

GARVAN DEMANDS HARDING CLEAN HIM
Writes to President That He Has Been Grossly Misled by Daugherty.

New York.—Flatly refusing to return to the United States government a single chemical patent right owned by the Chemical Foundation, Inc., of which he is president, Francis P. Garvan, in a spirited and energetic letter to President Harding, asserted that the President, "grossly misled by the attorney-general," is, for the first time in American history, attempting to abrogate a solemn Executive order of a predecessor, and is acting, moreover, on information "furnished by German agents and interpreted by lawyers whose sole knowledge of the war and its lessons is derived from association with German clients."

Absolutely loyal in the sale of 4,700 and odd former German patents to the Foundation, and complete publicity in the organization and operation of this quasi-public institution, together with the highest of ethical motives, are earnestly maintained by Mr. Garvan in his communication, and he asserts with emphasis that no person connected with the Foundation has ever made a dollar out of it or ever could, so under its charter and by-laws, himself least of all; he fortifies that statement with figures which show that the capital of the institution consisted of $428,000, all of which has been spent in the purchase of the patents and in educating the people through schools and colleges and in the encouragement of chemical societies, and says that the Foundation income from licenses barely meets the modest running expenses.

All of these financial details have long been available, Mr. Garvan reminds President Harding, and demands that the President ascertain the truth and tell the people whether the Foundation and its head have deserved the abuse they have received.

"Gave All and Got Abuse"
"It has given its all," Mr. Garvan writes. "You can take away nothing but the opportunity of service. It was all we got from the government. It is all we have."

"Mr. President, you have had the temerity to impugn the honor of the gentlemen who bear a part in the great work of building up or preserving the possibility of progress in organic chemistry for America. You have again been misled as to the nature of the trust we bore. That trust was not for the German Kaiser, the owner of practically all the important patents, who had received them under the unthinking graciousness of laws they had induced. That trust was for the American people, their industrial independence and for the safety and health of their children and their children's children."

At the outset of his letter Mr. Garvan states that he has forwarded to the Alien Property Custodian the Chemical Foundation's formal answer to his demand, an answer "as an American corporation ready at all times to defend its rights in the courts, but that the public in whose interests the Foundation was organized, is entitled to be fully informed as to the circumstances under which the demand was made and the reason why it is unqualifiedly refused. The demand itself, Mr. Garvan asserts, together with the letter written by the President and the statement made by Attorney-General Daugherty, "demonstrate that you, Mr. President, have been grossly misled by the attorney-general, both as to the law and the facts of the case."

Eliminating "Enemy Interest"
Thereupon Mr. Garvan contends (1) that the attorney-general has listened exclusively to German agents, which is no investigation; (2) that the United States government has no interest in the sale brought by the Foundation to determine the ownership of funds held by the treasury; (3) that when President Wilson authorized the sale of the German patents, neither the President, secretary of state nor alien property custodian was under the law, in the remotest sense a trustee for the German enemies; (4) that specific power to sell the patents was granted by Congress after full committee hearings on November 4, 1918, and on December 3, 1918, President Wilson, vested with power to supervise all sales, authorized Acting Secretary of State Frank L. Polk to approve the sale of the German chemical and other patents; (5) that on February 20, 1919, Polk ordered the sale in the public interest, noting that public sale was not in the best interests of the public because it would offer opportunity for the patents to get into the hands of speculators and monopolists, and that the Chemical Foundation, obligated to grant non-exclusive licenses, was the best means for "eliminating alien interests hostile to American industries and of the advancement of chemical and allied industries in the United States"; (6) that President Wilson, returning from abroad, confirmed Polk's order on February 13, 1920, with this comment: "My reasons for the foregoing determination and order are stated in the said orders of Frank L. Polk . . . and in addition thereto, the public interest will be best served by the elimination of any enemy interest adverse to American citizens arising by reason of said choices in action, of rights, interests and benefits under said agreements . . ."

