ISOM G. CURRY RE-TURNS HOME

Man Thought to Be Dead Since January 15 Is Returned to Abilene

Abilene, April 26.—The timely arrival here this morning of Isom G. Curry, believed to have been murdered, completely upset theories of the prosecution in the case against Mason Gamble, one of Curry's neighbors, who had been indicted.

Curry had been missing since January 15. It was reported he was last seen going in the direction of Gamble's home. A few weeks ago the body of a man was found in Jim Ned creek, near here. It was identified as that of Curry. Gamble was arrested, and after witnesses had declared the body that of Curry, Gamble, not satisfied that the body found in Jim Ned creek was that of Curry, had it re-exhumed and Curry's wife was brought to Abilene to identify it.

Now with the arrival of Curry the identity of the body is a mystery.

Curry was located by the assistance of W. M. Biggs sheriff of Shackelford county. When questioned as to his appearance, Curry said:

"I left home at dusk one evening—I do not know the date—and took a train to Cisco. From there I went to various places, including Oklahoma; then to Paris, Texas, and to the home of my brother, where I arrived April 18."

As to his reason for leaving, Curry said he had become worried over business affairs, but when he heard that Gamble was accused of his murder he intended to start home.

District Judge T. L. Blanton has started a subscription list to reimburse Gamble for the trouble and expense incurred as a result of his indictment.

TWO GAMES OF BASEBALL

Cottonwood Loses to Burkett on Saturday and Wins off Cross Plains Tuesday

Saturday afternoon Burkett and Cottonwood played baseball on the Cross Plains ground, the game being very good and close until the last innings, when Burkett ran in three scores. Burkett made five and Cottonwood two scores. A good crowd of fans and would-be fans were present, both our neighboring towns being well represented by friends of their respective teams. The line-ups were as follows:

Burkett,

Dave Clark, 1st base.
Heck Brown, 2nd base.
Jim Strickland, 3rd base.
Dr. Pendleton, pitcher.
Jack Brown, catcher.

FOUR ISSUES CONSTITUTE A MONTH

CROSS PLAINS, TEXAS.

The rains of the past few days have done considerable damage to farm lands in the way of erosion of soil. There is scarcely a farm in the whole country that has not been badly damaged from the heavy rains. The soil that has gone to the creeks and to the rivers and on to gulf can never be returned. It can be replaced, laborously and expensively, by proper crop rotation and careful attention to fertilization, all of which requires time. The man that wants to save his soil should see that his land is properly drained, should give careful attention to ditching and the running of rows so that the water can be handled. All lands that tend to wash should be terraced. When Texas is as old as the East we will learn that we must conserve our soils.

The speakers on the Farmers' Rally have come and gone. Despite the fact that the heavy rains on Thursday prevented many farmers from coming out, the meetings Thursday and Wednesday night at the picture show building were well attended. One could not have not heard Prof. Austin in his lecture on co-operation in Italy and Germany without profiting in knowledge and being pleased in the speaking. The same could be said of the other speakers. To hear the recital of the life of Col. Henry Exall should be an inspiration to any man. There is not a one that attended the lectures that is not well pleased. These men are engaged in a great work and a work that we need in this country.

PLENTY OF RAIN

Last Thursday is to be remembered as a day of rain, as rain fell nearly the livelong day. About two inches precipitation was recorded. Saturday night and Sunday about 1 3/4 inches of rain fell, putting Turkey creek to overflowing and the Bayou out of banks in places. Fields have washed badly, and the roads in some instances have been ruined. A number of bridges have washed out. Much cotton will have to be replanted, as the surface of the soil has run together.

"THE TRIAL OF THE LONESOME FLY."

"From whence did you come, dear little fly?"

"I came from a filthy cess-pool near-by."

"And whither art going, sweet little fly?"

"I think I'll land first on that chicken pie!"

From there my journey is just begun.

I'll travel now to that nice brown bun.

Then in your milk, my thirst I'll slake

And I'll trail once across your juicy steak.

"Now, I'll sit on this cake and examine my feet;

I think I've cleaned them off very neat.

