It takes more than a fire to stop some people. Anyway that is what we think about Dave Lee. A fire which broke out in his station a few weeks ago resulted in a total loss of the building and its contents. But in a very few days Dave had moved a small house near the driveway and pumps, to serve as an office building, and was open for business.

The ruins of the fire-swept building have been torn down and construction is underway on erection of a new one—which is being built of tile and concrete. The new building will have one large room for office space, and two separate rooms for a wash and grease rack respectively, and two rest rooms. New electric pumps are being installed and the driveway enlarged. This station will be one of the most modern and up-to-date stations in Cross Plains when it is completed.

C. M. Cox of Rising Star is the owner of the building, and Dave Lee is the fixtures.

In Washington, an issue before a House-Senate Judiciary committee, relative to the Federal government's claim and title to all tide and submerged lands, is waxing pretty hot.

A Texas official asserted that title to its 30,000,000 acres of Public land is at stake in this claim. Bessie Giles, state land commissioner, asserts that the state reserved title to tide and submerged lands and all other public lands, in exactly the same manner upon its admission to the union.

If the Federal government can get claim to, and make it stick in this action, we say that it is high time somebody straightened out and wrung a few of our high government officials. Just how far such an issue can be carried, under the state's rights and rights of so many people are being encroached upon, remains to be seen.

It has been called to our attention that the gates to the cemetery have at times been left open and stray cows have entered, thereby causing damage to flowers and shrubbery.

This has not been intentional, we feel sure, but just carelessness. You are therefore urged to please keep this in mind and close all gates upon leaving the cemetery.

All Class 2 slaughtering will be required to file reports with their OPA district offices within 30 days after the close of each slaughtering period, showing the live weight in pounds for each species of livestock they slaughtered or had custom slaughtered during the period. OPA announced.

Included in the classification of Class 2 slaughtering are non-federally inspected commercial slaughterhouses and retail slaughterhouses, as well as any persons, other than farm slaughtering, who have livestock custom slaughtered for them—regardless of whether it is done by a federally inspected or a non-federally inspected establishment.

The information that will be furnished on the reports is needed in order to enforce the provisions of Order 1, which limits the amount of slaughter that may be by the non-federally inspected plants. OPA said. The reports are to be filed in duplicate on OPA Form MO-6, and must be filed with the OPA district office with which the slaughtering establishment is licensed.

BURIAL PLACE OF CLIFTON A. FORTUNE REVEALED IN LETTER

Private Clifton Fortune, another American soldier who has paid the supreme price endeavoring to retain the Liberty and Freedom that we are accustomed to, was laid to final rest in an allied cemetery in Germany. The location of this cemetery was made known to his family in a recent letter from a friend who visited the grave.

The letter was written to Mrs. Bill O'Hara, a sister of Clifton's, on May 31, 1945.

The letter reads:

Dear Leona,

Hope this short letter finds you well and happy. I told you a short while ago that as soon as I could visit Clifton's burial place that I would report to you.

As I have stated before my unit is the Main Armament Depot for the Third Army and we have vehicles going to all parts of Europe fairly regular. About ten days ago we had one going to France and Belgium, so I asked my commanding officer to let me go along to visit the cemetery.

We first went to Metz, France, then to Luxembourg and to Brussels, Belgium. Then we returned by way of Cologne, Germany, Hiltzheim, where the cemetery in which Clifton is buried, lies in the hills about twenty-five miles southeast of Cologne, between the Rhine River and the Super highway running from Cologne to Munich. As far as beauty is concerned, the cemetery is located in the most beautiful part of Germany, being high on top of a group of mountains. From the cemetery you can look almost west and see the Rhine River.

I arrived there at about seven in the evening. I was in such haste, since I wanted to be able to take a snapshot of the cemetery, that I overlooked gathering any flowers along the road to place on the grave. There were many near the cemetery and I had little time before the sun went down in which to take the pictures. Later I realized how stupid I was in rushing around but I was afraid they would not permit me to make a picture of it. They let me however, and I made two of the grave and one of the cemetery in general and one of the sign containing the name of the cemetery. They were in the process of reading the whole cemetery and painting the names on the crosses.

They had not yet gotten to Clifton's, but the officer in charge advised me that the cemetery and each grave would be landscaped within the next few weeks.

I had no trouble in locating his grave. His identification tag was on the cross. It is my understanding that all American soldiers will later be moved from German soil as soon as time permits. As far as cemeteries go, Leona, Clifton rests in a beautiful place surrounded by hills and forests.

I wish I could have done something more than just see his grave but it was all I could do. If I have another opportunity I will return again.

I'm not much at praying, but while there I said a little prayer, not for Clifton, for he is resting, but for those that he had to leave behind. He has completed a job, well done, and paid a price that others of his might live. I wonder if the people back home realize such things, and what this war has cost. I'm afraid, Leona, they won't remember long enough. We that have seen it won't forget, ever.