"This sale," Mr. Garvan continues, "was made in the full light of all branches of the government and in the full light of publicity. The idea of its formation was the result of the intimate knowledge of the past use of these patents in a manner hostile to the United States interests, and in full consultation with all of the executives of the government, the experts of our army and navy, and leaders of our chemical business organizations, and the heads of all our scientific and research organizations. PUBLIC SPEAKING

Saturday, Afternoon, Aug. 5

AT 4:30 O'CLOCK

At the request of the friends of James E. Ferguson an address will be made in the interest of his campaign for the United States Senate by

GENIE GRIFFIN DeWOLFE

Who is fully informed as to the issues involved. Mrs. DeWolfe made an active state-wide campaign for Mr. Ferguson four years ago.

Mrs. DeWolfe is a writer and a member of Texas Press, Dallas Pen Women, and League American Pen Women, as well as a wife, mother and business woman.

to accept my present statement of the matter, but insert here an extract from the report of A. Mitchell Palmer, filed with the President February 22, 1919, and by him forwarded to the Congress, and by that Congress made a public document and most widely commented on by the press of the country.

Palmer's Version of It
Mr. Palmer stated in the course of the report referred to by Mr. Garvan: "These patents, as had already been indicated, formed a colossal obstacle to the development of the American dye-stuff industry. Evidently they had not been taken out with any intention of manufacturing in this country or from any fear of American manufacture."

Upon consideration it seemed that these patents offered a possible solution for the problem, hitherto unsolvable, of protecting the new American dye industry against German competition after the war. The idea was accordingly conceived that if the German chemical patents could be placed in the hands of any American institution strong enough to protect them, a real obstacle might be opposed to German importation after the war, and at the same time the American industry might be freed from the prohibition of the patents against the manufacture of the most valuable dyes-stuffs. Accordingly these considerations were laid before various associations of chemical manufacturers, notably the Dye Institute and the American Manufacturing Chemists' Association. The suggestion was met with an instantaneous and enthusiastic approval. The committee organized to acquire by purchase these German patents and to hold them as a trustee for American industry. . . . The first president of the Chemical Foundation was an effort to form an organization to represent as nearly as possible at that time the public interests. Judge Ingraham of New York and Judge Gray of Delaware had charge of drawing out the charter and our trust agreement and our certificate of incorporation. We have endeavored to make it as nearly a public institution as our laws allow, and at the same time to have it an official organization. We wanted to sell these patents to the government, and if there had been any method by which we could make them a working force and still have them owned and controlled by the government, it would have relieved us of a great deal of responsibility, and if there is at this time any suggestion for modification or amendment of our plan which will insure in the minds of the committee a more definite and certain fulfillment of the intention and purposes of our organization I am certain that the Chemical Foundation and all its stockholders and all who are interested in it would be glad to conform to the wishes of the committee because, in so far as we have public recognition and public support and government recognition and government support, we become more efficient and become more able to carry out the intentions which are in our hearts and minds."

Mr. Garvan states that the total or gross income of the Foundation has averaged $148,216.65 per year. The running expenses, bare overhead, have averaged $121,971.35, a net excess of $26,245.30 or 0.49 per cent on the $5,300 invested allowing nothing for depreciation. The average life of the patents is eight years, so that 12.5 per cent of the $271,850 cash paid by the patents, or $33,981 per year should be subtracted from the present net receipts per year, which leaves an actual annual operation deficit of $12,735.70. In educational work Mr. Garvan informs the President, the Foundation has spent $294,017.88, the entire balance of its capital.

Quotes English Prediction
Firmly maintaining that the Foundation is the keystone of the wall raised to protect the American people from German chemical domination, Mr. Garvan maintains such protection is indispensable to the future happiness, health and safety of the American people. . . . quotes from a recent open letter a parliament written by James Moran, largest carpet manufacturer of England, "Organic chemistry is the key to the world of new values, and America in five years' time will have done work and general chemical work equal to Germany."