No! Yet they are just a little bit mottle,

I'll finish them off on the babies' bottle!"

"Art leaving me now, nice little fly?"

"Yes, but I'll be back, by and by. Run, eat your dinner, now, like a man.

While I take my nap in the garbage can!"

Last Sunday the X-Ray editor took a spin down to DeLeon and on the way he was invited in the baggage room by Mr. Huff, the man in charge, to take a view at the produce that was being shipped out off the branch line, from Cross Plains, Rising Star, Sipe Springs and Duster. There were 68 cans of cream and 125 cases of eggs from on the branch that day. We were informed, however, that Sunday was the best day of the week, as more cream and eggs were sold on Saturday than any other day of the week.

There were approximately 150 cans of cream a week and 250 cases of eggs shipped from off the DeLeon and Cross Plains branch. The cream alone, on a test of 33 per cent butter fat, at the small price of 20 cents per pound amounted to $453. This was just for one Saturday. The cream business from this section of the country places in the hands of the farmers above $1,000 per week. The poultry and eggs bring a like sum, and the hogs will considerably over run either of them. Seven or eight thousand dollars a month placed in the hands of the farmers of this country for produce will go a long way towards keeping them out of debt and helping them feed their families. Let the good work go on.—X-Ray.

Died

Little Mary Francis, the daughter of Mr. S. H. and Ethel Carson, died at their home in Cross Plains, Sunday April 25, after two weeks illness with dyptheria, and was buried at the Cross Plains cemetery, Monday, 3:30, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. E. L. Sisk. The deceased was born May 29, 1913, and was thus was one year, ten months and 26 days old. Little Mary Francis was the only child of her parents and her death comes as a particularly hard blow to them. The Review offers its sincerest to the bereaved parents and their friends.

NEARLY DROWNS

While playing in the edge of the overflow water of Turkey creek just above the bridge, Sunday, John Oglesby, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Oglesby, fell into the water and came nearly drowning before he could be rescued. A number of boys and men had congregated near the bridge to watch the creek which was out of banks, and some of the boys were putting limbs or trash in the water above the bridge and others would catch the limbs as they appeared below the bridge. John in attempted to catch a chunk or limb fell in to the water and went down stream about 200 feet, sinking and rising, until finally and while under water he struck a tree which he had the presence of mind to hold to and climb until he emerged from the water. Charley Mangham, Poly Wilson and M. E. Wakefield waded into the water and climbed trees and thus reached the boy and, handing him from one to the other, got him to the bank. It was a narrow escape and should teach him as well as other boys to be very careful when around swift water.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave
Up in Despair. Husband
Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand,
and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

PIONEER NEWS

It may not be news but nevertheless it is a fact that Pioneer has been having some rains, the whole country being drenched last Thursday and re-drenched on Sunday. The heavy rains have occasioned the replanting of a great deal of cotton.
Corn was not damaged so badly.

Prof. Hansford and Miss Lucie Nunnally Sunday came in on the train from Rising Star to resume their work as teachers in the Liberty school.

Miss Adams of DeLeon came in Sunday to visit her brother M. W.
Adams of Sabanno, the peanut attachment man.

Boyd Foster, Fred Canterbury,
Charlie Lamb, Bill Howell, Claude
Minton, Merrell and Jewell Browning are regular attendants of "The Exploits of Elaine" at Cross Plains.
Following the story as it appears in The Review, they wish to see it played at the moving picture show.

J. N. Gooch of Pioneer delivered peanuts in Cross Plains Monday.

E. M. Curry and W. L. Browning have had their pianos tuned by Prof. Wells of Sipe Springs, formerly of May.

Mrs. T. J. McClure was in the Terminal last Friday for medical advice, and for shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Freeman have returned to Pioneer from Hamlin where they have lived the past few months. We are glad to welcome them back to their old home.

The last being the fourth Saturday and Sunday, there were services at the Baptist church on both days, as usual, with light attendance on account of the weather.

Sam Webb of Liberty attended church here Sunday.

