NO. 34

VOL. VII

CROSS PLAINS, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1916.

COTTON 20C

Well, 20c cotton has arrived. After sensational advances this week cotton sold on the streets Wednesday at that price. W. B. Strickland that day sold the first bale for 20c. By the time this is read 20c cotton may be old history, so fast is the price advancing. J. C. Freeman the same day broke all records in amount received for one bale of cotton. His bale weighed 604 lbs. and sold for 19.37c, bringing the sum of $117.02c. Of course, this record may be beaten in a day or two, as this has in turn beaten the record of Calvin Baker given elsewhere in The Review.

RECEIPTS

The Review has just completed the printing of 1,000 receipts each for the W. O. W. and the M. W. A. at Burkett at special prices. B. D. Wesley is clerk for both lodges, and we thank him for the order. All lodges needing work of this kind will find it to their advantage, from a point of service, to give The Review this work. The cost is no higher than to order it, if as high.

N. B.-H. B.'S

TO THE FRIENDS OF EDUCATION

Relative to House Joint Resolution 30 to be voted on the 7th of next month, wish to take this means to announce that circular letters explaining fully the character of this Resolution will be handed out to the voters of this district several days before election.

The adoption of this Resolution as an amendment to the Constitution does not impose a tax but insures a better school system. It will only give to such counties and school districts in the State as desire additional support for their schools, the privilege of securing such support by a majority vote of the people. This amendment provides for the removal of the 50c tax as a limit for taxation and not to exceed $1.00 on the hundred dollar valuation of property. There are a great many school districts that are handicapped by the 50c limit that would gladly vote for additional tax for school purposes but are at present constrained by the State Constitution. We may not want or need more than a 50c tax, but there are counties and districts in Texas who are in sore need of more money for their schools and the removal of the limit of 50c to $1.00 will mean much to them. Oklahoma has a Constitutional limit of 15 mills State school tax; New Mexico 10 mills; Louisiana 16 mills with no limit on local taxes. Texas asks that the limit be only 10 mills as against 5 mills at the present.

Respectfully submitted,
H. L. Gartz

NINE CARS LEAVE HERE

Bryson had four cars of hogs, Good Woodriddle putting a few head in with him, and Will Cutbirth two cars. Woodriddle had two cars of cattle and Parsons one. "I stuff in good condition. Bryson had a part of his hogs from the ship here the first of the week.

$106.60 FOR BALE OF COTTON

The biggest price ever paid in Cross Plains for one bale of cotton, to date, so far as we know, was given Calvin Baker of Burkett here last Friday. He sold one bale for 18.35c, the same weighing 50 lbs., and bringing him the neat little sum of $106.60. He states that this is the best price he ever got, or ever expects to get. He kept the seed but estimating their weight at 1,100 lbs., which is conservative, and the price at $50.00 per ton, they are worth $25.50, which added to the $106.60 gives a total of $132.10. A good deal has been said in the local papers about farmers getting unusual high prices for a bale of cotton, but so far this is the best that we have heard reported. By way of parenthesis, we will say that Mr. Baker states that this is decidedly a better cotton market than either Coleman or Brownwood. No comparison intended, but Cross Plains needs the credit.

Mr. Williams states the reward is $50.00.

The consideration of the Chemical Constituents of silage has been based almost entirely on its value for dairy stock. It must be remembered however that silage has proved equally good for fattening steers, sheep and hogs and in small quantities it takes the place of dry grain for horses. According to the betting in Wall Street Wilson's chances at the polls are improving all the while, —and this doesn't mean that his chances have not been good. The New York Herald's (Republican) poll of straw votes indicates that the President is growing in popularity.

Last summer we thought Cross Plains was a grain town, September and October it appeared a veritable cotton center; now it seems to be a concentration point for peanuts. Well, we just about have all the coons up one tree. A diversified soil, with Texas, notorious diversity of weather conditions, why shouldn't we have a diversity of crops?

There may be a few people who are too learned to find anything to suit their intellectual palate in The Review. Their taste has been so refined that it can be satisfied only in matters of great moment. But a dime to a ginger cake these minds find some comfort in slipping a neighbors Review occasionally, and scanning the local columns.

Cotton is higher than it has been since 1870, so it said planted. There is going to be lots of cotton planted next year. Farmers really did right this year by curtailing the cotton crop. In many places the weevil will not yet allow them to make a good yield. Had every body planted a big crop, the yield would have been so large that the price would not have been anything like what it is. So after all diversification is partly responsible for the prevailing high prices. A big crop next year will mean a correspondingly lower price.

We have an article from the Farmers' Institute at Abilene, which tells of resolutions it passed recently asking the next Legislature to do something to help the counties in this immediate part of the State to get rid of rabbits, rats, prairie dogs, and other harmful pests. No doubt we need remedial legislation in this line. Rats have almost become a plague to the country. Individually it is not practicable to fight them. Concerted action is needed; a stimulus in the way of a bounty would do much toward solving the problem.

What F. P. Shackelford of Cross Plains has to say about cream separators this week.

BUYING a cream separator is a good deal like hiring a man to work on your farm. A hired man that does poor work and is lazy is an expensive proposition, no matter how little you pay him. A cream separator that is hard to turn, hard to keep clean and doesn't skim close, would be expensive even if you got it as a gift.

Crememymen and dairymen all over the world recognize the superiority of the DeLaval. About the only reason why any one ever buys any other cream separator is because they can get it a little cheaper.

When they soon find out they have lost ten times as much from separator inconvenience, poor skimming and a machine that quickly wears out, as they saved in the beginning.

Remember that a DeLaval will soon pay for itself, and if you have no separator now, or an inferior machine, we can sell you a DeLaval on such terms that it will pay for itself while you are using it.

The best cream separator is the cheapest. Let us prove it for you on your own farm.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

DRESSY CLIPPINGS

We [however we do not use this "we" editorially for there are three of us] have imposed upon ourselves the task of gathering and chronicling the events of our community in the columns of your excellent paper. Being without experience in this work the attempt will probably be a poor one.

Our farmers are busy since the rain breaking land, sowing grain, and picking the remnant of their cotton as it is too precious to leave a lock in the field.

The Dressy gin has closed down for the season having ginned about 440 bales. Once or twice since its establishment [in 1903] it has fallen below this amount but in several instances has reached 1800 or more.

A Rev. Mr. Rodgers of Taylor county preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night.

Mr. Dewey Gould of Coleman county has entered school at Dressy.

The Dressy school opened Monday, Oct. 16, the earliest date on which it has ever opened. Notwithstanding we had the greatest enrollment that has ever been recorded on the first day. The upper grades are better represented than ever before. Some of our citizens were present on the first day which we appreciate. Several needed repairs have been made on our building. Mr. S. P. Long, one of our efficient trustees, has raised by subscription some money for current expenses. Equipment such as Webster's International Dictionary and globes is being arranged for. Let's work for better equipment and hence a better school.

Miss Rowena Young is teaching a music class at Mr. Wilford's near the school building.

Gene Melton, our county's genial tax collector, was in our midst the 19th inst. collecting taxes.

J. H. Rone, the leading peanut farmer of our community, has recently threshed his peanuts making, we understand, some forty bushel to the acre.

Mrs. C. R. Steele left last Thursday for View, Texas, where she goes to visit her sister, Mrs. Henslee.

Well, Mr. Editor, should this escape the waste basket we may come again and try to do better next time.

HUSBAND RESCUE DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its firing me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