As regards the development of a dye chemistry for national defense, Mr. Garvan calls to his aid testimony by Marshall Rock and the late Paul Marsial Sir Henry Wilson to the effect that a nation thoroughly equipped chemically may almost guarantee the peace of the future. As regards its importance in the development of medicine he quotes Dr. Julius Stieglitz of the University of Chicago, world famous chemist: "The pitiful calls of our hospitals for local anesthetics to alleviate suffering on the operating table, the frantic appeals for the hypnotic that soothes the epileptic and staves off his seizure, the most furious demands for relief after surgery, all these things are the result of the war, are still ringing in the hearts of many of us. No wonder that our small army of chemists is primarily determined not to give up independence in chemistry which has been forfeited for us! Only a wide, enlightened public, however, can insure the permanence of what far-sighted men have started to accomplish. . . . "where the thoughts which were in the minds of the men who knew the war and its lessons when they formed the Chemical Foundation."

Fatal Nitro-Glycerin Explosion in Pioneer Field--Mangled Bodies Picked Up

THE MOORE WELL PROVES CROSS PLAINS TERRITORY

The Moore well on the Acker land, two miles southeast of Cross Plains, was drilled into the sand about five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and responded with a flow estimated at one hundred barrels by Mr. Moore, owner of the well. This touched the sand about ten days ago and drilling has been held up since, waiting on 5 3-8 inch casing, erection of storage tanks, etc. At this writing it is impossible to say what the well will do, but it is perfectly safe to say that it is a paying well, and has a fine chance of making several hundred to several thousand barrels. It is well lined up with the big production on the Bryson and Eakin tracts, being a little bit north of the Pennant Oil Co. Albin No. 1, and is an extension well to the west that will mean much to the Cross Plains territory. It is the first well to strike the pay in the Pioneer sand in Calahan County, and is the nearest well to Cross Plains. It is about one fourth of a mile south and a little east of the Junior Oil Co. Atwood No. 1, which was shot last week, and is now showing for a small well.

The Reb Lyons et al well, on the S. L. Beard farm, joining W. J. Bryson farm on southwest, is one mile south and a little east.

If this well should make as big a producer as some expect it to make, the territory between Cross Plains and the Pioneer field will get a big play.

Much credit is due O. G. Moor, promoter of the well, for his untiring energy and perseverance in drilling this well.

GALLAWAY FLAYS BLANTON IN SPEECH AT BROWNWOOD

The writer attended a speaking at Brownwood Thursday of last week which created more enthusiasm than anything he has witnessed during the primary election campaigns. Declaring that throughout the present run-off primary campaign for Congress in this district he expects to expose the record of Congressman Blanton, former Congressman Oscar Callaway of Comanche addressed a large audience in the Brownwood county court house in the afternoon of that day. He was introduced by Judge Will J. Scott of Brownwood. Hilton Burks of Comanche announced that after the speaking a Brown county Callaway organization would be perfected and those favorable to the Comanche man were invited to remain and take part in the organization.

Mr. Callaway took up, one at a time various acts of Mr. Blanton, which have been subjected to censure both in Congress and throughout the district and said that he intended to show that the Abilene man had betrayed the confidence of the people, lost the confidence of his fellow-congressman and proven dishonest in his public service. His speech from start to finish was a line up of a most virile assalment of Blanton's political and personal character, and we have but one conclusion—that had Blanton been there with his finished load of the same material there would have been a fight, if the contestants are equally fitted with the proper manhood to represent the people of West Texas.

Mrs. S. C. Lamar and daughter, Gladys, have returned to their home at Big Springs after visiting with D. H. Harpole and family.

The most disastrous accident that has happened in the local oil field occurred at the Texas Company camp about one mile north-east of Pioneer at 11 o'clock last Saturday morning when a large quantity of nitroglycerin exploded in the midst of the shacks and tents that were occupied by the oilfield workers and their families. W. D. Massengale, the nearest victim to the explosion and who was handling the treacherous fluid, was literally blown into fragments. Portions of his body were picked up over an acre of space surrounding the spot where the explosion occurred. Eight others, including women and children, were most seriously injured.