The Pioneer base ball boys played the Holloway boys at Pioneer Saturday afternoon, the game resulting in a landslide for the home team, the score being five and twenty six. The line-up for Pioneer:
Batteries, Roy Madison, Boyd Foster, Fred Canterbury; first base, Bryant McClure; second base, Boyd Foster; third base, Bill Robinson of Baird; short stop, Edward Stewart;
outfielders, Houston Curry, Earl and Ollie Dennis.

Holloway or "Jonesville" line-up:
Batteries, Bob Jones and Dea
Barnett; first base, Clarence Rowell; second base, Jim Jones, third base, Jimmie Shaw; short stop, Charlie Jones; outfielders, Earl Barnett, Coley Pickett and J. B.
Jones.

The ladies of the Methodist church are preparing a children's day program to be rendered in the near future. We will give more particulars later.

There is a move pretty well on foot to get Pioneer out of the sand, by duplicating the townsite about one-fourth of a mile east and removing the buildings, etc., thereto; something like Mohammed who, when the mountain in answer to his prayer wouldn't come to him, betook himself to the mountain.

Mrs. Eakins Dead

Mrs. B. F. Eakins was born April the 26th, 1867, in Milam county, Texas, and departed this life at her home one mile southwest of Pioneer, April the 22nd, 1915.

She was married to Mr. B. F.
Eakins, Feb. 26, 1882, and to this happy union were born eleven children, nine of whom still survive her to mourn the loss of mother; Mesdames J. J. and Whitt Berry of Payne Texas; R. W. Hodnett, of Rising Star; G. B. Jones of Blake, Texas, and Mr. Mack Eakins, of Okella, Texas, and the children at home: Wyatt, Sammie, Lessie and Douglas.

She became a member of the Missionary Baptist church in 1880 and has lived a faithful Christian life ever since.

Her body was laid to rest in the Rising Star cemetery April the 24th.
Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Mason, her former pastor.

We extend condolence to the bereaved ones in their hours of sorrow.

Mrs. Jack Aiken is out for a few days rest, visiting relatives and friends. She attended church at Burnt Branch Sunday.

Mrs. R. B. Garrett, who has been sick for some time, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. McDermott. May her stay be beneficial to her health.

We learn J. B. Cutbirth and "Fritz" sold quite a lot of yearling mules. "More mules and less cotton." They also "round up" and branded their calves, which are fine and to a finish, over 200 in number on this ranch with Rough Creek and Hubbard to hear from yet.

Herman Aiken has just returned from the Albany country. He says things are in fine shape, grass good, crops fine and outlook promising indeed.

I am again threatened with a visit by that brother of mine and family, of the Stanton country.

We hear J. B. Cutbirth is down on the ranch moving some stuff to his Hubbard and Rough Creek pastures. He finds things in good shape.

Nick Brightwell's outfit is hauling corn from these parts, purchased from Squire Drewry. Ditto O. D.
Morrow. Try to raise enough and to spare this year, boys. This buying racket calls for money and money on the spot.

Lee Payne says "to make corn plow early, late and deep and lots of it." Lee is right.

Our friend Bennett, the tinner, of Cross Plains, was out Friday, building a chicken house for Mrs. J. W.
Aiken, and a good one I assure you.
Come, look at it and order yourself
one.

Uncle Jim Riggs went to the Terminal Saturday with grain. Uncle

Houston, Texas, April 28.—When the Southern Sociological Congress meets in this city on May 8th, the most thoroughly-going health crusade ever launched in this country will begin. All the addresses and reports of the Houston Congress will be published in a large, cloth bound book, entitled "The Southern Health Crusade". This book will be circulated by the thousands as a hand-book for the leaders in this Fight for Health, which will be carried into every community of the South.

In addition to the Congress itself, there are several other organizations that will hold meetings in connection with this "council of war." Among these are a "Conference on Travelers' Aid Work," and a "Conference of Methodist Social Workers." The Southern Baptist convention will meet in Houston the day after the adjournment of the Sociological Congress and many of the Baptist delegates have already planned to take advantage of the special railroad rates and go to Houston in time for the Congress.
The two conventions have much in common, because a large part of the Sociological program will be on "The Church as the Conserver of Social Health."
