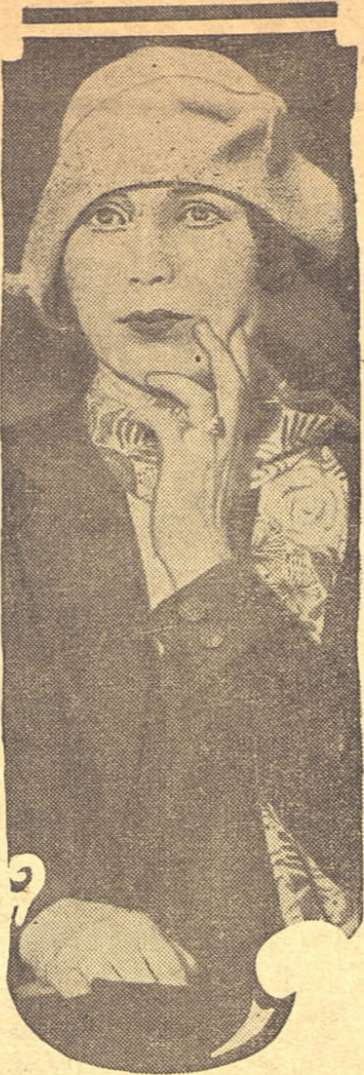

Rotan wants the game there and the Loboes will probably have to meet them again before they can establish a valid claim to the sectional title.

RATTLER SEEN WHEN WITHIN 3 FEET OF BABY

Rattle snakes seem to have a fondness for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Herron. Sunday afternoon, while the baby of this couple was taking its afternoon nap on a pallet on the sleeping porch, Mrs. Herron, in the nick of time, saw a big three foot rattler crawling toward the baby's sleeping pallet. The screen door was partially ajar, and the reptile had crawled in through the open door. The rattler was dispatched by Mrs. Herron with a floor mop when within three feet of the sleeping child.

Sunday afternoon a second rattler was seen to poke its head above the floor of the Herron home, but this fellow made his escape. No. It's not burglars that disturb the slumbers of this household, but rattlers, and Bob and Mrs. Herron are keeping a sharp lookout for the second rattler, who is evidently seeking its mate. Mr. and Mrs. Herron reside on West Tenth street.

VICIOUS BULL DOG ATTACKS GUY M'CANLIES

Guy, the little ten-year-old son of Shelby McCanlies, who resides 3 miles southwest of Cisco, was attacked and rather severely bitten by a vicious dog belonging to Fred Rutledge, a neighbor, late Tuesday afternoon. Guy had gone to the Rutledge home to return a book that had been borrowed, and one of the Rutledge boys held the dog until he thought Guy was at a safe distance. However, when released the animal pursued Guy and sank her fangs into his shoulder, and her teeth scratched the boy's face. The wounds on the face are not serious, though the attending physician stated the teeth penetrated the shoulder very deep. Rutledge came in and requested Dr. Lee to look after the injured boy, taking care of the expense himself. Dr. Lee stated this is the second time this animal has bitten one of the McCanlies children, but it was one of the others who was attacked on a previous occasion.

Guy is resting easy, and no danger is anticipated, as it was not thought the animal was infected with rabies, as the viciousness exhibited by the dog was caused by the fact that she had some young puppies in her kennel at the time, and the strange boy on the premises infuriated her. But no information has been received that the animal has been killed.

BUFFALO MEAT BARBECUED AT RISING STAR

Real buffalo meat will be barbecued and served tonight in preparation for the big rodeo to be staged in Rising Star Saturday. Hackberry Slim, noted rodeo man is staging the rodeo under the auspices of the Rising Star chamber of Commerce. He will slaughter one of the buffalo of his famous herd to provide the delicacy for the feast.

Rising Star is preparing to entertain record crowds Saturday and the chamber of commerce has arranged for one of the best rodeo programs ever seen. The wild buffalo of Hackberry Slim's herd will furnish many a thrill for the spectators. Slim is himself one of the greatest riders and bull doggers ever seen in action. In addition to his own work he has secured a rare group of riders to assist him in the program. Lady riders will also feature the exhibition. Miss Louise Hardwicke of Fort Worth, will ride wild steers and the Seale sisters of Baird, will perform.

Numerous people of Cisco and surrounding territory are preparing to go to Rising Star for the event. The Rising Star chamber of commerce is one of the liveliest chambers anywhere, and undoubtedly the most enterprising organization of its kind in any town anything like the size of Rising Star. This rodeo is a great feat for them to put over, but those who know Rising Star have no doubt but that the event will go over in grand style.

C. & N. E. FREIGHT BUSINESS SHOWS NICE INCREASE

BRECKENRIDGE, April 24.—"Freight business for the C. & N. E. railway for the past two months has improved about twenty percent over the preceding two months," Freight Agent Glen Thompson reports. This increase, he says, is not in any one commodity but in business in general, and shows that the prosperity of the road is increasing.

Thompson says that with the building of the cotton platform by the Cisco and North Eastern railroad, he looks for an increase in the relative amount of cotton brought into Breckenridge, provided cotton buyers establish headquarters here. Last year two thousand bales were shipped from Breckenridge, he said.

ED LEWIS TO TRY COME BACK

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form With the Assistance of Black-Draught.

West Graham, Va.—The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, now past 80, living here, has a high opinion of Black-Draught, which he says he has taken when needed, for 25 years.

"For years I had been suffering with my liver," he says. "Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief."

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot of trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headache, caused from extreme biliousness."

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver. NC-166