Mistaking the can of nitroglycerin for linseed oil was the cause of the tragedy. Mr. Massengale was a teamster and it is reported that he secured the nitroglycerin from one of the nearest deserted wells of the field, believing the fluid was linseed oil, which he interded using as a saturant on the wheels of his wagon to protect them against the dry weather. He had placed one of the wagon wheels in a pit and was applying the fluid, which is reported he had previously heated on a cook stove, when the disastrous explosion occurred.

All the nearby shacks and tents completely wrecked or damaged and the mangled bodies of the victims were picked up in every direction from the explosion. Fragments of Mr. Massengale's body were still being found and buried late Sunday afternoon.

The names of the eight other persons who were injured, three of whom are not expected to recover, are given as follows: Mrs. W. D. Massengale, wife of the man who was killed instantly, W. N. Fairchilds, Ben Fairchilds, Ida Fairchilds, Lee Roy Fairchilds, Mrs. Laura May Vestals, son of Geo. Davis, and little son of one of the Fairchilds.

The wagon which Massengale was working on was completely demolished. Leaves were stripped from the trees near the scene of the explosion. Pieces of the clothing of the dead man were found hanging in the branches of the trees.

The Methodist church at Pioneer was converted into a hospital for the care of the injured.

OFFICERS CLOSE M'DONOUGH LAKE TO THE PUBLIC

Probably due to the immoral conduct of recent "midnight" visitors, an order came from the District Court the latter part of the past week to close the McDonough Lake as a public swimming pool. According to County Attorney Green and two Texas Rangers closed the gates Saturday afternoon and attached a notice to the gate at the main entrance that the lake was closed by order of the district court.

The lake, with new bath houses and other equipment, was opened to the public early in the summer.

Joe H. Shackelford and family have been on a camping trip with relatives on the Brazos river. It is reported that Mr. Shackelford and five of the other campers were attacked with ptomaine poison and were rushed to Woodson for medical aid. Their condition is not serious.

A Challenge---

The Street of Rented Homes

The longest street in the world is the street of RENTED HOMES.

It is built up of 12 million houses—more than half of the population of the United States.

To rent—is to take the line of least resistance.

Renting is often necessary—because of the family's finances—but not long.

A man who buys a home just as quickly as he can and starts in to pay for it, knows every urge to become the owner of a home, and is better off in having made every RENT-DAY a BUY-YOUR-HOME-DAY, no matter how hard the GOING may have been.

The Street of Rented Homes is a challenge to every RENTER. The time to answer this challenge is NOW—not next year or 5 years from now, BUT NOW.

FORD PARTS CABINETS INSTALLED BY DODSON

The Cross Plains Motor Co., owned by Mr. Dodson who is also Ford agent, is having nine sections of cabinets built this week for the sole purpose of housing Ford parts. The sections, when installed at the garage, will form a complete room. There are 669 apartments or "pigeon holes" in the cabinet and there will be sufficient room to hold all the parts of a Ford automobile in these sections.

Mullings and Whatley of Gorman, are building the sections according to blue prints furnished by the Ford factory.

Bill Pinkston, who was indicted for selling intoxicating liquors by the special session of the grand jury last week, was tried in court at Baird Monday. The trial resulted in a hung jury, there being eleven for acquittal and one for conviction.

MRS. D'WOLFE SPOKE IN INTEREST OF FERGUSON

Mrs. DeWolfe, who was here two weeks ago, as manager of the DeWolfe show, and who has since been with the show at Burkett, returned to Cross Plains last Saturday afternoon and spoke in the interest of James E. Ferguson's campaign for the United States Senate. A large gathering of people assembled in the street in front of the Guaranty State Bank, and after being introduced by Mr. Beauchamp, she delivered an interesting talk that created much enthusiasm, and perhaps some favor for Mr. Ferguson.