Sincerely,
Cpl. James L. Cox

Notes From H. D. Agent DOROTHY WILKERSON

"How am I to put up my fruit this year without my usual amount of sugar?" is the question being asked by housewives all over the country. The homemaker must take this as a problem and do something about it, and not follow the path of least resistance and cut down on the canning supply altogether. We still have fighting men to feed and hungry nations to take care of and in view of the present situation our sugar supply is not to be improved within the next few months.
 Sugar helps most fruit to hold its shape, color, and flavor, but it is not necessary to keep fruit from spoiling. You may process unsweetened fruit the same as sweetened. However, most home canners prefer adding the sweetening during the canning process. For that reason we urge the use of sugar substitutes.
Sugar Substitutes:
 Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of sugar. One cup sugar and 2 cups corn syrup to 6 cups of water makes a desirable syrup. This is a thin syrup. If corn syrup is to replace all of the sugar, use 1/2 to 3/4 cup syrup and 1 cup water.
 Brown sugar or syrups that have strong flavor such as sorghum are not desirable for canning.
 Honey may be used to replace a small part of the sugar. It affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. It is very good with canned figs. It is also good with fruit pickles.
 Never use saccharin in canning. Heat makes it bitter. If saccharin is used, it should be added at the time you serve the fruit. Consult a doctor before using it, because too much saccharin may be harmful.
How to make Invert Sugar:
 A Florida Experiment Station scientist recommends making invert sugar to make it go farther. To do this, mix 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water. Add 1/4 teaspoon of tartaric acid (which you can get at any drug store). Cover this sugar, water and tartaric acid mixture and simmer gently for 20 minutes. Allow it to cool, then you have invert sugar syrup. This syrup is excellent to use in canning, but it should be diluted. Use 1/2 cup invert syrup to 1 cup of water for a thin syrup. It is also good in sweetening fruits, cereals, ice cream and beverages.

Health Service, Federal Security Agency

Health Service, Federal Security Agency said Dr. Parran issued this statement in answer to inquiries about the effect on Cadet Nurses:

- Recruitment of the Army's announcement that it has enough nurses for the present to assure adequate care of sick and wounded soldiers.
- "To maintain the flow of Senior Cadets into Army service, it is imperative to keep recruitment at high levels," Dr. Parran explained. "Equally important, however, is the contribution Cadet Nurses have made in preventing the collapse of civilian nursing. We must continue to prepare nurses for needs in fields of nursing where the demand is expanding, especially the care of veterans."
- Dr. Parran characterized as "completely unfounded" rumors that recruitment for the Cadet Nurse Corps would be discontinued and called for support for the summer and fall recruitment drive now under way.
- Farmers To Get More Lumber To Repair Homes
- An additional 25,000,000 board feet of lumber has been allotted to the War Food Administration for distribution to farmers for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings in the third quarter of 1945, WPA announced. ECLIPSE OF THE SUN WILL OCCUR ON JULY 9

The first total eclipse of the sun to be visible in the United States since 1932 will occur on July 9, 1945, according to the U. S. Naval Observatory. The direct path of the total eclipse will start near Boise, Idaho, and pass across Butte, Montana. It will then swing across Canada and Greenland, through the Scandinavian Peninsula, across Russia near Moscow, and will end in Russian Turkistan.

There have been six previous eclipses of the sun visible in the United States since the beginning of this century, and according to present calculations, there will be six more in this century after this year. Few of the eclipses between 1950 and 2000 will be visible under favorable conditions.

TYPEWRITER IS BIGGEST WORRY OF TEXAS RANGERS TODAY

AUSTIN—Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety and chief of the Texas Rangers, is taking the edge off one of his favorite stories.

The yarn involves an effort before the turn of the century to get the traditionally laconic Rangers to write reports on their activities. A simple form was drawn up, calling for names of injured persons and defendant, nature of offense, date of commission, and disposition. One of the first such reports to be submitted was on a murder case, and it said: "Disposition: Mean as the devil; had to shoot him."

In January Colonel Garrison decided that the scope of Ranger activities should be more completely recorded, and so he had the Headquarters Detachment, under Capt. Fred Olson, start using a somewhat involved statistical report form. The result surprised even Olson and his men, for this is what the captain and seven Rangers did in four months:

Completed 178 cases; made 137 arrests and obtained 48 convictions; assisted other officers on 529 occasions; apprehended 44 fugitives; confiscated $5,966 in property; recovered $9,086 in stolen property, and recorded 9,820 in fines. In addition to a host of miscellaneous duties.

So Garrison called in all the Ranger captains and instructed them to begin using the new form. When one veteran drily remarked that "one of my men is going to get killed behind a typewriter," Garrison emphasized that "it isn't enough for us to do our job well; we've got to show the Legislature and the people where and how we're spending the taxpayer's money."

Mrs. Grady Whitehorn and Robt. left Wednesday for a short visit in Fort Worth with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones and children, Verna 4 1/2 years, left Tuesday to visit relatives in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cooper are the parents of a 7 pound 3 ounce boy, Donny Ray, born at the Overhill Hospital in Coleman June 15. Mrs. Cooper is the former Miss Helen Lois Key.

Pvt. and Mrs. Herman Rackow are the parents of a baby girl, Carolyn Ruth, born June 15 at the Overhill Hospital. Mrs. Rackow is the former Miss Billy Ruth Campbell. Their father is stationed at Fort Ord, Calif. Both mother and baby are doing nicely.

Pvt. and Mrs. Charles Burkett of Fort Worth have announced the birth of a 6 pound and 6 ounce girl, Gwenalyn Gail, born June 11. Private Burkett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burkett formerly of this place, and was married while stationed at an air field near Montgomery, Ala.

Mrs. Preston Burkett received word Monday from S-Gt. Burkett at San Antonio saying he would arrive home Saturday. He is a member of the 36th Division and was among those landed recently. He will probably be discharged, with more than the necessary 25 points.

Sgt. R. L. Cross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cross, was recently promoted from corporal. He and Cpl. Johnnie Ray Holland are stationed at Pearl Harbor, and have been together since entering service.

Sgt. Lee Henderson has been promoted to that rank from private. He is in the First Army and will probably be among that group to arrive home for furloughs soon.

They're genuine. That means they are exactly like the parts that were in your machine when it was new.
