Big Rally Day at First Methodist

Next Sunday, September 20th, will be the big rally day at the First Methodist Church in Cisco, in Sunday School, preaching services and the Epworth Leagues. Rally Day programs will be held in Sunday School departments. The morning preaching service by the pastor Rev. H. D. Tucker will have for the subject, "The Heart-Breaking Look." This will begin at 10:30 a. m. The subject for the evening sermon will be, "Fence Straddlers." There will be splendid musical programs at all services. All members and the public at large are most cordially invited to be present next Sunday at these services.

E. H. Parker, night operator at the union station reports an unwelcome and unannounced visitor at his home Wednesday night. He says that on getting up Thursday morning and reaching for his trousers he discovered his bill fold lying open on top of them and three one dollar bills strewn on the floor. These the visitor had evidently dropped in a hasty departure. A $10 bill which Mr. Parker had in his bill fold was missing. Nothing else in the room appeared to have been bothered. A screen pryed loose showed the thief's means of entrance to the room.

BAPTIST W. M. S. MEETS WITH MRS. BURNETT

Circle 6 of the Baptist W. M. S. held its last meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Burnett. Mrs. Kunkle is president. At this time examination was taken in mission study, and the book, "From Over the Border," was discussed. At the conclusion of the meeting ice cream and banana cake were served to 18 members and guests.

The meeting this week was postponed from Tuesday afternoon to Wednesday on account of the Baptist Workers' Conference which was held on Tuesday near Ranger, which some of the members desired to attend.

Car Accident Takes One Life; Others Hurt

A very deplorable car accident occurred on highway No. 23 about twelve miles north of Cisco, near the Charlie McClelland place last Saturday evening, which took the life of one person and badly injured three others. It is thought the car which contained Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McIlroy and their two daughters, enroute to Albany, struck a pile of the chat beside the road being used in the present highway improvement. The machine jumped into the ditch beside the road and overturned. Mrs. McIlroy had a crushed skull and shoulder, and many other bruises beside internal injuries. She died at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Both the young ladies suffered fractured skulls and one a fractured shoulder, beside a number of other injuries. Mr. McIlroy was also painfully injured.

The party lived at Stephenville and were enroute to Albany, where it was said that one of the young ladies had a position in the high school.

L. E. Depew of the Lone Star Gas Co., and Charlie McClelland were the first to reach the scene of the accident. Mr. Depew gave some first aid treatment, and phoned here for ambulance for the accident victims, and they were rushed to the Graham sanitarium for treatment.

The body of Mrs. McIlroy was sent back to Stephenville for burial, which took place there Sunday afternoon.

Highway Topping Materials Arrive

Asphalt topping materials and equipment for handling same to place on highway No. 23 out of Cisco north arrived this week, and additional crews have been put on to push this work along at the fastest possible rate. The work is being done by the Jago Construction Co. of Denton. They have been busy spreading the crushed rock on the road and making it ready for the topping for the past few weeks, and it will not be very long now before this stretch of pavement will be completed to the Shackelford county line.

Death of J. M. Ray

J. M. Ray, another old-timer in this section, died suddenly at his home, about 8 miles north of Cisco, at about 8:00 o'clock this morning, at the age of 76 years.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Church of Christ, Eight Street and Avenue H, conducted by the Rev. Cole Jackson of Moran. Interment will be made in Oakwood Cemetery.

Announcement is made that Hon. Oscar Callaway will speak tonight at Rucker, Texas, at 8:00 o'clock, his subject being, "Present Conditions, Cause and Remedy," "The Cotton Proposition," and "The Peddlers Tax Law." It is stated that other speakers will also be present. The speaking will be held in the open air, and everyone is invited.

Among those from Cisco to attend the Baptist Workers' Conference at Merriman, near Ranger, Tuesday were: Rev. E. S. James and family; Rev. and Mrs. Blair, and Mrs. Lige Burnam, and D. D. Lewis and daughter, Miss Artie.

Cotton Pickers Are Now In Demand

It would seem that the depression which has thrown its thousands out of work the country over, that it would not be difficult to secure cotton pickers, even at the low price level paid for that service. But "Do you know where I can get some cotton pickers?" seems to be a rather popular question just now.

Commissioner J. T. Elliott was around yesterday in search of two families which were wanted for this purpose out near Loraine, Texas. A friend there had sent him word requesting such help. Most every daily paper one picks up now contains an article asking for cotton pickers. Fifty cents per hundred seems to be a top price paid for picking, which of course would not insure the picker much accumulated wealth from his work—but it would insure him eating regularly, and that is more than many are doing just now over the country.