Mrs. DeWolfe is an able entertainer and has long been prominently associated with many literary bodies and public affairs of the state.

CISCO OFFICERS ATTEMPT TO RAID STILL, ONE SHOT

Deputy Sheriff Livingston and posse of farmers, with a search warrant, went out to raid a still alleged to be located on the John Denison farm, five miles west of Cisco Saturday of last week. The posse was met by Paul Denison and ordered to halt. He was told the party had a search warrant, and when they attempted to proceed in the search Denison opened fire, wounding E. A. Merritt, a member of the posse. Merritt was carried to the left eye and in the arm and shoulder. Merritt was carried to Cisco for medical attention. Other officers later went out and arrested Denison and took him to the Eastland jail.

JUDGE FROST OF EASTLAND DIED SUDDENLY

Judge James R. Frost, 73, well known attorney of Eastland and father of Cyrus B. Frost, died suddenly at noon Friday. He had been a member of the Eastland bar for 32 years and was at one time part owner and publisher of the Eastland Chronicle. Judge Frost went to his office as usual Friday morning and later went to the City Hall to attend to some business. After he left the office of City Clerk Stubblefield and entered the hall on his way to town, he called to Mr. Stubblefield. Mr. Stubblefield hurried out to him and the Judge asked him to assist him to a chair. He was assisted into the office of City Manager Clyde L. Garrett. There Judge Frost lost consciousness. Mr. Stubblefield summoned physicians and Drs. Johnson and Cartwright responded and rendered all the aid possible but to no avail. Heart trouble is presumed to have been the cause of Judge Frost's death.—Rising Star X-Ray.

THREE RAIL CHIEFS SEEKING CONFERENCE

THOSE AT CLEVELAND SIGN TELEGRAM TO THE PRESIDENT.

SITUATION GETTING SERIOUS

Immediate Consultation With Harding Desired Owing to Hourly Developments.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Legislative representatives of three of the four railroad brotherhoods in Washington have been requested by telegraph to arrange a conference between President Harding and the chief executives of the brotherhoods for the purpose of presenting to the President their views in connection with the present strike of railroad shop crafts.

A telegram was sent direct to President Harding by the three local chief executives of the brotherhood asking for a conference.

The matter has been under consideration by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Engineers; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, but because of failure to get a reply for joint action of the Order of Railway Conductors, and the other members of the "Big Four," it was decided to ask for the conference, through the legislative representatives of the engineers, train men and firemen.

Mr. Sheppard was telegraphed that because of the serious situation hourly developing it was decided to seek the conference immediately.

"If you decide to take similar action, you can wire your legislative representative direct," the telegram said.

MEXICO GIVES U. S. TEXTS OF DECISIONS

Washington.—The State Department is redoubling its efforts to remove obstacles in the way of American recognition of Mexico.

The State Department has just made an effort to remove one of the obstacles by giving the State Department texts of five decisions by the Mexican Supreme Court, said to establish definitely that Article 27 of the Mexican Constitution is nonretroactive.

While these decisions are not held to be the main obstacles in the way of recognition, nevertheless, it was said, if upon examination they are found satisfactory, they will have removed the fear of confiscation of American property in Mexico.

These were delivered to the department by Charge d'Affaires Tellez of the Mexican Embassy here, and the full force of translators were at once set to work on the decisions. They will be made public soon, it was said.

Has Largest Rural Population. Washington.—Texas shows the largest farm population of any state in the Union, according to figures issued by the Census Bureau upon the 1920 enumeration. Those residing on farms numbered 2,277,773, or 48.3 per cent of the State's entire population. The census definition of a farm extends somewhat beyond the ordinary meaning of the term, in that it includes any fruit or market garden, poultry yard, dairy or apiary which yields $250 in products.

Pray for Strike to End. Tyler, Texas.—At a recent meeting of the local Retail Merchants' Association, a resolution was unanimously passed calling on all members of the association to close their place of business for one hour Wednesday morning, Aug. 9, for the purpose of attending a prayer meeting at the First Baptist Church. At this meeting prayer will be made for an early settlement of the railway strike.

Federal Intervention Delays a Walk-out Which Would Precipitate Industrial Paralysis.

Detroit, Mich.—Federal intervention averted a strike of union vesselmen on the Great Lakes, the district executive committee of the International Seamen's Union voting to withhold the strike order until the Department of Labor has made an effort to adjust the wage difference which caused the strike movement.

Chicago, Ill.—Middle and North-western States will be practically without coal within thirty days unless prevailing conditions change. This is the gist of reports from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa.

Actual famine stares Wisconsin in the face, with municipalities reporting from fifteen to thirty days' supply either on hand or procurable.

The great automotive industries of Michigan report coal and coke supplies of from nothing at all to four-teen days.

Troops are guarding strip mines in Indiana in an effort by Governor McCray to obtain enough fuel to supply cities and public utilities.

With the Duluth docks at the head of the lakes bare, in comparison to normal conditions at this time of year, Minnesota, Dakota and Montana cities are sending urgent appeals to fuel administrators for immediate relief. St. Paul's gas supply is assured until Sept. 1 only.

Charles E. Soreson, general manager of the Ford Motor Co., informed the Michigan fuel administrator that this great company will have to close within two weeks unless it can obtain coal. He asks priority orders for the Ford plant.

EUROPE'S FINANCIAL MUDDLE INTENSIFIED

Inter-Allied Conference There August 7th May Prove Abortive as Result of Publicity.

London.—If Lord Balfour's note regarding cancellation of inter-allied debts was designed to clarify the European muddle, its effect has been exactly the opposite.

The note has confused the situation, stirred up all sorts of uncertainty, and appears to have intensified the chaos on the continent. Prospect of anything fruitful resulting from the allied convention at London beginning Aug. 7 appear to have been seriously prejudiced by the note. One immediate result has been a stiffening of the French attitude. If Great Britain is going to insist that France pay, there is no chance that France will ease upon her demands of Germany as the two questions are closely interlocked.

The note has thrown the financial situation into utter confusion coming as it did on top of France's coercive note to Germany. Both incidents coming together sent the mark tumbling down to still lower levels.

Assuming that the note defined England's attitude regarding the debt question on which the French policy toward reparations is wholly contingent, there is likely to be considerable difficulty when Lloyd George and Premier Poincare meet here next week. Each will find it difficult to make the change in position that will be necessary in order to reach an agreement that will pull Europe out of the vicious circle which recent developments have created.

Paris.—The Council of Ambassadors have decided to send a note to the Bolivian Government warning the officials of that nation that under no circumstances would the allied powers tolerate the reconstruction of the so-called pre-war military council in Bolivia, which was largely composed of German staff officers.

Bolivia is reminded in the council's communication that as a signatory of the treaty of Versailles, she, as well as all the other signatory powers, is strictly prohibited from employing German officers and advisers of her army and navy.

Qualified Criticism. Betty is a little southern beauty in spirit as well as in body. Profiteering by a Doctor. A medical man in Nagykoros, Budapest, recently charged $4000 for a single visit to a patient who lived not far from the doctor's residence. This patient sued the doctor for "profiteering," but the court missed the case. The plaintiff pleaded, however, to a higher court which gave judgment against the doctor on the ground that the doctor's fee was an exorbitant fee for personal services to be regarded as profiteering, and was therefore not to be considered as profit in such cases; no exception could be made concerning doctors, for although the latter did not technically receive "wages," their services came within the accepted meaning of "wages."

The MARDI GRAS MYSTERY by H. Bedford Jones Illustrations by Irwin Myers

"Sure, I'll be writing some notes to go inside." Gramont went to a bull writing desk in the corner of the room, and set down. He took out his notebook, to produce a pencil having an extreme hard lead. He wrote a number of notes, which, except for the address were identical in content.