R. L. Robinson, who is in charge of the Dallas cotton picking office of the United States employment bureau issued a statement Wednesday in which he said that the demand for pickers is now considerably more than the supply, and that it is growing. Calls are coming in to him constantly for additional pickers in North Texas, Northwest Texas, and Central Texas, he says.

PARENT-TEACHER ASS'N. TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

We are requested to announce that the Parent-Teacher Association will meet at the South Ward building Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This is the first meeting of the school year, and a full attendance is urged as program and plans for the year's work will be discussed. Several important matters are to come up for consideration at this time.

The P. T. A. has an important work in the community life, and is an organization which commands the interest and full cooperation of all parents.

Final checks from the state banking department were being cheerfully received the past week by depositors in the old Commercial State Bank here. Prior to this at different times, depositors have received dividend checks for a portion of the amount due them, and this one now being received represents the final payment in this matter.

Miss Mildred Yeager of Putnam arrived Thursday to spend the week-end with Mrs. J. R. Burnett.

Mrs. Jasper Daniels and Mrs. J. R. Burnett were visitors in Putnam Tuesday.

Mrs. F. L. Statler of Houston is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jake Almond in Humbletown.

Bond Representatives Investigate Here

C. P. Bullard of New York City; Henry E. Poor of Cincinnati, Ohio; and A. W. Pitkins of Des Moines, Ia., three representatives of a New York committee holding, it is claimed, something like $2,000,000 worth of Cisco municipal bonds, were in Cisco several days this week, studying conditions here, and getting first-hand information as to Cisco's ability to take care of such obligations. Officials and citizens endeavored to show these gentlemen every courtesy and assistance in getting the information which would be of aid to them. They were invited to study the recent audit of Cisco's financial affairs, and study closely the conditions now existing here, and the visitors stated that they were doing so, that being the main object of their visit. They left this morning.

An informal meeting was held with the commission yesterday afternoon at which time the financial problems were discussed, but no tangible proposition was presented. The visitors appeared somewhat disappointed, it was said, with the state of affairs which they found here, and indicated that it would probably be several months before they would be in any position to try to work out a program of settlement.

At a meeting of the commission Monday morning before the arrival of these visitors, several local attorneys were present, and some very enlightening remarks were made in talks by B. W. Patterson, D. K. Scott and Eugene Lankford. The main idea which was agreed upon by all these speakers was that our town need not feel called upon to rush into a settlement of any kind which it does not feel is one that is reasonable and right, and one that can be met by our people. They called attention of the commission to the fact that those holding paper against this city can hardly place our town in a worse predicament than it is already in, and that it is not within the range of human possibility for our city to ever pay the amounts which are now being held against it. Since this is true, they advised the commission to "sit steady" and let the bondholders work out their problems among themselves. If they get together and make a proposition that our city can see is one that can be met, then we should certainly show our willingness as a city to do our part.

But since there is among the outstanding bonds quite an amount which the voters of Cisco did not even know existed at the time they were made, the voters, from whose pockets the taxes must come, should certainly step slowly and carefully in making disposition of such claimed indebtedness.

The visiting bondholders representatives appeared to realize after making their investigations that any settlement on the basis of refinancing proposition would be impractical.

Legal opinions seem agreed that the bondholders cannot throw the city into receivership of their own accord. A move of that kind must be made by the city commission voluntarily. Our leading legal talent here, who have their own private interests here, and who are deeply interested in the welfare of our city urge against any such voluntary action.

It is not known what course the bondholders representatives

Charges Made Against Police Department

At the regular meeting of the city commission Monday some investigation was made of charges of incompetency and neglect on the part of the police department.

Police Commissioner Donovan asked for hearing of the charges to be heard before the city commission. C. D. Phillips appeared and after being sworn, gave testimony of the result of a little tour of investigation he had made as to the vice conditions in the city. He stated that in an hour and fifteen minutes of time he found several places where beer and other like drinks could be secured, and that other vices were also plentiful. He charged that the police department was not doing their duty in trying to clean the city of such vices, which were dangerous for the young people living here.

Chief of Police Miller made defense of these charges, stating that conditions here are no worse than elsewhere, and that the department made many raids in connection with such things that were not of public knowledge. He stated that such matters were very hard to handle, due to the attitude taken by county, state and federal authorities on the making of beer in one's home, which made it easily possible for the sale of such in many places. He expressed the belief that sentiment and charges made against the police was in the main from some who desired to get on the force themselves, or from those who were seeking revenge because of dismissal from the force.

Mr. Phillips replied by saying that he had a job which he had held here for the past 12 years, and that he had no desire to get on the force. That his action was for nothing more than a desire for better moral conditions in the city, and he had no feelings against Mr. Miller in the matter.