"I enclose herewith certain jewel and articles, also currency, recent obtained by me under your kind attention. I trust that you will assume responsibility of returning the things to the various guests who left them while under your roof. I regret any discomfort occasioned by my turning them over to you, which I now return. Please convey to the several owners my profound esteem and assurance that I shall not in the future appear to trouble anyone. The carnival season having come to an end, and with it my little life.

"THE MIDNIGHT MASQUER!" Gathering up these notes in his hand, Gramont went to the fireplace. He tossed the pencil into the fire, following it with the notebook.

"Can't take chances with that notebook," he explained. "All ready, sir, goant. Let's go down the list one by one."

From the trunk Hammond produced ticketed packages, which he placed on the table. Gramont selected one, opened it, carefully packed the contents in one of the boxes, placed a proper addressed note on top, and handed it to the chauffeur.

"Wrap it up and address it. Give the return address of John Smith Bayou Teche."

One by one they went through packages of loot in the same manner. Before them on the table, as it worked, glittered little heaps of ribbons, watches, currency; jewelry.

"Imagine so." Gramont smiled as he replied. "This chap Fell is sharp, 'boundedly sharp!" he went on, and the chauffeur listened with growing attentiveness. I think that he is on me, and is trying to get the best of me."

"Oh, dear! Hammond. "And some was triffin' you? Think he's put bulls wise?"

Gramont shrugged his shoulders. "I know. He almost caught me last time. We'll have to get rid of that fellow's suit at once, and of the loot I suppose you've reconciled yourself to returning the stuff?"

Hammond stirred uneasily, and laid his pipe. "I suppose you've reconciled yourself to returning the stuff?"

THE ISSUE BETWEEN FERGUSON AND MAYFIELD

It is hardly probable that James E. Ferguson will receive as many votes in the run-off primary against Earle B. Mayfield as he did in the first primary if the people can better understand the one and only issue, light wines and beer, upon which Ferguson is placing his only hopes for success. It is this mis-understood issue and not the otherwise character of the man that has gained this unexpected come-back for the ex-governor. What James E. Ferguson would favor, even as a United States Senator, could lend no hopes for an immediate change in the prohibition laws of the country. The law now is a part of the United States constitution, reinforced by the constitution of Texas, and the repeal or modification of either, separate from the other, would gain but little toward the legal return of intoxicants in any form. The issue is so remote and difficult of accomplishing anything that it should not be given a thought by the people of the present generation. The policies of Earle B. Mayfield are clean and clearly understood, taken direct from his record as a member of the Texas Railroad Commission, where he fought for the interests of the people. A like record will constitute his work in the United States Senate. Vote for the man who is backed by a commendable record, and not for an issue that is as deceiving as a desert mirage.

KLANSMEN APPEAR AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Ku Klux Klan was again active Sunday night when eleven robed Knights of the Invisible Empire drove up to the Christian tabernacle where Evangelist Robinson is holding a meeting, and silently marched down the aisle, and handed Rev. Robinson a note and ten dollars. Then without a word they turned and marched to their three waiting cars and were soon lost from sight. The note instructed that the money be given to a certain washerwoman in town.

It was rumored after the visit to the church that the Klansmen would parade the streets of Cross Plains, but this role was not carried out.

bro. Robinson,
We, the Ku Klux Klan of Cross Plains, Texas present you with ten dollars (10.00) to be applied to the fund being raised to build Miss Nancy Allgood a home in the town of Cross Plains.

We make this presentation in this manner, not in any spirit of vain show or boasting, but for a twofold purpose.

First to show our commendation of your work, and to show that we are with you and any other man of God who comes to us with a message of "Peace on Earth and Good Will Toward Men" for we know that were the precepts which you lay down in your sermons followed in this community and other Klans would not be necessary. Second, we wish to show the world that we are the side of the needy and the oppressed, the righteous and the law abiding, and unalterably and irrevocably against the law breakers.

We wish to show that the needy may expect mercy and the law breaker justice at our hands.

Cullen F. Thomas, of Dallas, one of the defeated candidates for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, has issued the following post-mortem review on the senatorial race:

"Looking backward on the election result, I am reminded of the epitaph on an infant's tombstone: Since I was so soon done for, what was I begun for?"

"No election returns ever better illustrated the kaleidoscope changes of politics. I but voice the general opinion, shared by those not for me that three months ago I was accorded first place against the field. What happened suggests the story of what happened to Ole."

"His widow brought suit for damages against the railway for Ole's death. On the witness stand her lawyer asked Ole's friend to state in his own way just what happened to Ole. The witness said:

"Well, we was walking down the railway track, talking about the craps; den I heard a terrible noise and den a train whistle; den I looked around and yumped; yust in time to get off de track.

"De train vent py, but I did not see Ole anywhere. I called 'Ole,' but he did not answer. I walked oop de track and found Ole's foot. I walked on and found Ole's arm. I walked out to one side of de track and found Ole's head. Den I said, 'By golly, someding has happened to Ole.'"

I was walking up the track toward Washington, when the Ku Klux train came along, and everybody knows what happened. The intrusion of the Klan question literally cut what would have been my vote half in two."

Dr. John Rumph and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Drew Baum, left Tuesday by auto for Colorado and other points in the west.

The Day When Labor Doesn't

We call it Labor Day because few people labor on that day, just a few say moth balls because moths don't like 'em and fountain pens because they don't splash like a fountain.

We call this a Drug Store, but actually we sell so many good things besides drugs that if folks didn't know us so well we'd call ourselves something else.

STATE FAIR THRIFT TICKETS AS WALT MASON MIGHT TELL OF THEM

(With Acknowledgements and Apologies to the Post.)
For rhymes Walt Mason has a wonderful gift—To match this word he might employ "thrift," And that's the idea this tale's to tell; How you can save and have fun as well.
You've heard about the great State Fair, Held at Dallas in the fall each year.
It's a fair most worthy the great Lone Star—Bigger and better than the rest by far.
Its mission is instruction—education; To uplift and better the state's population;
To afford folks pleasure—to show the wonderful things That industry, hard work and contentment brings.
Thousands go through its gates each fall, And there's profit and pleasure—satisfaction for all.
This year a new building will grace the big park—Almost as big as Noah's famous ark.
Its brick and steel arches are rising on high, A silhouette of beauty against the blue sky.
Within it at Fair time, there'll be motor cars fine, With Texas-made articles of 'most every line.
So there's a new plan suggested to fetch in the "guldners" When you go to the Fair you pay fifty cents
As you pass through the turnstiles at the entrance.
By buying your tickets ahead this time,
On every single ticket you'll save a good dime— Where you took four in your party to previous Fairs
Now you can take one more than two pairs.
This, in a word, is the Thrift Ticket plan— A saving appreciated by every good man.
And, they not only save but are convenient too,
For at grandstand and caliseum they'll let your folks through.
Buy Thrift Tickets now so when you come up this fall
You'll see a new building, the best of them all.
And they'll be mailed direct to you with utmost speed.
Fix the folks up at home and tell the neighbor next door
About the Thrift Ticket plan—that'll sell a lot more.
You can buy them in Dallas at various stores,
But a check to "State Fair" will quickly bring yours.

SAVINGS ON ADMISSIONS TO STATE FAIR ALSO
Announcement of a round trip rate of a fare and a fifth, from all points in Texas, to Dallas, for the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-15, has been made individually by all railroads in Texas. Got a bunch of Thrift Tickets, An' me and Jim Pickett's A-goin' to the Texas State Fair."

AMERICAN JERSEY CATTLE CLUB TO SHOW AT FAIR

Not only those interested in Jersey cattle, but in all other cattle as well will find much of interest in the exhibit of the American Jersey Cattle Club at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 6-15.
The club has arranged to house its exhibit in a big tent, 40x30 feet, and will demonstrate the best dairy methods as have been proved by its sults.