Mr. Miller declared that he and his department were doing their best to enforce the law, and that they stood ready to make investigations and raids wherever and whenever there seemed occasion for such. Some rather warm discussion on both sides characterized the meeting.

HUMBLE BRIDGE CLUB WITH MRS. J. ALMOND

The home of Mrs. Jake Almond was an attractive setting for an enjoyable occasion Wednesday afternoon when the Humble Bridge Club was entertained by her.

The pretty color scheme of green and yellow was very effectively featured in cut flowers and prize packages and were featured in dainty salad courses served.

High score prize went to Mrs. Reggie Henderson, and low to Mrs. T. M. Quinn.

Members of the club present were: Mesdames F. D. McMahon, M. L. McGannon, Bob Carthwell, Pete Booth, W. C. McDaniel, W. J. Armstrong, W. K. Esgen, and Henderson. Guests of the club were: Mesdames F. E. Moore, Quinn, and F. L. Statler of Houston.

will now try to take with reference to Cisco. But it would seem wise as far as our town is concerned to take the advice of these lawyers who have the interests of Cisco at heart, when they say, "sit steady in the boat and let the bondholders work out THEIR financial problems among themselves."

Bores We Have Met

There are many and varied bores that we meet, in business, at home, on the street. There's the bore who carries the chronic grouch, there's the bore who glories in being a slouch, there's the bore who knocks on his own home town, there's the bore who "jews" every merchant down, there's the bore who keeps his jaws in continual motion, there's the bore who imposes his every notion about everything from Congress to the brands of beers on a busy long suffering public's ears. There's the bore who carries a joke too far, there's one who tries to tell you all about the late war, there's the bore who forever laughs at his own jokes that somehow don't seem to amuse the poor blokes who have to listen. There's the bore who comes and stays and stays and stays till you think he'll stay always. There's the bore who forever wants to "borrow a five," there's the one who is always late to arrive. There's the bore who always asks you to repeat everything you utter—he's hard to beat. There's the one who says, "Well, did you ever?" as his chief comment on any subject whatever. There's the bore whose brains, like the algebraic x, is an unknown quantity—you'll find 'em in either sex; this specie has "the only correct view" there is on anything—tell them something? Gee whiz! You might as well try so impart information to the Egyptian sphinx, their self-inflation will let them listen about as much. We could name a hundred other such bores as these we mention here. But there's one you meet about this time of year who is really the champion bore of all far and near; his daily greeting as he heaves into view is, "Boy, is it hot enough for you?" When I'm so hot I'm about to expire, and I feel like I am sitting right by a big fire, I want to commit murder in the first degree when some guy waddles up to me and asks, "Is it hot enough for you?"

It Might Work

Down in Houston, Texas, a man has discovered that danger signs are based on the wrong psychology. He says tell a man to stop, look and listen and he is impelled to do none of the three. He suggests for railroad crossings: "Come ahead. You're unimportant." "Try our engines. They satisfy." "Don't stop. Nobody will miss you." Take a chance. You will likely get run over only once."

Denton Finds That Municipal Plant Pays

A reduction in the city tax rate of twelve and a half per cent—from $2.00 to $1.75 on the $100 valuation, was ordered by the Denton city commission in June, the reduction being made possible by profits of the municipal light plant and water works. Plant profits will be used to supplement the city's general fund, for which only a small tax was levied.

The $2.00 tax rate includes school taxes also. In the rate is a levy of 67 cents for school maintenance and a total of 32 cents for school bond sinking fund, making the tax for school purposes 99 cents. The rate also includes 34 cents for sinking funds for the city bond issues outstanding, leaving the levy for general expenses, street and parks only 42 cents. This is distributed as follows, street and bridge fund 30 cents, park fund 4 cents and general fund 8 cents.

Free street lighting and water service enable the park board to operate at a minimum of expense and maintain city parks in excellent condition. Free light and water service to city schools also make possible a lower rate for school maintenance.

It is estimated that at least $25,000 or $30,000 a year will be required of the water and light fund under the new tax rate, but officials are confident that the plant will have a surplus of more than that amount. In addition to this liability, the Denton plant is setting aside a minimum of $2,000 each month in a permanent improvement fund.

Much credit for the low tax rate under which Denton has operated in the past is due the light and water fund, which has transferred large sums each year to other departments. The new tax rate was levied on a total rendition of the same as last year.

The Denton plant is free of indebtedness, having been paid for out of plant earnings with the exception of a $25,000 bond issue voted for its purchase in 1905.

As a result of operating its light and water plant successfully, Denton provides free sewer service for its citizens, paying the expense of sewer maintenance and extensions out of water and light profits.

Typewriter Farming

We are not smart enough to offer a solution for the cotton over-production problem. But we have very serious doubts about any legislation which will bring about much benefit. A lot of the farmers are "fed up" on the promiscuous advice passed out to the farmer telling him how to run his business, and it would probably take an army of officers to see that legislation is enforced, calling for more expense, forcing the farmer to dig up more taxes to pay the bill. And any legislative acreage reduction in this state would not keep other states from taking advantage of it and increasing their acreage. It is easy to create more bureaus at Austin to spend more tax money, but it isn't half so easy to legislate prosperity. The Dallas News commenting along this line says: "If children could vote perhaps we would call the legislature together to enact guarantees that Santa Claus will redouble his efforts next Christmas."

"The theory that when nobody else knows what to do the legislature must do something at once is growing in Texas. In Oklahoma the prevailing idea is that Governor Alfalfa Bill knows, and hence no special session is required, but in Texas gubernatorial modesty is equal to gubernatorial uncertainty. Texas politics knows only that we have an emergency; emergency suggests the emergency clause, and the emergency clause suggests a long enactment for the emergency clause to be tacked on to—hence the necessity of a legislature to provide the enactment. "Of course no-cotton year has got to be a big onion year, alfalfa year, sand bur year, or some other kind of a year, and the legislature is asked in its wisdom to dictate the kind of farming for Texas for a year. Typewriter farming with deputy sheriffs to enforce it does not cease to be typewriter farming merely because legislative stenographers do the typewriting, and the lawyers, merchants, doctors, preachers, and insurance salesmen who are in the legislature do the dictating. Hadn't we better send for Comrade Stalin and be done with it? He would soon "liquidate" the surplus population and dictate to the remainder what they should raise, if they desired food."

He Wasn't a Lawyer

"We don't care what you think, we want to know what you know," shouted the lawyer.

"Well, I may as well get off the stand then," replied the witness, "I can't talk without thinking, I ain't no lawyer."

Eastland County Free Fair To Be September 23-26

The Eastland County Free Fair will be held at Eastland September 23, 24, and 25, and 26, according to an announcement made this week by J. C. Patterson, county agent. A number of interesting features in addition to the regular agricultural exhibits are promised. Indications for the agricultural exhibits are that prospects are for the best materials ever put on exhibit in this county, in spite of dry weather. Only in the fruit exhibits will there be noticeable shortage, according to Mr. Patterson.

Catalogs for the fair will be available for all who are interested. The Ranger Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of an hour's program of entertainment on the opening night and the Cisco Chamber of Commerce will put on a program the last night. Regular attractions will be the community chorus contests, community one-act play contest, fiddlers contest, and other events.

The concessions on the midway will be conducted each evening by various civic organizations and service clubs of Eastland. Patronage of the midway will supply money for the expenses of the fair.

Mr. Patterson advises farmers who intend to bring exhibits to use care in the selection of them, the selection to take in the field.

To Prospective Students Of Randolph College

Dean E. B. Isaacks of Randolph College issues the following statement to prospective students of that institution the coming year:

"More students from Cisco are planning to attend Randolph this year than ever before. Many of you do not realize the importance of planning your schedule so as to meet future requirements. Our requirements are made with the idea that students when they finish here may enter any college or university without loss of credit, but most all colleges have their particular requirements, and it behooves you to study the catalogue of the college you desire to attend after finishing here and build your course here to fit you for it. That is only reasonable and would be necessary even if you spent your freshman and sophomore year in the college where you expect to get your degree. All instances in recent years, where students have lost credits when they have transferred from Randolph have been when the student did not plan his course to fit the requirements of the senior college. A. & M. college is the only college in Texas that I know of which will not accept credits in Bible, yet we had a student take Bible with us who did not know the requirements of A. & M. until he finished here and transferred his credits. He lost his Bible credits, but he had nothing except his own lack of foresight to blame for his loss.

"I am stating the above to warn you so that you will take time to plan your course intelligently. I am out here waiting to help you. Let me suggest three things:

"First, mail me your high school credits today, in order that I may check it before you come out. I understand your high school principal placed in your diploma this transcript of credits and gave it to you when you graduated. If you have lost it, it will be necessary for you to secure another one as no one can enroll without an official transcript of his high school credits.

"Second, come our Friday or Saturday morning before the rush of enrollment and let me help you plan your schedule. I have catalogues of most of the colleges of the state and we can check your requirements and enroll you for the subjects you will need later. I will be too busy next week to go into detail with you about these things.

"Third, enroll Monday instead of waiting till Tuesday. Tuesday is regular enrollment date, but the schedule will be ready Monday, and I will be out ready to enroll anyone desiring to matriculate then. We will have more time and you can get more help."
